The Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint persons to be screeners<sup>2</sup>. Screeners must be appointed from among persons who are not and never have been members of a health or social care profession which is regulated under any enactment (known as 'lay screeners')<sup>3</sup>, and from among registrants (known as 'registrant screeners')<sup>4</sup>. Such persons must have such qualifications, interests and experience as, in the opinion of the Council, will enable them to perform the functions of screeners<sup>5</sup>. There must be at least one registrant screener appointed from each part of the register<sup>6</sup>. A person may not be appointed as a registrant screener nor act as such if he is subject to any investigations, proceedings or determination against him concerning his fitness to practise his profession<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the Council see PARA 308 ante.

2 In accordance with the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 23 (see PARA 346 ante): Health Professions Council (Screeners) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1573, r 3(1).

3 Ibid r 3(2)(a). 'Lay screener' is to be construed in accordance with r 3(2)(a): r 2.

4 Ibid r 3(2)(b). 'Registrant screener' is to be construed in accordance with r 3(2)(b): r 2.

348. Consideration of allegations referred to screeners.

Any allegation<sup>1</sup> which is referred to the screeners<sup>2</sup> must be considered by a panel<sup>3</sup> of at least two screeners<sup>4</sup>. If a panel comprises two screeners, it must consist of one lay screener<sup>5</sup> and one registrant screener<sup>6</sup>, and if it comprises more than two screeners it must consist of at least one lay screener and one registrant screener and the number of registrant screeners must not exceed the number of lay screeners<sup>7</sup>. In appointing a registrant screener to a panel, the Council<sup>8</sup> must have due regard to the professional field of the health professional<sup>9</sup> and to the allegation under consideration<sup>10</sup>.

A panel must consider any allegation which is referred to it and establish whether power is given<sup>11</sup> to deal with the allegation if it proves to be well founded<sup>12</sup>. Where a panel decides that power is not given to deal with an allegation, it must close the case and inform the registrar of its decision<sup>13</sup>. Where a panel comprises two screeners, a decision to close a case may only be made by a unanimous decision, but where a panel comprises more than two screeners it may be made by a majority decision<sup>14</sup>. Where a decision to close a case cannot be reached in accordance with these requirements<sup>15</sup> or a panel determines that power is given to deal with an allegation<sup>16</sup>, the panel must refer the allegation to such practice committee<sup>17</sup> as it sees fit and submit the report of the result of its consideration of the allegation to that committee<sup>18</sup>.

Where a panel refers any allegation to the health committee<sup>19</sup> or conduct and competence committee<sup>20</sup>, the Council must give notice of the referral to: (1) where known, the employer of the health professional or any other person with whom he has an arrangement to provide professional services<sup>21</sup>; (2) where known, any other body by which the health professional is authorised to practise a health or social care profession<sup>22</sup>; and (3) the Secretary of State<sup>23</sup> and the National Assembly for Wales<sup>24</sup>.

1 'Allegation' means any allegation of a kind mentioned in the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 22(1)(a) (see PARA 344 ante) or any matter which is treated as an allegation in respect of fitness to practise by virtue of action taken under art 22(6) (see PARA 344 note 13 ante): Health Professions Council (Screeners) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1573, r 2.

349. Mediation.

Where the screeners<sup>1</sup> are requested by a practice committee<sup>2</sup> to mediate in a case, a panel<sup>3</sup> must undertake mediation with the aim of dealing with an allegation<sup>4</sup> without it being necessary for the case to reach the stage at which the health committee<sup>5</sup> or conduct and competence committee<sup>6</sup> would arrange a hearing<sup>7</sup>. In undertaking any mediation, a panel may adopt such procedure as it sees fit<sup>8</sup>. The Council<sup>9</sup> must not appoint a screener to be a member of a panel undertaking mediation unless he holds such qualification or has undergone such training as the Council may determine<sup>10</sup>. A panel must report the outcome of any successful mediation to the practice committee which referred the case to the screeners and its report must include the terms on which the case was resolved<sup>11</sup>. A panel must refer any case in which mediation fails back to the practice committee which referred the case to the screeners<sup>12</sup>.

350. Powers to require disclosure of information.

For the purpose of assisting him in carrying out functions in respect of fitness to practise, a person authorised by a practice committee<sup>1</sup> may require any person, other than the person concerned<sup>2</sup>, who in his opinion is able to supply information or produce any document which appears relevant to the discharge of any such function, to supply such information or produce such a document<sup>3</sup>. As soon as is reasonably practicable after a decision has been made to refer an allegation or other matter to a practice committee<sup>4</sup>, the Council<sup>5</sup> must require, from the person concerned, details of: (1) any person by whom he is employed to provide services in, or in relation to, the profession in respect of which he is registered<sup>6</sup>, or with whom he has an arrangement to provide such services<sup>7</sup>; and (2) any body by which he is authorised to practise, in the United Kingdom<sup>8</sup> or elsewhere, a health or social care profession which is regulated under any enactment<sup>9</sup>.

Nothing in these provisions requires or permits any disclosure of information which is prohibited by or under any other enactment<sup>10</sup>. However, where information is held in a form in which the prohibition operates because the information is capable of identifying an individual, the authorised person<sup>11</sup> may require that the information be put into a form which is not capable of identifying that individual<sup>12</sup>.

For these purposes, 'enactment' includes an enactment comprised in, or in an instrument made under, an Act of the Scottish Parliament: art 25(6). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(iv) Fitness to Practise/B. THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE/351. Investigation of allegations.

B. THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

351. Investigation of allegations.

The investigating committee<sup>1</sup> must investigate any allegation which is referred to it<sup>2</sup>. Where an allegation is referred to the committee, it must:

- 594 (1) notify without delay the person concerned<sup>3</sup> of the allegation and invite him to submit written representations within a prescribed period<sup>4</sup>;
  - 595 (2) where it sees fit, notify the person making the allegation of such written representations and invite him to deal within a specified period with any points raised by the committee in respect of those representations<sup>5</sup>;
  - 596 (3) take such other steps as are reasonably practicable to obtain as much information as possible about the case<sup>6</sup>;
  - 597 (4) consider, in the light of the information which it has been able to obtain and any representations or other observations made to it<sup>7</sup>, whether in its opinion:
- 124
- 178. (a) in respect of an allegation relating to fitness to practise<sup>8</sup> there is a case to answer<sup>9</sup>; and
  - 179. (b) in respect of an allegation relating to an entry in the register<sup>10</sup> whether the entry concerned has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>11</sup>.

When the committee reaches a decision that there is a case to answer<sup>12</sup> or an entry in the register has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>13</sup>, it must notify in writing both the person concerned and the person making the allegation, if any, of its decision, giving its reasons<sup>14</sup>. Where the committee concludes that there is a case to answer in respect of an allegation relating to fitness to practise it must: (i) undertake mediation<sup>15</sup>; or (ii) refer the case to screeners<sup>16</sup> for them to undertake mediation<sup>17</sup>, to the health committee in the case of an allegation concerning a person's physical or mental health<sup>18</sup>, or to the conduct and competence committee in the case of any other allegation<sup>19</sup>. If, in the case of an allegation relating to an entry in the register, the investigating committee is satisfied that an entry has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, it may make an order that the registrar<sup>20</sup> remove or amend the entry and must notify the person concerned of his right of appeal<sup>21</sup>. The committee may review such an order if new evidence relevant to the order becomes available after the order has been made, and may revoke that order if it considers that it should not have been made<sup>22</sup>. Where the committee makes such an order or decides not to review such an order, the person concerned may appeal to the appropriate court<sup>23</sup>.

If the investigating committee concludes that there is no case to answer or that the relevant entry was not fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, it must, where requested to do so by the person concerned, make a declaration to that effect giving its reasons<sup>24</sup>; and in any other case, and with the consent of the person concerned, may make such a declaration<sup>25</sup>.

The Council<sup>26</sup> must by rules<sup>27</sup> make provision as to the procedure to be followed by the investigating committee in any investigation under these provisions carried out by it<sup>28</sup>.

On an appeal under art 26, the Council is the respondent: art 26(15). The investigating committee may make an interim order in accordance with art 31 (see PARA 369 post) at the same time as making an order under art 26(7): see art 26(11).
- 22 Ibid art 26(12).
- 23 Ibid art 26(13). The provisions of art 38 (see PARA 382 post) apply to the appeal: art 26(13). Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the order or decision appealed against is served on the person concerned: art 26(14). On such an appeal, the Council is the respondent: see art 26(15). For the meaning of 'appropriate court' see PARA 382 note 4 post.

352. Investigation of allegations: further provisions.

Where an allegation<sup>1</sup> is referred to the investigating committee<sup>2</sup>, it must, at the same time that it sends the notice<sup>3</sup> to the health professional<sup>4</sup>, provide him with a copy of the standards of conduct, performance and ethics<sup>5</sup>. In considering an allegation the committee may seek such advice or assistance as it sees fit but<sup>6</sup> may not interview the health professional unless he consents<sup>7</sup>, or take account of any document or other material which the health professional has not had the opportunity to comment upon<sup>8</sup>. Where the committee has found that the health professional has failed to comply with the standards of conduct, performance and ethics, it may take that failure into account in its consideration of an allegation but such failure is not to be taken of itself to establish that the fitness to practise of the health professional is impaired<sup>9</sup>. In determining whether there is a case to answer, the committee may take account of any other allegation made against the health professional within a period of three years ending on the date upon which the present allegation was received by the Council<sup>10</sup>. However, an earlier allegation in respect of which a practice committee<sup>11</sup> previously determined that there was no case to answer may only be taken into account if, when the health professional is notified that no further action is to be taken in connection with the earlier allegation, the notification contains a statement that the case may be taken into account in the consideration of any subsequent allegation<sup>12</sup>.

Subject as otherwise provided<sup>13</sup>, the committee meets in private to consider an allegation other than a register entry allegation<sup>14</sup>.

1 'Allegation' means any allegation of a kind mentioned in the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 22(1) (see PARA 344 ante) or any matter which is treated as an allegation by virtue of action taken under art 22(6) (see PARA 344 note 13 ante): Health Professions Council (Investigating Committee) Procedure Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1574, r 2.

352 Investigation of allegations: further provisions

TEXT AND NOTES--The investigating committee may consider and determine together two or more allegations against the same health professional, or allegations against two or more health professionals, where it would be just to do so: SI 2003/1574 r 4(8) (added by 2005/1625).

353. Register entry allegations.

Where the Council<sup>1</sup> refers a register entry allegation<sup>2</sup> to the investigating committee<sup>3</sup>, the Council must send notice of the allegation to: (1) where known, the employer of the health professional<sup>4</sup> or any other person with whom he has an arrangement to provide professional services<sup>5</sup>; (2) where known, any other body by which the health professional is authorised to practise a health or social care profession<sup>6</sup>; and (3) the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup> and the National Assembly for Wales<sup>8</sup>.

Where a register entry allegation is referred to the investigating committee it must, in addition to the notice of the allegation<sup>9</sup>, send a notice<sup>10</sup> to the health professional: (a) informing him that he may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice is sent, request that a hearing be held<sup>11</sup>, and that, even if he does not request a hearing, the committee may hold a hearing if it considers it to be desirable<sup>12</sup>; and (b) informing him of his right to be heard, and to be represented, at such a hearing<sup>13</sup>. The registrar<sup>14</sup> may, and at the direction of the committee must, be a party to any proceedings<sup>15</sup>. The committee may invite any person who, in its opinion, has an interest in the proceedings to submit written representations, and any such representations must be sent to the committee before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the invitation is sent to that person<sup>16</sup>.

If the health professional has requested that a hearing be held or the committee determines that it would be desirable to hold a hearing, the committee must fix a day on which it is to hear the case and send the parties notice of the day, time and venue for the hearing<sup>17</sup>.

354. Preliminary meetings; hearings.

The investigating committee<sup>1</sup> or the chairman<sup>2</sup> may hold a preliminary meeting in private with the parties, their representatives<sup>3</sup> and any other person it or he considers appropriate if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the committee to perform its functions<sup>4</sup>. At any such meeting which he conducts, the chairman may give directions<sup>5</sup> and, with the agreement of the parties, take any action which the investigating committee would be competent to take at such a meeting<sup>6</sup>.

At any hearing in respect of a register entry allegation<sup>7</sup>: (1) the proceedings must be held in public unless the investigating committee is satisfied that, in the interests of justice or for the protection of the private life of the health professional<sup>8</sup>, the complainant<sup>9</sup>, any person giving evidence, or any patient or client, the public should be excluded from all or part of the hearing<sup>10</sup>; (2) subject to head (3) below, the rules on the admissibility of evidence that apply in civil proceedings in the appropriate court<sup>11</sup> in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>12</sup> in which the hearing takes place apply<sup>13</sup>; (3) the committee may hear or receive evidence which would not be admissible in such proceedings if it is satisfied that admission of that evidence is necessary in order to protect members of the public<sup>14</sup>; (4) where the health professional has been convicted of a criminal offence, a certified copy of the certificate of conviction<sup>15</sup> is admissible as proof of that conviction and of the findings of fact upon which it was based<sup>16</sup>; (5) the committee may require evidence to be given on oath or affirmation and for that purpose may administer oaths or affirmations in an appropriate form<sup>17</sup>; (6) the committee may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>18</sup>.

The committee may require any person, other than the health professional, to attend a hearing and give evidence or produce documents<sup>19</sup>. At the beginning of any hearing, the chairman must explain to the parties the order of proceedings which the committee proposes to adopt and, unless the committee determines otherwise, the parties are heard in the following order<sup>20</sup>: (a) the chairman invites the solicitor<sup>21</sup> to present the case against the health professional and to adduce the evidence in support of that case<sup>22</sup>; (b) any witness called by the solicitor is examined by him, may be cross-examined by the health professional or his representative, may be re-examined by the solicitor and may be questioned by the committee<sup>23</sup>; (c) at the conclusion of the case against the health professional, the chairman invites the health professional or his representative to address the committee and to adduce evidence as to the health professional's fitness to practise<sup>24</sup>; (d) any witness called by the health professional is examined by him or his representative, may be cross-examined by the solicitor, may be re-examined by the health professional or his representative and may be questioned by the committee<sup>25</sup>; (e) the chairman invites the solicitor to address the committee again<sup>26</sup>; (f) the health professional or his representative may then address the committee for a second time<sup>27</sup>. Where the health professional is neither present nor represented at a hearing in respect of a register entry allegation, the committee may nevertheless proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to serve the notice of the hearing<sup>28</sup> on the health professional<sup>29</sup>.

354A. Vulnerable witnesses before the investigating committee.

In proceedings before the investigating committee<sup>1</sup> the following may, if the quality of their evidence is likely to be adversely affected as a result, be treated as a vulnerable witness: (1) any witness under the age of 17 at the time of the hearing<sup>2</sup>; (2) any witness with a mental disorder<sup>3</sup>; (3) any witness who is significantly impaired in relation to intelligence and social functioning<sup>4</sup>; (4) any witness with physical disabilities who requires assistance to give evidence<sup>5</sup>; (5) any witness, where the allegation<sup>6</sup> against the health professional<sup>7</sup> is of a sexual nature and the witness was the alleged victim<sup>8</sup>; and (6) any witness who complains of intimidation<sup>9</sup>.

Subject to the advice of the legal assessor<sup>10</sup>, and upon hearing representations from the parties, the investigating committee may adopt such measures as it considers desirable to enable it to receive evidence from a vulnerable witness<sup>11</sup>. Measures adopted by the investigating committee may include, but are not limited to: (a) use of video links; (b) use of recorded evidence as the evidence in chief of a witness, provided that the witness is available at the hearing for cross-examination and questioning by the investigating committee; (c) use of interpreters, including signers, or intermediaries; (d) use of screens or such other measures as the investigating committee consider necessary in the circumstances, in order to prevent the identity of the witness being revealed to the press or the general public or access to the witness by the health professional; and (e) the hearing of evidence by the investigating committee in private<sup>12</sup>.

Where the allegation against a health professional is based on facts which are sexual in nature, a witness is an alleged victim and the health professional is acting in person, the health professional must not, without the written consent of the witness, be allowed to cross-examine the witness in person<sup>13</sup>. In such circumstances, in the absence of written consent, the health professional must, no less than seven days before the hearing, appoint a legally qualified person to cross-examine the witness on his behalf and, in default, the General Medical Council must appoint such a person on behalf of the health professional<sup>14</sup>.

355 Functions of the committee

TEXT AND NOTES 1-8--SI 2002/254 art 27(a) revoked: SI 2009/1182.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(iv) Fitness to Practise/C. THE CONDUCT AND COMPETENCE COMMITTEE/356. Investigation of allegations.

356. Investigation of allegations.

Where an allegation<sup>1</sup> is referred to the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup>, it must without delay<sup>3</sup>: (1) send to the health professional<sup>4</sup> a notice<sup>5</sup> setting out the allegation<sup>6</sup>; (2) invite the health professional to submit written representations to the committee and inform him that any such representations must be sent to the committee before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice is sent<sup>7</sup>; (3) inform the health professional that he may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice is sent, request that a hearing be held<sup>8</sup>, and that, even if he does not request a hearing, the committee may hold a hearing if it considers it to be desirable<sup>9</sup>; and (4) inform the health professional of his right to be heard, and to be represented, at such a hearing<sup>10</sup>. The Council must give notice of any allegation which is referred to the committee to: (a) where known, the employer of the health professional or any other person with whom he has an arrangement to provide professional services<sup>11</sup>; (b) where known, any other body by which the health professional is authorised to practise a health or social care profession<sup>12</sup>; and (c) the Secretary of State<sup>13</sup> and the National Assembly for Wales<sup>14</sup>.

Where it appears to the conduct and competence committee that an allegation which it is considering would be better dealt with by the health committee<sup>15</sup>, the committee may refer the allegation to the health committee for consideration and must suspend its consideration of the allegation<sup>16</sup>. If, following such a referral, the health committee certifies to the conduct and competence committee that the fitness to practise of the health professional is not impaired by reason of his physical or mental health, the conduct and competence committee must resume and conclude its consideration of the allegation<sup>17</sup>. If, however, the health committee certifies that it has dealt with the allegation and that no further action by the conduct and competence committee is required in relation to the allegation, the conduct and competence committee must take no further action in relation to the allegation<sup>18</sup>.

If the health professional has requested that a hearing be held or the conduct and competence committee determines that it would be desirable to hold a hearing, the committee must fix a day on which it is to hear the case and send the parties notice of the day, time and venue for the hearing<sup>19</sup>.

The committee or the chairman<sup>20</sup> may hold a preliminary meeting in private with the parties, their representatives and any other person it or he considers appropriate if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the committee to perform its functions<sup>21</sup>.

1 'Allegation' means any allegation of a kind mentioned in the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 22(1)(a) (see PARA 344 ante) or any matter which is treated as an allegation by virtue of action taken under art 22(6) (see PARA 344 note 13 ante): Health Professions Council (Conduct and Competence Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1575, r 2.

7 Ibid r 5(1)(b). The time for sending written representations specified in r 5(1)(b) may be extended by the chairman where he is satisfied that in all the circumstances it is reasonable to do so: Sch 14(c)(i). Where any written representations are made to the committee under r 5(1)(b), it may, if it sees fit, send a notice to the complainant notifying him of the representations and inviting him, before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the invitation was sent, to deal with any points raised by the committee in respect of those representations: r 5(2). The time for dealing with any points raised by the committee in respect of any written representations mentioned in r 5(2) may be extended by the chairman where he is satisfied that in all the circumstances it is reasonable to do so: r 14(d). NOTE 10--Reference to the chairman is now to the chair (see PARA 356): SI 2003/1575 r 14 (amended by SI 2009/1355).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(iv) Fitness to Practise/C. THE CONDUCT AND COMPETENCE COMMITTEE/358. Conduct of hearings.

358. Conduct of hearings.

At any hearing<sup>1</sup>:

- 600 (1) the proceedings are to be held in public unless the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup> is satisfied that, in the interests of justice or for the protection of the private life of the health professional<sup>3</sup>, the complainant<sup>4</sup>, any person giving evidence, or any patient or client, the public should be excluded from all or part of the hearing<sup>5</sup>;
- 601 (2) subject to head (3) below, the rules on the admissibility of evidence that apply in civil proceedings in the appropriate court<sup>6</sup> in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>7</sup> in which the hearing takes place apply<sup>8</sup>;
- 602 (3) the committee may hear or receive evidence which would not be admissible in such proceedings if it is satisfied that admission of that evidence is necessary in order to protect members of the public<sup>9</sup>;
- 603 (4) where the health professional has been convicted of a criminal offence, a certified copy of the certificate of conviction is admissible as proof of that conviction and of the findings of fact upon which it was based<sup>10</sup>;
- 604 (5) the committee may require evidence to be given on oath or affirmation and for that purpose may administer oaths or affirmations in an appropriate form<sup>11</sup>;
- 605 (6) the committee may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>12</sup>.

At the beginning of any hearing, the chairman<sup>13</sup> must explain to the parties the order of proceedings which the committee proposes to adopt and, unless the committee determines otherwise, the parties are heard in the following order<sup>14</sup>: (a) the chairman invites the solicitor<sup>15</sup> to present the case against the health professional and to adduce the evidence in support of that case<sup>16</sup>; (b) any witness called by the solicitor is examined by him, may be cross-examined by the health professional or his representative, may be re-examined by the solicitor and may be questioned by the committee<sup>17</sup>; (c) at the conclusion of the case against the health professional, the chairman invites the health professional or his representative<sup>18</sup> to address the committee and to adduce evidence as to the health professional's fitness to practise<sup>19</sup>; (d) any witness called by the health professional is examined by him or his representative, may be cross-examined by the solicitor, may be re-examined by the health professional or his representative and may be questioned by the committee<sup>20</sup>; (e) the chairman invites the solicitor to address the committee again<sup>21</sup>; (f) the health professional or his representative may then address the committee for a second time<sup>22</sup>.

The committee may require any person, other than the health professional, to attend a hearing and give evidence or produce documents<sup>23</sup>. Where the health professional is neither present nor represented at a hearing, the committee may nevertheless proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to serve the notice of the hearing<sup>24</sup> on the health professional<sup>25</sup>.

UPDATE

358 Conduct of hearings

TEXT AND NOTES--For provisions relating to vulnerable witnesses see PARA 358A.

TEXT AND NOTES 1-12--Also head (4A) where it is alleged that the health professional has been included in a barred list (within the meaning of Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006) by the Independent Barring Board (1) information provided by the Secretary of State under the 2006 Act that attests to the inclusion is conclusive evidence of it, unless the health professional can prove that he is not the person referred to in the information; and (2) a document from the Board, authenticated in whatever way the Council may approve, that provides a statement of the findings of fact made by the Board that led to the inclusion is conclusive evidence of the facts found proved by the Board: SI 2003/1575 r 10(1)(da) (added by SI 2009/1182) (in force on the coming into force of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 s 44(1) (see CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS vol 5(3) (2008 Reissue) PARA 704)). As to the system under the 2006 Act see CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS vol 5(3) (2008 Reissue) PARA 675 et seq.

Also head (7) the committee may exclude from the hearing any person whose conduct, in its opinion, is likely to disrupt the orderly conduct of the proceedings: SI 2003/1575 r 10(1)(g) (added by SI 2005/1625).

TEXT AND NOTES 13-22--References to the solicitor are now to the presenting officer and references to the chairman are now to the chair (see PARA 356): SI 2003/1575 r 10(4) (amended by SI 2005/1625, SI 2009/1355). 'Presenting officer' means a person appointed by the Council to present the case on its behalf at any hearing before the conduct and competence committee which relates to an allegation against a health professional and may include a solicitor or counsel: SI 2003/1575 r 2 (amended by SI 2005/1625).

THE CONDUCT AND COMPETENCE COMMITTEE/358A. Vulnerable witnesses before the conduct and competence committee.

358A. Vulnerable witnesses before the conduct and competence committee.

In proceedings before the conduct and competence committee<sup>1</sup> the following may, if the quality of their evidence is likely to be adversely affected as a result, be treated as a vulnerable witness: (1) any witness under the age of 17 at the time of the hearing<sup>2</sup>; (2) any witness with a mental disorder<sup>3</sup>; (3) any witness who is significantly impaired in relation to intelligence and social functioning<sup>4</sup>; (4) any witness with physical disabilities who requires assistance to give evidence<sup>5</sup>; (5) any witness, where the allegation<sup>6</sup> against the health professional<sup>7</sup> is of a sexual nature and the witness was the alleged victim<sup>8</sup>; and (6) any witness who complains of intimidation<sup>9</sup>.

Subject to the advice of the legal assessor<sup>10</sup>, and upon hearing representations from the parties, the conduct and competence committee may adopt such measures as it considers desirable to enable it to receive evidence from a vulnerable witness<sup>11</sup>. Measures adopted by the conduct and competence committee may include, but are not limited to: (a) use of video links; (b) use of recorded evidence as the evidence in chief of a witness, provided that the witness is available at the hearing for cross-examination and questioning by the conduct and competence committee; (c) use of interpreters, including signers, or intermediaries; (d) use of screens or such other measures as the conduct and competence committee consider necessary in the circumstances, in order to prevent the identity of the witness being revealed to the press or the general public or access to the witness by the health professional; and (e) the hearing of evidence by the conduct and competence committee in private<sup>12</sup>.

Where the allegation against a health professional is based on facts which are sexual in nature, a witness is an alleged victim and the health professional is acting in person, the health professional must not, without the written consent of the witness, be allowed to cross-examine the witness in person<sup>13</sup>. In such circumstances, in the absence of written consent, the health professional must, no less than seven days before the hearing, appoint a legally qualified person to cross-examine the witness on his behalf and, in default, the General Medical Council must appoint such person on behalf of the health professional<sup>14</sup>.

359. Disposal of cases.

Where the conduct and competence committee<sup>1</sup> has found that the health professional<sup>2</sup> has failed to comply with the standards of conduct, performance and ethics established by the Council<sup>3</sup>, the committee may take that failure into account but such failure is not to be taken of itself to establish that the fitness to practise of the health professional is impaired<sup>4</sup>. Where the committee concludes its consideration of an allegation<sup>5</sup>, it must dispose of the case in accordance with the provisions relating to orders of the committee<sup>6</sup>. The committee must notify the health professional and the complainant<sup>7</sup> of its decision and the reasons for reaching that decision, and inform the health professional of his right of appeal<sup>8</sup>.

THE CONDUCT AND COMPETENCE COMMITTEE/360. Review of orders and applications for restoration to the register.

360. Review of orders and applications for restoration to the register.

Where the conduct and competence committee<sup>1</sup> proposes to review an order<sup>2</sup>, or to consider an application for restoration<sup>3</sup>, it must without delay send a notice<sup>4</sup> to the relevant person<sup>5</sup> informing him of his right to appear, and to be represented<sup>6</sup>, before the committee to argue his case<sup>7</sup>. Where the relevant person, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which such a notice is sent, sends a notice to the committee stating that he wishes to appear before it, the committee must fix a day on which it is to hear the case and send to the relevant person notice of the day, time and venue for the hearing<sup>8</sup>. The committee may require any person, other than the relevant person, to attend and give evidence or produce documents at any such hearing<sup>9</sup>; and it may invite any person who, in its opinion, has an interest in the proceedings to submit written representations<sup>10</sup>. The committee or the chairman<sup>11</sup> may hold a preliminary meeting in private with the parties, their representatives and any other person it or he considers appropriate if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the committee to perform its functions<sup>12</sup>.

The committee must notify the relevant person of its decision and the reasons for reaching that decision, and inform him of his right of appeal<sup>13</sup>.

1 As to the establishment of the conduct and competence committee see PARA 313 et seq ante. As to the functions of the conduct and competence committee see PARA 355 ante.

2 In accordance with the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 30 (see PARA 368 post): Health Professions Council (Conduct and Competence Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1575, r 13(1)(a).

3 In accordance with the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 33 (see PARA 371 post): Health Professions Council (Conduct and Competence Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1575, r 13(1)(b).

4 As to the service of notices and other documents see PARA 356 note 5 ante.

5 'Relevant person' means: (1) a person against whom an order has been made under the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 29 (see PARA 367 post), which may be reviewed under art 30 (see PARA 368 post) (Health Professions Council (Conduct and Competence Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1575, r 13(2)(a)); or (2) a person applying under the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 33 (see PARA 371 post) for restoration to the register (Health Professions Council (Conduct and Competence Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1575, r 13(2)(b)).

6 The relevant person may be represented in any proceedings by any person, whether or not legally qualified, except a member of the Council or any of its committees or a person employed by the Council: ibid r 13(5). As to membership of the Council see PARA 308 ante. As to the committees see PARA 313 et seq ante. As to the power of the Council to employ persons see PARA 319 ante.

7 Ibid r 13(1).

8 Ibid r 13(3). The time for a person giving notice that he wishes to appear before the committee specified in r 13(3) may be extended by the chairman where he is satisfied that in all the circumstances it is reasonable to do so: r 14(b). The committee must not fix a date for the hearing which is before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the relevant person sends the notice referred to in r 13(3) to the committee: r 13(4). A hearing under r 13(3) must be conducted in accordance with r 10 (see PARA 358 ante) but, where the proceedings relate to an application made by the relevant person, the committee must adopt an order of proceedings which provides for that person to present his case first and for the solicitor to speak last: r 13(10). For the meaning of 'solicitor' see PARA 358 note 15 ante.

9 Ibid r 13(6).

10 See ibid r 13(7). Any such representations must be sent to the committee before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the invitation is sent to the person concerned: see r 13(7). The time for sending written representations specified in r 13(7) may be extended by the chairman where he is satisfied that in all the circumstances it is reasonable to do so: r 14(c)(iii).

11 For the meaning of 'chairman' see PARA 356 note 20 ante.

12 Health Professions Council (Conduct and Competence Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1575, r 13(8). At any such meeting which he conducts, the chairman may give directions under the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 32(3) (see PARA 345 ante) and, with the agreement of the parties, take any action which the committee would be competent to take at such a meeting: Health Professions Council (Conduct and Competence Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1575, r 13(9).

13 Ibid r 13(11). As to appeals see PARA 376 et seq post.

D. THE HEALTH COMMITTEE

361. Functions of the committee.

The health committee<sup>1</sup> must consider: (1) any allegation referred to it by the Council<sup>2</sup>, screeners<sup>3</sup>, the investigating committee<sup>4</sup> or the conduct and competence committee<sup>5</sup>; and (2) any application for restoration<sup>6</sup> referred to it by the registrar<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the establishment of the health committee see PARA 313 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'the Council' see PARA 308 note 1 ante.

362. Investigation of allegations.

Where an allegation<sup>1</sup> is referred to the health committee<sup>2</sup> it must without delay<sup>3</sup>: (1) send to the health professional<sup>4</sup> a notice<sup>5</sup> setting out the allegation<sup>6</sup>; (2) invite the health professional to submit written representations to the committee and inform him that any such representations must be sent to the committee before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice is sent<sup>7</sup>; (3) inform the health professional that he may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice is sent, request that a hearing be held<sup>8</sup>, and that, even if he does not request a hearing, the committee may hold a hearing if it considers it to be desirable<sup>9</sup>; and (4) inform the health professional of his right to be heard, and to be represented, at such a hearing<sup>10</sup>. The Council must give notice of any allegation which is referred to the committee to: (a) where known, the employer of the health professional or any other person with whom he has an arrangement to provide professional services<sup>11</sup>; (b) where known, any other body by which the health professional is authorised to practise a health or social care profession<sup>12</sup>; and (c) the Secretary of State<sup>13</sup> and the National Assembly for Wales<sup>14</sup>.

Where it appears to the health committee that an allegation which it is considering would be better dealt with by the conduct and competence committee<sup>15</sup>, the health committee may refer the allegation to that committee for consideration and must suspend its consideration of the allegation<sup>16</sup>. If, following such a referral, the conduct and competence committee certifies to the health committee that the fitness to practise of the health professional is not impaired by reason of misconduct, lack of competence or any other specified ground<sup>17</sup>, the health committee must resume and conclude its consideration of the allegation<sup>18</sup>. If, following such a referral, the conduct and competence committee certifies to the health committee that it has dealt with the allegation and that no further action by the health committee is required in relation to the allegation, the health committee must take no further action in relation to the allegation<sup>19</sup>.

If the health professional has requested that a hearing be held or the health committee determines that it would be desirable to hold a hearing, the committee must fix a day on which it is to hear the case and send the parties notice of the day, time and venue for the hearing<sup>20</sup>.

The committee or the chairman<sup>21</sup> may hold a preliminary meeting in private with the parties, their representatives and any other person it or he considers appropriate if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the committee to perform its functions<sup>22</sup>.

1 'Allegation' means any allegation of a kind mentioned in the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 22(1)(a) (see PARA 344 ante) or any matter which is treated as an allegation by virtue of action taken under art 22(6) (see PARA 344 note 13 ante): Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 2.

2 As to the establishment of the health committee see PARA 313 et seq ante.

3 Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 5(1).

4 'Health professional' means a person whose name appears in the register against whom an allegation has been made and includes a person whose registration is currently suspended: ibid r 2. As to the register see PARA 325 ante. As to suspension orders and interim suspension orders see PARAS 367, 369 post.

5 In the Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, a reference to the sending of a notice or other document to any person is a reference to it being sent: (1) in the case of the Council, its committees or the registrar, to the offices of the Council (r 3(1)(a)); (2) in the case of a health professional, to his address as it appears in the register (r 3(1)(b)); and (3) in all other cases, to the last known address of that person (r 3(1)(c)). All communications to be sent for the purposes of the rules may be sent by post and any such communication is treated as having been sent on the day on which it was posted: r 3(2). ### 363. Further investigations.

Before holding any hearing<sup>1</sup>, the health committee<sup>2</sup> may carry out such investigations or seek such advice or assistance as it sees fit<sup>3</sup> and, in particular, may: (1) ask the health professional<sup>4</sup> to provide a written description of his practice<sup>5</sup>; (2) inspect a sample of the health professional's patient or client records<sup>6</sup>; (3) invite the health professional to take a test of competence<sup>7</sup>; (4) invite the health professional to undergo a medical examination by a registered medical practitioner<sup>8</sup> nominated by the committee<sup>9</sup>; or (5) interview the complainant<sup>10</sup>, the health professional and any person nominated by the health professional<sup>11</sup>. The committee may invite any person who, in its opinion, has an interest in the proceedings to submit written representations, and any such representations must be sent to the committee before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the invitation is sent to that person<sup>12</sup>. The committee must provide the health professional with any information or opinion which the committee has received and afford the health professional the opportunity to comment on that information or opinion either before or at any hearing<sup>13</sup>.

364. Conduct of hearings.

At any hearing<sup>1</sup>:

- 606 (1) the proceedings must be held in public unless the health committee<sup>2</sup> is satisfied that, in the interests of justice or for the protection of the private life of the health professional<sup>3</sup>, the complainant<sup>4</sup>, any person giving evidence, or any patient or client, the public should be excluded from all or part of the hearing<sup>5</sup>;
- 607 (2) subject to head (3) below, the rules on the admissibility of evidence that apply in civil proceedings in the appropriate court<sup>6</sup> in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>7</sup> in which the hearing takes place apply<sup>8</sup>;
- 608 (3) the committee may hear or receive evidence which would not be admissible in such proceedings if it is satisfied that admission of that evidence is necessary in order to protect members of the public<sup>9</sup>;
- 609 (4) where the health professional has been convicted of a criminal offence, a certified copy of the certificate of conviction is admissible as proof of that conviction and of the findings of fact upon which it was based<sup>10</sup>;
- 610 (5) the committee may require evidence to be given on oath or affirmation and for that purpose may administer oaths or affirmations in an appropriate form<sup>11</sup>;
- 611 (6) the committee may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>12</sup>.

The committee may require any person, other than the health professional, to attend a hearing and give evidence or produce documents<sup>13</sup>. At the beginning of any hearing, the chairman<sup>14</sup> must explain to the parties the order of proceedings which the committee proposes to adopt and, unless the committee determines otherwise, the parties are heard in the following order<sup>15</sup>: (a) the chairman invites the solicitor<sup>16</sup> to present the case against the health professional and to adduce the evidence in support of that case<sup>17</sup>; (b) any witness called by the solicitor is examined by him, may be cross-examined by the health professional or his representative<sup>18</sup>, may be re-examined by the solicitor and may be questioned by the committee<sup>19</sup>; (c) at the conclusion of the case against the health professional, the chairman invites the health professional or his representative to address the committee and to adduce evidence as to the health professional's fitness to practise<sup>20</sup>; (d) any witness called by the health professional is examined by him or his representative, may be cross-examined by the solicitor, may be re-examined by the health professional or his representative and may be questioned by the committee<sup>21</sup>; (e) the chairman invites the solicitor to address the committee again<sup>22</sup>; (f) the health professional or his representative may then address the committee for a second time<sup>23</sup>.

Where the health professional is neither present nor represented at a hearing, the committee may nevertheless proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to serve the notice of the hearing<sup>24</sup> on the health professional<sup>25</sup>.

364 Conduct of hearings

TEXT AND NOTES--For provisions relating to vulnerable witnesses see PARA 364A.

TEXT AND NOTES 1-12--Add head (7) the committee may exclude from the hearing any person whose conduct, in its opinion, is likely to disrupt the orderly conduct of the proceedings: SI 2003/1576 r 10(1)(g) (added by SI 2005/1625).

TEXT AND NOTES 13-23--References to the 'solicitor' are now to the 'presenting officer' and references to the 'chairman' are now to the 'chair': SI 2003/1576 r 10(4) (amended by SI 2005/1625, SI 2009/1355). 'Presenting officer' means a person appointed by the Council to present the case on its behalf at any hearing before the health committee which relates to an allegation against a health professional and may include a solicitor or counsel: SI 2003/1576 r 2 (amended by SI 2005/1625). ### 364A. Vulnerable witnesses before the health committee.

In proceedings before the health committee<sup>1</sup> the following may, if the quality of their evidence is likely to be adversely affected as a result, be treated as a vulnerable witness: (1) any witness under the age of 17 at the time of the hearing<sup>2</sup>; (2) any witness with a mental disorder<sup>3</sup>; (3) any witness who is significantly impaired in relation to intelligence and social functioning<sup>4</sup>; (4) any witness with physical disabilities who requires assistance to give evidence<sup>5</sup>; (5) any witness, where the allegation<sup>6</sup> against the health professional<sup>7</sup> is of a sexual nature and the witness was the alleged victim<sup>8</sup>; and (6) any witness who complains of intimidation<sup>9</sup>.

Subject to the advice of the legal assessor<sup>10</sup>, and upon hearing representations from the parties, the health committee may adopt such measures as it considers desirable to enable it to receive evidence from a vulnerable witness<sup>11</sup>. Measures adopted by the health committee may include, but are not limited to: (a) use of video links; (b) use of recorded evidence as the evidence in chief of a witness, provided that the witness is available at the hearing for cross-examination and questioning by the health committee; (c) use of interpreters, including signers, or intermediaries; (d) use of screens or such other measures as the health committee consider necessary in the circumstances, in order to prevent the identity of the witness being revealed to the press or the general public or access to the witness by the health professional; and (e) the hearing of evidence by the health committee in private<sup>12</sup>.

Where the allegation against a health professional is based on facts which are sexual in nature, a witness is an alleged victim and the health professional is acting in person, the health professional must not, without the written consent of the witness, be allowed to cross-examine the witness in person<sup>13</sup>. In such circumstances, in the absence of written consent, the health professional must, no less than seven days before the hearing, appoint a legally qualified person to cross-examine the witness on his behalf and, in default, the General Medical Council must appoint such person on behalf of the health professional<sup>14</sup>.

365. Disposal of cases.

Where the health committee<sup>1</sup> has found that the health professional<sup>2</sup> has failed to comply with the standards of conduct, performance and ethics established by the Council<sup>3</sup>, the committee may take that failure into account but such failure is not to be taken of itself to establish that the fitness to practise of the health professional is impaired<sup>4</sup>. Where the health committee concludes its consideration of an allegation<sup>5</sup>, it must dispose of the case in accordance with the provisions relating to orders of the committee<sup>6</sup>. The committee must notify the health professional and the complainant<sup>7</sup> of its decision and the reasons for reaching that decision, and inform the health professional of his right of appeal<sup>8</sup>.

366. Review of orders and applications for restoration to the register.

Where the health committee<sup>1</sup> proposes to review an order<sup>2</sup> or consider an application for restoration<sup>3</sup>, it must without delay send a notice<sup>4</sup> to the relevant person<sup>5</sup> informing him of his right to appear, and to be represented<sup>6</sup>, before the committee to argue his case<sup>7</sup>. Where the relevant person, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which such a notice is sent, sends a notice to the health committee stating that he wishes to appear before it, the committee must fix a day on which it is to hear the case and send to the relevant person notice of the day, time and venue for the hearing<sup>8</sup>. The committee may require any person, other than the relevant person, to attend and give evidence or produce documents at any such hearing<sup>9</sup>, and may invite any person who, in its opinion, has an interest in the proceedings to submit written representations<sup>10</sup>.

The health committee or the chairman may hold a preliminary meeting in private with the parties, their representatives and any other person it or he considers appropriate if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the committee to perform its functions<sup>11</sup>.

The health committee must notify the relevant person of its decision and the reasons for reaching that decision, and inform him of his right of appeal<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the establishment of the health committee see PARA 313 et seq ante. As to the functions of the health committee see PARA 361 ante.

2 In accordance with the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 30 (see PARA 368 post): Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 13(1)(a).

3 In accordance with the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 33 (see PARA 371 post): Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 13(1)(b).

4 As to the service of notices and other documents see PARA 362 note 5 ante.

5 'Relevant person' means: (1) a person against whom an order has been made under the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 29 (see PARA 367 post) and which may be reviewed under art 30 (see PARA 368 post) (Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 13(2)(a)); or (2) a person applying under the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 33 (see PARA 371 post) for restoration to the register (Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 13(2)(b)).

6 The relevant person may be represented in any proceedings by any person, whether or not legally qualified, except a member of the Council or any of its committees or a person employed by the Council: ibid r 13(5). As to membership of the Council see PARA 308 ante. As to the committees see PARA 313 et seq ante. As to the power of the Council to employ persons see PARA 319 ante.

7 Ibid r 13(1).

8 Ibid r 13(3). The time for a person giving notice that he wishes to appear before the committee specified in r 13(3) may be extended by the chairman where he is satisfied that in all the circumstances it is reasonable to do so: r 14(b). For the meaning of 'chairman' see PARA 362 note 21 ante. The health committee must not fix a date for the hearing which is before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the relevant person sends the notice referred to in r 13(3) to the committee: r 13(4). A hearing under r 13(3) must be conducted in accordance with r 10 (see PARA 364 ante) but, where the proceedings relate to an application made by the relevant person, the committee must adopt an order of proceedings which provides for that person to present his case first and for the solicitor to speak last: r 13(10). For the meaning of 'solicitor' see PARA 364 note 16 ante.

9 Ibid r 13(6).

10 Ibid r 13(7). Any such representations must be sent to the health committee before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the invitation is sent to that person: r 13(7). The time for sending written representations specified in r 13(7) may be extended by the chairman where he is satisfied that in all the circumstances it is reasonable to do so: r 14(c)(iii).

11 Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 13(8). At any such meeting which he conducts, the chairman may give directions under the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 32(3) (see PARA 345 ante) and, with the agreement of the parties, take any action which the committee would be competent to take at such a meeting: Health Professions Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1576, r 13(9).

E. ORDERS

367. Orders of the health committee and the conduct and competence committee.

If, having considered an allegation<sup>1</sup>, the health committee<sup>2</sup> or the conduct and competence committee<sup>3</sup>, as the case may be, concludes that it is not well founded: (1) where requested to do so by the person concerned<sup>4</sup>, it must make a declaration to that effect giving its reasons<sup>5</sup>; and (2) in any other case and with the consent of the person concerned, it may make such a declaration<sup>6</sup>. If, having considered an allegation, the health committee or the conduct and competence committee, as the case may be, concludes that it is well founded, it must proceed in accordance with the following provisions<sup>7</sup>.

The committee may refer the matter to screeners<sup>8</sup> for mediation<sup>9</sup> or itself undertake mediation<sup>10</sup>, or decide that it is not appropriate to take any further action<sup>11</sup>. Where a case does not fall within these provisions<sup>12</sup>, the committee must:

- 612 (a) make an order directing the registrar<sup>13</sup> to strike the person concerned off the register<sup>14</sup> (known as a 'striking-off order')<sup>15</sup>;
- 613 (b) make an order directing the registrar to suspend the registration of the person concerned for a specified period which must not exceed one year (known as a 'suspension order')<sup>16</sup>;
- 614 (c) make an order imposing conditions with which the person concerned must comply for a specified period which must not exceed three years (known as a 'conditions of practice order')<sup>17</sup>; or
- 615 (d) caution the person concerned and make an order directing the registrar to annotate the register accordingly for a specified period which must be not less than one year and not more than five years (known as a 'caution order')<sup>18</sup>.

The committee may specify in an order made under heads (a) to (d) above a period within which an application to vary, replace or revoke the order may not be made<sup>19</sup>.

The person concerned may appeal to the appropriate court against an order made under heads (a) to (d) above<sup>20</sup>. Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the order or decision appealed against is served on the person concerned<sup>21</sup>.

The committee must, when it makes, varies, replaces or revokes an order<sup>22</sup>, or when an order it has made ceases to have effect, give the registrar such directions as are appropriate as to annotation of the register to record the decision made or, as the case may be, the expiry of the order<sup>23</sup>.

15 Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 29(5)(a). A striking-off order may not be made in respect of an allegation of the kind mentioned in art 22(1)(a)(ii), (iv) (see PARA 344 ante) unless the person concerned has been continuously suspended, or subject to a conditions of practice order, for a period of no less than two years immediately preceding the date of the decision of the committee to make such an order: art 29(6).

17 Ibid art 29(5)(c).

18 Ibid art 29(5)(d).

19 Ibid art 29(7). Such period: (1) in the case of a striking-off order, except where new evidence relevant to the order becomes available, must be expressed in terms of art 33(2) (see PARA 371 note 4 post) (art 29(7)(a)); (2) in the case of a suspension order, must not exceed 10 months (art 29(7)(b)); and (3) in the case of a conditions of practice order, must not exceed two years (art 29(7)(c)).

20 Ibid art 29(9). Article 38 (see PARA 382 post) applies to the appeal: art 29(9). No order mentioned in art 29(9) has effect: (1) before the expiry of the period within which an appeal against the order may be made (art 29(11)(a)); or (2) where an appeal against the order has been made, before the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise finally disposed of (art 29(11)(b)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(iv) Fitness to Practise/E. ORDERS/368. Review of orders.

368. Review of orders.

Before the expiry of a suspension order or a conditions of practice order<sup>1</sup> by the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup> or the health committee<sup>3</sup>, the committee which made the order or, if the matter has been referred to the other committee, that committee, must review the order and may<sup>4</sup>: (1) with effect from the date on which the order would, but for this provision, have expired, extend or further extend the period for which the order has effect<sup>5</sup>; (2) with effect from the expiry of the order, make an order which it could have made at the time it made the order being reviewed<sup>6</sup>; (3) with effect from the expiry of a suspension order, make a conditions of practice order with which the practitioner must comply if he resumes the practice of his registered profession<sup>7</sup> after the end of his period of suspension<sup>8</sup>. However, the committee may not extend a conditions of practice order by more than three years at a time or a suspension order by more than one year at a time<sup>9</sup>.

Subject to the provisions described above, on the application of the person concerned<sup>10</sup> or otherwise, at any time a suspension order, a conditions of practice order or a caution order<sup>11</sup> made by the conduct and competence committee or the health committee is in force, the committee which made the order or, if the matter has been referred to the other committee, that committee, may review the order<sup>12</sup> and may: (a) confirm the order<sup>13</sup>; (b) extend, or further extend, the period for which the order has effect<sup>14</sup>; (c) reduce the period for which the order has effect, but in the case of a caution order not so that it has effect for less than one year beginning with the date on which the order was made<sup>15</sup>; (d) replace the order with any order which it could have made at the time it made the order being reviewed, the replacement order having effect for the remainder of the term of the order it replaces<sup>16</sup>; (e) subject as provided<sup>17</sup>, revoke the order or revoke any condition imposed by the order<sup>18</sup>; (f) vary any condition imposed by the order<sup>19</sup>.

Where new evidence relevant to a striking-off order<sup>20</sup> becomes available after the making of the order, the committee which made the order or, where appropriate, the relevant committee<sup>21</sup> may review it<sup>22</sup>.

A striking-off order, conditions of practice order, suspension order or caution order which is in force by virtue of a decision made on appeal<sup>23</sup> to the appropriate court may be reviewed<sup>24</sup> by the committee which made the order appealed from<sup>25</sup>.

Before exercising its powers under these provisions<sup>26</sup>, a practice committee<sup>27</sup> must give the person concerned the opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case in accordance with rules<sup>28</sup> made by the Council<sup>29</sup>. The person concerned may appeal to the appropriate court against an order or decision made under these provisions<sup>30</sup>. Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the order or decision appealed against is served on the person concerned<sup>31</sup>; and on an appeal the Council is the respondent<sup>32</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(iv) Fitness to Practise/E. ORDERS/369. Interim orders.

369. Interim orders.

The following provisions apply where:

- 616 (1) an allegation<sup>1</sup> against a registered professional<sup>2</sup> has been referred to the investigating committee<sup>3</sup>, the conduct and competence committee<sup>4</sup> or the health committee<sup>5</sup> but:
- 128
183. (a) that committee has not reached a decision on the matter<sup>6</sup>; or 184. (b) the investigating committee refers the matter to another practice committee<sup>7</sup>;
- 129
- 617 (2) the investigating committee makes an order for the removal or amendment of an entry in the register<sup>8</sup>; or
- 618 (3) the conduct and competence committee or the health committee makes a striking-off order, a suspension order or a conditions of practice order<sup>9</sup>.

Subject as provided<sup>10</sup>, if the committee is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of members of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of the person concerned<sup>11</sup>, for the registration of that person to be suspended or to be made subject to conditions, it may either make an order directing the registrar to suspend the person's registration (known as an 'interim suspension order')<sup>12</sup> or make an order imposing conditions with which the person must comply (known as an 'interim conditions of practice order')<sup>13</sup> during such period not exceeding 18 months as may be specified in the order<sup>14</sup>. Where an interim suspension order or an interim conditions of practice order has been made<sup>15</sup>, the practice committee which made the order or, where the case has been referred to another practice committee, that committee, may: (i) revoke the order or revoke any condition imposed by the order<sup>16</sup>; (ii) confirm the order<sup>17</sup>; (iii) vary any condition imposed by the order<sup>18</sup>; (iv) if satisfied that to do so is necessary for the protection of members of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of the person concerned, replace an interim conditions of practice order with an interim suspension order having effect for the remainder of the term of the former<sup>19</sup>; (v) if satisfied that the public interest, including the protection of members of the public, or the interests of the person concerned would be adequately served by an interim conditions of practice order, replace an interim suspension order with an interim conditions of practice order having effect for the remainder of the term of the former<sup>20</sup>. The committee must notify the person concerned giving its reasons where it makes an interim suspension order or an interim conditions of practice order or for any subsequent decision<sup>21</sup> and notify him of his right to apply to the court<sup>22</sup>.

An interim suspension order or an interim conditions of practice order ceases to have effect<sup>23</sup>: (A) in a case falling within head (1) above, when the committee reaches a decision in respect of the allegation in question<sup>24</sup>; and (B) in a case falling within head (2) or head (3) above, if there is no appeal against the order, when the period for appealing expires<sup>25</sup>, or if there is an appeal against that order, when the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise finally disposed of<sup>26</sup>. The committee must when it makes, varies, replaces or revokes an order under these provisions or when an order it has made ceases to have effect, give the registrar such directions as are appropriate as to annotation of the register to record the decision made or, as the case may be, the expiry of the order<sup>27</sup>.

- 5 As to the establishment of the health committee see PARA 313 et seq ante. As to the functions of the health committee see PARA 361 ante.
- 6 Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 31(1)(a)(i).
- 7 Ie in a case to which ibid art 26(6) (see PARA 351 ante) applies: art 31(1)(a)(ii). For the meaning of 'practice committee' see PARA 315 note 2 ante.
- 8 Ie an order under ibid art 26(7) (see PARA 351 ante): art 31(1)(b). In a case coming within art 31(1)(b) or art 31(1)(c) (see the text to note 9 infra), such an order may be made at the same time as an order made under art 26(7) or art 29(5)(a)-(c) (see PARA 367 ante): art 31(3).
- 9 Ie an order under ibid art 29(5)(a)-(c): art 31(1)(c). See also note 8 supra.
- 10 The investigating committee must not make an order in any case after it has referred the allegation in question to another practice committee: ibid art 31(4).
- 11 For the meaning of 'the person concerned' see PARA 344 note 16 ante.
- 12 Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 31(2)(a). References to an interim suspension order or interim conditions of practice order include such an order as extended by the court (see PARA 370 post): art 31(10). As to the registrar see PARA 324 ante. As to registration see PARA 324 et seq ante.
- 13 Ibid art 31(2)(b). As to references to interim conditions of practice orders see note 12 infra.
- 14 Ibid art 31(2). No order under art 31(2) may be made by any practice committee in respect of any person unless he has been afforded an opportunity of appearing before the committee and being heard on the question whether such an order should be made in his case: art 31(15). At any such hearing, the person concerned is entitled to be represented, whether by a legally qualified person or otherwise: art 31(16).

The committee which made the order or, if the matter has been referred to another practice committee, that committee, must, in a case coming within art 31(1)(a) (see the text to notes 1-7 supra), review an order made under art 31(2): (1) within the period of six months beginning on the date on which the order was made, and must thereafter, for so long as the order continues in force, further review it before the end of the period of three months beginning on the date of the decision of the immediately preceding review (art 31(6)(a)); (2) where new evidence relevant to the order has become available after the making of the order (art 31(6)(b)). For the purposes of art 31(6), the first review after the court's extension of an order made by a practice committee (see PARA 370 post) or after a replacement order made by a practice committee under art 31(7)(d) or (e) (see the text to notes 19, 20 infra) must take place: (a) if the order (or the order which has been replaced) has not been reviewed at all under art 31(6), within the period of six months beginning on the date on which the court ordered the extension or on which a replacement order under art 31(7)(d) or (e) was made (art 31(11)(a)); and (b) if it has been reviewed under the provision, within the period of three months beginning on that date (art 31(11)(b)).
- 15 Ie under ibid art 31, including art 31(7) (see the text to notes 16-20 infra).
- 16 Ibid art 31(7)(a).
- 17 Ibid art 31(7)(b). See also note 18 infra.
- 18 Ibid art 31(7)(c). No order under art 31(7)(c)-(e), or, in a case where art 31(5)(b) (see the text to notes 25, 26 infra) applies, under art 31(7)(b), may be made by any practice committee in respect of any person unless he has been afforded an opportunity of appearing before the committee and being heard on the question whether such an order should be made in his case: art 31(15). At any such hearing, the person concerned is entitled to be represented, whether by a legally qualified person or otherwise: art 31(16).

370. Interim orders; applications to the court.

The Council<sup>1</sup> may apply to the court<sup>2</sup> for an interim order<sup>3</sup> made by a practice committee<sup>4</sup> to be extended, and may apply again for further extensions<sup>5</sup>. On such an application, the court may extend, or further extend, the period for which the order has effect for up to 12 months<sup>6</sup>. Where an order has effect<sup>7</sup>, the court may, on an application being made by the person concerned<sup>8</sup>:

- 619 (1) in the case of an interim suspension order, terminate the suspension<sup>9</sup>;
- 620 (2) in the case of an interim conditions of practice order, revoke or vary any condition imposed by the order<sup>10</sup>, and it may, in either case, substitute for the period specified in the order, or in the order extending it, some other period which could have been specified in the order when it was made or in the order extending it<sup>11</sup>. The decision of the court under any such application is final<sup>12</sup>.

371. Restoration to the register of persons who have been struck off.

Where a person who has been struck off the register<sup>1</sup> by virtue of an order<sup>2</sup> made by a practice committee<sup>3</sup> or by the court wishes to be restored to the register, he must make an application for restoration to the registrar<sup>4</sup>. Any application for restoration must be referred by the registrar for determination to the committee which made the striking-off order<sup>5</sup> or, where any previous applications have been made in connection with the same striking-off order, the committee which last gave a decision on such an application<sup>6</sup>. Before making any decision on the application, the committee must give the applicant an opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case in accordance with rules made by the Council<sup>7</sup>. The committee must not grant an application for restoration unless it is satisfied, on such evidence as it may require, that the applicant not only satisfies the specified requirements<sup>8</sup> but, having regard in particular to the circumstances which led to the making of the order, is also a fit and proper person to practise the relevant profession<sup>9</sup>. The committee may make the granting of an application subject to the applicant satisfying such requirements as to additional education or training and experience as the Council has specified<sup>10</sup> and which apply to him<sup>11</sup>. On granting an application for restoration, the committee: (1) must direct the registrar to register the applicant in the relevant part of the register<sup>12</sup> on his satisfying any requirements imposed<sup>13</sup> and on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>14</sup>; and (2) may make a conditions of practice order with respect to him<sup>15</sup>.

If, while a striking-off order is in force, a second or subsequent application for restoration to the register, made by the person who has been struck off, is unsuccessful, the committee which determined that application may direct that that person's right to make any further such applications be suspended indefinitely<sup>16</sup>. A person in respect of whom such a direction is made may, after the expiration of three years from the date on which the direction was made, apply to the registrar for that direction to be reviewed and, thereafter, may make further applications for review but no such application may be made before the expiration of three years from the date of the most recent review decision<sup>17</sup>. The registrar must refer such an application to the committee which made the direction<sup>18</sup>.

A person whose application for the review of a direction or whose application for restoration is refused or made subject to his satisfying requirements<sup>19</sup> may appeal to the appropriate court<sup>20</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(iv) Fitness to Practise/F. ASSESSORS/372. Legal assessors.

F. ASSESSORS

372. Legal assessors.

The Council<sup>1</sup> must appoint legal assessors<sup>2</sup>. Legal assessors have the general function of giving advice to screeners<sup>3</sup>, the statutory committees<sup>4</sup>, the registrar<sup>5</sup> or the Council<sup>6</sup> on questions of law arising in connection with any matter which any of those persons is considering<sup>7</sup>. Legal assessors have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules made by the Council<sup>8</sup>. A legal assessor has the following additional functions: (1) to be present at any Part V hearing<sup>9</sup> held by a practice committee<sup>10</sup>; (2) to be present at any appeal hearing<sup>11</sup> held by the Council<sup>12</sup>; and (3) where he is present at any hearing referred to in head (1) or head (2) above, to inform the practice committee or Council, as the case may be, of any irregularity in its consideration of the matter which is the subject of the hearing, or in the conduct of the hearing, which may come to his knowledge and to advise on the steps which may be taken, if any, to remedy the irregularity<sup>13</sup>.

The Privy Council may make provision by order<sup>14</sup> with regard to the functions of legal assessors<sup>15</sup>. In particular, provision may be made requiring legal assessors when advising the Council or any of its committees to do so in the presence of the parties<sup>16</sup> or their representatives or, where advice is given in private, requiring the parties to be notified of the advice tendered by the legal assessors<sup>17</sup>, and requiring the parties to be notified in any case where the legal assessor's advice is not accepted<sup>18</sup>.

No person may be a legal assessor if he is: (a) a member of the Council<sup>19</sup>; (b) a member of a statutory committee<sup>20</sup>; (c) a screener, visitor<sup>21</sup> or medical or registrant assessor<sup>22</sup>; or (d) employed by the Council<sup>23</sup>.

The Council may make such provision in respect of legal assessors as it may determine for the payment of fees and allowances, including the payment of allowances to employers of legal assessors for the purposes of enabling legal assessors to perform their functions<sup>24</sup>, and for the reimbursement of such expenses as the legal assessors may reasonably have incurred in the course of carrying out those functions<sup>25</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the Council' see PARA 308 note 1 ante.

2 Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 34(1). To be qualified for appointment as a legal assessor, a person must: (1) have a 10 year general qualification within the meaning of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990 s 71 (see LEGAL PROFESSIONS vol 65 (2008) PARA 742); or (2) be an advocate or solicitor in Scotland of at least 10 years' standing; or (3) be a member of the Bar of Northern Ireland of at least 10 years' standing: Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254, art 34(5)(a)-(c).

3 Ibid art 34(2)(a). For the meaning of 'screeners' see PARA 346 note 3 ante.

4 Ibid art 34(2)(b). For the meaning of 'statutory committees' see PARA 313 note 1 ante.

5 Ibid art 34(2)(c). As to the registrar see PARA 324 ante.

373. Legal assessors; giving of advice.

At a hearing before: (1) the investigating committee<sup>1</sup>, in respect of an allegation in relation to the procurement or making of an entry in the register<sup>2</sup>, or any matter which is treated as such an allegation<sup>3</sup>; (2) the health committee<sup>4</sup>, in relation to the fitness of a person to practise<sup>5</sup>; (3) the conduct and competence committee<sup>6</sup>, in relation to the fitness of a person to practise<sup>7</sup>; or (4) the Council<sup>8</sup>, in relation to an appeal<sup>9</sup>, any advice tendered by a legal assessor<sup>10</sup> to the Council or the committee<sup>11</sup> must be given in the presence of every party, or person representing a party, in attendance at the hearing<sup>12</sup>. However, where the Council or the committee has begun to deliberate on its decision<sup>13</sup> and considers that it would be prejudicial to the discharge of its functions for the advice to be tendered in the presence of the parties or their representatives<sup>14</sup>, the advice may be given in the absence of the parties or their representatives<sup>15</sup>. If on any occasion the Council or a committee do not accept the advice tendered by a legal assessor at a hearing, a record must be made by the legal assessor of the advice given together with any question which led to that advice, and of the decision not to accept it together with the reasons for that decision<sup>16</sup>; and a copy of the record must be given to every party or person representing a party in attendance at the hearing<sup>17</sup>. Copies of written advice<sup>18</sup> must be available, on application, to every party to the proceedings who does not attend, and is not represented at, the hearing before the Council or the committee<sup>19</sup>.

374. Medical assessors.

The Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint registered medical practitioners<sup>2</sup> to be medical assessors<sup>3</sup>. Medical assessors have the general function of giving advice to: (1) screeners<sup>4</sup>; (2) the statutory committees<sup>5</sup>; (3) the registrar<sup>6</sup>; or (4) the Council<sup>7</sup>, on matters within their professional competence in connection with any matter which any of those persons is considering<sup>8</sup>. Medical assessors also have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules made by the Council<sup>9</sup>. The following additional functions have been conferred on them: (a) to be present at any Part V hearing<sup>10</sup> held by a practice committee<sup>11</sup> as the practice committee may request<sup>12</sup>; (b) to be present at any appeal hearing<sup>13</sup> held by the Council as the Council may request<sup>14</sup>; (c) where he is present at any hearing referred to in head (a) or head (b) above and it appears to him that, without his advice, a mistake may be made in judging the medical significance of information or the absence of information in relation to the hearing, to inform the practice committee or Council and the parties to the proceedings of that<sup>15</sup>; and (d) at the request of a practice committee or the Council, to examine and report on the physical or mental condition of a person who is the subject of any hearing referred to in head (a) or head (b) above and who consents to such an examination<sup>16</sup>.

No person may be a medical assessor if he is a member of the Council<sup>17</sup>; a member of a statutory committee<sup>18</sup>; a screener, visitor<sup>19</sup> or legal or registrant assessor<sup>20</sup>; or employed by the Council<sup>21</sup>.

The Council may make such provision in respect of medical assessors as it may determine for the payment of fees and allowances, including the payment of allowances to employers of medical assessors for the purposes of enabling medical assessors to perform their functions<sup>22</sup>, and for the reimbursement of such expenses as the medical assessors may reasonably have incurred in the course of carrying out those functions<sup>23</sup>.

375. Registrant assessors.

The Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint registered professionals<sup>2</sup> as registrant assessors<sup>3</sup>. Registrant assessors have the general function of giving advice to: (1) the Council<sup>4</sup>; (2) the committees of the Council<sup>5</sup>; (3) screeners<sup>6</sup>; or (4) the registrar<sup>7</sup>, on matters of professional practice arising in connection with any matter which any of those persons is considering<sup>8</sup>. The assessors also have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules made by the Council<sup>9</sup>. The following additional functions have been conferred on them: (a) to be present at any Part V hearing<sup>10</sup> held by a practice committee<sup>11</sup> as the practice committee may request<sup>12</sup>; (b) to be present at any appeal hearing<sup>13</sup> held by the Council as the Council may request<sup>14</sup>; (c) where he is present at any hearing referred to in head (a) or head (b) above and it appears to him that, without his advice, a mistake may be made in judging the significance of information or the absence of information relating to any matter of professional practice within his professional competence in relation to the hearing, to inform the practice committee or Council and the parties to the proceedings of that<sup>15</sup>.

No person may be a registrant assessor if he is a member of the Council<sup>16</sup>; a member of a statutory committee<sup>17</sup>; a screener, visitor<sup>18</sup> or legal or medical assessor<sup>19</sup>; or employed by the Council<sup>20</sup>.

The Council may make such provision in respect of registrant assessors as it may determine for the payment of fees and allowances, including the payment of allowances to employers of registrant assessors for the purposes of enabling registrant assessors to perform their functions<sup>21</sup>, and for the reimbursement of such expenses as the registrant assessors may reasonably have incurred in the course of carrying out those functions<sup>22</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(v) Appeals/A. APPEALS TO THE COUNCIL/376. Appeals against decisions of the education and training committee.

(v) Appeals

A. APPEALS TO THE COUNCIL

376. Appeals against decisions of the education and training committee.

Where the education and training committee<sup>1</sup>: (1) refuses an application for registration, readmission or renewal or for the inclusion of an additional entry<sup>2</sup>; (2) in determining an application for registration or readmission<sup>3</sup>, imposes additional conditions which must be satisfied before the applicant may be admitted to, readmitted to or retained on the register<sup>4</sup>; (3) removes the name of a registrant<sup>5</sup> from the register on the ground that he has breached a condition in respect of continuing professional development<sup>6</sup> or such additional education, training or experience as is required of persons who have not practised<sup>7</sup>, subject to which his registration has effect<sup>8</sup>; or (4) fails to issue a decision in relation to an application for registration<sup>9</sup>, then the person aggrieved may appeal to the Council<sup>10</sup> within the prescribed period<sup>12</sup>. Any appeal is subject to such rules as the Council may make for the purpose of regulating such appeals<sup>13</sup>. The rules must in particular provide:

- 621 (a) for the quorum of the Council considering such an appeal<sup>14</sup>;
  - 622 (b) that the members considering the appeal are to include registrants and lay members<sup>15</sup> and that the number of members who are registrants may exceed the number of lay members but may not exceed them by more than one<sup>16</sup>;
  - 623 (c) for a panel considering an appeal to consist of no fewer than three members who are to be selected with due regard to the matter under consideration and to include<sup>17</sup>:
- 130
- 185. (i) one registrant registered in the same part of the register as the one in which the person concerned is, or is applying to be, registered<sup>18</sup>;
  - 186. (ii) one lay member, who must not be a registered medical practitioner<sup>19</sup>; and
  - 187. (iii) where the health of the person concerned is in issue, one registered medical practitioner<sup>20</sup>;
- 131
- 624 (d) for the person presiding to be a Council member<sup>21</sup>;
  - 625 (e) that no one who has been involved in any other capacity in the case is to be considered is to be a member of the panel<sup>22</sup>;
  - 626 (f) for the decision to be made by a majority vote of the persons present<sup>23</sup>;
  - 627 (g) in the event of a tie, for the chairman to have an additional casting vote which he must exercise in the favour of the person concerned<sup>24</sup>;
  - 628 (h) for the education and training committee to be made a party to the proceedings<sup>25</sup>;
  - 629 (i) for similar provision to be made to that in the procedural rules relating to the investigation of allegations<sup>26</sup>.

Having considered the appeal, the Council may: (A) dismiss the appeal<sup>27</sup>; (B) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against<sup>28</sup>; (C) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision that the education and training committee could have made<sup>29</sup>; or (D) remit the case to the education and training committee to be disposed of in accordance with its directions<sup>30</sup>. The person concerned may appeal to a county court against an unfavourable decision made under head (A), (C) or (D) above<sup>31</sup>.

The Council must publish as soon as reasonably practicable a decision of the Council made under these provisions together with the reasons for it<sup>32</sup>. However, if the decision is favourable to the person concerned, the Council is not required to publish it unless the person concerned so requests but it may do so with the consent of the person concerned<sup>33</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(v) Appeals/A. APPEALS TO THE COUNCIL/377. Period for appeal and notice of appeal.

377. Period for appeal and notice of appeal.

The period within which the person aggrieved may appeal to the Council<sup>1</sup> is: (1) where the appeal is against a decision relating to registration<sup>2</sup>, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the committee<sup>3</sup> made the decision<sup>4</sup>; or (2) where the appeal is against a failure to issue a decision<sup>5</sup>, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day after the end of the period<sup>6</sup> within which a decision on the application is to be notified<sup>7</sup>.

An appeal<sup>8</sup> must be made by giving notice in writing<sup>9</sup>. The notice must be addressed to the registrar at the offices of the Council and must<sup>10</sup>:

- 630 (a) include: (i) the name and address of the appellant<sup>11</sup>; (ii) his registration number, where applicable<sup>12</sup>; (iii) where the appeal is against a decision relating to registration, the date, nature and other relevant details of the decision against which the appeal is brought<sup>13</sup>; (iv) where the appeal is against a failure to issue a decision, the date, nature and other relevant details of the application in respect of which there has been a failure to issue a decision<sup>14</sup>; (v) a concise statement of the grounds of the appeal<sup>15</sup>; and (vi) the name and address of the appellant's representative, if any, and a statement as to whether the Council should correspond with that representative concerning the appeal instead of with the appellant<sup>16</sup>;
- 631 (b) state that the notice is a notice of appeal<sup>17</sup>; and
- 632 (c) be signed by or on behalf of the appellant<sup>18</sup>.

The appellant must attach to the notice of appeal a copy of any documents on which he proposes to rely for the purposes of the appeal<sup>19</sup>.

Upon receiving a valid notice of appeal, the Council must send the appellant a notice acknowledging its receipt and informing the appellant<sup>20</sup> that he may before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice was sent request that a hearing be held<sup>21</sup>; that, even if he does not request a hearing, the Council may hold a hearing if it considers it to be desirable<sup>22</sup>; and that he may be heard and be represented at such a hearing<sup>23</sup>.

378. Notice of hearing; representation.

If the appellant<sup>1</sup> has requested that a hearing be held, or the Council<sup>2</sup> determines that it would be desirable to hold a hearing, the Council must fix a day on which it is to hear the case and send notice to the parties of the day, time and venue for the hearing<sup>3</sup>. Before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which such notice is sent, the parties must inform the Council whether or not they intend to attend or be represented<sup>4</sup> at the hearing and whether or not they intend to call any witnesses and, if so, must provide their names and addresses to the Council<sup>5</sup>. An appellant who does not intend to attend or be represented at a hearing may, before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held, send to the Council additional written representations in support of his appeal<sup>6</sup>. The committee<sup>7</sup> is the respondent in any proceedings<sup>8</sup>. The Council may invite any person who, in its opinion, has an interest in the proceedings to make written representations, and any such representations must be sent to the Council before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the invitation is sent to that person<sup>9</sup>. Where the Council has fixed a date for a hearing<sup>10</sup> and the appellant has informed the Council that he intends to attend or be represented<sup>11</sup> but he does not attend and is not represented<sup>12</sup>, the appeal panel<sup>13</sup> may nevertheless proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to give notice of the hearing to the appellant<sup>14</sup>.

379. Appeal panels.

Except where the Council<sup>1</sup> considers an appeal<sup>2</sup> itself<sup>3</sup>, an appeal must be considered by an appeal panel<sup>4</sup> appointed by the Council for that purpose<sup>5</sup>. An appeal panel must comprise not fewer than three persons selected with due regard to the matter under consideration and must include<sup>6</sup>: (1) a person who is registered in the same part of the register<sup>7</sup> as that in which the appellant<sup>8</sup> is, or is applying to be, registered<sup>9</sup>; (2) a person who has never been admitted to the register<sup>10</sup> and who is not a registered medical practitioner<sup>11</sup>; and (3) where the health of the appellant is in issue, a registered medical practitioner<sup>12</sup>. A member of the Council must be appointed as chairman<sup>13</sup>. A person who has been involved in any other capacity in a case which is to be considered by an appeal panel must not be appointed as a member of that panel<sup>14</sup>. Decisions by an appeal panel are made by a majority vote of those present and, in the event of a tie, the chairman has an additional casting vote which must be exercised in favour of the appellant<sup>15</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'appeal' see PARA 377 note 8 ante.

3 Where the Council considers an appeal, references in the Health Professions Council (Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1579, to an appeal panel (other than in the definition in r 2 of 'appeal panel' (see note 4 infra), r 3(1)(a) (see PARA 377 note 9 ante) and r 9(1), (3)) are to be construed as references to the Council: r 17. The quorum of the Council when considering an appeal is seven and consists of registrant members and lay members and the number of members who are registrants may exceed the number of lay members but may not exceed them by more than one: r 9(2). ### UPDATE

379 Appeal panels

TEXT AND NOTES 6-12--An appeal panel must now comprise not fewer than three members appointed by the Council and must include (1) a person who is registered in the same part of the register as that in which the appellant is, or is applying to be, registered; (2) a person who (a) is not and never has been a registrant, or registered under the Professions Supplementary to Medicine Act 1960 or in the Association of Operating Department Practitioners register, the Association of Educational Psychologists register or the British Psychological Society register; and (b) does not hold a qualification that would entitle them to apply for registration under the Health Professions Order 2001, SI 2002/254; and (3) where the health of the appellant is in issue, a registered medical practitioner: SI 2003/1579 r 9(3) (substituted by SI 2009/1355). The chair may also count as the registrant or lay person mentioned in head (2)(a), (b) above: SI 2003/1579 r 9(4) (amended by SI 2009/1355).

TEXT AND NOTES 13-15--References to the 'chairman' are now to the 'chair': SI 2003/1579 r 9(4), (6) (amended by SI 2009/1355). 'Chair' means the chair of an appeal panel: SI 2003/1579 r 2 (definition substituted by SI 2009/1355). The members of an appeal panel, other than the chair, must be appointed from among the members of the practice committees: SI 2003/1579 r 9(7) (r 9(7), (8) added by SI 2009/1355). A person (1) is not eligible to be appointed to, or sit as a member of, an appeal panel if he is disqualified or suspended from membership of the Council or a practice committee; and (2) must cease to be a member of an appeal panel if (a) he resigns, which he may do at any time by notice in writing to the Council; (b) the Council votes (by a majority at a quorate meeting) to terminate his appointment; or (c) he ceases to be a member of the Council or a practice committee: SI 2003/1579 r 9(8).

380. Powers of appeal panels.

The appeal panel<sup>1</sup> or the chairman<sup>2</sup> may hold a preliminary meeting in private with the parties, their representatives<sup>3</sup> and any other person it or he considers appropriate if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the panel to perform its functions<sup>4</sup>. The appeal panel may determine an appeal<sup>5</sup> without an oral hearing on the basis of any documents provided by the appellant<sup>6</sup> where: (1) the Council<sup>7</sup> does not receive a reply from the appellant within the time specified<sup>8</sup> and the appeal panel is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to give notice<sup>9</sup>, or the appellant replies<sup>10</sup> to the effect that he does not wish to attend or be represented<sup>11</sup>; (2) the appeal panel has notified the appellant and the committee<sup>12</sup> of its intention to do so<sup>13</sup>; and (3) the appeal panel considers it desirable to do so having taken into account any representations received in response to the notice referred to in head (2) above<sup>14</sup>. If the appeal panel decides to determine an appeal without an oral hearing, it may take into account any written representations provided<sup>15</sup>, or written representations from the committee received by the Council before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date on which the appeal panel determines the appeal<sup>16</sup>. The appeal panel, either of its motion or at the request of a party to the hearing, may postpone a hearing at any time before it begins and may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>17</sup>. Where a hearing is postponed, the registrar<sup>18</sup> must send the appellant notice of the date on which the appeal panel is to hold the postponed hearing<sup>19</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/2. THE REGULATION OF THE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONS/(3) REGULATION BY THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS COUNCIL/(v) Appeals/A. APPEALS TO THE COUNCIL/381. Conduct of hearing.

381. Conduct of hearing.

The hearing must be held in public unless the appeal panel<sup>1</sup> is satisfied that, in the interests of justice or for the protection of the private life of the health professional, the complainant, any person giving evidence, or any patient or client, the public should be excluded from all or part of the hearing<sup>2</sup>. At the beginning of the hearing the chairman<sup>3</sup> must explain to the parties the order of proceedings which the appeal panel proposes to adopt<sup>4</sup>. The appeal panel must conduct the hearing in such manner as it considers most suitable to the clarification of the issues before it and generally to the just handling of the proceedings<sup>5</sup>. The parties must be heard in such order as the panel determines, having regard to the following<sup>6</sup>:

- 633 (1) the appellant<sup>7</sup> may present his case in support of his appeal<sup>8</sup>;
- 634 (2) the appellant or any person called on his behalf may be cross-examined by the committee<sup>9</sup> and, in the case of a person called on his behalf, re-examined by the appellant<sup>10</sup>;
- 635 (3) the committee may present its case in support of the decision appealed against or its failure to issue a decision<sup>11</sup>;
- 636 (4) the committee or any person called on its behalf may be cross-examined by the appellant and, in the case of a person called on its behalf, re-examined by the committee<sup>12</sup>;
- 637 (5) the committee may address the appeal panel on its case in respect of the decision appealed against or its failure to issue a decision<sup>13</sup>; and
- 638 (6) the appellant may address the appeal panel on his case in respect of his appeal<sup>14</sup>.

The parties are entitled to give evidence, to call witnesses, to question any witnesses and to address the appeal panel both on the evidence and generally on the subject matter of the appeal<sup>15</sup>. The rules on the admissibility of evidence that apply in civil proceedings in the appropriate court<sup>16</sup> in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>17</sup> in which the hearing takes place apply<sup>18</sup>. However, the appeal panel may hear or receive evidence which would not be admissible in such proceedings if it is satisfied that admission of that evidence is necessary in order to protect members of the public<sup>19</sup>. The appeal panel may require evidence to be given on oath or affirmation and for that purpose may administer oaths or affirmations in an appropriate form<sup>20</sup>. Where the appellant has been convicted of a criminal offence, a certified copy of the certificate of conviction is admissible as proof of that conviction and of the findings of fact upon which it was based<sup>21</sup>. The appeal panel may require any person, other than the appellant, to attend a hearing and give evidence or produce documents<sup>22</sup>. At any hearing the appeal panel may, if it is satisfied that it is just and reasonable to do so, permit a party to rely on grounds not stated in the notice of appeal<sup>23</sup> or to adduce any evidence not presented to the committee before it took the disputed decision<sup>24</sup>.

The appeal panel must notify the appellant of its decision and the reasons for reaching that decision, and inform the appellant of his right to appeal to a county court<sup>25</sup>.

382. Appeals.

An appeal from: (1) any order or decision of the health committee<sup>1</sup> or the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup>, other than an interim order<sup>3</sup>, lies to the appropriate court<sup>4</sup>; and (2) any decision of the Council<sup>5</sup> or of the investigating committee<sup>6</sup> lies to a county court<sup>7</sup>. In any such appeal the Council is the respondent<sup>8</sup>. The court may<sup>9</sup>:

- 639 (a) dismiss the appeal<sup>10</sup>;
- 640 (b) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against<sup>11</sup>;
- 641 (c) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision the practice committee<sup>12</sup> concerned or the Council, as the case may be, could have made<sup>13</sup>; or
- 642 (d) remit the case to the practice committee concerned or the Council, as the case may be, to be disposed of in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>14</sup>, and may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>15</sup>.

383. Offences.

A person commits an offence if:

- 643 (1) with intent to deceive, whether expressly or by implication<sup>1</sup>:
- 188. (a) he falsely represents himself to be registered in the register<sup>2</sup>, or a particular part of it<sup>3</sup>, or to be the subject of any entry in the register<sup>4</sup>;
- 189. (b) he uses a designated title<sup>5</sup> to which he is not entitled<sup>6</sup>;
- 190. (c) he falsely represents himself to possess qualifications in a relevant profession<sup>7</sup>;
- 133
- 644 (2) with intent that any person is deceived, whether expressly or by implication, he causes or permits another person to make any representation about himself which, if made by himself with intent to deceive would be an offence<sup>8</sup>;
- 645 (3) with intent to deceive, he makes with regard to another person any representation which<sup>9</sup> is false to his own knowledge<sup>10</sup> and if made by the other person with that intent would be an offence by him<sup>11</sup>;
- 646 (4) if he fraudulently procures, or tries to procure, the making, amendment, removal or restoration of an entry in the register<sup>12</sup>;

TEXT AND NOTE 2--The general concern of the General Dental Council is now expressed to be to promote high standards of education at all its stages in all aspects of dentistry, and to promote high standards of professional conduct, performance and practice among persons registered under the 1984 Act: s 1(2) (substituted by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/386. Arrangements for general dental services under the national health service.

386. Arrangements for general dental services under the national health service.

It is the duty of every primary care trust and of every health authority, in accordance with regulations made for the purpose, to make as respects its area arrangements with dental practitioners<sup>1</sup> or dental corporations<sup>2</sup> under which any person in the area for whom a dental practitioner or dental corporation undertakes in accordance with the arrangements to provide dental treatment and appliances must receive such treatment and appliances<sup>3</sup>. Where the registration of a dental practitioner in the dentists register is suspended<sup>4</sup>, the suspension does not terminate any arrangements made with him for the provision of general dental services, but he must not provide such services in person during the suspension<sup>5</sup>.

Regulations may provide as to the arrangements to be made<sup>6</sup> and must include provision for the preparation and publication by each primary care trust and health authority of a list of dental practitioners and dental corporations who undertake to provide general dental services for persons in its area<sup>7</sup>, for conferring a right, subject to certain exceptions, on any dental practitioner or dental corporation to be included in any such list<sup>8</sup>, and for the removal from the list of dental practitioners and dental corporations where they have never provided, or have ceased to provide, general dental services<sup>9</sup>. The regulations must also include provision for constituting the Dental Practice Board for the purpose of carrying out such duties as may be prescribed with respect to dental treatment and appliances, and to the remuneration of dental practitioners providing general dental services<sup>10</sup>.

1 'Dental practitioner' means a person registered in the dentists register under the Dentists Act 1984: National Health Service Act 1977 s 128(1) (amended by the Dentists Act 1984 s 54(1), Sch 5 para 9). As to the dentists register see PARA 417 et seq post.

UPDATE

389 Constitution and general duties

TEXT AND NOTE 2--When exercising its functions under the Dentists Act 1984, the General Dental Council must have proper regard for the interests of persons using or needing the services of registered dentists or registered dental care professionals in the United Kingdom, and any differing interests of different categories of registered dentists or registered dental care professionals: Dentists Act 1984 s 1(1A)(a), (b) (added by SI 2009/1182). For the meaning of 'registered dental care professional' see PARA 498A.2 NOTE 1. As to the dental care professionals register see PARA 498B.1. The general concern of the General Dental Council is now expressed to be to promote high standards of education at all its stages in all aspects of dentistry, and to promote high standards of professional conduct, performance and practice among persons registered under the Dentists Act 1984: s 1(2) (s 1(2), (2A) substituted by SI 2005/2011). The Council is constituted as provided by order of the Privy Council: Dentists Act 1984 s 1(2A).

An order of the Privy Council under s 1(2A) must include provision with regard to (1) the numbers of registrant members and lay members of the Council; (2) the terms of office for which members of the Council are appointed, and the order may provide that these are to be determined by the Privy Council on appointment; (3) the grounds on which persons are to be disqualified from appointment as registrant or lay members of the Council; (4) the appointment of a chair of the Council and the chair's term of office, and the order may provide that the term is to be determined by whoever makes the appointment as chair on appointment; (5) deputising arrangements in respect of the chair; (6) the quorum of the Council; and (7) the circumstances in which members cease to hold office or may be removed or suspended from office: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1B(1)(a)-(g) (Sch 1 para 1B added by SI 2009/1182). Such an order must not include any provision which would have the effect that a majority of the members of the Council would be lay members: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1B(2). An order under s 1(2A) may include provision with regard to (a) the maximum period for which a member of the Council may hold office as a member during a specified period; (b) the maximum period for which a member of the Council may serve as chair of the Council during a specified period; (c) the education and training of members of the Council, and the order may provide for the Council to include the requirements with regard to education and training of its members in standing orders, and for those standing orders to provide for (i) that education and training to be the responsibility of another body; and (ii) those requirements to be set and varied by that body from time to time; (d) the attendance of members of the Council at meetings of the Council; and (e) the effect (if any) of any vacancy in the membership of the Council or any defect in the appointment of a member: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1B(3)(a)-(e). An order may make different provision for different cases or different classes of case and may contain such incidental, consequential, transitional, transitory, saving or supplementary provisions as appear to the Privy Council to be necessary or expedient: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1B(4). In exercise of the powers conferred by the Dentists Act 1984 s 1(2A), Sch 1 para 1B, the Privy Council has made the General Dental Council (Constitution) Order 2009, SI 2009/1808.

Now only proceedings of any of the Council's committees are not invalidated by a defect in the appointment of a member: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 6(4) (amended by SI 2009/1182).

TEXT AND NOTES 4-12--SI 2002/1625 lapsed on repeal of enabling authority; see TEXT AND NOTE 2. The General Dental Council must now consist of (1) registrant members, that is members who are registered dentists or registered dental care professionals; and (2) lay members, that is members who (a) are not and never have been registered dentists or registered dental care professionals; and (b) do not hold qualifications which would entitle them to apply for registration as a registered dentist or registered dental care professional: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1A(1)(a), (b) (Sch 1 para 1A added by SI 2009/1182). The members of the Council must be appointed by the Privy Council: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1A(2). The Privy Council must ensure that, at any time, at least one member of the Council lives or works wholly or mainly in each of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1A(3). Before the Privy Council directs the Appointments Commission under the Health Act 2006 s 60(1) (see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 821) to exercise any function of the Privy Council relating to the appointment of members of the Council, the Privy Council must consult the Council: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1A(4). For transitional and saving measures relating to the Council see Health Care and Associated Professions (Miscellaneous Amendments and Practitioner Psychologists) Order 2009, SI 2009/1182, art 7; Dentists Act 1984 (Medical Authorities) Order 2009, SI 2009/1358.

390. Registered dentist and dental auxiliary members.

An Order in Council<sup>1</sup> must, in relation to the members of the General Dental Council who are registered dentists and dental auxiliaries<sup>2</sup>, make provision for their tenure and termination of office<sup>3</sup>, by-elections<sup>4</sup>, and any other matter which appears to Her Majesty to be necessary or expedient in relation to the registered dentist and dental auxiliary membership of the Council<sup>5</sup>. The Council must make rules to provide for an election scheme for the election of such members<sup>6</sup>, and the rules may provide for a scheme which makes different provision in relation to the two categories of member<sup>7</sup>, and makes different provision for different cases or classes of case<sup>8</sup>. The election scheme must secure that the Council's membership includes at least one registered dentist from each of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland<sup>9</sup>.

NOTE 4--SI 2002/1625 lapsed on repeal of enabling authority.

NOTE 8--SI 2002/2463 amended: SI 2007/3006. Any power in the 1984 Act to make rules is exercisable by the General Dental Council and the rules do not come into force until approved by the Privy Council by order of council (except in the case of rules made under ss 36B(4), 36D(6) and (7), 36E, 43A(5) and (6), and Sch 1 para 8(1)(b)): s 50C(1)-(3) (ss 50C, 50D added by SI 2005/2011; s 50C amended by SI 2009/1182). The Privy Council may approve rules as submitted to it, or subject to such modifications as appears to it to be requisite: 1984 Act s 50C(4). Any power to make rules may be exercised (1) so as to make different provision with respect to different cases or different classes of case or different provision in respect of the same case or class of case for different purposes of the 1984 Act; and (2) either in relation to all cases to which the power extends or in relation to all those cases subject to specified exceptions: s 50C(5). Any power to make rules includes power to make any incidental, consequential, saving, transitional, transitory or supplementary provision which the General Dental Council considers necessary or expedient: s 50C(6). The General Dental Council must consult certain bodies and persons before it makes rules under Sch 3 or 4B: see s 50D.

391. Lay members.

An Order in Council<sup>1</sup> must make provision for the appointment of lay members<sup>2</sup> to the General Dental Council<sup>3</sup>, their tenure and termination of office<sup>4</sup>, and any other matter which appears to Her Majesty to be necessary or expedient in relation to the lay membership of the Council<sup>5</sup>. The lay members must be appointed by the Privy Council<sup>6</sup>, and must include at least one person from each of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland<sup>7</sup>. The Privy Council may appoint as lay members persons whom it considers to have such qualifications or experience as will be of value to the General Dental Council in the performance of its duties<sup>8</sup>.

1    le an order made under the Dentists Act 1984 s 1(2A) (as added): see PARA 389 ante.

2    'Lay member' means a member who is neither a registered dentist nor a dental auxiliary: ibid s 1(3), Sch 1 para 1(5) (s 1(3) amended, and Sch 1 para 1 substituted, by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2001, SI 2001/3926, arts 2, 3(b), 4(1), (2); and the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 1(5) amended by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 187(8), Sch 12 para 3(1), (2)).

3    Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 2(1)(a) (Sch 1 para 2(1) substituted by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2001, SI 2001/3926, arts 2, 4(1), (2)). As to the constitution and duties of the General Dental Council see PARA 389 ante.

4    Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 2(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

5    Ibid Sch 1 para 2(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

6    Ibid Sch 1 para 2(2) (Sch 1 para 2(2), (3) substituted, and Sch 1 paras 2(4), 2A added, by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 187(8), Sch 12 para 3(1), (3), (4)). If, under the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 187, the Secretary of State has given a direction to a special health authority to exercise any function of a Minister of the Crown relating to the making of appointments to a body mentioned in s 187, the Privy Council may direct the special health authority to exercise to the extent specified in the direction its functions in relation to the appointment of persons to be lay members of the Council: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 2A(1), (2)(a) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante. As to special health authorities see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 136 et seq. As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers under the Dentists Act 1984 see PARA 388 ante. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

7    Ibid Sch 1 para 2(3) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). A person is from England, Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland (as the case may be) if he lives or works there or mainly lives or works there: Sch 1 para 2(4) (as added: see note 6 supra).

392. Tenure and termination of office of members of the Council.

The term of office of each member of the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> is for a period of five years<sup>2</sup>. A person ceases to be a member of the Council if: (1) he is a registered dentist member<sup>3</sup> and his name is erased from the register<sup>4</sup>, or his registration in the register is suspended<sup>5</sup>; (2) he is a dental auxiliary member<sup>6</sup> and his name is erased from a roll or record of dental auxiliaries<sup>7</sup>; (3) he is a lay member<sup>8</sup> and there is a change in his position or circumstances such that it appears to the Privy Council<sup>9</sup> that he will no longer contribute to the Council's exercise of its functions in such a manner as justifies his continued membership<sup>10</sup>. A member may resign at any time by giving notice in writing<sup>11</sup> addressed to the registrar<sup>12</sup>. Where a lay member ceases to be a member, the Council must inform the Privy Council<sup>13</sup>.

In the event of a registered dentist or dental auxiliary member ceasing to be a member of the General Dental Council<sup>14</sup>, a by-election must be held to fill any such vacancy which occurs more than 12 months before the end of the period for which that member had been elected, and the newly elected member's term of office is for the remainder of the unexpired term<sup>15</sup>.

The powers of the Council and of any of its committees may be exercised notwithstanding any vacancy<sup>16</sup>.

4 General Dental Council (Constitution) Order 2002, SI 2002/1625, art 3B(1)(a)(i) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 417 note 1 post. As to erasure from the register see PARAS 441-443, 445, 461 post.

5 Ibid art 3B(1)(a)(ii) (as added: see note 2 supra). 'Suspended' does not include suspended under the Dentists Act 1984 ss 30(3), 32 (see PARAS 459, 461, 482 post): General Dental Council (Constitution) Order 2002, SI 2002/1625, art 1(2) (definition added by SI 2002/3134). As to suspension from the register generally see PARAS 461, 482 post.

6 As to such members see PARA 390 ante.

7 General Dental Council (Constitution) Order 2002, SI 2002/1625, art 3B(1)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). As to such erasure see PARA 495 et seq post.

8 For the meaning of 'lay member' see PARA 391 note 2 ante.

9 As to the appointment of lay members by the Privy Council see PARA 391 ante. As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers under the Dentists Act 1984 see PARA 388 ante. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

10 General Dental Council (Constitution) Order 2002, SI 2002/1625, art 3B(1)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra). If, under the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 187, the Secretary of State has given a direction to a special health authority to exercise any function of a Minister of the Crown relating to the making of appointments to a body mentioned in s 187, the Privy Council may direct the special health authority to exercise to the extent specified in the direction its functions in relation to the termination of the appointment of a lay member: Dentists Act 1984 s 1(3) (amended by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2001, SI 2001/3926, arts 2, 3(b)); Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 2A(1), (2)(b) (added by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 187(8), Sch 12 para 3(1), (4)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante. As to special health authorities see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 136 et seq.

11 For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante.

396 [Registrar]

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced.

The dentists register is kept by a registrar<sup>1</sup> appointed by the General Dental Council<sup>2</sup>. Any person appointed to the office of registrar holds the office for such period and receives such salary as may be fixed by the Council<sup>3</sup>. The registrar must perform such duties in connection with the register as the Council may direct, and in the execution of his duties he must act on such evidence as in each case appears to him sufficient<sup>4</sup>. The registrar may delegate, either generally or specifically, any of his functions to any of the Council's officers<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the dentists register see PARA 417. 'The registrar' means the person for the time being appointed under the Dentists Act 1984 s 14(2) (see TEXT AND NOTE 2): s 53(1) (amended by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011). The register is to consist of the following lists: (1) the principal list, which is to contain particulars of persons who under the Dentists Act 1984 s 15 are entitled to be registered in the register; (2) the list of temporary registrants, which is to contain particulars of persons who under s 17 are directed to be registered in the register; and (3) the list of visiting dentists from relevant European states, which is to contain particulars of persons who under Sch 4 are entitled to be registered in the register: s 14(1A) (added by SI 2007/3101).

397 General powers of the Council

NOTES--Provision is made regarding the Council's duty to co-operate with other bodies (see PARA 397A), and the preparation of annual reports and accounts (see PARAS 397B, 397C). Provision has also been made for the establishment of a consumer complaints procedure (see PARA 397D), and for the appointment of legal, medical and professional advisers (see PARA 401A).

TEXT AND NOTES 5, 6--Now only the powers of any of the Council's committees may be exercised notwithstanding any vacancy and only proceedings of any of its committees are not invalidated by a defect in the appointment of a member: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 6(3), (4) (amended by SI 2009/1182).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(2) THE GENERAL DENTAL COUNCIL/ (ii) Business and Functions/397A. Duty to co-operate.

397A. Duty to co-operate.

In the exercise of its functions, the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must co-operate in so far as reasonably practicable with public authorities, and other bodies and persons, if they fall within the following categories<sup>2</sup>:

- 648 (1) they are concerned with the employment, whether or not under a contract of service, of registered dentists or registered dental care professionals<sup>3</sup>;
- 649 (2) they provide, assess or fund education or training for those who are, or seek to become, registered dentists or registered dental care professionals, or they propose to do so;
- 650 (3) they regulate services in the provision of which registered dentists or registered dental care professionals are engaged;
- 651 (4) they carry out activities in connection with the provision, supervision or management of national health services; or
- 652 (5) they are responsible for regulating or co-ordinating the regulation of health or social care professions not regulated under the 1984 Act<sup>4</sup>.

In carrying out its duty to co-operate under the above provisions, the Council must have regard to any differing considerations in relation to the practice of dentistry which apply in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the constitution and duties of the General Dental Council see PARA 389.

397B. Annual reports, statistical reports and strategic plans.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must publish, by a date in each year specified by the Privy Council, (1) a report on the exercise of its functions that includes a description of the arrangements that the Council has put in place to ensure that it adheres to good practice in relation to equality and diversity<sup>2</sup>; (2) a statistical report which indicates the efficiency and effectiveness of, and which includes a description of, the arrangements that the Council has put in place to protect members of the public from persons who are registered dentists or registered dental care professionals and whose fitness to practise is impaired, together with the Council's observations on the report; and (3) a strategic plan for the Council in respect of a number of years to be determined by the Council<sup>3</sup>.

The General Dental Council must submit copies of the reports and the plan so published to the Privy Council and the Privy Council must lay copies of the reports and the plan before each House of Parliament<sup>4</sup>.

1 As to the constitution and duties of the General Dental Council see PARA 389.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must keep accounts, and prepare a statement of accounts in respect of each calendar year, in such form as the Privy Council may determine in writing<sup>2</sup>. The General Dental Council must appoint an auditor to audit each statement of accounts prepared in accordance with the above provision, and the auditor must prepare a report on each statement of accounts<sup>3</sup>.

The Council must, as soon as reasonably practicable after the end of each calendar year, publish the statement of accounts for that year, together with the auditor's report on it, and send a copy of the statement of accounts and the report to the Privy Council and the Comptroller and Auditor General<sup>4</sup>. The Comptroller and Auditor General must examine, certify and report on each statement of accounts so received and for these purposes may inspect accounts kept by the Council<sup>5</sup>. The Comptroller and Auditor General must send a copy of each report prepared by him under the above provision to the Council and the Privy Council<sup>6</sup>.

The Privy Council must, as soon as reasonably practicable after the end of each calendar year, lay before each House of Parliament a copy of (1) the statement of accounts for that year as certified by the Comptroller and Auditor General; (2) the auditor's report for that year; and (3) the report of the Comptroller and Auditor General for that year<sup>7</sup>.

397D. Complaints.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> may incur expenditure for the purposes of investigating and resolving dental complaints<sup>2</sup>. The Council may also incur expenditure for the purposes of assisting the parties to the dental complaint in reaching a satisfactory resolution of that complaint<sup>3</sup>.

1 As to the constitution and duties of the General Dental Council see PARA 389.

2 Dentists Act 1984 s 2D(1) (s 2D added by SI 2005/2011). For these purposes 'dental complaints' means complaints made by users of the services of registered dentists or the services of registered dental care professionals about (1) the dental services provided by a registered dentist, a registered dental care professional or a body corporate carrying on the business of dentistry; or (2) the goods or materials provided to persons, or the facilities provided for persons, using those dental services: 1984 Act s 2D(2). ### 398. Application of money.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> may, after paying its expenses including authorised payments to its members and to the members of its committees and the salaries or remuneration of its officers<sup>2</sup>, allocate any money received by it, whether by way of fees or otherwise, to purposes connected with dental education and research or any other public purposes connected with the profession of dentistry in such manner as it thinks fit<sup>3</sup>. The Council must keep accounts of all sums received or paid by it under the Dentists Act 1984, and the accounts must be audited in the manner prescribed by regulations made by the Privy Council<sup>4</sup>, and must be published annually and laid before Parliament<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the constitution and duties of the General Dental Council see PARA 389 ante.

2 As to such payments see PARAS 393, 396 ante. As to the Council's committees see PARA 395 ante.

TEXT AND NOTES--The Council may also allocate any of its income to purposes connected with education or research in relation to professions complementary to dentistry or any other public purpose connected with those professions: see the 1984 Act Sch 1 para 7 (substituted by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(2) THE GENERAL DENTAL COUNCIL/ (ii) Business and Functions/399. Procedure and delegation of functions.

399. Procedure and delegation of functions.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> may make rules<sup>2</sup>: (1) for regulating its proceedings, including quorum<sup>3</sup>; (2) for delegating its functions to committees<sup>4</sup>; and (3) for appointing the members and regulating the proceedings, including quorum, of any committees<sup>5</sup> and any sub-committees<sup>6</sup>. This power includes power to make rules as to the procedure to be followed and rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup>; but such rules do not come into force until approved by order of the Privy Council contained in a statutory instrument, and before making any such rules the General Dental Council must consult such bodies of persons representing dentists as appear to it requisite to be consulted<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to the constitution and duties of the General Dental Council see PARA 389 ante.

2 Such rules are not made by statutory instrument and are not recorded in this work. Nothing in the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8 authorises the Council to delegate any power of making rules or regulations under any other provision of the Dentists Act 1984: s 1(3) (amended by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2001, SI 2001/3926, arts 2, 3(b)); Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8(4).

3 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1)(a).

4 Ie including the committees referred to in ibid s 2 (see PARA 395 ante): Sch 1 para 8(1)(b) (Sch 1 para 8(1)(b), (c) amended by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2001, SI 2001/3926, arts 2, 7(1), (4)(a)). This provision is expressed to be subject to the provisions of the Dentists Act 1984.

5 Ie including the committees referred to in ibid s 2: see PARA 395 ante. Rules which include provision for appointing the members of the committees mentioned in s 2 do not come into force until approved by order of the Privy Council: Sch 1 para 8(2) (Sch 1 para 8(2) substituted, and Sch 1 para 8(2A) added, by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2001, SI 2001/3926, arts 2, 7(1), (4)(b), (c)). Some or all of the members of committees of the Council may be persons who are not members of the Council: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8(2A) (as so added). As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers under the Dentists Act 1984 see PARA 388 ante. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

6 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1)(c) (as amended: see note 4 supra). This provision is expressed to be subject to the provisions of the Dentists Act 1984.

7 Ie other than proceedings under ibid s 27: see PARA 456 post. As to the professional conduct committee see PARA 460 et seq post.

8 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(3). It is submitted that, although expressed to be made only under Sch 3 para 2(4), the General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 1984, SI 1984/1517 (see PARA 465 et seq post) was made partly under the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8(3).

UPDATE

399 Procedure and delegation of functions

TEXT AND NOTES--1984 Act Sch 1 para 8(1) amended, Sch 1 para 8(1A) added; Sch 1 para 8(2), (3) repealed by SI 2005/2011. As to the making of rules under the 1984 Act see PARA 390. The Privy Council is not required to approve of rules by statutory instrument made under Sch 1 para 8(1)(a), (b): s 50C(2) (s 50C added by SI 2005/2011). See the General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Rules 2009, approved by the General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Rules Order of Council 2009, SI 2009/1813.

Subject to any provision made by the Dentists Act 1984 or by rules under the 1984 Act, the General Dental Council may regulate its procedures and the procedures of its committees and sub-committees, other than the committees referred to in the Dentists Act 1984 s 2, by standing orders: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8A(1) (Sch 1 para 8A added by SI 2009/1182). Standing orders of the Council may make provision with regard to the provisional suspension of a member of the Council from office, pending the taking of a decision about the suspension or removal from office of the member in accordance with the provisions of an order under the Dentists Act 1984 s 1(2A): Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8A(2). Subject to any provision made by the Dentists Act 1984, by rules under the 1984 Act, or by standing orders made by virtue of the above provision, each committee and sub-committee of the Council may regulate its own procedures: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8A(3).

TEXT AND NOTE 3--1984 Act Sch 1 para 8(1)(a) repealed: SI 2009/1182.

TEXT AND NOTE 6--Rules made under the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8(1)(c) may make provision for a body (including a committee of the General Dental Council which is not one of the committees referred to in the Dentists Act 1984 s 2) to assist the Council in connection with the exercise of any function relating to the appointment of members or particular members of the Council's committees: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8(1B) (Sch 1 para 8(1B), (1C) added by SI 2009/1182). Rules made under Sch 1 para 8(1)(c) by virtue of this provision may authorise a body to appoint committee members on behalf of the Council or to perform any function relating to tenure of office or suspension or removal from office: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 1 para 8(1C)(a), (b).

401. Visitors at dental schools.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint persons to visit, subject to any directions which the Privy Council<sup>2</sup> deems it expedient to give, and to compliance with any conditions specified in those directions, places where instruction is given to dental students under the direction of a dental authority<sup>3</sup> or to post-graduate students in dentistry under the direction of a dental authority or any other body<sup>4</sup>. Such visitors must report to the General Dental Council as to the sufficiency of the instruction given in the places they visit, and as to any other matters relating to the instruction which may be specified by the Council either generally or in any particular case; but no visitor may interfere with the giving of any instruction<sup>5</sup>. On the receipt of a visitor's report, the Council must send a copy to the dental authority or other body under whose direction the instruction in question was given<sup>6</sup>. On receiving the copy, the authority or body may, within such period as the Council may have specified at the time it sent the copy of the report<sup>7</sup>, make to the Council observations on the report or objections to it<sup>8</sup>. As soon as possible after the expiration of the specified period, the Council must send to the Privy Council a copy of the report and of any observations or objections duly made, together with its comments on the report and any such observations or objections<sup>9</sup>.

(i) In general

403. The meaning of the practice of dentistry.

The practice of dentistry is deemed to include the performance of any such operation<sup>1</sup> and the giving of any such treatment, advice or attendance<sup>2</sup> as is usually performed or given by dentists, and any person who performs any operation or gives any treatment, advice or attendance on or to any person as preparatory to, or for the purpose of, or in connection with, the fitting, insertion or fixing of dentures, artificial teeth or other dental appliances is deemed to have practised dentistry<sup>3</sup>.

Dental work is not treated as amounting to the practice of dentistry if it is undertaken under the direct personal supervision of a registered dentist<sup>4</sup>:

- 653 (1) by a person recognised by a dental authority<sup>5</sup> as a student of dentistry, or by a person recognised by a medical authority<sup>6</sup> as a medical student, as part of a course of instruction approved by that authority for students of that kind, or as part of an examination so approved<sup>7</sup>; or
- 654 (2) by any person as part of a course of instruction which he is following in order to qualify for membership of a class of dental auxiliaries or as part of examinations which must be passed in order to qualify for membership of a class of dental auxiliaries<sup>8</sup>, but, subject to that, a person who undertakes dental work in the course of his studies, whether or not under the supervision of a registered dentist, is treated as practising dentistry if he would have been treated as practising dentistry if he had undertaken that work in the course of earning his livelihood<sup>9</sup>.

(ii) The Right to Practise; Prohibition of Unqualified Practitioners

A. INDIVIDUALS

404. Prohibition of practice by unqualified persons.

A person who is not a registered dentist<sup>1</sup>, a visiting EEA practitioner entered in the list of such practitioners<sup>2</sup>, or a registered medical practitioner<sup>3</sup> must not practise or hold himself out, whether directly or by implication, as practising or as being prepared to practise dentistry<sup>4</sup>. Any person who acts in contravention of this provision is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>5</sup>.

5 Dentists Act 1984 s 38(2). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see s 38(2). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante.

Summary proceedings for such an offence may be brought within the period of six months beginning with the date on which evidence sufficient in the opinion of the prosecutor to warrant the proceedings came to his knowledge; but no such proceedings may be brought more than two years after the commission of the offence: s 38(3). For these purposes, a certificate signed by or on behalf of the prosecutor and stating the date on which the evidence came to his knowledge is conclusive evidence of that date, and any certificate purporting to be so signed must be taken to have been so signed unless the contrary is proved: s 38(4). As to the evidential effect of certificates admissible by statute see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 897.

405. The business of dentistry and restrictions on carrying on such business.

An individual who is not a registered dentist<sup>1</sup> or a registered medical practitioner<sup>2</sup> may not carry on the business of dentistry<sup>3</sup> unless he was so engaged on 21 July 1955<sup>4</sup>. This exemption does not extend to any person who has at any time ceased to be a registered dentist in consequence of his name being erased from the register, or his registration in it being suspended by the professional conduct committee, for crime or misconduct<sup>5</sup>. An individual who contravenes this provision is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>6</sup>.

For the purposes of the Dentists Act 1984, a person is treated as carrying on the business of dentistry if, and only if, he or a partnership of which he is a member receives payment for services rendered in the course of the practice of dentistry<sup>7</sup> by him or by a partner of his, or by an employee of his or of all or any of his partners<sup>8</sup>. However, the receipt of payments by: (1) an authority providing national health services<sup>9</sup>; (2) a person providing primary dental services<sup>10</sup>; (3) a person, other than one falling within head (2) above, providing personal dental services<sup>11</sup>; (4) a person providing dental treatment for his employees without a view to profit<sup>12</sup>; or (5) a person providing dental treatment without a view to profit under conditions approved by the Secretary of State<sup>13</sup>, do not constitute the carrying on of the business of dentistry<sup>14</sup>.

405 The business of dentistry and restrictions on carrying on such business

TEXT AND NOTE 2--For 'a registered medical practitioner' read 'who does not fall within a class of registered dental care professionals prescribed in rules': Dentists Act 1984 s 41(1) (substituted by SI 2005/2011). Clinical dental technicians, dental hygienists, dental nurses, dental technicians, dental therapists and orthodontic therapists have been so prescribed: General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) (Business of Dentistry) Rules 2006, approved by the General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) (Business of Dentistry) Rules Order of Council 2006, SI 2006/1670. Rules made under the 1984 Act s 41(1) may not be amended or revoked in such a way that any class of registered dental care professionals prescribed in those rules ceases thereafter to be prescribed: s 41(7) (added by SI 2005/2011). As to the making of rules under the 1984 Act see PARA 390. For the meaning of 'registered dental care professional' see PARA 498A.2 NOTE 1.

NOTE 4--References to his widow are now to his surviving spouse or his surviving civil partner: 1984 Act s 41(4) (amended by the Civil Partnership Act 2004 Sch 27 para 89). In heads (1) and (3) for 'registered medical practitioner' read 'authorised dental care professional'; in head (2) words 'or a registered medical practitioner' omitted: 1984 Act s 41(4)-(6) (amended by SI 2005/2011). 'Authorised dental care professional' means an individual who falls within a class of registered dental care professionals prescribed in rules under the 1984 Act s 41: see 41(1A) (added by SI 2005/2011). As to head (4), see now the 1984 Act s 41(3) (substituted by SI 2005/2011).

TEXT AND NOTE 5--See now the 1984 Act s 41(2), (2A) (s 41(2) substituted, s 41(2A) added by SI 2005/2011; and amended by SI 2009/1182) (in force on the coming into force of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 s 44(1) (see CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS vol 5(3) (2008 Reissue) PARA 704)).

TEXT AND NOTE 6--As regards the penalty, 1984 Act s 41(1) now s 41(1A) (added by SI 2005/2011).

NOTE 9--1984 Act s 53(3) further amended: National Health Service (Consequential Provisions) Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 81, 82; SI 2009/1182. References are now to the provision, supervision or management of national health services: s 53(3).

Restriction on the practice of dentistry by corporations.

B. BODIES CORPORATE

406. Restriction on the practice of dentistry by corporations.

A body corporate may only carry on the business of dentistry<sup>1</sup> if: (1) it was carrying it on on 21 July 1955<sup>2</sup>; and (2) it carries on no business other than dentistry or some business ancillary to the business of dentistry<sup>3</sup>; and (3) a majority of its directors are registered dentists<sup>4</sup>; and (4) all its operating staff are either registered dentists or dental auxiliaries<sup>5</sup>. If a body corporate which is exempted by satisfying these conditions ceases to carry on the business of dentistry, the exemption does not extend to that body on any subsequent occasion when it carries on the business of dentistry<sup>6</sup>.

It is unlawful for a body corporate which is not exempted by virtue of satisfying these conditions to carry on the business of dentistry<sup>7</sup>, and a body contravening this provision is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>8</sup>.

Where a body corporate is convicted of this offence, every director and manager of it is guilty of the like offence unless he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the business of dentistry' see PARA 405 ante.

2 Dentists Act 1984 s 43(1)(a). This provision does not apply to a society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Act 1965 (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 50 (2008) PARAS 2394, 2410 et seq) (Dentists Act 1984 s 43(2)(a)), or to a body corporate coming into existence on the reconstruction of a body corporate carrying on business on 21 July 1955, or on the amalgamation of two or more such bodies (s 43(2)(b)). As to bodies corporate see COMPANIES; CORPORATIONS.

3 Ibid s 43(1)(b). This provision does not apply to a body corporate which was carrying on the business of dentistry before 28 July 1921 so as to prevent it from carrying on any business which it was at that date lawfully entitled to carry on: s 43(3). As to the meaning of 'business' for these purposes see COMPETITION vol 18 (2009) PARAS 370-372.

4 Ibid s 43(1)(c). For the meaning of 'registered dentist' see PARA 417 note 6 post.

5 Ibid s 43(1)(d). Nothing in s 43 prevents a body corporate from carrying on the business of dentistry on the death or bankruptcy of a registered dentist or a registered medical practitioner in the circumstances mentioned in s 41(4)-(6) (see PARA 405 note 4 ante): s 43(6). As to the withdrawal of exemption from bodies corporate see PARA 408 post. As to the requirement to file annual statements in relation to the business see PARA 407 post. As to dental auxiliaries see PARA 486 et seq post.

7 Ibid s 42(1).

8 Ibid s 42(2). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: see s 42(2). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante. As to contravention by reason of failing to file annual statements relating to the business see PARA 407 post.

406 Restriction on the practice of dentistry by corporations

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Dentists Act 1984 s 42 repealed: SI 2005/2011. 1984 Act ss 43, 44 replaced by ss 43, 43A, 43B, 44, 44A, 44B (substituted by SI 2005/2011) (in force on a date to be notified in the London Gazette). A body corporate commits an offence if it carries on the business of dentistry at a time when a majority of its directors are not persons who are either registered dentists or registered dental care professionals: 1984 Act s 43(1). For the meaning of 'registered dental care professional' see PARA 498A.2 NOTE 1. Where a person is the subject of a decision erasing his name from, or suspending him from, a register kept by any of the regulatory bodies listed in the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 25(3), that person commits an offence if he is a director of a body corporate carrying on the business of dentistry at any time when such an erasure or suspension remains in effect: 1984 Act s 43(2). Any body corporate committing an offence under s 43(1), or any person committing an offence under s 43(2), is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 43(3).

The General Dental Council must maintain a list of bodies corporate which carry out the business of dentistry: see s 43A. A body corporate is liable to a financial penalty if it fails to comply with a specified requirement, and may appeal against such a penalty: see 1984 Act ss 43B, 44, 44A, 44B.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(3) THE PRACTICE OF DENTISTRY/(ii) The Right to Practise; Prohibition of Unqualified Practitioners/B. BODIES CORPORATE/407. Duty to make returns to the registrar.

407. Duty to make returns to the registrar.

Every body corporate carrying on the business of dentistry<sup>1</sup> must in every year transmit to the registrar<sup>2</sup> a statement in the prescribed form<sup>3</sup> containing the names and addresses of all persons who are its directors or managers or who perform dental operations in connection with its business<sup>4</sup>. If any such body fails to comply with this requirement, it is deemed to be carrying on the business of dentistry in contravention of the statutory provisions<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the business of dentistry' see PARA 405 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 note 1 ante.

3 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made by the General Dental Council: Dentists Act 1984 s 43(7). Regulations made under this power are not statutory instruments and are not recorded in this work. As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq ante.

4 Ibid s 43(4). As to dental operations see PARA 403 note 1 ante. The returns need not be made by a body corporate carrying on the business of dentistry by reason of the death or bankruptcy of a registered dentist or registered medical practitioner in the circumstances mentioned in s 41(4)-(6) (see PARA 405 note 4 ante): see s 43(6). As to bodies corporate see COMPANIES; CORPORATIONS.

Withdrawal of the privilege of carrying on the business of dentistry.

408. Withdrawal of the privilege of carrying on the business of dentistry.

Where a body corporate has been convicted of the offence of unlawfully carrying on the business of dentistry<sup>1</sup>, or the name of a director of a body corporate is erased from the register<sup>2</sup> for crime or serious professional misconduct<sup>3</sup>, or a director is convicted for unlawfully practising dentistry<sup>4</sup> or for carrying on the business of dentistry<sup>5</sup>, the professional conduct committee<sup>6</sup> may direct that the exemption from the restriction on carrying on the business of dentistry<sup>7</sup> is to cease to extend to that body as from a date specified by the committee<sup>8</sup>. The committee may also direct the exemption to cease to extend to a body where the name of a member of the operating staff of a body corporate is erased from the register for crime or serious professional misconduct<sup>9</sup>, and in the opinion of the committee the act or omission constituting the offence or serious professional misconduct on account of which his name was erased was instigated or connived at by a director of the body corporate, or, if the act or omission was a continuing one, a director had, or reasonably ought to have had, knowledge of its continuance<sup>10</sup>. References to the erasure of the name, or to the conviction of a director of a body corporate, include references to the erasure of the name, or to the conviction, of any person who was a director of a body corporate at the time of the offence or misconduct leading to the erasure or conviction<sup>11</sup>.

Where the professional conduct committee determines that the exemption is to cease to extend to a body corporate, the committee must notify the body corporate of its determination; and that body may, within 28 days from service of the notification, appeal to the relevant court<sup>12</sup>.

12 Ibid s 44(4) (amended by the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 31(1), (3)(a)(i), (ii)). The grounds of appeal are: (1) in the case of a determination under the Dentists Act 1984 s 44(1) (see the text to notes 1-8 supra), that, notwithstanding the conviction or (as the case may be) the erasure of the name, the committee's decision was unjustified (s 44(4)(a)); and (2) in the case of a determination under s 44(2) (see the text to notes 9-10 supra), that the opinion of the committee as to the matters referred to in s 44(2)(b) (see the text to note 10 supra) was incorrect or that, although that opinion was correct, the committee's decision was unjustified (s 44(4)(b)). 'The relevant court', where the registered office of the body corporate is in Northern Ireland, means the High Court of Justice in Northern Ireland; where the registered office of the body corporate is in Scotland, means the Court of Session; and where the registered office of the body corporate is in any other place, means the High Court of Justice in England and Wales: s 44(4A) (added by the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 31(1), (3)(b)). The provisions of the Dentists Act 1984 ss 29, 30(1), (2) (see PARAS 478-479 post) apply, with the necessary modifications, for the purposes of such an appeal as they apply in relation to an appeal under s 29 against a determination of the professional conduct committee: s 44(5). #### 410 Use of titles and descriptions by registered dentists

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(3) THE PRACTICE OF DENTISTRY/(iii) Use of Titles and Descriptions/411. Special branches of dentistry.

411. Special branches of dentistry.

If the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> is of the opinion that any branch of dentistry has become so distinctive that it would be for the convenience of the public or of the dental profession that registered dentists<sup>2</sup> qualified to practise, or practising, in that branch of dentistry should use a distinctive title, it may by regulations<sup>3</sup> prescribe appropriate titles and the conditions under which they may be used; and the use of the prescribed title under the prescribed conditions does not constitute a contravention of the provisions<sup>4</sup> as to the wrongful use of titles<sup>5</sup>. In the case of any prescribed title, such regulations may provide for a list to be kept by the Council of the names of registered dentists who are qualified under such regulations to use that title, and for any registered dentist who is so qualified to be entitled to have his name entered in the list, in which case that title may not be used by any such dentist unless his name has been entered in the list<sup>6</sup>.

A correct copy of any list must be attached to any copy of the dentists register printed, published and sold<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered dentist' see PARA 417 note 6 post.

3 Such regulations are not statutory instruments and are not recorded in this work. As to proof of documents issued by the Council see PARA 400 ante.

411 Special branches of dentistry

NOTE 6--The Council may make regulations prescribing a fee to be charged on the entry, restoration or retention of a name in a list for the time being kept by it under the 1984 Act s 26(4), and authorising the registrar to refuse to make in or restore to, or to erase a name from, such a list any entry until the prescribed fee has been paid: s 26(4A), (4B) (added by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011).

TEXT AND NOTE 7--The Council must from time to time publish any list for the time being kept by it under the 1984 Act s 26(4): s 26(7) (substituted by SI 2005/2011).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(3) THE PRACTICE OF DENTISTRY/(iii) Use of Titles and Descriptions/412. Specialist titles in orthodontics or oral surgery.

412. Specialist titles in orthodontics or oral surgery.

Where the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> is of the opinion that orthodontics or, as the case may be, oral surgery has become so distinctive that it would be for the convenience of the public or of the dental profession that registered dentists<sup>2</sup> qualified to practise, or practising, in that branch of dentistry should use a distinctive title, and it decides to make regulations<sup>3</sup> so as to prescribe a title for that specialty<sup>4</sup>, or to prescribe such a title and also to provide for matters<sup>5</sup> relating to the keeping of a list of those qualified to use such a title<sup>6</sup>, the Council must secure that the regulations provide that a registered dentist is entitled to use the title prescribed for a specialty and, if appropriate, to have his name entered in the list for that specialty only if he meets certain criteria<sup>7</sup> and pays any fee determined by the Council on application for entry in the appropriate list<sup>8</sup>.

Where the Council exercises its powers<sup>9</sup> so as to provide for a specialist list in orthodontics or oral surgery, it must tell anyone who asks it, and pays any fee determined by it, whether or not a particular person's name is entered in the list in question, and must do so in writing if required, stating the date on which that person's name was entered in the list and his registration number<sup>10</sup>.

A person may not take up appointment as a consultant in the national health service<sup>11</sup> in oral surgery or orthodontics unless his name is included in any list for the specialty in question kept pursuant to regulations made by the Council<sup>12</sup>.

412 Specialist titles in orthodontics or oral surgery

TEXT AND NOTES 7, 8--SI 1998/811 reg 8(2) substituted, reg 8(2A), (2B) added: SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(3) THE PRACTICE OF DENTISTRY/(iii) Use of Titles and Descriptions/413. Eligible specialists.

413. Eligible specialists.

A person is an eligible specialist for the purposes of the entry of his name in a specialist list<sup>1</sup> if he holds a recognised specialist dental qualification<sup>2</sup> and is a national<sup>3</sup> of an EEA state<sup>4</sup>, or is not a national of an EEA state, but is entitled<sup>5</sup> to be treated, for the purposes of access to the profession of dentistry, no less favourably than a national of such a state<sup>6</sup>. A person is also an eligible specialist if he does not fall within the previous category, but: (1) he has specialist dental qualifications awarded outside the United Kingdom<sup>7</sup> in orthodontics or, as the case may be, oral surgery, and satisfies the General Dental Council<sup>8</sup> that those qualifications are equivalent to a certificate of completion of specialist training<sup>9</sup> in the specialty in question<sup>10</sup>; or (2) he has knowledge of, and experience in, orthodontics or, as the case may be, oral surgery derived from academic or research work, and satisfies the General Dental Council that that knowledge and experience is equivalent to the knowledge and experience which he might reasonably be expected to have acquired if he had undertaken the training required for the award of a certificate of completion of specialist training<sup>11</sup>. A person is also an eligible specialist in oral surgery if he is an oral and maxillo-facial surgeon and his name is entered in the specialist register kept by the General Medical Council<sup>12</sup> in respect of that specialty and: (a) if his specialist qualification in oral and maxillo-facial surgery was awarded in an EEA state other than the United Kingdom, he satisfies the General Dental Council that his training in oral and maxillo-facial surgery included elements which taken together satisfy the requirements<sup>13</sup> for training in oral surgery<sup>14</sup>; and (b) in any other case, he satisfies the General Dental Council that his training in oral and maxillo-facial surgery included elements which taken together are equivalent to the training required for the award of a certificate of completion of specialist training in oral surgery<sup>15</sup>.

In the case of an exempt person<sup>16</sup>, the General Dental Council must, within the specified period<sup>17</sup>, give the applicant notice of its decision as to whether it is satisfied that he is an eligible specialist<sup>18</sup>, and where it is not so satisfied, of the reasons for its decision and of the applicant's right to appeal<sup>19</sup>. Failure to notify an applicant who is an exempt person of a decision within the specified period is treated as a decision from which an applicant may appeal<sup>20</sup>.

1     le for the purposes of the European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 8(2): see PARA 412 ante.

2     The following are recognised specialist dental qualifications:

126     (1)     a qualification in orthodontics or, as the case may be, oral surgery granted in an EEA state (see note 4 infra) other than the United Kingdom (see note 7 infra) and as listed in the European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, Sch 1 (see reg 10(1)(a) (reg 10(1)(a), (c) amended by SI 2003/3148));

127     (2)     a qualification in orthodontics or, as the case may be, oral surgery granted in an EEA state other than the United Kingdom which does not satisfy all the minimum training requirements laid down by the Dental Training Directive arts 2, 3 and was awarded following training begun before the relevant date, accompanied by a certificate from the competent authority in the EEA state in which the qualification was awarded or in which its holder has subsequently become established, stating that the holder has been engaged in the practice of his specialty for at least the period required by the Recognition Directive art 7(2) (see the European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 10(1)(b));

- 128 (3) a qualification in orthodontics or, as the case may be, oral surgery which has been obtained at any time in an EEA state other than the United Kingdom, which does not conform with the designations set out in the European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, Sch 1, and evidence of which is accompanied by a certificate of the competent authorities of that state to the effect that the qualification was awarded following training in accordance with the provisions of the Dental Training Directive arts 2, 3 and is treated by that state as if it were a qualification set out under the heading relating to that state in the European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, Sch 1 (see reg 10(1)(c) (as so amended)).
- 129 (4) certain qualifications granted in the former German Democratic Republic, the former Soviet Union, the former Yugoslavia (see reg 10(1)(d), (e) (added by SI 2004/1947)).

'The Dental Training Directive' means EC Council Directive 78/687 (OJ L233, 24.8.1978, p 1) concerning the co-ordination of provisions in respect of the activities of dental practitioners, as amended by the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act, EC Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 13.7.2001, p 1) and the Act of Accession 2003; and 'the Recognition Directive' means EC Council Directive 78/686 (OJ L233, 19.10.1978, p 1) concerning the mutual recognition of diplomas, certificates and other evidence of the formal qualifications of practitioners of dentistry, as adapted, amended or extended by the Accession of Greece Act, EC Council Directive 81/1057 (OJ L385, 31.12.81, p 25), the Accession of Spain and Portugal Act, EC Council Directive 89/594 (OJ L341, 23.11.89, p 19), EC Council Directive 90/658 (OJ L353, 17.12.90, p 73), the EEA Agreement (see note 4 infra), the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act, EC Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 13.7.2001, p 1), the Swiss Agreement and the Act of Accession 2003: European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 2(1) (amended by SI 2003/3148; SI 2004/1947). 'The Accession of Greece Act' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the accession of the Hellenic Republic to the European Community signed at Athens on 28 May 1979; 'the Accession of Spain and Portugal Act' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the accession of the Kingdom of Spain and the Portuguese Republic to the European Community signed at Madrid and Lisbon on 12 June 1985; 'the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the accession of the Kingdom of Norway, the Republic of Austria, the Republic of Finland and the Kingdom of Sweden to the European Union, signed at Corfu on 24 June 1994, as adjusted by the Decision of the Council of the European Union of 1 January 1995 adjusting the instruments concerning the accession of new member states to the European Union; 'the Swiss Agreement' means the Agreement between the European Community and its member states, of the one part, and the Swiss Confederation, of the other, on the free movement of persons, signed at Luxembourg on 21 June 1999; 'the Act of Accession 2003' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the conditions of accession of the Czech Republic, the Republic of Estonia, the Republic of Cyprus, the Republic of Latvia, the Republic of Lithuania, the Republic of Hungary, the Republic of Malta, the Republic of Poland, the Republic of Slovenia and the Slovak Republic and the Adjustments to the Treaties on which the European Union is founded signed at Athens on 16 April 2003: European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 2(3) (amended by SI 2003/3148; SI 2004/1947). 'The relevant date' means 28 January 1980 in the case of a qualification granted in Denmark, France, Germany, Ireland or the Netherlands; 1 January 1981 in the case of a qualification granted in Greece; 1 January 1994 in the case of a qualification granted in Finland, Norway or Sweden; 1 June 2002 in the case of Switzerland; 1 May 2004 in the case of a qualification granted in the Czech Republic, Estonia, Cyprus, Latvia, Lithuania, Hungary, Malta, Poland, Slovenia or Slovakia; or, in the case of any other EEA state, the date notified by that state to the European Commission as that on which it implemented the Dental Training Directive: European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 10(3) (amended by SI 2003/3148; SI 2004/1947).

3 'National', in relation to an EEA state (see note 4 infra), means the same as it does for the purposes of the Community Treaties, but does not include a person who by virtue of the Treaty of Accession Protocol No 3 (Channel Islands and Isle of Man) art 2 is not to benefit from Community provisions relating to the free movement of persons and services: European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2004/1947). For the meaning of 'the Community Treaties' see the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2) (as applied by the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1).

4 European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 9(1)(a). For these purposes, 'EEA state' means a state which is a contracting party to the EEA Agreement or Switzerland: reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 2003/3148). 'EEA Agreement' means the Agreement on the European Economic Area signed at Oporto on 2 May 1992 as adjusted by the Protocol signed at Brussels on 17 March 1993 and as amended by decision of the EEA joint committee No 84/2002 of 25 June 2002 and by the Agreement on the participation of the Czech Republic, the Republic of Estonia, the Republic of Cyprus, the Republic of Latvia, the Republic of Lithuania, the Republic of Hungary, the Republic of Malta, the Republic of Poland, the Republic of Slovenia and the Slovak Republic signed at Luxembourg on 14 October 2003: European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 2003/3148; SI 2004/1947).

5 le by virtue of a right conferred by EC Council Regulation 1612/68 (OJ L257, 19.10.1968, p 2) art 11 or any other enforceable Community right. As to the meaning of 'enforceable Community right' see the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(1); and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(3) THE PRACTICE OF DENTISTRY/(iv) Liabilities/416. Negligence and duties owed to patients.

(iv) Liabilities

416. Negligence and duties owed to patients.

The principles governing the liability of dental practitioners towards their patients are precisely the same as those which govern the liability of medical practitioners towards their patients<sup>1</sup>. It has been held that where a dentist treated patients whilst suspended, the failure to inform them of that fact did not vitiate their consent to the treatment and accordingly no offence of assault had been committed<sup>2</sup>.

1 For the principles governing the liability of medical practitioners see PARA 196 et seq ante. For cases in which allegations of negligence were made against dentists see: Warren v Greig and White (1935) 1 The Lancet 330 (failure to carry out blood test as a safeguard against possibility of patient suffering from leukaemia in advance of surgery not negligent because of rarity of condition); Fish v Kapur [1948] 2 All ER 176 (fracture of jaw during extraction of tooth; not res ipsa loquitur); Fletcher v Bench (1973) 4 British Medical Journal 117, CA (fracture of bone-burr during extraction causing infection and ultimately fracture of jaw not negligent). ### (i) The Register

417. Contents of the register; publication.

The dentists register<sup>1</sup> is kept by the registrar<sup>2</sup>. The register is deemed to be in proper custody when in the custody of the registrar<sup>3</sup>. The General Dental Council<sup>4</sup> must cause a correct copy of the register to be printed at least once a year under its direction, published and sold<sup>5</sup>.

The following persons are entitled to be registered<sup>6</sup>: (1) any person who is a graduate or licentiate in dentistry of a dental authority<sup>7</sup>; (2) any person who is a national of an EEA state<sup>8</sup> and holds an appropriate European diploma<sup>9</sup>; and (3) any person who holds a recognised overseas diploma<sup>10</sup>.

1 'The register' means the dentists register: Dentists Act 1984 s 53(1).

2 Ibid s 14(1), (2). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 note 1 ante. As to regulations with respect to the register see PARA 438 post.

3 Ibid s 14(5). See further PARA 418 post.

4 As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq ante.

5 Dentists Act 1984 s 22(1). Regulations under s 19 (see PARA 438 post) may provide for the inclusion in such copy of honours or distinctions accorded to a person in the register; the copy is not, however, admissible as evidence of those honours or distinctions, and the regulations must require an indication in the copy that the honours or distinctions do not form part of the register itself: s 22(2). These regulations are not required to be made by statutory instrument and are not recorded in this work. As to evidence and proof see PARA 400 ante.

6 'Registered dentist' means, subject to ibid s 17(4) (see PARA 432 post), a person for the time being registered in the register: s 53(1).

7 Ibid s 15(1)(a). For the meaning of 'dental authority' see PARA 421 note 3 post. As to qualifications see PARA 420 et seq post.

8 For the meanings of 'national' and 'EEA state' for these purposes see PARA 427 notes 1, 2 post.

9 Dentists Act 1984 s 15(1)(b) (amended by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 2(1)). As to appropriate European diplomas see PARA 428 post. For the meaning of 'diploma' see PARA 424 note 3 post.

10 Ibid s 15(1)(c). 'Recognised overseas diploma' means a diploma granted in a country overseas and recognised for the time being by the General Dental Council; it does not include an appropriate European diploma: ss 15(2), 53(1). The Council may direct that a person who has passed the examinations required to obtain a recognised overseas diploma is to be treated as holding a recognised overseas diploma: s 15(6).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(4) REGISTRATION AND QUALIFICATIONS/(i) The Register/419. The competent authorities.

419. The competent authorities.

For the purposes of the European Union requirements relating to the mutual recognition of diplomas, certificates and other evidence of the formal qualifications of practitioners of dentistry<sup>1</sup>, the dental authorities<sup>2</sup> are designated as the competent authorities for the United Kingdom<sup>3</sup> for the award of the diplomas of Bachelor of Dental Surgery (BDS or B Ch D) and Licentiate in Dental Surgery (LDS)<sup>4</sup>.

Subject to this, in relation to primary qualifications<sup>5</sup> awarded in the United Kingdom, appropriate European diplomas<sup>6</sup>, and registration under the Dentists Act 1984 by virtue of such qualifications or diplomas<sup>7</sup>, the General Dental Council<sup>8</sup> is the competent authority in the United Kingdom<sup>9</sup>.

The Council may charge such reasonable fees as it determines to cover the cost of providing certificates in the course of the performance of these functions, but the fees must not include any element of profit<sup>10</sup>.

<sup>9</sup> European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 16(1). Accordingly, in relation to such qualifications or diplomas and in relation to persons registered or seeking registration by virtue of them, the Council performs as respects the United Kingdom the functions under the Recognition Directive art 7(1) (issuing in respect of practice in the United Kingdom of certificates of effective and lawful practice), arts 9(3), 10(2) (the provision, where the United Kingdom is the host state and where the Council thinks fit, of certain information), art 10(1) (receiving or, as the case may be, forwarding certain information), arts 9(4), 10(3) (ensuring the confidentiality of information forwarded under arts 9, 10), art 15(3), (5) (supplying and withdrawing certain certificates), art 21 (requiring, in the event of justified doubts, confirmation of authenticity of diplomas, certificates and other evidence of formal qualifications granted by another EEA state and confirmation that a national of an EEA state seeking registration by virtue of an appropriate European diploma has fulfilled the training requirements): see European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 16(2)(a)-(g) (amended by SI 2003/3148). For the meaning of 'national' for these purposes see PARA 413 note 3 ante; and for the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 413 note 4 ante.

In addition, in relation to primary qualifications awarded in the United Kingdom and registration under the Dentists Act 1984, the Council has, as respects the United Kingdom, the functions of a competent authority referred to in the Recognition Directive art 7(3) (issue of certificates of fulfilment of the training requirements in respect of qualifications which do not conform with the designations set out in the directive), art 9(1) (issue of certificates of good character), art 21 (confirming authenticity of qualifications and confirming that a person has fulfilled the training requirements): see European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 16(3)(a)-(c). The Council is also designated, as respects the United Kingdom, for the purposes set out in the European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 16, in accordance with the Recognition Directive art 22 (which requires member states to designate the authorities competent to issue or receive the diplomas, documents and other information): European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 16(4).

10 Ibid reg 17. The certificates mentioned in the text are those referred to in the Recognition Directive arts 7(1), (3), 9(1), 15(5): see note 9 supra.

421. Power to hold examinations and grant licences.

Any medical authority<sup>1</sup> which has power for the time being to grant surgical degrees may, notwithstanding anything in any enactment, charter or other document, hold examinations in dentistry and grant licences certifying the fitness of the holders to practise dentistry, and the holders' names must be entered on a list of licentiates in dentistry to be kept by the medical authority<sup>2</sup>.

A dental authority<sup>3</sup> must admit to the examinations held by it to qualify for a degree or licence in dentistry any person desirous of being examined who has complied with its regulations, if any, as to education<sup>4</sup>. However, a dental authority may not grant a degree or licence in dentistry to a person who has not attained the age of 21 years<sup>5</sup>.

The Royal College of Surgeons of England<sup>6</sup> may hold examinations and appoint a board of examiners in dentistry, and may grant licences certifying the fitness of the holders to practise dentistry<sup>7</sup>. The name of the holder of any licence so granted must be entered on a list of licentiates in dentistry kept by the College<sup>8</sup>.

1 'Medical authority' means any of the universities or other bodies who choose appointed members of the General Medical Council: Dentists Act 1984 s 3(3) (amended by the Irish Republic (Termination of 1927 Agreement) Order 1987, SI 1987/2047, art 2(a), Schedule). As to such universities and bodies see PARA 15 ante. As to the General Medical Council generally see PARA 13 et seq ante.

2 Dentists Act 1984 s 3(1). This is without prejudice to any power to grant a degree or licence in dentistry which a medical authority may possess apart from the provisions of the Act: s 3(2). No dental authority may grant a degree or licence or other diploma in dentistry unless it meets at least the following minimum dental training requirements: (1) adequate knowledge of the sciences on which dentistry is based and a good understanding of scientific methods, including the principles of measuring biological functions, the evaluation of scientifically established facts and the analysis of data; (2) adequate knowledge of the constitution, physiology and behaviour of healthy and sick persons as well as the influence of the natural and social environment on the state of health of the human being, in so far as these factors affect dentistry; (3) adequate knowledge of the structure and function of the teeth, mouth, jaws and associated tissues, both healthy and diseased, and their relationship to the general state of health and to the physical and social well-being of the patient; (4) adequate knowledge of clinical disciplines and methods, providing the dentist with a coherent picture of anomalies, lesions and diseases of the teeth, mouth, jaws and associated tissues and of preventive, diagnostic and therapeutic dentistry; (5) suitable clinical experience under appropriate supervision: European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 18, Sch 2. This training must provide him with the skills necessary for carrying out all activities involving the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of anomalies and diseases of the teeth, mouth, jaws and associated tissues: Sch 2. A complete period of dental training of this kind must comprise at least a five year full-time course of theoretical and practical instruction given in a university, in a higher education institution recognised as having equivalent status or under the supervision of a university and must include the specified subjects: Sch 2. In order to be accepted for such training, the candidate must have a diploma or a certificate which entitles him to be admitted for the course of study concerned: Sch 2. For the specified subjects see Sch 2 Annex (amended by SI 2003/3148). Where it appears to the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> that the course of study or examinations to qualify for a degree or licence in dentistry granted by a dental authority<sup>2</sup> is not such as to secure the possession by graduates or licentiates of the requisite knowledge and skill for the efficient practice of dentistry, it may make a representation to that effect to the Privy Council<sup>3</sup>, which may, if it thinks fit, order that any degree or licence granted by that authority after a specified time is not to confer a right to be registered<sup>4</sup>. The powers of the General Dental Council to make such representations and of the Privy Council to make such orders may be exercised in respect of a specifically described degree or licence in dentistry granted by a dental authority<sup>5</sup>. #### 426A. Insurance.

The following provisions are not yet in force.

A registered dentist<sup>1</sup> must be covered by adequate and appropriate insurance<sup>2</sup> throughout the period during which he is registered in the register<sup>3</sup>. A registered dentist seeking the retention of his name in the register must, before the commencement of the period for which he is seeking the retention of his name in the register, supply the registrar with evidence that he is covered by adequate and appropriate insurance<sup>4</sup>. A person seeking the restoration of his name to the register must supply the registrar with evidence that, if his name were to be restored to the register, he would be covered by adequate and appropriate insurance commencing, at the latest, on the date on which his name was so restored<sup>5</sup>.

If a person fails to comply with the insurance requirements<sup>6</sup>, the registrar may (1) refuse to register his name in the register<sup>7</sup>; (2) refuse to restore his name to the register<sup>8</sup>; (3) erase his name from the register<sup>9</sup>; or (4) refer the matter to the investigating committee<sup>10</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered dentist' see PARA 417 NOTE 6.

2 'Adequate and appropriate insurance' means insurance of a type and amount which rules under the Dentists Act 1984 s 26A specify as adequate and appropriate: s 26A(2) (s 26A added by SI 2005/2011). As to the making of rules under the 1984 Act see PARA 390. 'Insurance' means (1) a contract of insurance providing cover for liabilities which may be incurred in carrying out work as a dentist; or (2) an arrangement made for the purpose of indemnifying a person against such liabilities: s 26A(10).

3 Ibid s 26A(1). A person seeking registration in the register must supply the registrar with evidence that, if his name were to be entered in the register, he would be covered by adequate and appropriate insurance commencing, at the latest, on the date on which his name was so entered: s 26A(3). The registrar may at any other time require a registered dentist to supply him with evidence that he is covered by adequate and appropriate insurance, and a registered dentist must comply with such a requirement as soon as reasonably practicable: s 26A(6). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 NOTE 1.

4 Ibid s 26A(4). A registered dentist or, as the case may be, a person seeking registration in, or restoration of his name to, the register must inform the registrar forthwith if he is no longer covered by adequate and appropriate insurance or, as the case may be, arrangements under which he would be covered by such insurance are no longer in place: s 26A(7).

5 Ibid s 26A(5).

B. EUROPEAN UNION AND OVERSEAS DENTISTS

427. Qualifications for registration.

Any person who is a national<sup>1</sup> of an EEA state<sup>2</sup> and holds an appropriate European diploma<sup>3</sup> and any person who holds a recognised overseas diploma<sup>4</sup> is entitled to be registered in the dentists register<sup>5</sup>.

However, a national of an EEA state holding an appropriate European diploma is not entitled to be registered unless he satisfies the registrar: (1) as to his identity<sup>7</sup>; (2) that he is of good character<sup>8</sup>; and (3) that he is in good physical and mental health<sup>9</sup>.

Similarly, a person holding a recognised overseas diploma is not entitled to be registered unless he satisfies the registrar: (a) as to his identity<sup>10</sup>; (b) that he is of good character<sup>11</sup>; (c) that he has satisfied the General Dental Council that he has the requisite knowledge and skill<sup>12</sup>; (d) that he is a national of an EEA state or is treated as such<sup>13</sup>, or has the necessary knowledge of English<sup>14</sup>; and (e) that he is in good health both physically and mentally<sup>15</sup>.

The registrar must notify a person who is a national of an EEA state, or who is treated as such<sup>16</sup>, and who applies for registration under these provisions<sup>17</sup>, of the result of his application within three months of the date when the registrar received all documents, or any remaining documents, that he needed to determine the application<sup>18</sup>, or such longer period as is allowed<sup>19</sup>. Where an application for registration is refused, the registrar must notify the applicant in writing of his reasons for refusing the application<sup>20</sup>. Such notifications may be sent by post<sup>21</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'national', in relation to an EEA state, means the same as in the Community Treaties but does not include a person who by virtue of the Act of Accession (1972) Protocol No 3 (Channel Islands and Isle of Man) art 2 is not to benefit from Community provisions relating to the free movement of persons and services: Dentists Act 1984 s 15(2). For the meaning of 'the Community Treaties' see the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2) (as applied by the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1).

2 For these purposes, 'EEA state' means a state which is a contracting party to the EEA Agreement or Switzerland; and 'EEA Agreement' means the agreement on the European Economic Area signed at Oporto on 2 May 1992 as adjusted by the Protocol signed at Brussels on 17 March 1993 and as amended, so far as relevant to the Dentists Act 1984, by decision of the EEA joint committee No 84/2002 of 25 June 2002 and by the agreement on the participation of the Czech Republic, the Republic of Estonia, the Republic of Cyprus, the Republic of Latvia, the Republic of Lithuania, the Republic of Hungary, the Republic of Malta, the Republic of Poland, the Republic of Slovenia and the Slovak Republic signed at Luxembourg on 14 October 2003: Dentists Act 1984 s 15(7) (added by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 2(3); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 6(1), (2)(b)(i), (ii); and the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 11(1), (2)); Dentists Act 1984 s 53(1) (definition added by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 6(4)).

3 Dentists Act 1984 s 15(1)(b) (amended by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 2(1)). As to appropriate European diplomas see PARA 428 post. Any person who is not a national of an EEA state, but is, by virtue of a right conferred by EC Council Regulation 1612/68 (OJ L257, 19.10.1968, p 2) art 11 or any other enforceable Community right, entitled to be treated for the purposes of access to the profession of dentistry no less favourably than a national of such a state, is treated for these purposes as if he were such a national: Dentists Act 1984 s 15(2A) (added by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 2(2)). As to the meaning of 'enforceable Community right' see the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(1); and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1.

4 Dentists Act 1984 s 15(1)(c). The General Dental Council may direct that for these purposes a particular person who has passed the examinations required to obtain a recognised overseas diploma must be treated as a person holding a recognised overseas diploma: s 15(6). For the meaning of 'recognised overseas diploma' see PARA 417 note 10 ante. As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq ante.

6 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 note 1 ante.

7 Dentists Act 1984 s 15(3)(a).

8 Ibid s 15(3)(b). The registrar must accept as sufficient evidence of good character for these purposes: (1) a certificate issued by a competent authority in the EEA state which awarded the appropriate European diploma, or in which the person has subsequently become established, attesting that the requirements of that state in relation to good character for taking up the profession of dentistry have been met; or (2) where the state does not require proof of good character for taking up of the profession of dentistry, an extract from the judicial record or an equivalent document issued by a competent authority in the state showing that the person is of good character: s 15(4A)(a), (b) (s 15(4A)-(4C) added by the European Primary and Specialist Dental Qualifications Regulations 1998, SI 1998/811, reg 19). The registrar must not accept any certificate if it is presented more than three months after the date on which it was issued: Dentists Act 1984 s 15(4C) (as so added).

9 Ibid s 15(3)(c). The registrar must accept as sufficient evidence of good health for these purposes: (1) the document required in the EEA state which awarded the appropriate European diploma, or in which the person has subsequently become established, as proof of good health; or (2) where the state does not require proof of good health for the taking up of the profession of dentistry, a certificate issued by a competent authority in the state corresponding to the certificates of good health issued by the General Dental Council: s 15(4B)(a), (b) (as added: see note 8 supra). The registrar must not accept any certificate if it is presented more than three months after the date on which it was issued: s 15(4C) (as so added). #### 428. Appropriate European diploma.

- 657 (1) a scheduled European diploma<sup>4</sup> granted in an EEA state before the implementation date<sup>5</sup>, or on or after that date where training of which the diploma is evidence was commenced by the holder before that date, unless the holder either satisfies the registrar<sup>6</sup>, by means of a certificate of the competent authority<sup>7</sup> of that state or otherwise, that the diploma guarantees that his training satisfies the requirements laid down by the Dental Training Directive<sup>8</sup>, or produces to the registrar a certificate of the competent authority of any EEA state that he has lawfully practised dentistry for at least three consecutive years during the five years preceding the date of the certificate<sup>9</sup>;
- 658 (2) a diploma granted in an EEA state on or after the implementation date which is not evidence of training commenced by the holder before that date, not being a scheduled European diploma, unless the holder produces to the registrar a certificate issued by the competent authority of the EEA state certifying that the diploma was awarded following training which satisfies the requirements laid down by the Dental Training Directive<sup>10</sup> and is treated by that EEA state as if it were a scheduled European diploma<sup>11</sup>;
- 659 (3) a diploma granted in an EEA state before the implementation date, or on or after that date where training of which that diploma is evidence was commenced by the holder before that date, and not being in either case a scheduled European diploma, unless the holder produces to the registrar such a certificate as is mentioned in head (2) above<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'diploma' see PARA 424 note 3 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 427 note 2 ante.

3 For the purposes of the Dentists Act 1984 s 15(1)(b) (see PARAS 417, 427 ante): s 15(2), Sch 2 para 2 (substituted by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 3(1), (3)). Specific provision is made in respect of certain qualifications awarded in Italy, Spain, Austria, the former German Democratic Republic, the former Soviet Union, the former Yugoslavia, the Czech Republic, Slovakia or the former Czechoslovakia: see the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 paras 5-10 (Sch 2 paras 5, 6 added by the Medical and Dental Qualifications (EEC Recognition: Spain and Portugal) Order 1986, SI 1986/23, art 3(b); the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 paras 5-7 substituted by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 3(7); the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 para 6A added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 6(1), (6)(c); and the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 paras 8-10 added by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 11(1), (3)(c))

4 'Scheduled European diploma' means a diploma specified in the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 Pt II (as substituted and amended): Sch 2 para 1(1) (Sch 2 para 1 substituted by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 3(1), (2)). The Dentists Act 1984 sets out by reference to: (1) the title of qualification; (2) the awarding body; and (3) where applicable, the certificate accompanying qualification, the scheduled European diplomas for each of the following countries: Austria; Belgium; Cyprus; Czech Republic; Denmark; Estonia; Finland; France; Germany; Greece; Hungary; Iceland; Ireland; Italy; Latvia; Liechtenstein; Lithuania; Luxembourg; Malta; Netherlands; Norway; Poland; Portugal; Slovakia; Slovenia; Spain; Sweden; Switzerland: see Sch 2 Pt II (substituted by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 6(1), (7), Sch 2 Pt I; and amended by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 11(1), (3)(d)).

5 'The implementation date' means: (1) in the case of Greece, 1 January 1981; (2) in the case of Portugal, 1 January 1986; (3) in the case of Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden, 1 January 1994; (4) in the case of Liechtenstein, 1 May 1995; (5) in the case of Switzerland, 1 June 2002; (6) in the case of the Czech Republic, Estonia, Cyprus, Latvia, Lithuania, Hungary, Malta, Poland, Slovenia and Slovakia, 1 May 2004; (7) in the case of any other EEA state, the date notified by the state to the European Commission as that on which it implemented the Dental Training Directive (see note 8 infra): Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 para 1(1) (as substituted (see note 4 supra); definition amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 6(1), (6)(a)(iii); and the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947).

6 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 note 1 ante.

7 'Competent authority' means an authority or body designated by an EEA state in accordance with EC Council Directive 78/686; and 'EC Council Directive 78/686' means EC Council Directive 78/686 (OJ L233, 24.8.1978, p 1) concerning the mutual recognition of diplomas, certificates and other evidence of the formal qualifications of practitioners in dentistry, as adapted, amended or extended by the Accession of Greece Act, EC Council Directive 81/1057 (OJ L385, 31.12.81, p 25), the Accession of Spain and Portugal Act, EC Council Directive 89/594 (OJ L341, 23.11.89, p 19), EC Council Directive 90/658 (OJ L353, 17.12.90, p 73), the EEA Agreement, the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act, EC Council Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 13.7.2001, p 1), the Swiss Agreement and the Act of Accession 2003: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 para 1(1) (as substituted (see note 4 supra); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 6(1), (6)(a)(i); and the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 11(1), (3)(a)(i)). For the meaning of 'EEA Agreement' see PARA 427 note 2 ante.

'The Accession of Greece Act' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the accession of the Hellenic Republic to the European Community signed at Athens on 28 May 1979; 'the Accession of Spain and Portugal Act' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the accession of the Kingdom of Spain and the Portuguese Republic to the European Community signed at Madrid and Lisbon on 12 June 1985; 'the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the accession of the Kingdom of Norway, the Republic of Austria, the Republic of Finland and the Kingdom of Sweden to the European Union, signed at Corfu on 24 June 1994, as adjusted by the Decision of the Council of the European Union of 1 January 1995 adjusting the instruments concerning the accession of new member states to the European Union; 'the Swiss Agreement' means the Agreement between the European Community and its member states, of the one part, and the Swiss Confederation, of the other, on the free movement of persons, signed at Luxembourg on 21 June 1999; and 'the Act of Accession 2003' means the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the conditions of accession of the Czech Republic, the Republic of Estonia, the Republic of Cyprus, the Republic of Latvia, the Republic of Lithuania, the Republic of Hungary, the Republic of Malta, the Republic of Poland, the Republic of Slovenia and the Slovak Republic and the Adjustments to the Treaties on which the European Union is founded signed at Athens on 16 April 2003: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 para 1(2) (as so substituted; and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 6(1), (6)(b); and the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 11(1), (3)(b)).

8 Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 para 3(a). 'The Dental Training Directive' means EC Council Directive 78/687 (OJ L233, 24.8.1978, p 1) concerning the co-ordination of provisions in respect of activities of dental practitioners as amended by the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act, EC Council Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 13.7.2001, p 1) and the Act of Accession 2003: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 para 1(1) (as substituted (see note 4 supra); definition amended by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 11(1), (3)(a)(ii)).

9 Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 para 3(b) (Sch 2 paras 3, 4 amended, and Sch 2 para 3A added, by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 3(4)-(6)).

428 Appropriate European diploma

TEXT AND NOTES--Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2 amended: SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(4) REGISTRATION AND QUALIFICATIONS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/B. EUROPEAN UNION AND OVERSEAS DENTISTS/429. Recognised overseas diplomas: requisite skill and knowledge.

429. Recognised overseas diplomas: requisite skill and knowledge.

In the case of a person holding a recognised overseas diploma<sup>1</sup> and claiming entitlement to be registered in the dentists register<sup>2</sup>, if the diploma held by him is of a kind recognised for the time being by the General Dental Council as furnishing such guarantees of that person's possessing the requisite knowledge and skill as warrant dispensing with further inquiry, he must be taken to have satisfied the Council that he has the requisite knowledge and skill<sup>3</sup>. Except in such a case, the Council must, for the purpose of satisfying itself that a person has the requisite knowledge and skill, and in addition to such other requirements as it may impose on him, require him to sit for examinations held by a dental authority<sup>4</sup>, or a group of dental authorities, under arrangements made by the Council<sup>5</sup>. In deciding whether a person who is a national of an EEA state<sup>6</sup>, or is treated as such<sup>7</sup>, has the requisite knowledge and skill, the Council must take into account all his dental qualifications, knowledge or experience, wherever acquired, which are relevant to that decision<sup>8</sup>; if the person holds a dental qualification granted outside the EEA which has been accepted by another EEA state as qualifying him to practise as a dentist in that state, the Council must take that acceptance into account<sup>9</sup>; and the Council may treat a qualification which is not of a kind recognised for the time being by the Council as furnishing sufficient guarantees that he has the requisite knowledge and skill as if it were such a qualification<sup>10</sup>.

The Council may: (1) make regulations as to the examinations to be held for the purposes of these provisions and may include in the regulations provisions for withdrawing the right to sit for any such examinations from a person who has not first paid the fee prescribed by the regulations for sitting for the examinations or from a person who has previously failed to pass such examinations on such number of occasions as may be prescribed by the regulations<sup>11</sup>; and (2) appoint persons to attend any such examinations who must report to the Council as to the adequacy of the examinations for testing the knowledge and skill of those taking them<sup>12</sup>.

1 The General Dental Council may direct that for the purposes of these provisions a particular person who has passed the examinations required to obtain a recognised overseas diploma be treated as a person holding a recognised overseas diploma: Dentists Act 1984 s 16(6). #### 430. Effect of disqualification in another member state.

A person who is subject to a disqualifying decision in an EEA state<sup>1</sup> in which he is or has been established in dental practice<sup>2</sup> is not entitled to be registered in the dentists register<sup>3</sup>. A disqualifying decision in an EEA state is one made by responsible authorities in that state and expressed to be made on the grounds that the person has committed a criminal offence or has misconducted himself in a professional respect, and having, in that state, the effect either that he is no longer registered or otherwise officially recognised as a dental practitioner or that he is prohibited from practising there<sup>4</sup>. If a person is registered in the dentists register when he is subject to a disqualifying decision, the registrar<sup>5</sup>, on being satisfied that the person was and still is subject to the decision, must remove his name from the register<sup>6</sup>. If a person is refused registration or has his name erased from the register by reason of his being subject to a disqualifying decision, the registrar must, on request, state in writing<sup>7</sup> the grounds for the refusal or erasure<sup>8</sup>. The person may appeal by giving notice in writing to the General Dental Council<sup>9</sup> and any such appeal must be referred to and determined by the professional conduct committee<sup>10</sup>, which must direct the registrar whether the person is or is not entitled to be registered or should have his name erased from the register, as the case may be<sup>11</sup>. If a person who has been registered becomes subject to a disqualifying decision, his case stands referred to the professional conduct committee as the case of a person alleged to have been convicted of a criminal offence or to have been guilty of any serious professional misconduct<sup>12</sup>; and, on being satisfied that he is subject to the disqualifying decision, the committee may exercise its powers<sup>13</sup> of suspension or erasure from the register on the assumption that the criminal offence or misconduct justifies such exercise of its powers<sup>14</sup>.

431. Visiting EEA practitioners.

Any national of an EEA state<sup>1</sup> who is established in dental practice in an EEA state other than the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> may render dental services during a visit to the United Kingdom without being registered under the Dentists Act 1984 if he complies with the following provisions<sup>3</sup>. A person who intends to render such dental services must provide the registrar<sup>4</sup> with: (1) a declaration in writing giving particulars of the services to be rendered and the period or periods in which he expects to render them<sup>5</sup>; and (2) a certificate or certificates issued by the authority or body designated by the EEA state concerned as competent for these purposes<sup>6</sup> showing that he is lawfully practising dentistry<sup>7</sup> in an EEA state other than the United Kingdom<sup>8</sup>, and that he holds a diploma<sup>9</sup> in dentistry which EEA states are required to recognise<sup>10</sup>. In an urgent case the declaration and certificates to be provided may be provided after the services have been rendered, but, if so, they must be provided as soon as possible thereafter and in any event not more than 15 days after the date on which the practitioner has rendered the services<sup>11</sup>.

The registrar must keep a list known as the list of visiting EEA practitioners<sup>12</sup>. Where a person complies with the requirements above, the registrar must enter his name, together with particulars of any diplomas held by him, in the list<sup>13</sup>. The entry has effect for the period specified in the list against the entry, being the period which appears to the registrar to be appropriate having regard to the particulars given in the declaration made by that person<sup>14</sup>. However, a person is not entitled to have his name included in the list if he is subject to a disqualifying decision<sup>15</sup> taken in relation to him in an EEA state<sup>16</sup>, or he is subject to a prohibition imposed on him by the professional conduct committee<sup>17</sup>. Any entry in the list relating to a practitioner does not have effect or ceases to have effect if he is or becomes subject to such a decision or prohibition, or if he becomes established in dental practice in the United Kingdom or renders, save in cases of urgency, dental services in the United Kingdom which fall outside those specified in the declaration made by him<sup>18</sup>.

If a person who is or has been entered in the list of visiting EEA practitioners has been convicted of a criminal offence, whether in an EEA state or elsewhere<sup>19</sup>, or has been guilty of any serious professional misconduct<sup>20</sup>, the professional conduct committee may, if it thinks fit, impose on him a prohibition in respect of the rendering of dental services in the United Kingdom in the future<sup>21</sup>. Such a prohibition is for an indefinite period<sup>22</sup>. A person may apply to the General Dental Council<sup>23</sup> for termination of a prohibition imposed on him and the Council may, on any such application, terminate the prohibition<sup>24</sup>. No application may be made earlier than ten months from the date on which the prohibition was imposed<sup>25</sup>, or in the period of ten months following a decision made on an earlier application<sup>26</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'national', in relation to an EEA state, means the same as in the Community Treaties but does not include a person who by virtue of the Act of Accession (1972) Protocol No 3 (Channel Islands and Isle of Man) art 2 is not to benefit from Community provisions relating to the free movement of persons and services: Dentists Act 1984 s 36, Sch 4 para 1(3) (amended by the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, regs 5(2), (3), 6(2)). ### 432. Temporary registrations.

Where the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup>, with a view to permitting any person holding a recognised overseas diploma<sup>2</sup> temporarily to practise dentistry<sup>3</sup> in a particular post in a hospital or other institution, gives a direction that he be registered as respects practice in that post in that hospital or institution for a specified period, he is entitled to be registered in the dentists register subject to the entry against his name of the restrictions specified in the direction<sup>4</sup>.

No such direction may be given unless the person concerned has satisfied the registrar<sup>5</sup>: (1) of his identity<sup>6</sup>; (2) that he is of good character<sup>7</sup>; (3) that he has the requisite knowledge and skill for the efficient practice of dentistry in the post in question<sup>8</sup>; (4) that he is a national of an EEA state<sup>9</sup> or is treated as such<sup>10</sup>, or has the necessary knowledge of English<sup>11</sup>; and (5) that he is in good health, both physically and mentally<sup>12</sup>. Where the registrar refuses such an application, he must notify the applicant in writing<sup>13</sup> of his reasons and such notification may be sent by post<sup>14</sup>.

Temporary registration does not make it lawful for a person to practise dentistry otherwise than subject to the restrictions specified in the relevant direction nor constitute him a registered dentist<sup>15</sup> for the purpose of membership of the Council<sup>16</sup>.

NOTES 8, 10--Dentists Act 1984 s 17(2)(d)(i) substituted, s 17(3A) amended: SI 2007/3101.

TEXT AND NOTES 13, 14--1984 Act s 21 repealed: Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(4) REGISTRATION AND QUALIFICATIONS/(iii) Specialist Qualifications/433. Certificates of completion of specialist training.

(iii) Specialist Qualifications

433. Certificates of completion of specialist training.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must award<sup>2</sup> a certificate of completion of specialist training<sup>3</sup> to any person who applies to it for that purpose, and pays any fee<sup>4</sup> determined by it, if it is satisfied that he has satisfactorily completed specialist dental training in orthodontics or, as the case may be, oral surgery approved<sup>5</sup> by it<sup>6</sup>. A certificate of completion of specialist training may be awarded only to a registered dentist<sup>7</sup>.

A certificate of completion of specialist training must state: (1) the date on which it was awarded<sup>8</sup>; (2) the specialty in which it was awarded<sup>9</sup>; (3) the name of its holder<sup>10</sup>; (4) his primary dental qualification<sup>11</sup>; and (5) his registration number<sup>12</sup>. A certificate of completion of specialist training must state where the holder's primary dental qualification was awarded and, in the case of a registered dentist whose primary qualification in the United Kingdom<sup>13</sup> was awarded following the completion of a degree, licence or other dental diploma<sup>14</sup> overseas, it must also state this qualification and the place where it was awarded<sup>15</sup>.

In relation to specialist dental qualifications in orthodontics and oral surgery, the competent authority in the United Kingdom<sup>16</sup> is the General Dental Council<sup>17</sup>.

The Secretary of State<sup>18</sup> may give directions to the Council in connection with any of its functions which arise from Community obligations<sup>19</sup> and which relate to primary qualifications awarded in the EEA<sup>20</sup>, specialist qualifications in orthodontics or oral surgery awarded in the EEA<sup>21</sup>, registration under the Dentists Act 1984 by virtue of any qualifications<sup>22</sup>, or entry in a specialist list for orthodontists or oral surgeons<sup>23</sup>; and it is the duty of the Council to comply with any such directions<sup>24</sup>.

433 Certificates of completion of specialist training

TEXT AND NOTES 16, 17--SI 1998/811 reg 4 substituted, Sch 1A added: SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(4) REGISTRATION AND QUALIFICATIONS/(iii) Specialist Qualifications/434. Minimum requirements of specialist dental training.

434. Minimum requirements of specialist dental training.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must not approve specialist dental training intended to lead to the award of a certificate of completion of specialist training<sup>2</sup> unless it complies with the following requirements; and the Council may withdraw any such approval if it is satisfied that the training no longer complies with those requirements<sup>3</sup>.

The training must constitute an entire course of training in the specialty in question and must, subject to the provisions concerning part-time training<sup>4</sup>: (1) comprise theoretical and practical instruction<sup>5</sup>; (2) be full-time training<sup>6</sup>; (3) be supervised by the Council<sup>7</sup>; (4) be of at least three years' duration<sup>8</sup>; (5) be in a university centre, or in a treatment, teaching and research centre, or, where the Council is satisfied that it is appropriate, in a health establishment approved for this purpose by it<sup>9</sup>; and (6) involve the personal participation of the person training to be a specialist in the activity and in the responsibilities of the establishments concerned<sup>10</sup>. Part-time specialist dental training is permitted, under conditions approved by the Council, where training on a full-time basis would not be practicable for well-founded reasons; and accordingly the Council may approve part-time training which satisfies those conditions<sup>11</sup>, the conditions set out in heads (1), (3), (5) and (6) above<sup>12</sup>, and the conditions that: (a) the standard of training must not be lower than that of full-time training<sup>13</sup>; and (b) the total length of training in the specialty in question must not be less than that of full-time training in the same specialty<sup>14</sup>. The curriculum and any other requirements relating to the training for the specialty, as they have effect from time to time, must be published<sup>15</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(4) REGISTRATION AND QUALIFICATIONS/(iii) Specialist Qualifications/435. Fees.

435. Fees.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> may charge such reasonable fees as it determines to cover the cost of providing services in the course of the performance of any of its functions relating to specialist qualifications<sup>2</sup>. The Council may set those fees at levels such that, taken together, the fees also cover the cost of such of its overheads as are reasonably attributable to the performance of all of those functions; but the fees must not include any element of profit<sup>3</sup>. These provisions do not prevent the Council, where it has power to do so, from setting any other fee which it has power to charge at a level designed to include the costs referred to, but any costs recovered that way cannot also be recovered by way of fees under these provisions<sup>4</sup>.

436. Appeals.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must secure that a person:

- 660 (1) to whom it refuses to award a certificate of completion of specialist training<sup>2</sup>;
- 661 (2) who fails to satisfy it that he is an eligible specialist<sup>3</sup>; and
- 662 (3) who fails to satisfy it that he is an existing specialist<sup>4</sup>, has the right to appeal against its decision to a panel of independent persons, known as an 'appeal panel', which must be convened by the Council as soon as practicable to reconsider the question and determine whether or not the appellant should be awarded a certificate of completion of specialist training or should so satisfy the Council, as the case may be<sup>5</sup>. The Council must determine and publish the procedure governing its selection of the members of appeal panels and the conduct of appeals<sup>6</sup>, and must secure that an appeal panel gives reasons for its determination<sup>7</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(4) REGISTRATION AND QUALIFICATIONS/(iv) Entry of Names and Qualifications/437. Registration procedure.

(iv) Entry of Names and Qualifications

437. Registration procedure.

Except in the case of the temporary registration of persons holding recognised overseas diplomas<sup>1</sup> or where a dental authority<sup>2</sup> transmits to the registrar lists of its graduates or licentiates<sup>3</sup>, any right to registration in the register<sup>4</sup> is conditional on the making of an application supported by the appropriate evidence<sup>5</sup>. Any person applying to be registered must produce or send to the registrar<sup>6</sup>: (1) the document conferring or evidencing his licence or other qualification<sup>7</sup>; (2) a statement of his name and address and the other particulars, if any, required for registration<sup>8</sup>; and (3) in the case of an application made in reliance on an enforceable Community right<sup>9</sup>, the evidence on which he relies<sup>10</sup>.

A dental authority may from time to time transmit to the registrar certified lists of the persons who are its graduates or licentiates in dentistry, stating their qualifications and places of residence<sup>11</sup>. On receipt of these lists the registrar must, subject to the provisions of the Dentists Act 1984, duly register those persons<sup>12</sup>.

NOTE 5--1984 Act s 19(2) now s 19(2), (2A), (2B) (substituted by SI 2005/2011).

Regulations may authorise the registrar to erase from the register the name of a person who, after such notices and warnings as may be prescribed by the regulations, fails to pay a fee prescribed under the 1984 Act s 19(1)(b): s 19(2). Where a person's name has been erased by virtue of such regulations, that name must be restored to the register on that person's application if he satisfies the registrar that he meets the requirements of ss 15(3)(a)-(c), 26A, and any rules made under s 34B which apply to his case: s 19(2A). Where the registrar refuses to restore a person's name to the register under s 19(2A), the registrar must forthwith serve on the person concerned notification of the decision and of the reasons for it: s 19(2B). #### 441. Erasure of entries on death or cesser of practice.

The registrar<sup>1</sup> must erase from the register<sup>2</sup> the name of every deceased person, and a registrar of births and deaths<sup>3</sup> on registering the death of a registered dentist<sup>4</sup> must, without charge to the recipient, send forthwith by post<sup>5</sup> to the registrar a certified copy under his hand of the entry in the register of deaths relating to the death<sup>6</sup>.

If a registered dentist has ceased to practise, the registrar may, with his consent, erase his name from the register<sup>7</sup>. The registrar may send by post to a registered dentist a notice inquiring whether he has ceased to practise or has changed his residence, and if no answer is received to the inquiry within six months from the posting of the notice, he may erase the dentist's name from the register<sup>8</sup>. In such a case, or where the person's name was erased at his request<sup>9</sup>, then, unless the original entry was incorrectly or fraudulently made<sup>10</sup>, the person's name may be restored to the register on his application if he satisfies the registrar as to specified matters<sup>11</sup>. Where the registrar refuses such an application, he must notify the applicant in writing<sup>12</sup> of his reasons for refusing the application, and such notification may be sent by post<sup>13</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTES 1-4--1984 Act s 19(2) now s 19(2), (2A), (2B) (substituted by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011). Regulations may now authorise the registrar to erase from the register the name of a person who, after such notices and warnings as may be prescribed by the regulations, fails to pay a fee prescribed under the 1984 Act s 19(1)(b): s 19(2). Where a person's name has been erased by virtue of such regulations, that name must be restored to the register on that person's application if he satisfies the registrar that he meets the requirements of ss 15(3)(a)-(c), 26A, and any rules made under s 34B which apply to his case: s 19(2A). Where the registrar refuses to restore a person's name to the register under s 19(2A), the registrar must forthwith serve on the person concerned notification of the decision and of the reasons for it: s 19(2B). As to the service and sending of notifications under the 1984 Act see s 50A; and PARA 401A.

443A. Appeals from appealable registration decisions.

1. Notification of appealable registration decisions.

Where an appealable registration decision<sup>1</sup> is made in respect of a person, the registrar<sup>2</sup> must forthwith serve on that person written notification<sup>3</sup> of the decision, the reasons for the decision, and that person's right to appeal<sup>4</sup>. Where an applicant has not been served with notification of a decision in respect of certain applications for registration or restoration of a name<sup>5</sup> within the requisite period<sup>6</sup>, that omission is to be treated as a decision not to register or, as the case may be, restore the applicant's name, which is an appealable registration decision for these purposes<sup>7</sup>.

1 The following decisions are appealable registration decisions: (1) a decision (a) not to register a person's name in the register under the Dentists Act 1984 s 15(1)(a), (b) or (c) on the grounds that any of the requirements of those provisions are not met (qualification for registration); (b) not to register a person's name in the register under s 15(1)(ba) on the grounds that any of the requirements of that provision are not met; (c) under the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2781, Pt 3 to require an exempt person within the 1984 Act s 15(1)(b)(i) and (ii) to complete an adaptation period, or pass an aptitude test, in connection with becoming entitled by virtue of those provisions to pursue the profession of dentistry in the United Kingdom; (2) a decision under s 17 not to give a direction for temporary registration; (3) a decision under s 23(3) to erase a person's name from the register (cesser of practice); (4) a decision under s 23(4) not to restore a person's name to the register; (5) a decision under s 24(1) to erase an entry relating to a person from the register (error in register); (6) a decision under s 26A(8)(a), (b) or (c) (insurance) not to register a person's name in the register, not to restore his name to the register or to erase his name from the register; (7) a decision under s 26A(9) not to restore a person's name to the register; (8) a decision under s 34A(2) to erase a person's name from the register (professional training and development requirements); (9) a decision under s 34A(3) not to restore a person's name to the register; (10) a decision not to register a person's name in the register on the grounds that s 35(1) is satisfied (effect on registration of disqualification in another EEA state or Switzerland); (11) a decision under s 35(3) to erase a person's name from the register; and (12) a decision not to register a person's name in the register under Sch 4 (visiting dentists from relevant European States): s 25A, Sch 2A para 2(1) (s 25A, Sch 2A added by SI 2005/2011, amended by SI 2007/3101) (1984 Act Sch 2A para 2(1) in force in part: SI 2005/2011). A decision is not an appealable registration decision for these purposes if it is a decision taken by reason only that the person failed to pay any fee prescribed by regulations made under the 1984 Act s 19, or make an application as required under the 1984 Act or any rules made under it: Sch 2A para 2(2).

2 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 NOTE 1.

3 As to the service and sending of notifications under the 1984 Act see s 50A; and PARA 401A.

4 Ibid Sch 2A para 3(1). The reference to a person's right to appeal is to the right to appeal under Sch 2A para 4 (see PARA 443A.2): Sch 2A para 3(1)(c).

5 Ie applications for registration or restoration of a name mentioned in NOTE 1 head (1), (2), (4), (6), (7), (9) or (10).

6 'The requisite period', in relation to a decision of a kind specified in NOTE (1) head (1), (2), (4), (6), (7), (9) or (10) means the period of three months beginning with the date when the registrar is first in possession of sufficient information to make the decision: 1984 Act Sch 2A para 1.

7 Ibid Sch 2A para 3(2) (Sch 2A para 3 in force in part: SI 2005/2011).

2. Appeals from an appealable registration decision.

A person concerned<sup>1</sup> may appeal to the General Dental Council's registration appeals committee<sup>2</sup> against (1) the appealable registration decision made in respect of him of which he was notified<sup>3</sup>; or (2) the appealable registration decision treated<sup>4</sup> as having been made in respect of him<sup>5</sup>. Such an appeal must be made by giving notice of appeal to the registrar<sup>6</sup>. In a case within head (1) above, the notice of appeal must be given before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the decision was served<sup>7</sup>, subject to any extension of time<sup>8</sup>. In a case within head (2) above, notice of appeal must be given before the end of the period of 28 days following the end of the requisite period<sup>9</sup>. In the case of an appealable registration decision which is a decision to erase a person's name from the register, where no appeal is brought against the decision within the specified period of time<sup>10</sup>, or an appeal is brought but is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, that decision takes effect on the expiry of that period or, as the case may be, on the withdrawal or striking out of that appeal<sup>11</sup>.

For the purposes of considering an appeal, the registration appeals committee may make such inquiries as it considers appropriate<sup>12</sup>. In disposing of an appeal, the registration appeals committee may determine to (a) dismiss the appeal; (b) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against; (c) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision which could have been made by the registrar; or (d) remit the case to the registrar to dispose of in accordance with the directions of the registration appeals committee<sup>13</sup>. In the case of an appealable registration decision which is a decision to erase a person's name from the register, where the registration appeals committee disposes of an appeal by making a determination under heads (a), (c) or (d) above, that decision takes effect (i) where no appeal is brought against the determination of the registration appeals committee<sup>14</sup> within the specified period of time<sup>15</sup>, on the expiry of that period; (ii) where an appeal is brought against the decision of the registration appeals committee but is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, on the withdrawal or striking out of that appeal; or (iii) where an appeal is brought against the decision and dismissed<sup>16</sup>, on the dismissal of that appeal<sup>17</sup>.

Where the registration appeals committee makes such a determination on an appeal, it must, as soon as reasonably practicable, inform the registrar of and serve on the person concerned notification of the committee's determination on the appeal and of the reasons for that determination and, if that determination is not a determination to allow the appeal under head (b) above, serve on the person concerned notification of his right of appeal<sup>18</sup>.

1 'Person concerned' means a person notified under the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 2A para 3(1) (see PARA 443A.1) of an appealable registration decision made in respect of him, or, as the case may be, an applicant in respect of whom an appealable registration decision is treated as having been made by virtue of Sch 2A para 3(2) (see PARA 443A.1): Sch 2A para 1 (Sch 2A added by SI 2005/2011). 'Appealable registration decision' is to be construed in accordance with the 1984 Act Sch 2A paras 2, 3(2) (see PARA 443A.1): Sch 2A para 1.

Where (1) any notification of a decision required under Sch 2A para 3(1) to be served on a person is served by sending it to him by post; and (2) the registrar is satisfied, on the application of that person, that he did not receive the notification within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the decision was made, the registrar may, if he thinks fit, by authorisation in writing extend the time for giving notice of appeal under Sch 2A para 4(3): Sch 2A para 5. ### 3. Appeals from the registration appeals committee.

Where the registration appeals committee<sup>1</sup> determine an appeal<sup>2</sup> and it does not determine<sup>3</sup> to allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against, the person concerned may, before the end of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the determination was served on him<sup>4</sup>, appeal against the determination to the relevant court<sup>5</sup>.

On such an appeal from the registration appeals committee, the relevant court may (1) dismiss the appeal; (2) allow the appeal and quash the determination appealed against; (3) substitute for the determination appealed against any other determination which could have been made by the registration appeals committee; or (4) remit the case to the registration appeals committee to dispose of in accordance with the directions of the relevant court<sup>6</sup>.

444. The continuing professional development committee.

The Dentists Act 1984 provides for the establishment of a committee of the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup>, known as the continuing professional development committee<sup>2</sup>. The membership of the continuing professional development committee consists of five appropriate persons<sup>3</sup>, of whom at least two must be registered dentists<sup>4</sup> and at least two lay persons<sup>5</sup>. When the committee is exercising a fitness to practise function<sup>6</sup>, no person may be appointed as a member of the committee who, prior to his membership of the committee, had any dealings in relation to the matter in respect of which the committee is exercising its fitness to practise function<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq ante.

2 Dentists Act 1984 s 2(4A) (s 2(4A), (6), (7) added by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2001, SI 2001/3926, arts 2, 6(c), (d)). The committee is constituted as provided by order of the Privy Council contained in a statutory instrument: see the Dentists Act 1984 s 2(6), (7) (as so added). As to the order that has been made see the General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1081; and the text to notes 3-7 infra. As to the Council's committees generally see PARA 395 ante. As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers under the Dentists Act 1984 see PARA 388 ante. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

3 'Appropriate person' means a natural person, of good character, who is a fit and proper person to act as a member of a committee of the General Dental Council: General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1081, art 1(2).

4 For the meaning of 'registered dentist' see PARA 417 note 6 ante.

5 General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1081, arts 2(1)(e), 7 (both added by SI 2004/67). 'Lay person' means a natural person, who is neither a registered dentist nor a dental auxiliary: General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1081, art 1(2). As to dental auxiliaries see PARA 486 et seq post.

6 'Fitness to practise function' means any function of the continuing professional development committee: ibid art 1(2) (amended by SI 2004/67). Where the definition applies in relation to the professional conduct committee or the health committee, it refers to the functions of those committees respectively; and where it applies to the functions of the dental auxiliaries committee, it refers to the functions of that committee under regulations made by virtue of the Dentists Act 1984 s 48(2) (see PARA 495 post): see the General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Order of Council 2003, SI 2003/1081, art 1(2).

445. Professional training and development requirements.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules requiring registered dentists<sup>2</sup> to undertake professional training and development of descriptions specified in the rules<sup>3</sup>. If it appears to the registrar<sup>4</sup> that a registered dentist has failed to comply with the requirements of such rules, he may erase the dentist's name from the register<sup>5</sup>. The Council must make rules as to the procedures to be followed before the registrar may erase a registered dentist's name from the register under these provisions<sup>6</sup>, and the rules must provide for an appeal to the continuing professional development committee from such a decision<sup>7</sup>. The registrar must not erase a person's name from the register until the end of the period during which he may appeal to the committee by virtue of such rules<sup>8</sup>, or if he does appeal to the committee, until the appeal process, including any appeal to the court<sup>9</sup>, has been exhausted<sup>10</sup>. #### 447. Continuing professional development committee: rules of procedure.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules as to the procedure to be followed and rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before the continuing professional development committee<sup>2</sup>, and in particular for: (1) securing that notice that the proceedings are to be brought is given, at such time and in such manner as may be specified in the rules, to the person to whose registration the proceedings relate<sup>3</sup>; (2) securing that any party to the proceedings is, if he so requires, entitled to be heard by the committee<sup>4</sup>; (3) enabling any party to the proceedings to be represented by counsel or solicitor or, if the rules so provide and the party so elects, by a person of such other description as may be specified in the rules<sup>5</sup>; (4) requiring proceedings be held in public unless the person to whose registration the proceedings relate requests otherwise<sup>6</sup>. Before making such rules, the Council must consult such bodies of persons representing dentists as appear to it requisite to be consulted<sup>7</sup>. The rules do not come into force until approved by order of the Privy Council contained in a statutory instrument<sup>8</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(5) PROFESSIONAL TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT/448. Appeals to the continuing professional development committee.

448. Appeals to the continuing professional development committee.

A person who wishes to appeal to the continuing professional development committee<sup>1</sup> must give written<sup>2</sup> notice of appeal within the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which he is served with notice of the registrar's<sup>3</sup> decision to erase his name from the register<sup>4</sup> or not to restore his name to the register<sup>5</sup>. The appellant<sup>6</sup> must state in his notice of appeal his full name and any former names<sup>7</sup>, his registration number and address in the register or last registered address<sup>8</sup>, his address for service of notices and other documents<sup>9</sup>, and grounds of the appeal<sup>10</sup>. The appellant must give<sup>11</sup> with his notice of appeal a copy of the notice given by the registrar of the decision against which the appellant wishes to appeal<sup>12</sup>, and of any document upon which he intends to rely in the course of the appeal<sup>13</sup>.

On receipt of a notice of appeal, the hearings director<sup>14</sup> must verify that the notice of appeal has been received within the required period<sup>15</sup> and that it complies with the appropriate requirements<sup>16</sup>. If a notice of appeal has not been received within the required period, the hearings director must reject the notice and inform the appellant accordingly<sup>17</sup>. If a notice of appeal has been received within the required period, but it does not comply with the appropriate requirements, the hearings director must admit the notice of appeal<sup>18</sup>, and give the appellant notice in writing, specifying the matters in respect of which the notice of appeal is defective and requiring the appellant to rectify those deficiencies within the period of 14 days beginning with the date of the giving of the director's notice<sup>19</sup>. If the appellant fails to rectify the deficiencies in the notice of appeal within that period, the hearings director must strike out the appeal<sup>20</sup>.

An appellant may withdraw his appeal at any time prior to the determination of the appeal, by giving notice to that effect to the hearings director<sup>21</sup>.

If, in advance of the determination of an appeal, the registrar changes the decision against which an appeal is brought so that he decides not to erase the appellant's name from the register<sup>22</sup> or not to refuse to restore the appellant's name to the register<sup>23</sup>, the registrar must so notify the appellant and the hearings director, who must cancel the hearing<sup>24</sup>.

Continuing professional development committee abolished; Dentists Act 1984 Sch 3A repealed: Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011; as to the committees of the General Dental Council see PARA 395.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(5) PROFESSIONAL TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT/449. Preparation for appeal hearing.

449. Preparation for appeal hearing.

After the hearings director has received a valid notice of appeal, he may of his own motion, or at the request of either of the parties, if he thinks it necessary to do so, convene a meeting of the continuing professional development committee<sup>12</sup>, known as 'a directions hearing', so as to enable the committee to give directions as regards any procedural matter ancillary or preliminary to the hearing of the appeal<sup>13</sup>. At a directions hearing the committee may give such directions as regards any such procedural matter as it thinks just and necessary<sup>14</sup>.

1     le a notice which is received within the period required by the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 3A para 1 (as added) (see PARA 448 ante) and which complies with the requirements of the General Dental Council Continuing Professional Development Committee (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2004/68, or in respect of which the appellant has rectified any deficiency as required under r 3(3) (see PARA 448 ante). For the meaning of 'appeal' see PARA 448 note 6 ante. As to notices of appeal generally see PARA 448 ante.

2     For the meaning of 'hearings director' see PARA 448 note 14 ante.

3     General Dental Council Continuing Professional Development Committee (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2004/68, r 4(1). 'Appeal hearing' means a meeting of the continuing professional development committee at which the committee is to hear an appeal: r 1(2).

8     General Dental Council Continuing Professional Development Committee (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2004/68, r 4(2). The notice must be accompanied by a copy of the Dentists Act 1984 Schs 3, 3A (as added) and of the General Dental Council Continuing Professional Development Committee (Procedure) Rules: General Dental Council Continuing Professional Development Committee (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2003, SI 2004/68, r 4(2).

9     Ibid r 4(3).

10    'Party to the proceedings' means the appellant or the registrar: ibid r 1(2).

11    Ibid r 5. The bundle must comprise the notice of the registrar's decision against which the appellant is appealing, the appellant's notice of appeal, any redrafted notice served pursuant to r 3(3) (see PARA 448 ante), and the documents given to the hearings director by each of the parties: r 5(a)-(d).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(5) PROFESSIONAL TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT/450. Appeal hearing.

450. Appeal hearing.

The continuing professional development committee<sup>1</sup> must hear an appeal<sup>2</sup> in public<sup>3</sup>. However, at the request of the appellant<sup>4</sup>, the committee must direct that the public be excluded from all or part of an appeal hearing<sup>5</sup>. The parties may be accompanied at an appeal hearing and may be represented by counsel or solicitor<sup>6</sup>, a professional colleague<sup>7</sup>, or, in the case of the appellant, any officer or member of any organisation of which he is a member or any member of his family<sup>8</sup>. If an appellant fails to appear or to be represented at the hearing of his appeal, the committee may proceed to consider and determine his appeal in his absence<sup>9</sup>. An appellant may elect to waive his right to appear at the hearing of his appeal, whether in person or by his representative, by giving notice to the hearings director<sup>10</sup>, in advance of the hearing, that he will not appear or be represented, in which case the committee may proceed to consider and determine the appeal in his absence<sup>11</sup>.

The parties to the proceedings<sup>12</sup> may address the committee<sup>13</sup>, give evidence<sup>14</sup>, call and examine witnesses<sup>15</sup>, and cross-examine witnesses called by the other party<sup>16</sup>. The committee may receive any evidence, whether or not it is oral or written<sup>17</sup>, is direct or hearsay<sup>18</sup>, was available to the registrar<sup>19</sup> when he made the decision against which the appeal is brought<sup>20</sup>, or would be admissible in a court of law<sup>21</sup>. The committee may also receive evidence which has not been submitted with the notice of appeal or given to the hearings director<sup>22</sup>, if it is necessary in the interests of justice for it to do so<sup>23</sup>.

The chairman of the committee must<sup>24</sup>, having consulted the legal assessor<sup>25</sup>, give such directions as to the conduct of and procedure at an appeal hearing as he considers just, provided always that the appellant has the right to address the committee last<sup>26</sup>.

453. Deliberations and determinations.

After the presentation of evidence and submissions by the parties<sup>1</sup>, the parties must withdraw and the continuing professional development committee<sup>2</sup> must deliberate in private<sup>3</sup>. Any determination required to be made by the committee must be made by majority vote of its members; if an equal number of votes is given in relation to any question, the question is deemed to have been resolved in favour of the registrar<sup>4</sup>. The chairman must announce the determination of the committee and the reasons for it in the presence of the parties<sup>5</sup>. As soon as practicable after the conclusion of the proceedings, the hearings director<sup>6</sup> must cause a written statement of the reasons for the determination of the committee to be given<sup>7</sup> to the parties<sup>8</sup>.

Where the committee determines<sup>9</sup> that:

- 666 (1) a person's name is to be erased from the register<sup>10</sup> or is not to be restored to it, the committee must serve on him a notice<sup>11</sup> of the determination and of his right to appeal against it<sup>12</sup>;

454. Appeals against decisions of the continuing professional development committee.

Where a person is notified<sup>1</sup> that a determination has been made in respect of him by the continuing professional development committee<sup>2</sup> to erase his name from the register<sup>3</sup> or not to restore his name to it<sup>4</sup>, he may, within 28 days from the service of the notification, appeal against that determination to the relevant court<sup>5</sup>.

On such an appeal<sup>6</sup>, the court may: (1) dismiss the appeal<sup>7</sup>; (2) allow the appeal and quash the determination appealed against<sup>8</sup>; (3) substitute for the determination appealed against any other determination which could have been made or given by the continuing professional development committee<sup>9</sup>; or (4) remit the case to the committee to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>10</sup>. The court may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>11</sup>. The General Dental Council<sup>12</sup> may appear as respondent on any such appeal; and for the purpose of any order as to costs in relation to any appeal the Council is deemed to be a party to it, whether it appears on the hearing of the appeal or not<sup>13</sup>.

(i) Grounds for Disciplinary Proceedings

456. Crime or serious professional misconduct.

Where the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> is satisfied that a registered dentist<sup>2</sup>, whether before or after registration<sup>3</sup>, has been convicted in the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup> of a criminal offence or has been convicted elsewhere of an offence which, if committed in England and Wales, would constitute a criminal offence<sup>5</sup>, or has been guilty of serious professional misconduct<sup>6</sup>, it may, if it thinks fit, determine that his name be erased from the register<sup>7</sup> or his registration in it be suspended for a specified period not exceeding 12 months<sup>8</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'registered dentist' see PARA 417 note 6 ante.

3 As to registration see PARA 420 et seq ante.

4 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

5 Dentists Act 1984 s 27(1)(a). The purpose of giving a disciplinary committee powers over a professional man who has been convicted of crime is not to punish him for a second time for the same offence but to protect the public who may come to him as patients and to maintain the high standards and good reputation of an honourable profession: Zideman v General Dental Council [1976] 2 All ER 334, [1976] 1 WLR 330, PC. Where a professional man has been convicted and punished for a criminal offence which also constitutes professional misconduct and the appropriate disciplinary body imposes what it decides is a proper disciplinary penalty, the court will not interfere on an appeal: Laud v General Medical Council (1980) Times, 8 March, PC. The maxim that a person ought not to be punished twice for the same offence does not apply to proceedings before a disciplinary committee: R v Statutory Committee of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, ex p Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain [1981] 2 All ER 805, [1981] 1 WLR 886, DC. If the disciplinary committee is considering erasure, it must satisfy itself that the criminal offence is of so grave a character as to show that the professional man is unfit to continue to practise: Zideman v General Dental Council supra.

6 Dentists Act 1984 s 27(1)(b). There are no closed categories of serious professional misconduct: in every case it is for the committee to decide first whether the facts alleged are proved and secondly whether, in relation to those facts, the practitioner is guilty of such misconduct: Sloan v General Medical Council [1970] 2 All ER 686, [1970] 1 WLR 1130n, PC; and see PARA 143 ante. The committee must also decide what is the most appropriate standard to which each practitioner must adhere, not a special standard greater than is ordinarily expected, but the ordinary standard of the profession: McEniff v General Dental Council [1980] 1 All ER 461, [1980] 1 WLR 328, PC. The standard to be applied is that considered appropriate for professional purposes and not, say, a purely commercial standard: Le Scroog v General Optical Council [1982] 3 All ER 257, [1982] 1 WLR 1238, PC. Serious failure to meet the standard of conduct expected of members of the dental profession is sufficient; serious professional misconduct is not restricted to dishonesty or moral turpitude: Doughty v General Dental Council [1988] AC 164, [1987] 3 All ER 843, PC. When considering whether a practitioner should be found guilty and in that event, what action it is to be taken, the committee is entitled to consider his previous conduct as a practitioner: see McCoan v General Medical Council [1964] 3 All ER 143, [1964] 1 WLR 1107, PC. See also Carmichael v General Dental Council [1990] 1 WLR 134, PC (dentist administering general anaesthetic contrary to proper practice guilty of serious professional misconduct); Valente v General Dental Council (1990) 5 BMLR 126, PC (substandard facilities in dental surgery giving rise to avoidable risks to patients justified finding of serious professional misconduct and erasure from the register).

7 For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 417 note 1 ante.

8 Dentists Act 1984 s 27(1). As a general rule, the court will be very slow to interfere with decisions of the committee on matters relating to penalty but the committee is not entitled to arrive at a decision which can reasonably be said to be wrong and unjustified. Whilst the Dentists Act 1984 s 27(1) places no restriction on the nature or gravity of the criminal offences for the conviction of which a registered dentist may have his name erased from the register or have his registration suspended, it is nevertheless proper to have regard to their nature and gravity when decisions are being taken as to the appropriate penalty and its consequences; in this respect, there is room for a distinction between cases where the penalty is imposed for conduct which the committee has held is serious professional misconduct and cases where the penalty is imposed upon proof of a conviction: Dad v General Dental Council [2000] 1 WLR 1538, 56 BMLR 130, PC.

UPDATE

456 Crime or serious professional misconduct

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced.

Where an allegation is made to the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> against a registered dentist<sup>2</sup> that his fitness to practise as a dentist is impaired<sup>3</sup>, the registrar<sup>4</sup> must refer the allegation to the investigating committee<sup>5</sup>, and may also, if he considers it appropriate, refer the allegation to the interim orders committee<sup>6</sup>. A person's fitness to practise as a dentist is to be regarded as 'impaired' by reason only of (1) misconduct; (2) deficient professional performance; (3) adverse physical or mental health; (4) a conviction or caution in the United Kingdom for a criminal offence, or a conviction elsewhere for an offence which, if committed in England and Wales, would constitute a criminal offence; (5) the person having agreed to pay a penalty as alternative to prosecution<sup>7</sup>; (6) the person having been given an absolute discharge in respect of an offence which the court considered the person to have committed<sup>8</sup>; (7) a determination by a body in the United Kingdom responsible under any enactment<sup>9</sup> for the regulation of a health or social care profession to the effect that the person's fitness to practise as a member of that profession is impaired, or a determination by a regulatory body<sup>10</sup> elsewhere to the same effect; or (8) the Independent Barring Board including the person in a barred list<sup>11</sup> (within the meaning of Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006)<sup>12</sup>.

Where the registrar refers an allegation to the investigating committee, it must investigate the allegation and determine whether the allegation ought to be considered by a practice committee<sup>13</sup>. If the investigating committee determines that the allegation ought to be considered by a practice committee, it must refer the allegation to either the professional performance committee, the health committee or the professional conduct committee, and may also refer the allegation to the interim orders committee<sup>14</sup>. On such a reference, the practice committee must either investigate the allegation and determine whether the person's fitness to practise as a dentist is impaired, or refer the allegation back to the investigating committee<sup>15</sup>. If the practice committee determines that the person's fitness to practise is impaired, it may direct erasure of his name from the register, suspension of his registration, that his registration become conditional, or that he be reprimanded<sup>16</sup>.

Provision is made as to the suspension of a person's registration and the making of a person's registration conditional<sup>17</sup>, as to restoration of a person's name to the register following erasure<sup>18</sup>, and as to the taking effect of a direction relating to erasure, suspension or conditional registration<sup>19</sup>.

458. Functions of the preliminary proceedings committee.

It is the function of the preliminary proceedings committee<sup>1</sup> to decide whether the case of a person alleged to have been convicted of a criminal offence or to have been guilty of misconduct<sup>2</sup> ought to be referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup> to be dealt with by it<sup>4</sup>.

Where, in the course of any proceedings before it, it appears to the committee that a registered dentist's<sup>5</sup> fitness to practise may be seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, the committee may refer that question to the health committee<sup>6</sup> for determination<sup>7</sup>. If, following such a reference, the health committee certifies to the preliminary proceedings committee that the fitness of the dentist to practise is not seriously impaired by reason of his condition, the preliminary proceedings committee must then resume its proceedings in the case and dispose of it<sup>8</sup>. If the health committee determines that the fitness of the dentist to practise is seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, it must certify its opinion to the preliminary proceedings committee<sup>9</sup>, and proceed to dispose of the case<sup>10</sup>.

Where, in the course of any proceedings, it appears to the preliminary proceedings committee that a dentist may be failing to meet the requirements of the rules relating to professional training and development<sup>11</sup>, the committee may refer the question of whether he is failing to meet them to the registrar<sup>12</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(6) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(ii) Preliminary Proceedings/459. Interim suspension by the preliminary proceedings committee.

459. Interim suspension by the preliminary proceedings committee.

Where the preliminary proceedings committee<sup>1</sup> decides that the case of a person who is alleged to have been convicted of a criminal offence or to have been guilty of any misconduct<sup>2</sup> ought to be referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup>, and is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of members of the public<sup>4</sup>, it may order that his registration in the register<sup>5</sup> be suspended pending the determination of his case by the professional conduct committee<sup>6</sup>. Such an order may be made notwithstanding, in the case of a person alleged to have been convicted, that any proceedings by way of appeal are pending in respect of the conviction in question<sup>7</sup>, or, in the case of a person alleged to have been guilty of any misconduct, that any criminal charge has been or might be brought in respect of the alleged misconduct<sup>8</sup>.

No order may be made unless the person concerned has been afforded an opportunity of appearing before the committee and of being heard on the question whether such an order should be made in his case<sup>9</sup>. Where an order is made, the registrar<sup>10</sup> must forthwith serve on the person concerned notification<sup>11</sup> of the order and of his right to make an application for termination of the order<sup>12</sup>. The registration of that person in the register is suspended from the time when the notification is served until such time as the order is revoked<sup>13</sup>.

Any order must be reviewed by the committee not later than three months after it is made and thereafter at intervals of not more than three months; and where the committee, on any such review, is satisfied that the continuation of the order is not necessary for the protection of members of the public, it must revoke it<sup>14</sup>. Where the case of a person to whom an order applies is determined by the professional conduct committee<sup>15</sup>, that committee must revoke the order either forthwith or if it makes an order for immediate suspension<sup>16</sup> as from the time that order takes effect<sup>17</sup>. Where an order is revoked, the registrar must serve forthwith on the person concerned a notification of that revocation<sup>18</sup>.

UPDATE

457-459 Preliminary proceedings committee

Preliminary proceedings committee abolished: Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011; see PARA 395.

459 Interim suspension by the preliminary proceedings committee

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced.

Where a committee<sup>1</sup> is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of the person concerned, for the person's registration to be suspended or to be made subject to conditions, the committee may make an interim suspension order<sup>2</sup> or an order for interim conditional registration<sup>3</sup>. A committee is required to review an interim suspension order or an order for interim conditional registration it has made within six months and every six months<sup>4</sup> thereafter, and may review the order where new evidence relevant to it becomes available<sup>5</sup>. Where an interim suspension order or an order for interim conditional registration has been made in relation to a person<sup>6</sup>, the committee that made the order may (1) revoke the order<sup>7</sup>; (2) make an order adding to, varying or revoking any condition imposed by the order<sup>8</sup>; (3) if satisfied that to do so is necessary for the protection of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of the person concerned (a) replace an interim suspension order with an order for interim conditional registration having effect for the remainder of the term of the former<sup>9</sup>, or (b) replace an order for interim conditional registration with an interim suspension order having effect for the remainder of the term of the former<sup>10</sup>. The High Court is empowered to terminate an interim suspension order, to revoke or vary an order for interim conditional registration, and to vary the period specified in the either type of order<sup>11</sup>.

1 Ie the professional conduct committee, the professional performance committee, the health committee or the interim orders committee: Dentists Act 1984 s 32(1) (s 32 substituted by SI 2005/2011). The interim orders committee may exercise functions under the 1984 Act s 32 only in relation to a person whose case has been referred to it by the registrar under s 27(5)(b), by the investigating committee under s 27A(4)(b) or (6)(b), or by a practice committee in accordance with rules under Sch 3 para 7(1)(c): s 32(2). A practice committee may exercise functions under s 32 only in relation to a person whose case has been referred to them by the Investigating Committee under s 27A(4)(a) or (6)(a), or by another practice committee in accordance with rules under Sch 3 para 7(1)(a): s 32(3). As to the committees of the General Dental Council see PARA 395.

2     le an order that his registration in the register be suspended during such period not exceeding 18 months as may be specified in the order: ibid s 32(4)(a). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 417 NOTE 1.

3     le an order that his registration be conditional on his compliance, during such period not exceeding 18 months as may be specified in the order, with such conditions so specified as the committee thinks fit to impose: ibid s 32(4)(b). On making an order under s 32, the registrar must forthwith serve notification of the order on the person to whose registration it relates, and that order takes effect from the time on which such notification is served: s 32(7). As to the service and sending of notifications under the 1984 Act see s 50A and PARA 401A. The General Dental Council may apply to the High Court for an order made by a committee under s 32(4) to be extended, or further extended, and on such an application the court may extend, or further extend, for up to 12 months the period for which the order has effect: see s 32(8)-(10), (13). As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq.

4     See ibid s 32(5)(a)(i). However, the committee must review its decision after three months if the person concerned so requests: see s 32(5)(a)(ii).

5     See ibid s 32(5)(b). See further s 32(11).

6     le under any provision of ibid s 32.

7     Ibid s 32(6)(a).

8     Ibid s 32(6)(b).

9     Ibid s 32(6)(c).

10    Ibid s 32(6)(d). The General Dental Council may apply to the High Court for an order made by a committee under s 32(6) to be extended, or further extended, and on such an application the court may extend, or further extend, for up to 12 months the period for which the order has effect: see s 32(8)-(10), (13).

NOTE 2--1984 Act s 2(2) substituted: Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011, art 4(1)(a).

TEXT AND NOTES 3-7--SI 2003/1081 revoked: SI 2006/1665. See now the General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Rules Order of Council 2009, SI 2009/1813.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(6) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/ (iii) The Professional Conduct Committee/461. Functions of the professional conduct committee.

461. Functions of the professional conduct committee.

It is the duty of the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> to hold an inquiry into any case of a registered dentist<sup>2</sup> alleged to have been convicted of a criminal offence or to have been guilty of misconduct<sup>3</sup> referred to it by the preliminary proceedings committee<sup>4</sup>. However, if, after the preliminary proceedings committee has referred a case to the professional conduct committee, but before the professional conduct committee has opened its inquiry into the case, it appears to the professional conduct committee that the question whether an inquiry be held needs further consideration, it may refer the case back to the preliminary proceedings committee for consideration of that question<sup>5</sup>. Subject to this, where the professional conduct committee is satisfied that a registered dentist, whether before or after registration<sup>6</sup>, has been convicted of a criminal offence or been guilty of serious professional misconduct, it may, if it thinks fit, determine that his name be erased from the register<sup>7</sup> or that his registration in it be suspended for such period not exceeding 12 months as may be specified in the determination<sup>8</sup>. Where the committee so determines, the registrar<sup>9</sup> must serve on the person concerned a notification<sup>10</sup> of the committee's determination and of his right to appeal against it<sup>11</sup>.

If the committee, on making any such determination in respect of a person, is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of members of the public, or that it would be in the best interests of that person to do so, it may order that his registration in the register be suspended forthwith; and in that event his registration in the register is suspended from the time when the order is made until the time when the period for bringing an appeal against the determination expires or, if such an appeal is brought, the appeal is determined or withdrawn or is struck out for want of prosecution<sup>12</sup>. A person whose registration has been suspended forthwith may apply to the court<sup>13</sup> for an order terminating the suspension, and the decision of the court on any such application is final<sup>14</sup>.

While a person's registration in the register is suspended by virtue of any determination or order, he is treated as not being registered in the register, notwithstanding that his name still appears in it<sup>15</sup>.

Where in the course of any proceedings before it, it appears to the committee that a registered dentist's fitness to practise may be seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, the committee may refer that question to the health committee<sup>16</sup> for determination<sup>17</sup>. If, following such a reference, the health committee certifies to the professional conduct committee that the fitness of the dentist to practise is not seriously impaired by reason of his condition, the professional conduct committee must then resume its proceedings in the case and dispose of it<sup>18</sup>. If the health committee determines that the fitness of the dentist to practise is seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, it must certify its opinion to the professional conduct committee<sup>19</sup>, and proceed to dispose of the case<sup>20</sup>.

Where, in the course of any proceedings, it appears to the professional conduct committee that a dentist may be failing to meet the requirements of the rules relating to professional training and development<sup>21</sup>, the committee may refer the question of whether he is failing to meet them to the registrar<sup>22</sup>.

463. Legal assessor to the professional conduct committee and the health committee.

In all proceedings before the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> and the health committee<sup>2</sup> there must be an assessor to the committee, appointed by the General Dental Council<sup>3</sup>, for the purpose of advising the committee on questions of law<sup>4</sup>. The assessor must be a person who has a ten year general qualification<sup>5</sup>, an advocate or solicitor in Scotland of at least ten years' standing<sup>6</sup>, or a member of the Bar of Northern Ireland or solicitor of the Supreme Court of Northern Ireland of at least ten years' standing<sup>7</sup>. An assessor may be appointed either generally or for any particular proceedings or class of proceedings, and holds and vacates office in accordance with the terms of the instrument under which he is appointed<sup>8</sup>. The Council may pay to persons appointed to act as assessors such remuneration as the Council may determine<sup>9</sup>.

The Lord Chancellor may by statutory instrument make rules as to the functions of legal assessors; and in particular such rules may contain such provisions as appear to the Lord Chancellor expedient for securing: (1) that where an assessor advises the committee on any question of law as to evidence, procedure or any other matter specified in the rules, he must do so in the presence of every party to the proceedings, or every person representing such a party, who appears at the proceedings or, if the advice is tendered after the committee has begun to deliberate as to its findings, that every such party or person must be informed what advice the assessor has tendered (Dentists Act 1984 Sch 3 para 5(2)(a)); (2) that every such party or person must be informed if in any case the committee does not accept the advice of the assessor on any such question (Sch 3 para 5(2)(b)); and such incidental and supplementary provisions as appear to the Lord Chancellor expedient (Sch 3 para 5(2)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such rules had been made under these provisions but, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Legal Assessor) Rules 1957, SI 1957/1470 (amended by the Dentists Act 1984 s 55(4), Sch 7 para 4) (see PARA 464 post) have effect as if so made. It is the duty of the legal assessor<sup>1</sup> to be present at all proceedings before the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup> in disciplinary cases, and at any other proceedings at which his attendance is required by the committee, and to advise the committee on questions of law arising in the proceedings which may be referred to him by the committee<sup>3</sup>. He must also inform the committee of any irregularity in the conduct of the proceedings which may come to his knowledge, and advise it of his own motion where it appears that a mistake of law may otherwise be made<sup>4</sup>.

In such proceedings, the advice of the legal assessor must be tendered to the committee in the presence of every party<sup>5</sup>, or person representing a party, who appears at the proceedings<sup>6</sup>. If, however, a question is referred by the committee to the assessor after the committee has begun to deliberate as to its findings, the advice may be given in the absence of the parties if the committee thinks that it would be prejudicial to the discharge of its duties for the advice to be given in their presence; in that case every party or person must be personally informed by the legal assessor as to, and supplied with a copy of, the question put to and the advice tendered by the assessor<sup>7</sup>. Further, every such party or person must be informed if the committee does not accept the advice the assessor has tendered, and must be given a copy of the record made of the question referred, the advice given and the refusal to accept it<sup>8</sup>. Copies of written advice<sup>9</sup> must be available to parties to the proceedings who do not appear at the proceedings<sup>10</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(6) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iv) Disciplinary Proceedings/465. Notice of inquiry.

465. Notice of inquiry.

In a misconduct case<sup>1</sup>, as soon as may be after the case has been referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup>, the solicitor<sup>3</sup> must send to the respondent<sup>4</sup> a notice of inquiry<sup>5</sup>, specifying the matters alleged against him in the form of a charge or charges and stating the day<sup>6</sup>, time and place at which the committee will hold an inquiry into these matters<sup>7</sup>. In any case in which there is a complainant<sup>8</sup>, the solicitor must send the complainant a copy of the notice<sup>9</sup>. The committee may not hold an inquiry unless a notice of inquiry has been served on the respondent, or unless it is satisfied that all reasonable efforts have been taken to serve the notice and that the substance of the matters alleged in it against the respondent and the likelihood of an inquiry resulting from it are well known to him<sup>10</sup>.

1 'Misconduct case' means the case of a person liable to have his name erased from the register or to have it suspended under the Dentists Act 1984 s 27 (see PARA 456 ante): General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 1(2).

2 As to the professional conduct committee see PARA 460 ante.

3 'Solicitor' means the person who for the time being holds the appropriate office on behalf of the General Dental Council: General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 1(2).

4 'Respondent' means any registered dentist who is alleged to be liable to have his name erased from the register or his registration suspended or in respect of whom a question has arisen whether an entry in the register is fraudulent, or any body corporate which is the subject of proceedings for the removal of its right to carry on the business of dentistry: ibid r 1(2). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 417 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'registered dentist' see PARA 417 note 6 ante. For the meaning of 'business of dentistry' see PARA 405 ante. As to the erasure from the register of fraudulent entries see PARA 442 ante. As to the withdrawal of the right to carry on the business of dentistry see PARA 408 ante.

5 The notice must be, as nearly as may be, in the form set out in ibid Appendix A: r 3(1).

6 Except with the agreement of the respondent the inquiry must not be held on any day earlier than 28 days after the date of posting of the notice: ibid r 3(4).

7 Ibid r 3(1). The notice must be accompanied by a copy of the General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984; and the notice and the copy of the rules must be sent in a registered letter to the respondent at his registered or last known address: General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 3(1). As to the procedure if the notice is defective see r 4(2), (3); and PARA 472 post.

8 'Complainant' means the body or person by whom a complaint has been made to the General Dental Council alleging that a dentist has been convicted of a crime or been guilty of serious professional misconduct or giving rise to a question whether an entry in the register is fraudulent or whether the committee should withdraw from a body corporate its right to carry on the business of dentistry: ibid r 1(2).

9 Ibid r 3(2). The notice must be accompanied by a copy of the General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984: General Dental Council: General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 3(2).

468. Presence of parties and public.

In general, all proceedings before the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> must take place in the presence of all the parties<sup>2</sup> to the proceedings who appear, and must be held in public<sup>3</sup>. Subject to certain exceptions<sup>4</sup>, the committee may at any time and for any purpose during or after the hearing of any proceedings deliberate in private with or without the legal assessor<sup>5</sup>. In addition, if it appears to the committee that in the interests of justice or for any other special reason the public should be excluded from any proceedings or part of them, the committee may direct that the public is to be excluded, but such a direction may not extend to the announcement of a determination of the committee<sup>6</sup>. For the purposes of any proceedings<sup>1</sup> before it, the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup> may administer oaths<sup>3</sup>, and any party<sup>4</sup> to the proceedings may require a witness to attend to give evidence or to produce documents<sup>5</sup> but no person can be compelled to produce any document which he could not be compelled to produce on the trial of a claim<sup>6</sup>.

The committee may receive oral, documentary or other evidence of any fact which appears to it relevant to the inquiry into the case before it, but where a fact which it is sought to prove or the form in which any evidence is tendered is such that it would not be admissible in criminal proceedings in an English court<sup>7</sup>, the committee may not receive evidence of that fact or in that form unless, after consultation with the legal assessor<sup>8</sup>, the committee is satisfied that it is desirable in the interests of justice to receive it having regard to the difficulty and expense of obtaining evidence which would be admissible<sup>9</sup>. The committee may cause any person to be called as a witness in any proceedings before it whether or not the parties consent, and questions may be put to any witness by the committee through the chairman or by the legal assessor with the leave of the chairman<sup>10</sup>.

Where any respondent<sup>11</sup> or applicant has supplied to the committee, or to the registrar<sup>12</sup> on its behalf, the name of any person to whom reference may be made confidentially as to his character or conduct, the committee may consider any information received from that person in consequence of the reference without disclosing it to the respondent or applicant<sup>13</sup>.

473. Voting.

Any question put to the vote must be put in the form of a motion, and the chairman of the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> must call upon the members present to vote for or against the motion by raising their hands and must declare that the motion appears to him to have been carried or not carried as the case may be<sup>2</sup>. If any member challenges the result so declared, the registrar<sup>3</sup> must read the roll, each member saying 'For' or 'Against' as his name is called<sup>4</sup>. #### 474. Procedure at hearings.

At an inquiry held by the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> in a misconduct case<sup>2</sup>, the charge must be read in the presence of the parties<sup>3</sup>, after which the respondent<sup>4</sup> may object to the charge, or any part of it, on a point of law and any other party may reply<sup>5</sup>. If the objection is upheld, no further proceedings may be taken on that charge or that part of the charge<sup>6</sup>.

Where the case arises out of a complaint or information from which it appears that a registered dentist<sup>7</sup> has been convicted of a criminal offence<sup>8</sup>, the complainant<sup>9</sup> or, if no complainant appears, the solicitor<sup>10</sup> then adduces evidence of the convictions which form the basis of the charge<sup>11</sup>. Where the case arises out of a complaint or information which raises the question whether the conduct of a registered dentist constitutes serious professional misconduct<sup>12</sup>, the complainant or the solicitor opens the case against the respondent<sup>13</sup> and adduces evidence<sup>14</sup> of the facts which he alleges constitute serious professional misconduct<sup>15</sup>.

If, in a case relating to conviction, the respondent appears and: (1) does not admit all the convictions; or (2) submits that the conviction was outside the United Kingdom<sup>16</sup> for an offence which would not be an offence in England and Wales, he may then adduce evidence concerning any such conviction, and may address the committee in that regard<sup>17</sup>.

Where the respondent appears in a case relating to conduct, he may at the close of the case against him submit either that no sufficient evidence has been adduced to enable the committee to find the facts alleged against him proved<sup>18</sup>, or that the facts alleged do not constitute serious professional misconduct<sup>19</sup>, or he may make both these submissions<sup>20</sup>. Where any such submission is made, any other party may reply to it<sup>21</sup>. The committee must then consider the submission and determine whether it should be upheld, and, if it so determines, it must record and the chairman must announce its findings that the respondent is not guilty of serious professional misconduct<sup>22</sup>. The respondent may adduce evidence in answer to any charge concerning which evidence has been adduced, and, whether he adduces evidence or not, he may address the committee<sup>23</sup>.

Where a respondent adduces evidence, the complainant or the solicitor may adduce evidence in rebuttal<sup>24</sup> and, in the case of charges of serious professional misconduct, may address the committee in reply to the respondent's case<sup>25</sup>.

475. The committee's determination.

At the conclusion of the proceedings in a misconduct case<sup>1</sup>, the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup> must consider and determine whether the conviction or the conduct complained of has been proved<sup>3</sup>. If it so finds, the chairman must announce the decision and invite the complainant<sup>4</sup> or the solicitor<sup>5</sup> to address the committee and adduce evidence<sup>6</sup> as to the circumstances leading up to the conviction, or the circumstances leading up to the conduct in question and the extent to which such conduct is indicative of serious professional misconduct<sup>7</sup> and, in both such cases, as to the character and previous history of the respondent<sup>8</sup>, and must then invite the respondent to address the committee by way of mitigation and adduce the like evidence<sup>9</sup>.

Except where in a case relating to conduct the respondent has been found not guilty on all charges, the committee must next consider and determine whether it is sufficient to conclude the case, and if the committee determines not to conclude the case, it must then consider and determine whether to postpone judgment<sup>10</sup>. If the committee determines to postpone judgment, judgment stands postponed until such future meeting of the committee as it may determine<sup>11</sup>. If the committee determines not to postpone judgment, it must consider and determine whether by reason of the convictions proved against the respondent or of his serious professional misconduct it is sufficient to direct the registrar<sup>12</sup> to suspend the respondent's registration for a specified period not exceeding 12 months<sup>13</sup> or, if it does not direct suspension, it must direct the registrar to erase the respondent's name from the register<sup>14</sup>.

If the committee does not find the conviction or conduct proved, the chairman must announce its determination or record its finding accordingly<sup>15</sup>.

If in any case an order has been made by the preliminary proceedings committee under the Dentists Act 1984 s 32 (see PARA 459 ante) for interim suspension, the professional conduct committee must, when it has determined the case, in accordance with s 32(6) (see PARA 459 ante) revoke such order: General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 14. 9 General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 11(1), (2). In a case relating to serious professional misconduct, the committee must determine whether in relation to the facts proved the dentist is guilty of such misconduct and, if it determines that he is not so guilty, it must record a finding to that effect: r 11(2). When considering whether a practitioner should be found guilty and, in that event, what action it is to be taken, the committee is entitled to consider his previous conduct as a practitioner: see McCoan v General Medical Council [1964] 3 All ER 143, [1964] 1 WLR 1107, PC.

10 General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 11(3). If judgment is postponed, the solicitor must give the parties six weeks' notice of the resumed hearing, inviting the respondent to submit any statement or statutory declarations relating to his conduct since the hearing and, unless the president otherwise directs, inviting the respondent to submit the names of referees as to his character and conduct: see r 16(1)(a). Copies of the notice and statement or statutory declaration must be sent to the complainant, who may himself make or submit a statement or declaration: r 16(1)(b). At the resumed hearing, the committee may further postpone judgment if it thinks fit: see r 16(1)(c)-(e). At any resumed hearing, any new charge against the respondent must be dealt with before proceeding to the question of judgment on the prior charge: r 16(2). Proceedings at a resumed hearing are not invalidated by the fact that the committee is differently constituted: r 25. For the meaning of 'party' see PARA 462 note 6 ante. As to the president of the General Dental Council see PARA 394 ante; and as to the exercise of his powers under the rules see PARA 472 note 1 ante. 11 General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 11(4). Since the committee has a discretion whether to erase from the register, the conduct of a dentist after conviction is a relevant factor for the committee's consideration, and it may properly, in an appropriate case, postpone sentence for a period during which the dentist would have an opportunity to show whether he has rehabilitated himself: Ziderman v General Dental Council [1976] 2 All ER 334, [1976] 1 WLR 330, PC. 13 General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 11(5). If in any case the committee determines to suspend the registration of a respondent or to erase his name from the register, the committee must then consider and determine also whether it is necessary for the protection of members of the public or would be in the best interests of the respondent to order, in accordance with the Dentists Act 1984 s 30(3) (see PARA 461 ante) that his registration is to be suspended forthwith: General Dental Council Professional Conduct Committee (Procedure) Rules 1984, SI 1984/1517, r 12. #### 476. Procedure in cases of fraudulent registration.

Where any question whether an entry in the register<sup>1</sup> is fraudulent is referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup>, the solicitor<sup>3</sup> must send the respondent<sup>4</sup> a notice of inquiry<sup>5</sup>. The procedure at the inquiry is similar to that at an inquiry relating to serious professional misconduct<sup>6</sup>. If the committee determines that the entry has been proved to its satisfaction to have been made fraudulently, it must order<sup>7</sup> that the entry be erased from the register, and the chairman must announce the determination<sup>8</sup>. Whether or not it so finds, if the committee is satisfied that the entry was incorrectly made, it may recommend the General Dental Council<sup>9</sup> to amend the entry accordingly<sup>10</sup>.

477. Procedure in cases relating to bodies corporate.

Where a case is referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> for inquiry whether to direct that the right to carry on the business of dentistry<sup>2</sup> is to cease to extend to any body corporate<sup>3</sup>, the solicitor<sup>4</sup> must post<sup>5</sup> to the company's registered office a notice of inquiry giving at least 28 days' notice of the day, time and place fixed for the hearing<sup>6</sup>, setting out the purpose of the inquiry, specifying the causes of complaint<sup>7</sup>, and inviting the company to appear<sup>8</sup>. A copy of the notice must also be posted to any complainant<sup>9</sup>, to every person named in it, to every person who appears<sup>10</sup> to be a director of the company, and to such other person or body as the president of the General Dental Council<sup>11</sup> may direct<sup>12</sup>.

The inquiry opens with a statement by the chairman of the committee describing its purpose, after which the complainant, if any, appears or the solicitor opens the case and adduces evidence<sup>13</sup>. The company and any other party<sup>14</sup> appearing may then adduce evidence and address the committee<sup>15</sup>.

On the conclusion of the proceedings, the committee may either postpone its determination, or may determine and announce its decision whether or not to direct the withdrawal of the body's right to carry on the business of dentistry<sup>16</sup>. If it decides to postpone its determination, the parties must be given at least six weeks' notice of the resumed hearing; and at that hearing the committee may further postpone, or may make and announce its determination<sup>17</sup>.

478. Appeals against decisions of the professional conduct committee.

Where a person is notified<sup>1</sup> that a determination has been made in respect of him by the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup> to erase his name from the register<sup>3</sup> or to suspend his registration<sup>4</sup>, he may, within 28 days from the service of the notification, appeal against that determination or direction to the relevant court<sup>5</sup>.

On such an appeal<sup>6</sup>, the court may: (1) dismiss the appeal<sup>7</sup>; (2) allow the appeal and quash the determination appealed against<sup>8</sup>; (3) substitute for the determination appealed against any other determination which could have been made or given by the professional conduct committee<sup>9</sup>; or (4) remit the case to the professional conduct committee to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>10</sup>. The court may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>11</sup>. The General Dental Council<sup>12</sup> may appear as respondent on any such appeal; and for the purpose of any order as to costs in relation to any appeal the Council is deemed to be a party to it, whether it appears on the hearing of the appeal or not<sup>13</sup>.

As to the High Court of Justice in England and Wales see COURTS vol 10 (Reissue) PARA 602 et seq. Where no appeal is brought, within 28 days from the service of the notification of the determination, against any determination<sup>1</sup> by the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup> to erase a person's name from the register<sup>3</sup> or to suspend his registration, the determination takes effect at the expiry of that period<sup>4</sup>. However, if the professional conduct committee, on making any determination<sup>6</sup>, is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of members of the public, or that it would be in the best interests of the person concerned, to do so, it may order that his registration in the register be suspended forthwith; and in that event his registration in the register is suspended from the time when the order is made until the time when the period for bringing an appeal against the determination expires or, if such an appeal is brought, the appeal is determined or withdrawn or is struck out for want of prosecution<sup>7</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTES--Provision is now made for erasure, immediate suspension or immediate conditional registration of a person whose fitness to practise has been determined as being impaired or whose entry in the register has been incorrectly made: 1984 Act s 30 (substituted by SI 2005/2011).

480. Restoration to the register following erasure.

Where a person's name has been erased from the register<sup>1</sup> in consequence of a determination by the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup>, his name may not again be entered in the register except by direction of the General Dental Council<sup>3</sup>. The Council may direct that a person's name be restored to the register<sup>4</sup> provided that no application may be made within ten months from the date of erasure<sup>5</sup> or within ten months from a previous application<sup>6</sup>; and the applicant is not entitled to have his name restored to the register until he has satisfied the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup> as to the specified matters<sup>8</sup> and as to his meeting the specified requirements<sup>9</sup>. The Council must refer any application to the professional conduct committee for determination<sup>10</sup>.

The professional conduct committee may determine its own procedure on the hearing of the application<sup>11</sup>, save that it must afford the applicant an opportunity of being heard<sup>12</sup> and of adducing evidence<sup>13</sup>. The committee may require any evidence which it thinks necessary concerning the applicant's identity or character or his conduct since his name was erased from the register, and for this purpose it may receive written or oral evidence, including any observations on the applicant which may be offered by the body granting the diploma by virtue of which he was registered<sup>14</sup>.

As a general principle, where a practitioner has been convicted of a serious criminal offence or offences, he should not be permitted to resume his practice until he has satisfactorily completed his sentence, and only circumstances which plainly justify a different course should permit otherwise; such circumstances could arise in connection with a period of disqualification from driving or time allowed by the court for the payment of a fine. The rationale for the principle is not that it can serve to punish the practitioner whilst serving his sentence, but that good standing in a profession must be earned if the reputation of the profession is to be maintained: Council for the Regulation of Healthcare Professionals v General Dental Council [2005] EWHC 87 (Admin), [2005] All ER (D) 47 (Feb).

481. Constitution of the health committee.

There is a committee of the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> known as the health committee<sup>2</sup>. The membership of the health committee consists of five appropriate persons<sup>3</sup>, of whom at least two must be registered dentists<sup>4</sup> and at least two must be lay persons<sup>5</sup>. When the committee is exercising a fitness to practise function<sup>6</sup>, no person may be appointed as a member of the committee who, prior to his membership of the committee, had any dealings in relation to the matter in respect of which the committee is exercising its fitness to practise function<sup>7</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTES 3-7--SI 2003/1081 revoked: SI 2006/1665. See now the General Dental Council (Constitution of Committees) Rules Order of Council 2009, SI 2009/1813.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(6) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(vi) The Health Committee/482. Functions of the health committee.

482. Functions of the health committee.

Where the fitness of a registered dentist<sup>1</sup> to practise is judged by the health committee<sup>2</sup> to be seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, the committee may, if it thinks fit, direct: (1) that his registration in the register<sup>3</sup> be suspended for such period not exceeding 12 months as may be specified in the direction<sup>4</sup>; or (2) that his registration be conditional on his compliance, during such period not exceeding three years as may be specified in the direction, with such requirements so specified as the committee thinks fit to impose for the protection of the public or in his own interests<sup>5</sup>. Where a registered dentist whose registration is for the time being conditional is judged by the committee to have failed to comply with any of those requirements, the committee may, if it thinks fit, direct that his registration in the register be suspended during such period not exceeding 12 months as may be specified in the direction<sup>6</sup>.

Where the committee has given a direction for suspension<sup>7</sup>, it may subsequently direct that: (a) the current period of suspension be extended for such further period from the time when it would otherwise expire as may be specified in the direction<sup>8</sup>; (b) the registration of the person whose registration is suspended be, as from the expiry of the current period of suspension, conditional on his compliance, during such period not exceeding three years as may be specified in the direction, with such requirements so specified as the committee has power to impose<sup>9</sup>; but the committee must not so extend any period of suspension by more than 12 months at a time<sup>10</sup>.

Where the committee have given a direction for conditional registration, it may subsequently revoke that direction or do one or more of the following<sup>11</sup>: (i) revoke any of the requirements imposed by the direction<sup>12</sup>; (ii) direct that the requirements be varied<sup>13</sup>; or (iii) direct that the current period of conditional registration be extended for a further period from the time when it would otherwise expire<sup>14</sup>. However, the committee must not so extend any period of conditional registration by more than 12 months at a time<sup>15</sup>.

Where the committee gives any of the above directions, the registrar<sup>16</sup> must forthwith serve on the person to whom it applies a notification of the direction and of his right to appeal against it<sup>17</sup>; and where the committee revokes<sup>18</sup> any direction or requirement of a direction the registrar must forthwith serve on the person to whom the direction applied or, as the case may be, applies a notification of the revocation<sup>19</sup>. Where a direction or order for suspension or a direction for conditional registration takes effect in relation to any person, the registrar must make a note in the register of that fact and of the period for which that person's registration is to be suspended or subject to conditions by virtue of the direction or order<sup>20</sup>.

If the committee is satisfied, on giving a direction for suspension<sup>21</sup>, that it is necessary to do so for the protection of the public or that it is in the best interests of the person concerned, it may order that his registration be suspended forthwith; and, in that case, his registration is suspended from the time that the order is made until the expiry of the time limit for bringing an appeal, or if an appeal is brought, until it is determined or withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution<sup>22</sup>. On the making of such an order, the registrar must forthwith serve on the person to whom it applies notification<sup>23</sup> of the order and of his right to make an application for an order terminating the suspension<sup>24</sup>.

While a person's registration in the register is suspended by virtue of any direction or order, he is treated as not being registered in the register, notwithstanding that his name still appears in it<sup>25</sup>.

Where, in the course of any proceedings, it appears to the committee that a dentist may be failing to meet the requirements of the rules relating to professional training and development<sup>26</sup>, the committee may refer the question of whether he is failing to meet them to the registrar<sup>27</sup>.

Where a direction under s 28(2), (3) or (4)(c) (see the text to notes 7-10, 14 infra) is given while a person's registration is subject to conditions or suspended by virtue of a direction under the Dentists Act 1984, his registration continues to be conditional or suspended throughout any period which may intervene between the time when (but for this provision) his registration would cease to be conditional or suspended, as the case may be, and the time when the period for bringing an appeal against the direction under s 29 (see PARA 478 ante) expires or, if such an appeal is brought, the appeal is determined or withdrawn or is struck out for want of prosecution: s 31(1). If, however, on the determination of any appeal any such direction takes effect after the time when (but for s 31(1)) the current period of conditional registration or suspension referred to in s 28(2), (3) or (4)(c) would have ended, the period for which that direction is to have effect is treated as having started to run at that time: s 31(2).

483. Appeals against the decisions of the health committee.

Where a person is notified<sup>1</sup> that a direction has been given<sup>2</sup> in respect of him by the health committee<sup>3</sup> to suspend his registration in the register<sup>4</sup> or to make his registration conditional<sup>5</sup>, he may, within 28 days from the service of the notification, appeal against that determination to the relevant court<sup>6</sup>.

On such an appeal<sup>7</sup>, the court may: (1) dismiss the appeal<sup>8</sup>; (2) allow the appeal and quash the determination appealed against<sup>9</sup>; (3) substitute for the determination appealed against any other determination which could have been made or given by the health committee<sup>10</sup>; or (4) remit the case to the committee to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>11</sup>. The court may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>12</sup>. The General Dental Council<sup>13</sup> may appear as respondent on any such appeal; and for the purpose of any order as to costs in relation to any appeal the Council is deemed to be a party to it, whether it appears on the hearing of the appeal or not<sup>14</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/3. THE PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY AND DENTAL PRACTICE/(6) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(vi) The Health Committee/485. Procedure before the health committee.

485. Procedure before the health committee.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules as to the procedure to be followed and rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before the health committee<sup>2</sup>. The rules must make provision for requiring that, before any case is considered by the committee<sup>3</sup>, it must have been considered by a member of the Council appointed for the purpose by the Council and have been referred by that person to the committee<sup>4</sup>. The rules must also make provision for the appointment of medical examiners and medical assessors to assist the committee in proceedings before it, and for the remuneration of such persons<sup>5</sup>. For the purposes of any proceedings before it, the health committee may administer oaths<sup>6</sup>, and any party<sup>7</sup> to the proceedings may require a witness to attend to give evidence or to produce documents<sup>8</sup>, but no person may be compelled to produce any document which he could not be compelled to produce on the trial of a claim<sup>9</sup>.

The committee may consider only cases referred to it by the president of the General Dental Council<sup>10</sup>, the preliminary proceedings committee<sup>11</sup> or the professional conduct committee<sup>12</sup>. The president, or some person nominated by him, may make inquiries into the case, including obtaining a medical opinion from an assessor<sup>13</sup>, and inviting the dentist in question to submit to a medical examination<sup>14</sup>. The dentist must be informed that a question has been raised as to his fitness, and must be supplied with any relevant material intended to be supplied to the health committee<sup>15</sup>. The president may refer the case to the committee if the dentist does not respond to the notice within 28 days, or refuses to submit to a medical examination, or as a result of such examination<sup>16</sup>. On a referral from the preliminary proceedings committee or the professional conduct committee, the dentist may be invited to submit to medical examination, a report of which is made to the health committee<sup>17</sup>.

The dentist must be sent a notice of referral to the health committee at least 28 days<sup>18</sup> before the committee meets to determine the case<sup>19</sup>. Provision is made as to prior notice to be given of certain oral evidence; additionally, copies of certain evidence must be sent to members of the committee and medical assessors<sup>20</sup> before the meeting<sup>21</sup>. The president may postpone or cancel the inquiry<sup>22</sup>. The dentist is entitled to be present and represented or accompanied<sup>23</sup>, and the person or body who originally raised the question of the dentist's fitness may be present and represented by a solicitor or counsel<sup>24</sup>. After the presentation of evidence and the examination of any witnesses<sup>25</sup>, the proceedings may be adjourned to obtain further medical or other evidence; and the committee may postpone its finding as to the dentist's fitness to practise<sup>26</sup>.

The committee must consider whether the dentist's fitness to practise is seriously impaired by his physical or mental condition<sup>27</sup>, and if so, whether the imposition of conditions on his registration is sufficient, or suspension for not more than 12 months is necessary<sup>28</sup>.

The committee, which sits in private, may adjourn its proceedings or meetings at any time, and may conduct its deliberations in camera<sup>29</sup>. A shorthand record of the proceedings must be made, and, on application and payment of the proper charge, the dentist must be furnished with a copy of the shorthand notes of the proceedings which he was entitled to attend, whether he so attended or not<sup>30</sup>. Provision is made as to the method of voting on any question to be determined by the committee<sup>31</sup>; and if the votes are equal the question is deemed to have been resolved in favour of the dentist<sup>32</sup>.

As to the health committee see PARA 481 ante. As to the legal assessor to the committee see PARA 463 ante.

The Council must in particular make rules for securing that notice that the proceedings are to be brought is given, at such time and in such manner as may be specified in the rules, to the person to whose registration the proceedings relate; that any party to the proceedings is entitled to be heard, if he so requires, by the committee in question; and for enabling any party to the proceedings to be represented by counsel or solicitor, or (if the rules so provide and the party so elects) by a person of such other description as may be specified in the rules: Dentists Act 1984 Sch 3 para 2(2)(a)-(c). Before making any such rules, the Council must consult such bodies of persons representing dentists as appear to it requisite to be consulted: Sch 3 para 2(3). The rules do not come into force until approved by order of the Privy Council contained in a statutory instrument, and the Privy Council may approve such rules either as submitted to it or subject to such modifications as appear to it requisite; but where the Privy Council proposes to approve any rules subject to modifications, it must notify to the General Dental Council the modifications it proposes to make and it must consider any observations of the Council on the modifications: Sch 3 para 2(4). ## (7) DENTAL AUXILIARIES

(i) Permitted Dental Work

486. Classes of dental auxiliaries.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> may by statutory instrument<sup>2</sup> make regulations<sup>3</sup> for the establishment of classes of dental auxiliaries to undertake dental work of kinds prescribed by the regulations, being dental work amounting to the practice of dentistry<sup>4</sup>. The regulations may in particular make provision as respects any class so established for prescribing the qualifications for becoming a member of that class<sup>5</sup>, for prescribing the dental work which a member of that class may undertake and the conditions, if any, under which he may undertake it<sup>6</sup>, and for the establishment of a roll or record for that class<sup>7</sup>. The regulations must be so framed as to secure that provisions in the regulations as to the arrangements to be made for training persons to become members of a class of dental auxiliaries do not materially impair the facilities for the training of dental students<sup>8</sup>. The regulations may make provision for the appointment of persons to visit places providing courses of instruction approved by the Council or to attend examinations so approved by it, and for the remuneration of such persons<sup>9</sup>. The Council may not make any regulations unless a draft of those regulations, which has been approved by the Privy Council<sup>10</sup>, has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament<sup>11</sup>.

If, after regulations have been made establishing a class of dental auxiliaries, the General Dental Council proposes to make further regulations varying the provisions relating to that class or abolishing that class, the further regulations must be so framed as to secure that a person belonging to that class at the time when the further regulations are made is still permitted to do any dental work of a kind which he was previously permitted to do<sup>12</sup>.

The prohibition on the practice of dentistry<sup>1</sup> by unqualified persons<sup>2</sup> does not prevent a person doing anything which he is permitted to do by regulations establishing a class of dental auxiliaries<sup>3</sup>, and the prohibition on a person holding himself out as practising or as being prepared to practise dentistry<sup>4</sup> does not apply to a person for the time being permitted by the regulations to practise dentistry of any particular kind<sup>5</sup>. In addition, dental work is not treated as amounting to the practice of dentistry for the purpose of those prohibitions if it is undertaken under the direct personal supervision of a registered dentist<sup>6</sup> by a person as part of a course of instruction he is following, or as part of examinations he must pass, in order to qualify for membership of a class of dental auxiliaries<sup>7</sup>.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> may approve courses of instruction and examinations held by dental authorities<sup>2</sup> or such other bodies as the Council thinks fit for the purpose of training and examining dental auxiliaries<sup>3</sup>, and the arrangements for such training and examinations<sup>4</sup>. A certificate granted by a dental authority or other body providing approved examinations for a particular class of dental auxiliaries which purports to attest the fitness of the holder to practise dentistry to the extent permitted for that class<sup>5</sup> confers on the holder the right to be enrolled in the appropriate roll of that class<sup>6</sup>.

The Council must from time to time appoint a visitor or visitors to visit places where instruction is given and examinations<sup>7</sup>, who must, in relation to each of the places which he visits, report to the Council: on the sufficiency of the instruction given<sup>8</sup>; on the examinations held<sup>9</sup>; whether the arrangements materially impair the facilities for the training of dental students<sup>10</sup>; and on any other matters which may be specified by the Council either generally or in any particular case<sup>11</sup>. #### 494. Rolls and records.

The registrar<sup>1</sup> must keep a separate roll for each class of dental auxiliaries established by the General Dental Council<sup>2</sup> and must enter in such roll, in respect of every person entitled to have his name entered therein, his name and address, the date on which the entry is made and particulars of the certificate by virtue of which the entry is made<sup>3</sup>. The registrar may also enter in the roll, in respect of any person entitled to have his name entered therein, details of any additional diplomas<sup>4</sup> connected with dentistry held by that person, which have been approved by the Council for that purpose<sup>5</sup>.

A person is entitled to be so enrolled if he has paid the appropriate fee<sup>6</sup> and has satisfied the registrar that he is of good character and holds a certificate conferring a right to be enrolled<sup>7</sup>, and submits an application in the form provided by the Council for that purpose<sup>8</sup>. Except where a name has been erased from the roll<sup>9</sup>, the registrar must retain in the appropriate roll of dental auxiliaries the name of any enrolled person in respect of whom he has received before 31 December in every year payment of the appropriate fee<sup>10</sup> together with sufficient information to identify the person in respect of whom the payment is made<sup>11</sup>. Where the registrar on 31 December in any year has not received from any person whose name is entered in a roll a fee for the retention of that person's name in that roll for the ensuing year, he must erase that name from the roll<sup>12</sup>. The registrar may restore to a roll of dental auxiliaries a name erased from that roll, other than a name erased for misconduct<sup>13</sup>, upon receipt of an application in the form provided by the Council for the purpose accompanied by the fee for restoration<sup>14</sup>, the fee for retention in the roll<sup>15</sup> and, where the name of the applicant has not been entered in the roll in any of the five years immediately preceding the date of the application, a certificate of identity and good character signed by a justice of the peace<sup>16</sup>, a minister of religion, a registered medical practitioner<sup>17</sup> or a registered dentist<sup>18</sup>.

495. Establishment and functions of the committee.

There is a committee of the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> known as the dental auxiliaries committee<sup>2</sup>. When exercising its fitness to practise functions<sup>3</sup>, the membership of the committee consists of five appropriate persons<sup>4</sup>, of whom at least one must be a registered dentist<sup>5</sup>, at least one a lay person<sup>6</sup>, and at least one a dental auxiliary<sup>7</sup>. Except when exercising its fitness to practise functions, the membership of the committee consists of:

- 668 (1) until the expiry of 9 April 2006, those persons who were members of the committee immediately before 10 April 2003<sup>8</sup> and two other persons chosen by the Council, neither of whom must be a registered dentist or a dental auxiliary, although both must have knowledge and experience of activities carried on in connection with assisting in the practice of dentistry<sup>9</sup>;
- 669 (2) on and after 10 April 2006, the president of the Council<sup>10</sup>; eight members of the Council chosen by the Council from amongst its members<sup>11</sup>; seven other persons, chosen by the Council, not falling within either of the previous categories, at least two of whom must be dental auxiliaries<sup>12</sup>; and two other persons chosen by the Council, neither of whom must be a registered dentist or a dental auxiliary, although both must have knowledge and experience of activities carried on in connection with assisting in the practice of dentistry<sup>13</sup>.

In the event of a vacancy occurring, the Council must either appoint a replacement or determine that the committee do so<sup>14</sup>.

The Council must refer to the committee all matters connected with ancillary dental services<sup>15</sup>. Regulations made by the Council<sup>16</sup> may provide for entrusting to the committee the duty of enforcing standards of conduct among dental auxiliaries and for enabling the committee to withdraw from a person not conforming to those standards the right to undertake dental work as a dental auxiliary of all or any classes<sup>17</sup>.

497. Procedure at disciplinary hearing.

At any hearing of a disciplinary matter before the dental auxiliaries committee<sup>1</sup>, the respondent<sup>2</sup> is entitled to be represented by a friend or by counsel or a solicitor<sup>3</sup>. If the respondent does not attend, the committee may proceed if satisfied that all practicable steps have been taken to bring the notice of inquiry<sup>4</sup> to his attention and to make the substance of the allegations known to him<sup>5</sup>. At the hearing of the case, the solicitor<sup>6</sup>, or other person appointed by the committee for the purpose, first states to the committee the facts of the case and the charge alleged against the respondent and then adduces evidence in support of the charge; and the respondent or his representative is entitled to cross-examine any witness appearing against him on matters relevant to the charge<sup>7</sup>. The respondent or his representative is then invited by the chairman to address the committee and adduce evidence in answer to the charge, any witnesses called being subject to cross-examination by the solicitor or other person appointed by the committee for the purpose<sup>8</sup>. If the committee finds the charges proved either in whole or in part, the chairman may invite the solicitor or other person appointed by the committee to address the committee and to adduce evidence as to the character and previous history of the respondent<sup>9</sup>, and must then invite the respondent to address the committee by way of mitigation and to adduce similar evidence<sup>10</sup>.

At the conclusion of the case, the committee, after consideration of the relevant evidence, pronounces its decision either forthwith or at a later date in writing or at a subsequent meeting<sup>11</sup>. If it determines not to postpone its decision, it must decide whether the registrar<sup>12</sup> should be directed to erase the respondent's name from any roll in which it is entered<sup>13</sup>. As soon as the committee pronounces its decision, the registrar must communicate that decision to the respondent by registered letter or by a letter sent by the recorded delivery service<sup>14</sup>. Provision is made for appeals against decisions of the committee and as to when such decisions take effect<sup>15</sup>.

If the committee postpones its decision to a later date, it may invite the respondent to furnish the registrar shortly before that date with the names and addresses of persons to whom confidential reference may be made as to his character and conduct, and the committee may consider any information thus received: reg 15(3).

498A. Professions Complementary to Dentistry.

1. Professions complementary to dentistry.

A profession complementary to dentistry is a profession (1) the majority of whose members work in connection with the provision of dental care with persons receiving such care or with persons registered in the dentists register or the dental care professionals register<sup>1</sup>; and (2) in respect of which the regulatory body is not a body (other than the General Dental Council) regulated by the Council for Healthcare Regulatory Excellence<sup>2</sup>. The General Dental Council may by regulations specify a profession complementary to dentistry or a class of members of a profession complementary to dentistry<sup>3</sup>. Provision is made for the registration of visiting dental care professionals from other EEA states or Switzerland<sup>4</sup>.

1    le the register established by the Dentists Act 1984 s 36B (see PARA 498B.1).

2    le under the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 25 (see PARA 294); 1984 Act s 36A(1) (s 36A added by SI 2005/2011; 1984 Act s 36A(1) amended by the Health and Social Care Act 2008 Sch 10 para 8). As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq.

3    1984 Act s 36A(2). Regulations specifying a profession or class of members must also specify a title which applies to that profession or class, and regulations do not come into force until approved by order of the Privy Council: s 36A(3), (4)). Before making such regulations, the General Dental Council must consult organisations appearing to it to be representative of the professions, or classes of members of professions, specified in the proposed regulations: s 36A(5)). The 1984 Act Pt 3A (ss 36A-36Z2) apply in relation to all members of a profession complementary to dentistry except those members of a profession or class in relation to which no regulations under s 36A(2) (see PARA 498A.1) are in force: s 36A(6). See the General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) Regulations 2006, approved by the General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) Regulations Order of Council 2006, SI 2006/1440; and the General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) Regulations (Dental Hygienists and Dental Therapists) 2006, approved by the General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) (Dental Hygienists and Dental Therapists) Regulations Order of Council 2006, SI 2006/1667.

2. Use of titles and descriptions by registered dental care professionals.

A registered dental care professional<sup>1</sup> must not take or use, or affix to or use in connection with his premises (1) any description reasonably calculated to suggest that he possesses any professional status or qualification other than a professional status or qualification which he in fact possesses and which is indicated by particulars entered in the dental care professionals register<sup>2</sup> in respect of him<sup>3</sup>; or (2) any title specified in regulations<sup>4</sup> except the title or titles under which he is registered in the register<sup>5</sup>. A person contravening this provision is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>6</sup>.

1    'Registered dental care professional' means a person for the time being registered in the dental care professionals register under a title or titles: Dentists Act 1984 s 53(1) (definition added by SI 2005/2011).

2    As to the dental care professionals register see PARA 498B.1.

The dental care professionals register consists of the following lists: (1) the principal list, which is to contain particulars of persons who under the 1984 Act s 36C are entitled to be registered in the dental care professionals register; and (2) the list of visiting dental care professionals from relevant European states, which is to contain particulars of persons who under s 36Z3 are entitled to be registered in the dental care professionals register: s 36B(1A)(a), (b) (added by SI 2007/3101).

2 1984 Act s 36B(2). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 NOTE 1. Section 14(4) and (5) (see PARA 396) apply to the register established under s 36B, and to the registrar's duties as keeper of the register, as they apply to the dentists register and to the registrar's duties in respect of the dentists register: s 36B(3).

3 As to the making of rules under the 1984 Act see PARA 390. The Privy Council is not required to approve by statutory instrument of rules made under s 36B(4): s 50C(2).

4 Ibid s 36B(4). A person may not be registered in the register except under one or more of the titles specified in regulations under s 36A(2) (see PARA 498A.1): s 36B(5).

5 Ibid s 36B(6)(a).

6 Ibid s 36B(6)(b).

7 Ibid s 36B(6)(c).

8 Ibid s 36B(6)(d).

9 Ibid s 36B(6)(e).

10 Ibid s 36B(6).

11 Ibid s 36G(1)(a)).

12 Ibid s 36G(1)(b).

13 Ibid s 36G(1)(c).

14 Ibid s 36G(1)(d). For the purposes of s 36G(1), the registrar may provide a member of the public with a copy of, or extract from, the register, and any such copy or extract is evidence of the matters mentioned in it: s 36G(2).

2. Qualifications for registration.

A person is entitled<sup>1</sup> to be registered under a particular title in the dental care professionals register<sup>2</sup> if he satisfies the registrar<sup>3</sup> (1) in a case where the title concerned applies to the profession pursued by clinical dental technicians, dental hygienists, dental nurses, dental technicians, dental therapists or orthodontic therapists (a) of matter A, B or C, and (b) of matter D<sup>4</sup>; and (2) in any other case (a) of matter A or C, and (b) of matter D<sup>5</sup>.

Matter A is that the person holds a qualification or qualifications approved by the General Dental Council<sup>6</sup> in relation to the profession, or class of members of a profession, to which the title applies<sup>7</sup>.

Matter B is that the person (i) an exempt person<sup>8</sup>, and (ii) is permitted to practise in the United Kingdom as a member of the profession pursued by clinical dental technicians, dental hygienists, dental nurses, dental technicians, dental therapists or orthodontic therapists, as the case may be<sup>9</sup>.

Matter C is that the person (A) holds relevant qualifications<sup>10</sup>; (B) has satisfied the Council that he has the requisite knowledge and skill to practise as a member of the profession or class to which the title applies<sup>11</sup>; and (c) has the knowledge of English which, in the interests of himself and his patients, is necessary for practising in the United Kingdom as a member of the profession or class to which the title applies<sup>12</sup>.

Matter D is (aa) the person's identity<sup>13</sup>; (bb) that he is of good character<sup>14</sup>; and (cc) that he is in good health, both physically and mentally<sup>15</sup>.

9 Ibid by virtue of the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2781: 1984 Act s 36C(3)(b).

10 Ibid a qualification or qualifications granted by an institution or institutions outside the United Kingdom relevant to the profession complementary to dentistry, or class of members of such a profession, to which the title applies: s 36C(4)(a).

11 Ibid s 36C(4)(b). For the purpose of establishing whether a person has the requisite knowledge and skill, the Council (1) in all cases (a) must take into account all that person's relevant qualifications, and all relevant knowledge or experience, wherever acquired; and (b) may determine that a person must perform to the satisfaction of the Council in any test or assessment specified in the determination; and (2) in the case of an exempt person who holds a relevant qualification which (i) was granted otherwise than in a relevant European state, and (ii) has been accepted by a relevant European state, other than the United Kingdom, as qualifying the person to practise in that state as a member of the profession or class to which the title applies, must take that acceptance into account: s 36C(5).

12 Ibid s 36C(4)(c). The requirement set out in head (c) does not apply if the person is an exempt person: s 36C(4)(c).

13 Ibid s 36C(6)(a).

14 Ibid s 36C(6)(b).

15 Ibid s 36C(6)(c).

3. Education and training for members of professions complementary to dentistry.

For each regulated profession or class<sup>1</sup>, the General Dental Council<sup>2</sup> must, from time to time determine the appropriate standard of proficiency which, in their opinion, is required for a person to practise competently and safely as a member of the profession or class<sup>3</sup>, and specify the content and standard of the education and training, including practical experience, which, in its opinion, is required for imparting the knowledge and skills necessary for a person to obtain that proficiency<sup>4</sup>.

Where the Council is satisfied that (1) a qualification granted by an institution in the United Kingdom is evidence of having reached the standard of proficiency for a regulated profession or class<sup>5</sup>, (2) a qualification which such an institution proposes to grant will be such evidence, or (3) two or more qualifications granted or to be granted as mentioned in head (1) or (2) above, taken together, are or will be such evidence, the Council may approve that qualification or those qualifications in relation to that regulated profession or class<sup>6</sup>.

The Council must ensure that establishments providing or overseeing courses of education or training for persons who seek registration under a title in the dental care professionals register<sup>7</sup> are notified of (a) the matters for the time being determined or specified<sup>8</sup>; (b) the qualifications for the time being approved<sup>9</sup>.

1 'Regulated profession or class' means a profession complementary to dentistry, or class of members of such a profession, specified in regulations under the Dentists Act 1984 s 36A(2) (see PARA 498A.1): s 36D(8) (ss 36D, 50C added by SI 2005/2011).

The matters determined or specified under s 36D(1) and the qualifications approved under s 36D(2) must be published by the Council from time to time in such form as appears to it to be appropriate: s 36D(3). Rules must make provision for the withdrawal of approval given under s 36D(2) in such circumstances as may be specified in the rules: s 36D(5). As to the making of rules under the 1984 Act see PARA 390. See the General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) (Qualifications and Supervision of Dental Work) Rules 2006, approved by the General Dental Council (Professions Complementary to Dentistry) (Qualifications and Supervision of Dental Work) Rules Order of Council 2006, SI 2006/1669.

9 Ibid s 36D(4), referring to approval under s 36D(2). Rules may make provision for the appointment by the Council of persons to visit establishments which provide or oversee, or seek to provide or oversee, courses of education or training for persons referred to in s 36D(4), for the purposes of advising and reporting back to the Council on matters connected with such courses, including (1) the sufficiency of instruction provided or overseen by, or to be provided or overseen by, those establishments; (2) the suitability of a particular qualification for approval under s 36D(2); and (3) whether approval of a particular qualification ought to be withdrawn under rules under s 36D(5): s 36D(6), (7). The Privy Council is not required to approve by statutory instrument of rules made under s 36D(6), (7): s 50C(2). As to the service and sending of notifications under the 1984 Act see s 50A; and PARA 401A.

4. Procedure for registration.

Rules<sup>1</sup> may make provision relating to (1) the form of an application by a person seeking registration under a title in the principal list of the dental care professionals register<sup>2</sup>; (2) the manner in which an application under head (1) above is to be made<sup>3</sup>; (3) the evidence and information which an applicant must supply in support of an application under head (1) above<sup>4</sup>; (4) the details which must be entered in the register<sup>5</sup>; and (5) the procedure for the making, alteration and deletion of entries in the register<sup>6</sup>.

The Council may by regulations prescribe a fee to be charged (a) on the entry of a person's name in the register<sup>7</sup>, (b) on the restoration of a person's name to the register<sup>8</sup>, (c) on the entry in the register of additional qualifications held by a registered dental care professional<sup>9</sup>, or (d) in respect of the retention of a person's name under a title or titles in the register for each period of 12 months<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the making of rules under the Dentists Act 1984 see PARA 390.

2 Ibid s 36E(a) (ss 36E, 36F, 50C added by SI 2005/2011; 1984 Act s 36E amended by SI 2007/3101). As to the dental care professionals register and the principal list of that register see PARA 498B.1. 9 Ibid s 36F(1)(a)(iii).

10 Ibid s 36F(1)(b). Regulations may provide for the payment of a fee under s 36F(1)(b) by instalments: s 36F(1)(c). The regulations may authorise the registrar to refuse to make or restore any entry until a fee prescribed by such regulations has been paid: s 36F(1)(d). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 NOTE 1. However, regulations under s 36F may not prescribe fees in respect of registration in the list mentioned in s 36B(1A)(b) (see PARA 498B.1 NOTE 1 head (2)): s 36F(1A). Regulations may also make provision as to notices and warnings, erasure from the register in default of payment of a fee, and subsequent restoration: see 1984 Act s 36F(2)-(4).

5. Erasure of names on death or cesser of practice.

The registrar<sup>1</sup> must erase the name of a deceased person from registration under all titles under which that person is registered in the dental care professionals register<sup>2</sup>; and on registering the death of a registered dental care professional<sup>3</sup>, a registrar of births and deaths<sup>4</sup> must, without charge to the recipient, send forthwith by post<sup>5</sup> to the registrar a copy certified under his hand of the entry in the register of deaths relating to the death<sup>6</sup>.

Where a person is registered in the register under a title applying to a particular profession, or class of members of a profession, and has ceased to practise as a member of that profession or class, the registrar may, with that person's consent, erase his name from registration in the register under that title<sup>7</sup>. The registrar may send by post to a registered dental care professional a notice inquiring whether he has ceased to practise as a member of a particular profession complementary to dentistry, or class of members of such a profession, or has changed his residence and, if no answer is received to the inquiry within six months from the posting of the notice, the registrar may erase that person's name from registration under all titles under which that person is registered in the register<sup>8</sup>. Where, in such a case, or at a person's request, a person's name has been erased from registration under a particular title, that name must be restored to the register under that title on that person's application if specified conditions are met<sup>9</sup>.

6. Erasure of incorrect or fraudulent entries.

If the registrar<sup>1</sup> is satisfied that any entry in the dental care professionals register<sup>2</sup> has been incorrectly made, he must erase that entry from the register<sup>3</sup>. If the registrar has reason to believe that any entry in the register has been fraudulently procured, he must refer the matter to the professional conduct committee<sup>4</sup> to determine the question of whether that entry has been fraudulently procured<sup>5</sup>. Where a person's name has been erased from registration under a particular title on the ground that it had been fraudulently procured, that person may apply to the General Dental Council for his name to be restored to the register under that title<sup>6</sup>. The Council must refer any such application to the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup>.

3 Dentists Act 1984 s 36I(1) (ss 36I, 36S, 36U added by SI 2005/2011).

4 As to the committees of the General Dental Council see PARA 395.

5 1984 Act s 36I(2). If the professional conduct committee determines that the entry in the register has been fraudulently procured, it may direct that the name of the person to whom the entry relates it to be erased from registration under all titles under which he is registered in the register: s 36I(3). As to giving a direction for the immediate erasure of a person's name, see s 36U. If the professional conduct committee gives such a direction, the person concerned may appeal to the High Court, and the registrar must forthwith serve on that person notification of the direction and of his right to appeal: see ss 36I(7), 36S. As to the service and sending of notifications under the 1984 Act see s 50A; and PARA 401A ante.

6 Ibid s 36I(4). As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq.

7 Ibid s 36I(5). The professional conduct committee must determine such an application and may decide (1) that the person's name is to be restored to the register under the title in question; (2) that the person's name is not to be restored to the register under the title in question; or (3) that the person's name is not to be restored to the register under the title in question until the end of such period as the committee specifies: s 36I(6). If the professional conduct committee refuses to restore (or to immediately restore) the name of the person concerned to the register, he may appeal to the High Court, and the registrar must forthwith serve on that person notification of the decision and of his right to appeal: ss 36I(7), 36S.

7. Notification of appealable registration decisions.

Where an appealable registration decision<sup>1</sup> is made in respect of a person, the registrar<sup>2</sup> must forthwith serve on that person written notification of the decision, the reasons for the decision, and that person's right to appeal<sup>3</sup>. Where an applicant has not been served with notification of a decision in respect of certain applications for registration or restoration of a name<sup>4</sup> within the requisite period<sup>5</sup>, that omission is to be treated as a decision not to register or, as the case may be, restore the applicant's name, which is an appealable registration decision for these purposes<sup>6</sup>.

1 The following decisions are appealable registration decisions: (1) a decision (a) not to register a person's name under a particular title in the dental care professionals register (see PARA 498B.1) under the Dentists Act 1984 s 36C (see PARA 498B.2) on the grounds that any of the requirements of that provision are not met; (b) a decision under the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2781, Pt 3 to require an exempt person to complete an adaptation period, or pass an aptitude test, in connection with becoming entitled by virtue of those provisions to practise in the United Kingdom as a member of one of the professions mentioned in the 1984 Act s 36C(3)(b); (2) a decision under s 36H(3) (see PARA 498B.5) to erase a person's name from the register; (3) a decision under s 36H(4) not to restore a person's name to the register under a particular title; (4) a decision under s 36I(1) (see PARA 498B.6) to erase an entry relating to a person from the register; (5) a decision under s 36L(9)(a), (b) or (c) not to register a person's name in the register, not to restore his name to that register, or to erase his name from registration in that register, under a particular title; (6) a decision under s 36L(10) (see PARA 498B.10) not to restore a person's name to the register under a particular title; (7) a decision under s 36Z1(2) to erase a person's name from registration in the register under a particular title; (8) a decision under s 36Z1(3) not to restore a person's name to the register under a particular title; and (9) a decision not to register a person's name under a particular title in the dental care professionals register under s 36Z3 (visiting dental care professionals from another EEA state or Switzerland): s 36J, Sch 4A para 2(1) (in force in part) (s 36J, Sch 4A added by SI 2007/3101). A decision is not an appealable registration decision for these purposes if it is a decision taken by reason only that the person failed to pay any fee prescribed by regulations made under the 1984 Act s 36F, or make an application as required under the 1984 Act or any rules made under it: Sch 4A para 2(2). As to the making of rules under the 1984 Act see PARA 390.

3 1984 Act Sch 4A para 3(1). The reference to a person's right to appeal is to the right to appeal under Sch 4A para 4 (see PARA 498B.8). As to the service and sending of notifications under the 1984 Act see s 50A; and PARA 401A.

4 The applications for registration or restoration of a name mentioned in NOTE 1 head (1), (3), (5), (6), or (8).

5 'The requisite period', in relation to a decision of a kind specified in NOTE (1) head (1), (3), (5), (6), or (8) means the period of four months beginning with the date when the registrar is first in possession of sufficient information to make the decision: 1984 Act Sch 4A para 1.

6 Ibid Sch 4A para 3(2) (in force in part).

8. Appeals from an appealable registration decision.

A person concerned<sup>1</sup> may appeal to the General Dental Council's registration appeals committee<sup>2</sup> against (1) the appealable registration decision made in respect of him of which he was notified<sup>3</sup>; or (2) the appealable registration decision treated<sup>4</sup> as having been made in respect of him<sup>5</sup>. Such an appeal must be made by giving notice of appeal to the registrar<sup>6</sup>. In a case within head (1) above, the notice of appeal must be given before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the decision was served<sup>7</sup>, subject to any extension of time<sup>8</sup>. In a case within head (2) above, notice of appeal must be given before the end of the period of 28 days following the end of the requisite period<sup>9</sup>. In the case of an appealable registration decision which is a decision to erase a person's name from registration in the dental care professionals register<sup>10</sup> under a particular title, where no appeal is brought against the decision within the specified period of time<sup>11</sup>, or an appeal is brought but is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, that decision takes effect on the expiry of that period or, as the case may be, on the withdrawal or striking out of that appeal<sup>12</sup>.

For the purposes of considering an appeal, the registration appeals committee may make such inquiries as it considers appropriate<sup>13</sup>. In disposing of an appeal, the registration appeals committee may determine to (a) dismiss the appeal; (b) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against; (c) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision which could have been made by the registrar; or (d) remit the case to the registrar to dispose of in accordance with the directions of the registration appeals committee<sup>14</sup>. In the case of an appealable registration decision which is a decision to erase a person's name from registration in the register under a particular title, where the registration appeals committee disposes of an appeal by making a determination under heads (a), (c) or (d) above, that decision takes effect (i) where no appeal is brought against the determination of the registration appeals committee<sup>15</sup> within the specified period of time<sup>16</sup>, on the expiry of that period; (ii) where an appeal is brought against the decision of the registration appeals committee but is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, on the withdrawal or striking out of that appeal; or (iii) where an appeal is brought against the decision and dismissed<sup>17</sup>, on the dismissal of that appeal<sup>18</sup>.

Where the registration appeals committee makes a determination on an appeal under the above provisions, it must, as soon as reasonably practicable inform the registrar of, and serve on the person concerned notification of, the committee's determination on the appeal and of the reasons for that determination, and, if that determination is not a determination to allow the appeal under head (b) above, serve on the person concerned notification of his right of appeal<sup>19</sup>.

1 'Person concerned' means a person notified under the Dentists Act 1984 Sch 4A para 3(1) (as added) (see PARA 498B.7) of an appealable registration decision made in respect of him, or, as the case may be, an applicant in respect of whom an appealable registration decision is treated as having been made by virtue of Sch 4A para 3(2) (as added) (see PARA 498B.7); Sch 4A para 1 (Sch 4A added SI 2005/2011).

9. Appeals from the registration appeals committee.

Where the registration appeals committee<sup>1</sup> determine an appeal<sup>2</sup> and it does not determine<sup>3</sup> to allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against, the person concerned may, before the end of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the determination was served on him<sup>4</sup>, appeal against the determination to the relevant court<sup>5</sup>.

On such an appeal from the registration appeals committee, the relevant court may (1) dismiss the appeal; (2) allow the appeal and quash the determination appealed against; (3) substitute for the determination appealed against any other determination which could have been made by the registration appeals committee; or (4) remit the case to the registration appeals committee to dispose of in accordance with the directions of the relevant court<sup>6</sup>.

10. Professional training and development requirements.

In relation to each profession, or class of members of a profession<sup>1</sup>, rules<sup>2</sup> must require registered dental care professionals<sup>3</sup> to undertake such professional training and development as may be specified<sup>4</sup>. Where a person is registered in the dental care professionals register<sup>5</sup> under a title applying to a particular profession, or class of members of a profession, and it appears to the registrar<sup>6</sup> that the person has failed to comply with the requirements of rules<sup>7</sup> relating to that profession or class, the registrar may erase that person's name from registration in that register under that title<sup>8</sup>. Rules must specify the procedures to be followed before the registrar may so erase a person's name from registration in the dental care professionals register under a title, or may so make a decision whether to restore a person's name to that register under a title<sup>9</sup>.

Rules must specify the requirements as to professional training and development to be met by a person who seeks the restoration of his name to the dental care professionals register under a particular title following its erasure from registration under that title<sup>10</sup>.

8   Ibid s 36Z1(2). Where a person's name has been so erased from registration under a particular title, that name must be restored to the dental care professionals register under that title on that person's application if he satisfies the registrar (1) of matter D within the meaning of s 36C (see PARA 498B.2); and (2) that he meets the requirements of s 36L (see PARA 498B.11) and any rules made under s 36Z2 which apply to his case: s 36(3).

9   Ibid s 36Z1(4). See SI 2008/1823 Schedule rr 7-12. Where, in the course of proceedings under the 1984 Act Pt 3A (ss 36A-36Z2), it appears to the investigating committee, a practice committee or the interim orders committee that a person to whose registration the proceedings relate may be failing to meet the requirements of rules made under s 36Z1(1), that committee may refer the question of whether he is failing to meet them to the registrar: s 36Z1(5).

10   le erasure under any provision of ibid Pt 3A (ss 36A-36Z2): s 36Z2(1). Rules under s 36Z2 must not require a person to do anything which amounts to the practice of dentistry: s 36Z(2).

11. Insurance.

The following provisions are not yet in force.

A registered dental care professional<sup>1</sup> must, in relation to each title under which he is registered in the dental care professionals register<sup>2</sup>, be covered by adequate and appropriate insurance<sup>3</sup> throughout the period during which he is registered under that title<sup>4</sup>. A registered dental care professional seeking the retention of his name in the register under a particular title must, before the commencement of the period for which he is seeking the retention of his name in the register under that title, supply the registrar with evidence that he is covered by adequate and appropriate insurance in relation to that title<sup>5</sup>. A person seeking the restoration of his name to the register under a particular title (whether or not he is already so registered under any other title or titles) must supply the registrar with evidence that, if his name were to be so restored to the register, he would be covered by adequate and appropriate insurance commencing, at the latest, on the date on which his name was so restored<sup>6</sup>.

If a person fails to comply with the insurance requirements<sup>7</sup>, the registrar may (1) refuse to register his name in the register under that title<sup>8</sup>; (2) refuse to restore his name to the register under that title<sup>9</sup>; (3) erase his name from the register under that title<sup>10</sup>; or (4) refer the matter to the investigating committee<sup>11</sup>.

1   For the meaning of 'registered dental care professional' see PARA 498A.2 NOTE 1.

2   As to the dental care professionals register see PARA 498B.1.

3 'Adequate and appropriate insurance', in relation to a title specified in regulations under the Dentists Act 1984 s 36A(2) (see PARA 498A.1), means insurance of a type and amount which rules under s 36L specify as adequate and appropriate in relation to that title: s 36L(2) (s 36L added by SI 2005/2011). As to the making of rules under the 1984 Act see PARA 390. 'Insurance' means (1) a contract of insurance providing cover for liabilities which may be incurred in carrying out work as a member of a profession complementary to dentistry; or (2) an arrangement made for the purpose of indemnifying a person against such liabilities: s 36L(11).

4 Ibid s 36L(1). A person seeking registration in the register under a particular title (whether or not he is already so registered under any other title or titles) must supply the registrar with evidence that, if his name were to be so entered in the register, he would be covered by adequate and appropriate insurance in relation to that title commencing, at the latest, on the date on which his name was so entered: s 36L(3)). The registrar may at any other time require a registered dental care professional to supply him with evidence that he is covered by such adequate and appropriate insurance, and a registered dental care professional must comply with such a requirement as soon as reasonably practicable: s 36L(6). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 NOTE 1.

5 Ibid s 36L(4). A registered dental care professional must inform the registrar forthwith if he is no longer covered by adequate and appropriate insurance in relation to any title under which he is registered: s 36L(7). A person seeking registration in, or restoration of his name to, the dental care professionals register must inform the registrar forthwith if arrangements under which he would be covered by adequate and appropriate insurance in relation to any title under which he is seeking to be registered or restored are no longer in place: s 36L(8).

486-498 Dental Auxiliaries

Dentists Act 1984 Pt 5 (ss 45-48) revoked by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/2011. Dental Auxiliaries Regulations 1986, SI 1986/887, lapsed (see SI 2005/2011 art 50, Sch 7 for transitional provision). Further transitional provision is made by the Dentists Act 1984 (Amendment) Order 2005 Transitional Provisions Order of Council 2006, SI 2006/1671. The regulation of professions complementary to dentistry now corresponds to the regulation of dentists: see the 1984 Act Pt 3A (ss 36A-36Z2) (added by SI 2005/2011); and PARAS 498A-498C.

498C. Professional Conduct and Fitness to Practise.

1. Guidance.

The General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> must prepare and from time to time issue guidance as to the standards of conduct, performance and practice expected of registered dental care professionals<sup>2</sup>. The Council must keep such guidance under review and may vary or withdraw it whenever it considers it appropriate to do so<sup>3</sup>, and from time to time must publish such guidance<sup>4</sup>. Before issuing, varying or withdrawing such guidance, the Council is required to consult with representatives from those in the dental profession and users of dental services<sup>5</sup>, primary care trusts in England and local health boards in Wales<sup>6</sup>, and other bodies which make arrangements for the provision of dental services<sup>7</sup>. The Council may charge such fee as it considers reasonable for the provision of a copy of the guidance to any person<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to the General Dental Council see PARA 389 et seq.

2 Dentists Act 1984 s 36M(1) (s 36M added by SI 2005/2011). Such guidance may make different provision in relation to different cases or classes of case, and in particular in relation to different descriptions of registered dental care professionals: 1984 Act s 36M(2). For the meaning of 'registered dental care professional' see PARA 498A.2 NOTE 1.

3 Ibid s 36M(3).

4 Ibid s 36M(4). Such guidance may be published in such form and manner as the Council considers appropriate, including in electronic form: s 50B(1) (added by SI 2005/2011).

6 See ibid s 36M(5), (8).

7 See ibid s 36M(5), (9).

8 Ibid s 36M(10).

2. Allegations of impaired fitness to practise

Where an allegation is made to the General Dental Council<sup>1</sup> against a registered dental care professional<sup>2</sup> that his fitness to practise as a member of a profession complementary to dentistry is impaired<sup>3</sup>, the registrar<sup>4</sup> must refer the allegation to the investigating committee<sup>5</sup>, and may also, if he considers it appropriate, refer the allegation to the interim orders committee<sup>6</sup>. A person's fitness to practise as a member of a profession complementary to dentistry is to be regarded as 'impaired' by reason only of (1) misconduct; (2) deficient professional performance; (3) adverse physical or mental health; (4) a conviction or caution in the United Kingdom for a criminal offence, or a conviction elsewhere for an offence which, if committed in England and Wales, would constitute a criminal offence; (5) the person having agreed to pay a penalty as alternative to prosecution<sup>7</sup>; (6) the person having been given an absolute discharge in respect of an offence which the court considered the person to have committed<sup>8</sup>; (7) a determination by a body in the United Kingdom responsible under any enactment<sup>9</sup> for the regulation of a health or social care profession to the effect that the person's fitness to practise as a member of that profession is impaired, or a determination by a regulatory body<sup>10</sup> elsewhere to the same effect; or (8) the Independent Barring Board including the person in a barred list<sup>11</sup> (within the meaning of Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006)

8 ie in a case where the person has been the subject of an order under the Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act 1995 s 246(2) or (3) discharging him absolutely.

9 'Enactment' includes a provision of, or an instrument made under, an Act of the Scottish Parliament, a provision of, or an instrument made under, Northern Ireland legislation, and a provision of subordinate legislation: see 1984 Act s 36N(7)(a).

10 'Regulatory body' means a regulatory body which has the function of authorising persons to practise as members of a health or social care profession: ibid s 36N(7)(b).

11 As to the barred list see CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS vol 5(3) (2008 Reissue) PARA 681.

12 1984 Act s 36N(2). It does not matter whether the allegation is based on a matter alleged to have occurred outside the United Kingdom or at a time when the person was not registered in the dental care professionals register: s 36N(3). As to the dental care professionals register see PARA 498B.1. Section 36N also applies in a case where it comes to the attention of the Council that a member of a dental care professional's fitness to practise as a member of a profession complementary to dentistry may be impaired on one or more of the grounds mentioned in s 36N(2), but no allegation to that effect has been made to the Council against that person (in which case the 1984 Act applies as if an allegation or allegations to the effect that the person's fitness to practise as a member of a profession complementary to dentistry is impaired on the ground or grounds in question had been made to the Council against that person): s 36N(4).

3. Investigation of allegations

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup> refers an allegation to the investigating committee<sup>2</sup>, it must investigate the allegation and determine whether the allegation ought to be considered by a practice committee<sup>3</sup>. If the investigating committee determines that the allegation ought to be considered by a practice committee, it must refer the allegation to either the professional performance committee, the health committee or the professional conduct committee, and may also refer the allegation to the interim orders committee<sup>4</sup>. On such a reference, the practice committee must either investigate the allegation and determine whether the person's fitness to practise as a member of a profession complementary to dentistry is impaired, or refer the allegation back to the investigating committee<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 396 NOTE 1.

2 As to the committees of the General Dental Council see PARA 395.

4. Erasure and suspension from, and restoration to, the register

If the practice committee<sup>1</sup> determines, in relation to a title under which a person is registered in the dental care professionals register<sup>2</sup>, his fitness to practise as a member of the profession, or class of members of a profession, to which that title applies is impaired, it may direct erasure of his name from the register under that title, suspension of his registration, that his registration under that title become conditional, or that he be reprimanded<sup>3</sup>. The practice committee must review any decision it has made to suspend a person's registration or to make his registration subject to conditions at least every two years<sup>4</sup>. A person whose name has been erased from the register may apply to the registrar<sup>5</sup> for his name to be restored<sup>6</sup>. Provision has been made as to the taking effect of a direction relating to erasure, suspension or conditional registration<sup>7</sup>, and as to interim orders for suspension or conditional registration<sup>8</sup>.

(1) THE GENERAL OSTEOPATHIC COUNCIL

(i) Constitution

499. The General Osteopathic Council.

The General Osteopathic Council ('the General Council'<sup>1</sup>) is a body corporate<sup>2</sup>. It is the duty of the General Council to develop, promote and regulate the profession of osteopathy<sup>3</sup>, and the General Council has such other functions as are conferred on it by the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>4</sup>. The General Council has four committees<sup>5</sup>, known as the education committee<sup>6</sup>, the investigating committee<sup>7</sup>, the professional conduct committee<sup>8</sup>, and the health committee<sup>9</sup>; and it may establish such other committees as it considers appropriate in connection with the discharge of its functions<sup>10</sup>. At the request of the General Council, Her Majesty may by Order in Council<sup>11</sup> make such provision with respect to the constitution of the General Council and with respect to the statutory committees<sup>12</sup> as Her Majesty considers appropriate in consultation with the General Council<sup>13</sup>.

1 'The General Council' means the General Osteopathic Council: Osteopaths Act 1993 s 41.

2 Ibid s 1(1). As to bodies corporate see generally COMPANIES; CORPORATIONS.

4 Ibid s 1(3).

5 The four committees are referred to in the Osteopaths Act 1993 as 'the statutory committees': ss 1(6), 41. Each of the statutory committees has the functions conferred on it by or under the Act: s 1(7). As to the appointment of members to the statutory committees, and as to the procedure of those committees, see PARAS 509-515 post.

13 Ibid s 1(10). Any such provision may be made either in substitution for, or as an addition to, that made by any provision of the Schedule: s 1(12). Any such Order in Council is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 1(11). As to the annulment of statutory instruments see STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1516.

UPDATE*499-504 Constitution

Provision as to membership, the chair and proceedings of the General Council is made by the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 1(4), Schedule paras 1A, 1B (s 1(4) substituted, Schedule paras 1A-1D substituted for Schedule paras 1-14, by SI 2008/1774)); and the General Osteopathic Council (Constitution) Order 2009, SI 2009/263. The General Council must establish and maintain a system for the declaration and registration of private interests of its members: see Osteopaths Act 1993 Schedule para 1C. In exercising its functions, the General Council must consider the interests of patients and registered osteopaths, and must co-operate with public bodies and others concerned with the employment, education, training and regulation of osteopaths: see Schedule para 1D. The General Council<sup>1</sup> consists of 12 members elected by fully registered osteopaths<sup>2</sup>, eight members appointed by the Privy Council<sup>3</sup>, three members appointed by the education committee<sup>4</sup>, and one member appointed by the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>. The quorum of the General Council is 12<sup>6</sup>. No person is prevented from being elected or from being appointed merely because he has previously been a member of the General Council<sup>7</sup>.

Subject to the following provisions<sup>8</sup>, each member's term of office is for a period of five years<sup>9</sup>. Where a member fails to complete his full term of office<sup>10</sup>, then: (1) in such circumstances as may be prescribed<sup>11</sup>, if the unexpired term<sup>12</sup> is less than the prescribed period<sup>13</sup>, the vacancy need not be filled before the end of that term<sup>14</sup>; (2) if the member's successor is elected or (as the case may be) appointed during the unexpired term, the successor's term of office is, subject to his resignation, retirement or removal<sup>15</sup>, for the residue of the unexpired term<sup>16</sup>. Any member may at any time resign by notice in writing addressed to the registrar<sup>17</sup>, and every member must retire on reaching the age of 70<sup>18</sup>. The General Council must by rules<sup>19</sup> make provision as to the grounds (such as repeated absence from meetings or unacceptable professional conduct<sup>20</sup>) on which any member may be removed from office and the procedure involved<sup>21</sup>.

503. Members appointed by the Privy Council and the education committee.

Of the eight members appointed by the Privy Council<sup>1</sup> one must be a registered medical practitioner<sup>2</sup> at the time of his appointment and must be appointed after consultation with the Conference of Medical Royal Colleges and their Faculties in the United Kingdom<sup>3</sup>. The other seven members must be persons who are not registered osteopaths<sup>4</sup> at the time of their appointment<sup>5</sup>.

The three members appointed by the education committee<sup>6</sup> must be persons appearing to the committee to be qualified to advise the General Council on matters relating to education and training in osteopathy<sup>7</sup>. Before making any such appointment, the committee must consult those institutions in the United Kingdom by which or under whose direction any relevant course of study<sup>8</sup> is given<sup>9</sup>, and such other bodies, if any, as the committee considers appropriate<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

2 For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante.

3 Osteopaths Act 1993 s 1(4), Schedule para 11(1)(a). The member appointed under this provision must not be a registered osteopath (see note 4 infra): Schedule para 11(3). If the Conference of Medical Royal Colleges and their Faculties in the United Kingdom ceases to exist, the Privy Council must appoint the member in question after consultation with such other representative body or bodies as it thinks fit: Schedule para 11(2). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

4 'Registered osteopath' means a person who is registered as a fully registered osteopath, as a conditionally registered osteopath or as a provisionally registered osteopath: ibid s 41. OSTEOPATHS/(1) THE GENERAL OSTEOPATHIC COUNCIL/(i) Constitution/504. The chairman.

504. The chairman.

The members of the General Council<sup>1</sup> must elect a chairman from among themselves<sup>2</sup>. The chairman holds office until: (1) he resigns as chairman<sup>3</sup>; (2) he ceases to be a member of the General Council<sup>4</sup>; (3) he is removed by a majority vote of the other members of the General Council<sup>5</sup>; or (4) a period of seven years, beginning with his assuming office as chairman, has elapsed and no other person has been elected (and has served) as chairman during that time<sup>6</sup>. A person is not prevented from being elected as chairman merely because he has previously been chairman, but if he has ceased to hold office by virtue of head (4) above he may not be elected as chairman until some other person has served as the elected chairman<sup>7</sup>.

The General Council must by rules<sup>8</sup> make further provision in relation to the election of a chairman<sup>9</sup>, and make provision for the appointment of an acting chairman in the event of a vacancy in the office of chairman or in such other circumstances as may be prescribed<sup>10</sup>.

An election to the office of chairman<sup>11</sup> must be held at a meeting of the Council<sup>12</sup>, and notice of the election must be given in the programme of business<sup>13</sup>. If a vacancy occurs or is due to occur in the office of chairman or the chairman gives notice that he intends to resign as chairman or as a member of the Council on a stated date, the registrar must notify other members forthwith and an election to the office of chairman must be held at the next meeting of the Council after the expiration of two months from the notification to members of the vacancy, prospective vacancy or intended resignation<sup>14</sup>. A person who has been elected to the office of chairman may, prior to the date of commencement of his term of office, attend as an observer at meetings of committees and sub-committees of which he is not already a member<sup>15</sup>.

10 Osteopaths Act 1993 Schedule para 14(5)(b). For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 500 note 11 ante. The members of the General Council must from time to time, and not less than once in every 12 months, appoint from among themselves a person to act as the chairman in the event of any vacancy in the office of chairman or if the chairman is unable to act, and such person may be re-appointed: General Osteopathic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order of Council 1998, SI 1998/1019, r 4.

11 'The chairman' means the chairman of the Council (see note 12 infra) or, as the case may be, any person acting on behalf of the chairman in accordance with the General Osteopathic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules 1998, SI 1998/1019, r 4 (see note 10 supra) but does not include any person appointed under the Osteopaths Act 1993 Schedule para 48 (transitional provisions; now expired): General Osteopathic Council (Election of Members and Chairman of Council) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/827, r 1(3)(b), (c).

12 For these purposes, 'Council' means the General Osteopathic Council (see PARA 499 ante): ibid r 1(3)(d).

13 Ibid r 3(1). An election to the office of chairman must be held in accordance with the rules set out in the General Osteopathic Council (Election of Members and Chairman of Council) Rules, SI 2002/827, Sch 2: r 3(3).

(iii) The Statutory Committees

509. Appointment of members.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must establish and maintain the four statutory committees referred to in the Osteopaths Act 1993, namely the education committee, the investigating committee, the professional conduct committee, and the health committee<sup>2</sup>. The members of the statutory committees, other than co-opted members<sup>3</sup>, must be appointed by the General Council from among its members<sup>4</sup>. The General Council must make provision by rules<sup>5</sup> as to the procedure for such appointments<sup>6</sup>. A person is not prevented from being a member of a statutory committee merely because he has previously been a member of that committee<sup>7</sup>. Any member of a statutory committee, other than a co-opted member, holds office until he ceases to be a member of the General Council or, where he is a member of the committee by virtue of being chairman of the General Council<sup>8</sup>, until he ceases to be chairman of the General Council<sup>9</sup>. A person may be a member of more than one statutory committee<sup>10</sup>, but no member of the professional conduct committee or the health committee may take part in dealing with an allegation referred to either committee by another committee if he is also a member of the committee which referred the allegation<sup>11</sup>.

The following provisions apply to the appointment of the members of the statutory committees<sup>12</sup>. Provision was made for the registrar<sup>13</sup>, prior to the establishment of the statutory committees, and after consultation with the chairman and members of the General Council, to recommend members for appointment as members of the committees<sup>14</sup>. Prior to the appointment of any successor to the initial members of any of the statutory committees, the chairman of the committee in question must, after consultation with the chairman and members of the General Council, propose the name of any person who he recommends should be appointed to be a member of the committee; and the registrar must send details to every member of the General Council<sup>15</sup>. Any member of the General Council may send or hand to the registrar, at any time before the appointment of the member or members of the committee is made, written particulars of any further nomination he wishes to make, signed by the proposer and a seconder<sup>16</sup>.

At the meeting of the General Council when any such recommendation or nomination is to be considered, the new member or members of the committee: (1) will, if there has been no additional nomination, be the person or persons recommended by the chairman of the committee<sup>17</sup>; and (2) where any additional nomination to a committee has been made, will be determined by a ballot of members present at the meeting from among all members duly nominated<sup>18</sup>.

510. Co-opted members.

The co-option of any person to any of the statutory committees<sup>1</sup> is subject to the approval of the General Council<sup>2</sup>. A co-opted member of any of the statutory committees may also be a member of the General Council<sup>3</sup>. The term of office of a co-opted member must not exceed the period of three years beginning with the date of his co-option<sup>4</sup>. The General Council must make further provision by rules<sup>5</sup> in relation to co-option, including provision as to the procedure involved<sup>6</sup>.

The chairman<sup>7</sup> must maintain a list of persons, who may include members of the General Council<sup>8</sup>, whom he considers suitable, by reason of their experience or qualifications, to serve as co-opted members of the statutory committees<sup>9</sup>. If any statutory committee considers it appropriate to increase its membership or the membership of any sub-committee of such committee by co-opting one or more persons, the chairman must, after consulting the chairman of the committee or sub-committee concerned, give not less than 14 days' written notice to members of the General Council that the proposal will be considered at the next meeting of the General Council<sup>10</sup>. Where any such proposal is approved by the General Council, the person concerned serves as a co-opted member of the committee or sub-committee in question for a term not exceeding three years beginning with the date of his co-option<sup>11</sup>.

OSTEOPATHS/(1) THE GENERAL OSTEOPATHIC COUNCIL/(iii) The Statutory Committees/511.
Procedure and exercise of functions.

511. Procedure and exercise of functions.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> regulating the procedure of the statutory committees<sup>3</sup> and their sub-committees (if any) including, in particular, provision as to rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before any such committee or sub-committee<sup>4</sup>. Subject to any provision made by or under the Osteopaths Act 1993, each statutory committee and any sub-committee of such a committee may regulate its own procedure<sup>5</sup>. The powers of any statutory committee may be exercised even though there is a vacancy among its members<sup>6</sup>. No proceedings of a statutory committee are invalidated by any defect in the appointment of a member<sup>7</sup>.

The General Council may by rules make provision with respect to any sub-committee of a statutory committee including, in particular, provision as to the functions and powers to be conferred on the sub-committee, its composition and its relationship with the statutory committee<sup>8</sup>.

If it appears to the General Council that any statutory committee is failing to perform its functions adequately, the General Council may give a direction as to the proper performance of those functions<sup>9</sup>. Where the General Council, having given a such direction, is satisfied that the committee has failed to comply with the direction, it may exercise any power of that committee or do any act or other thing authorised to be done by that committee<sup>10</sup>.

If it appears to the Privy Council<sup>1</sup> that the General Council<sup>2</sup> has failed to perform any functions<sup>3</sup> which, in the opinion of the Privy Council, should have been performed, the Privy Council may give the General Council such direction as the Privy Council considers appropriate<sup>4</sup>. If the General Council fails to comply with any such direction, the Privy Council may itself give effect to the direction<sup>5</sup>. For the purpose of enabling it to give effect to a direction, the Privy Council may: (1) exercise any power of the General Council or do any act or other thing authorised to be done by the General Council<sup>6</sup>; and (2) do, of its own motion, any act or other thing which it is otherwise authorised to do under the Osteopaths Act 1993 on the instigation of the General Council<sup>7</sup>.

(v) External Regulation of the Profession of Osteopaths

518. External regulation of the profession.

The General Osteopathic Council<sup>1</sup> is subject to the oversight of the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals<sup>2</sup> and must in the exercise of its functions co-operate with that Council<sup>3</sup>. The Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals has powers to refer certain decisions of the professional conduct committee<sup>4</sup> and the General Osteopathic Council<sup>5</sup> to the High Court where it considers the decision to be unduly lenient, or that it should not have been made, and that it would be desirable for the protection of members of the public<sup>6</sup>.

Her Majesty may by Order in Council<sup>7</sup> make provision modifying the regulation of the profession of osteopaths so far as appears to Her to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of securing or improving the regulation of the profession or the services which the profession provides or to which it contributes<sup>8</sup>, and modifying, as respects the General Osteopathic Council, the range of functions of that body in relation to which the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals performs its functions<sup>9</sup>.

The provisions of the Competition Act 1998 prohibiting agreements which have as their object the prevention, restriction or distortion of competition within the United Kingdom apply to rules made by professional bodies<sup>10</sup>. The Enterprise Act 2002<sup>11</sup>, for the purposes of an enforcement order<sup>12</sup>, has effect in relation to a regulatory provision<sup>13</sup> as it has effect in relation to an agreement, but with the necessary modifications<sup>14</sup>. An enforcement order may be made so as to have effect in relation to a regulatory provision even though that provision was properly made in exercise of functions conferred by the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>15</sup>.

1 As to the General Osteopathic Council see PARA 499 et seq ante.

2 See the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 25(3)(d); and PARA 294 note 8 ante. As to the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals, its duties and powers see PARA 294 et seq ante.

3 See ibid s 27(1); and PARA 304 ante. As to the power of the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals to give directions requiring the General Osteopathic Council to make rules where it considers that it would be desirable to do so for the protection of members of the public see PARA 304 ante. As to the power of the Secretary of State to make provision in regulations about the investigation by the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals of complaints made to it about the way in which the General Osteopathic Council has exercised any of its functions see PARA 305 ante.

4 Ie any step taken by the committee under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 22 (as amended) (see PARA 550 post) including a final decision not to take any disciplinary measure under that provision: see the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 29(1), (2); and PARA 306 ante. As to the professional conduct committee see PARA 514 ante.

5 Ie a decision of the General Osteopathic Council, or one of its committees or officers, to restore a person to the register following his removal from it in accordance with the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 22 (as amended) (see PARA 550 post): see the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 29 (2)(c); and PARA 306 ante.

8 See the Health Act 1999 s 60(1)(a), (2); and PARA 291 ante.

9 See ibid s 60(1)(e); and PARA 291 ante. As to the scope of such orders and the procedure for making them see PARAS 292-293 ante.

10 See the Competition Act 1998 Ch 1 (ss 1-11); and COMPETITION vol 18 (2009) PARA 116 et seq.

11 In the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 8 (provision that may be contained in enforcement orders). As to the Enterprise Act 2002 see COMPETITION vol 18 (2009) PARA 171 et seq.

12 'An enforcement order' means an order under either the Enterprise Act 2002 s 160 (orders following failure to fulfil final undertakings), or s 161 (final orders following market investigation reports): Osteopaths Act 1993 s 33(4) (substituted by the Enterprise Act 2002 s 278(1), Sch 25 para 29(1), (5)). For the purposes of an enforcement order, the Enterprise Act 2002 s 86(3) as applied by s 164(2)(a) (power to apply orders to existing agreements) has effect in relation to a regulatory provision as it has effect in relation to an agreement: Osteopaths Act 1993 s 33(5) (substituted by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 25 para 29(1), (6)).

13 'Regulatory provision' means: (1) any rule made by the General Council; (2) any provision of the code of practice issued by the General Council under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 19 (see PARA 544 post); and (3) any other advice or guidance given by the Council, any of its committees or any sub-committee of such a committee: s 33(1). For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante.

14 Ibid s 33(2) (amended by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 25 para 29(1), (2)(a), (b)). The references to anything permitted by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 8 in ss 160(4)(a), 161(3)(a) and 164(1) are to be construed accordingly: Osteopaths Act 1993 s 33(2A) (added by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 25 para 29(1), (3)).

519. The registrar of osteopaths.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must appoint a person to be the registrar for the purposes of the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>2</sup>. The person appointed is known as the 'registrar of osteopaths' and holds office for such period and on such terms as the General Council may determine<sup>3</sup>. It is the duty of the registrar to establish and maintain a register of osteopaths in accordance with the provisions of the Act<sup>4</sup>, and the registrar has such other functions as the General Council may direct<sup>5</sup>. Where the terms on which the registrar holds office include provision for the payment to him of any allowances or expenses, the rate at which those allowances or expenses are paid is to be determined by the General Council<sup>6</sup>. The terms on which the registrar holds office may, in addition to providing for his remuneration, include provision for the payment of such pensions, allowances or gratuities to or in respect of him, or such contributions or payments towards provision for such pensions, allowances or gratuities, as may be determined by the General Council<sup>7</sup>.

(ii) Registration and the Register

520. Full registration.

Subject to the provisions of the Osteopaths Act 1993, any person who satisfies the following conditions<sup>1</sup> is entitled to be registered<sup>2</sup> as a fully registered osteopath<sup>3</sup>. The conditions are that the application is made in the prescribed<sup>4</sup> form and manner<sup>5</sup> and that the applicant<sup>6</sup>:

- 677 (1) has paid the prescribed fee<sup>7</sup>;
- 678 (2) satisfies the registrar<sup>8</sup> that he is of good character<sup>9</sup>;
- 679 (3) satisfies the registrar that he is in good health, both physically and mentally<sup>10</sup>;
- 680 (4) has a recognised qualification<sup>11</sup>.

The General Council may by rules<sup>12</sup> provide for treating a person who: (a) has obtained a qualification in osteopathy outside the United Kingdom<sup>13</sup>; (b) does not hold a recognised qualification<sup>14</sup>; but (c) satisfies the registrar that he has reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>15</sup>, as holding a recognised qualification for the purposes of the Act<sup>16</sup>.

520-524 Full registration ... Registration: supplemental

A person who is lawfully established as an osteopath in another EEA state or Switzerland is entitled to be registered as a temporarily registered osteopath: see the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 5A (added by SI 2007/3101).

520 Full registration

TEXT AND NOTES--Subject to the General Osteopathic Council (Registration of Osteopaths with United Kingdom Qualifications that are not Recognised Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2009, SI 2009/1993, r 3(2), the Registrar must, in considering an application by an applicant who appears to have a relevant unrecognised United Kingdom qualification, treat the applicant as having a recognised qualification on being satisfied that the applicant (1) obtained a qualification in osteopathy in the United Kingdom before 9 May 2000; (2) practised as an osteopath before 9 May 2000; (3) has not practised as an osteopath in the United Kingdom on or after 9 May 2000; (4) has a good reason for not having made a successful application for registration during the transitional period; and (5) is capable of the competent and safe practice of osteopathy: r 2(1). For the purpose of determining whether an applicant is capable of the competent and safe practice of osteopathy, in order to be satisfied as required by head (5) above, the Registrar may require the applicant to take a test of competence: r 2(2). The test of competence must be conducted by assessors appointed by the General Council: r 2(3). 'Applicant' means an applicant for registration as a fully registered osteopath; and 'relevant unrecognised United Kingdom qualification' means a qualification in osteopathy granted by an institution in the United Kingdom before 9 May 2000 which is not a recognised qualification: r 1(2). SI 2000/1038 applies to an application for registration to which SI 2009/1993 r 2 relates, except that (a) the applicant is required to provide, additionally, evidence of a relevant unrecognised United Kingdom qualification and such additional information relating to that qualification as the Registrar may specify; and (b) SI 2000/1038 r 6(2) (which relates to a possible reduction in the standard entry fee; see PARA 527) does not apply in relation to such an application: SI 2009/1993 r 3(1). Any application to which r 2 relates which is made on or after 1 January 2011 must be refused: r 3(2). Where a person is registered as a fully registered osteopath by virtue of SI 2009/1993, the register may contain a note to that effect: r 4.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/521. Application for registration as a fully registered osteopath.

521. Application for registration as a fully registered osteopath.

An application for registration as a fully registered osteopath<sup>1</sup> must be in writing<sup>2</sup>, on the form approved by the General Council<sup>3</sup> for the purpose<sup>4</sup>, completed and signed by the applicant<sup>5</sup> and given or sent to the registrar<sup>6</sup>. The applicant must provide in connection with the application for registration a character reference<sup>7</sup>; unless he is unable to do so in the terms required<sup>8</sup>, a health reference<sup>9</sup>; the document conferring or evidencing the possession by the applicant of a relevant qualification<sup>10</sup>; and such other information and documents as the registrar may reasonably require for the purpose of determining the application<sup>11</sup>.

For the purpose of satisfying himself as to the good character of the applicant, the registrar must have regard to: (1) the character reference<sup>12</sup>; (2) any criminal offence of which the applicant has been convicted<sup>13</sup>; (3) such other matters as appear to him to be relevant<sup>14</sup>, and for this purpose the registrar may seek information additional to that provided with the application for registration from the applicant and from any other person or source<sup>15</sup>.

For the purpose of satisfying himself as to the physical and mental health of the applicant, the registrar must have regard to: (a) the health reference<sup>16</sup>; (b) such other matters as appear to him to be relevant<sup>17</sup>, and for this purpose the registrar may seek information additional to that provided with the application for registration from the applicant and from any other person or source, and may require the applicant to be examined by a doctor nominated by the registrar<sup>18</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'fully registered osteopath' see PARA 520 note 3 ante.

4 General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 4(1)(b). The form must require the applicant to provide the following information: (1) the applicant's personal details, including his full name, title, sex, age, date of birth, practice or principal practice address or, if not practising, the address to be shown in the register, telephone and fax numbers, details of any criminal convictions and state of health (r 4(1)(b)(i)); (2) the applicant's professional details, including the name and address of the osteopathic institution he attended and the qualification gained, the outcome of any civil or negligence claims, membership of any other professional body and the outcome of any disciplinary proceedings (r 4(1)(b)(ii)); and (3) such other information as the General Council may reasonably require (r 4(1)(b)(iii)).

5 Ibid r 4(1)(c). 'Applicant' means a person applying to be registered as a registered osteopath: r 2(1).

6 Ibid r 4(1)(d). As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante. As to fraud or error in relation to registration see PARA 533 post.

7 Ibid r 4(2)(a). A character reference is a reference as to the good character of the applicant given on the form specified in Part 1 of the Schedule to the General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules 2000 by a person who: (1) is not a relative of the applicant; (2) is a person of standing in the community which includes a registered osteopath, solicitor, accountant, bank manager, justice of the peace, principal of the institution which granted the applicant a relevant qualification or a person authorised by the principal of that institution, minister of the church, rabbi, imam or other religious official acceptable to the registrar; and (3) has known the applicant for a period of at least four years: General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 4(2)(a). 'Relative', in relation to any person, means any of the following: (a) his spouse; (b) any lineal ancestor, lineal descendant, brother, sister, aunt, uncle, nephew, niece or first cousin of his or his spouse; (c) the spouse of any relative within head (b) supra, and for the purposes of deducing any such relationship spouse includes a former spouse, a partner to whom the person is not married, and a partner of the same sex: r 2(1). 'Relevant qualification' means a recognised qualification or a qualification treated as a recognised qualification by rules made under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 3(6) (see PARA 520 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 2(1).

8 Where the registrar is satisfied that the applicant cannot provide a health reference in the terms provided by ibid r 4(2)(b) (see note 9 infra) for whatever reason, the registrar may satisfy himself as to the physical and mental health of the applicant in any of the following ways: (1) by a reference given by a doctor who, in giving the reference, relies on the medical records of the applicant made by a doctor of whom the applicant was a patient for a period of at least four years or the records of a doctor who has practised in partnership with such a doctor; (2) by an examination by a doctor nominated by the registrar; or (3) by such other manner as the registrar considers appropriate in a particular case: r 4(3). For these purposes, 'doctor' means a registered medical practitioner: r 2(1). For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante.

9 Ibid r 4(2)(b). A health reference is a reference as to the physical and mental health of the applicant given on the form specified in Part II of the Schedule to the General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules 2000 by the applicant's doctor provided he is not a relative of the applicant, and he has known the applicant for a period of at least four years: General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 4(2)(b).

11 Ibid r 4(2)(d).

520-524 Full registration ... Registration: supplemental

A person who is lawfully established as an osteopath in another EEA state or Switzerland is entitled to be registered as a temporarily registered osteopath: see the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 5A (added by SI 2007/3101).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/522. Conditional registration.

522. Conditional registration.

Subject to the provisions of the Osteopaths Act 1993, any person who satisfied certain conditions<sup>1</sup> and who made application during the transitional period<sup>2</sup> was entitled to be registered<sup>3</sup> as a conditionally registered osteopath<sup>4</sup>. The General Council<sup>5</sup> may by rules<sup>6</sup> provide for the conversion, in prescribed<sup>7</sup> circumstances and subject to the osteopath concerned complying with such conditions, if any, as may be prescribed, of conditional registration into full registration<sup>8</sup>. Unless it was converted into full registration in accordance with the rules, any conditional registration ceased to have effect either at the end of the period of five years beginning with the opening of the register<sup>9</sup>, or where a shorter period had been specified by the registrar<sup>10</sup> in relation to the osteopath in question, at the end of that shorter period<sup>11</sup>.

The registration of a conditionally registered osteopath must be converted from conditional registration to full registration if he has applied to the registrar in writing for such conversion and the specified circumstances<sup>12</sup> apply<sup>13</sup>. The circumstances are that:

- 681 (1) where the osteopath concerned has given an undertaking<sup>14</sup>:
191. (a) to complete additional training specified by the registrar, he has completed that training<sup>15</sup>;
192. (b) to acquire additional experience specified by the registrar, he has acquired that experience<sup>16</sup>;
193. (c) to comply with conditions imposed on him by the registrar, he has complied with those conditions<sup>17</sup>; or
- 135
- 682 (2) the registrar has not required the osteopath concerned to complete additional training or acquire additional experience and has not imposed conditions on the osteopath concerned<sup>18</sup>.

1 As to the conditions which had to be satisfied see the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 4(2), (3), (6)-(11); and the General Osteopathic Council (Conditional Registration) Rules, approved by the General Osteopathic Council (Conditional Registration) Rules Order of Council 1998, SI 1998/1020.

2 For these purposes, 'transitional period' means the period of two years beginning with the opening of the register: Osteopaths Act 1993 s 4(10). For the meaning of 'opening of the register' see PARA 520 note 11 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 524 note 3 post.

4 Osteopaths Act 1993 s 4(1). 'Conditionally registered osteopath' means a person who is registered with conditional registration: s 41. As to fraud or error in relation to registration see PARA 533 post.

5 For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante.

6 As to the making of rules see PARA 506 ante; and as to the effect of competition orders on rules see PARA 518 ante.

UPDATE

520-524 Full registration ... Registration: supplemental

A person who is lawfully established as an osteopath in another EEA state or Switzerland is entitled to be registered as a temporarily registered osteopath: see the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 5A (added by SI 2007/3101).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/523. Provisional registration.

523. Provisional registration.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> may make rules<sup>2</sup> providing for all applicants for registration who are entitled to be registered<sup>3</sup> with full registration<sup>4</sup>, or all such applicants falling within a prescribed<sup>5</sup> class, to be registered initially with provisional registration<sup>6</sup>. Before making any such rules, the General Council must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to consult those who are registered osteopaths<sup>7</sup>. The General Council may by rules provide for the conversion, in prescribed circumstances and subject to the osteopath concerned complying with such conditions, if any, as may be prescribed, of provisional registration into full registration<sup>8</sup>. Unless it is converted into full registration in accordance with the rules, any provisional registration ceases to have effect at the end of the period of one year beginning with the date on which it is entered in the register<sup>9</sup>. A provisionally registered osteopath<sup>10</sup> must not practise osteopathy except under the supervision of a fully registered osteopath<sup>11</sup> who is approved by the General Council for this purpose<sup>12</sup>.

UPDATE

520-524 Full registration ... Registration: supplemental

A person who is lawfully established as an osteopath in another EEA state or Switzerland is entitled to be registered as a temporarily registered osteopath: see the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 5A (added by SI 2007/3101).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/524. Registration: supplemental.

524. Registration: supplemental.

The register<sup>1</sup> must show, in relation to each registered osteopath<sup>2</sup> whether he is registered<sup>3</sup> with full<sup>4</sup>, conditional<sup>5</sup> or provisional registration<sup>6</sup>, and the address at which he has his practice or principal practice or, if he is not practising, such address as may be prescribed<sup>7</sup>. The General Council<sup>8</sup> may make rules<sup>9</sup> in connection with registration and the register and as to the payment of fees<sup>10</sup>. The rules may, in particular, make provision as to:

- 683 (1) the form and keeping of the register<sup>11</sup>;
- 684 (2) the form and manner in which applications for registration are to be made<sup>12</sup>;
- 685 (3) the documentary and other evidence which is to accompany applications for registration;<sup>13</sup>
- 686 (4) the manner in which the registrar is to satisfy himself as to the good character and competence of any person applying for registration and the procedure for so doing<sup>14</sup>;
- 687 (5) the manner in which the registrar is to satisfy himself as to the physical and mental health of any person applying for registration and the procedure for so doing<sup>15</sup>;
- 688 (6) the description of persons from whom references are to be provided for persons applying for registration<sup>16</sup>;
- 689 (7) in the case of an application for conditional registration, the conditions or kinds of condition which may be imposed on the osteopath concerned<sup>17</sup>;
- 690 (8) the making, periodic renewal and removal of entries in the register<sup>18</sup>;
- 691 (9) the giving of reasons for any removal of, or refusal to renew, an entry in the register<sup>19</sup>;
- 692 (10) any failure on the part of a registered osteopath to comply with any conditions subject to which his registration has effect, including provision for the registrar to refuse to renew his registration or for the removal of his name from the register<sup>20</sup>;
- 693 (11) the issue and form of certificates<sup>21</sup>;
- 694 (12) the content, assessment and conduct of any test of competence<sup>22</sup>;
- 695 (13) the meaning of 'principal practice'<sup>23</sup>.

The rules may also make provision: (a) prescribing the fee to be charged for making an entry in the register or restoring such an entry<sup>24</sup>; (b) prescribing the fee to be charged in respect of the retention in the register of any entry in any year following the year in which the entry was first made<sup>25</sup>; (c) providing for the entry in the register of qualifications, whether or not they are recognised qualifications<sup>26</sup>, possessed by registered osteopaths<sup>27</sup> and the removal of such an entry<sup>28</sup>; (d) prescribing the fee to be charged in respect of the making or removal of any entry of a kind mentioned in head (c) above<sup>29</sup>; (e) authorising the registrar to refuse to make an entry in the register, or restore such an entry, until the prescribed fee has been paid<sup>30</sup>, and to remove from the register any entry relating to a person who, after the prescribed notice has been given, fails to pay the fee prescribed in respect of the retention of the entry<sup>31</sup>.

A person who has failed to renew his registration as an osteopath is entitled to have his entry restored to the register on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>32</sup>.

525. The register and certificates of registration.

The register must contain a separate list of persons falling within each of the following categories: (1) persons resident in the United Kingdom<sup>1</sup> or other European Economic Area state<sup>2</sup>, the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man ('the Principal List')<sup>3</sup>; (2) persons resident outside the United Kingdom or other European Economic Area state or the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man ('the Overseas List')<sup>4</sup>. The names of persons entered in both the Principal List and the Overseas List must be in alphabetical order<sup>5</sup>. The registrar<sup>6</sup> must enter the name of a person entitled to be registered in the list appropriate to his place of residence and allocate to each person registered a unique identifying reference ('unique reference')<sup>7</sup>. The register must, in respect of each person whose name is entered in the register, contain, in addition to his name, the following information:

- 696 (a) the address:
  - 136 194. (i) at which he has his practice<sup>8</sup>; or
  - 195. (ii) if he practises at more than one place, at which he has his principal practice<sup>9</sup>; or
  - 196. (iii) if he is a non-practising osteopath, which he has informed the registrar is the address to be shown in the register in relation to his name<sup>10</sup>;
- 137 697 (b) the date on which he was fully registered<sup>11</sup> or conditionally registered<sup>12</sup>, as the case may be<sup>13</sup>;
- 698 (c) his unique reference<sup>14</sup>;
- 699 (d) the word 'full' or 'conditional' depending on the status of the osteopath<sup>15</sup>;
- 700 (e) where the entry was first made:
  - 138 197. (i) during the transitional period<sup>16</sup>, the qualification in osteopathy (if any) that he possessed on the date of entry, the institution from which he obtained the qualification and the date on which he obtained it and, where the qualification is a recognised qualification<sup>17</sup>, an indication that it is such a qualification<sup>18</sup>;
  - 198. (ii) after the transitional period, his recognised qualification, the institution from which he obtained the qualification and the date on which he obtained it<sup>19</sup>;
- 139 701 (f) such other qualifications as the General Council<sup>20</sup> has determined may be entered in the register<sup>21</sup>;
- 702 (g) in the case of a person who is a man the letter 'M' and in the case of a person who is a woman the letter 'W' and also, if a woman so requests, the title 'Miss', or 'Mrs' or 'Ms'<sup>22</sup>.

Where the registrar enters the name of an osteopath in the register, he must issue to that osteopath a certificate of registration complying with the following requirements<sup>23</sup>. A certificate of registration must be in the form determined by the General Council and must: (A) state the name of the osteopath concerned<sup>24</sup>, his unique reference<sup>25</sup>, the date on which he was registered<sup>26</sup>, and whether the osteopath concerned is registered as a fully registered osteopath or a conditionally registered osteopath<sup>27</sup>; and (B) be signed by the registrar<sup>28</sup>.

Where the registrar removes an entry in the register, except where the removal is pursuant to an order to do so<sup>29</sup>, or refuses to renew an entry, he must give the osteopath concerned reasons in writing for the removal or the refusal as the case may be<sup>30</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTES 2, 13, 15, 27--SI 1998/1328 rr 3(1), (3)(b), (d), 7(2)(a)(iv) amended, r 3(4)(b) revoked: SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/526. The keeping of the register.

526. The keeping of the register.

The register<sup>1</sup> must be kept secure in a manner which guards against falsification and to this end the registrar<sup>2</sup> must ensure that only he and such persons as have been authorised by him in writing for the purpose have access to the register<sup>3</sup>. The register must indicate whether a person whose name is in the register is a non-practising osteopath<sup>4</sup>. Where a conditions of practice order or a suspension order<sup>5</sup> has been made in respect of a registered osteopath, the registrar must enter the particulars of the order against the name of the osteopath in the register<sup>6</sup>. Where such an order ceases to have effect, is revoked or is replaced by another such order, the registrar must remove the entry relating to it in the register and, where the order is replaced by another order, enter the particulars of that order in the register<sup>7</sup>. The registrar may, on the application in writing of a registered osteopath, amend the particulars entered in the register in relation to his name and in particular may, where the registration of a conditionally registered osteopath has been converted to full registration<sup>8</sup>, amend the register accordingly<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the register see PARA 525 ante.

2 As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante.

3 General Osteopathic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1998, SI 1998/1328, r 4(1). For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante. As to public access to the register see PARA 532 post.

4 Ibid r 4(4). For this purpose, 'non-practising osteopath' means a person who pays a reduced entry fee in accordance with the General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules 1998 r 10(1)(a) (revoked): General Osteopathic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1998, SI 1998/1328, r 4(7). As to fees payable see now the General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038; and PARA 527 post.

7 Ibid r 4(3).

8 Ie in accordance with ibid r 5: see PARA 522 ante.

9 Ibid r 4(5). Before amending the register in accordance with such an application, the registrar must satisfy himself as to the accuracy of the information to be entered in the register and may require the registered osteopath making the application to produce a statutory declaration, a marriage certificate or such other documentary evidence as the registrar considers appropriate in any case: r 4(6).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4.
OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/527. Entry fees.

527. Entry fees.

A fee, known as 'the entry fee', is charged for making an entry in the register<sup>1</sup> in respect of a person who: (1) has made an application for registration as a registered osteopath<sup>2</sup> after the end of the transitional period<sup>3</sup>; or (2) has made such an application during the transitional period but whose name has not been entered in the register when that period comes to an end<sup>4</sup>. The entry fee may only be paid by instalments with the agreement of both the applicant<sup>5</sup> and the registrar<sup>6</sup>, and where the registrar has sent the applicant a notice<sup>7</sup> in writing specifying the date by which each instalment is to be paid to the registrar and its amount<sup>8</sup>. Where it has been agreed that the entry fee will be paid by instalments, the registrar must not enter the applicant's name in the register until the first instalment has been paid<sup>9</sup>.

Where it has been agreed that the entry fee will be paid by instalments and the osteopath concerned fails to pay an instalment on the date on which it is due<sup>10</sup>, the registrar must send the osteopath a notice in writing stating that, if the instalment is not paid within the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice is sent, the registrar will remove the osteopath's entry from the register unless the osteopath satisfies him that removal from the register would cause him undue hardship<sup>11</sup>. If the instalment is not paid within the 28 day period, the registrar must remove the osteopath's entry from the register unless he is satisfied that removal would cause the osteopath concerned undue hardship<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 524 note 1 ante. As to entries in the register see PARA 525 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered osteopath' see PARA 503 note 4 ante.

3 General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 6(1)(a). The fee is £750 or, where the fee is to be paid by instalments, £795: r 6(1)(a). For the meaning of 'transitional period' see PARA 520 note 11.

4 Ibid r 6(1)(b). The fee payable is £1750 or, where the fee is to be paid by instalments, £1855: r 6(1)(b). Where one or more of the following circumstances apply:

133 (1) the applicant does not intend to practise for at least three months during the 12 month period beginning with the date on which he either: (a) delivers the entry fee to the registrar personally; or (b) sends the entry fee by registered post service or by a postal service in which delivery or receipt is recorded to the registrar at the address of any office of the General Council;

134 (2) the applicant resides outside the United Kingdom or other European Economic Area state, or the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man;

135 (3) the application for registration is the first successful application made by the applicant, the entry fee is £375 or, where the fee is to be paid by instalments, £397: r 6(2). For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante. For these purposes, 'European Economic Area state' means a member state, Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland or Switzerland: r 2(1) (definition substituted by SI 2004/1947). For the meaning of 'member state' see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1; and the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2), Sch 1 Pt II.

5 For the meaning of 'applicant' see PARA 521 note 5 ante.

6 As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante.

7 Any reference to the sending of a notice to an applicant or a registered osteopath is a reference to the sending of the notice by registered post service or by a postal service in which delivery or receipt is recorded to the address at which he has his practice or his principal practice or, if he is not practising, the address which he has informed the registrar in writing is the address to be shown in the register in relation to his name: General

Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 3(1)(a). Where any notice or document is sent to an applicant or a registered osteopath, it is to be treated as having been sent on the day that it was posted: r 3(1)(b). As to the address at which a person has his principal practice see PARA 525 note 9 ante.

8 Ibid r 6(3). For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante.

9 Ibid r 6(4).

10 A reference to the date on which an instalment is due is a reference to a date which, in accordance with ibid r 6(3) (see the text to note 8 supra), the registrar has notified the applicant is a date by which an instalment of the entry fee is payable: r 7(3).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/528. Retention and restoration fees.

528. Retention and restoration fees.

A fee, known as 'the retention fee', is charged in respect of the retention in the register<sup>1</sup> of any entry in any year following the year in which the entry was first made<sup>2</sup>. The retention fee may only be paid by instalments with the agreement of both the osteopath and the registrar<sup>3</sup>, and where the registrar has sent the osteopath a notice<sup>4</sup> in writing specifying the date by which each instalment is to be paid to the registrar and its amount<sup>5</sup>. Except where it has been agreed that the retention fee will be paid by instalments, the registrar must remove from the register any entry relating to a registered osteopath<sup>6</sup> who, after the appropriate notices<sup>7</sup> have been sent, fails to pay the retention fee, unless the registrar is satisfied that the removal would cause the osteopath undue hardship<sup>8</sup>. Where it has been agreed that the retention fee will be paid by instalments and the osteopath has failed to pay an instalment on the date when it is due<sup>9</sup>, the registrar must send the osteopath a notice in writing stating that, if the instalment is not paid within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice is sent, the registrar will remove the osteopath's entry from the register unless the osteopath satisfies him that removal from the register would cause him undue hardship<sup>10</sup>. If the instalment is not paid within the 14 day period, the registrar must remove the osteopath's entry from the register unless he is satisfied that the removal would cause the osteopath concerned undue hardship<sup>11</sup>.

A fee, known as 'the restoration fee', is charged for restoring an entry in the register<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 524 note 1 ante.

2 General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 8(1). The fee is £750 or, where the fee is to be paid by instalments, £795: r 8(1). Where:

136 (1) the osteopath is not, on the date on which the retention fee is due, practising as an osteopath and does not intend to practise as an osteopath for at least three months during the 12 month period beginning with the date on which the retention fee is due; or the retention fee is £375 or, where the fee is to be paid by instalments, £395: r 8(2). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante. For the meaning of 'European Economic Area state' see PARA 527 note 4 ante. Any reference to the date on which the retention fee is due is a reference to: (a) where the entry in the register was first made during the transitional period, the first 9 May following the end of that period and 9 May in every subsequent year; (b) where the entry in the register was first made after the end of the transitional period, the anniversary of the date on which the entry was first made in the register and on that date in every subsequent year and if the entry was first made on 29 February it is treated as having been made on 1 March; (c) where an entry in the register has been removed and is subsequently restored, the anniversary of the date on which restoration was made and on that date in every subsequent year and if restoration was made on 29 February it is treated as having been made on 1 March: r 2(2). For the meaning of 'transitional period' see PARA 520 note 11 ante.

Where an osteopath satisfies the following conditions: (i) the osteopath is paying a retention fee for the first time; (ii) he has been granted a qualification in osteopathy, whether or not it is a relevant qualification, during the period of one year immediately preceding the date on which he was first registered; and (iii) he has not been practising as an osteopath for longer than a period of 18 months ending with the date on which he was first registered, the retention fee is £500 or, where the fee is to be paid by instalments, £530: r 8(3). For the meaning of 'relevant qualification' see PARA 521 note 7 ante.

Where the provisions of r 8(2) and r 8(3) apply, the retention fee is £250 or, where the fee is to be paid by instalments, £275: r 8(4).

3 As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante.

4 As to the service of notices see PARA 527 note 7 ante.

5 General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 8(5). For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante.

7 le the notices specified in the General Osteopathic Council (Application for Registration and Fees) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1038, r 9(2) or (3): see note 8 infra.

8 Ibid r 9(1). Where a registered osteopath has not given the registrar a bank authority, the registrar must: (1) send the osteopath a notice in writing not less than 28 days before the date on which the retention fee is due which states that the retention fee is due and the date on which it is due; and (2) if the retention fee has not been paid by the date on which it is due, send a further notice ('the second notice') in writing stating that if the retention fee is not paid within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the second notice is sent, the registrar will remove the osteopath's entry from the register unless the osteopath satisfies him that removal from the register would cause him undue hardship: r 9(2). Where a registered osteopath has given the registrar a bank authority and the retention fee has not been paid in accordance with that authority by the date on which that fee is due, the registrar must send the osteopath a notice in writing stating that, if the retention fee is not paid within the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice is sent, the registrar will remove the osteopath's entry from the register unless the osteopath satisfies him that removal from the register would cause him undue hardship: r 9(3). 'Bank authority' means any form of authority which a person may give to his bank including a letter of authority, banker's order, standing order or variable direct debit: r 2(1).

9 A reference to the date on which an instalment of a retention fee is due is a reference to a date which the registrar has notified the osteopath concerned under ibid r 8(5) (see the text to note 5 supra) is a date on which an instalment is payable: r 9(6).

11 Ibid r 9(5).

12 Ibid r 10(1). The fee is £750: r 10(1). Where:

138 (1) the person applying for restoration to the register does not intend to practise for at least three months during the 12 month period beginning with the date on which he either:

3. (a) delivers the restoration fee to the registrar; or

4. (b) sends the restoration fee by registered post service or by a postal service in which delivery or receipt is recorded to the registrar at the address of any office of the General Council; or

139 (2) the osteopath resides outside the United Kingdom or other European Economic Area state, the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man, the restoration fee is £375: r 10(2). For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante.

Where the osteopath applying for restoration to the register has never paid a retention fee, the restoration fee is £500: r 10(3).

530. Suspension of registration.

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup> suspends the registration of an osteopath in accordance with any provision of the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>2</sup>, he must enter in the register<sup>3</sup> a note of: (1) the suspension<sup>4</sup>; (2) the period of the suspension<sup>5</sup>; and (3) the provision under which the suspension was made<sup>6</sup>. Where the period of the suspension is extended, the registrar must note the extension in the register<sup>7</sup>. Any osteopath whose registration has been suspended ceases, for the period of his suspension, to be a registered osteopath<sup>8</sup> for the purposes of the provisions relating to the unlawful use of descriptions<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante.

2 For the powers of suspension see s 10(3) (see PARA 533 post), s 21(2) (see PARA 549 post), s 22(4)(c) (see PARA 550 post), s 23(2)(b), (4)(b) (see PARA 552 post), s 24(2) (see PARA 553 post), s 30(11)(c), (12) (see PARA 584 post), s 31(8)(c) (see PARA 588 post).

531. Restoration to the register of osteopaths who have been struck off.

Where a person who has had his entry as a fully registered osteopath<sup>1</sup> removed from the register<sup>2</sup> as the result of an order for removal<sup>3</sup> wishes to have his entry restored to the register, he must make an application for registration to the registrar<sup>4</sup>. No such application may be made before the end of the period of ten months<sup>5</sup> beginning with the date on which the order for removal was made<sup>6</sup>. Any such application for registration, known as an 'application for restoration', must be referred by the registrar to the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup> for determination by that committee<sup>8</sup>. The committee must not grant an application for restoration unless it is satisfied that the applicant not only satisfies the statutory requirements<sup>9</sup> but, having regard in particular to the circumstances which led to the making of the order for removal, is also a fit and proper person to practise the profession of osteopathy<sup>10</sup>. On granting an application for restoration, the committee must direct the registrar to register the applicant as a fully registered osteopath<sup>11</sup>, and may make a conditions of practice order with respect to him<sup>12</sup>.

The General Council<sup>13</sup> may by rules<sup>14</sup> make provision in relation to the restoration to the register of conditionally registered osteopaths<sup>15</sup> or provisionally registered osteopaths<sup>16</sup>, and any such rules may provide for restoration, in prescribed<sup>17</sup> circumstances, as a fully registered osteopath<sup>18</sup>.

Where a person who has had his entry as a conditionally registered osteopath removed from the register as a result of an order for removal wishes to have his entry restored to the register, he may make an application for registration in writing to the registrar<sup>19</sup>. Any such application for registration must be referred by the registrar to the professional conduct committee for determination by that committee<sup>20</sup>. When determining an application for restoration, the committee must in particular satisfy itself that the applicant: (1) has paid the restoration fee<sup>21</sup>; (2) is in good health both physically and mentally<sup>22</sup>; (3) has been of good character since the date on which his entry in the register was removed<sup>23</sup>; and (4) having regard to the circumstances which led to the making of the order for removal, is a fit and proper person to practise the profession of osteopathy<sup>24</sup>. On granting an application for restoration, the committee must, except as specified<sup>25</sup>, direct the registrar to register the applicant as a conditionally registered osteopath<sup>26</sup>, and may make a conditions of practice order with respect to him<sup>27</sup>. Where the committee is satisfied that the applicant: (a) satisfies the conditions set out in heads (1) to (4) above<sup>28</sup>; and (b) has fulfilled the required undertaking given by him<sup>29</sup> as a condition of registration as a conditionally registered osteopath<sup>30</sup>, it must direct the registrar to register the applicant as a fully registered osteopath<sup>31</sup>.

NOTE 18--Osteopaths Act 1993 s 8(8) amended: SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/532. Access to the register; the register as evidence.

532. Access to the register; the register as evidence.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must make the register<sup>2</sup> available for inspection by members of the public at all reasonable times<sup>3</sup>. The General Council must before the end of the period of 12 months<sup>4</sup> which begins on the date on which the register is opened<sup>5</sup>, and at least once in every subsequent period of 12 months which begins on the anniversary of that date<sup>6</sup>, publish a list, known as 'the published register', giving the names and registered addresses<sup>7</sup> of those who, at the date of publication, are registered osteopaths<sup>8</sup>. The published register must also contain, in respect of each registered osteopath, such other information, derived from the register, as may, by rules<sup>9</sup> made by the General Council, be determined to be appropriate for publication<sup>10</sup>. Any person who asks the General Council for a copy of the most recently published register is entitled to have one on payment of such reasonable fee as the General Council may determine<sup>11</sup>.

Any copy of, or extract from, the published register is evidence of the matters mentioned in it<sup>12</sup>. A certificate purporting to be signed by the registrar<sup>13</sup>, certifying that a person:

- 703 (1) is registered in a specified category<sup>14</sup>;
- 704 (2) is not registered<sup>15</sup>;
- 705 (3) was registered in a specified category at a specified date or during a specified period<sup>16</sup>;
- 706 (4) was not registered in a specified category, or in any category, at a specified date or during a specified period<sup>17</sup>; or
- 707 (5) has never been registered<sup>18</sup>,

is evidence of the matters certified<sup>19</sup>.

533. Fraud or error in relation to registration.

The registrar<sup>1</sup> must investigate any allegation that an entry in the register<sup>2</sup> has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, and must report on the result of his investigation to the General Council<sup>3</sup>. The registrar may, at any time during his investigation, suspend the registration<sup>4</sup> in question if he is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public<sup>5</sup>. The General Council must by rules<sup>6</sup> make provision, in relation to any case where the registrar proposes to suspend an osteopath's registration<sup>7</sup>: (1) giving the osteopath concerned an opportunity to appear before the investigating committee<sup>8</sup> and argue his case against suspension<sup>9</sup>; (2) allowing him to be legally represented<sup>10</sup>; and (3) for the registrar to be made a party to the proceedings<sup>11</sup>.

If, having considered any report of the registrar, the General Council is satisfied that the entry in question has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, it may order the registrar to remove the entry<sup>12</sup>. Where such an order is made, the registrar must without delay notify the person whose entry is to be removed of the order<sup>13</sup>, and of the right of appeal<sup>14</sup>. Where such an order is made, the person whose entry is to be removed may appeal to a county court<sup>15</sup>. Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the order was served<sup>16</sup>. On an appeal, the court may dismiss the appeal<sup>17</sup>; allow the appeal and quash the order appealed against<sup>18</sup>; or remit the case to the General Council to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>19</sup>. The court may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>20</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/534. Suspension of registration for fraud or error.

534. Suspension of registration for fraud or error.

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup> proposes to suspend an osteopath's registration pursuant to an allegation that such registration has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>2</sup>, he must send the osteopath concerned a notice<sup>3</sup> stating that he may appear before the committee<sup>4</sup> and argue his case against suspension if he notifies the registrar in writing of his intention to do so within the period of 14 days beginning with the date of the sending of the notice<sup>5</sup>, and that he may be legally represented<sup>6</sup>. Where the osteopath concerned has, within the period referred to in the registrar's notice, or within any extension of that period allowed by the registrar, sent the registrar a notice stating that he wishes to appear before the committee<sup>7</sup>, the registrar must fix a day on which the committee is to hear the osteopath or his representative, and notify the osteopath of that day and the time and place at which the hearing is to be held<sup>8</sup>. The registrar must be a party to the proceedings and may appear before the committee at the hearing and be legally represented<sup>9</sup>.

Both the osteopath concerned and the registrar may produce documentary evidence to the committee and may call witnesses and put questions to any person called as a witness before the committee<sup>10</sup>. Where the proceedings before the committee concern an allegation that entry to the register<sup>11</sup> has been fraudulently procured, it must not hear any evidence which would not be admissible if the proceedings were criminal proceedings in any court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>12</sup> in which the hearing takes place unless, after consultation with the legal assessor<sup>13</sup>, it is satisfied that its admission is necessary in order to protect members of the public<sup>14</sup>. At the hearing before the committee, the registrar first presents the case for suspending the registration of the osteopath concerned and the osteopath is given the opportunity to speak last but, subject to these requirements, the procedure at the hearing is such as the committee may determine<sup>15</sup>. The committee may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>16</sup>. The committee must decide whether or not there is reasonable cause for the registrar to suspend the registration of the osteopath concerned and, if there is reasonable cause, the duration of the suspension<sup>17</sup>. The chairman of the committee must give the decision of the committee orally at the end of the hearing and the registrar must<sup>18</sup>: (1) record the decision in writing<sup>19</sup>; (2) as soon as is practicable after the hearing, send a copy of the decision and the reasons for the decision to the osteopath concerned<sup>20</sup>; and (3) where the committee upholds the registrar's proposal to suspend the registration of the osteopath concerned, send to the osteopath a notice of suspension which includes the duration of the suspension<sup>21</sup>.

1 As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante.

2 As to the power of the registrar to make such a suspension see PARA 533 ante.

3 In the General Osteopathic Council (Fraud or Error and Appeals) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1846, a reference to the sending of a notice or other document to any person is a reference to delivering it to him personally or sending it to him by registered post or by the recorded delivery service: (1) where the person is the registrar, to the address of any office of the General Council; (2) where the person is a registered osteopath, to his address in the register or, if his last known address differs from the address in the register, his last known address or, if he is represented by a solicitor, to the solicitor's professional address; (3) where the person is not a registered osteopath or the registrar, to his last known address, or if he is represented by a solicitor, to the solicitor's professional address: r 3(1). Where a notice or other document is:

140 (a) sent by registered post or by the recorded delivery service, it is treated as having been sent on the day that it was posted (r 3(2)(a));

141 (b) delivered personally, if:

5. (i) it is delivered by the registrar, it is treated as having been delivered when it is handed to the osteopath concerned or the person aggrieved, as the case may be (r 3(2)(b)(i));
6. (ii) it is delivered by the osteopath concerned or the person aggrieved, it is treated as having been delivered when it is handed to the registrar or to his representative or left at any office of the General Council (r 3(2)(b)(ii)).

For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'registered osteopath' see PARA 503 note 4 ante.

Where the registrar is required to send a notice under r 4(1), he must in that notice inform the person to whom it is sent that a notice under r 4(3) (see the text to notes 7-8 infra) must either be delivered personally or be sent by registered post or by the recorded delivery service: r 3(3). See, however, note 7 infra.

4 'The committee' means the investigating committee: ibid r 4(13). As to the investigating committee see PARA 513 ante.

5 Ibid r 4(1)(a). The registrar may extend the period referred to in r 4(1)(a) if he is satisfied that in all the circumstances it is reasonable to do so: r 4(2). For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante.

6 Ibid r 4(1)(b).

7 Notwithstanding the provisions of ibid r 3(1)-(3) (see note 3 supra), a notice sent by post under r 4(3) other than by registered post or by the recorded delivery service is treated as complying with the requirements of r 3(1) if it is received at any office of the General Council within the time limits specified for sending that notice or notice of appeal, as the case may be: r 3(4).

8 Ibid r 4(3). The registrar must not fix a day for the hearing on any day earlier than the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the osteopath concerned delivered or sent the notice referred to in r 4(3) to the registrar: r 4(4).

16 Ibid r 4(9).

17 Ibid r 4(10). The duration of the suspension of registration under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 10(3) (see PARA 533 ante) must be for a period of not longer than six months but if, having considered any report of the registrar, the General Council is satisfied that the entry in question has not been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, it must order the registrar to lift the suspension immediately: General Osteopathic Council (Fraud or Error and Appeals) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1846, r 4(11).

The education committee<sup>1</sup> has the general duty of promoting high standards of education and training in osteopathy and keeping the provision made for that education and training under review<sup>2</sup>. Where it considers it to be necessary in connection with the discharge of its general duty, the committee may itself provide, or arrange for the provision of, education or training<sup>3</sup>. The General Council<sup>4</sup> must consult the education committee on matters relating to education, training, examinations or tests of competence<sup>5</sup>, and it is the duty of the committee to give advice to the General Council on those matters either on being consulted by the General Council or where it considers it appropriate to do so<sup>6</sup>.

536. Visitors.

The education committee<sup>1</sup> may appoint persons to visit any place at which, or any institution by which or under whose direction: (1) any relevant course of study<sup>2</sup> is, or is proposed to be, given<sup>3</sup>; (2) any examination is, or is proposed to be, held in connection with any such course<sup>4</sup>; (3) any test of competence is, or is proposed to be, conducted in connection with any such course or for any other purpose connected with the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>5</sup>. No person appointed as a visitor may exercise his functions<sup>6</sup> in relation to any place at which he regularly gives instruction in any subject<sup>7</sup>, or any institution with which he has a significant connection<sup>8</sup>. A person is not prevented from being appointed as a visitor merely because he is a member of the General Council<sup>9</sup> or any of its committees<sup>10</sup>.

Where a visitor visits any place or institution in the exercise of his functions, he must report to the education committee: (a) on the nature and quality of the instruction given, or to be given, and the facilities provided or to be provided, at that place or by that institution<sup>11</sup>; and (b) on such other matters, if any, as he was required to report on by the committee<sup>12</sup>. Where a visitor makes such a report to the education committee, the committee must on receipt of the report send a copy of it to the institution concerned<sup>13</sup>, and notify that institution of the period within which it may make observations on, or raise objections to, the report<sup>14</sup>. The education committee must not take any steps in the light of any report before the end of the specified period<sup>15</sup>.

The General Council may pay fees, allowances and expenses to persons appointed as visitors<sup>16</sup>, or treat any such person<sup>17</sup> as a member of its staff<sup>18</sup>. In the case of a visitor who is also a member of the General Council or one of its committees, any payment made to him in his capacity as a visitor is in addition to any to which he is entitled as such a member<sup>19</sup>.

2 'Relevant course of study' means any course of study which forms, or is intended to form, part of: (1) the complete course of study required in order to obtain a recognised qualification or a qualification for which recognition is being sought; or (2) any training which a registered osteopath may be required to undergo after registration: Osteopaths Act 1993 s 12(2). ### 537. The standard of proficiency.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must from time to time determine the standard of proficiency which, in its opinion, is required for the competent and safe practice of osteopathy<sup>2</sup>. The Council must publish a statement of the standard of proficiency as so determined by it<sup>3</sup>. If the Council at any time varies the standard so determined, it must publish a statement of the revised standard, accompanied by a statement of the differences between that standard and the standard as it was immediately before the revision<sup>4</sup>. No variation of the standard has effect before the end of the period of one year beginning with the date on which the Council publishes the statements required in connection with that variation<sup>5</sup>.

(ii) Qualifications

538. Recognised qualifications.

A qualification is a 'recognised qualification' if it is recognised by the General Council<sup>1</sup> under the provisions described below<sup>2</sup>.

Where the General Council is satisfied that:

- 708 (1) a qualification granted by an institution in the United Kingdom<sup>3</sup> is evidence of having reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>4</sup>; or
- 709 (2) a qualification which such an institution proposes to grant will be evidence of having reached that standard<sup>5</sup>,

it may, with the approval of the Privy Council<sup>6</sup>, recognise that qualification for the purposes of the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>7</sup>. Where the General Council is satisfied that a qualification granted by an institution outside the United Kingdom is evidence of having reached the required standard of proficiency, or of reaching a comparable standard, it may, with the approval of the Privy Council, recognise that qualification for the purposes of the Act<sup>8</sup>. When requesting the approval of the Privy Council for these purposes<sup>9</sup>, the General Council must make available to the Privy Council the information provided to it by the education committee<sup>10</sup> or, where the Privy Council considers it appropriate, a summary of that information<sup>11</sup>. The General Council must maintain and publish a list of the qualifications which are for the time being recognised<sup>12</sup>.

Where, by virtue of Community law<sup>13</sup> a person, 'the osteopath', is to be authorised to practise the profession of osteopathy on the same conditions as a person who holds a recognised qualification, the osteopath must be treated as having a recognised qualification<sup>14</sup>, but the General Council may, subject to Community law, require him to satisfy specified additional conditions before being registered<sup>15</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante.

2 Osteopaths Act 1993 s 14(1). Before deciding whether or not to recognise a qualification under s 14, the General Council must consult the education committee: s 14(6). 7 Osteopaths Act 1993 s 14(2). The General Council may by rules make provision requiring the education committee to publish a statement indicating: (1) matters on which the committee will wish to be satisfied before advising the General Council to recognise a qualification under s 14(2); and (2) matters which may cause the committee to advise the General Council not to recognise a qualification under s 14(2): s 14(9). Rules have been made providing that the education committee must publish a statement, and may from time to time amend the statement, indicating: (a) matters on which the committee will wish to be satisfied before advising the General Council to recognise a qualification under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 14(2); and (b) matters which may cause the committee to advise the General Council not to recognise a qualification under that provision: see the General Osteopathic Council (Recognition of Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/1281, r 3. As to the making of rules see PARA 506 ante; and as to the effect of competition orders on rules see PARA 518 ante.

8 Osteopaths Act 1993 s 14(3). The General Council may by rules:

142 (1) impose additional conditions for registration (s 14(4)(a)); or

143 (2) provide for any provision made by the Osteopaths Act 1993 in relation to conditions for registration to have effect subject to prescribed modifications (s 14(4)(b)), in the case of any application for registration based on a person's holding a qualification which is recognised under s 14(3): s 14(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such rules had been made.

9 le for the purposes of ibid s 14(2), (3): see the text to notes 4-8 supra.

10 Ibid s 14(7)(a). The Privy Council must have regard to the information made available to it under s 14(7) before deciding whether or not to give its approval: s 14(8).

539. Limited and conditional recognition of qualifications.

A qualification may be recognised by the General Council<sup>1</sup>: (1) only in respect of awards of that qualification made after a specified date<sup>2</sup>; (2) only in respect of awards made before a specified date<sup>3</sup>; or (3) only in respect of awards made after a specified date but before another specified date<sup>4</sup>. Where the General Council recognises a qualification in one or other of the limited ways set out in heads (1) to (3) above, the limitation must be specified in the list qualifications<sup>5</sup> issued by the General Council<sup>6</sup>.

The General Council may, in recognising a qualification, direct that the qualification is to remain a recognised qualification<sup>7</sup> only so long as such conditions as the General Council sees fit to impose are complied with in relation to the qualification<sup>8</sup>. Any such condition may at any time be removed by the General Council<sup>9</sup>. Any institution which is, or is likely to be, affected by such a direction must be notified by the General Council of the direction as soon as is reasonably practicable<sup>10</sup>.

Where an application is made by any institution for the recognition of a qualification, the General Council must notify the institution of the result of its application as soon as is reasonably practicable after the General Council determines the application<sup>11</sup>. Where the General Council refuses such an application, it must, when notifying the institution concerned, give reasons for its refusal<sup>12</sup>.

A person who: (1) has obtained a qualification in osteopathy outside the United Kingdom<sup>1</sup>; (2) does not hold a recognised qualification<sup>2</sup>; but (3) satisfies the registrar<sup>3</sup> that he has reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>4</sup>, must be treated as holding a recognised qualification for the purposes of the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>5</sup>.

The General Council<sup>6</sup>, being the designated authority for the osteopaths profession in the United Kingdom<sup>7</sup>, may not, on grounds of inadequate qualifications, refuse to authorise a national of a European Union member state, Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Switzerland to practise the profession on the same conditions as apply to a United Kingdom applicant, if that person holds the diploma required to practise in another such state or can satisfy certain other conditions as to experience and qualifications<sup>8</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(3) PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION/(ii) Qualifications/541. Withdrawal of recognition.

541. Withdrawal of recognition.

Where, as a result of any visitor's report<sup>1</sup> or other information acquired by the education committee<sup>2</sup>, the committee is of the opinion:

- 710 (1) that a recognised qualification<sup>3</sup> is no longer, or will no longer be, evidence of having reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>4</sup>;
- 711 (2) that a proposed qualification which has yet to be granted, but which was recognised<sup>5</sup>, will not be evidence of having reached that standard<sup>6</sup>; or
- 712 (3) that a condition for the continued recognition of a qualification<sup>7</sup> has not been complied with<sup>8</sup>, it must refer the matter to the General Council<sup>9</sup>. In considering any such matter referred to it, the General Council must have regard to the information on which the education committee formed its opinion together with any other relevant information which the General Council may have<sup>10</sup>.

If the General Council is satisfied that the circumstances of the case are as mentioned in head (1), (2) or (3) above, it may, with the approval of the Privy Council<sup>11</sup>, direct that the qualification is no longer to be a recognised qualification for the purposes of the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>12</sup>. When requesting the approval of the Privy Council, the General Council must make available to the Privy Council the information to which it had regard<sup>13</sup>, and the Privy Council must have regard to that information before deciding whether or not to give its approval<sup>14</sup>.

Where the recognition of any qualification is withdrawn under these provisions, the General Council must use its best endeavours to secure that any person who is studying for that qualification at any place, at the time when recognition is withdrawn, is given the opportunity to study at that or any other place for a qualification which is recognised<sup>15</sup>. The withdrawal under these provisions of recognition from any qualification does not affect the entitlement of any person to be registered<sup>16</sup> by reference to an award of that qualification made to him before the date on which the direction withdrawing recognition had effect<sup>17</sup>.

542. Provision of information by institutions.

The provisions described below apply to any institution by which, or under whose direction: (1) any relevant course of study<sup>1</sup> is, or is proposed to be, given<sup>2</sup>; (2) any examination is, or is proposed to be, held in connection with any such course<sup>3</sup>; or (3) any test of competence is, or is proposed to be, conducted in connection with any such course or for any other purpose connected with the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>4</sup>.

Whenever required to do so by the education committee<sup>5</sup>, any such institution must give to the committee such information as the committee may reasonably require in connection with the exercise of its functions<sup>6</sup>. The matters with respect to which the education committee may require information include<sup>7</sup>: the requirements which must be met by any person pursuing the course of study, undergoing the course of training or taking the examination or test in question<sup>8</sup>; the financial position of the institution<sup>9</sup>; and the efficiency of the institution's management<sup>10</sup>. Where an institution refuses any such reasonable request for information made by the education committee, the committee may recommend to the General Council<sup>11</sup> that recognition of the qualification<sup>12</sup> in question be either refused<sup>13</sup> or withdrawn<sup>14</sup>. Where such a recommendation is made to the General Council, it may<sup>15</sup> refuse to recognise the qualification<sup>16</sup>, or<sup>17</sup> give a direction<sup>18</sup>, with the required approval of the Privy Council<sup>19</sup>, in respect of the qualification<sup>20</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTES--The General Osteopathic Council (Continuing Professional Development) Rules 2006 (approved by the General Osteopathic Council (Continuing Professional Development) Rules Order of Council 2006, SI 2006/3511) provide for the continuing professional development of registered osteopaths, and provide for their removal from the register for failure to comply with the requirements of the rules.

As to the effect of the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 17(1), (2) to a temporarily registered osteopath, see s 17(2A)-(2D) (added by SI 2007/3101; 1993 Act s 17(2B) amended by SI 2008/1774).

544. Code of practice.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must prepare and from time to time publish a code of practice laying down standards of conduct and practice expected of registered osteopaths<sup>2</sup>, and giving advice in relation to the practice of osteopathy<sup>3</sup>. It is the duty of the General Council to keep the code under review and to vary its provisions whenever it considers it appropriate to do so<sup>4</sup>. Before issuing the code or varying it, the General Council must consult such representatives of practising osteopaths as it considers appropriate<sup>5</sup>. Where any person is alleged to have failed to comply with any provision of the code, that failure is not to be taken, of itself, to constitute unacceptable professional conduct<sup>6</sup> on his part<sup>7</sup>, but will be taken into account in any proceedings against him under the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>8</sup>. Any person who asks the General Council for a copy of the code is entitled to have one on payment of such reasonable fee as the General Council may determine<sup>9</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(ii) The Investigating Committee/545. Allegations as to professional conduct and fitness to practise.

(ii) The Investigating Committee

545. Allegations as to professional conduct and fitness to practise.

Where any allegation is made against a registered osteopath<sup>1</sup> to the effect that: (1) he has been guilty of conduct which falls short of the standard required of a registered osteopath<sup>2</sup>; (2) he has been guilty of professional incompetence<sup>3</sup>; (3) he has been convicted, at any time, in the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup> of a criminal offence<sup>5</sup>; or (4) his ability to practise as an osteopath is seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition<sup>6</sup>, then the provisions described below apply<sup>7</sup>.

Where an allegation<sup>8</sup> is made to the General Council<sup>9</sup>, or to any of its committees<sup>10</sup> other than the investigating committee<sup>11</sup>, it is the duty of the General Council or committee to refer the allegation to the investigating committee<sup>12</sup>.

The General Council may make rules<sup>13</sup> requiring any allegation which is made or referred to the investigating committee to be referred for preliminary consideration to a person appointed by the General Council in accordance with the rules<sup>14</sup>. Any such rules may allow for the appointment of persons who are members of the General Council<sup>15</sup>, but may not allow for the appointment of the registrar<sup>16</sup>. Any person to whom an allegation is referred by the investigating committee in accordance with such rules must: (a) consider the allegation with a view to establishing whether, in his opinion, power is given by the Osteopaths Act 1993 to deal with it if it proves to be well founded<sup>17</sup>; and (b) if he considers that such power is given, give the investigating committee a report of the result of his consideration<sup>18</sup>.

Where the investigating committee is required to investigate any allegation, it must:

- 713 (i) notify the registered osteopath concerned of the allegation and invite him to give the committee his observations before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which notice of the allegation is sent to him<sup>19</sup>;
- 714 (ii) take such steps as are reasonably practicable to obtain as much information as possible about the case<sup>20</sup>; and
- 715 (iii) consider, in the light of the information which it has been able to obtain and any observations duly made to it by the registered osteopath concerned, whether in its opinion there is a case to answer<sup>21</sup>.

Where the investigating committee concludes that there is a case to answer, it must notify both the osteopath concerned and the person making the allegation of its conclusion<sup>22</sup>, and refer the allegation as formulated by it either to the health committee in respect of an allegation relating to the impairment of an osteopath's physical or mental condition<sup>23</sup>, or to the professional conduct committee in the case of an allegation of any other kind<sup>24</sup>. Where the investigating committee concludes that there is no case to answer, it must notify both the osteopath concerned and the person making the allegation<sup>25</sup>.

The maxim that a person ought not to be punished twice for the same offence does not apply to proceedings before a disciplinary committee: R v Statutory Committee of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, ex p Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain [1981] 2 All ER 805, [1981] 1 WLR 886, DC. Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(ii) The Investigating Committee/546. Screeners.

546. Screeners.

Before any case is considered by the investigating committee<sup>1</sup>, it must have been considered by a member of that committee appointed for the purpose by the Council<sup>2</sup> ('the screener'), and referred by that person to the committee<sup>3</sup>. The member appointed as the screener must be a fully registered osteopath<sup>4</sup>. However, he must not be the registrar<sup>5</sup> or a member of either the professional conduct committee<sup>6</sup> or the health committee<sup>7</sup>; and he must not sit as a member of the investigating committee on any case previously considered by him in his capacity as screener<sup>8</sup>. For the purposes of considering a case, the screener may seek information about or observations on the case from any person who, in the opinion of the screener, might assist him in his consideration<sup>9</sup>.

Where the screener decides that the investigating committee has no power to deal with a complaint<sup>10</sup>, then he must inform the complainant<sup>11</sup> of his decision in writing and give reasons<sup>12</sup>. Generally<sup>13</sup>, where the screener has decided on an earlier occasion that there is no power under the Osteopaths Act 1993 to deal with a complaint against an osteopath<sup>14</sup>, that earlier case may nevertheless be taken into account by the screener in connection with the consideration of a subsequent complaint against the same osteopath with a view to determining whether together they may indicate a case relating to conduct or incompetence<sup>15</sup> or a case relating to health<sup>16</sup>.

1 As to the investigating committee see PARA 513 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'the Council' means the General Osteopathic Council or a committee of the Council acting under delegated power: General Osteopathic Council (Investigation of Complaints) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1847, r 2. As to the General Osteopathic Council and its committees see PARA 499 ante.

3 Ibid r 3(1).

4 Ibid r 3(2). For the meaning of 'fully registered osteopath' see PARA 520 note 3 ante.

5 As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante.

6 As to the professional conduct committee see PARA 514 ante.

7 General Osteopathic Council (Investigation of Complaints) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1847, r 3(3)(a). As to the health committee see PARA 515 ante.

8 Ibid r 3(3)(b).

9 Ibid r 5.

10 'A complaint' means any allegation of any kind mentioned in the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 20(1) (see PARA 545 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Investigation of Complaints) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1847, r 2.

11 'Complainant' means a person by whom a complaint has been made to the Council: ibid r 2.

12 Ibid r 6(1). In such circumstances, neither the complainant nor the osteopath has the right of access to any document relating to the case: r 6(2). For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante.

13 An earlier case may only be taken into account in accordance with ibid r 4(1) if, when the osteopath is notified under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 20(13) (see PARA 545 ante) that no further action is to be taken in connection with the earlier case, the notification contains a statement that the case may be taken into account in the consideration of any subsequent complaint: General Osteopathic Council (Investigation of Complaints) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1847, r 4(2).

14 'Osteopath' means a registered osteopath against whom a complaint has been made, and includes a person whose registration is currently suspended: ibid r 2. For the meaning of 'registered osteopath' see PARA 503 note 4 ante. As to the suspension of registration see PARA 530 ante.

15 'Case relating to conduct or incompetence' means a case where a question arises as to whether the osteopath may have been guilty of unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 20 (see PARA 545 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Investigation of Complaints) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1847, r 2.

16 Ibid r 4(1). 'Case relating to health' means a case where a question arises as to whether the ability to practise of the osteopath is seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition: r 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(ii) The Investigating Committee/547. Procedure of the investigating committee.

547. Procedure of the investigating committee.

The investigating committee<sup>1</sup> must meet in private to: (1) consider all new cases of complaint<sup>2</sup>; (2) review all ongoing cases<sup>3</sup>; (3) review the reports of screeners<sup>4</sup>; (4) receive reports from sub-committees<sup>5</sup>; (5) take note of the outcome of cases referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>6</sup> or to the health committee<sup>7</sup>. The committee must meet not less than three times a year and on such days as it determines<sup>8</sup>. At each meeting, the committee must review all cases not yet concluded or referred to the professional conduct committee or to the health committee<sup>9</sup>. The committee must accept for consideration written statements made by the complainant<sup>10</sup>, the osteopath<sup>11</sup>, and by others submitting additional information and any other material collected by the screener<sup>12</sup>. In any case, the committee may consider that it has insufficient evidence on which to reach a decision and may require further investigations to be carried out<sup>13</sup>. Where the committee wishes in any case to make further enquiries or further investigations, to obtain further evidence or to seek legal advice<sup>14</sup>, it may adjourn further consideration of the case until its next meeting<sup>15</sup>. No member of the committee who is a member of the health committee or the professional conduct committee may take part in dealing with the same allegation in his capacity as a member of those other committees<sup>16</sup>.

Where the committee considers that it has insufficient evidence fully to understand the nature of the complaint<sup>17</sup>, the committee may delay notifying the osteopath of the complaint until sufficient evidence has been obtained<sup>18</sup>. The committee must enclose with any notice a summary of information received by the Council<sup>19</sup>. Notices sent to the osteopath requesting further information which is necessary to the proper investigation of the complaint, or asking him to agree to submit to a medical examination<sup>20</sup>, must contain a statement to the effect that, if the osteopath fails, without good reason, to respond to the notice within 28 days of the date of it being sent to him, then the committee will conclude that there is a case to answer and refer it forthwith to the professional conduct committee or the health committee as appropriate<sup>21</sup>.

Where the committee is required to carry out an investigation of a complaint relating to conduct, incompetence or criminal conviction<sup>22</sup>, it must, in the event that it concludes that there is no case to answer, record its reasons for so concluding and supply those reasons in writing both to the osteopath and the complainant<sup>23</sup>. Where, in relation to any complaint which is the subject of a report made to it, the committee dismisses that complaint on the grounds that there is no case to answer, and the screener then makes a further report to the committee in connection with a subsequent complaint, that report may, if the screener thinks fit, contain details of the dismissed complaint so that the committee may determine whether together the complaints indicate a case to answer<sup>24</sup>. Where the committee has concluded that there is no case to answer, neither the complainant nor the osteopath has any right of access to any documents relating to the case submitted to the Council<sup>25</sup>.

OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(ii) The Investigating Committee/548. Investigation of cases relating to health.

548. Investigation of cases relating to health.

The committee may request permission from the osteopath to obtain reports from his medical advisers<sup>5</sup>. At any stage of its investigations, the committee may cause such enquiries to be made in relation to the matter as it thinks fit; and it may, if it considers it necessary to assist the committee in arriving at a decision<sup>6</sup>:

- 716 (1) obtain advice from a medical assessor<sup>7</sup> on the information and evidence which has been received<sup>8</sup>;
- 717 (2) send a notice<sup>9</sup> to the osteopath:
- 140
- 199. (a) inviting him to agree within a period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice is sent to him to submit to examination by a medical assessor<sup>10</sup> and to agree that such assessor furnish to the committee reports on his fitness to practise<sup>11</sup>;
- 200. (b) informing the osteopath that it is also open to him to nominate other medical practitioners to examine him at his expense and report to the committee on his fitness to practise<sup>12</sup>; and
- 201. (c) inviting the osteopath to submit any further observations or other evidence which he may wish to offer as to his fitness to practise<sup>13</sup>.
- 141

If the osteopath agrees to submit to medical examination in response to an invitation, the committee must make arrangements for such examination by one or more medical assessors of the appropriate specialty<sup>14</sup>. The committee must send copies of any report received from the medical assessor to the osteopath and invite him to submit any observations that he has on the reports within a period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the reports are sent to him<sup>15</sup>. However, if in the opinion of the committee a report contains any material which is not relevant to the present fitness to practise of the osteopath<sup>16</sup>, and it would not be in the best interests of the osteopath to see it<sup>17</sup>, then the committee may direct the medical assessor to exclude such material from his report<sup>18</sup>.

Following consideration of the information and reports it has been able to obtain, and any observations which have been supplied by the osteopath, the committee must determine whether there is a case to answer and inform the osteopath and the complainant in writing of its conclusion<sup>19</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(ii) The Investigating Committee/549. Interim suspension powers of the investigating committee.

549. Interim suspension powers of the investigating committee.

Where the investigating committee<sup>1</sup> is investigating an allegation against a registered osteopath<sup>2</sup>, if the committee is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public, it may order the registrar<sup>3</sup> to suspend the osteopath's registration<sup>4</sup>. The order must specify the period of the suspension, which must not exceed two months<sup>5</sup> beginning with the date on which the order is made<sup>6</sup>. The committee must not make an order in any case after it has referred the allegation in question to the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup> or the health committee<sup>8</sup>, or make more than one order in respect of the same allegation<sup>9</sup>. Before making an order, the investigating committee must give the osteopath concerned an opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case against the making of the proposed order<sup>10</sup>.

If the investigating committee considers that the nature of the complaint<sup>11</sup> received is such that in order to protect members of the public it may be necessary to order the registrar to suspend the osteopath's<sup>12</sup> registration, it must<sup>13</sup>: (1) notify<sup>14</sup> the osteopath of his opportunity to appear before it at a hearing to argue why such an order should not be made and of his right to be legally represented at any hearing<sup>15</sup>; (2) proceed in accordance with the provisions described below<sup>16</sup>.

A legal assessor<sup>17</sup> appointed by the Council<sup>18</sup> must be present at any hearing<sup>19</sup>. Where the osteopath is neither present nor represented at the hearing, the committee may, nevertheless, proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable efforts have been made<sup>20</sup> to serve notification of the hearing on the osteopath<sup>21</sup>. When considering whether to make an order, the committee may invite the solicitor<sup>22</sup> to address it as to the circumstances of the case<sup>23</sup>. The committee must ensure that its decision is recorded in writing<sup>24</sup>, and direct the registrar as soon as practicable after the hearing to send a copy of the order to the osteopath<sup>25</sup>. Subject to the provisions described above, the committee's procedure in dealing with such orders is to be as it determines<sup>26</sup>.

 Consideration of allegations by the professional conduct committee.

(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee

A. CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATIONS

550. Consideration of allegations by the professional conduct committee.

Where an allegation has been referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup>, it is the duty of the committee to consider the allegation<sup>2</sup>. If, having considered it, the committee is satisfied that the allegation is well founded it must proceed as follows<sup>3</sup>.

If the allegation relates to a criminal conviction<sup>4</sup>, the committee may take no further action if it considers that the criminal offence in question has no material relevance to the fitness of the osteopath concerned to practise osteopathy<sup>5</sup>. Otherwise, the committee must take one of the following steps:

- 718 (1) admonish the osteopath<sup>6</sup>;
- 719 (2) make an order imposing conditions with which he must comply while practising as an osteopath, known as a 'conditions of practice order'<sup>7</sup>;
- 720 (3) order the registrar<sup>8</sup> to suspend the osteopath's registration<sup>9</sup> for such period as may be specified in the order, known as a 'suspension order'<sup>10</sup>; or
- 721 (4) order the registrar to remove the osteopath's name from the register<sup>11</sup>.

A conditions of practice order must specify one or both of the following: (a) the period for which the order is to have effect<sup>12</sup>; (b) a test of competence which must be taken by the osteopath<sup>13</sup>. A conditions of practice order ceases to have effect, if a period is specified in the order, when that period ends<sup>14</sup>; if no such period is specified but a test of competence is so specified, when the osteopath concerned passes the test<sup>15</sup>; or if both a period and a test are so specified, when the period ends or when the osteopath concerned passes the test, whichever is the later to occur<sup>16</sup>.

At any time while a conditions of practice order is in force under these provisions or by virtue of a decision of a court on an appeal<sup>17</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion<sup>18</sup>: (i) extend, or further extend, the period for which the order has effect<sup>19</sup>; (ii) revoke or vary any of the conditions<sup>20</sup>; (iii) require the osteopath concerned to pass a test of competence specified by the committee<sup>21</sup>; (iv) reduce the period for which the order has effect<sup>22</sup>; or (v) revoke the order<sup>23</sup>. At any time while a suspension order is in force with respect to an osteopath under these provisions or by virtue of a decision of a court on an appeal<sup>24</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion<sup>25</sup>, extend, or further extend, the period of suspension<sup>26</sup>, and make a conditions of practice order with which the osteopath must comply if he resumes the practice of osteopathy after the end of his period of suspension<sup>27</sup>. The period specified in a conditions of practice order or in a suspension order, and any extension of a specified period<sup>28</sup> must not in each case exceed three years<sup>29</sup>. In exercising its powers<sup>30</sup>, the committee must ensure that the conditions imposed on the osteopath concerned are, or the period of suspension imposed on him is, the minimum which it considers necessary for the protection of members of the public<sup>31</sup>.

551. Annual report by the professional conduct committee.

The professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> must, before the end of the period of 12 months<sup>2</sup> from 8 March 2000<sup>3</sup>, and at least once in every succeeding period of 12 months, publish a report setting out: (1) the names of those osteopaths in respect of whom it has investigated allegations<sup>4</sup> and found the allegations to be well founded<sup>5</sup>; (2) the nature of those allegations<sup>6</sup>; and (3) the steps, if any, taken by the committee in respect of the osteopaths so named<sup>7</sup>. Where the committee has investigated any allegation against an osteopath and has not been satisfied that the allegation was well founded, it must include in its report for the year in question a statement of that fact if the osteopath so requests<sup>8</sup>.

552. Consideration of allegations by the health committee.

Where an allegation has been referred to the health committee<sup>1</sup>, it is the duty of the committee to consider the allegation<sup>2</sup>. If, having considered it, the committee is satisfied that the allegation is well founded it must: (1) make an order imposing conditions with which the osteopath concerned must comply while practising as an osteopath, known as a 'conditions of practice order'<sup>3</sup>; or (2) order the registrar<sup>4</sup> to suspend the osteopath's registration for such period as may be specified in the order, known as a 'suspension order'<sup>5</sup>.

Any condition in a conditions of practice order must be imposed so as to have effect for a period specified in the order<sup>6</sup>. At any time while a conditions of practice order is in force<sup>7</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion<sup>8</sup>: (a) extend, or further extend, the period for which the order has effect<sup>9</sup>; or (b) make a suspension order with respect to the osteopath concerned<sup>10</sup>. At any time while a suspension order is in force<sup>11</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion<sup>12</sup>: (i) extend, or further extend, the period of suspension<sup>13</sup>; (ii) replace the order with a conditions of practice order having effect for the remainder of the period of suspension<sup>14</sup>; or (iii) make a conditions of practice order with which the osteopath must comply if he resumes the practice of osteopathy after the end of his period of suspension<sup>15</sup>. The period specified in a conditions of practice order or in a suspension order, and any extension of a specified period<sup>16</sup>, must not in each case exceed three years<sup>17</sup>. In exercising any of its powers under these provisions, the committee must ensure that any conditions imposed on the osteopath concerned are, or any period of suspension imposed on him is, the minimum which it considers necessary for the protection of members of the public<sup>18</sup>.

On the application of the osteopath with respect to whom a conditions of practice order or a suspension order is in force<sup>19</sup>, the committee may<sup>20</sup>: (A) revoke the order<sup>21</sup>; (B) vary the order by reducing the period for which it has effect<sup>22</sup>; or (C) in the case of a conditions of practice order, vary the order by removing or altering any of the conditions<sup>23</sup>. Where an osteopath has made such an application which has been refused, the committee may not entertain a further such application unless it is made after the end of the period of 12 months<sup>24</sup> beginning with the date on which the previous application was received by the committee<sup>25</sup>.

 Interim suspension orders.

553. Interim suspension orders.

Where: (1) an allegation against a registered osteopath<sup>1</sup> has been referred<sup>2</sup> to the professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup> or the health committee<sup>4</sup> and the committee has not reached a decision on the matter<sup>5</sup>; or (2) the professional conduct committee or the health committee reaches a relevant decision<sup>6</sup> on any such allegation<sup>7</sup>, then the provisions described below apply<sup>8</sup>.

The committee concerned may, if it is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public, order the registrar<sup>9</sup> to suspend the registration of the osteopath concerned<sup>10</sup>. Such an order is known as an 'interim suspension order'<sup>11</sup> and ceases to have effect:

- 722 (a) in a case where the committee has not reached a decision on the matter<sup>12</sup>, when the committee reaches a decision in respect of the allegation in question<sup>13</sup>;
 and
- 723 (b) in a case where the committee reaches a relevant decision on an allegation<sup>14</sup>;
 142
- 202. (i) if there is no appeal against the decision, when the period for appealing expires<sup>15</sup>; or
- 203. (ii) if there is an appeal against the decision, when the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of<sup>16</sup>.

Before making an interim suspension order, the committee must give the osteopath in question an opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case against the making of the proposed order<sup>17</sup>.

Where an interim suspension order has been made, the osteopath concerned may appeal against it to the appropriate court<sup>18</sup>. Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the order appealed against is made<sup>19</sup>. On an appeal the court may terminate the suspension<sup>20</sup>. The decision of the court on an appeal is final<sup>21</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTES 18-21--In determining the appeal the court is entitled to consider the merits of the substantive appeal but cannot reach a definitive conclusion on them: Moody v General Osteopathic Council [2007] EWHC 2518 (Admin), [2008] 2 All ER 532.

554. Revocation of interim suspension orders.

On an application made by the osteopath concerned<sup>1</sup>, an interim suspension order<sup>2</sup> may be revoked by the committee which made it on the ground that a change in the circumstances of the case has made the order unnecessary<sup>3</sup>. Generally<sup>4</sup>, no such application may be entertained by the committee concerned if it is made before the end of the period of six months<sup>5</sup> beginning with the date on which the order was imposed<sup>6</sup> or, where an unsuccessful appeal against the order has been made<sup>7</sup>, the date on which the appeal was dismissed<sup>8</sup>. Where a previous application for revocation has been made in relation to an interim suspension order, no further such application may be entertained by the committee concerned if it is made before the end of the period of six months beginning with the date on which the previous application was finally disposed of<sup>9</sup>.

Where an osteopath has made an application for the revocation of an interim suspension order which has been refused, he may appeal to the appropriate court<sup>10</sup> against the refusal<sup>11</sup>. Where, in relation to an interim suspension order: (1) an appeal has been made against the making of the order<sup>12</sup>; or (2) a further application for the order to be revoked has been made after an unsuccessful appeal<sup>13</sup> against the refusal of an earlier application<sup>14</sup>, then leave of the appropriate court is required for any appeal to the court under these provisions<sup>15</sup> in relation to that order<sup>16</sup>. Any appeal to the court must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the refusal is sent to the osteopath<sup>17</sup>. On an appeal, the court may terminate the suspension<sup>18</sup>. The decision of the court is final<sup>19</sup>.

 OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/A. CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATIONS/555.
 Investigation of allegations: procedural rules.

555. Investigation of allegations: procedural rules.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> as to the procedure to be followed by the professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup> or the health committee<sup>4</sup> in considering<sup>5</sup> any allegation as to professional conduct or fitness to practise<sup>6</sup>. The rules must, in particular, include provision:

- 724 (1) empowering each committee to refer to the other any allegation which it considers would be better dealt with by that other committee<sup>7</sup>;
- 725 (2) requiring the osteopath to whom the allegation relates to be given notice of the allegation<sup>8</sup>;
- 726 (3) giving the osteopath an opportunity to put his case at a hearing if:
 144
  - 204. (a) before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the allegation is sent to him, he asks for a hearing<sup>9</sup>; or
  - 205. (b) the committee considers that a hearing is desirable<sup>10</sup>; 145
- 727 (4) entitling the osteopath to be legally represented at any hearing in respect of the allegation<sup>11</sup>;
- 728 (5) securing that:
  - 206. (a) any hearing before the professional conduct committee is held in public unless the committee decides that it is in the interests of the person making the allegation, or of any person giving evidence or of any patient, to hold the hearing or any part of it in private<sup>12</sup>; and
  - 207. (b) any hearing before the health committee is held in private unless the committee considers that it is appropriate to hold the hearing or any part of it in public<sup>13</sup>;
- 729 (6) requiring the osteopath to be notified by the committee of its decision, its reasons for reaching that decision and of his right of appeal<sup>14</sup>;
- 730 (7) requiring the person by whom the allegation was made to be notified by the committee of its decision and of its reasons for reaching that decision<sup>15</sup>;
- 731 (8) empowering the committee to require persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents<sup>16</sup>;
- 732 (9) about the admissibility of evidence<sup>17</sup>;
- 733 (10) enabling the committee to administer oaths<sup>18</sup>.

No person may be required by any such rules to give any evidence or produce any document or other material at a hearing held by either committee which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings<sup>19</sup> in any court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>20</sup> in which the hearing takes place<sup>21</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE/556. Initial procedure.

B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE

556. Initial procedure.

The professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> must meet not less than three times a year on such days as it determines provided always that there is business to discharge<sup>2</sup>. On a referral to the committee by the investigating committee<sup>3</sup> or by the health committee<sup>4</sup>, the committee must request the solicitor<sup>5</sup> to review the evidence assembled by the referring committee and formulate a written statement setting out the allegations against the osteopath<sup>6</sup>. The chairman<sup>7</sup> must select from amongst the full membership of the committee a panel of the committee to sit with him to hear the case, and at least one member of that panel must be a lay member of the committee<sup>8</sup>. No person is eligible to sit on a panel hearing a case if he has personal knowledge of the facts of the case or of the complainant<sup>9</sup> or the osteopath which could be considered prejudicial to a fair hearing<sup>10</sup>, or if there would be a conflict of interest<sup>11</sup>.

On referral of a case, the committee must: (1) serve<sup>12</sup> on the osteopath concerned a copy of the complaint<sup>13</sup> that has been formulated, any document or statement on which the committee will be asked to rely, and a copy of the rules<sup>14</sup>; and (2) notify the osteopath of his opportunity to put his case at a hearing if before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the complaint is sent to him he asks for a hearing<sup>15</sup>, or the committee considers that a hearing is desirable<sup>16</sup>; and (3) notify the osteopath of his right to be legally represented at the hearing<sup>17</sup>. Without prejudice to heads (1) to (3) above, after referral of a case and after reviewing the evidence assembled by the referring committee and any material submitted by the osteopath concerned, the committee, in any case where it considers it appropriate to do so, must:

- 734 (a) invite the osteopath to indicate whether he accepts the facts set out in the complaint and, if so, whether he accepts that those facts amount to either unacceptable professional conduct<sup>18</sup> or professional incompetence or that he has been convicted of the criminal offence or offences referred to in the complaint, as the case may be<sup>19</sup>;
- 735 (b) indicate to him that, in that event, the committee would be minded to conclude that the complaint should be dealt with by way of an admonishment without any need for a hearing unless the osteopath otherwise requests<sup>20</sup>; and
- 736 (c) advise the osteopath that if he does not accept the facts set out in the complaint, or he accepts some or all of these facts but denies that the facts which are so accepted amount to either unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence, he has the right<sup>21</sup> to appear before the committee to argue his case and to be legally represented at such a hearing<sup>22</sup>.

The committee must send notice of the date, time and place of a hearing to the osteopath before the beginning of the period of 28 days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held<sup>23</sup>.

1 As to the professional conduct committee see PARA 514 ante. As to the consideration by the professional conduct committee of allegations concerning professional conduct or fitness to practise see PARA 550 ante.

2 General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 3. Nothing in the rules is to be construed as preventing the consideration together of allegations against two or more osteopaths and, where such consideration is given, the rules apply with necessary adaptation and subject to any direction given by the committee as to the order in which proceedings are to be heard under any of the rules in relation to the several osteopaths concerned: r 42.

4 As to referrals by the health committee see PARA 574 post. As to the consideration by the health committee of allegations concerning fitness to practise see PARA 552 ante. As to the health committee see PARA 515 ante.

5 'The solicitor' means any solicitor representing the Council and presenting evidence to the committee of the allegation against an osteopath, and includes counsel instructed to represent the Council in connection with any such case: General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 2. 'The Council' means the General Osteopathic Council or a committee performing the functions of the Council delegated to it under the Osteopaths Act 1993 Schedule para 15(2)(i): General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 2. As to the General Osteopathic Council see PARA 499 ante. As to the delegation of powers by the Council see PARA 505 text to note 15 ante.

6 Ibid r 4. 'Osteopath' means a registered osteopath about whom an allegation as to his fitness to practise has been made, and includes a person whose registration is currently suspended: r 2. For the meaning of 'registered osteopath' see PARA 503 note 4 ante. As to the suspension of registration see PARA 530 ante.

7 'The chairman' means the chairman of the professional conduct committee: ibid r 2. As to the chairman of the committee see PARA 514 ante.

8 Ibid r 5. In making his selection, the chairman is to have due regard to the need for a quorum and to the requirements of the Osteopaths Act 1993 Schedule para 24(2) (see PARA 509 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 5. As to the quorum of the committee see PARA 514 ante.

9 'The complainant' means a person who has made an allegation against an osteopath to the effect specified in the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 20(1)(a), (b) or (c) (see PARA 545 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 2.

11 Ibid r 6(b).

12 Any notice or communication required by the General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, to be served on a person may be served on the person either by delivering it to him or leaving it at his address, or by sending it by registered post or by recorded delivery service: r 65(1). For these purposes, the osteopath's address is his address in the register or his last known address if it differs from his address in the register and it appears to the solicitor that a letter sent to him there is more likely to reach him than at his registered address: r 65(2). Service of a notification sent by post is deemed to have been effected at the time when the letter containing it is sent: r 65(3). Any notice or communication other than a notice or communication required by the rules must be sent by first class post: r 65(4). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 524 note 1 ante.

13 'Complaint' means the written statement formulated by the solicitor in accordance with ibid r 4 (see the text to note 6 supra): r 2.

23 Ibid r 9. No hearing is to be fixed for a date which occurs before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice of hearing is sent except with the agreement of the osteopath on his receipt of the material specified in r 7(a) (see the text to note 14 supra): r 10.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE/557. Representation and evidence.

557. Representation and evidence.

The osteopath<sup>1</sup> has the right to be legally represented at any hearing to consider the allegations against him<sup>2</sup>. The professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup> may hear witnesses called by the solicitor<sup>4</sup> and by or on behalf of the osteopath<sup>5</sup>. Both the Council<sup>6</sup> and the osteopath must send to the registrar<sup>7</sup> and each other notice of the names of the witnesses to be called before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date set for the hearing, failing which such witnesses may not be called unless the committee otherwise gives leave<sup>8</sup>. If any party to the proceedings<sup>9</sup> wishes to rely at the hearing upon documentary evidence which has not previously been supplied to the committee, he must forward copies of such documents to the committee before the beginning of the period of four days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held<sup>10</sup>. The committee must request the solicitor to produce to the osteopath at the osteopath's request copies of any statement, explanation, admission or other document sent to the Council by any person in connection with the proceedings against the osteopath<sup>11</sup>, and copies of statements in the possession of the solicitor or the Council from persons who may be called to give evidence at the hearing, other than any medical evidence of fitness to practise<sup>12</sup>. Any party may at any time give another party notice to produce any document relevant to the inquiry alleged to be in the possession of that party<sup>13</sup>. Upon request, the committee may<sup>14</sup> require the production of any document to the registrar at any time before the beginning of any hearing if satisfied that the document is material and that a request for it to be produced voluntarily has not been complied with<sup>15</sup>.

The committee has the power to administer oaths and all evidence given orally is to be given on oath or to be affirmed<sup>16</sup>. The committee may, if satisfied that the interests of justice will not thereby be prejudiced, admit into evidence without strict proof, copies of documents which are themselves admissible<sup>17</sup>, photographs, certificates of conviction<sup>18</sup> and sentence, the records and registers of the Council, notes of proceedings before the committee<sup>19</sup> and before other tribunals, or any other material, and the committee may take note without strict proof of the professional qualifications, registration<sup>20</sup>, address and identity of the osteopath or of any other person<sup>21</sup>. The committee may by summons require any person to attend at a time and place stated in the summons to give evidence or to produce any documents in his custody or under his control which relate to any matter in issue before the committee, and must pay or tender the necessary expenses of attendance<sup>22</sup>. Any person summoned to attend under these provisions must be informed of the offence<sup>23</sup> which may be committed in the event of non-compliance<sup>24</sup>. Without the leave of the committee, no person, other than a party to the proceedings<sup>25</sup>, may be called as a witness by either party in proceedings before the committee unless he has been excluded from the proceedings until he is called to give evidence<sup>26</sup>. All parties to the proceedings are entitled to seek an order of the committee requiring persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents before the committee<sup>27</sup>.

OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE/558. Openness, postponement and cancellation of hearings.

558. Openness, postponement and cancellation of hearings.

The proceedings of the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> must be held in public<sup>2</sup>, unless the committee decides that it is in the interests of the complainant<sup>3</sup>, or of any person giving evidence, or of any patient, to hold the hearing or any part of it in private and, in such a case, all persons who are not concerned with the hearing<sup>4</sup> must withdraw<sup>5</sup>. The chairman<sup>6</sup> may postpone the hearing to such later date or such later meeting of the committee as he may determine<sup>7</sup>. The committee must send to all parties to whom the notice of hearing has been sent, notification<sup>8</sup> of the decision to postpone and of any subsequent date, time and place fixed for the postponed hearing, which must not take place before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which notification is given<sup>9</sup>.

Where, after a complaint<sup>10</sup> has been referred to the committee for consideration, it appears to the committee that such consideration cannot due to exceptional circumstances properly take place, it may, after taking advice from the legal assessor<sup>11</sup> and after consulting the investigating committee<sup>12</sup> and obtaining the consent of the osteopath concerned<sup>13</sup>, direct that a hearing should not be held and that the case should be concluded, provided that where there is an individual complainant the committee must, before it consults the investigating committee, endeavour to ascertain the views of the complainant<sup>14</sup>. As soon as any decision is reached as to cancellation of a hearing, the committee must send notice of that decision to the osteopath and to the complainant, if any<sup>15</sup>.

2 General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 17(1). The committee may deliberate in camera with or without the legal assessor at any time and for any purpose during or after the hearing of any proceedings; and for such purpose it may exclude the solicitor, the Council, the osteopath, and his representative: r 59. For the meanings of 'the Council' and 'the solicitor' see PARA 556 note 5 ante. For the meaning of 'osteopath' see PARA 556 note 6 ante. As to the right of the osteopath to be represented see PARA 557 text to note 2 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'complainant' see PARA 556 note 9 ante.

4 A person is not concerned with the hearing unless he is: (1) a member of the committee or a legal or medical assessor; (2) the osteopath or his representative; (3) the solicitor or his representative; (4) an officer or member of the Council; (5) a person giving oral evidence to the committee; (6) a person given leave by the chairman to remain at the hearing: General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 17(3)(a)-(f). 'Medical assessor' means an assessor appointed by the Council under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 28 (see PARA 580 post): General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 2.

10 For the meaning of 'complaint' see PARA 556 note 13 ante.

11 'Legal assessor' means an assessor appointed by the Council under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 27 (see PARA 579 post): General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 2.

12 As to the investigating committee see PARA 513 ante. As to the investigation of allegations by the investigating committee see PARAS 545 et seq ante.

13 The committee is not required to obtain the consent of the osteopath where such consent could not properly be obtained due to death, or mental or physical incapacity: General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 19(2).

559. Conduct of the hearing.

A legal assessor<sup>1</sup> must be selected by the chairman<sup>2</sup> for any hearing from the list of those appointed by the Council<sup>3</sup> to assist the professional conduct committee<sup>4</sup>. Where the osteopath<sup>5</sup> does not appear and is not represented<sup>6</sup>, the committee may nevertheless proceed with the hearing, make a finding and, if appropriate, apply sanctions, provided the solicitor<sup>7</sup> satisfies the committee that all reasonable steps have been taken to serve the notice of the hearing on the osteopath concerned<sup>8</sup>.

On calling the hearing to order, the chairman must first introduce all the parties to the proceedings<sup>9</sup>. The hearing must open with the registrar<sup>10</sup>, or the person appointed to act for him, reading the complaint<sup>11</sup> against the osteopath<sup>12</sup>.

At this point the osteopath or his representative may submit any objection on grounds of law to any part of the complaint and the solicitor may be invited to reply to any such submission on behalf of the Council<sup>13</sup>. After seeking the advice, if any, of the legal assessor, the committee will rule on the objection raised by the osteopath<sup>14</sup>.

If, at any stage of the hearing, it appears to the committee that the complaint should be amended, the committee may, after hearing the parties and seeking advice from the legal assessor, make such amendments to the complaint as may seem necessary or desirable, if it is satisfied that no injustice would thereby be caused<sup>15</sup>.

If, at any stage of the hearing, it appears to the committee that the case would more appropriately be heard by the health committee<sup>16</sup>, it must halt the proceedings and refer the case to the health committee<sup>17</sup>.

At any stage during the proceedings the chairman has the power to adjourn the proceedings<sup>18</sup>. When the proceedings are so adjourned, the committee must send to the osteopath concerned and to the complainant written notice<sup>19</sup> of the date, time and place of any resumed hearing<sup>20</sup>. A resumed hearing must not be fixed for a date which occurs before the end of the period of 14 days after which the notice of that hearing is sent<sup>21</sup>.

560. Cases relating to conviction.

In cases relating to conviction<sup>1</sup>, the order of proceedings is as follows:

- 737 (1) the solicitor<sup>2</sup> is requested to adduce evidence of any conviction and its circumstances<sup>3</sup>;
- 738 (2) evidence of a conviction may be adduced by the production of a certified copy of a certificate of conviction relating to a criminal offence<sup>4</sup>;
- 739 (3) if, in respect of any conviction, no evidence is so adduced, the chairman<sup>5</sup> must announce that the conviction has not been proved<sup>6</sup>;
- 740 (4) the chairman asks the osteopath<sup>7</sup> whether he accepts each conviction of which evidence is adduced, and in respect of such accepted conviction the chairman announces the conviction to have been proved<sup>8</sup>;
- 741 (5) in respect of convictions not so accepted, the osteopath or his representative<sup>9</sup> may address the professional conduct committee<sup>10</sup> and adduce both oral and documentary evidence to show that he was not the person convicted<sup>11</sup>;
- 742 (6) thereafter the solicitor may, with the committee's leave, seek to rebut any evidence of the osteopath by adducing evidence to that effect<sup>12</sup>;
- 743 (7) the solicitor and then the osteopath or his representative may address the committee<sup>13</sup>.

On conclusion of the proceedings described above, the committee considers each conviction alleged in the complaint<sup>14</sup>, other than those admitted or announced to be not proved, and determines whether or not each such conviction is proved; and the committee then announces its determination<sup>15</sup>. Where the committee has found that a conviction has been proved or a conviction has been admitted, the chairman invites: (a) the solicitor to address the committee and to adduce any further evidence as to the circumstances leading up to the conviction, and as to the character and previous history of the osteopath<sup>16</sup>; and (b) the osteopath or his representative to address the committee by way of mitigation and adduce any further such evidence<sup>17</sup>. The solicitor and the osteopath or his representative are, if appropriate, invited to address the committee on whether the criminal offence in question has any material relevance to the fitness of the osteopath concerned to practise osteopathy<sup>18</sup>. The committee then proceeds in accordance with the provisions relating to the consideration of sanctions<sup>19</sup>.

1 'Case relating to conviction' means a case where it is alleged that an osteopath has been convicted of a criminal offence whether or not while registered in the United Kingdom: General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 2. Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE/561. Cases relating to conduct or incompetence.

561. Cases relating to conduct or incompetence.

In cases of conduct or incompetence<sup>1</sup>, the chairman<sup>2</sup> asks the osteopath<sup>3</sup> whether he admits any or all of the facts alleged and, in respect of any such facts so admitted, the professional conduct committee<sup>4</sup> must record a finding that those facts have been proved<sup>5</sup>. Where all the facts are admitted, the osteopath or his representative<sup>6</sup> may submit that in respect of any complaint<sup>7</sup> where the facts have been admitted, those facts are insufficient to support a finding of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>8</sup> or professional incompetence<sup>9</sup>. Where such a submission is made, the solicitor<sup>10</sup> may answer that submission and the osteopath or his representative has the right of reply<sup>11</sup>. The committee must consider and determine whether to uphold the submission and, if it does, the committee records and announces a finding that the osteopath is not guilty of unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence in respect of the matters to which the complaint relates<sup>12</sup>.

If none or some only of the facts are admitted or if the committee does not uphold any such submission, the committee proceeds as follows: (1) the solicitor is requested to open the case against the osteopath by presenting the facts alleged on which the complaint is based and by then adducing any evidence<sup>13</sup> of the facts alleged and which have not been admitted by the osteopath<sup>14</sup>; (2) any witness called to give evidence may be cross-examined by the osteopath or his representative and re-examined by the solicitor<sup>15</sup>; (3) if, on any allegation, no evidence is adduced, the committee must record and announce a finding that the osteopath is not guilty of unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence in respect of that allegation<sup>16</sup>. When the solicitor has closed his presentation of the case, the osteopath or his representative may submit: (a) that, in respect of the facts alleged but not admitted in the complaint, no sufficient evidence has been adduced upon which the committee could find the facts proved<sup>17</sup>; (b) in respect of any allegation, the facts adduced or admitted are insufficient to support a finding of unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence<sup>18</sup>. The osteopath or his representative may then address the committee concerning any allegation that remains and may adduce evidence either documentary or oral, including his own, in his defence<sup>19</sup>. The osteopath or any witness called on his behalf may be cross-examined by the solicitor and re-examined by the osteopath or his representative<sup>20</sup>. At the end of the evidence of the osteopath, the solicitor may, with the leave of the committee, adduce evidence to rebut any evidence adduced by the osteopath or his representative<sup>21</sup>. The solicitor may then address the committee, following which the osteopath or his representative may also address the committee<sup>22</sup>.

The committee then considers the case in private and determines whether the facts alleged in the complaint have been proved to its satisfaction by the evidence<sup>23</sup>. If it so determines, it next decides whether the facts as proved amount to unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence<sup>24</sup>. All parties to the case having reassembled, the chairman announces the committee's findings and its reasons for those findings, with regard both to the facts of the case and to whether the osteopath has been found guilty of unacceptable professional conduct or of professional incompetence<sup>25</sup>. Where the committee finds the complaint not to be proved, the chairman announces this finding and the reasons for it and dismisses the case<sup>26</sup>. Where the committee has found the complaint proved, either in whole or in part, the chairman invites the solicitor to address the committee as to any additional circumstances leading up to the unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence and as to the character and previous history of the osteopath<sup>27</sup>. He then invites the osteopath or his representative to address the committee by way of mitigation and the osteopath may adduce oral or documentary evidence to support mitigation<sup>28</sup>.

At any stage during the proceedings before the committee, any member of the committee or the legal assessor<sup>29</sup> may, with the chairman's permission, question those presenting evidence or any witness called<sup>30</sup>.

1 'Case relating to conduct or incompetence' means a case where a question arises as to whether the osteopath may have been guilty of unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence within the meaning of the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 20 (see PARA 545 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/241, r 2. ## 562. Consideration of sanctions.

In any case where the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> has found a conviction proved<sup>2</sup> or has made a finding of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>3</sup> or professional incompetence<sup>4</sup> either in whole or in part, and has heard any plea in mitigation, the committee considers in private what sanction<sup>5</sup>, if any, it will apply to the osteopath<sup>6</sup>. When all parties to the case have reassembled, the chairman<sup>7</sup> announces the committee's decision with regard to sanctions<sup>8</sup>. In any case where the committee has imposed conditions on or suspended the registration of a practitioner for a specified period<sup>9</sup>, the chairman also indicates that the committee will review the case at a review hearing before the end of that period<sup>10</sup>, and what information it will require at the review hearing<sup>11</sup>. The committee notifies<sup>12</sup> the osteopath of its decision, of its reasons for reaching that decision, and of his rights of appeal<sup>13</sup>. The committee also notifies the complainant<sup>14</sup> of the committee's decision and of its reasons for reaching that decision<sup>15</sup>.

563. Cases relating to conviction and to conduct or incompetence.

Where in the case of any hearing, it is alleged against the osteopath<sup>1</sup> both that he has been convicted and that he has been guilty of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>2</sup> or professional incompetence, the procedure is as follows<sup>3</sup>:

- 744 (1) the committee first proceeds with every allegation that the osteopath has been convicted, until it has completed the specified process<sup>4</sup>;
- 745 (2) the committee then proceeds with every allegation that the osteopath has been guilty of unacceptable professional conduct or professional incompetence, until it has completed the specified process<sup>5</sup>;

564. Interim suspension orders.

Where a case has been referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> and: (1) the committee has not reached a final decision on the matter<sup>2</sup>; or (2) the committee has reached a decision to impose a suspension order<sup>3</sup> or to remove an osteopath's<sup>4</sup> name from the register<sup>5</sup>, then the committee may, if it is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public, order the registrar<sup>6</sup> to suspend the registration of the osteopath concerned<sup>7</sup>, such order being known as an 'interim suspension order'<sup>8</sup>. Where the committee considers that an interim suspension order may be appropriate, it fixes a date, time and place for deciding that question, having regard to the urgency and all the circumstances of the case, and notifies the osteopath of his right to appear before the committee and to argue his case and to be legally represented<sup>9</sup>. A medical assessor<sup>10</sup> may be appointed by the chairman<sup>11</sup> to be present at any such a hearing<sup>12</sup>.

The solicitor<sup>13</sup> is requested to present the case to the committee and call such evidence<sup>14</sup> as he wishes to justify an interim suspension order<sup>15</sup>. The osteopath or his representative has the right to cross-examine any witness called by the solicitor who may in turn re-examine such witness<sup>16</sup>. The osteopath or his representative may then present the case against the making of such an order by calling such evidence as he wishes, the solicitor has the right to cross-examine such witness on behalf of the Council<sup>17</sup>, and the osteopath or his representative may in turn re-examine such witness<sup>18</sup>. The solicitor and the osteopath or his representative may address the committee<sup>19</sup>. Members of the committee, the legal assessor<sup>20</sup>, and the medical assessor may, with the consent of the chairman, question a person giving evidence at the hearing<sup>21</sup>. Save as described above, the procedure of the committee is as it may determine<sup>22</sup>.

The committee decides in private whether to impose an interim suspension order, and the decision of the committee is given at the conclusion of the hearing<sup>23</sup>. The committee directs the registrar to confirm its decision in writing<sup>24</sup> to the osteopath, informing him also of his right to appeal against the decision<sup>25</sup>.

The committee may, on the written application of the osteopath, revoke an interim suspension order on specified grounds<sup>26</sup>. When such an application is made, it is heard by the committee at the first available opportunity and the committee follows the procedures described above<sup>27</sup>.

565. Procedure on resumed or review hearings.

Where the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> is to resume a previous hearing or is meeting to review orders previously made<sup>2</sup>, it sends to the osteopath<sup>3</sup> notice<sup>4</sup> of the date, time and place fixed for the resumed or review hearing and any information or further evidence on which the committee will be asked to rely, before the beginning of the period of 28 days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held<sup>5</sup>. The committee must give the osteopath the opportunity to appear before it and argue his case, and must inform him of his right to be legally represented<sup>6</sup>. The committee, where appropriate, invites the osteopath to provide it with any evidence whether by way of statement, report or document<sup>7</sup> as to the conduct of the osteopath since the time of the original inquiry, and his compliance with the conditions in any conditions of practice order<sup>8</sup>. Where the committee has adjourned the hearing<sup>9</sup>, or has imposed conditions upon an osteopath's registration, or suspended the registration of an osteopath<sup>10</sup>, and has given notice that it will resume consideration of such a case, the committee may ask the osteopath to provide to it the names and addresses of professional colleagues and other persons of standing to whom the committee can apply for information about the osteopath's conduct since the time of the original or any previous hearing; and the committee must supply copies of any such information received to the osteopath<sup>11</sup>. If, since the original hearing, any new allegation against the osteopath has been referred to the committee, the committee must first proceed with any new allegation<sup>12</sup>.

At any meeting at which the proceedings are resumed, or a review undertaken, the chairman<sup>13</sup> first invites the solicitor<sup>14</sup> to recall the position in which the case stands for the information of the committee and to adduce such evidence as he thinks fit in the same way as for the original hearing<sup>15</sup>. The committee then hears the osteopath or his representative, who adduces such evidence as he thinks fit; and the committee then proceeds as the circumstances of a case may require<sup>16</sup>. It is the duty of the committee, where the osteopath is subject to a conditions of practice order, to judge first whether the osteopath has failed or succeeded in complying with any of the requirements imposed on him as conditions<sup>17</sup>. If the committee judges that the osteopath has complied, it must determine whether to revoke the direction made at the previous hearing, to vary the conditions if necessary, or to make no further directions and allow the case to conclude on the expiry of the period for which the direction made at the previous hearing applies<sup>18</sup>. If the committee judges that the osteopath has failed to comply with the conditions, it must consider and determine whether it is sufficient to vary the conditions imposed, or, if not, whether to direct that the current period of conditions should be extended with or without any variation, or to impose some other sanction<sup>19</sup>. Where previously the committee had directed that an osteopath's registration should be suspended, the committee must consider and determine whether it is sufficient to make no further direction or, if not, whether to direct the registration of the osteopath to be subject to a conditions of practice order if the osteopath resumes practice after the end of his suspension, or to direct that any current period of suspension should be extended for a further period of no more than three years<sup>20</sup>.

The chairman announces the determinations of the committee in such terms as the committee may approve, and may also indicate at the same time in the case of a conditions of practice order which is being extended or reduced for a specified period that it will review the case before any order ceases to have effect and consider any further determination that may be necessary<sup>21</sup>.

Subject to the provisions of the Osteopaths Act 1993, the validity of any resumed proceedings of the committee may not be called into question by reason only that members of the committee who were present at any former meeting were not present at the resumed meeting, or that members present at the resumed meeting were not present at any former meeting<sup>22</sup>.

566. Referral to the health committee.

Where it appears to the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> that an osteopath's<sup>2</sup> ability to practise may be seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, the committee may refer that question to the health committee<sup>3</sup> for determination whether or not the allegation has been proven and, if it has been proven, whether or not the professional conduct committee has made a conditions of practice order<sup>4</sup> with respect to the osteopath<sup>5</sup>. If, following such a referral, the health committee subsequently certifies to the professional conduct committee its opinion that the fitness of the osteopath to practise is not seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, then the professional conduct committee resumes its consideration of the case and concludes it<sup>6</sup>. If, following a reference to the health committee, the health committee certifies to the professional conduct committee its opinion that the fitness of the osteopath is seriously impaired, then the professional conduct committee ceases to exercise its functions in relation to that case<sup>7</sup>.

C. PROCEDURE OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE

568. Meetings of the committee.

The health committee<sup>1</sup> meets on such days as the committee may determine and at such time and place as the chairman<sup>2</sup> may determine<sup>3</sup>. No case<sup>4</sup> is to be considered by the committee unless it has been referred to it either by the investigating committee<sup>5</sup> or by the professional conduct committee<sup>6</sup>. Any complaint made directly to the health committee must be immediately referred by the committee to the investigating committee for consideration<sup>7</sup>. Before considering a case, the health committee must request the investigating committee or, as the case may be, the professional conduct committee, to supply to it all the evidence which was before that committee<sup>8</sup>. On a referral of a case to the committee, the committee must: (1) serve notice<sup>9</sup> on the osteopath concerned of the allegation that has been made together with copies of any relevant documentation and a copy of the rules<sup>10</sup>; and (2) inform the osteopath of his opportunity to put his case at a hearing, if before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the allegation is sent to him he asks for a hearing<sup>11</sup>, or if the committee considers that a hearing is desirable<sup>12</sup>.

Where, after an allegation has been referred to the committee for consideration, it appears to the committee that such consideration cannot owing to exceptional circumstances properly take place, it may, after taking advice from the legal assessor<sup>13</sup> and after consulting the investigating committee and obtaining the consent of the osteopath<sup>14</sup> concerned, direct that a hearing should not be held and that the case should be concluded, provided that where there is an individual complainant<sup>15</sup> the committee must before it consults the investigating committee try to ascertain the views of the complainant<sup>16</sup>. As soon as any decision is reached, the committee must conclude the case and give notice of its determination to cancel a hearing to the osteopath and to the complainant, if any<sup>17</sup>.

At any stage during the proceedings, the chairman has the power to suspend the proceedings before the committee<sup>18</sup>.

The committee may deliberate in private at any time and for any purpose during any proceedings<sup>19</sup>.

1 As to the health committee see PARA 515 ante. As to the consideration of allegations by the health committee see PARA 552 ante.

2 'The chairman' means the chairman of the health committee: General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/242, r 2.

3 Ibid r 3.

4 'A case' means a case where it is alleged that the ability of the osteopath to practise as an osteopath is seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition within the meaning of the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 20(1)(d) (see PARA 545 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/242, r 2.

9 A reference to the sending of a notice or other communication required by the General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/242, to be served on an osteopath is a reference to delivering it to him or sending it to him by registered post or by the recorded delivery system to his address in the register or if his last known address differs from the address in the register then to his last known address: r 42(1). Where such notice is sent by registered post or recorded delivery service, it is treated as having been sent on the day it was posted: r 42(2). Where personally delivered, then it is treated as having been delivered when it is handed to the osteopath: r 42(3). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 524 note 1 ante.

11 Ibid r 5(b)(i).

12 Ibid r 5(b)(ii). Subject to rr 8, 9 (see PARA 570 post), and in the absence of a request from the osteopath for a hearing, as soon as may be after the case has been referred the committee must decide whether it is desirable that there should be a hearing of the case: r 10.

13 'Legal assessor' means an assessor appointed by the Council under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 27 (see PARA 579 post); and 'the Council' means the General Osteopathic Council or a committee performing the functions of the Council delegated to it under the Osteopaths Act 1993 Schedule para 15(2)(i): General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/242, r 2. As to the General Osteopathic Council see PARA 499 ante. As to the delegation of powers by the Council see PARA 505 text to note 15 ante.

14 The committee is not required to obtain the consent of the osteopath where such consent could not be obtained owing to the osteopath's death, or mental or physical incapacity: ibid r 36(2).

15 'The complainant' means a person who has made an allegation against an osteopath that his ability to practise as an osteopath is seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition as specified by the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 20(1)(d) (see PARA 545 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Procedure) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/242, r 2.

570. Action following reports of medical examination.

- 749 (1) is not fit to practise<sup>4</sup>; or
- 750 (2) is not fit to practise except subject to conditions<sup>5</sup>; or (3) suffers from a recurring or episodic physical or mental condition which, although at the time of examination is in remission, may be expected in future to render him unfit to practise or unfit to practise except subject to conditions<sup>6</sup>, the health committee<sup>7</sup> must consider whether it judges the ability of the osteopath to be seriously impaired by reason of his physical or mental condition, and must further consider whether it is sufficient to direct that the registration of the osteopath be conditional on his compliance with a conditions of practice order<sup>8</sup>. If the committee considers that such a conditions of practice order will be appropriate it must so inform the osteopath by letter<sup>9</sup> and:

- 751 (a) invite him to state before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the letter was sent whether he would be prepared to comply with any recommendations in the reports as to the management of his case, including any conditions on his practice which the committee feels appropriate<sup>10</sup>;
- 752 (b) indicate that, in that event, the committee would be minded to impose a conditions of practice order and that the matter could be dealt with without the need for a hearing of the case, unless the osteopath requests a hearing<sup>11</sup>;
- 753 (c) advise the osteopath that, if he does not wish to accept the conditions of practice proposed, he has the right<sup>12</sup> to appear before the committee to argue his case, and that he is entitled to be legally represented<sup>13</sup> at such a hearing<sup>14</sup>.

If within the time limit specified in head (a) above the osteopath indicates that he is willing to accept a conditions of practice order as proposed in head (b) above, then the committee must make an order to this effect<sup>15</sup>.

571. Actions preparatory to the hearing.

If the osteopath asks for a hearing<sup>1</sup> or, in the absence of such a request, the health committee<sup>2</sup> decides that there should be a hearing of the case<sup>3</sup>, the committee proceeds in accordance with the specified procedure<sup>4</sup>.

The committee sends a notice<sup>5</sup> of hearing to the osteopath which must:

- 754 (1) indicate the physical or mental condition by reason of which it is alleged that his fitness to practise is seriously impaired<sup>6</sup>;
- 755 (2) state the day, time and place at which the committee will meet to consider the matter, such hearing not to take place before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice of hearing is sent<sup>7</sup>;
- 756 (3) indicate that the osteopath may be legally represented<sup>8</sup> and also be accompanied by his medical adviser<sup>9</sup>;
- 757 (4) invite the osteopath to state whether he proposes to attend the hearing<sup>10</sup>;
- 758 (5) inform the osteopath that he may call witnesses in his defence with or without notice<sup>11</sup>;
- 759 (6) invite the osteopath to supply in advance of the hearing any document or report which he may wish to place before the committee<sup>12</sup>.

The committee must send with the notice of hearing copies of any reports or information which it is proposed to present to the committee other than reports and information of which copies have already been sent to the osteopath<sup>13</sup>. The committee must also identify to the osteopath any document which it is proposed to supplement by the oral evidence of its author at the hearing and arrange for statements relating to that evidence to be sent to the osteopath before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held<sup>14</sup>. If the osteopath states that he requires a document to be supplemented by the oral evidence of its author, the document may be presented to the committee only if the author is called as a witness and is available to be questioned, provided the osteopath gives notice in writing of such a requirement before the beginning of the period of 14 days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held<sup>15</sup>. The committee may at any stage of the proceedings at its discretion, either with the consent of the osteopath or if, after consultation with the legal assessor<sup>16</sup>, it is satisfied that it is desirable to enable it to perform its duty, receive any document a copy of which has not previously been supplied to the osteopath in accordance with these provisions and whose author has not been called as a witness<sup>17</sup>. The complainant<sup>18</sup> is not entitled to have sight of any medical reports or other confidential information concerning the medical condition of the osteopath<sup>19</sup>.

Before the hearing, the committee supplies to each member of the committee, and to the legal assessor and the medical assessor<sup>20</sup> chosen to advise the committee on the case, copies of the notice of hearing, of the information and reports sent to the osteopath, of any medical reports, and of any observations or other evidence submitted by or on behalf of the osteopath<sup>21</sup>. The chairman<sup>22</sup> arranges for one or more medical assessors to attend the hearing<sup>23</sup>. In choosing medical assessors to act in relation to a particular case, the chairman is to have regard to the nature of the physical or mental condition which is alleged to impair the osteopath's fitness to practise<sup>24</sup>. The chairman may postpone the hearing to such later date or such later meeting of the committee<sup>25</sup> as he may determine<sup>26</sup>. In such circumstances, the committee must send to all parties to whom the notice of hearing had been sent notification of the decision to postpone, and of any subsequent date fixed for the hearing of the postponed hearing<sup>27</sup>.

If the committee decides that it is not desirable that there should be a hearing of the case, and the osteopath has not requested a hearing, the committee considers the case on the basis of the written material provided to it and determines it in accordance with rr 21, 22 (see PARA 575 post): rr 11, 24.

572. The hearing.

The health committee<sup>1</sup> sits in private unless the committee considers that it is appropriate to hold the hearing or any part of it in public<sup>2</sup>. The osteopath is entitled to be present while his case is considered and may also be legally represented<sup>3</sup> and may be accompanied by his medical adviser<sup>4</sup>. The committee must determine: (1) whether the osteopath has failed to reply within 28 days to a notice sent to him<sup>5</sup>; (2) whether the osteopath has failed to submit to medical examination<sup>6</sup>. When the osteopath is neither present nor represented, the committee must determine whether or not the notice of hearing has been served on him<sup>7</sup>. If the committee is satisfied that the notice has been so served, the hearing may proceed if the committee thinks fit<sup>8</sup>. If, however, the committee is not satisfied that the notice has been so served, it may, if in its opinion all reasonable steps have been taken to serve the notice, proceed with the hearing<sup>9</sup> or, if it is of the opinion that further steps should be taken to serve the notice, adjourn the hearing to a later date to allow this to happen<sup>10</sup>.

If the committee has decided to proceed with the hearing, the chairman<sup>11</sup> invites the solicitor<sup>12</sup> to open the case and to present the evidence by reason of which it is alleged that the osteopath's fitness to practise is seriously impaired<sup>13</sup>. If in any case before the opening of the hearing the solicitor or the osteopath has indicated that he requires that all or part of the information or reports be supported by oral evidence<sup>14</sup>, then the persons on whose testimony or opinions such information or reports depend are to be called as witnesses<sup>15</sup>. Such witnesses are examined by the solicitor, may be cross-examined by the osteopath or his representative, and may be questioned by the committee, by any medical assessor<sup>16</sup> and by the legal assessor<sup>17</sup>. At the conclusion of any such oral evidence, the chairman invites the osteopath or his representative to address the committee and to adduce evidence as to the osteopath's fitness to practise<sup>18</sup>. Any witness called on behalf of the osteopath is examined by the osteopath or his representative, may be cross-examined by the solicitor and may be questioned by the committee, by any medical assessor and by the legal assessor<sup>19</sup>. When any evidence has been called on behalf of the osteopath, including any evidence given by the osteopath, the chairman invites the solicitor to address the committee<sup>20</sup>. The osteopath or his representative may then address the committee for a second time<sup>21</sup>.

If the osteopath or his representative indicates at the hearing, not having given prior notice, that he wishes any document presented to the committee to be supplemented by oral evidence from its author, the committee is to consult the legal assessor as to whether in the interests of justice the hearing should be adjourned in order to permit the evidence to be given or whether the hearing should proceed on the basis of the documents before the committee<sup>22</sup>. When a written statement has been presented to the committee<sup>23</sup> without its author being available and the committee is of the opinion that it should be supplemented by oral evidence, the hearing may be adjourned to allow the author to be called as a witness; and, on subsequently resuming the hearing, the committee may disregard the document unless the author gives oral evidence<sup>24</sup>.

At the conclusion of the proceedings described above<sup>25</sup>, the committee may formally adjourn the case for a period of not less than 28 days in order to obtain further medical reports or other information as to the physical or mental condition of the osteopath, or in relation to his fitness to practise, or with a view to resuming consideration of the osteopath's fitness to practise at a later date<sup>26</sup>.

573. Evidence.

At any hearing<sup>1</sup> the health committee<sup>2</sup> may, at its discretion, receive oral or documentary or other evidence of any fact or matter which appears to it relevant to the inquiry into the case before it, provided that, where any fact or matter is tendered as evidence which would not be admissible as such if the proceedings were criminal proceedings<sup>3</sup> in the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup>, the committee must not receive it unless after consultation with the legal assessor<sup>5</sup> it is satisfied that its reception is necessary to enable it to perform its duty and that the interests of justice will not thereby be prejudiced<sup>6</sup>. The committee has the power to administer oaths and all evidence given orally is to be given on oath or to be affirmed<sup>7</sup>. The committee may by summons require any person to attend at a time and place stated in the summons to give evidence, or to produce any documents in his custody or under his control which relate to any matter in issue before the committee<sup>8</sup>. All parties to the proceedings may seek a summons of the committee requiring persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents before the committee<sup>9</sup>.

574. Referral to the professional conduct committee.

Where it appears to the health committee<sup>1</sup> that the allegation which it is considering would be better dealt with by the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup>, the committee may refer the allegation to the professional conduct committee for consideration<sup>3</sup>. If, following such a referral, the professional conduct committee subsequently notifies the health committee that it does not propose to consider the allegation, the health committee resumes its consideration of the allegation and concludes it<sup>4</sup>. If, following such a referral, the professional conduct committee certifies to the health committee that it has dealt with the allegation, the health committee ceases to exercise its functions in relation to it<sup>5</sup>.

575. Determination of the committee.

If the health committee<sup>1</sup> decides not to adjourn the case<sup>2</sup>, it must consider and determine whether or not it judges the ability of the osteopath to practise to be seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition<sup>3</sup>. In reaching its judgement, the committee is entitled to take account of the osteopath's current physical or mental condition, or a continuing and episodic condition, or a condition which, although currently in remission, may be expected to cause recurrence of a serious impairment<sup>4</sup>. Where the osteopath has refused or failed to submit to medical examination after an invitation by the committee<sup>5</sup>, the committee is entitled to find that the osteopath's ability to practise is seriously impaired on the basis of the information before it and the osteopath's refusal or failure to submit to medical examination<sup>6</sup>. If the osteopath's ability to practise is judged to be seriously impaired, the committee then considers and determines whether it is sufficient to direct that the registration of the osteopath should be conditional on his compliance, during such period not exceeding three years as the committee may specify, with such conditions as the committee may think it necessary to impose for the protection of members of the public<sup>7</sup>. If the committee so determines, it then considers and decides what conditions are to be imposed; and the committee may impose more than one condition if that is considered necessary<sup>8</sup>. If the committee decides that it is not sufficient to impose conditions on an osteopath's registration, it must direct that the osteopath's registration be suspended for a period determined by the committee but not exceeding three years<sup>9</sup>.

The chairman<sup>10</sup> announces the decision of the committee and its reasons for reaching that decision in such terms as the committee may approve; and, if appropriate, the committee will make a conditions of practice order or a suspension order, which must not take effect before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the osteopath is notified<sup>11</sup> of the Committee's decision, unless immediate suspension is imposed<sup>12</sup>. The committee must notify the osteopath and the complainant<sup>13</sup> in writing of its determination and the reasons for the decision, and also notify the osteopath of his right of appeal<sup>14</sup>.

If, in any case referred to it by the professional conduct committee<sup>15</sup>, the health committee judges that the ability to practise of the osteopath is not seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition, it must remit that case to the professional conduct committee and notify the osteopath<sup>16</sup>.

577. Interim suspension orders.

Where a case has been referred to the health committee<sup>1</sup> and the committee has not reached a decision on the matter<sup>2</sup> or the committee has decided to impose a suspension order<sup>3</sup>, then the committee may, if it is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public, order the registrar<sup>4</sup> to suspend the registration of the osteopath concerned<sup>5</sup>. Such an order is known as 'an interim suspension order'<sup>6</sup>. Where the committee considers that an interim suspension order may be appropriate, it fixes a date, time and place for deciding that question, having regard to the urgency and all the circumstances of the case, and notifies the osteopath of the date, time and place so fixed<sup>7</sup>. The committee further notifies<sup>8</sup> the osteopath of his right to appear before the committee and to be legally represented<sup>9</sup>.

If the committee decides to proceed with the hearing<sup>10</sup>, the solicitor<sup>11</sup> is invited to present the case to the committee and call such evidence as he wishes to justify an interim suspension order<sup>12</sup>. The osteopath has the right to cross-examine any witness called by the solicitor, who may in turn re-examine such witness<sup>13</sup>. The osteopath may then present his own case against the making of such an order by calling such evidence as he wishes<sup>14</sup>, and the solicitor has the right to cross-examine any such witness on behalf of the Council<sup>15</sup> and the osteopath may in turn re-examine any such witness<sup>16</sup>. The solicitor and the osteopath may then address the committee<sup>17</sup>. Save as described above, the procedure of the committee in deciding whether to impose an interim suspension order is as it may determine<sup>18</sup>.

The committee decides in private whether to impose an interim suspension order; and the decision of the committee is given at the conclusion of the hearing, and confirmed in writing to the osteopath, who is also informed of his right to appeal against the decision where the committee has decided to impose an order<sup>19</sup>.

The committee may on the written application of the osteopath revoke an interim suspension order on specified grounds<sup>20</sup>.

When such an application is made, it is heard by the committee at the first available opportunity; and the committee follows the same procedure as set out in r 26(3)-(8) (see the text to notes 7-19 supra) save that the osteopath is first invited to present his application and his witnesses and the solicitor then has the right to cross-examine witnesses and to present his own case thereafter: r 27(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/4. OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/C. PROCEDURE OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE/578. Resumed and review hearings.

578. Resumed and review hearings.

Where the health committee<sup>1</sup> has decided to adjourn the proceedings<sup>2</sup>, it must, when announcing such a decision, state that it will resume consideration of the case at a further meeting on a specified date<sup>3</sup>. The committee may also at the same time indicate the need for further medical examinations and reports<sup>4</sup>, including reports from medical practitioners involved in the treatment or supervision of the osteopath following the adjournment, and any other relevant information as to the osteopath's fitness to practise<sup>5</sup>. The committee may also invite the osteopath to submit to examination by any medical assessor<sup>6</sup> chosen by or on behalf of the committee<sup>7</sup>. The committee may, at its discretion and subject to the osteopath's right to an oral hearing in any event<sup>8</sup>, decide to consider only written testimony at a resumed hearing, or oral testimony (in which case the procedures for conducting the original hearing will be followed)<sup>9</sup>.

The committee may review a conditions of practice or suspension order<sup>10</sup> at any time at its own discretion, and must do so<sup>11</sup>: (1) before the beginning of the period of three months ending on the date on which a condition in a conditions of practice order or suspension order is to cease to have effect<sup>12</sup>; (2) on the written application of the osteopath, save that where an osteopath has made a previous application which has been refused the committee may not entertain a further such application unless it is made after the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date on which the previous application was received by the committee<sup>13</sup>. Before exercising its powers to review an order<sup>14</sup>, the committee may invite the osteopath to submit to medical examination<sup>15</sup>.

Where the committee has adjourned a case or proposes to review a conditions of practice order or a suspension order, the committee sends to the osteopath a notice<sup>16</sup> which must:

- 760 (a) specify the date, time and place at which the proceedings are to be resumed or the review is to be held, and invite him to appear<sup>17</sup>;
- 761 (b) in any case where the committee has exercised its powers of review<sup>18</sup>, state the circumstance under which it has exercised those powers<sup>19</sup>;
- 762 (c) if the committee has so directed, invite the osteopath to submit to examination by the medical assessors chosen by the committee and, if the osteopath so elects, by another medical practitioner of his own choosing and at his expense<sup>20</sup>;
- 763 (d) if the committee has so directed, invite the osteopath to furnish the names and addresses of medical practitioners or other persons to whom the committee will be able to apply for information as to their knowledge of his fitness to practise since the time of the original hearing<sup>21</sup>;
- 764 (e) indicate that the osteopath may be legally represented<sup>22</sup>, and may also be accompanied by his medical adviser<sup>23</sup>;
- 765 (f) invite the osteopath to state whether he proposes to attend the resumed or review hearing<sup>24</sup>;
- 766 (g) inform the osteopath that he may call witnesses in his defence with or without notice<sup>25</sup>;
- 767 (h) invite the osteopath in advance of the resumed or review hearing to supply any document or report which he may wish to place before the committee<sup>26</sup>.

An osteopath may elect to give oral evidence, to call witnesses and to be legally represented at a resumed or review hearing; and the proceedings are then conducted according to the procedure prescribed for the consideration of oral evidence at the earlier hearing<sup>27</sup>.

Subject to the provisions of the Osteopaths Act 1993, the validity of any resumed or review proceedings may not be called into question by reason only that members of the committee who were present at any earlier hearing were not present at the resumed hearing, or that members present at the resumed hearing were not present at any earlier hearing<sup>28</sup>.

(iv) Assessors

579. Legal assessors.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must appoint persons to be legal assessors<sup>2</sup>. They have the general function of giving advice to:

- 768 (1) any person appointed<sup>3</sup> to give preliminary consideration to allegations made against a registered osteopath<sup>4</sup> in respect of his professional conduct or fitness to practise<sup>5</sup>;
- 769 (2) the investigating committee<sup>6</sup>;
- 770 (3) the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup>;
- 771 (4) the health committee<sup>8</sup>; or
- 772 (5) the registrar<sup>9</sup>,

on questions of law arising in connection with any matter which he or, as the case may be, the committee is considering<sup>10</sup>. Legal assessors also have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules<sup>11</sup> made by the General Council<sup>12</sup>.

A legal assessor has the following additional functions: (a) to give advice to the General Council on questions of law arising in connection with any matter which the General Council is considering<sup>13</sup>; (b) to be present at such meetings of the investigating committee, the professional conduct committee, or the health committee as the committee in question may request, at which an allegation against a registered osteopath is being considered, and to advise on any questions of law arising which may be referred to the assessor by that committee<sup>14</sup>; (c) to inform the General Council or the committee concerned forthwith of any irregularity in the General Council's or the committee's consideration of any complaint or in the conduct of any proceedings before the General Council or that committee which may come to his knowledge, and to advise it of his own motion where it appears to him that, but for such advice, there is a possibility of a mistake of law being made<sup>15</sup>; (d) to be present at such meetings of the General Council as the General Council may require, at which an appeal against a decision of the registrar<sup>16</sup> is being considered, to advise on any question of law arising which may be referred to the assessor by the General Council, and to question any witness giving evidence at an oral hearing of such an appeal<sup>17</sup>.

The General Council may pay such fees, allowances and expenses to persons appointed as legal assessors as it may determine<sup>18</sup>. In the case of a legal assessor who is also a member of the General Council<sup>19</sup> or of any of its committees<sup>20</sup>, any such payment made to him in his capacity as a legal assessor is in addition to any to which he is entitled as such a member<sup>21</sup>.

580. Medical assessors.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint registered medical practitioners<sup>2</sup> to be medical assessors<sup>3</sup>. Medical assessors have the general function of giving advice to:

- 773 (1) any person appointed<sup>4</sup> to give preliminary consideration to allegations made against a registered osteopath<sup>5</sup> in respect of his professional conduct or fitness to practise<sup>6</sup>;
- 774 (2) the investigating committee<sup>7</sup>;
- 775 (3) the professional conduct committee<sup>8</sup>;
- 776 (4) the health committee<sup>9</sup>; or
- 777 (5) the registrar<sup>10</sup>,

on matters within their professional competence arising in connection with any matter which he or, as the case may be, the committee is considering<sup>11</sup>. Medical assessors also have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules<sup>12</sup> made by the General Council<sup>13</sup>.

A medical assessor has the following additional functions: (a) to give advice to the General Council on matters within his professional competence arising in connection with any matter which the General Council is considering<sup>14</sup>; (b) at the request of the committee<sup>15</sup>, to examine a registered osteopath against whom an allegation has been made and to report on his fitness to practise with or without conditions<sup>16</sup>; (c) to be present at such meetings of the committee as the committee may request, at which an allegation concerning an osteopath's physical or mental condition is being considered, and to advise the committee on the medical significance of the evidence before the committee<sup>17</sup>; (d) to be present at such meetings of the General Council as the General Council may request, at which an appeal against a decision of the registrar<sup>18</sup> is being considered and which involve consideration of the physical or mental condition of an appellant, to advise the General Council and committee on the medical significance of the evidence before the General Council and committee, and to question any witness giving evidence<sup>19</sup>; (e) to inform the General Council or the committee if it appears to him that, but for such advice, there is a possibility of a mistake being made in judging the medical significance of such evidence, or the absence of evidence, on any particular matter relevant to the matter before the General Council or that committee, whether relating to the fitness to practise of the osteopath or such other question as the General Council or that committee or the chairman of either may think relevant<sup>20</sup>.

The General Council may pay such fees, allowances and expenses to persons appointed as medical assessors as it may determine<sup>21</sup>. In the case of a medical assessor who is also a member of the General Council<sup>22</sup> or of any of its committees<sup>23</sup>, any such payment made to him in his capacity as a medical assessor is in addition to any to which he is entitled as such a member<sup>24</sup>.

581. Appeals against decisions of the registrar.

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup>: (1) refuses to register an applicant for registration under the Osteopaths Act 1993<sup>2</sup>; (2) registers such an applicant with provisional or conditional registration<sup>3</sup>; (3) refuses to renew any registration<sup>4</sup>; (4) removes the name of a registered osteopath<sup>5</sup> from the register<sup>6</sup> on the ground that he has breached one or more of the conditions subject to which his registration had effect, otherwise than under an order of the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup>; or (5) refuses to grant an application for the conversion of a conditional, or provisional, registration into full registration<sup>8</sup>, then the person aggrieved may appeal to the General Council<sup>9</sup>. Any such appeal is subject to such rules as the General Council may make for the purpose of regulating those appeals<sup>10</sup>. An appeal to the General Council must be made before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the registrar's decision is sent to the person concerned<sup>11</sup>.

A person aggrieved by the decision of the General Council on such an appeal may appeal to a county court<sup>12</sup>. On an appeal to the county court, the court may:

- 778 (a) dismiss the appeal<sup>13</sup>;
- 779 (b) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against<sup>14</sup>;
- 780 (c) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision which could have been made by the registrar<sup>15</sup>; or
- 781 (d) remit the case to the General Council to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>16</sup>, and may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>17</sup>.

Procedure for appeals against decisions of the registrar.

582. Procedure for appeals against decisions of the registrar.

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup> has made a relevant decision<sup>2</sup>, he must, before the end of the period of seven days beginning with the date on which the decision was made, send to the person in respect of whom the decision was made notice in writing<sup>3</sup> of the decision<sup>4</sup>, and inform him that he may appeal to the General Council<sup>5</sup>, and be legally represented<sup>6</sup>. A notice of appeal must be in writing<sup>7</sup>, be delivered or sent to the registrar<sup>8</sup>, and contain a concise statement of the grounds of appeal on which the person aggrieved intends to rely<sup>9</sup>. Except where the procedure is otherwise specified<sup>10</sup>, the procedure for determining an appeal is such as the General Council may decide<sup>11</sup>.

As soon as practicable after the person aggrieved has appealed against a relevant decision, the registrar must fix a day on which the General Council is to hold a hearing of the case<sup>12</sup>, and notify the person aggrieved of the day on which and the time and place at which the hearing is to be held<sup>13</sup>. The registrar and the person aggrieved may appear before the General Council and be legally represented<sup>14</sup>. The person aggrieved and the registrar may produce documentary evidence to the General Council, may call witnesses<sup>15</sup> and may put questions to any person called as a witness<sup>16</sup>. The oral hearing is in private unless the person aggrieved requests a public hearing<sup>17</sup>. The General Council, either of its own motion or at the request in writing of the person aggrieved, may postpone a hearing at any time before the beginning of the hearing, and may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>18</sup>. Where the person aggrieved is neither present nor represented at the hearing, the General Council may nevertheless proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken<sup>19</sup> to serve the notice of the hearing on the person aggrieved<sup>20</sup>.

14 Ibid Schedule para 1(3).

15 The person aggrieved and the registrar must each, before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date fixed for the hearing, produce to the other a list of witnesses to be called at the hearing, failing which a witness may not be called except with the consent of the General Council: ibid Schedule para 1(5).

17 Ibid Schedule para 2.

18 Ibid Schedule para 3(1). Where a hearing has been postponed or proceedings have been adjourned for more than 28 days, the registrar must send the person aggrieved notice of the date on which the General Council is to hold the postponed hearing or resume the hearing that has been adjourned, and the registrar may not fix a day for the postponed hearing and the General Council may not resume the hearing on any day earlier than the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notice has been sent: Schedule para 3(2).

OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Appeals/583.
Procedure at the hearing.

583. Procedure at the hearing.

- 782 (1) the registrar<sup>3</sup> presents the case in support of the relevant decision<sup>4</sup> and may call and question witnesses<sup>5</sup>, and may give evidence on his own behalf<sup>6</sup>;
- 783 (2) the registrar and any person called on his behalf may be cross-examined by the person aggrieved and, in the case of persons called on his behalf, may be re-examined by the registrar, and the registrar may give evidence a second time<sup>7</sup>;
- 784 (3) the person aggrieved may present the case against the relevant decision and may call and question witnesses, and may give evidence on his own behalf<sup>8</sup>;
- 785 (4) the person aggrieved and any person called on his behalf may be cross-examined by the registrar and, in the case of persons called on his behalf, may be re-examined by the person aggrieved, and the person aggrieved may give evidence a second time<sup>9</sup>;
- 786 (5) the registrar may address the General Council concerning the relevant decision<sup>10</sup>;
- 787 (6) the person aggrieved may address the General Council concerning the relevant decision<sup>11</sup>.

Members of the General Council present at the hearing, the legal assessor<sup>12</sup>, and the medical assessor<sup>13</sup> may, with the consent of the chairman of the General Council<sup>14</sup> or, where the chairman of the General Council is not present at the hearing, the consent of the person who is chairing the hearing, question any person giving evidence at the hearing<sup>15</sup>. The registrar must arrange for the proceedings of the General Council at an oral hearing of an appeal to be recorded<sup>16</sup>, and the person aggrieved must, on application to the registrar and on payment of a reasonable charge, be sent a transcript of the proceedings<sup>17</sup>.

The General Council decides in private whether to dismiss or allow the appeal<sup>18</sup>. The General Council has power to confirm, overturn in whole or in part, or vary the order of the registrar as it thinks fit<sup>19</sup>. The decision of the majority of the members of the General Council who are present at the hearing is the decision of the Council, but if the votes are equal, the appeal is to be decided in favour of the person aggrieved<sup>20</sup>. The decision of the General Council is given in writing and the registrar must: (a) as soon as practicable after the hearing, send<sup>21</sup> a copy of the decision and the reasons for the decision to the person aggrieved<sup>22</sup>; and (b) inform the person aggrieved of his right to appeal<sup>23</sup> on a point of law against the decision of the General Council<sup>24</sup>.

Appeals against decisions of the health committee.

584. Appeals against decisions of the health committee.

Any person with respect to whom a decision of the health committee<sup>1</sup> is made<sup>2</sup> may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the decision is sent to him, appeal against it in accordance with the provisions described below<sup>3</sup>.

An appeal lies to an appeal tribunal, consisting of a chairman<sup>4</sup> and two other members<sup>5</sup>, established for the purposes of the appeal in accordance with rules<sup>6</sup> made by the General Council<sup>7</sup>. The rules must also make provision as to the procedure to be followed by an appeal tribunal hearing an appeal<sup>8</sup>. No decision against which such an appeal may be made may have effect before the expiry of the period within which an appeal may be made<sup>9</sup>, or the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of<sup>10</sup>. No person may be required by any rules to give any evidence or produce any document or other material at a hearing held by an appeal tribunal which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>11</sup> in which the hearing takes place<sup>12</sup>.

The chairman of an appeal tribunal appoints a person approved by the members of the tribunal to act as clerk of the tribunal<sup>13</sup>. Subject to any provision made by the rules, an appeal tribunal sits in public<sup>14</sup>. On any appeal, the appeal is by way of a rehearing of the case<sup>15</sup>, the General Council is the respondent<sup>16</sup>, and the tribunal hearing the appeal has power to make any decision which the health committee had power to make<sup>17</sup>. An appeal tribunal has the same powers of interim suspension as the health committee<sup>18</sup>. An appeal tribunal has power to award costs<sup>19</sup>.

1 As to the health committee see PARA 515 ante.

2 Ie under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 23 (as amended): see PARA 552 ante.

3 Ibid s 30(1). A notice of appeal must be in writing, must be given or sent to the registrar, and must contain a concise statement of the grounds of appeal on which the osteopath intends to rely: General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 4. For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante. In the General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, a reference to the sending of a notice or other document to any person is a reference to it being sent:

144 (1) where the person is the registrar, to the principal address of the General Council (r 3(1)(a));

145 (2) where the person is a registered osteopath, to his address in the register or, if his last known address differs from the address in the register, his last known address (r 3(1)(b));

146 (3) in all other cases, to his last known address (r 3(1)(c)), and if the notice or other document is sent by post, it is treated as having been sent on the day that it was posted (r 3(1)). Notices or documents referred to in Schedule paras 2(1)(b), 5, 11(2) (see PARAS 586-587 post) must be sent by delivering them by hand or by posting by registered post or recorded delivery service: r 3(2). In all other cases, communications to be sent for the purposes of the rules may be sent by post: r 3(3). As to the registrar see PARA 519 ante. For the meaning of 'registered osteopath' see PARA 503 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 524 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante.

4 The chairman of an appeal tribunal must be selected in accordance with rules made by the General Council, and be qualified as mentioned in the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 27(4) (see PARA 579 note 2 ante): s 30(6)(a), (b). As to the relevant provisions of the rules see PARA 585 post.

5 Each of the other two members of an appeal tribunal must be selected in accordance with rules made by the General Council, one of them being a fully registered osteopath and the other being a registered medical practitioner: ibid s 30(7)(a), (b). For the meaning of 'fully registered osteopath' see PARA 520 note 3 ante. For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante. As to the relevant provisions of the rules see PARA 585 post.

6 The rules may not provide for the selection of any member of an appeal tribunal to be made by the General Council: ibid s 30(8). As to the relevant provisions of the rules see PARA 585 post. As to the making of rules generally see PARA 506 ante; and as to the effect of competition orders on rules see PARA 518 ante.

7 Ibid s 30(2). As to the rules that have been made see the General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules 2000, approved by the General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243.

8 Osteopaths Act 1993 s 30(3). The rules may, in particular, make similar provision to that made by virtue of s 26(2)(d), (f)-(j) (see PARA 555 ante): s 30(4). As to the relevant provisions of the rules see PARAS 586-587 post. A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with any requirement imposed by an appeal tribunal hearing an appeal under s 30 under rules corresponding to s 26(2)(h) made by virtue of s 30(4) is guilty of an offence: s 32(2)(c). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level five on the standard scale: s 32(3). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante.

9 Ibid s 30(5)(a).

10 Ibid s 30(5)(b).

Selection of appeal tribunal.

585. Selection of appeal tribunal.

The chairman of the tribunal<sup>1</sup> must be a properly qualified person<sup>2</sup> and is selected by the chairman of the General Council<sup>3</sup> or the Bar<sup>4</sup>, or the president of the Law Society. The osteopathic member of any tribunal is selected by the chairman of the tribunal from a list kept by the registrar<sup>6</sup> of fully registered osteopaths<sup>7</sup> who have indicated a willingness to undertake such duties<sup>8</sup>. The registered medical practitioner<sup>9</sup> is selected by the chairman of the tribunal from a list to be provided upon request by the General Medical Council or its successor<sup>10</sup>.

1 'Tribunal' means an appeal tribunal: General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 2. As to the membership of a tribunal see PARA 584 ante.

2 As mentioned in the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 27(4): see PARA 579 note 2 ante.

3 As to the chairman of the General Council see PARA 504 ante. For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante.

Procedure for determining appeals.

586. Procedure for determining appeals.

Subject to such provisions as to the procedure for determining an appeal<sup>1</sup> as are otherwise specified<sup>2</sup>, the procedure is such as the tribunal<sup>3</sup> may decide<sup>4</sup>. As soon as practicable after receipt of a notice of appeal<sup>5</sup>, the chairman<sup>6</sup> must: (1) fix a day on which the tribunal will hear the case<sup>7</sup>; (2) direct the clerk<sup>8</sup> to send to the osteopath<sup>9</sup> a notice of the hearing<sup>10</sup>, stating the day on which and the time and place at which the hearing is to be held<sup>11</sup>; (3) invite the osteopath to state whether he proposes to attend the hearing<sup>12</sup>; and (4) inform the osteopath that he may be legally represented at the hearing<sup>13</sup>. The clerk must ensure that both parties to the hearing are provided with copies of all documents presented to the health committee<sup>14</sup> at any previous hearing, including copies of any medical reports and observations or other evidence submitted by or on behalf of the osteopath at such previous hearing<sup>15</sup>. Both the osteopath and the General Council may produce documentary evidence to the tribunal, may call witnesses, and may put questions to any person called as a witness<sup>16</sup>.

The tribunal sits in public but has the discretion to hold the hearing or any part of it in private while any information relating to the medical history or condition of any person is being given<sup>17</sup>. Any determination of the tribunal must be announced in public<sup>18</sup>. The tribunal, either of its motion or at the request of a party to the hearing, may postpone a hearing at any time before it begins, and may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>19</sup>.

1 'An appeal' means an appeal against a decision; and 'a decision' means a decision of the health committee pursuant to the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 23 (as amended) (see PARA 552 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 2.

2 The Schedule to the General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules 2000 has effect with respect to the procedure for determining an appeal: General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 6(1). As to the specified provisions see the text and notes infra; and PARA 587 post.

3 For the meaning of 'tribunal' see PARA 585 note 1 ante.

4 General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 6(2).

5 As to notices of appeal, and as to the service of notices and other documents, see PARA 584 note 3 ante.

6 'Chairman' means a chairman of an appeal tribunal: see the General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 2.

7 Ibid Schedule para 2(1)(a). The hearing must not be fixed for any date earlier than the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date of posting of the notice of hearing (Schedule para 2(2)(a)), or for any date later than the end of the period of three months beginning with the date of posting of the notice of hearing, save with the agreement of the osteopath (Schedule para 2(2)(b)).

8 'The clerk' means the person appointed in accordance with the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 30(9) (see PARA 584 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 2.

9 'The osteopath' means the osteopath appealing under the Osteopaths Act 1993 s 30(1) (see PARA 584 ante): General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, r 2.

10 Such a notice, and any notice to be served under ibid Schedule para 5 (see note 19 infra), must be sent by delivering it by hand or by posting by registered post or recorded delivery service: r 3(2).

11 Ibid Schedule para 2(1)(b).

12 Ibid Schedule para 2(1)(c). Where the osteopath is neither present nor represented at the hearing, the tribunal may nevertheless proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to serve the notice of the hearing on the osteopath: Schedule para 7.

13 Ibid Schedule para 2(1)(d). The General Council is a party to the proceedings, and both the General Council and the osteopath may appear before the tribunal at the hearing, and may be legally represented: Schedule para 2(3). For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 499 note 1 ante.

14 As to the health committee see PARA 515 ante. As to the investigation of allegations by the health committee see PARA 552 ante. As to the procedure of the health committee see PARA 568 et seq ante.

15 General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, Schedule para 2(4).

16 Ibid Schedule para 2(5). The osteopath and the General Council must each produce to the other a list of witnesses to be called before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held, failing which a witness may not be called except with the consent of the tribunal: Schedule para 2(6).

18 Ibid Schedule para 3(2).

19 Ibid Schedule para 4. Where a hearing is postponed or proceedings are adjourned, the clerk must send the osteopath notice of the date on which the tribunal is to hold the postponed hearing or to resume the hearing that has been adjourned: Schedule para 5. As to the service of such a notice see note 10 supra. A postponed or resumed hearing must not be fixed for any date earlier than the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date upon which notice of the postponed or resumed hearing is sent: Schedule para 6.

OSTEOPATHS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Appeals/587.
Procedure at the hearing.

587. Procedure at the hearing.

The osteopath<sup>1</sup> presents his appeal<sup>2</sup> and any case in support of it, and he may call and question witnesses<sup>3</sup>, and may give evidence on his own behalf<sup>4</sup>. The osteopath or any person called on his behalf may be cross-examined by the General Council<sup>5</sup> and, in the case of persons called on his behalf, may be re-examined by the osteopath, who may give evidence a second time<sup>6</sup>. The General Council may present a case in favour of the decision appealed against, and may call and question witnesses<sup>7</sup>. The General Council and any person called on its behalf may be cross-examined by the osteopath and, in the case of persons called on its behalf, may be re-examined by the General Council<sup>8</sup>. The General Council may address the tribunal concerning the decision appealed against<sup>9</sup>, and then the osteopath may address the tribunal concerning the decision appealed against<sup>10</sup>. Where it appears to the tribunal necessary or expedient, either for the proper or expeditious running of the hearing<sup>11</sup> or for the convenience of a witness at a hearing<sup>12</sup>, that the procedure described above should be changed, the tribunal may decide, after giving the General Council and the osteopath or their representatives the opportunity to be heard on the matter, to change the procedure<sup>13</sup>. Members of the tribunal may, with the consent of its chairman, question any person giving evidence at the hearing<sup>14</sup>.

The tribunal may, if satisfied that the interests of justice will not thereby be prejudiced and after giving the parties an opportunity to be heard on the question of admissibility<sup>15</sup>, admit into evidence, without strict proof, copies of documents which are themselves admissible, photographs, certificates of conviction and sentence<sup>16</sup>, the records and registers<sup>17</sup> of the General Council, notes of proceedings before the tribunal, or any other material; and the tribunal may take note, without strict proof, of the professional qualifications, registration, address and identity of the osteopath or of any other person<sup>18</sup>.

The tribunal may by summons require any person to attend at a time and place stated in the summons to give evidence or to produce any documents in his custody or under his control which relate to any matter in issue before the tribunal<sup>19</sup>. Both parties to the proceedings may seek an order of the tribunal requiring persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents before the tribunal<sup>20</sup>.

The tribunal decides the appeal in private but must give its determination in public<sup>21</sup>. The reasons for any decision of the tribunal must be given in writing; and the clerk<sup>22</sup> to the tribunal must as soon as practicable after the hearing send a copy of the decision and reasons to the osteopath and to the registrar<sup>23</sup>, and inform the osteopath of his right to appeal against the decision of the tribunal<sup>24</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the osteopath' see PARA 586 note 9 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'appeal' see PARA 586 note 1 ante.

3 The tribunal has the power to administer oaths, and all evidence given orally must be on oath or be affirmed: General Osteopathic Council (Health Committee) (Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/243, Schedule para 9. Any person who is called as a witness to the proceedings must be excluded from them until he is called to give evidence, unless the tribunal gives him leave to be present, but this does not apply to the parties to the proceedings: Schedule para 10(5). For the meaning of 'tribunal' see PARA 585 note 1 ante. As to oaths and affirmations see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 1021 et seq.

4 Ibid Schedule para 8(1)(a). Where the General Council or the osteopath is legally represented, references in Schedule para 8(1) to the General Council or to the osteopath presenting the case, calling or questioning witnesses, cross-examining or re-examining witnesses, or addressing the tribunal are to be read as references to the representative of the General Council or the osteopath, as the case may be: Schedule para 8(2).

The General Chiropractic Council ('the General Council')<sup>1</sup> is a body corporate<sup>2</sup>. It is the duty of the General Council to develop, promote and regulate the profession of chiropractic<sup>3</sup>, and the General Council has such other functions as are conferred on it by the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>4</sup>. There are four statutory committees of the General Council<sup>5</sup>, known as the education committee<sup>6</sup>, the investigating committee<sup>7</sup>, the professional conduct committee<sup>8</sup>, and the health committee<sup>9</sup>. Each committee has the functions conferred on it by or under the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>10</sup>. The General Council may establish such other committees as it considers appropriate in connection with the discharge of its functions<sup>11</sup>. ## 592. Membership of the General Council.

Each member's term of office is for a period of five years<sup>8</sup>. Where a member fails to complete his full term of office<sup>9</sup>: (a) in such circumstances as may be prescribed<sup>10</sup>, if the unexpired term<sup>11</sup> is less than the prescribed period<sup>12</sup>, the vacancy need not be filled before the end of that term<sup>13</sup>; (b) if the member's successor is elected or, as the case may be, appointed during the unexpired term, the successor's term of office is, subject as provided<sup>14</sup>, for the residue of the unexpired term<sup>15</sup>. Any member may at any time resign by notice in writing addressed to the registrar<sup>16</sup>, and every member must retire on reaching the age of 70<sup>17</sup>. The General Council must by rules make provision as to the grounds, such as repeated absence from meetings or unacceptable professional conduct<sup>18</sup>, on which any member may be removed from office and the procedure involved<sup>19</sup>.

593. Removal of members from office.

A member of the Council<sup>1</sup> may be removed from office if:

- 788 (1) he has failed to attend three consecutive meetings of the Council<sup>2</sup>;
- 789 (2) he has been found guilty of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>3</sup> or of professional incompetence in accordance with the provisions of the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>4</sup>;
- 790 (3) he has been adjudged bankrupt or has made a composition or arrangement with his creditors<sup>5</sup>;
- 791 (4) he is a patient for the purposes of the Mental Health Act 1983<sup>6</sup>, or is otherwise incapable, by reason of mental disorder, of properly managing his property or affairs<sup>7</sup>;
- 792 (5) he has disclosed to another person who is not a member of the Council, or of a committee or sub-committee of the Council, without the consent of the Council, any information which is known to him in confidence by reason of his membership of the Council<sup>8</sup>;
- 793 (6) he has been convicted in a court of law of a criminal offence relevant to his fitness to continue in office<sup>9</sup>;
- 794 (7) he has brought the Council into disrepute or has otherwise acted contrary to the best interests of the Council<sup>10</sup>; or
- 795 (8) not being a chiropractor, since becoming a member of the Council he has been found guilty of misconduct by another professional or regulatory body<sup>11</sup>.

A member may be removed by the Council only if it has concluded in accordance with the specified procedure<sup>12</sup> that the circumstances falling within heads (1) to (8) above in his case are sufficient to warrant his removal<sup>13</sup>. A decision by the Council to remove a member of the Council from office must be made by resolution of the Council passed at a meeting of the Council by a majority of the members of the Council present and voting<sup>14</sup>. Not later than the beginning of a period of 14 days ending with the day appointed for the meeting at which any such resolution is proposed to be passed, the chairman of the Council<sup>15</sup> must send to the member concerned a written statement of the grounds of the proposal, notice of the date, time and place of the meeting, and an invitation that he should, at the choice of the member concerned, either submit written representations for consideration at the meeting or attend the meeting for the purpose of being heard before the decision is taken<sup>16</sup>. The removal of a member under these provisions has effect from the time the resolution of removal is passed or, if the resolution specifies some later date, on that later date<sup>17</sup>.

596. The chairman.

The members of the General Council<sup>1</sup> must elect a chairman from among themselves<sup>2</sup>. A person is not be prevented from being elected as chairman merely because he has previously been chairman, but if he has ceased to hold office by virtue of his having held the post for a period of seven years<sup>3</sup> he may not be elected as chairman until some other person has served as the elected chairman<sup>4</sup>. The chairman holds office until he resigns as chairman<sup>5</sup>, he ceases to be a member of the General Council<sup>6</sup>, he is removed by a majority vote of the other members of the Council<sup>7</sup>, or a period of seven years, beginning with his assuming office as chairman, has elapsed and no other person has been elected and served as chairman during that time<sup>8</sup>. The General Council must by rules<sup>9</sup> make further provision in relation to the election of a chairman<sup>10</sup>, and make provision for the appointment of an acting chairman in the event of a vacancy in the office of chairman or in such other circumstances as may be prescribed<sup>11</sup>.

The election of a chairman must take place at a meeting of the General Council, known as 'the relevant meeting'<sup>12</sup>. At least 28 days before the relevant meeting, the registrar must give notice to the members of the General Council inviting nominations for the office of chairman<sup>13</sup>. A nomination is not valid unless: (1) it is in writing and received by the registrar before the beginning of the period of 14 days ending with the day on which the relevant meeting is held<sup>14</sup>; (2) it is seconded in writing by another member of the General Council, and that seconding is received by the registrar before the beginning of that period<sup>15</sup>; (3) the person nominated has before the beginning of that period indicated his willingness to serve in writing to the registrar<sup>16</sup>. If only one person is validly nominated, at the relevant meeting the registrar must declare the nominee elected<sup>17</sup>. If more than one person is validly nominated, a ballot must be conducted by the registrar at the relevant meeting<sup>18</sup>.

In the event of: (a) there being a vacancy in the office of chairman of the General Council<sup>19</sup>; or (b) the chairman of the General Council being unable to attend to the business of his office by virtue of illness, absence or other substantial unavailability<sup>20</sup>, the General Council may appoint an acting chairman to exercise the functions of the office of chairman during the period of vacancy, illness, absence or other substantial unavailability<sup>21</sup>. If it appears to the General Council at any time that any such vacancy, illness, absence or other substantial unavailability as is mentioned in head (a) or head (b) above may occur, it may appoint an acting chairman designate under these provisions to take office as acting chairman upon the event concerned occurring<sup>22</sup>. The acting chairman, or acting chairman designate<sup>23</sup>, may be appointed at any meeting of the General Council, but so far as practicable the registrar must give notice of any proposed appointment to the members of the General Council, whether by including it on any agenda distributed before the meeting or in some other manner<sup>24</sup>.

597. Powers of the General Council.

Subject to any provision made by or under the Chiropractors Act 1994, the General Council<sup>1</sup> has power to do anything which is calculated to facilitate the discharge of its functions or which is incidental or conducive to the discharge of its functions<sup>2</sup>. In particular, the General Council has power: to borrow<sup>3</sup>; to appoint such staff as it may determine<sup>4</sup>; to pay its staff such salaries as it may determine<sup>5</sup>; to pay its staff, and the members of its committees and any of their sub-committees, such allowances and expenses as it may determine<sup>6</sup>; to make such provision for the payment of such pensions, allowances or gratuities, or such contributions or payments towards provision for such pensions, allowances or gratuities, to or in respect of its staff as it may determine<sup>7</sup>; to pay its members such allowances and expenses as it may determine<sup>8</sup>; to establish such sub-committees of any of its committees as it may determine<sup>9</sup>; subject to any provision made by or under the Act, to regulate the procedure of any of its committees or their sub-committees<sup>10</sup>; to abolish any of its committees, other than a statutory committee<sup>11</sup>, or any sub-committee of any of its committees<sup>12</sup>; to delegate to any of its committees any functions of the General Council other than any power to make rules<sup>13</sup>; subject to any provision made by or under the Act, to regulate its own procedure<sup>14</sup>.

The powers of the General Council may be exercised even though there is a vacancy among its members<sup>15</sup>. No proceedings of the General Council are invalidated by any defect in the election or appointment of a member<sup>16</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(1) THE GENERAL CHIROPRACTIC COUNCIL/ (ii) General Powers and Finance/600. Professional indemnity insurance; requirement to insure.

600. Professional indemnity insurance; requirement to insure.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> may by rules<sup>2</sup> make provision requiring registered chiropractors<sup>3</sup> who are practising as chiropractors<sup>4</sup>, or prescribed<sup>5</sup> categories of registered chiropractors who are practising as chiropractors<sup>6</sup>, to secure that they are properly insured against liability to, or in relation to, their patients<sup>7</sup>. The rules may, in particular: (1) prescribe risks, or descriptions of risk, with respect to which insurance is required<sup>8</sup>; (2) prescribe the amount of insurance that is required either generally or with respect to prescribed risks<sup>9</sup>; (3) make such provision as the General Council considers appropriate for the purpose of securing, so far as is reasonably practicable, that the requirements of the rules are complied with<sup>10</sup>; (4) make provision with respect to failure to comply with their requirements, including provision for treating any failure as constituting unacceptable professional conduct<sup>11</sup>.

The rules that have been made provide that every registered chiropractor practising as a chiropractor in the United Kingdom<sup>12</sup> must, whilst in practice, secure and maintain insurance against liability to or in relation to his patients in respect of the prescribed risks<sup>13</sup>. The insurance secured and maintained must indemnify the chiropractor for an aggregate sum for each period of insurance<sup>14</sup> of not less than the prescribed amount<sup>15</sup>, being an aggregate sum indemnified in respect of all claims against the chiropractor for whom the insurance is effected which fall within the specified provision<sup>16</sup> and which are made against him during the period of insurance<sup>17</sup>. The insurance effected must provide perpetual cover in relation to things done or negligently omitted to be done after the policy of insurance concerned is first in effect, whether or not it is subsequently modified on any renewal, and which give rise to a liability comprising a prescribed risk, in a case where a chiropractor retires or dies while the policy is still in effect following its issue or any such renewal<sup>18</sup>.

15 'The prescribed amount' means, in respect of a period of insurance expiring on or before 31 December 2000, the amount of £1,000,000, and, in respect of a period of insurance expiring after that date, the amount of £3,000,000: ibid r 2.

16 The which fall within ibid r 3(5). For the purpose of calculating whether all or part of a claim in respect of a prescribed risk exceeds the limit of indemnity represented by the aggregate sum indemnified under r 3(2) or the total amount of indemnity under r 3(4) (see the text to note 18 infra), liabilities in respect of claims made against the chiropractor within the period of insurance in question, or (as the case may be) after death or retirement, and relating to any aspect of the chiropractor's practice (whether or not comprising prescribed risks), including public and product liability, may be taken into account and counted against the aggregate or total; and the policy of insurance may make provision to the effect that claims attributable to one source or original cause may be treated as a single claim: r 3(5).

18 Ibid r 3(4). See also note 16 supra. However, the policy may limit the total amount of the indemnity afforded in respect of such perpetual cover to the expiring residue of the aggregate referred to in r 3(2) (see the text to notes 15-17 supra) for the last period of insurance (that is to say, to the aggregate for that period after deduction of any liabilities in respect of claims counting against the aggregate under that provision): r 3(4).

 CHIROPRACTORS/(1) THE GENERAL CHIROPRACTIC COUNCIL/ (ii) General Powers and

601. Prescribed risks, and compliance.

The prescribed risks are<sup>1</sup>:

- 796 (1) any civil liability in respect of any negligent error, act or omission<sup>2</sup> incurred in the course of practice in providing professional services as a chiropractor in the United Kingdom<sup>3</sup>, other than a liability in respect of fines, penalties and punitive or exemplary damages<sup>4</sup> or a liability arising from the services being provided under the influence of intoxicants or narcotics<sup>5</sup>;
- 797 (2) any liability of the kind described in head (1) above attributable to an assistant or receptionist employed by the chiropractor or acting under his supervision<sup>6</sup>;
- 798 (3) any liability to pay costs, fees or expenses of or incidental to proceedings in claims for liability as set out in head (1) or head (2) above incurred with the consent of the insurer<sup>7</sup>.

The policy of insurance in respect of the prescribed risks may exclude liability in connection with acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) or human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), or any similar syndrome or condition, and in connection with ionising radiation or radioactivity, but not in connection with the use of x-ray equipment in the course of the chiropractor's practice<sup>8</sup>.

The registrar<sup>9</sup> may at any time require a registered chiropractor<sup>10</sup> practising as a chiropractor in the United Kingdom to provide the General Council<sup>11</sup> with evidence acceptable to the registrar that he has complied with these provisions<sup>12</sup>. A failure by a registered chiropractor to comply with these provisions constitutes unacceptable professional conduct<sup>13</sup>. If in the opinion of the registrar a chiropractor is in breach of the requirements of these provisions, the registrar must, unless he considers that the breach is insufficiently substantial to justify a reference, refer the matter to the investigating committee<sup>14</sup>, and the reference is to be treated as an allegation of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>15</sup> and must be dealt with accordingly<sup>16</sup>.

603. Appointment of ordinary members of statutory committees.

Before first appointing any members to the investigating committee<sup>5</sup>, professional conduct committee<sup>6</sup> or health committee<sup>7</sup>, the General Council must determine the number of members of the General Council of which the committee concerned is to be composed, subject always to the specified minimum number of such members<sup>8</sup>, and must from time to time review that number<sup>9</sup>. The appointment of members<sup>10</sup> to fill vacancies arising in relation to a statutory committee must take place at the next convenient meeting of the General Council after the vacancy arises, and those members are to be chosen from members nominated in writing to the registrar<sup>11</sup> before the meeting of the General Council concerned, or orally nominated at that meeting upon consideration of that item by the General Council<sup>12</sup>. Any member of the General Council may nominate another member, but a member may not nominate himself<sup>13</sup>. If the number of members nominated for appointment to a committee who are eligible candidates<sup>14</sup> in respect of the class of appointment<sup>15</sup> in question does not exceed the number of vacancies for that class the members so nominated are treated as duly appointed; and in any other case the appointment of members to the committee is determined between the members so nominated who are eligible candidates in respect of that class by ballot conducted by the registrar at the meeting of the General Council concerned<sup>16</sup>. At such a ballot, each member has a number of votes equal to the number of vacancies and a member may vote for himself, but no member may vote more than once for the same person in respect of the same ballot<sup>17</sup>. The persons appointed to a committee on a ballot are the eligible candidates, equal in number to the number of vacancies for the class of appointment in question, who have received in order the highest number of votes recorded<sup>18</sup>.

10 I.e. other than co-opted members or the members of the education committee referred to in the Chiropractors Act 1994 Sch 1 para 25(1)(c), (d) (see PARA 607 post). Upon a person referred to in Sch 1 para 25(1)(c), (d) being appointed a member of the General Council, the person so appointed becomes, in accordance with Sch 1 para 25(1), a member of the education committee, and the registrar must report that fact to the next convenient meeting of the General Council: General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(13). As to the education committee see PARA 607 post.

11 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 post.

12 General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(3). However, where, at the time of an appointment to fill a vacancy in the health committee which must be filled by a person falling within the Chiropractors Act 1994 Sch 1 para 38(b) (see PARA 610 post) there is only one member of the General Council who does so, that member is deemed to be nominated in respect of the committee and the provisions of the General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(8) (see the text to note 16 infra) treating him to be duly appointed in respect of that class of appointment have effect accordingly: r 4(9).

13 Ibid r 4(4). Any nomination must specify the committee with respect to which the nominee is nominated: r 4(4).

14 In the case of an appointment to the education committee, only members meeting the requirement for the class of appointment in question as to election or appointment provided for in the Chiropractors Act 1994 Sch 1 para 25(1)(a), (b) (see PARA 607 post) are eligible candidates in respect of that class: General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(6). See note 15 infra. In the case of an appointment to the investigating committee, professional conduct committee or health committee:

147 (1) there must first (so far as relevant to the committee in question) be filled any vacancy which, to meet the requirement of the Chiropractors Act 1994 Sch 1 para 38(b) (see PARA 610 post), must be filled by a member falling within Sch 1 para 38(b), followed by any number of vacancies which, to meet the requirements of Sch 1 para 30 (see PARA 608 post), Sch 1 para 34 (see PARA 609 post) or Sch 1 para 38(a) (see PARA 610 post), must be filled by members appointed to the General Council by the Privy Council, and last any number of vacancies for which there is no such requirement (General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(7)(a));

148 (2) only members meeting any such requirement are eligible candidates in respect of the class of appointment to which the requirement relates (r 4(7)(b));

149 (3) any member who is such an eligible candidate, but who fails to be appointed on a ballot or lot relating to that class, may be appointed for any other class relating to the committee in question for which he is an eligible candidate and for which an appointment remains to be made (r 4(7)(c)); and

150 (4) in respect of the class of appointment referred to in r 4(5)(b), (c) (see note 15 heads (2), (3) infra) for which there is no such requirement as is mentioned in those provisions, all members of the General Council who are duly nominated to the committee concerned are eligible candidates (r 4(7)(d)).

As to the Privy Council generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

15 For the purposes of ibid r 4(6)-(13) (see note 14 supra and the text to notes 16-18 infra):

151 (1) on appointing members to fill vacancies in the education committee, each of the two categories described in the Chiropractors Act 1994 Sch 1 para 25(1)(a), (b) (see PARA 607 post) are treated as giving rise to a separate class of appointment (General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(5)(a));

152 (2) on appointing members to fill vacancies in the investigating committee or the professional conduct committee, vacancies which, to meet the requirements of the Chiropractors Act 1994 Sch 1 para 30 (see PARA 608 post) or Sch 1 para 34 (see PARA 609 post), must be filled by a member appointed to the General Council by the Privy Council are treated as giving rise to one class of appointment, and those for which there is no such requirement as giving rise to another class of appointment (General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(5)(b)); and 153 (3) on appointing members to fill vacancies in the health committee, vacancies which, to meet the requirement of the Chiropractors Act 1994 Sch 1 para 38(a) (see PARA 610 post), must be filled by a member appointed to the General Council by the Privy Council are treated as giving rise to a separate class of appointment from a vacancy which, to meet the requirement of Sch 1 para 38(b) (see PARA 610 post), must be filled by a member falling within Sch 1 para 38(b), and those for which there is neither requirement are treated as giving rise to a further class of appointment (General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules Order 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 4(5)(c)).

16 Ibid r 4(8). The appointments treated as made under r 4(8) without a ballot, and those made by lot under Sch 4(11) (see the text to note 18 infra) are subject to ratification by resolution of the General Council passed

(following completion of appointments to committees under the provisions of r 4(1)-(11)) by a majority of those members of the General Council present and voting; and if any such appointment is not so ratified, the General Council must (without prejudice to those appointments which are duly ratified by such resolution) proceed with the appointment concerned afresh in accordance with r 4, but ignoring so far as necessary r 4(7)(a) (see note 14 head (1) supra): r 4(12).

604. Co-opted members.

The co-option of any person to any of the statutory committees<sup>1</sup> is subject to the approval of the General Council<sup>2</sup>. A co-opted member of any of the statutory committees may also be a member of the General Council<sup>3</sup>. The term of office of a co-opted member must not exceed the period of three years beginning with the date of his co-option<sup>4</sup>. The General Council must make further provision by rules<sup>5</sup> in relation to co-option, including provision as to the procedure involved<sup>6</sup>.

The approval of the co-option of a member to a statutory committee is sought by the submission by the committee concerned to the next convenient meeting of the General Council of a report and request for approval, incorporating a brief curriculum vitae of each proposed member and an explanation of the reasons for and factors in support of his co-option<sup>7</sup>. The approval is treated as granted if a resolution to that effect is passed by a majority of the members present and voting on the matter at the meeting of the General Council<sup>8</sup>. The co-option of a member to a statutory committee has effect from the day after the meeting of the General Council at which the co-option is so approved, and for such term<sup>9</sup> as is specified in the resolution of approval<sup>10</sup>.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> regulating the procedure of the statutory committees<sup>3</sup> and their sub-committees<sup>4</sup>, if any, including, in particular, provision as to rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before any such committee or sub-committee<sup>5</sup>. Subject to any provision made by or under the Chiropractors Act 1994, each statutory committee and any sub-committee of such a committee may regulate its own procedure<sup>6</sup>. The powers of any statutory committee may be exercised even though there is a vacancy among its members<sup>7</sup>. No proceedings of a statutory committee are invalidated by any defect in the appointment of a member<sup>8</sup>.

If it appears to the General Council that any statutory committee is failing to perform its functions adequately, the General Council may give a direction as to the proper performance of those functions<sup>9</sup>. Where the General Council, having given such a direction, is satisfied that the committee has failed to comply with the direction, the General Council may exercise any power of that committee or do any act or other thing authorised to be done by that committee<sup>10</sup>.

613. External regulation of the profession.

The General Chiropractic Council<sup>1</sup> is subject to the oversight of the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals<sup>2</sup> and must in the exercise of its functions co-operate with that Council<sup>3</sup>. The Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals has powers to refer certain decisions of the professional conduct committee<sup>4</sup> and of the General Chiropractic Council<sup>5</sup> to the High Court where it considers the decision to be unduly lenient, or that it should not have been made, and that it would be desirable for the protection of members of the public<sup>6</sup>.

Her Majesty may by Order in Council<sup>7</sup> make provision modifying the regulation of the profession of chiropractic so far as appears to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of securing or improving the regulation of the profession or the services which the profession provides or to which it contributes<sup>8</sup>, and modifying, as respects the General Chiropractic Council, the range of functions of that body in relation to which the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals performs its functions<sup>9</sup>.

The provisions of the Competition Act 1998 prohibiting agreements which have as their object the prevention, restriction or distortion of competition within the United Kingdom apply to rules made by professional bodies<sup>10</sup>. The Enterprise Act 2002<sup>11</sup>, for the purposes of an enforcement order<sup>12</sup>, has effect in relation to a regulatory provision<sup>13</sup> as it has effect in relation to an agreement, but with the necessary modifications<sup>14</sup>; and an enforcement order may be made so as to have effect in relation to a regulatory provision even though that provision was properly made in exercise of functions conferred by the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>15</sup>.

12 'An enforcement order' means an order under ibid s 160 (orders following failure to fulfil final undertakings), or s 161 (final orders following market investigation reports): Chiropractors Act 1994 s 33(4) (substituted by the Enterprise Act 2002 s 278(1), Sch 25 para 31(1), (5)).

13 'Regulatory provision' means: (1) any rule made by the General Chiropractic Council; (2) any provision of the code of practice issued by the General Chiropractic Council under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 19 (see PARA 645 post); and (3) any other advice or guidance given by the General Chiropractic Council, any of its committees or any sub-committee of such a committee: s 33(1)(a)-(c). As to the making of rules see PARA 598 ante.

14 Ibid s 33(2) (amended by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 25 para 31(1), (2)(a), (b)). The references to anything permitted by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 8 in ss 160(4)(a), 161(3)(a), 164(1) must be construed accordingly: Chiropractors Act 1994 s 33(2A) (added by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 25 para 31(1), (3)).

15 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 33(3) (amended by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 25 para 31(1), (4)). For the purposes of an enforcement order the Enterprise Act 2002 s 86(3) as applied by s 164(2)(a) (power to apply orders to existing agreements) has effect in relation to a regulatory provision as it has effect in relation to an agreement: Chiropractors Act 1994 s 33(5) (substituted by the Enterprise Act 2002 Sch 25 para 31(1), (6)).

(i) The Registrar

614. The registrar of chiropractors.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must appoint a person to be the registrar for the purposes of the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>2</sup>. The person appointed is known as the registrar of chiropractors<sup>3</sup>, and it is his duty to establish and maintain a register of chiropractors<sup>4</sup> in accordance with the provisions of the Act<sup>5</sup>. The registrar has such other functions as the General Council may direct<sup>6</sup>.

The registrar holds office for such period and on such terms as the General Council may determine<sup>7</sup>. The terms on which the registrar holds office may, in addition to providing for his remuneration, include provision for the payment of such pensions, allowances or gratuities to or in respect of him, or such contributions or payments towards provision for such pensions, allowances or gratuities, as may be determined by the General Council<sup>8</sup>. Where the terms on which the registrar holds office include provision for the payment to him of any allowances or expenses, the rate at which those allowances or expenses are paid is to be determined by the General Council<sup>9</sup>.

615. Full registration.

Subject to the provisions of the Chiropractors Act 1994, any person who satisfies the following conditions is entitled to be registered<sup>1</sup> as a fully registered chiropractor<sup>2</sup>. The conditions are that the application is made in the prescribed form and manner<sup>3</sup> and that the applicant<sup>4</sup>:

- 799 (1) has paid the prescribed fee<sup>5</sup>;
- 800 (2) satisfies the registrar<sup>6</sup> that he is of good character<sup>7</sup>;
- 801 (3) satisfies the registrar that he is in good health, both physically and mentally<sup>8</sup>;
- 802 (4) has a recognised qualification<sup>9</sup>.

The General Council<sup>10</sup> may by rules<sup>11</sup> provide for treating a person who: (a) has obtained a qualification in chiropractic outside the United Kingdom<sup>12</sup>; (b) does not hold a recognised qualification<sup>13</sup>; but (c) satisfies the registrar that he has reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>14</sup>, as holding a recognised qualification for these purposes<sup>15</sup>.

1 'Registered' means registered in the register: Chiropractors Act 1994 s 43. For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 614 note 4 ante.

2 Ibid s 3(1). 'Fully registered chiropractor' means a person who is registered with full registration: s 43. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/616. Conditional registration.

616. Conditional registration.

Subject to the provisions of the Chiropractors Act 1994, any person who satisfies the following conditions is entitled to be registered<sup>1</sup> as a conditionally registered chiropractor<sup>2</sup>. The conditions are that the application was made in the prescribed<sup>3</sup> form and manner during the transitional period<sup>4</sup> and that the applicant<sup>5</sup>:

- 803 (1) has paid the prescribed fee<sup>6</sup>;
- 804 (2) satisfies the registrar<sup>7</sup> that he is of good character<sup>8</sup>;
- 805 (3) satisfies the registrar that he is in good health, both physically and mentally<sup>9</sup>;
- 806 (4) satisfies the registrar that for a period of at least four years, which need not be continuous, he has spent a substantial part of his working time in the lawful, safe and competent practice of chiropractic<sup>10</sup>;
- 807 (5) if required to do so by the registrar in accordance with rules<sup>11</sup> made by the General Council<sup>12</sup>, passes:
  - 150 212. (a) the prescribed test of competence<sup>13</sup>; or
  - 213. (b) such part of that test as the registrar may specify<sup>14</sup>; and
- 151 808 (6) gives the required undertaking<sup>15</sup>.

The General Council may by rules provide for the conversion, in prescribed circumstances and subject to the chiropractor concerned complying with such conditions, if any, as may be prescribed, of conditional registration into full registration<sup>16</sup>. Unless it is converted into full registration in accordance with the rules, any conditional registration ceases to have effect at the end of the period of five years beginning with the opening of the register<sup>17</sup>, or, where a shorter period has been specified by the registrar<sup>18</sup> in relation to the chiropractor in question, at the end of that shorter period<sup>19</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 615 note 1 ante.

2 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 4(1). 'Conditionally registered chiropractor' means a person who is registered with conditional registration: s 43.

3 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 592 note 10 ante.

4 'Transitional period' means the period of two years beginning with the opening of the register: Chiropractors Act 1994 s 4(10). 'Opening of the register' means the date on which s 3 comes into force: s 43. Section 3 came into force on 15 June 1999: see the Chiropractors Act 1994 (Commencement No 3) Order 1999, SI 1999/1496.

5 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 4(2). As to rules made under s 4 see the General Chiropractic Council (Registration During Transitional Period) Rules 1999, approved by the General Chiropractic Council (Registration During Transitional Period) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1857.

6 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 4(2)(a). See also note 5 supra.

7 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante.

8 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 4(2)(b).

9 Ibid s 4(2)(c).

10 Ibid s 4(2)(d). In the application of s 4(2)(d), in relation to any person, no account is to be taken of any work done by him before the beginning of the period of six years ending with the opening of the register: s 4(3). For the purposes of s 4(2)(d), the question whether the applicant has spent any part of his working time in the lawful, safe and competent practice of chiropractic is to be determined in accordance with such rules (if any) as may be made by the General Council: s 4(9). See also note 5 supra. For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 591 note 1 ante.

In dealing with an application for registration made during the transitional period by a person unable to meet the requirement of s 4(2)(d), but having a qualification in chiropractic which, while not being a recognised qualification, has not been refused recognition by the General Council, the registrar had to refer the matter to the education committee: s 4(6). Where such a reference was made to the education committee, it was the duty of the committee to advise the General Council: s 4(7). If, after considering the advice of the education committee, the General Council was satisfied that it was appropriate to do so, it had to direct the registrar to disregard s 4(2)(d) in relation to the application in question: s 4(8). As to the education committee see PARA 607 ante. For the meaning of 'recognised qualification' see PARA 636 note 2 post.

11 As to the making of rules see PARA 598 ante.

12 See note 5 supra.

13 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 4(2)(e)(i). See also note 5 supra.

14 Ibid s 4(2)(e)(ii).

15 Ibid s 4(2)(f). 'Required undertaking' means an undertaking that the person giving it will, before the end of the period of five years beginning with the opening of the register or such shorter period as the registrar may specify in relation to the applicant: (1) complete such additional training and acquire such experience as may be specified by the registrar in accordance with rules made by the General Council (s 4(10)(a)); and (2) comply with such other conditions (if any) as may be imposed on him by the registrar in accordance with such rules (s 4(10)(b)). Rules made by virtue of s 4(10)(b) may, in particular, provide for the registrar to be able to impose, as a condition, the passing of a test of competence specified by the registrar: s 4(11). As to such rules see note 5 supra.

16 Ibid s 4(4). As to the conversion of conditional registration into full registration see PARA 617 post. As to full registration see PARA 615 ante.

17 Ibid s 4(5)(a).

18 Ie in accordance with ibid s 4(10): see note 15 supra.

UPDATE

615-619 Full registration ... Registration: supplemental

A person who is lawfully established as a chiropractor in another EEA state or Switzerland is entitled to be registered as a temporarily registered chiropractor: see the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 5A (added by SI 2007/3101).

616 Conditional registration

NOTE 15--For the meaning of 'training' see PARA 595.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/617. Conversion of conditional registration to full registration.

617. Conversion of conditional registration to full registration.

The conditional registration<sup>1</sup> of a chiropractor is converted to full registration<sup>2</sup> upon the payment by the chiropractor of a fee of £250 and the making of an application in writing<sup>3</sup> to the registrar<sup>4</sup> signed by the applicant<sup>5</sup>, if: (1) he satisfies the registrar that for a period of at least five years before the application is made, which period need not be continuous, he has spent a substantial part of his working time in the lawful, safe and competent practice of chiropractic<sup>6</sup>; (2) he has acquired a recognised qualification<sup>7</sup>; or (3) he has fulfilled any required undertaking<sup>8</sup>.

For the purposes of head (1) above, no account is to be taken of any work done by the applicant before the beginning of the period of seven years ending with the opening of the register<sup>9</sup>, and the issue in head (1) above is to be determined by the registrar in accordance with the following provisions<sup>10</sup>. In determining that issue, the registrar is to have regard, amongst other matters, to the period during which the applicant has been registered on a chiropractic register<sup>11</sup> or maintained professional indemnity insurance in respect of a chiropractic practice, or during which he has in other circumstances carried out the work of a chiropractor, and to the nature and extent of his practice during any such period<sup>12</sup>. Where, during any period taken into account for these purposes, an applicant has practised chiropractic in a place outside the United Kingdom<sup>13</sup>, and the practice of chiropractic there was prohibited unless legal requirements relating to it were complied with, the applicant must satisfy the registrar that he has complied with those requirements in order to be treated as having spent that period in the lawful practice of chiropractic<sup>14</sup>. In determining whether the applicant has practised chiropractic safely, the registrar is to have regard to: any complaint made to a professional regulatory body on whose register, roll or list the applicant is or has been entered; any claim made under a contract of insurance providing professional indemnity to the applicant; proceedings, whether criminal or civil, brought against the applicant in connection with his practice of chiropractic; and any other matter which appears to the registrar to be relevant to the issue<sup>15</sup>. In determining whether an applicant has practised chiropractic competently, the registrar is to have regard to the provisions of the required standard of proficiency, together with any other matter which appears to the registrar to be relevant to the issue<sup>16</sup>. In determining whether an applicant has spent a part of his working time in the lawful, safe and competent practice of chiropractic, and if so, whether it is a substantial part, the registrar may if he thinks it desirable from time to time require from the applicant any information in addition to that provided with the application for registration and may require the applicant to be interviewed by the education committee or a sub-committee of the education committee<sup>17</sup>, or by a person nominated by the registrar, or to be visited at any place where he practises chiropractic by a person so nominated; and the registrar may obtain information from any other person or source as he considers appropriate<sup>18</sup>.

615-619 Full registration ... Registration: supplemental

A person who is lawfully established as a chiropractor in another EEA state or Switzerland is entitled to be registered as a temporarily registered chiropractor: see the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 5A (added by SI 2007/3101).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/618. Provisional registration.

618. Provisional registration.

As from a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>, the General Council<sup>2</sup> may make rules<sup>3</sup> providing for all applicants for registration who are entitled to be registered<sup>4</sup> with full registration<sup>5</sup>, or all such applicants falling within a prescribed<sup>6</sup> class, to be registered initially with provisional registration<sup>7</sup>. Before making any such rules, the General Council must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to consult those who are registered chiropractors<sup>8</sup>.

The General Council may by rules provide for the conversion, in prescribed circumstances and subject to the chiropractor concerned complying with such conditions, if any, as may be prescribed, of provisional registration into full registration<sup>9</sup>. Unless it is converted into full registration in accordance with the rules, any provisional registration ceases to have effect at the end of the period of one year beginning with the date on which it is entered in the register<sup>10</sup>.

A provisionally registered chiropractor must not practise chiropractic except under the supervision of a fully registered chiropractor<sup>11</sup> who is approved by the General Council for the purpose<sup>12</sup>. The General Council must maintain a list of those fully registered chiropractors who are for the time being approved for this purpose<sup>13</sup>.

1 The Chiropractors Act 1994 s 5 is to come into force on such day as the Secretary of State may by order appoint: see s 44(3). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante.

619. Registration: supplemental.

The register<sup>1</sup> must show, in relation to each registered chiropractor<sup>2</sup>, whether he is registered<sup>3</sup> with full, conditional or provisional registration<sup>4</sup>, and the address at which he has his practice or principal practice or, if he is not practising, such address as may be prescribed<sup>5</sup>. The General Council<sup>6</sup> may make rules<sup>7</sup> in connection with registration and the register and as to the payment of fees<sup>8</sup>. The rules may, in particular, make provision as to:

- 809 (1) the form and keeping of the register<sup>9</sup>;
- 810 (2) the form and manner in which applications for registration are to be made<sup>10</sup>;
- 811 (3) the documentary and other evidence which is to accompany applications for registration<sup>11</sup>;
- 812 (4) the manner in which the registrar<sup>12</sup> is to satisfy himself as to the good character and competence of any person applying for registration and the procedure for so doing<sup>13</sup>;
- 813 (5) the manner in which the registrar is to satisfy himself as to the physical and mental health of any person applying for registration and the procedure for so doing<sup>14</sup>;
- 814 (6) the description of persons from whom references are to be provided for persons applying for registration<sup>15</sup>;
- 815 (7) in the case of an application for conditional registration, the conditions or kinds of condition which may be imposed on the chiropractor concerned<sup>16</sup>;
- 816 (8) the making, periodic renewal, and removal, of entries in the register<sup>17</sup>;
- 817 (9) the giving of reasons for any removal of, or refusal to renew, an entry in the register<sup>18</sup>;
- 818 (10) any failure on the part of a registered chiropractor to comply with any conditions subject to which his registration has effect, including provision for the registrar to refuse to renew his registration or for the removal of his name from the register<sup>19</sup>;
- 819 (11) the issue and form of certificates<sup>20</sup>;
- 820 (12) the content, assessment and conduct of any test of competence<sup>21</sup>;
- 821 (13) the meaning of 'principal practice'<sup>22</sup>.

The rules may also make provision: (a) prescribing the fee to be charged for making an entry in the register or restoring such an entry<sup>23</sup>; (b) prescribing the fee to be charged in respect of the retention in the register of any entry in any year following the year in which the entry was first made<sup>24</sup>; (c) providing for the entry in the register of qualifications, whether or not they are recognised qualifications<sup>25</sup>, possessed by registered chiropractors, and the removal of such an entry<sup>26</sup>; (d) prescribing the fee to be charged in respect of the making or removal of any entry of a kind mentioned in head (c) above<sup>27</sup>; (e) authorising the registrar to refuse to make an entry in the register or restore such an entry, until the prescribed fee has been paid<sup>28</sup>, and to remove from the register any entry relating to a person who, after the prescribed notice has been given, fails to pay the fee prescribed in respect of the retention of the entry<sup>29</sup>.

620. Form of register.

There must be entered in the register<sup>1</sup> against each registered chiropractor<sup>2</sup>, in addition to his full name and the specified particulars<sup>3</sup>, the following: (1) the number of the certificate of registration<sup>4</sup>; (2) an indication of whether the chiropractor is male or female<sup>5</sup>; (3) the qualification of which the chiropractor is possessed which has led to his registration<sup>6</sup>. The entries for registered chiropractors must appear in the register in the alphabetical order of each chiropractor's surname<sup>7</sup>. The prescribed<sup>8</sup> address to be shown in the register in respect of a chiropractor who is not practising is his last known place of residence<sup>9</sup>. The register must also comprise within it separate tables showing: (a) the total number of each class of fully registered, conditionally registered and provisionally registered chiropractors<sup>10</sup> appearing in the register on 1 January immediately past<sup>11</sup>; and (b) the number of persons of each class added or removed from the register in the period of 12 months ending with 1 January immediately past<sup>12</sup>. The registrar<sup>13</sup> is not precluded by anything in these provisions from entering on the register any other information which is material to a person's registration or which is required by the Chiropractors Act 1994 to appear on the register<sup>14</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/621. Applications for registration; certificates of registration.

621. Applications for registration; certificates of registration.

An application for registration<sup>1</sup> must be made to the registrar<sup>2</sup> in writing<sup>3</sup> in the specified form<sup>4</sup>, must be signed by the applicant<sup>5</sup> and must be accompanied by the fee prescribed<sup>6</sup>. The applicant must provide the following in relation to any such application:

- 822 (1) a reference as to good character from a person unrelated to the applicant by birth or marriage<sup>7</sup>, being a person of good standing in the community who has known the applicant for at least four years and who is acceptable to the registrar<sup>8</sup>;
- 823 (2) a report, meeting the specified requirements<sup>9</sup>, as to the physical and mental health of the applicant<sup>10</sup>;
- 824 (3) evidence of the applicant having a recognised qualification<sup>11</sup> comprising the document conferring it or an original certificate issued by the institution granting it that it has conferred the qualification on the applicant<sup>12</sup>;
- 825 (4) so far as relevant, all the other particulars specified in the prescribed form<sup>13</sup>; and
- 826 (5) such other information or documents as the registrar may reasonably require for the purposes of determining the application<sup>14</sup>.

In order to satisfy himself about the good character of the applicant, the registrar must take account of the reference provided<sup>15</sup>, any criminal offence for which the applicant has been convicted, and any other matters which appear to the registrar to be relevant to the issue<sup>16</sup>. In order to satisfy himself about the physical and mental health of the applicant, the registrar must take account of any report provided<sup>17</sup>, and any other matters which appear to the registrar to be relevant to the issue<sup>18</sup>. In so satisfying himself<sup>19</sup>, the registrar may, if he thinks it desirable, require from the applicant any information in addition to that required with the application<sup>20</sup>; and, in relation to the physical and mental health of the applicant, the registrar may require the applicant to be examined by a registered medical practitioner nominated by the registrar<sup>21</sup>.

The registrar must, upon entering any person in the register<sup>22</sup>, issue to that person a certificate specifying whether he is fully, conditionally or provisionally registered, and the date of registration<sup>23</sup>.

The registrar must, if reasonably requested to do so, issue a certificate as to the status of a person's registration<sup>24</sup>.

4    Ie the form set out in the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, Sch 1 Form A: see rr 2(2), 4(1).

5 'Applicant' means a person applying for registration under ibid r 4: r 2(1).

6 Ibid r 4(1). The fee prescribed is: (1) £100, in respect of an applicant who satisfies the registrar that, by virtue of sickness or other reason, he does not intend to engage in the practice of chiropractic within the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or a European Economic Area state during the period ending 31 December in the year in which he will next be required to be sent documents under r 8(2) (see PARA 623 post) (r 4(1), Sch 2 para 1(a)); or (2) in any other case, £1,250 (Sch 2 para 1(b)). The registrar may refuse to make an entry in the register if any fee prescribed has not been paid: r 11(2). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante. 'European Economic Area state' means a member state, Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland or Switzerland: Sch 2 para 6(a) (substituted by SI 2004/1947). For the meaning of 'member state' see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1; and the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2), Sch 1 Pt II.

7 Two people are to be treated as related by birth or marriage for these purposes if they are spouses of each other or if one or the spouse of one of them bears to the other or spouse of the other a relationship of lineal descendant, brother, sister, nephew, niece or first cousin; and 'spouse' for this purpose includes a former spouse and an unmarried partner of the same or the opposite sex: General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, r 2(3).

8 Ibid r 4(2)(a). Such persons include a solicitor, accountant, bank manager, justice of the peace, minister of the church, imam, rabbi, or similar religious official who appears to the registrar to be appropriate: r 4(2)(a).

9 The specified requirements are that the report given under ibid r 4(2)(b) must be given by the applicant's medical practitioner, who must not be related to the applicant by birth or marriage and must have known the applicant for a period of at least four years; but if the registrar is satisfied that, because these conditions cannot be met, no such report can be given, the registrar may satisfy himself as to the mental and physical health of the applicant (so far as he considers it necessary to do so having regard to any other information available under r 5(2) (see the text to note 17, 18 infra) or examination required under r 5(3) (see the text to note 19-21 infra)) by a report given by a registered medical practitioner who, in giving the report, relies on the medical records of the applicant made by registered medical practitioners of whom the applicant was a patient (or by partners of such practitioners) for a period in aggregate of at least four years: r 4(3). ## 622. Amendments of the register.

A registered chiropractor<sup>1</sup> must notify the registrar<sup>2</sup> within one month of any change of the following particulars given in respect of him in the register<sup>3</sup>: (1) his name<sup>4</sup>; (2) the particulars as to his address which are to be shown in the register<sup>5</sup>; (3) any qualifications possessed by the chiropractor which may be material to his practice as a chiropractor<sup>6</sup>. The registrar must amend the register:

- 827 (a) so far as may be necessary in consequence of any such notification<sup>7</sup>;
- 828 (b) so far as may be necessary to give effect to the duty to suspend registration<sup>8</sup>;
- 829 (c) so far as may be necessary to give effect to a decision granting an application for restoration to the register<sup>9</sup>;
- 830 (d) so far as may be necessary to give effect to any decision relating to the fraudulent procurement or incorrect making of an entry in the register<sup>10</sup>;
- 831 (e) so far as may be necessary to give effect to any decision of a committee or court relating to fitness to practise<sup>11</sup>;
- 832 (f) so far as may be necessary to give effect to any decision on an appeal<sup>12</sup>; and
- 833 (g) so far as may be necessary to give effect to any other information which has come to the attention of the registrar and which in his opinion calls for such amendment in order to maintain the accuracy of the register<sup>13</sup>.

Before making any amendment under head (a) or head (g) above, the registrar must make such further enquiries, and may in a case where a duty to notify<sup>14</sup> arises require such further evidence from the chiropractor concerned, as appears to him to be necessary or appropriate<sup>15</sup>.

UPDATE

622 Amendments of the register

NOTES 1-3--SI 1999/1856 r 7(1) amended, r 7(4), Sch 1, Sch 2 para 2 revoked: SI 2009/2305.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/623. Retention of registration.

623. Retention of registration.

Subject to the provisions described below, any registration<sup>1</sup> made by the registrar<sup>2</sup> after 31 December 2000 has effect during the period beginning with the making of the relevant entry in the register<sup>3</sup> and ending with 31 December in the year in which that entry is made<sup>4</sup>.

Not later than 10 November in every year the registrar must send<sup>5</sup> to every registered chiropractor<sup>6</sup>: (1) a form of application<sup>7</sup> for the retention of the chiropractor's name in the register<sup>8</sup>; (2) a notification of the retention fee<sup>9</sup>; and (3) a warning that unless a duly completed application in the relevant form is made, accompanied by payment of the retention fee on or before 30 November in that year, his registration will be liable to be removed from the register<sup>10</sup>. If no such application and payment of the retention fee is received by the registrar by that date, he must send a notice of final warning to the registered chiropractor that, if no duly completed application for retention in the specified form with payment of the retention fee is made before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice was issued, his registration will be removed<sup>11</sup>. If no such application and payment is so made, the registrar may remove the name of the chiropractor from the register<sup>12</sup>.

No application is required for the retention of an entry in the register in respect of a person: (a) who has received a notification in respect of an allegation relating to professional conduct or fitness to practise<sup>13</sup> and is subject to an investigation in respect of it<sup>14</sup> in connection with which all proceedings and appeals arising have not been completed or the time for all such appeals has not expired<sup>15</sup>; (b) whose registration is suspended<sup>16</sup>; or (c) who is not able to be sent the specified documents<sup>17</sup> because he is first registered on or after 10 November in the year in question<sup>18</sup>. Upon completion of any such investigation and of all proceedings and appeals arising from it, or as the case may be upon the expiry of the time for any such appeal without such appeal being made, where the decision is not one that the chiropractor's name be removed from the register or his registration suspended, or the ending of such a suspension, then unless there then remains less than three months<sup>19</sup> in the year, the registrar must send to the chiropractor the specified documents, treating the reference to 30 November in a year as a reference to the day 20 days after those matters are sent to the chiropractor<sup>20</sup>.

NOTES 4, 9--Chiropractors Act 1994 s 6(5) amended: SI 2007/3101. SI 1999/1856 Sch 2 paras 4, 5 amended: SI 2007/3101, SI 2009/2305.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/626. Registration of chiropractors with foreign qualifications; cases where Community law does not apply.

626. Registration of chiropractors with foreign qualifications; cases where Community law does not apply.

The provisions described below apply where an applicant<sup>1</sup> is a person who: (1) has a relevant recognised qualification<sup>2</sup> or a relevant unrecognised qualification<sup>3</sup>; (2) does not have a recognised qualification<sup>4</sup> granted by an institution within the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>; and (3) is not treated as having a recognised qualification<sup>6</sup>.

An application<sup>7</sup> must be made in accordance with the specified requirements<sup>8</sup>.

The registrar must, in considering an application by an applicant who has a relevant unrecognised qualification but not a relevant recognised qualification, treat the applicant as having a recognised qualification upon being satisfied that he has reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>9</sup> and has a satisfactory command of the English language<sup>10</sup>. In determining whether such an applicant has reached the required standard of proficiency, the registrar must require the applicant to take a test of competence<sup>11</sup>. The test of competence may, if the registrar so requires, include a test requiring a practical demonstration by the applicant<sup>12</sup>. The test of competence must be conducted by examiners appointed by the General Council<sup>13</sup>.

The registrar may, in considering an application by an applicant who has a relevant recognised qualification, before registering the applicant, require the applicant to satisfy him that he has a satisfactory command of the English language<sup>14</sup>.

1 'Applicant' means an applicant for registration as a fully registered chiropractor: General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 2. For the meaning of 'fully registered chiropractor' see PARA 615 note 2 ante.

2 'Relevant recognised qualification' means a foreign qualification which has been recognised under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 14(3) (see PARA 636 post): General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 2. 'Foreign qualification' means a qualification in chiropractic granted by an institution outside the United Kingdom: r 2. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

3 Ibid r 4(a). 'Relevant unrecognised qualification' means a foreign qualification which has not been recognised under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 14(3) (see PARA 636 post) but which was awarded to the applicant: (1) following completion of a course of education or training in chiropractic normally requiring not less than 4,800 hours of study, tuition and clinical experience in chiropractic to be undertaken; or (2) following completion of a first degree in human science, and a course of education or training in chiropractic normally requiring not less than 2,200 hours of study, tuition and clinical experience in chiropractic to be undertaken: General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 2.

4 For the meaning of 'recognised qualification' see PARA 636 note 2 post.

5 General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 4(b).

Where a person is registered as a fully registered chiropractor by virtue of these provisions, the register must contain a note to that effect, in addition (so far as relevant) to the matters referred to in the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, r 3(1) (see PARA 620 ante): General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 3.

7 References in these provisions to an application are to be construed in accordance with ibid r 4(a)-(c) (see the text to notes 1-6 supra): see r 4.

8 The General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856 (including the provisions relating to the payment of fees) (see PARA 621 ante) apply to an application for registration, subject to the following modifications with respect to the form of application and the provision of documents and other evidence: General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 8(1). An application must be in the form set out in Schedule Form A (r 8(2)), and must be accompanied by the particulars specified in that form, instead of being accompanied by the particulars required by the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, r 4(2)(d) (see PARA 621 ante) (General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 8(3)). Where an application is made by an applicant who has a relevant unrecognised qualification but not a relevant recognised qualification, the application must, instead of being accompanied by evidence of a recognised qualification under the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, r 4(2)(c) (see PARA 621 ante), be accompanied by evidence acceptable to the registrar that the applicant holds the relevant unrecognised qualification: General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 8(4). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante.

10 General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 5(1). In satisfying himself whether the applicant has a satisfactory command of the English language for the purposes of r 5, the registrar may require him to take a test, conducted orally or in writing (or both), in order to determine whether he has sufficient ability in spoken and written English to enable him to practise chiropractic in the United Kingdom safely and competently: r 7.

11 Ibid r 6(1). The test of competence must comprise a written or oral test (or both) covering the following heads (or such part of them as the registrar considers appropriate) for the purposes of determining whether the applicant meets the required standard of proficiency in relation to them: (1) knowledge and understanding of the ethical basis and holistic nature of the practice of chiropractic; (2) medical and scientific knowledge relevant to the practice of chiropractic; (3) clinical assessment, including physical examination before and during treatment, interview and case history; (4) diagnosis and clinical impression; (5) the selection of appropriate treatment; (6) the delivery of treatment and evaluation of the response to treatment; (7) the giving of advice concerning treatment, treatment dependence, minimisation of recurrence or the need for further treatment, and related matters; (8) the obtaining of consent to treatment; (9) communication with other chiropractors, general medical practitioners and other health professionals, including assessment of the need for second opinions or for referrals; and (10) record keeping: r 6(2)(a)-(j).

13 Ibid r 6(4). Such examiners must be fully registered chiropractors of not less than five years experience who have successfully completed a course of training approved by the General Council in the methods of assessing a person undergoing such a test of competence: r 6(4). Any person appointed for the purpose of the General Chiropractic Council (Registration During Transitional Period) Rules 1999, SI 1999/1857, r 6(4) is deemed to be appointed also for the purposes of the General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704: r 6(4). For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 591 note 1 ante.

626 Registration of chiropractors with foreign qualifications; cases where Community law does not apply

TEXT AND NOTES--SI 2002/2704 rr 5, 6 amended: SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/627. Registration of chiropractors with foreign qualifications; cases where Community law applies.

627. Registration of chiropractors with foreign qualifications; cases where Community law applies.

Except where otherwise provided<sup>5</sup>, the general requirements relating to applications for registration<sup>6</sup> do not apply to an application by such an applicant<sup>7</sup>. An application must be made in the specified form<sup>8</sup> and signed by the applicant<sup>9</sup>. It must be accompanied by: (1) the fee prescribed<sup>10</sup>; (2) the certificates or other documents duly issued by a competent authority<sup>11</sup> attesting to the applicant's qualification and, where appropriate, the professional experience relied on by the applicant<sup>12</sup>; (3) the specified documents relating to evidence of good character and as to health<sup>13</sup>; and (4) so far as relevant, all the other particulars in the specified form<sup>14</sup>.

In specified cases<sup>15</sup>, the applicant must supply the registrar<sup>16</sup> with: (a) a document duly issued by the competent authority of a relevant EEA state attesting to the applicant's good character and confirming that he has not been suspended or prohibited from pursuing the profession of chiropractic because of serious professional misconduct or the commission of a criminal offence<sup>17</sup>; or (b) where that authority does not issue such documents, a declaration on oath or a solemn declaration attesting to and confirming those matters<sup>18</sup>. In the specified cases, the applicant must also provide the document attesting to his physical or mental health required by the authorities which regulate the profession of chiropractic in a relevant EEA state<sup>19</sup>. Where no such document is required, the applicant must provide a report<sup>20</sup>.

These provisions<sup>21</sup> have effect without prejudice to the requirement for the applicant to provide acceptable evidence to the registrar that he has met any additional conditions specified by the General Council<sup>22</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'applicant' see PARA 626 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'recognised qualification' see PARA 636 note 2 post.

3 General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 9(1)(a). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

4 I.e. by virtue of the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 14(10)(a) (see PARA 636 post): General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 9(1)(b). Where a person is registered as a fully registered chiropractor by virtue of rr 9-13 (see infra), the register must contain a note to that effect, in addition (so far as relevant) to the matters referred to in the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, r 3(1) (see PARA 620 ante): General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 3. For the meaning of 'fully registered chiropractor' see PARA 615 note 2 ante. For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 614 note 4 ante.

The General Council, being the designated authority for the profession of chiropractic in the United Kingdom, may not, on grounds of inadequate qualifications, refuse to authorise a national of a European Union member state, Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Switzerland to practise the profession on the same conditions as apply to a United Kingdom applicant, if that person holds the diploma required to practise in another such state or can satisfy certain other conditions as to experience and qualifications: see the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) (First General System) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/18, regs 4(1), 5, Sch 1 Pt 1. As to proof of experience and qualifications see further regs 6-9. A national of a European Union member state, Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Switzerland who has been granted authorisation to practise has the right to use: (1) the professional title and designatory letters applicable to the profession of chiropractic in the United Kingdom; and (2) the lawful academic title, and where appropriate its abbreviation, acquired by him in the relevant state in which he formerly qualified and in the language of that state: reg 10(1)(a), (b). Where a person makes use of an academic title, the General Council may require that the title be followed by the name and location of the establishment or examining board which awarded it: reg 10(2). For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 591 note 1 ante.

8 le the form set out in ibid Schedule Form B.

9 Ibid r 10(2).

10 Ibid r 10(3)(a). The fee prescribed is that in the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, Sch 2 para 1 (see PARA 621 note 6 ante): General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 10(3)(a).

11 'Competent authority' means, in relation to any document, certificate, diploma or qualification, or period of professional experience, the authority, body or person in a state authorised under the laws, regulations or administrative provisions of that state to issue, award or recognise such document, certificate, diploma or qualification, or to certify any such period: ibid r 9(2).

12 Ibid r 10(3)(b). In cases where the Directive applies, such certificates or other documents must be issued by a competent authority of a relevant EEA state: r 10(4) (amended by SI 2004/1947). 'The Directive' means EC Council Directive 89/48 (OJ L19, 24.01.89, p 16) on a general system for the recognition of higher education diplomas awarded on completion of professional education and training of at least three years duration; 'relevant EEA state' means the applicant's EEA state of origin, the EEA state from which the applicant comes or the EEA state in which the applicant formerly qualified or practised; and 'EEA state' means a member state, Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland or Switzerland: General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 9(2) (amended by SI 2004/1947). 14 Ibid r 10(3)(d).

15 le in cases to which the Directive applies: ibid r 11(1). In cases to which the Directive does not apply, the provisions of the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, rr 4(2)(a), 5(1), (3) (see PARA 621 ante) apply in so far as relevant: General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 11(2).

17 General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 11(1)(a) (rr 11(1)(a), (b)(i), 12(1) amended by SI 2004/1947).

18 General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 11(1)(b). Such declaration must be made by the applicant before a competent judicial or administrative authority or (where appropriate) a notary or duly qualified professional body of a relevant EEA state, and must be authenticated by a certificate issued by the authority, notary or body: see r 11(1)(b)(i), (ii) (r 11(1)(b)(i) as amended: see note 17 supra).

19 Ibid r 12(1) (as amended: see note 17 supra).

20 le a report as required by the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, r 4(2)(b) (see PARA 621 ante): General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 12(2). This provision applies also to cases where the Directive does not apply: see r 12(2). In a case to which the Directive does not apply, the provisions of the General Chiropractic Council (Registration) Rules Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/1856, r 5(2), (3) (see PARA 621 ante) also apply so far as relevant: see the General Chiropractic Council (Registration of Chiropractors with Foreign Qualifications) Rules Order of Council 2002, SI 2002/2704, r 12(3).

628. Suspension of registration.

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup> suspends the registration of a chiropractor in accordance with any provision of the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>2</sup>, the registrar must enter in the register<sup>3</sup> a note of the suspension<sup>4</sup>, the period of the suspension<sup>5</sup>, and the provision under which the suspension was made<sup>6</sup>. Where the period of the suspension is extended, the registrar must note the extension in the register<sup>7</sup>. Any chiropractor whose registration has been suspended ceases, for the period of his suspension, to be a registered chiropractor<sup>8</sup> for the purposes of the provisions relating to the unlawful use of titles and descriptions<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante.

2 For powers of suspension see the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 10(3) (see PARA 631 post), s 21(2) (see PARA 648 post), s 22(4)(c) (see PARA 649 post), s 23(2)(b), (4)(b) (see PARA 651 post), s 24(2) (see PARA 652 post), s 30(11)(c), (12) (see PARA 681 post), s 31(8)(c) (see PARA 688 post).

629. Restoration to the register of chiropractors who have been struck off.

Where a person who has had his entry as a fully registered chiropractor<sup>1</sup> removed from the register<sup>2</sup> as the result of an order<sup>3</sup> wishes to have his entry restored to the register, he must make an application for registration to the registrar<sup>4</sup>. No such application may be made before the end of the period of ten months<sup>5</sup> beginning with the date on which the order was made<sup>6</sup>. Any application for restoration must be referred by the registrar to the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup> for determination by that committee<sup>8</sup>. The committee must not grant an application for restoration unless it is satisfied that the applicant not only satisfies the specified requirements<sup>9</sup> but, having regard in particular to the circumstances which led to the making of the order, is also a fit and proper person to practise the profession of chiropractic<sup>10</sup>. On granting an application for restoration, the committee must direct the registrar to register the applicant as a fully registered chiropractor<sup>11</sup>, and may make a conditions of practice order<sup>12</sup> with respect to him<sup>13</sup>.

629 Restoration to the register of chiropractors who have been struck off

NOTE 19--Chiropractors Act 1994 s 8(8) amended: SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/630. Access to the register; the register as evidence.

630. Access to the register; the register as evidence.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must make the register<sup>2</sup> available for inspection by members of the public at all reasonable times<sup>3</sup>. Before the end of the period of 12 months which begins on the date on which the register is opened<sup>4</sup> and at least once in every subsequent period of 12 months which begins on the anniversary of that date<sup>5</sup>, the General Council must publish a list, known as the 'published register', giving the names and registered addresses<sup>6</sup> of those who, at the date of publication, are registered chiropractors<sup>7</sup>. The published register must also contain in respect of each registered chiropractor such other information derived from the register as may by rules<sup>8</sup> made by the General Council be determined to be appropriate for publication<sup>9</sup>. Any person who asks the General Council for a copy of the most recently published register is entitled to have one on payment of such reasonable fee as the General Council may determine<sup>10</sup>.

Any copy of, or extract from, the published register is evidence of the matters mentioned in it<sup>11</sup>. A certificate purporting to be signed by the registrar, certifying that a person: (1) is registered<sup>12</sup> in a specified category<sup>13</sup>; (2) is not registered<sup>14</sup>; (3) was registered in a specified category at a specified date or during a specified period<sup>15</sup>; (4) was not registered in a specified category, or in any category, at a specified date or during a specified period<sup>16</sup>; or (5) has never been registered<sup>17</sup>, is evidence of the matters certified<sup>18</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/ (2) REGISTRATION/(ii) Registration and the Register/631. Fraud or error in relation to registration; investigation of allegations.

631. Fraud or error in relation to registration; investigation of allegations.

The registrar<sup>1</sup> must investigate any allegation that an entry in the register<sup>2</sup> has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made and report on the result of his investigation to the General Council<sup>3</sup>. The registrar may, at any time during his investigation, suspend the registration in question if he is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public<sup>4</sup>. The General Council must by rules<sup>5</sup> make provision in relation to any case where the registrar proposes to suspend a chiropractor's registration: (1) giving the chiropractor concerned an opportunity to appear before the investigating committee<sup>6</sup> and argue his case against suspension<sup>7</sup>; (2) allowing him to be legally represented<sup>8</sup>; and (3) for the registrar to be made a party to the proceedings<sup>9</sup>. The General Council may by rules make such further provision as it considers appropriate with respect to such suspensions including in particular provision as to their duration<sup>10</sup>.

If the registrar proposes to so suspend a chiropractor's registration, he must give the chiropractor an opportunity to appear before the investigating committee and argue his case against suspension, by the giving of notice<sup>11</sup> to the chiropractor providing the following information<sup>12</sup>: (a) a summary of the matters alleged with respect to the fraud or error concerned<sup>13</sup>; (b) a statement that the registrar proposes, pending completion of his investigation and the determination of the issue by the General Council, to suspend the chiropractor's registration in order to protect members of the public and that the chiropractor may, by giving notice in writing to the registrar before the end of the period of ten days beginning with the day on which the notice was served on him, appear before the investigating committee to argue his case<sup>14</sup>; and (c) a statement of his right to be legally represented at such a hearing<sup>15</sup>. If the registrar receives a request to appear before the investigating committee from the chiropractor after the expiry of the period of ten days mentioned in head (b) above, he must report the matter to the committee, and the committee may determine to hear the chiropractor to argue his case concerning the suspension notwithstanding the expiry of that period<sup>16</sup>. If the investigating committee does so determine to hear the chiropractor, the chiropractor must be given particulars by or on behalf of the committee of the date, time and place at which the committee will hear him<sup>17</sup>; and if the suspension has been imposed by the registrar, the registrar may if he thinks fit withdraw the suspension pending the decision of the committee, and must so withdraw it pending that decision if the committee so directs<sup>18</sup>. Without prejudice to its general powers of adjournment, the investigating committee may from time to time adjourn any proceedings before it at which the chiropractor is present under these provisions<sup>19</sup>. Without prejudice to the general power of the investigating committee to take legal advice from a legal assessor<sup>20</sup>, the committee may take legal advice from such a legal assessor on any question of law arising in such proceedings<sup>21</sup>.

If, having considered any report of the registrar<sup>1</sup>, the General Council<sup>2</sup> is satisfied that the entry in question in the register<sup>3</sup> has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, it may order the registrar to remove the entry<sup>4</sup>. Where such an order is made, the registrar must without delay notify the person whose entry is to be removed of the order<sup>5</sup>, and of the right of appeal<sup>6</sup>. Where such an order is made, the person whose entry is to be removed may appeal to a county court<sup>7</sup>. Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the order was served<sup>8</sup>. On an appeal, the court may: (1) dismiss the appeal<sup>9</sup>; (2) allow the appeal and quash the order appealed against<sup>10</sup>; or (3) remit the case to the General Council to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>11</sup>. Visitors.

634. Visitors.

The education committee<sup>1</sup> may appoint persons as visitors<sup>2</sup> to visit any place at which or institution by which or under whose direction: (1) any relevant course of study<sup>3</sup> is, or is proposed to be, given<sup>4</sup>; (2) any examination is, or is proposed to be, held in connection with any such course<sup>5</sup>; (3) any test of competence is, or is proposed to be, conducted in connection with any such course or for any other purpose connected with the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>6</sup>. No person appointed as a visitor may exercise his functions as a visitor in relation to any place at which he regularly gives instruction in any subject<sup>7</sup>, or any institution with which he has a significant connection<sup>8</sup>. A person is not prevented from being appointed as a visitor merely because he is a member of the General Council<sup>9</sup> or any of its committees<sup>10</sup>.

Where a visitor visits any place or institution in the exercise of his functions as a visitor, he must report to the education committee on the nature and quality of the instruction given or to be given, and the facilities provided or to be provided, at that place or by that institution<sup>11</sup>, and on such other matters, if any, as he was required to report on by the committee<sup>12</sup>. Where a visitor reports to the education committee, the committee must on receipt of the report send a copy of it to the institution concerned<sup>13</sup>, and notify that institution of the period within which it may make observations on, or raise objections to, the report<sup>14</sup>.

The General Council may pay fees, allowances and expenses to persons appointed as visitors<sup>15</sup>, or treat any such person<sup>16</sup> as a member of its staff<sup>17</sup>. In the case of a visitor who is also a member of the General Council or any of its committees, any payment made to him in his capacity as a visitor is in addition to any to which he is entitled as such a member<sup>18</sup>.

1 As to the education committee see PARA 607 ante.

2 A person appointed under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 12 is known as a 'visitor': s 43.

3 'Relevant course of study' means any course of study which forms, or is intended to form, part of: (1) the complete course of study required in order to obtain a recognised qualification or a qualification for which recognition is being sought (ibid s 12(2)(a)); or (2) any training which a registered chiropractor may be required to undergo after registration (s 12(2)(b)). ### 635. The standard of proficiency.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must from time to time determine the standard of proficiency which, in its opinion, is required for the competent and safe practice of chiropractic<sup>2</sup>. The General Council must publish a statement of the standard of proficiency so determined by it<sup>3</sup>. If the General Council at any time varies the standard so determined, it must publish a statement of the revised standard, accompanied by a statement of the differences between that standard and the standard as it was immediately before the revision<sup>4</sup>. No variation of the standard has effect before the end of the period of one year beginning with the date on which the General Council publishes such statements in connection with that variation<sup>5</sup>.

636. Recognition of qualifications.

A qualification is a 'recognised qualification' if it is recognised by the General Council<sup>1</sup> under the provisions described below<sup>2</sup>.

Before deciding whether or not to recognise a qualification, the General Council must consult the education committee<sup>3</sup>. The General Council may by rules<sup>4</sup> make provision requiring the education committee to publish a statement indicating matters on which the committee will wish to be satisfied before advising the General Council to recognise a qualification granted, or proposed to be granted, by an institution in the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>, and matters which may cause the committee to advise the General Council not to recognise such a qualification<sup>6</sup>.

Where the General Council is satisfied that:

- 834 (1) a qualification granted by an institution in the United Kingdom is evidence of having reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>7</sup>; or
- 835 (2) a qualification which such an institution proposes to grant will be evidence of having reached that standard<sup>8</sup>,

it may, with the approval of the Privy Council<sup>9</sup>, recognise that qualification for the purposes of the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>10</sup>. Where the General Council is satisfied that a qualification granted by an institution outside the United Kingdom is evidence of having reached the required standard of proficiency, or of reaching a comparable standard, it may, with the approval of the Privy Council, recognise that qualification for those purposes<sup>11</sup>. Where, by virtue of Community law<sup>12</sup>, a person is to be authorised to practise the profession of chiropractic on the same conditions as a person who holds a recognised qualification, that person is treated for the purposes of the Chiropractors Act 1994 as having a recognised qualification<sup>13</sup>; but the General Council may, subject to Community law, require him to satisfy specified additional conditions before being registered<sup>14</sup>.

Where an application is made by any institution for the recognition of a qualification, the General Council must notify the institution of the result of its application as soon as is reasonably practicable after the General Council determines the application<sup>15</sup>. Where the General Council refuses such an application, it must, when notifying the institution concerned, give reasons for its refusal<sup>16</sup>.

The General Council must maintain and publish a list of the qualifications which are for the time being recognised under these provisions<sup>17</sup>.

The Privy Council must have regard to such information made available to it before deciding whether or not to give its approval: s 14(8).

11 Ibid s 14(3). See also note 10 supra. The General Council may by rules:

154 (1) impose additional conditions for registration (s 14(4)(a)); or

155 (2) provide for any provision made by the Chiropractors Act 1994 in relation to conditions for registration to have effect subject to prescribed modifications (s 14(4)(b)),

A qualification may be recognised by the General Council<sup>1</sup>: (1) only in respect of awards of that qualification made after a specified date<sup>2</sup>; (2) only in respect of awards made before a specified date<sup>3</sup>; or (3) only in respect of awards made after a specified date but before another specified date<sup>4</sup>. Where the General Council recognises a qualification in one or other of the limited ways allowed in heads (1) to (3) above, the limitation must be specified in the published list of qualifications issued by the General Council<sup>5</sup>.

The General Council may, in recognising a qualification, direct that the qualification is to remain a recognised qualification<sup>6</sup> only so long as such conditions as the General Council sees fit to impose are complied with in relation to the qualification<sup>7</sup>. Any such condition may at any time be removed by the General Council<sup>8</sup>. Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(3) PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION/(ii) Qualifications/638. Provision of information by institutions.

638. Provision of information by institutions.

The following provisions apply to any institution by which, or under whose direction: (1) any relevant course of study<sup>1</sup> is, or is proposed to be, given<sup>2</sup>; (2) any examination is, or is proposed to be, held in connection with any such course<sup>3</sup>; or (3) any test of competence is, or is proposed to be, conducted in connection with any such course or for any other purpose connected with the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>4</sup>.

Whenever required to do so by the education committee<sup>5</sup>, any such institution must give to the committee such information as the committee may reasonably require in connection with the exercise of its functions<sup>6</sup>. The matters with respect to which the committee may require information include: (a) the requirements which must be met by any person pursuing the course of study, undergoing the course of training or taking the examination or test in question<sup>7</sup>; (b) the financial position of the institution<sup>8</sup>; (c) the efficiency of the institution's management<sup>9</sup>. Where an institution refuses any reasonable request for information made by the committee, the committee may recommend to the General Council that recognition of the qualification in question be either refused<sup>10</sup> or withdrawn<sup>11</sup>. Where such a recommendation is made, the General Council may refuse<sup>12</sup> to recognise the qualification<sup>13</sup>, or<sup>14</sup> give a direction, with the required approval of the Privy Council, in respect of the qualification<sup>15</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(3) PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION/(ii) Qualifications/639. Withdrawal of recognition.

639. Withdrawal of recognition.

Where, as a result of any visitor's report<sup>1</sup> or other information acquired by the education committee<sup>2</sup>, the committee is of the opinion: (1) that a recognised qualification<sup>3</sup> is no longer, or will no longer be, evidence of having reached the required standard of proficiency<sup>4</sup>; (2) that a proposed qualification which has yet to be granted, but which was recognised<sup>5</sup>, will not be evidence of having reached that standard<sup>6</sup>; or (3) that a condition for the continued recognition of a qualification<sup>7</sup> has not been complied with<sup>8</sup>, it must refer the matter to the General Council<sup>9</sup>. In considering any matter so referred to it, the General Council must have regard to the information on which the education committee formed its opinion together with any other relevant information which the General Council may have<sup>10</sup>.

If the General Council is satisfied that the circumstances of the case are as mentioned in head (1), (2) or (3) above, it may, with the approval of the Privy Council<sup>11</sup>, direct that the qualification is no longer to be a recognised qualification for the purposes of the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>12</sup>. Such a direction has effect from the date of the direction or from such later date as may be specified in the direction<sup>13</sup>.

Where the recognition of any qualification is withdrawn under these provisions, the General Council must use its best endeavours to secure that any person who is studying for that qualification at any place at the time when recognition is withdrawn is given the opportunity to study at that or any other place for a qualification which is recognised<sup>14</sup>. The withdrawal under these provisions of recognition from any qualification does not affect the entitlement of any person to be registered<sup>15</sup> by reference to an award of that qualification made to him before the date on which the direction withdrawing recognition had effect<sup>16</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(3) PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION/(ii) Qualifications/641. Continuing professional development requirement for registered chiropractors.

641. Continuing professional development requirement for registered chiropractors.

Save in the case of chiropractors affected by exceptional circumstances<sup>1</sup>, every registered chiropractor<sup>2</sup>, whether practising full-time or part-time, or non-practising, or whose registration is or has been suspended<sup>3</sup> under any provision of the Chiropractors Act 1994, must complete the CPD requirement<sup>4</sup> during the course of a CPD year<sup>5</sup>.

The CPD requirement consists<sup>6</sup> of: (1) the completion of at least 30 hours of CPD<sup>7</sup>, of which at least 15 hours must involve the verifiable<sup>8</sup> participation of the registered chiropractor in learning with others<sup>9</sup>; and (2) the completion of at least one learning cycle which must entail the completion of CPD that counts towards the 30 hours total in head (1) above<sup>10</sup>. For these purposes, a learning cycle consists of the following four stages: (a) reflecting on and assessment by a registered chiropractor of his learning needs and interests within the context of his professional practice<sup>11</sup>; (b) planning how the registered chiropractor intends to meet those learning needs or interests and recording this in a personal development plan which may be revised as necessary during the CPD year<sup>12</sup>; (c) undertaking CPD in accordance with the personal development plan<sup>13</sup>; and (d) evaluating CPD undertaken and its effectiveness in meeting the learning needs or interests identified in the personal development plan<sup>14</sup>. A registered chiropractor must keep an up to date record of CPD undertaken during a CPD year, known as a 'CPD record'<sup>15</sup>; and must produce the CPD record to the General Chiropractic Council on demand<sup>16</sup>. The CPD record must include a record of each stage of the registered chiropractor's learning cycle and be in such format as the Council may from time to time specify<sup>17</sup>.

Any chiropractor who first becomes registered<sup>18</sup>, or whose name is restored to the register<sup>19</sup>, after 1 September 2004<sup>20</sup> must complete at least two and a half hours of CPD for each whole month in the period between the date on which he first becomes registered or the date of restoration to the register, as the case may be<sup>21</sup>, and the end of the CPD year in which that date falls<sup>22</sup>.

Where the registrar<sup>23</sup> is satisfied that a person has been unable to comply with the CPD requirement for any CPD year for reasons of ill health, bereavement or other exceptional circumstances, he may extend the time for the person concerned to comply with the CPD requirement, without affecting the CPD requirement for the following CPD year, or may reduce the number of hours of CPD to be completed in any CPD year<sup>24</sup>.

642. Compliance with continuing professional development requirement.

The registrar<sup>1</sup> must send<sup>2</sup> to every registered chiropractor<sup>3</sup> annually<sup>4</sup>: (1) a summary sheet to be completed by the registered chiropractor showing the CPD<sup>5</sup> he has undertaken<sup>6</sup>; (2) a notice requiring the registered chiropractor to complete the summary sheet and return it to the registrar by the date specified in the notice ('the return date'), which must be at least 28 days after the date of the sending of the notice<sup>7</sup>; and (3) a warning that unless the completed summary sheet is received by the registrar by the return date, the registered chiropractor's name may be removed from the register<sup>8</sup>. Where the completed summary sheet is not received by the registrar by the return date, he must send a notice of final warning to the registered chiropractor warning him that, if the completed summary sheet is not provided before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice was issued ('the final warning date'), his name may be removed from the register<sup>9</sup>. If the completed summary sheet is not received by the final warning date, the registrar may remove the name of the registered chiropractor from the register<sup>10</sup>.

Where the registrar is not satisfied from the information provided in the summary sheet or otherwise that the registered chiropractor has complied with the CPD requirement<sup>11</sup>, he must send a notice to the registered chiropractor which must include: (a) a statement of the reasons why he is not satisfied that the registered chiropractor has complied with the CPD requirement<sup>12</sup>; (b) an invitation to the registered chiropractor to submit his observations on the matter by the date specified in the notice, which must be at least 14 days after the date of the sending of the notice<sup>13</sup>; and (c) a request that the registered chiropractor produce within the same period his CPD record<sup>14</sup> for the relevant year<sup>15</sup>. Where the registered chiropractor fails to produce his CPD record by the date specified in such a notice<sup>16</sup>, or after considering any such observations submitted by the registered chiropractor and the contents of the CPD record, the registrar remains of the view that the registered chiropractor has not complied with the CPD requirement for the year in question<sup>17</sup>, the registrar may remove the name of the registered chiropractor from the register<sup>18</sup>.

Whenever the registrar removes the name of a chiropractor from the register under these provisions, he must notify the chiropractor in writing<sup>19</sup> of the removal and of the reasons for it<sup>20</sup>.

2 Any summary sheet, demand, warning or notice to be given by the registrar under the General Chiropractic Council (Continuing Professional Development) Rules Order 2004, SI 2004/1877, may be sent by post to the address of the chiropractor concerned which appears in the register pursuant to the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 6(1)(b) (see PARA 619 ante), and is treated as sent or issued at the time of its posting: General Chiropractic Council (Continuing Professional Development) Rules Order 2004, SI 2004/1877, r 11.

157 (2) whose registration is suspended (r 6(6)(b)), until the relevant event set out in r 6(7) occurs, at which time the registrar must send to the chiropractor the documents mentioned in r 6(1); and the provisions of r 6(2)-(6) have effect accordingly (r 6(6)). The event mentioned in r 6(6) is: (a) completion of any investigation referred to in r 6(6)(a) (see head (1) supra) and of all proceedings and appeals arising from it, or, as the case may be, upon the expiry of the time for any such appeal without such appeal being made, where the decision is not one that the chiropractor's name be removed from the register or his registration suspended (r 6(7)(a)); or (b) the ending of the suspension referred to in r 6(6)(b) (see head (2) supra) (r 6(7)(b)). The General Council<sup>1</sup> must prepare, and from time to time publish, a code of practice laying down standards of conduct and practice expected of registered chiropractors<sup>2</sup>, and giving advice in relation to the practice of chiropractic<sup>3</sup>. It is the duty of the General Council to keep the code under review and to vary its provisions whenever it considers it appropriate to do so<sup>4</sup>. Before issuing the code or varying it, the General Council must consult such representatives of practising chiropractors as it considers appropriate<sup>5</sup>. Any person who asks the General Council for a copy of the code is entitled to have one on payment of such reasonable fee as the General Council may determine<sup>6</sup>.

Where any person is alleged to have failed to comply with any provision of the code, that failure is not to be taken, of itself, to constitute unacceptable professional conduct<sup>7</sup> on his part<sup>8</sup>, but is to be taken into account in any proceedings against him under the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>9</sup>.

646. Reference of allegations to the investigating committee.

The following provisions apply where any allegation is made against a registered chiropractor<sup>1</sup> to the effect that: (1) he has been guilty of conduct which falls short of the standard required of a registered chiropractor<sup>2</sup>; (2) he has been guilty of professional incompetence<sup>3</sup>; (3) he has been convicted at any time in the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup> of a criminal offence<sup>5</sup>; or (4) his ability to practise as a chiropractor is seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition<sup>6</sup>.

Where an allegation<sup>7</sup> is made to the General Council<sup>8</sup> or to any of its committees<sup>9</sup>, other than the investigating committee<sup>10</sup>, it is the duty of the General Council or committee to refer the allegation to the investigating committee<sup>11</sup>. The General Council may make rules requiring any allegation which is made or referred to the investigating committee to be referred for preliminary consideration to a person appointed by the General Council in accordance with the rules<sup>12</sup>. Any person to whom an allegation is referred by the investigating committee in accordance with such rules must consider the allegation with a view to establishing whether, in his opinion, power is given by the Chiropractors Act 1994 to deal with it if it proves to be well founded<sup>13</sup>; and if he considers that such power is given, he must give the investigating committee a report of the result of his consideration<sup>14</sup>. Where there are such rules in force, the investigating committee must investigate any allegation with respect to which it is given a report by a person appointed under the rules<sup>15</sup>. Where there are no such rules in force, the investigating committee must investigate any allegation which is made or referred to it<sup>16</sup>.

The purpose of giving a disciplinary committee powers over a professional man who has been convicted of crime is not to punish him for a second time for the same offence but to protect the public who may come to him as patients and to maintain the high standards and good reputation of an honourable profession: Zideman v General Dental Council [1976] 2 All ER 334, [1976] 1 WLR 330, PC. The maxim that a person ought not to be punished twice for the same offence does not apply to proceedings before a disciplinary committee: R v Statutory Committee of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, ex p Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain [1981] 2 All ER 805, [1981] 1 WLR 886, DC. If the disciplinary committee is considering removal of a person's name from the register, it must satisfy itself that the criminal offence is of so grave a character as to show that the professional man is unfit to continue to practise: Zideman v General Dental Council supra. #### 647. Investigation of allegations.

Where the investigating committee<sup>1</sup> is required to investigate any allegation<sup>2</sup>, it must: (1) notify the registered chiropractor<sup>3</sup> concerned of the allegation and invite him to give it his observations before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which notice of the allegation is sent to him<sup>4</sup>; (2) take such steps as are reasonably practicable to obtain as much information as possible about the case<sup>5</sup>; and (3) consider, in the light of the information which it has been able to obtain and any observations duly made to it by the registered chiropractor concerned, whether in its opinion there is a case to answer<sup>6</sup>.

Where an allegation to be investigated by the investigating committee relates to misconduct or professional incompetence<sup>7</sup>, the committee must<sup>8</sup> invite the person making the allegation and any other person appearing to it to have information relevant to the question whether there is a case to answer, to make a statement of evidence by statutory declaration or affidavit as to the matters giving rise to the allegation<sup>9</sup>. Where an allegation to be investigated by the investigating committee appears to the committee to raise an issue relating to a chiropractor's physical or mental condition<sup>10</sup>, the committee may, if it thinks fit: (a) invite the chiropractor to attend before a medical assessor<sup>11</sup> with a view to that assessor examining him and reporting on his physical or mental condition or, if the information received by the committee includes reports on the chiropractor by medical practitioners who have recently examined him, and it appears to the committee that such reports afford sufficient medical evidence that the chiropractor's ability to practise as a chiropractor may be seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition, so inform him<sup>12</sup>; and (b) inform the chiropractor that it is open to him to nominate other medical practitioners to examine him at his own expense and report to the committee on his ability to practise<sup>13</sup>. Where the committee receives such a report from a medical assessor or other medical practitioner, the committee must send a copy of the report to the chiropractor concerned and invite him to submit observations in writing to the committee within such period as may be specified in the invitation<sup>14</sup>. Where the committee has invited observations<sup>15</sup> from the chiropractor concerned on a statement or report, it must not reach a decision on the question whether there is a case to answer until the period specified in the invitation as the period within which the chiropractor may submit his observations has expired, unless it has received those observations or the chiropractor has indicated that he does not propose to make any observations<sup>16</sup>.

Where the investigating committee concludes that there is a case to answer, it must notify both the chiropractor concerned and the person making the allegation of its conclusion<sup>17</sup>, and refer the allegation, as formulated by the investigating committee<sup>18</sup>, to the health committee<sup>19</sup> in the case of an allegation of impairment because of physical or mental condition<sup>20</sup>, or to the professional conduct committee<sup>21</sup> in the case of an allegation of any other kind<sup>22</sup>. Where the investigating committee concludes that there is no case to answer, it must notify both the chiropractor concerned and the person making the allegation<sup>23</sup>.

3 For the meaning of 'registered chiropractor' see PARA 595 note 5 ante.

4 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20(9)(a). Any such notification and invitation must be made by notice in writing given on behalf of the committee by the registrar, and a copy must be given to the chairman: General Chiropractic Council (Investigating Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/2916, r 3(1). As to the service of such notices see PARA 631 note 11 ante. For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante. 'The chairman' means the chairman of the General Council or an acting chairman appointed under the General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 7 (see PARA 596 ante): see the General Chiropractic Council (Investigating Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/2916, r 2. As to the chairman of the General Council see PARA 596 ante.

Where an allegation of a kind mentioned in the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20(1)(c) (allegation that a registered chiropractor has been convicted of a criminal offence: see PARA 646 ante) falls within a class determined by the General Council as one unlikely to have material relevance to a person's fitness to practise chiropractic, the notice given must so state (but must nonetheless invite observations as to whether it has such relevance in that case): General Chiropractic Council (Investigating Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/2916, r 3(2).

5 Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20(9)(b). Nothing in the General Chiropractic Council (Investigating Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/2916, r 4 (see the text to notes 7-14 infra) prejudices the power of the committee to make such further investigations as it considers are reasonably practicable for the purposes of fulfilling its functions under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20(9)(b): General Chiropractic Council (Investigating Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/2916, r 5(2). #### 648. Interim suspension powers of the investigating committee.

Where the investigating committee<sup>1</sup> is investigating an allegation<sup>2</sup> against a registered chiropractor<sup>3</sup>, if the committee is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public, it may order the registrar<sup>4</sup> to suspend the chiropractor's registration<sup>5</sup>. Before making an order, the committee must give the chiropractor concerned an opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case against the making of the proposed order<sup>6</sup>. The opportunity to be given to a chiropractor to appear before the committee must be offered by the giving of written notice<sup>7</sup> by or on behalf of the committee to the chiropractor<sup>8</sup>. Without prejudice to its general powers of adjournment, the committee may from time to time adjourn any proceedings before it at which the chiropractor is present under these provisions<sup>9</sup>.

An order must specify the period of the suspension, which must not exceed two months<sup>10</sup> beginning with the date on which the order is made<sup>11</sup>. The committee must not make an order in any case after it has referred the allegation in question to the professional conduct committee<sup>12</sup> or the health committee<sup>13</sup>, or make more than one order in respect of the same allegation<sup>14</sup>.

CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/A. CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATIONS/649. Consideration of allegations by the professional conduct committee.

(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee

A. CONSIDERATION OF ALLEGATIONS

649. Consideration of allegations by the professional conduct committee.

Where an allegation has been referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup>, it is the duty of the committee to consider the allegation<sup>2</sup>. If, having considered it, the committee is satisfied that the allegation is well founded, it must proceed as follows<sup>3</sup>.

If the allegation relates to the conviction of a chiropractor of a criminal offence<sup>4</sup>, the committee may take no further action if it considers that the criminal offence in question has no material relevance to the fitness of the chiropractor concerned to practise chiropractic<sup>5</sup>. Otherwise, the committee must take one of the following steps: (1) admonish the chiropractor<sup>6</sup>; (2) make an order imposing conditions with which he must comply while practising as a chiropractor (a 'conditions of practice order')<sup>7</sup>; (3) order the registrar<sup>8</sup> to suspend the chiropractor's registration for such period as may be specified in the order (a 'suspension order')<sup>9</sup>; or (4) order the registrar to remove the chiropractor's name from the register<sup>10</sup>.

A conditions of practice order must specify one or both<sup>11</sup> of the period for which the order is to have effect<sup>12</sup>, and a test of competence which must be taken by the chiropractor<sup>13</sup>. A conditions of practice order ceases to have effect: (a) if a period is specified in the order, when that period ends<sup>14</sup>; (b) if no such period is specified but a test of competence is so specified, when the chiropractor concerned passes the test<sup>15</sup>; or (c) if both a period and a test are so specified, when the period ends or when the chiropractor concerned passes the test, whichever is the later to occur<sup>16</sup>. At any time while a conditions of practice order is in force<sup>17</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion: (i) extend, or further extend, the period for which the order has effect<sup>18</sup>; (ii) revoke or vary any of the conditions<sup>19</sup>; (iii) require the chiropractor concerned to pass a test of competence specified by the committee<sup>20</sup>; (iv) reduce the period for which the order has effect<sup>21</sup>; or (v) revoke the order<sup>22</sup>. At any time while a suspension order is in force<sup>23</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion: (A) extend, or further extend, the period of suspension<sup>24</sup>; and (B) make a conditions of practice order with which the chiropractor must comply if he resumes the practice of chiropractic after the end of his period of suspension<sup>25</sup>. The period specified in a conditions of practice order or in a suspension order, and any extension of a specified period<sup>26</sup>, must not in each case exceed three years<sup>27</sup>. In exercising its powers with regard to conditions of practice orders and suspension orders<sup>28</sup>, the committee must ensure that the conditions imposed on the chiropractor concerned are, or the period of suspension imposed on him is, the minimum which it considers necessary for the protection of members of the public<sup>29</sup>.

650. Annual report.

The professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> must, before the end of the period of 12 months beginning with 7 June 2000<sup>2</sup>, and at least once in every succeeding period of 12 months, publish a report setting out<sup>3</sup>: (1) the names of those chiropractors in respect of whom it has investigated allegations<sup>4</sup> and found the allegations to be well founded<sup>5</sup>; (2) the nature of those allegations<sup>6</sup>; and (3) the steps, if any, taken by the committee in respect of the chiropractors so named<sup>7</sup>. Where the committee has investigated any allegation against a chiropractor and has not been satisfied that the allegation was well founded, it must include in its report for the year in question a statement of that fact if the chiropractor so requests<sup>8</sup>.

651. Consideration of allegations by the health committee.

Where an allegation has been referred to the health committee<sup>1</sup>, it is the duty of the committee to consider the allegation<sup>2</sup>. If, having considered it, the committee is satisfied that the allegation is well founded, it must: (1) make an order imposing conditions with which the chiropractor concerned must comply while practising as a chiropractor, known as a 'conditions of practice order'<sup>3</sup>; or (2) order the registrar<sup>4</sup> to suspend the chiropractor's registration for such period as may be specified in the order, known as a 'suspension order'<sup>5</sup>.

Any condition in a conditions of practice order must be imposed so as to have effect for a period specified in the order<sup>6</sup>. At any time while a conditions of practice order is in force<sup>7</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion, extend, or further extend, the period for which the order has effect<sup>8</sup>, or make a suspension order with respect to the chiropractor concerned<sup>9</sup>. At any time while a suspension order is in force with respect to a chiropractor<sup>10</sup>, the committee may, whether or not of its own motion: (a) extend, or further extend, the period of suspension<sup>11</sup>; (b) replace the order with a conditions of practice order having effect for the remainder of the period of suspension<sup>12</sup>; or (c) make a conditions of practice order with which the chiropractor must comply if he resumes the practice of chiropractic after the end of his period of suspension<sup>13</sup>. The period specified in a conditions of practice order or in a suspension order, and any extension of a specified period<sup>14</sup>, must not in each case exceed three years<sup>15</sup>.

On the application of the chiropractor with respect to whom a conditions of practice order or a suspension order is in force<sup>16</sup>, the committee may: (i) revoke the order<sup>17</sup>; (ii) vary the order by reducing the period for which it has effect<sup>18</sup>; or (iii) in the case of a conditions of practice order, vary the order by removing or altering any of the conditions<sup>19</sup>. Where a chiropractor has made such an application which has been refused ('the previous application')<sup>20</sup>, the committee must not entertain a further such application unless it is made after the end of the period of 12 months<sup>21</sup> beginning with the date on which the previous application was received by the committee<sup>22</sup>.

In exercising any of its powers described above, the committee must ensure that any conditions imposed on the chiropractor concerned are, or any period of suspension imposed on him is, the minimum which it considers necessary for the protection of members of the public<sup>23</sup>.

Before exercising its powers<sup>24</sup>, the committee must give the chiropractor concerned an opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case<sup>25</sup>. At any such hearing, the chiropractor is entitled to be legally represented<sup>26</sup>.

652. Interim suspension orders.

The provisions described below apply where: (1) an allegation against a registered chiropractor<sup>1</sup> has been referred<sup>2</sup> to the professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup> or the health committee<sup>4</sup> and the committee has not reached a decision on the matter<sup>5</sup>; or (2) the professional conduct committee or the health committee reaches a relevant decision<sup>6</sup> on any such allegation<sup>7</sup>.

The committee concerned may, if it is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public, order the registrar<sup>8</sup> to suspend the registration of the chiropractor concerned<sup>9</sup> (an 'interim suspension order')<sup>10</sup>. An interim suspension order ceases to have effect: (a) in a case where the committee has not reached a decision<sup>11</sup>, when the committee reaches a decision in respect of the allegation in question<sup>12</sup>; and (b) in a case where the committee has reached a decision<sup>13</sup>, if there is no appeal against the decision, when the period for appealing expires<sup>14</sup>, or, if there is an appeal against the decision, when the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of<sup>15</sup>. Before making an interim suspension order, the committee must give the chiropractor in question an opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case against the making of the proposed order<sup>16</sup>. At any such hearing, the chiropractor is entitled to be legally represented<sup>17</sup>.

Where an interim suspension order has been made, the chiropractor concerned may appeal against it to the appropriate court<sup>18</sup>. On an appeal, the court may terminate the suspension<sup>19</sup>, and the decision of the court is final<sup>20</sup>.

653. Revocation of interim suspension orders.

On an application made by the chiropractor concerned<sup>1</sup>, an interim suspension order<sup>2</sup> may be revoked by the committee which made it on the ground that a change in the circumstances of the case has made the order unnecessary<sup>3</sup>. No such application may be entertained by the committee concerned if it is made before the end of the period of six months beginning with the date on which the order was imposed<sup>4</sup> or, where an unsuccessful appeal against the order has been made<sup>5</sup>, the date on which the appeal was dismissed<sup>6</sup>. However, where a previous application has been made in relation to an interim suspension order, no further such application may be entertained by the committee concerned if it is made before the end of the period of six months beginning with the date on which the previous application was finally disposed of<sup>7</sup>.

Where a chiropractor has made an application for the revocation of an interim suspension order which has been refused, he may appeal to the appropriate court<sup>8</sup> against the refusal<sup>9</sup>. Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the refusal is sent to the chiropractor<sup>10</sup>. On an appeal, the court may terminate the suspension<sup>11</sup>, and the decision of the court is final<sup>12</sup>.

654. Investigation of allegations: procedural rules.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> as to the procedure to be followed by the professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup> or the health committee<sup>4</sup> in considering any allegation<sup>5</sup>. The rules must, in particular, include provision:

- 836 (1) empowering each committee to refer to the other any allegation which it considers would be better dealt with by that other committee<sup>6</sup>;
- 837 (2) requiring the chiropractor to whom the allegation relates to be given notice of the allegation<sup>7</sup>;
- 838 (3) giving the chiropractor an opportunity to put his case at a hearing if:
152
  - 214. (a) before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the allegation is sent to him, he asks for a hearing<sup>8</sup>; or
  - 215. (b) the committee considers that a hearing is desirable<sup>9</sup>;
- 153
  - 839 (4) entitling the chiropractor to be legally represented at any hearing in respect of the allegation<sup>10</sup>;
  - 840 (5) securing that:
    - 216. (a) any hearing before the professional conduct committee is held in public unless the committee decides that it is in the interests of the person making the allegation, or of any person giving evidence or of any patient, to hold the hearing or any part of it in private<sup>11</sup>; and
    - 217. (b) any hearing before the health committee is held in private unless the committee considers that it is appropriate to hold the hearing or any part of it in public<sup>12</sup>;
  - 841 (6) requiring the chiropractor to be notified by the committee of its decision, its reasons for reaching that decision and of his right of appeal<sup>13</sup>;
  - 842 (7) requiring the person by whom the allegation was made to be notified by the committee of its decision and of its reasons for reaching that decision<sup>14</sup>;
  - 843 (8) empowering the committee to require persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents<sup>15</sup>;
  - 844 (9) about the admissibility of evidence<sup>16</sup>;
  - 845 (10) enabling the committee to administer oaths<sup>17</sup>.

No person may be required by any such rules to give any evidence or produce any document or other material at a hearing held by either committee which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>18</sup> in which the hearing takes place<sup>19</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE/655. Notice and decision as to manner of proceeding on allegations.

B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE

655. Notice and decision as to manner of proceeding on allegations.

Where an allegation<sup>1</sup> has been referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup>, it must meet as soon as practicable to consider whether in its view a hearing is desirable to deal with the allegation<sup>3</sup>. For this purpose, the professional conduct committee must consider the nature of the allegation and any observations or admissions given by the respondent<sup>4</sup> to the investigating committee<sup>5</sup>, and, in the case of a reference from the health committee<sup>6</sup>, any evidence given or submissions made to that committee<sup>7</sup>. As soon as practicable after that meeting, the registrar<sup>8</sup> must give notice<sup>9</sup> to the respondent, specifying the allegation formulated by the investigating committee which has been referred to the professional conduct committee<sup>10</sup> and: (1) if the professional conduct committee has determined to hold a hearing, notifying the date, time and place of the meeting of the professional conduct committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing<sup>11</sup>; or (2) if the professional conduct committee has not so determined, requiring the respondent, if he wishes to have the allegation considered at a hearing, to notify the registrar in writing to that effect<sup>12</sup>. If the professional conduct committee has not determined that a hearing is desirable and the respondent has not requested a hearing<sup>13</sup>, but the professional conduct committee reaches the view during its investigations and deliberations that the allegation should nonetheless be the subject of a hearing, it may then require one, and the registrar must in that event give notice to the respondent notifying him of the date, time and place of the meeting of the professional conduct committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing<sup>14</sup>. When the registrar gives notice to the respondent<sup>15</sup>, he must also notify the person making the allegation concerned of the date, time and place of the meeting of the professional conduct committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing<sup>16</sup>.

The chairman of the professional conduct committee or, in the event of his being unavailable or there being no such chairman in office, the registrar, may, of his own motion or on the application of a party to the proceedings, postpone a hearing of which notice has been given<sup>17</sup> before the hearing begins<sup>18</sup>. If the hearing is so postponed, the registrar must, as soon as practicable, give notice to the parties<sup>19</sup> concerned of the postponement and of the further date, time and place of the meeting of the professional conduct committee at which the allegation will be considered by way of a hearing; and the registrar must also notify the person making the allegation of that date, time and place<sup>20</sup>.

1 'Allegation' means an allegation falling within the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20(1) (see PARA 646 ante); General Chiropractic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3290, r 2.

2 ie under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20(12)(b)(ii) (see PARA 647 ante) or by the health committee (see note 6 infra) by virtue of rules under s 26(2)(a) (see PARAS 654 ante, 666 et seq post). 7 General Chiropractic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3290, r 3(1).

8 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante.

9 Any notice, document or other matter to be given to or served on a chiropractor by the registrar under the General Chiropractic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3290, may be served by sending it by a postal service in which delivery or receipt is recorded to, or by leaving it at, the address of the chiropractor as appearing in the register pursuant to the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 6(1)(b) (see PARA 619 ante); or, if his last known place of residence differs from his address in the register and it appears to the registrar that, if the notice, document or other matter is sent to or left at that place of residence, it is more likely to reach him, it may be served by sending it by such a postal service to or by leaving it at his last known place of residence: General Chiropractic Council (Professional Conduct Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3290, r 21(1). Any other notice, document or other matter to be given to or served on a person under the rules may be sent by ordinary post: r 21(2). The address for service of the registrar for the purposes of r 21(2) is the principal office of the General Council, for a chiropractor is any such address or place as is mentioned in r 21(1) (treating the second reference in that provision to the registrar as a reference to the person sending the matter in question), and for the solicitor is the address at which he ordinarily practises; or such other address as any of them may specify for the purpose: r 21(3). As to proof of the posting or leaving of a notice see PARA 659 text to notes 13-14 post. For the meaning of 'the solicitor' see PARA 657 note 9 post.

11 Ibid r 3(2)(a). A notice given pursuant to r 3(2)(a), r 3(3) (see note 12 infra), r 3(4) (see the text to note 14 infra) must be served before the beginning of the period of 21 days ending with the date of the meeting of the professional conduct committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing: r 3(5).

12 Ibid r 3(2)(b). The notification must be given before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which that notice was sent to the chiropractor: see r 3(2)(b). Where a notice given to the respondent under r 3(2)(b) is served by being left at such an address or place as is mentioned in r 21(1) (see note 9 supra) instead of being sent there by post, the reference in r 3(2)(b) to the day on which that notice was sent to him is to be construed as a reference to the day on which it was so left: r 3(7). If the respondent notifies the registrar under r 3(2)(b) within the 28 day period of his wish to have the allegation considered at a hearing, the registrar must give a further notice to the respondent notifying him of the date, time and place of the meeting of the professional conduct committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing: r 3(3). See also notes 9, 11 supra.

13 As to the procedure on allegations where there is no hearing see PARA 656 post.

Procedure on allegations where there is no hearing.

656. Procedure on allegations where there is no hearing.

The provisions described below apply where the respondent<sup>1</sup> to an allegation<sup>2</sup> does not require a hearing<sup>3</sup> and the professional conduct committee<sup>4</sup> does not determine<sup>5</sup> that the allegation should be the subject of a hearing<sup>6</sup>.

In considering the allegation and determining any steps to be taken in relation to it<sup>7</sup>, the committee may make such inquiry in such manner as it thinks fair and proper<sup>8</sup>. However, the committee must not, in considering the allegation and determining such steps to be taken, take into account any evidence or other matters relating to issues of fact unless the respondent and the person making the allegation have been given an opportunity to consider and comment on the evidence or other matter<sup>9</sup>.

CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE/657. Procedure on allegations where there is a hearing.

657. Procedure on allegations where there is a hearing.

At the opening of the hearing, the allegation is read out by the solicitor<sup>13</sup>. When the allegation has been so read out, the respondent may: (1) admit any of the facts alleged, in which case the facts admitted are taken as proved<sup>14</sup>; (2) submit an objection on grounds of law to any allegation or part of an allegation<sup>15</sup>. If it appears to the committee that the particulars of an allegation as formulated by the investigating committee should be amended, whether in consequence of an objection under head (2) above or at any other time, and that the amendment can be made without injustice, it may, after hearing the parties and consulting the legal assessor, amend the particulars to such extent as appears to the committee to be necessary or desirable<sup>16</sup>.

The order of proceedings in relation to any allegation with respect to which any of the material facts are not admitted by the respondent is, unless the committee directs otherwise, as follows<sup>17</sup>: (a) the solicitor opens the case and calls evidence in support of the allegation<sup>18</sup>; (b) the respondent presents his case, and may call evidence<sup>19</sup>; (c) the solicitor has a right of reply by way of closing submissions, and, with the leave of the committee, may before making such submissions call further evidence dealing only with the rebuttal of any matters raised by the respondent<sup>20</sup>; (d) the respondent may make closing submissions to the committee<sup>21</sup>. If, after the conclusion of such proceedings, the committee determines that the allegation is well founded, it may if it thinks fit hear further evidence or submissions from the parties for the purpose of determining the steps to be taken in relation to the allegation<sup>22</sup>. Any witness called to give oral evidence may be cross-examined and re-examined, and may be questioned by the committee and, with the leave of the committee, by the legal assessor<sup>23</sup>.

Where all of the material facts of an allegation are admitted and the committee is satisfied that the allegation is well founded, the committee must hear any explanation of the solicitor of the circumstances surrounding the allegation so far as relevant, and hear any submissions in mitigation which the respondent wishes to make; and the committee may if it thinks fit hear submissions or evidence for the purpose of determining the steps to be taken in relation to the allegation<sup>24</sup>.

The committee may consider and determine at the same hearing more than one allegation against the respondent<sup>25</sup>. Unless the committee is of the view that there is a risk of conflict of interest between respondents, the committee may consider and determine at the same hearing allegations against different respondents where the subject matter of each of the allegations is the same or substantially related one to another<sup>26</sup>.

Hearing to be in public; adjournment of hearing.

658. Hearing to be in public; adjournment of hearing.

Subject as provided<sup>1</sup>, the hearing<sup>2</sup> must take place in the presence of the parties<sup>3</sup> or their representatives and in public<sup>4</sup>. However, the professional conduct committee<sup>5</sup> may, if satisfied that it would be in the interests of the person making the allegation<sup>6</sup>, or of any person giving evidence or of any patient, determine that the public should be excluded from being present in any part of the proceedings<sup>7</sup>. The committee may deliberate in the absence of the parties and their representatives and of the public at any time<sup>8</sup>.

The committee may adjourn the hearing from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>9</sup>. The committee may in particular adjourn any hearing after it has determined that an allegation is well founded for the purposes of allowing time to deliberate on the terms of any conditions of practice order<sup>10</sup> that it is minded to make<sup>11</sup>. Unless adjourned proceedings are to resume, so far as they are to be in the presence of the parties, at a time, date or place not determined at the time of adjournment, upon adjourning the committee must announce the time, date and place of the resumption of proceedings which are to be in the presence of the parties<sup>12</sup>. If, on a hearing resuming after adjournment, a party who was present in the earlier proceedings is absent, the committee may proceed in that party's absence if it is satisfied that the time, date and place of the resumption were announced at the time of the adjournment or notice of those details<sup>13</sup> was duly given to the party<sup>14</sup>.

If an adjournment of proceedings which are to be in the presence of the parties is to a time, date or place not determined at the time of adjournment, the registrar must secure that reasonable notice is given to the parties of the time, date and place of the resumption; and must also notify the person making the allegation of that time, date and place: r 10(4). Any notification of the person making the allegation under r 10(4) may be sent pursuant to r 21(2) (see PARA 655 note 9 ante) to such address of that person as the registrar considers appropriate; but any failure or delay in the delivery of a notification so posted does not invalidate, or in any way prejudice the standing of, any proceedings under rr 5-13: r 13.

659. Evidence.

In relation to a hearing<sup>1</sup>, the production of a certificate purporting to be under the hand of a competent officer of a court in the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> that a person has been convicted of a criminal offence<sup>3</sup> is conclusive evidence of the offence committed, and the only evidence which may be called by the respondent<sup>4</sup> in connection with an allegation<sup>5</sup> of a conviction so certified or extracted is evidence for the purpose of proving that he is not the person referred to in the certificate<sup>6</sup>. The professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup> may receive oral, documentary or other evidence of any fact which appears to be relevant to the allegation before it, except that, where any matter tendered in evidence is such as would not be admissible in a court of criminal jurisdiction in the country in the United Kingdom in which the allegation is heard<sup>8</sup>, it must not be received unless the committee is satisfied, after consulting the legal assessor<sup>9</sup>, that it is desirable in the interests of making due inquiry that it should be so received, having regard to the justice of the case and the difficulty or expense of obtaining evidence which would be so admissible<sup>10</sup>. A party<sup>11</sup> may admit a fact, and a fact so admitted may be received in evidence without further proof<sup>12</sup>. The posting or leaving of a notice<sup>13</sup> may be proved by a certificate in writing purporting to be signed by the person posting or leaving it<sup>14</sup>.

The committee may of its own motion or on the application of a party require a witness to appear before it and give evidence, and may require a person to attend to produce documents<sup>15</sup>; and it must call the person making the allegation to appear before it if that person is not called as a witness by the solicitor<sup>16</sup>, unless in the view of the committee there are special reasons why that person should not, or is not able, so to appear<sup>17</sup>. Without the leave of the committee, a person who is not a party to the proceedings or the person making the allegation concerned may not give evidence on any matter unless he has been absent from the proceedings until called to give evidence<sup>18</sup>. The committee may administer oaths<sup>19</sup>.

CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/B. PROCEDURE OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE/661. Review of conditions of practice and suspension orders.

661. Review of conditions of practice and suspension orders.

Where the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> proposes to exercise its powers to review a conditions of practice order or a suspension order<sup>2</sup>, for the purpose of determining whether to exercise those powers and, if so, the steps to be taken under those powers, the committee may make such inquiry, receive such statements and evidence, and procure the production of such expert or other reports, as it thinks desirable<sup>3</sup>. Before determining the steps to be taken under those powers in consequence of such inquiry, the committee must by notice<sup>4</sup> given by the registrar<sup>5</sup> to the relevant chiropractor<sup>6</sup>: (1) indicate under which powers<sup>7</sup> it is proposing to act<sup>8</sup>; (2) request the chiropractor to notify the registrar in writing<sup>9</sup> before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which that notice was served on him, whether he wishes to appear before the committee<sup>10</sup>; and (3) request the relevant chiropractor, if he does not wish so to appear, to make within that period any representations in writing to the committee concerning the matter<sup>11</sup>. The registrar must send with such notice, copies of any reports, statements or other documents which the committee has considered and which in the view of the committee are material to the issue<sup>12</sup>. The committee may by notice given by the registrar request the relevant chiropractor to attend before the committee even if that chiropractor has not requested so to appear<sup>13</sup>.

662. Proceedings on review.

At any appearance before the professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> on the review of a conditions of practice order or a suspension order<sup>2</sup>, the relevant chiropractor<sup>3</sup> may be legally represented<sup>4</sup>. At any such appearance, the relevant chiropractor may give evidence and call witnesses, and he and such witnesses may be questioned by the committee<sup>5</sup>. The committee may take the advice of a legal assessor<sup>6</sup> and it must secure, unless otherwise agreed by the relevant chiropractor or his representative, that such an assessor is present at any appearance of the relevant chiropractor before the committee; and any legal assessor may with the leave of the committee question any witness attending before it<sup>7</sup>.

In determining the steps to be taken<sup>8</sup> on a review of a conditions of practice order or a suspension order, the committee must not take into account any evidence or other matters relating to issues of fact unless the relevant chiropractor has been given an opportunity to consider and comment on the evidence or other matter, by the registrar<sup>9</sup> providing him with the specified documents<sup>10</sup> and with any other material documents which have subsequently been procured by the committee for the purposes of such a review<sup>11</sup>. If the relevant chiropractor has not indicated within the specified period<sup>12</sup> that he wishes to appear before the committee and he does not appear at the request of the committee<sup>13</sup>, the committee must give him an opportunity to make representations to it in writing<sup>14</sup>. Where the relevant chiropractor is to appear before the committee, he may<sup>15</sup> request the committee in writing that the author of any report or statement of which he has been sent a copy<sup>16</sup> should appear before the committee to adduce the report or statement by way of oral evidence and to be questioned by the relevant chiropractor; and, if he makes such a request, the report or statement must not be taken into account by the committee without such appearance by the author unless the committee is satisfied that it is desirable in the interests of making due inquiry that it should be taken into account, having regard to the justice of the case and the difficulty or expense of obtaining such appearance<sup>17</sup>. Even if no such request is made by the relevant chiropractor, the committee may arrange for the attendance of the author of any such report or statement in order that the author may be questioned by the committee<sup>18</sup>. The committee may from time to time adjourn any proceedings before it at which the relevant chiropractor is to be present, whether to enable attendance of the author of a report or statement<sup>19</sup> or for any other reason<sup>20</sup>.

If the relevant chiropractor has indicated that he wishes to appear, the proceedings connected with his appearance must be in public unless the committee is satisfied that it is in the interests of the person making the allegation which gave rise to the conditions of practice order or suspension order concerned, or of any person giving evidence or of any patient, that the public should be excluded from being present in any part of those proceedings<sup>21</sup>.

663. Decisions.

The professional conduct committee<sup>1</sup> must vote on any matter to be determined by it in considering an allegation<sup>2</sup>, or in deciding<sup>3</sup> the steps to be taken in relation to the review of a conditions of practice order or a suspension order<sup>4</sup>, by the chairman of the committee calling upon members present to signify their votes by raising their hands, and by the chairman then announcing his own vote, followed by any casting vote<sup>5</sup>, and declaring to the committee how the matter has been decided<sup>6</sup>. Any member may challenge any decision so declared, in which event the chairman must again announce the motion, and call each member's name in turn, each member on being so called announcing his own vote being either 'yes' or 'no' to the motion put, and the chairman must vote last making first his ordinary vote and then, so far as relevant, any casting vote, and then declare the result<sup>7</sup>. No member present may abstain<sup>8</sup>.

As soon as practicable after the committee has made its decision on whether an allegation is well founded and as to any steps to be taken in respect of it<sup>9</sup>, whether or not that decision was announced at the conclusion of a hearing<sup>10</sup>, the committee must, by notice given by the registrar<sup>11</sup>, notify<sup>12</sup>: (1) the respondent<sup>13</sup> of its decision and its reasons for reaching it, and, if the allegation is found to be well founded, of the respondent's right of appeal<sup>14</sup>; and (2) the person making the allegation of its decision and its reasons for reaching it<sup>15</sup>. As soon as practicable after the committee has determined the steps that it is to take in relation to the review of a conditions of practice order or a suspension order, the committee must, by notice given by the registrar, notify the chiropractor to whom the decision relates of its decision and its reasons for reaching it, and, so far as relevant, of his right of appeal<sup>16</sup>.

664. Referral to the health committee.

If in the course of the investigation of, and its deliberations on, an allegation<sup>1</sup>, the professional conduct committee<sup>2</sup> is of the view that a substantial issue arises whether the ability of the respondent<sup>3</sup> to practise as a chiropractor is seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition, it may refer the matter to the health committee<sup>4</sup>; and the health committee must deal with the matter as if the allegation were to that effect<sup>5</sup>. The power to refer the matter to the health committee may be exercised notwithstanding that a hearing<sup>6</sup> has begun, provided that the professional conduct committee has not voted on its decision whether the allegation is well founded<sup>7</sup>.

The professional conduct committee must take no further action on the allegation if, following a reference under these provisions, the health committee finds that the ability of the respondent to practise as a chiropractor is seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition<sup>8</sup>. In such an event, the matter is to be finally disposed of by the health committee<sup>9</sup>. The professional conduct committee must continue<sup>10</sup> with its consideration of the allegation and dispose of it accordingly if, following such a reference, the health committee certifies its opinion to the professional conduct committee that the ability of the respondent to practise as a chiropractor is not seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition<sup>11</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/C. PROCEDURE OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE/665. Notice of allegation and hearing.

C. PROCEDURE OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE

665. Notice of allegation and hearing.

The health committee<sup>1</sup> must meet as soon as practicable after an allegation<sup>2</sup> has been referred to it<sup>3</sup>, to consider whether in its view a hearing is desirable to deal with the allegation, for which purpose it must consider the nature of the allegation and any observations or admissions given by the respondent<sup>4</sup> to the investigating committee<sup>5</sup> and, in the case of a reference from the professional conduct committee, any evidence given or submissions made to that committee<sup>6</sup>. As soon as practicable after that meeting, the registrar<sup>7</sup> must give notice<sup>8</sup> to the respondent, specifying the allegation formulated by the investigating committee which has been referred to the health committee<sup>9</sup> and: (1) if the health committee has determined to hold a hearing, notifying the date, time and place of the meeting of the committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing<sup>10</sup>; or (2) if the committee has not so determined, requiring the respondent, if he wishes to have the allegation considered at a hearing, to notify the registrar in writing to that effect before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which that notice was sent to him<sup>11</sup>. If the health committee has not so determined that a hearing is desirable and the respondent has not so requested a hearing, but the committee reaches the view during its investigations and deliberations that the matter should nonetheless be the subject of a hearing, it may then require one<sup>12</sup>. When the registrar gives notice to the respondent<sup>13</sup>, he must also notify the person making the allegation concerned of the date, time and place of the meeting of the health committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing<sup>14</sup>.

The chairman of the health committee or, in the event of his being unavailable or there being no such chairman in office, the registrar may, of his own motion or on the application of a party<sup>15</sup> to the proceedings, postpone a hearing of which notice has been given<sup>16</sup> before the hearing begins<sup>17</sup>. If the hearing is so postponed the registrar must, as soon as practicable, give notice to the parties concerned of the postponement and of the further date, time and place of the meeting of the committee at which the allegation will be considered by way of a hearing; and the registrar must also notify the person making the allegation of that date, time and place<sup>18</sup>.

1 As to the health committee see PARA 610 ante. As to the consideration of allegations by the health committee see PARA 651 et seq ante.

2 'Allegation' means an allegation falling within the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20(1) (see PARA 646 ante): General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 2.

3 ie under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 20 (see PARA 646 ante) or by the professional conduct committee by virtue of rules under s 26(2)(a) (see PARA 654 ante). As to the referral of matters to the health committee by the professional conduct committee see PARA 664 ante. As to the professional conduct committee see PARA 609 ante.

4 'The respondent' means the chiropractor to whom an allegation under consideration by the health committee relates: General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 2.

5 As to the investigating committee see PARA 608 ante. As to the investigation of allegations by the investigating committee see PARAS 646-648 ante.

6 General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 3(1).

7 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante.

8 Any notice, document or other matter to be given to or served on a chiropractor by the registrar under the General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, may be served by sending it by a postal service in which delivery or receipt is recorded to, or by leaving it at, the address of the chiropractor as appearing in the register pursuant to the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 6(1)(b) (see PARA 619 ante), or, if his last known place of residence differs from his address in the register and it appears to the registrar that, if the notice, document or other matter is sent to or left at that place of residence, it is more likely to reach him, it may be served by sending it by such a postal service to or by leaving it at his last known place of residence: General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 21(1). Any other notice, document or other matter to be given to or served on a person may be sent by ordinary post: r 21(2). The address for service of the registrar for the purposes of r 21(2) is the principal office of the General Council, for a chiropractor is any such address or place as is mentioned in r 21(1) (treating the second reference in that provision to the registrar as a reference to the person sending the matter in question), and for the solicitor is the address at which he ordinarily practises; or such other address as any of them may specify for the purpose: r 21(3). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 614 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'the General Council' see PARA 591 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'the solicitor' see PARA 666 note 7 post.

9 Ibid r 3(2).

10 Ibid r 3(2)(a). A notice given pursuant to r 3(2)(a), (3), (4) (see notes 11, 12 infra) must be served before the beginning of the period of 42 days ending with the date of the meeting of the committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing, and must specify the requirement of r 8(3) (see PARA 668 post) for the respondent to provide the list, statement and notice there mentioned: r 3(5).

11 Ibid r 3(2)(b). Where a notice given to the respondent under r 3(2)(b) is served by being left at such an address or place as is mentioned in r 21(1) (see note 8 supra) instead of being sent there by post, the reference in r 3(2)(b) to the day on which that notice was sent to him is to be construed as a reference to the day on which it was so left: r 3(7). If the respondent notifies the registrar under r 3(2)(b) within the period there mentioned of his wish to have the allegation considered at a hearing, the registrar must give a further notice to the respondent notifying him of the date, time and place of the meeting of the committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing: r 3(3). See also notes 8, 10 supra.

12 Ibid r 3(4). The registrar must, in that event, give notice to the respondent notifying him of the date, time and place of the meeting of the committee which will consider the allegation by way of a hearing: r 3(4). See also notes 8, 10 supra.

13 Ie pursuant to ibid r 3(2)(a), (3), (4): see the text and notes 10-12 supra.

14 Ibid r 3(6). Any notification of the person making the allegation under rr 3(6), 4(2) (see the text to note 18 infra) may be sent pursuant to r 21(2) (see note 8 supra) to such address of that person as the registrar considers appropriate; but any failure or delay in the delivery of a notification so posted does not invalidate, or in any way prejudice the standing of, any proceedings under Pt III (rr 5-13): r 13.

15 'Party' means the respondent or the solicitor; and references to 'the parties' are to be construed accordingly: ibid r 2.

16 Ie notice pursuant to ibid r 3(2)(a), (3), (4): see the text and notes 10-12 supra.

666. Preliminary matters prior to hearing an allegation.

Where the respondent<sup>1</sup> requires a hearing<sup>2</sup> or the health committee<sup>3</sup> determines<sup>4</sup> that an allegation<sup>5</sup> should be the subject of a hearing<sup>6</sup>, the solicitor<sup>7</sup> must so far as practicable cause to be prepared such further reports<sup>8</sup>, if any, from appropriately qualified medical practitioners, as in his opinion are necessary for the purpose of presenting proper and sufficient evidence as to the physical or mental condition of the respondent to enable determination by the committee of the allegation<sup>9</sup>. For the purpose of so doing, the solicitor may request the respondent to attend for examination by any such practitioner, and may if he thinks it appropriate request the respondent to agree to a report being prepared for the solicitor by the respondent's own medical practitioner<sup>10</sup>. As soon as practicable after receiving any report prepared under these provisions, the solicitor must provide the respondent with a copy<sup>11</sup>.

Before the opening of the hearing, the registrar<sup>12</sup> must nominate one or more medical assessors<sup>13</sup> and a legal assessor<sup>14</sup> to provide advice to the committee in considering the allegation, and the registrar must secure that any such assessors are provided before the hearing with a copy of the allegation as formulated by the investigating committee<sup>15</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'respondent' see PARA 665 note 4 ante.

2 Ie in accordance with the General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 3(2)(b): see PARA 665 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/C. PROCEDURE OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE/667. Procedure at hearing.

667. Procedure at hearing.

At the opening of the hearing<sup>1</sup>, the allegation<sup>2</sup> must be read out by the solicitor<sup>3</sup>. The order of proceedings is as follows: (1) the solicitor opens the case for the allegation, and calls or produces evidence<sup>4</sup> in support of the allegation<sup>5</sup>; (2) the respondent<sup>6</sup> presents his case and may call or produce evidence<sup>7</sup>; and (3) the health committee<sup>8</sup> hears such further submissions from the parties<sup>9</sup> and receives such further evidence as it considers relevant, having regard to the justice of the case and the public interest<sup>10</sup>. Any witness called to give oral evidence may be cross-examined and re-examined, and may be questioned by the committee and, with the leave of the committee, by the legal assessor<sup>11</sup> and the medical assessors<sup>12</sup>. If it appears to the committee that the particulars of an allegation as formulated by the investigating committee<sup>13</sup> should be amended and that the amendment can be made without injustice, it may, after hearing the parties and consulting the legal assessor, amend the particulars to such extent as appears to the health committee to be necessary or desirable<sup>14</sup>.

The hearing takes place in private save for the parties or their representatives, the legal assessor, the medical assessors, the person making the allegation, any witnesses, any staff of the General Council<sup>15</sup> and any note-taker; but the health committee may if it thinks fit at any time exclude the person making the allegation if it considers that the evidence in question relates to matters properly to be treated as confidential between the respondent and a medical practitioner<sup>16</sup>. However, the committee may, if satisfied that it would be appropriate that the hearing or any part of it should be held in public, hold the hearing or that part of it in public<sup>17</sup>.

The committee may adjourn the hearing from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>18</sup>. The committee may in particular adjourn any hearing after it has determined that an allegation is well founded for the purposes of allowing time to deliberate on the terms of any conditions of practice order that it is minded to make<sup>19</sup>. Unless adjourned proceedings are to resume, so far as they are to be in the presence of the parties, at a time, date or place not determined at the time of adjournment, upon adjourning the committee must announce the time, date and place of the resumption of proceedings which are to be in the presence of the parties<sup>20</sup>. If, on a hearing resuming after adjournment, a party who was present in the earlier proceedings is absent, the committee may proceed in that party's absence if it is satisfied that the time, date and place of the resumption were so announced or notice was duly given to the party<sup>21</sup>.

At any hearing, the respondent is entitled to be legally represented<sup>22</sup>.

The committee may consider and determine at the same hearing more than one allegation against the respondent<sup>23</sup>.

1     In a hearing in a case where the respondent (see note 6 infra) requires a hearing in accordance with the General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 3(2)(b) (see PARA 665 ante) or the health committee (see note 8 infra) determines under r 3 (see PARA 665 ante) that an allegation (see note 2 infra) should be the subject of a hearing: r 5.

2     For the meaning of 'allegation' see PARA 665 note 1 ante.

3     General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 7(2). If the respondent does not appear, the health committee must call upon the solicitor to produce evidence that notice has been given to the respondent in accordance with rr 3(2)(a), (3), (4), 4(2) (see PARA 665 ante), as the case may be; and if the committee is satisfied that notice was so given, it may determine that proceedings on the allegation be heard and determined in the absence of the respondent: r 7(1). For the meaning of 'the solicitor' see PARA 666 note 7 ante.

4 As to evidence see PARA 668 post.

5 General Chiropractic Council (Health Committee) Rules Order of Council 2000, SI 2000/3291, r 7(3)(a). The solicitor may, with the approval of the registrar, instruct counsel to present the case for the allegation: r 11(2). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante.

668. Documents and evidence.

The health committee<sup>1</sup> may<sup>2</sup> at a hearing<sup>3</sup> consider the allegation<sup>4</sup> on the basis of any of the following reports, written<sup>5</sup> statements and documents submitted in evidence to it without the authors being called to give oral evidence, that is to say<sup>6</sup>: (1) reports, written statements and other documents prepared or procured for the purposes of obtaining information about the case and the health of the respondent<sup>7</sup>; (2) reports, written statements and other documents prepared on behalf of the respondent<sup>8</sup>; (3) such other reports, written statements and documents as the committee determines, after hearing the views of the parties<sup>9</sup>, and having regard to all the circumstances and the justice of the case, can properly be admitted without such oral evidence<sup>10</sup>.

The solicitor<sup>11</sup> must secure that, not less than 28 days before the opening of any hearing, the respondent is provided with a list of every report, written statement or other document under head (1) above which is to be produced in evidence; a statement as to which, if any, of those he intends to have adduced by way of oral evidence by its author; and a notice requiring the respondent to notify him before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which that notice was sent to the respondent whether the respondent requires any other author of a report, statement or other document so listed to attend the hearing to give oral evidence as to the matters with which it deals<sup>12</sup>. The respondent must secure that, not less than 28 days before the opening of any hearing, the solicitor is provided with a list of every report, written statement or other document under head (2) above which is to be produced in evidence; a statement as to which, if any, of those he intends to have adduced by way of oral evidence by its author; and a notice requiring the solicitor to notify him before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which that notice was sent to the solicitor whether the solicitor requires any other author of a report, statement or other document so listed to attend the hearing to give oral evidence as to the matters with which it deals<sup>13</sup>. Any such list provided by a party must be accompanied by a copy of any report, statement or document listed of which the other party has not previously been sent a copy<sup>14</sup>. The solicitor and the respondent must, as soon as practicable after supplying the other with such a list, send to the registrar<sup>15</sup> three copies of the list and of the reports, statements and documents referred to in it<sup>16</sup>. Where notification is given by the respondent or by the solicitor requiring the author of a report, statement or other document to attend to give oral evidence, the report, statement or other document must not be taken into account by the committee in reaching its decision on the allegation without such oral evidence unless the committee is of the view that, having regard to all the circumstances, including the difficulty or expense of obtaining such attendance, and the justice of the case, it is proper so to do<sup>17</sup>.

The committee may require a witness to appear before it and give evidence:

- 846 (a) on the application of the respondent<sup>18</sup>;
- 847 (b) on the application of the solicitor<sup>19</sup>; or
- 848 (c) of its own motion<sup>20</sup>, and the committee may require a person to attend before it to produce documents<sup>21</sup>. The committee may administer oaths<sup>22</sup>. No person may be required to give any evidence or produce any document or other material under these provisions which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>23</sup> in which the hearing takes place<sup>24</sup>. A party may admit a fact, and a fact so admitted may be received in evidence without further proof<sup>25</sup>. The posting or leaving of a notice<sup>26</sup> may be proved by a certificate in writing purporting to be signed by the person posting or leaving it<sup>27</sup>.

CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/C. PROCEDURE OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE/669. Review of conditions of practice and suspension orders; preliminary matters.

669. Review of conditions of practice and suspension orders; preliminary matters.

For the purpose of determining whether to exercise its powers to review conditions of practice orders and suspension orders<sup>1</sup> and the steps to be taken in respect of them<sup>2</sup>, the health committee<sup>3</sup> may make such inquiry, receive such statements and evidence, and procure the production of such expert or other reports, as it thinks desirable, and in particular may request the relevant chiropractor<sup>4</sup> to attend an examination by an appropriately qualified medical practitioner<sup>5</sup>. Before determining any steps to be taken<sup>6</sup> in consequence of such inquiry, the committee must by notice<sup>7</sup> given by the registrar<sup>8</sup> to the relevant chiropractor: (1) indicate under which powers<sup>9</sup> it is proposing to act<sup>10</sup>; (2) request the chiropractor to notify the registrar in writing<sup>11</sup>, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which that notice was served on him, whether he wishes to appear before the committee<sup>12</sup>; and (3) request the relevant chiropractor, if he does not wish so to appear, to make within that period any representations in writing to the committee concerning the matter<sup>13</sup>. Before determining the steps to be taken<sup>14</sup> in consequence of an application by the relevant chiropractor, the committee must by notice given by the registrar to the relevant chiropractor: (a) request the chiropractor to notify the registrar in writing, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which that notice was served on him, whether he wishes to appear before the committee<sup>15</sup>; and (b) request the relevant chiropractor to make within that period a statement in writing in support of the application, and to provide with the statement any reports or other documents which he wishes the committee to take into account<sup>16</sup>.

If the relevant chiropractor indicates within the period mentioned in head (2) or head (a) above that he wishes so to appear, the registrar must give notice to him specifying the date, time and place of the meeting of the committee at which he is to appear<sup>17</sup>. The chairman of the committee or, in the event of his being unavailable or there being no such chairman in office, the registrar may, whether of his own motion or on the application of the relevant chiropractor, postpone any meeting of which such notice has been given, in which event the registrar must give a further notice specifying the date and time to which the meeting has been postponed, and the place of the meeting<sup>18</sup>.

CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Professional Conduct Committee and the Health Committee/C. PROCEDURE OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE/670. Review of conditions of practice and suspension orders; manner of proceeding.

670. Review of conditions of practice and suspension orders; manner of proceeding.

Where the health committee<sup>1</sup> proposes to exercise its powers to review conditions of practice orders and suspension orders<sup>2</sup>, the committee may by notice<sup>3</sup> given by the registrar<sup>4</sup> request the relevant chiropractor<sup>5</sup> to attend before it even if that chiropractor has not requested so to appear<sup>6</sup>. In determining the steps to be taken in respect of such a review, the committee must not take into account any evidence or other matters relating to issues of fact unless the relevant chiropractor has been given an opportunity to consider and comment on the evidence or other matter, by the registrar providing him with the specified documents<sup>7</sup> and with any other material documents which have been procured by the committee for the purposes of the review; and if the relevant chiropractor has not indicated within the specified period<sup>8</sup> that he wishes to appear before the committee and he does not appear at the request of the committee<sup>9</sup>, by the committee giving him an opportunity to make representations in writing to it before the expiry of that period or, if later, before the expiry of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which such documents were served on him<sup>10</sup>. Where the relevant chiropractor is to appear before the committee, he may, at the time that he notifies the registrar<sup>11</sup> that he wishes to appear or, if later, before the expiry of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which a copy of any report or statement was served on him, request the committee in writing that the author of any report or statement of which he has been sent a copy<sup>12</sup> should appear before the committee to adduce the report or statement by way of oral evidence and to be questioned by the relevant chiropractor; and, if he makes such a request, the report or statement must not be taken into account by the committee without such appearance by the author unless the committee is of the view that, having regard to all the circumstances, including the difficulty or expense of obtaining such attendance, and the justice of the case, it is proper so to do<sup>13</sup>.

If the relevant chiropractor has indicated that he wishes to appear, the proceedings connected with his appearance must be in private<sup>14</sup>, unless the committee is satisfied that it would be appropriate that the proceedings or any part of them be held in public<sup>15</sup>.

If the relevant chiropractor does not appear and the committee is satisfied that notice has been given to him of the meeting or of any adjournment<sup>16</sup>, it may proceed in his absence<sup>17</sup>.

The committee may from time to time adjourn any proceedings before it at which the relevant chiropractor is to be present, whether to enable attendance of the author of a report or statement<sup>18</sup> or for any other reason<sup>19</sup>.

The committee must take the advice of a medical assessor<sup>20</sup> to such extent as the committee thinks is necessary or desirable in discharging its functions in relation to reviews, and it may take the advice of a legal assessor<sup>21</sup>. The committee must secure, unless otherwise agreed by the relevant chiropractor or his representative, that such a medical assessor and legal assessor are present at any appearance of the relevant chiropractor before the committee, and any medical or legal assessor may, with the leave of the committee, question any witness attending before it<sup>22</sup>. At any appearance before the committee in respect of a review, the relevant chiropractor may be legally represented<sup>23</sup>. At any such appearance, the relevant chiropractor may give evidence and call witnesses, and he and such witnesses may be questioned by the committee<sup>24</sup>.

671. Procedure on allegations where there is no hearing.

Where the respondent<sup>1</sup> to an allegation<sup>2</sup> does not require a hearing<sup>3</sup> and the health committee<sup>4</sup> does not determine that the allegation should be the subject of a hearing<sup>5</sup>, the committee must not, in considering the allegation and determining the steps to be taken in respect of it<sup>6</sup>, take into account any evidence or other matters relating to issues of fact unless the respondent and the person making the allegation have been given an opportunity to consider and comment on the evidence or other matter<sup>7</sup>. ## 672. Referral to professional conduct committee.

If in the course of the investigation of, and its deliberations on, an allegation<sup>1</sup>, the health committee<sup>2</sup> is of the view that the allegation would be better dealt with by the professional conduct committee<sup>3</sup> because a substantial issue arises whether the respondent<sup>4</sup> has been guilty of unacceptable professional conduct<sup>5</sup> or of professional incompetence<sup>6</sup>, it may refer the matter to that committee, and the professional conduct committee must deal with the matter as if the allegation were to that effect<sup>7</sup>. ### 673. Decisions.

As soon as practicable after the health committee<sup>1</sup> has made its decision on whether an allegation<sup>2</sup> is well founded and as to any steps to be taken in respect of it<sup>3</sup>, whether or not that decision was announced at the conclusion of a hearing<sup>4</sup>, the committee must, by notice<sup>5</sup> given by the registrar<sup>6</sup>, notify<sup>7</sup>: (1) the respondent<sup>8</sup> of its decision and its reasons for reaching it, and, if the allegation is found to be well founded, of the respondent's right of appeal<sup>9</sup>; and (2) the person making the allegation of its decision and its reasons for reaching it<sup>10</sup>. As soon as practicable after the committee has determined<sup>11</sup> the steps that it is to take in respect of the review of a conditions of practice order or a suspension order<sup>12</sup>, the committee must, by notice given by the registrar, notify the chiropractor to whom the decision relates of its decision and its reasons for reaching it, and, so far as relevant, of his right of appeal<sup>13</sup>.

The committee must vote on any matter to be determined by it in considering an allegation, or in deciding the steps to be taken in respect of the review of a conditions of practice order or a suspension order, by the chairman of the committee calling upon members present to signify their votes by raising their hands, and by the chairman then announcing his own vote, followed by any casting vote<sup>14</sup>, and declaring to the committee how the matter has been decided<sup>15</sup>. Any member may challenge any decision so declared, in which event the chairman must again announce the motion, and call each member's name in turn, each member on being so called announcing his own vote being either 'yes' or 'no' to the motion put, and the chairman votes last, making first his ordinary vote and then, so far as relevant, any casting vote, and then declares the result<sup>16</sup>. No member present may abstain<sup>17</sup>.

674. Legal assessors.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> must appoint persons to be legal assessors<sup>2</sup>. Legal assessors have the general function of giving advice to:

- 849 (1) any person appointed to give preliminary consideration to allegations made or referred to the investigating committee<sup>3</sup>;
- 850 (2) the investigating committee<sup>4</sup>;
- 851 (3) the professional conduct committee<sup>5</sup>;
- 852 (4) the health committee<sup>6</sup>; or
- 853 (5) the registrar<sup>7</sup>,

on questions of law arising in connection with any matter which he or, as the case may be, the committee is considering<sup>8</sup>. Legal assessors also have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules<sup>9</sup> made by the General Council<sup>10</sup>.

Legal assessors have the additional functions: (a) of informing the investigating committee, the professional conduct committee and the health committee of the assessors' own motion if it appears to them from information which has come to their knowledge, whether by their presence at a meeting of the committee concerned or otherwise, that there has been an irregularity in the conduct of any proceedings before the committee<sup>11</sup>, and of advising the committee concerned about the steps which may be taken, if any, to remedy the irregularity<sup>12</sup>; (b) of giving advice to the General Council<sup>13</sup> on questions of law arising in connection with any proceedings before it<sup>14</sup>; and (c) of informing the General Council of the assessors' own motion if it appears to them from information which has come to their knowledge, whether by their presence at a meeting of the General Council or otherwise, that there has been an irregularity in the conduct of any such proceedings before the General Council, and of advising the General Council about the steps which may be taken, if any, to remedy the irregularity<sup>15</sup>.

In connection with certain proceedings<sup>16</sup>, any advice tendered by a legal assessor to the committee concerned or the General Council must be given in the presence of every party attending the proceeding or, if his representative is attending, his representative<sup>17</sup>. If the committee or the General Council has heard the evidence or submissions on the matter in question and refers an issue to a legal assessor for advice after it has begun deliberating on its decision, and the committee or the General Council considers that it would be prejudicial to the discharge of its functions for the advice to be tendered to it in the presence of the parties, it may be given in the absence of the parties or their representatives; but, in such an event, the legal assessor must as soon as practicable after completion of those deliberations inform each of the parties or their representatives who are in attendance of the question put to him and the advice he gave, and must subsequently record those matters in writing and give a copy to the parties or their representatives<sup>18</sup>.

The General Council may pay such fees, allowances and expenses to persons appointed as legal assessors as it may determine<sup>19</sup>. In the case of a legal assessor who is also a member of the General Council or of any of its committees, any such payment made to him in his capacity as a legal assessor is in addition to any to which he is entitled as such a member<sup>20</sup>.

 Medical assessors.

675. Medical assessors.

The General Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint registered medical practitioners<sup>2</sup> to be medical assessors<sup>3</sup>. Medical assessors have the general function of giving advice to:

- 854 (1) any person appointed to give preliminary consideration to allegations made or referred to the investigating committee<sup>4</sup>;
- 855 (2) the investigating committee<sup>5</sup>;
- 856 (3) the professional conduct committee<sup>6</sup>;
- 857 (4) the health committee<sup>7</sup>; or
- 858 (5) the registrar<sup>8</sup>,

on matters within their professional competence arising in connection with any matter which he or, as the case may be, the committee is considering<sup>9</sup>. Medical assessors also have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules<sup>10</sup> made by the General Council<sup>11</sup>.

Medical assessors have the additional functions of: (a) informing the investigating committee and the health committee of the assessors' own motion if it appears to them that, without their advice, a mistake may be made in judging the medical significance of information, or the absence of information, in proceedings before the committee<sup>12</sup>; (b) giving advice to the General Council<sup>13</sup> on matters within their professional competence arising in connection with any appeal proceedings before the General Council<sup>14</sup>; (c) informing the General Council of the assessors' own motion if it appears to them that, without their advice, a mistake may be made in judging the medical significance of information, or the absence of information, in any such proceedings before the General Council<sup>15</sup>; and (d) at the request of the investigating committee, examining a registered chiropractor and reporting on his physical or mental condition for the purposes of any investigation of an allegation by the committee<sup>16</sup>.

In connection with certain proceedings<sup>17</sup>, any advice may be tendered by a medical assessor to the committee concerned or the General Council either in the presence of the parties to the proceedings or their representatives, so far as they are in attendance, or in their absence when the committee or General Council is deliberating in private, as the committee or General Council requests and determines<sup>18</sup>.

The General Council may pay such fees, allowances and expenses to persons appointed as medical assessors as it may determine<sup>19</sup>. In the case of a medical assessor who is also a member of the General Council or of any of its committees, any such payment made to him in his capacity as a medical assessor is in addition to any to which he is entitled as such a member<sup>20</sup>.

(v) Appeals

A. APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE REGISTRAR

676. Appeals against decisions of the registrar.

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup>: (1) refuses to register an applicant for registration under the Chiropractors Act 1994<sup>2</sup>; (2) registers such an applicant with provisional or conditional registration<sup>3</sup>; (3) refuses to renew any registration<sup>4</sup>; (4) removes the name of a registered chiropractor<sup>5</sup> from the register<sup>6</sup> on the ground that he has breached one or more of the conditions subject to which his registration had effect, otherwise than under an order of the professional conduct committee<sup>7</sup>; or (5) refuses to grant an application for the conversion of a conditional or provisional registration into full registration<sup>8</sup>, then the person aggrieved may appeal to the General Council<sup>9</sup>. An appeal to the General Council must be made before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the registrar's decision is sent to the person concerned<sup>10</sup>. Any such appeal is subject to such rules<sup>11</sup> as the General Council may make for the purpose of regulating those appeals<sup>12</sup>.

A person aggrieved by the decision of the General Council on such an appeal may appeal to a county court<sup>13</sup>. On an appeal to the county court, the court may:

- 859 (a) dismiss the appeal<sup>14</sup>;
- 860 (b) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against<sup>15</sup>;
- 861 (c) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision which could have been made by the registrar<sup>16</sup>; or
- 862 (d) remit the case to the General Council to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>17</sup>, and may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>18</sup>.

676 Appeals against decisions of the registrar

TEXT AND NOTES--As to appeals against the General Chiropractic Council, see the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 29A (added by SI 2007/3101).

NOTE 8--Add head (6) refuses to register a person with temporary registration: Chiropractors Act 1994 s 29(1)(ba) (added by SI 2007/3101).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/5. CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Appeals/A. APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE REGISTRAR/677. Notice of appeal; preliminary matters.

677. Notice of appeal; preliminary matters.

An appeal<sup>1</sup> must be made by giving notice<sup>2</sup> in writing<sup>3</sup> to the registrar<sup>4</sup>, specifying the decision of the registrar in relation to which the appeal is brought<sup>5</sup>. Upon receipt of such notice, the registrar must prepare a paginated and indexed bundle of papers for consideration at the meeting of the Council<sup>6</sup> held for the purpose of hearing the appeal, comprising: (1) the registrar's reasons for reaching the decision<sup>7</sup>; (2) the documentary evidence taken into account by him in reaching the decision, including any statements, references, reports and other particulars supplied by the appellant<sup>8</sup> to the registrar or obtained by the registrar in connection with his determination of the matter<sup>9</sup>; (3) by way of a supplementary report, such other matters, if any, as in his view are relevant to the determination of the appeal and which he wishes to bring to the attention of the Council<sup>10</sup>. Before the beginning of the period of 28 days ending with the day appointed for the meeting to be held for the purposes of hearing the appeal, the registrar must serve on the appellant<sup>11</sup>: (a) the reasons referred to in head (1) above, any report prepared under head (3) above, a list of the documents referred to in head (2) above, and a copy of any of the documents so listed of which the appellant has not previously been sent a copy by the registrar and which are not documents supplied by the appellant to the registrar<sup>12</sup>; and (b) a notice informing the appellant of the date, time and place of the meeting, and requiring the appellant to submit to the registrar, within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice is served on the appellant, the appellant's grounds of appeal, any additional evidence the appellant wishes the Council to take into account in determining the appeal in question, and an indication of whether the appellant intends to be legally represented<sup>13</sup>. Before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the day of the meeting to be held for the purposes of hearing the appeal, the registrar must send to each of the members of the Council a copy of the bundle prepared for consideration at the meeting, and of any grounds and additional documentary evidence supplied by the appellant pursuant to such notice<sup>14</sup>.

An appeal must be heard at a meeting of the Council, being either an ordinary meeting of the Council to consider other business, or a special meeting held to determine the appeal, whether or not also held to determine other appeals<sup>15</sup>.

1 'Appeal' means an appeal under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 29(1) (see PARA 676 ante): General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/2265, r 2(1).

2 Any notice or other matter or document to be served on the registrar (see note 4 infra) for the purposes of the General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/2265, may be served by sending it by post to, or leaving it at, the principal office of the Council (see note 6 infra): r 8(2).

3 For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 614 note 3 ante.

5 General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/2265, r 3(1).

6 'The Council' means, subject to ibid r 6, the General Chiropractic Council: r 2(1). If the Council in exercise of its powers under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 1(4), Sch 1 para 15(2)(j) (see PARA 597 ante) delegates its function of determining any appeal to a committee of the Council, references to the Council are to be construed (except in the references to the chairman of the Council and staff of the Council) as references to that committee: General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI

2000/2265, r 6(1). The Council may not delegate its function of determining an appeal to any of the statutory committees.: r 6(2). As to the General Chiropractic Council and its committees see PARA 591 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'statutory committee' see PARA 591 note 5 ante.

7 Ibid r 4(1)(a). 'The decision', except in r 5 (see PARA 680 post), means the decision of the registrar specified in the notice given under r 3(1) (see the text to notes 1-5 supra): r 2(1).

8 'The appellant' means the chiropractor who has made the appeal in question: ibid r 2(1).

9 Ibid r 4(1)(b).

10 Ibid r 4(1)(c).

11 Any notice or other matter or document to be served on the appellant for the purposes of the General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/2265, may be served by sending it by post to, or leaving it at, the address of the appellant as appearing in the register pursuant to the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 6(1)(b) (see PARA 619 ante), or if he is not registered or if his last known place of residence differs from his address in the register and it appears to the registrar that a notice sent to that place of residence is more likely to reach him, or if he has given some other address for service, it may be served by sending it by post to or by leaving it at his last known place of residence or (as the case may be) the address given for service: General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/2265, r 8(1). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 614 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 615 note 1 ante.

12 Ibid r 4(2)(a).

13 Ibid r 4(2)(b).

14 Ibid r 4(3). The bundle and other matters to be sent to the members of the Council under r 4(3) must be sent in accordance with the ordinary arrangements of the Council for the receiving by the members of papers relating to its meetings; and is treated as sent, if sent by post, when posted: r 8(3).

15 Ie other appeals under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 29(1) (see PARA 676 ante): General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/2265, r 3(2).

679. Extension of time; postponement and adjournment.

The chairman of the Council<sup>1</sup> may extend the time for the doing of any thing under these provisions<sup>2</sup> and may postpone a meeting to be held for the purposes of hearing an appeal<sup>3</sup> of which notice has been given to the appellant<sup>4</sup>; and the registrar<sup>5</sup> may, in order to give effect to any such extension or postponement after having given such notice to the appellant, serve on the appellant a further notice<sup>6</sup>. Without prejudice to the Council's general powers of adjournment, the Council may from time to time adjourn any proceedings before it on an appeal at which the appellant may be present; and if it does so the registrar must give notice to the appellant of the date, time and place of the resumption of proceedings at which he may be present unless that date, time and place were announced at the time of adjournment in the presence of the appellant or his representative<sup>7</sup>.

1 References to the chairman of the Council include reference to an acting chairman exercising the functions of chairman of the Council under the General Chiropractic Council (Constitution and Procedure) Rules 1999, SI 1999/1537, r 7 (see PARA 596 ante); General Chiropractic Council (Appeals Against Decisions of the Registrar) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/2265, r 2(2).  APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE REGISTRAR/680. Decision by the General Council.

680. Decision by the General Council.

The appellant<sup>1</sup> may attend the meeting held for the purposes of hearing an appeal<sup>2</sup>, and he and the registrar<sup>3</sup>, or their legal representatives<sup>4</sup>, may address the Council<sup>5</sup> concerning the appeal<sup>6</sup>. The decision of the Council on the appeal must be by resolution of the Council passed by a majority of the members of the Council<sup>7</sup> present and voting; and, in the event of an equality of votes, the person chairing the meeting has an additional casting vote which he must exercise in favour of the appellant<sup>8</sup>. Upon the Council reaching its decision, the person chairing the meeting considering the appeal in question must announce that decision; and the chairman of the Council<sup>9</sup> must as soon as practicable after the meeting give notice in writing<sup>10</sup> to the appellant notifying him of the decision of the Council and its reasons for reaching the decision and, if the appeal is dismissed, of the appellant's right to appeal against it on a point of law<sup>11</sup>.

The meeting considering an appeal must be open to the public<sup>12</sup>. However, the appellant may elect that the meeting considering his appeal should be held in private; and, if he does so elect, the meeting must be held in the absence of anyone except members of the Council, the registrar and his legal representative (if any), staff of the Council<sup>13</sup>, the appellant and his legal representative (if any), any witnesses, and any legal assessor or medical assessor<sup>14</sup>.

B. APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE

681. Appeals against decisions of the Health Committee.

Any person with respect to whom a decision of the health committee<sup>1</sup> is made<sup>2</sup> may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the decision is sent to him, appeal against it<sup>3</sup>. No decision against which such an appeal may be made has effect before the expiry of the period within which the appeal may be made<sup>4</sup>, or the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of<sup>5</sup>.

An appeal lies to an appeal tribunal, consisting of a chairman and two other members, established for the purposes of the appeal in accordance with rules<sup>6</sup> made by the General Council<sup>7</sup>. The chairman of an appeal tribunal is to be selected in accordance with such rules<sup>8</sup>, and must be appropriately qualified<sup>9</sup>. Each of the other two members of an appeal tribunal are to be selected in accordance with the rules, one of them being a fully registered chiropractor<sup>10</sup> and the other being a registered medical practitioner<sup>11</sup>. The rules may not provide for the selection of any member of an appeal tribunal to be by the General Council<sup>12</sup>.

The General Council must make rules as to the procedure to be followed by an appeal tribunal hearing an appeal<sup>13</sup>. On any appeal, the appeal is by way of a re-hearing of the case<sup>14</sup>; the General Council is the respondent<sup>15</sup>; and the tribunal hearing the appeal has power to make any decision which the health committee had power to make<sup>16</sup>. Subject to any provision made by the rules<sup>17</sup>, an appeal tribunal sits in public<sup>18</sup>. No person may be required by any rules made under these provisions to give any evidence or produce any document or other material at a hearing held by an appeal tribunal which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>19</sup> in which the hearing takes place<sup>20</sup>. An appeal tribunal has power to award costs<sup>21</sup>.

The chairman of an appeal tribunal must appoint a person approved by the members of the tribunal to act as clerk of the tribunal<sup>22</sup>.

Any expenses reasonably incurred by a tribunal, including any incurred in connection with the appointment of a clerk, are to be met by the General Council<sup>23</sup>.

682. Notice of appeal and the establishment of the appeal tribunal.

As soon as practicable after the registrar receives an appeal, the chairman of the General Council<sup>7</sup> must request either the chairman of the General Council of the Bar or the president of the Law Society<sup>8</sup>, or a person authorised by either of them, to select a person to act as the chairman of the appeal tribunal to hear the appeal<sup>9</sup>. The member of the tribunal selected as a fully registered chiropractor<sup>10</sup> must be willing and able to act in the appeal and is selected by the chairman of the tribunal so appointed from a list kept by the registrar of fully registered chiropractors who have agreed to sit on appeal tribunals<sup>11</sup>. The member of the tribunal selected as a registered medical practitioner<sup>12</sup> must be willing and able to act in the appeal and is selected at the request of the chairman of the tribunal by the president of the General Medical Council, or a person authorised by him<sup>13</sup>. A member of the General Council or of a committee or sub-committee of the General Council may not be appointed a member of the tribunal<sup>14</sup>. A member of the tribunal is entitled to the payment by the General Council of his reasonable fees relating to his functions in connection with the tribunal<sup>15</sup>.

2 Any notice, document or other matter to be given to or served on the appellant by the clerk under the General Chiropractic Council (Health Appeal Tribunal) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/3214, may be served by sending it by a postal service in which delivery or receipt is recorded to, or by leaving it at, the address of the appellant as appearing in the register pursuant to the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 6(1)(b) (see PARA 619 ante); or, if his last known place of residence differs from his address in the register and it appears to the clerk that, if the notice, document or other matter is sent to or left at that place of residence, it is more likely to reach him, it may be served by sending it by such a postal service to or by leaving it at his last known place of residence: General Chiropractic Council (Health Appeal Tribunal) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/3214, r 13(1). Any other notice, document or other matter to be given to or served on a person may be sent by ordinary post: r 13(2). The address for service of the appellant for the purposes of r 13(2) is any such address or place as is mentioned in r 13(1) (treating the second reference in that provision to the clerk as a reference to the person sending the matter in question), and for the solicitor is the address at which he ordinarily practises; or such other address as any of them may specify for the purpose: r 13(3). 'The clerk' means the clerk appointed under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 30(9) (see PARA 681 ante) in relation to the appeal in question; and 'the appellant' means the chiropractor who has made the appeal in question which is to be determined by the tribunal: General Chiropractic Council (Health Appeal Tribunal) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/3214, r 2(1). For the meaning of 'the solicitor' see PARA 684 note 8 post.

The appeal tribunal established pursuant to r 4 to hear the appeal in question is referred to as 'the tribunal': see rr 2(1), 4(1). The chairman of the tribunal selected under r 4(1) must be a person who is qualified as mentioned in the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 27(4) (see PARA 674 note 2 ante) and who is willing and able to act as chairman in the appeal: General Chiropractic Council (Health Appeal Tribunal) Rules Order 2000, SI 2000/3214, r 4(2).

683. Notice of hearing.

As soon as practicable after the tribunal has been established<sup>1</sup> and a clerk appointed<sup>2</sup>, the clerk must give notice<sup>3</sup> to the appellant<sup>4</sup> of the date, time and place of the hearing of the tribunal which will consider the appeal<sup>5</sup>. Such a notice must be given not later than the beginning of the period of 42 days ending with the date fixed for the opening of the hearing<sup>6</sup>. The chairman of the tribunal<sup>7</sup> may, of his own motion or on the application of a party to the proceedings, postpone a hearing of which notice has been given before the hearing begins; and, if he does so, the clerk must as soon as practicable inform the parties concerned of the postponement and give notice of the further date, time and place fixed for the opening of the hearing<sup>8</sup>.

 CHIROPRACTORS/(4) PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Appeals/B.
 APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE/684. Procedure at the hearing.

684. Procedure at the hearing.

At the opening of the hearing: (1) in the case of an allegation appeal<sup>1</sup>, the clerk<sup>2</sup> reads out the allegation<sup>3</sup> and briefly states the nature of the order made by the health committee, and indicates whether the appeal<sup>4</sup> relates only to the order made or is against the finding that the allegation is well founded<sup>5</sup>; and (2) in the case of a review appeal<sup>6</sup>, the clerk briefly states the nature of the decision appealed against<sup>7</sup>. The order of proceedings on a hearing of the appeal is as follows<sup>8</sup>: (a) the solicitor opens the case for the General Council<sup>9</sup>, and calls or produces evidence<sup>10</sup> in support of the case of the General Council as respondent to the appeal<sup>11</sup>; (b) the appellant<sup>12</sup> presents his case and may call or produce evidence<sup>13</sup>; and (c) the tribunal<sup>14</sup> hears such further submissions from the parties<sup>15</sup> and receives such further evidence as it considers relevant, having regard to the justice of the case and the public interest<sup>16</sup>. Any witness called to give oral evidence may be cross-examined and re-examined, and may be questioned by the tribunal<sup>17</sup>. At any hearing, the appellant is entitled to be legally represented<sup>18</sup>.

The hearing is to take place<sup>19</sup> in the presence of the parties or their representatives and in public<sup>20</sup>. However, the tribunal may, if it is satisfied that it would be in the interests of the person making the allegation, or of any person giving evidence or of any patient, or if it is of the view that the evidence in question relates to matters properly to be treated as confidential between the appellant and a medical practitioner, determine that the public should be excluded from being present in any part of the proceedings<sup>21</sup>.

If the appellant does not appear and the tribunal is satisfied that a notice has been given to him<sup>22</sup>, it may dismiss the appeal, or adjourn to give a further opportunity to the appellant to appear, or determine that proceedings on the appeal be heard and determined in the absence of the appellant<sup>23</sup>.

685. Adjournment of hearing.

The tribunal<sup>1</sup> may adjourn the hearing<sup>2</sup> from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>3</sup>. In the case of an allegation appeal<sup>4</sup>, the tribunal may in particular adjourn any hearing after it has determined that an allegation<sup>5</sup> is well founded for the purposes of allowing time to deliberate on the terms of any conditions of practice order<sup>6</sup> that it is minded to make<sup>7</sup>. Unless adjourned proceedings are to resume at a time, date or place not determined at the time of adjournment, upon adjourning the tribunal must announce the time, date and place to which the proceeding is adjourned<sup>8</sup>.

If, on a hearing resuming after an adjournment to give a further opportunity to the appellant to appear<sup>9</sup>, the appellant does not appear, the tribunal may, if satisfied that notice<sup>10</sup> was duly given to him, act in any manner provided for<sup>11</sup>. If, on a hearing resuming after adjournment in any other case, a party<sup>12</sup> who was present in the earlier proceedings is absent, the tribunal may proceed in that party's absence if it is satisfied that the time, date and place of the resumption were announced<sup>13</sup> or notice<sup>14</sup> was duly given to the party<sup>15</sup>.

 APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE HEALTH COMMITTEE/686. Documents and evidence.

686. Documents and evidence.

Subject to the provisions described below, the tribunal<sup>1</sup> may consider the appeal<sup>2</sup> on the basis of certain reports, written statements and documents submitted in evidence to it without the authors being called to give oral evidence<sup>3</sup>. The solicitor<sup>4</sup> must secure that, not less than 28 days before the opening of any hearing, the appellant<sup>5</sup> is provided with a list of every report, written statement or other document<sup>6</sup> which is to be produced in evidence, a statement as to which, if any, of those he intends to have adduced by way of oral evidence by its author, and a notice requiring the appellant to notify him before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which that notice was sent to the appellant whether the appellant requires any other author of a report, statement or other document so listed to attend the hearing to give oral evidence as to the matters with which it deals<sup>7</sup>. The appellant must secure that, not less than 28 days before the opening of any hearing, the solicitor is provided with a list of every report, written statement or other document<sup>8</sup> which is to be produced in evidence, a statement as to which, if any, of those he intends to have adduced by way of oral evidence by its author, and a notice requiring the solicitor to notify him before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which that notice was sent to the solicitor whether the solicitor requires any other author of a report, statement or other document so listed to attend the hearing to give oral evidence as to the matters with which it deals<sup>9</sup>. Where notification is given by the appellant or by the solicitor requiring the author of a report, statement or other document to attend to give oral evidence, the report, statement or other document must not be taken into account by the tribunal in reaching its decision on the appeal without such oral evidence unless the tribunal is of the view that, having regard to all the circumstances, including the difficulty or expense of obtaining such attendance, and the justice of the case, it is proper so to do<sup>10</sup>.

A party may admit a fact, and a fact so admitted may be received in evidence without further proof<sup>11</sup>.

The tribunal may require a witness to appear before it and give evidence:

- 863 (1) on the application of the appellant, notwithstanding the absence of any notification by the appellant<sup>12</sup>;
- 864 (2) on the application of the solicitor, notwithstanding the absence of any notification by the solicitor<sup>13</sup>; or
- 865 (3) of its own motion<sup>14</sup>, and the tribunal may require a person to attend before it to produce documents<sup>15</sup>. The tribunal may administer oaths<sup>16</sup>.

No person may be required under these provisions to give evidence or produce any document or other material at any hearing held by the tribunal which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>17</sup> in which the hearing takes place<sup>18</sup>.

- 162 (2) reports, written statements and other documents prepared on behalf of the appellant (r 8(1)(b));
- 163 (3) such other reports, written statements and documents as the tribunal determines, after hearing the views of the parties, and having regard to all the circumstances and the justice of the case, can properly be admitted without such oral evidence (r 8(1)(c)).

687. Notification of decision.

After the tribunal<sup>1</sup> has made its decision on the appeal<sup>2</sup>, it must announce that decision and thereupon close the hearing<sup>3</sup>. As soon as practicable after that announcement, the clerk<sup>4</sup> must notify in writing: (1) the appellant<sup>5</sup> of the tribunal's decision and its reasons for reaching it, and of the appellant's right of appeal on a point of law<sup>6</sup>; and (2) the General Council<sup>7</sup> and, in the case of an allegation appeal<sup>8</sup>, the person making the allegation<sup>9</sup> of the tribunal's decision and its reasons for reaching it<sup>10</sup>.  APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE AND APPEAL
 TRIBUNALS/688. Appeals.

C. APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE AND APPEAL TRIBUNALS

688. Appeals.

Any person with respect to whom a decision of the professional conduct committee is made<sup>1</sup>, or a decision is made by an appeal tribunal hearing an appeal<sup>2</sup>, may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the decision is served on him, appeal against it to the relevant court<sup>3</sup>. No such decision has effect before the expiry of the period within which an appeal against the decision may be made<sup>4</sup> or, where an appeal against the decision has been duly made, before the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of<sup>5</sup>. On an appeal, the General Council<sup>6</sup> is the respondent<sup>7</sup>.

The court may, on an appeal: (1) dismiss the appeal<sup>8</sup>; (2) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against<sup>9</sup>; (3) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision which could have been made by the professional conduct committee or, as the case may be, by the health committee<sup>10</sup>; or (4) remit the case to the committee or appeal tribunal concerned to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>11</sup>. The court may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>12</sup>.

1     Ie under the Chiropractors Act 1994 s 8 (see PARA 629 ante) or s 22 (see PARA 649 ante): s 31(1)(a). As to the professional conduct committee see PARA 609 ante.

'The relevant court' in the case of a person whose address in the register is (or if he were registered would be) in Scotland, means the Court of Session; in the case of a person whose address in the register is (or if he were registered would be) in Northern Ireland, means the High Court of Justice in Northern Ireland; and in the case of any other person, means the High Court of Justice in England and Wales: Chiropractors Act 1994 s 31(1A) (added by the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 34(1), (6)(b)). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 614 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 615 note 1 ante. An appeal is by way of re-hearing: Practice Direction-- Appeals PD52 para 22.3(1)(h), (2).

The court must give proper weight to the views of the committee, including those on the appropriate sentence; on questions of professional competence the committee's views are to be accorded the very greatest of weight, whereas on questions which do not so much depend upon professional expertise, the court may be in a better position to be able to form a judgment for itself; however, the court must never act unless it is plain that in the circumstances the decision of the committee was one which was clearly wrong: Gage v General Chiropractic Council [2004] EWHC 2762 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 14 (Nov), following Moody v General Osteopathic Council [2004] EWHC 967 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 82 (Apr). ### 689. Negligence.

The principles governing the liability of chiropractors towards their patients are precisely the same as those which govern the liability of medical practitioners towards their patients<sup>1</sup>. Whether there is any negligence by a chiropractor is to be tested against the standard of the ordinary skilled chiropractor exercising and professing to have the special skill of that discipline<sup>2</sup>.

6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES

(1) THE NURSING AND MIDWIFERY COUNCIL

691. The Nursing and Midwifery Council and its committees.

Provision is made for the constitution of the Nursing and Midwifery Council, which is a body corporate<sup>1</sup>.

There are four statutory committees of the Council<sup>2</sup>, known as the investigating committee<sup>3</sup>, the conduct and competence committee<sup>4</sup>, the health committee<sup>5</sup>, and the midwifery committee<sup>6</sup>. Each of these statutory committees has the functions conferred on it by the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001<sup>7</sup>. If it appears to the Council that any statutory committee is failing to perform its functions adequately, the Council may give a direction as to the proper performance of those functions<sup>8</sup>. Where the Council, having given such a direction, is satisfied that the committee has failed to comply with the direction, it may exercise any power of that committee or do any act or other thing authorised to be done by that committee<sup>9</sup>.

The Council may establish such other committees as it considers appropriate in connection with the discharge of its functions and delegate any of its functions to them, other than any power to make rules<sup>10</sup>.

In appointing non-Council members to any committee set up under art 3(12), the Council must have regard, where appropriate and subject to the other provisions of the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253 (as amended), to the guidance issued by the Commissioner for Public Appointments: Sch 1 para 13(1). The Council must ensure that such members of the committee who are not Council members have such qualifications, interests or experience as, in the opinion of the Council, are relevant to the field with which the committee is mainly concerned: Sch 1 para 13(2). As to the Commissioner for Public Appointments see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 953.

692. Functions of the Council.

The principal functions of the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> are to establish from time to time standards of education, training, conduct and performance for nurses and midwives and to ensure the maintenance of those standards<sup>2</sup>. The main objective of the Council in exercising its functions is to safeguard the health and well-being of persons using or needing the services of registrants<sup>3</sup>. In exercising its functions, the Council must: (1) have proper regard to the interests of those persons and of all registrants and prospective registrants in each of the countries of the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup> and to any differing considerations applying to the professions of nursing and midwifery and to groups within them<sup>5</sup>; and (2) co-operate wherever reasonably practicable with: (a) employers and prospective employers of registrants<sup>6</sup>; (b) persons who provide, assess or fund education or training for registrants or prospective registrants, or who propose to do so<sup>7</sup>; (c) persons who are responsible for regulating or co-ordinating the regulation of other health or social care professions, or of those who carry out activities in connection with the services provided by those professions or the professions of nursing and midwifery<sup>8</sup>; and (d) persons responsible for regulating services in the provision of which registrants are engaged<sup>9</sup>. The Council must consult the Privy Council, or such person as the Privy Council may designate, at least once in each calendar year on the way in which it proposes to exercise its functions in respect of such period as the Privy Council or the designated person, as the case may be, may specify<sup>10</sup>.

The Council must inform and educate registrants, and must inform the public, about its work<sup>11</sup>. Before establishing any standards or giving any guidance<sup>12</sup>, the Council must consult representatives of any group of persons it considers appropriate, including, as it sees fit, representatives of registrants or classes of registrant<sup>13</sup>, employers of registrants<sup>14</sup>, users of the services of registrants<sup>15</sup>, and persons providing, assessing or funding education or training for registrants or prospective registrants<sup>16</sup>. The Council must publish any standards it establishes and any guidance it gives<sup>17</sup>.

The Council is appointed as competent authority for the purposes of certain European Union legislation relating to the professions of nursing and midwifery<sup>18</sup>.

The Council has such other functions as are conferred on it by the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, or as may be provided by the Privy Council by order: art 3(3). Before making any such order, the Privy Council must consult the Nursing and Midwifery Council: art 3(6). At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made. #### 694. Constitution of the Council during the transitional periods.

When first constituted, and during the transitional periods<sup>1</sup>, the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> consists<sup>3</sup> of 12 members known as 'practitioner members'<sup>4</sup>, 11 members known as 'lay members'<sup>5</sup> and 12 members known as 'alternate members'<sup>6</sup>. All such members are appointed by the Privy Council<sup>7</sup>, which must appoint an alternate member for each practitioner member<sup>8</sup>. The members must live or work wholly or mainly in the United Kingdom<sup>9</sup>; and the members who are not registered professionals must include at least one member from each of the countries of the United Kingdom and that member must live or work wholly or mainly in the country concerned<sup>10</sup>.

Unless he resigns or is removed<sup>11</sup>, each member holds office until the end of the second transitional period<sup>12</sup>. Where a member ceases to be a member, the Privy Council may replace him and the successor's term of office begins with the day after that on which the member ceases to be a member and ends at the end of the second transitional period<sup>13</sup>. No later than six months before the end of the second transitional period, the Nursing and Midwifery Council must provide in rules for an election scheme<sup>14</sup> to elect members to take office after the transitional periods<sup>15</sup>.

1 The transitional periods are: (1) 'the first transitional period', beginning with the coming into force of the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 3 (see PARA 691 et seq ante) and ending on the date of the coming into force of the first order made by the Privy Council under art 6(1) (see PARA 717 post); and (2) 'the second transitional period', being the period beginning with the day after the coming into force of the first order made by the Privy Council under art 6(1) and ending on the second anniversary of that date, unless ended earlier by the Privy Council on a proposal received by it from the Nursing and Midwifery Council: art 54, Sch 2 para 2. Article 3 was brought into force on 1 April 2002: see art 1(2), (3); and the London Gazette (25 March 2002). The first order made under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 6(1) was the Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, which came into force on 1 August 2004: see art 1(1). As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, see PARA 706 post. 3 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 2 para 1. As to the constitution of the Council after the transitional periods see PARA 695 post.

4 Ibid Sch 2 para 3(1)(a). Following consultation with persons who appear to it to be representative of the professions of nursing and midwifery, the Privy Council must appoint practitioner and alternate members (see the text and notes 6-8 infra) from among persons who were registered under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 (repealed) immediately before 1 April 2002: see the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 2 para 3(4). It must select four practitioner members from each of the following categories: (1) persons registered in Part 10 of the register maintained under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 s 7 (repealed); (2) persons registered in Part 11 of that register; and (3) persons registered in any other part of that register of whom the members may all be selected from the same part or from different parts: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 2 para 3(5)(a)-(c). No person may be appointed as a practitioner member while he is the subject of fitness to practise investigations or proceedings whether under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 or the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253 (as amended) (see PARA 747 et seq post): Sch 2 para 3(6).

5 Ibid Sch 2 para 3(1)(b). 'Lay member' means, in relation to the Council or a statutory committee, any member who is not and never has been a registered nurse or a registered midwife: art 2, Sch 4. For the meaning of 'the statutory committees' see PARA 691 note 2 ante. As to registration see PARA 721 et seq post. Having consulted such persons as it considers appropriate, the Privy Council must appoint lay members from among persons who are not and never have been on the register or on the register kept under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 (repealed) and who have such qualifications, interests and experience as, in the opinion of the Privy Council, will be of value to the Nursing and Midwifery Council in the performance of its functions: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 2 para 3(7). For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 717 note 2 post.

6 Ibid Sch 2 para 3(1)(c). See also Sch 2 para 3(4); and note 4 supra. See further the text and note 8 infra. 'Alternate member' is a member of the Council appointed under Sch 1 para 1 (see PARA 695 post) or Sch 2 para 3: Sch 4.

7 Ibid Sch 2 para 3(1)(a)-(c).

8 Ibid Sch 2 para 3(2). An alternate member has the same functions as a practitioner member but he may attend a Council meeting in his capacity as an alternate member and vote only if his corresponding practitioner member is unable to do so: Sch 2 para 3(3). 'Corresponding practitioner member' means the practitioner member appointed under Sch 2 from the same part of the register and from the same country of the United Kingdom as the alternate member concerned: Sch 4. There must be at least one practitioner member and one alternate member from each part of the register, and the number of practitioner and alternate members from each part must be equal: Sch 2 para 3(9). The practitioner and alternate members appointed in respect of each part of the register must include at least one member from each of the countries of the United Kingdom and that member must live or work wholly or mainly in the country concerned: Sch 2 para 3(10). 'United Kingdom country' means England, Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland: Sch 4. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(1) THE NURSING AND MIDWIFERY COUNCIL/695. Constitution of the Council after the transitional periods.

695. Constitution of the Council after the transitional periods.

After the transitional periods<sup>1</sup>, the Nursing and Midwifery Council is to consist of 12 members appointed by the Council known as 'registrant members'<sup>2</sup>, a further 12 members appointed by the Council<sup>3</sup> known as 'alternate members'<sup>4</sup>, and 11 members appointed by the Privy Council<sup>5</sup> known as 'lay members'<sup>6</sup>. The Nursing and Midwifery Council must provide in rules for an election scheme<sup>7</sup> to elect the registrant members and alternate members and may provide in the rules for by-elections<sup>8</sup>. The Council must provide such information and advice for voters and candidates about the purpose and conduct of the elections as it considers appropriate<sup>9</sup>.

On a proposal from the Council or otherwise, the Privy Council may by order vary the size or composition of the Council, provided that: (1) the number of registrant members constitutes no less than half the total number of members and the number of registrant members does not exceed the number of lay members by more than one<sup>10</sup>; (2) the members live or work wholly or mainly in the United Kingdom<sup>11</sup>; (3) there is at least one registrant member and one alternate member from each part of the register<sup>12</sup>, and the number of registrant and alternate members from each part is equal<sup>13</sup>; (4) the registrant and alternate members appointed in respect of each part of the register include at least one member appointed from each of the countries of the United Kingdom<sup>14</sup> and that member must live or work wholly or mainly in the country concerned<sup>15</sup>; (5) the members who are not registered professionals include at least one member appointed from each of the countries of the United Kingdom and that member must live or work wholly or mainly in the country concerned<sup>16</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> On being elected under the election scheme made under ibid Sch 1 para 2: see the text to notes 7-9 infra. The Council must appoint an elected candidate to be an alternate member in accordance with criteria set out in the election scheme: Sch 1 para 1(4).

<sup>4</sup> Ibid Sch 1 para 1(1)(c). The Council must appoint an alternate member for each registrant member: Sch 1 para 1(2). An alternate member has the same functions as a registrant member but he may attend a Council meeting in his capacity as an alternate member, and vote, only if his corresponding registrant member is unable to do so: Sch 1 para 1(3). 'Corresponding registrant member' means the registrant member elected from the same part of the register and from the same country of the United Kingdom as the alternate member concerned: Sch 4. For the meaning of 'alternate member' see PARA 694 note 6 ante.

<sup>5</sup> As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253 (as amended) see PARA 706 post. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

<sup>6</sup> Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 1 para 1(1)(b). For the meaning of 'lay member' see PARA 694 note 5 ante. Having consulted such persons as it considers appropriate, the Privy Council must appoint lay members from among persons who are not and never have been on the register or on the register kept under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 (repealed) and who have such qualifications, interests and experience as, in the opinion of the Privy Council, will be of value to the Nursing and Midwifery Council in the performance of its functions: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 1 para 3. Of the members appointed by the Privy Council, there must be at least one appointed from each country of the United Kingdom and that member must live or work wholly or mainly in the country concerned: Sch 1 para 4. Where a member appointed by the Privy Council ceases to be a member, the Nursing and Midwifery Council must inform the Privy Council and, subject to Sch 1 para 7(3) (see PARA 696 post), the Privy Council must replace him: Sch 1 para 6. If, under the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 187, the Secretary of State has given a direction to a special health authority to exercise any function of a Minister of the Crown relating to the making of appointments to a body mentioned in s 187, the Privy Council may direct the special health authority to exercise to the extent specified in the direction its functions in relation to the appointment, replacement and removal (see PARA 696 text to notes 6-8 post) of members of the Nursing and Midwifery Council: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 1 para 15A (added by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 187(8), Sch 12 para 7). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante. As to special health authorities see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 136 et seq.

7 The Council must provide in rules for such an election scheme no later than six months before the end of the second transitional period (see PARA 694 note 1 ante): Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 2 para 7. At the date at which this volume states the law no such rules had been made. As to the making of rules by the Council see PARA 701 post.

8 Ibid Sch 1 para 2(1). The election scheme must provide that:

164 (1) a person seeking election:

7. (a) is registered in the part of the register for which he seeks election but no person may be elected for more than one part of the register at a time (Sch 1 para 2(2)(a)(i));

8. (b) in respect of a national constituency, lives or works wholly or mainly in that national constituency (Sch 1 para 2(2)(a)(ii));

9. (c) is not the subject of any allegation, investigation or proceedings concerning his fitness to practise (Sch 1 para 2(2)(a)(iii)); and

10. (d) is wholly or mainly engaged in the practice, teaching or management of the profession in respect of which he is registered and seeks election or in research in those fields (Sch 1 para 2(2)(a)(iv));

10

165 (2) at least one registrant member and one alternate member are appointed from each part of the register and the number of members from each part is equal (Sch 1 para 2(2)(b));

166 (3) at least one member is elected from each of the national constituencies for each part of the register (Sch 1 para 2(2)(c));

167 (4) a person may only vote:

11. (a) in respect of one part of the register (Sch 1 para 2(2)(d)(i));

11

12. (b) for candidates who represent a part of the register in which he is registered at the time of the election (Sch 1 para 2(2)(d)(ii)); and

12

13. (c) for a candidate seeking election for the constituency in which he wholly or mainly lives or works or, if he does not wholly or mainly live or work in any constituency, the constituency he has selected or to which he has been assigned in accordance with prescribed criteria (Sch 1 para 2(2)(d)(iii));

13

168 (5) a person may vote even if he lives or works outside the United Kingdom (Sch 1 para 2(2)(e));

169 (6) where someone ceases to be a registrant member or alternate member, a replacement is, subject to Sch 1 para 7(3) (see PARA 696 post), appointed by the Council (Sch 1 para 2(2)(f)).

'Prescribed' means prescribed in rules made by the Council: Sch 4. 'National constituency' means England, Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland: Sch 4. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante. As to fitness to practise see PARA 747 et seq post.

696. Members tenure of office.

The term of office of each member of the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> is for a period of four years<sup>2</sup>. No member may be appointed for more than three consecutive terms<sup>3</sup>. A member may resign at any time by notice in writing<sup>4</sup> addressed to the registrar<sup>5</sup>. A person must be removed from office as a Council member if:

- 866 (1) there is a change in his qualifications, interests or experience such that it appears to the Privy Council<sup>6</sup> that he will no longer contribute to the Nursing and Midwifery Council's exercise of its functions<sup>7</sup> in such a manner as justifies his continued membership<sup>8</sup>;
- 867 (2) he ceases to live or work wholly or mainly in the United Kingdom<sup>9</sup> or, if he has been appointed:
- 156 218. (a) in the case of a registrant or alternate member<sup>10</sup>, as a member in respect of one of the national constituencies<sup>11</sup>; or
- 219. (b) in the case of a lay member<sup>12</sup>, as a member in respect of one of the countries of the United Kingdom<sup>13</sup>,
- 157 868 in that national constituency or country<sup>14</sup>;
- 869 (3) he ceases to be registered in the part of the register<sup>15</sup> in respect of which he was appointed<sup>16</sup>;
- 870 (4) he ceases to be wholly or mainly engaged in the practice, teaching or management of the profession for which he is registered and in respect of which he was appointed or in the appropriate research<sup>17</sup>;
- 871 (5) an order has been made against him by a practice committee<sup>18</sup>;
- 872 (6) he is removed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the other members of the Council because of a serious and persistent deficiency in his attendance at meetings or in his conduct or performance at meetings<sup>19</sup>;
- 873 (7) such other circumstances as may be provided for by the Council in standing orders occur<sup>20</sup>.

Where a member does not complete his term of office his successor must be appointed for the remainder of the unexpired term<sup>21</sup>, in the case of registrant and alternate members by the Council<sup>22</sup>, and in the case of lay members by the Privy Council<sup>23</sup>, but if the unexpired term is less than 12 months the vacancy need not be filled<sup>24</sup>.

698. Procedure of the Council and its committees.

Subject to separate provision in respect of the midwifery committee<sup>1</sup>, the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> must make standing orders in respect of the Council, its committees and sub-committees<sup>3</sup>, with the exception of the practice committees<sup>4</sup>, to provide for: (1) the quorum at meetings, which must in the case of meetings of the Council include at least one member appointed from each country of the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup> who must live or work wholly or mainly in the country in respect of which he is appointed<sup>6</sup>; (2) the procedure at meetings<sup>7</sup>; (3) establishing standards for the education and training, attendance and performance of members<sup>8</sup>; (4) the composition of any of its committees and sub-committees<sup>9</sup>; (5) the chairman of each of its committees to be a Council member<sup>10</sup>; (6) the procedure by which a person is removed from office<sup>11</sup>; (7) the functions of its officers<sup>12</sup>; and (8) circumstances in which meetings are to be in private<sup>13</sup>.

The Council must establish and maintain a system for the declaration and registration of private interests of its members and other members of its committees and sub-committees<sup>14</sup>, and publish entries recorded in the register of members' interests<sup>15</sup>.

With the exception of decisions of the statutory committees<sup>16</sup> and of the Council on appeals from decisions of the registrar<sup>17</sup>, decisions of the Council and committees are made by a majority vote of the members present and voting<sup>18</sup>, with the chairman having an additional casting vote in the event of a tie<sup>19</sup>.

No proceedings of the Council are invalidated by any defect in the election or appointment of a member<sup>20</sup>. No person who is a member of the Council or any of its committees or sub-committees by virtue of his membership of any profession may take part in any proceedings of the Council in any period during which he is the subject of any investigations, proceedings or determination against him concerning his fitness to practise his profession<sup>21</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(1) THE NURSING AND MIDWIFERY COUNCIL/699. Power to make rules concerning the constitution and procedure of practice committees.

699. Power to make rules concerning the constitution and procedure of practice committees.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must<sup>2</sup> in respect of each practice committee<sup>3</sup> provide by rules<sup>4</sup> for: (1) the quorum at meetings of the committee<sup>5</sup>; (2) regulating its procedure<sup>6</sup>; (3) establishing standards for the education and training, attendance and performance of its members<sup>7</sup>; (4) regulating its composition<sup>8</sup>; and (5) the performance of its functions<sup>9</sup>. The members of each practice committee must include registered professionals<sup>10</sup> and other members, of whom at least one must be a registered medical practitioner<sup>11</sup>. The chairman of the committee must be a Council member<sup>12</sup>. No one may be a member of more than one practice committee; and a person must not be both a screener<sup>13</sup> and a member of a practice committee<sup>14</sup>.

The panel of a practice committee considering an allegation or taking any other action in respect of a fitness to practise matter<sup>15</sup> must comprise at least three members who are selected with due regard to the former, current or proposed professional field of the person concerned as the case may be and to the nature of the matters in issue, provided that: (a) at least one member is registered in that part of the register<sup>16</sup> in which, as the case may be, the person under consideration is or was registered or in respect of which he has made an application to be registered<sup>17</sup>; (b) there is at least one lay member<sup>18</sup>, who must not be a registered medical practitioner<sup>19</sup>; (c) where the health of the person is relevant to the case, there is at least one registered medical practitioner<sup>20</sup>; (d) the panel must comprise both registrant<sup>21</sup> and lay members none of whom is a Council member and the number of registrant members may exceed the number of lay members but may not exceed them by more than one<sup>22</sup>; (e) no one who has been involved in the case in any other capacity may sit on the panel<sup>23</sup>; and (f) the person presiding may, but need not, be a member of the Council<sup>24</sup>.

Decisions of a practice committee must be made by a majority vote of the members present and voting<sup>25</sup>. In the event of a tie, the chairman has an additional casting vote and, in respect of a decision relating to a fitness to practise matter, he must exercise his casting vote in favour of the person concerned<sup>26</sup>. Except when it is performing functions relating to a fitness to practise matter a practice committee may exercise its powers even though there is a vacancy among its members<sup>27</sup>.

Apart from proceedings relating to a fitness to practise matter, no proceedings of a practice committee are invalidated by any defect in the appointment of a member<sup>28</sup>. The Council must publish as soon as reasonably practicable particulars of: (i) any orders and decisions made by a practice committee<sup>29</sup>; (ii) its reasons for them; and (iii) any decision given on appeal<sup>30</sup>.

700. Members of practice committees.

A practice committee<sup>1</sup> comprises a chairman and a deputy chairman who must be members of the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup>, and: (1) in the case of the conduct and competence committee, six other members appointed by the Council<sup>3</sup>; (2) in the case of the health committee, two other members appointed by the Council<sup>4</sup>; (3) in the case of the investigating committee, three other members appointed by the Council<sup>5</sup>. The quorum of a practice committee is three and must include at least one registrant<sup>6</sup> and one lay member<sup>7</sup>, and must comprise the chairman or deputy chairman<sup>8</sup> and two other members<sup>9</sup>. Subject to specified provisions<sup>10</sup>, a practice committee may regulate its own procedure<sup>11</sup>.

A member of a practice committee may resign at any time by giving notice in writing<sup>12</sup> addressed to the registrar<sup>13</sup>. The Council may remove a person from office as a member of a practice committee: (a) for a serious and persistent deficiency in his attendance, conduct or performance at meetings of the committee<sup>14</sup>; (b) if he is a member of the committee by virtue of his being a registered<sup>15</sup> professional and he ceases to be wholly or mainly engaged in the practice, teaching or management of the relevant profession or in research in those fields<sup>16</sup>, or ceases to be registered in the part of the register relating to that profession<sup>17</sup>; or (c) if he is a member of the committee by virtue of his being a registered medical practitioner<sup>18</sup> and he ceases to be so registered<sup>19</sup>. Where a person ceases to be a member of a practice committee, the Council may fill the vacancy and the person appointed serves for the remainder of the term of the member he has replaced<sup>20</sup>.

A member of a practice committee must: (i) attend all meetings of the committee unless there is good reason for him being unable to do so<sup>21</sup>; (ii) prepare for any meeting of the committee by reading the agenda and any papers issued by the committee or the Council which are relevant to any subject to be considered at that meeting<sup>22</sup>; and (iii) if he will not be attending a meeting of the committee, take all reasonable steps to give advance warning of his absence to the chairman<sup>23</sup>. A member of a practice committee must undertake education and training provided or organised by the Council from time to time so that he is properly informed about his responsibilities and, in particular, he must receive training in the functions of the Council and the role of the committee and its place in the work of the Council<sup>24</sup>, the effective conduct of proceedings by the committee<sup>25</sup>, and the discharge by the committee of its functions relating to fitness to practise<sup>26</sup> including the principles of natural justice, human rights and Community law<sup>27</sup>.

702. Annual reports.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must publish at least once in each calendar year a statistical report which indicates the efficiency and effectiveness of the arrangements it has put in place to protect the public from persons whose fitness to practise is impaired, together with the Council's observations on the report<sup>2</sup>.

The Council must also, within such time as directed by the Privy Council<sup>3</sup>, submit a report to the Privy Council on the exercise of its functions during the period specified by the Privy Council<sup>4</sup>, and thereafter submit such a report once in each calendar year in respect of the period since its last such report<sup>5</sup>. The Privy Council must lay before each House of Parliament a copy of any such report<sup>6</sup>.

703. Finances and accounts.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> or an appropriate authority<sup>2</sup> may make grants or loans to the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>3</sup> towards expenses incurred, or to be incurred, by it in connection with the process of the implementation of the provisions relating to the regulation of the professions of nursing and midwifery<sup>4</sup>, or for such other purposes in connection with those professions as may be approved by the Secretary of State or the appropriate authority and agreed with the Council<sup>5</sup>. Subject to this, the expenses of the Council are to be met out of fees received by the Council and other sums paid to it in connection with the exercise of its functions<sup>6</sup>. The Council may charge such fees in connection with the exercise of its functions as it may, with the approval of the Privy Council, determine<sup>7</sup>.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council must keep accounts in such form as the Privy Council may determine<sup>8</sup>, and prepare annual accounts in respect of each financial year<sup>9</sup> in such form as the Privy Council may determine<sup>10</sup>. As soon as is reasonably practicable after the end of the financial year to which the annual accounts relate, the Nursing and Midwifery Council must cause them to be published together with any report on them made by the auditors<sup>11</sup>, and send a copy of the annual accounts and of any such report to the Privy Council and to the Comptroller and Auditor General<sup>12</sup>. The Comptroller and Auditor General must examine, certify and report on the annual accounts<sup>13</sup>. The Privy Council must lay before each House of Parliament a copy of the annual accounts certified by the Comptroller and Auditor General, together with his report and any report of the auditors<sup>14</sup>.

704. Inquiry by the Privy Council.

The Privy Council<sup>1</sup> may cause an inquiry to be held into any matter connected with the exercise by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> of its functions<sup>3</sup>. Before an inquiry is begun, the Privy Council may direct that it be held in public<sup>4</sup>. Where no direction has been given, the person holding the inquiry may if he thinks fit hold it, or any part of it, in private<sup>5</sup>.

For the purpose of any such inquiry, the person appointed to hold the inquiry may by summons<sup>6</sup> require any person to attend, at a time and place stated in the summons, to give evidence or to produce any documents in his custody or under his control which relate to any matter in question at the inquiry<sup>7</sup>; and may take evidence on oath<sup>8</sup>, and for that purpose administer oaths, or may, instead of administering an oath, require the person examined to make a solemn affirmation<sup>9</sup>.

Where the Privy Council causes an inquiry to be held, the costs incurred by it in relation to the inquiry, including such reasonable sum as it may determine for the services of any officer engaged in the inquiry, must be paid by such party to the inquiry as the Privy Council may direct<sup>10</sup>. The Privy Council may make orders as to the costs of the parties at the inquiry<sup>11</sup> and as to the parties by whom costs are to be paid<sup>12</sup>.

705. Default powers of the Privy Council.

If it appears to the Privy Council<sup>1</sup> that the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> has failed to perform any functions which, in the opinion of the Privy Council, should have been performed, the Privy Council may notify the Council of its opinion and require the Council to make representations to it<sup>3</sup>. The Privy Council may, having considered the representations of the Council, give such directions, if any, to the Council as it considers appropriate<sup>4</sup>. If the Council fails to comply with any such directions, the Privy Council may give effect to the direction<sup>5</sup>. For the purpose of giving effect to a direction, the Privy Council may exercise any power of the Council or do any act or other thing authorised to be done by the Council<sup>6</sup>, and do, of its own motion, any act or other thing which it is otherwise authorised to do<sup>7</sup> at the instigation of the Council<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253 (as amended) see PARA 706 post. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

708. The midwifery committee.

The role of the midwifery committee is to advise the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup>, at the Council's request or otherwise, on any matters affecting midwifery<sup>2</sup>. The Council must consult the committee on the exercise of its functions<sup>3</sup> in so far as it affects midwifery, including any proposal to make rules as to midwifery practice<sup>4</sup>.

The Council must by standing orders provide in respect of the committee for its composition<sup>5</sup>; the appointment of members<sup>6</sup>; the quorum at its meetings<sup>7</sup>; its procedure<sup>8</sup>; standards for the education and training, attendance and performance of its members<sup>9</sup>; and the performance of its functions<sup>10</sup>. The standing orders must, in particular, provide for: (1) the chairman of the committee to be a member of the Council<sup>11</sup>; (2) the majority of members of the committee to be practising midwives<sup>12</sup>; (3) the Council to have regard<sup>13</sup> when selecting non-Council members for the committee to the guidance issued by the Commissioner for Public Appointments<sup>14</sup>.

No person who is a member of the Council or midwifery committee by virtue of his membership of any profession may take part in any proceedings of the committee in any period during which he is the subject of any investigations, proceedings or determination against him concerning his fitness to practise his profession<sup>15</sup>.

The powers of the committee may be exercised even though there is a vacancy among its members<sup>16</sup>; and no proceedings of the committee are invalidated by any defect in the appointment of a member<sup>17</sup>.

709. Rules as to midwifery practice.

In addition to its other functions, the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must by rules<sup>2</sup> regulate the practice of midwifery and the rules may in particular: (1) determine the circumstances in which and the procedure by means of which a midwife may be suspended from practice<sup>3</sup>; (2) require midwives to give notice of their intention to practise to the local supervising authority for the area in which they intend to practise<sup>4</sup>; (3) require midwives to attend courses of instruction in accordance with the rules<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 As to the making of rules by the Council see PARA 701 ante. As to the rules that have been made see the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Midwives) Rules Order of Council 2004, approved by the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Midwives) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1764; and PARA 711 et seq post.

710. Local supervising authorities.

Each local supervising authority<sup>1</sup> must: (1) exercise general supervision in accordance with the rules made<sup>2</sup> by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>3</sup> over all midwives practising<sup>4</sup> in its area<sup>5</sup>; (2) where it appears to it that the fitness to practise of a midwife in its area is impaired, report it to the Council<sup>6</sup>; and (3) have power in accordance with such rules to suspend a midwife from practice<sup>7</sup>. The Council may prescribe<sup>8</sup> the qualifications of persons who may be appointed by the local supervising authority to exercise supervision over midwives in its area, and no one may be so appointed who is not so qualified<sup>9</sup>. The Council must by rules<sup>10</sup> from time to time establish standards for the exercise by local supervising authorities of their functions and may give guidance to local supervising authorities on these matters<sup>11</sup>.

Each local supervising authority must publish: (a) the name and address of its midwifery officer<sup>12</sup>, together with the procedure for reporting all adverse incidents relating to midwifery practice or allegations of impaired fitness to practise of practising midwives<sup>13</sup> within its area and the procedure by which it will investigate any such reports<sup>14</sup>; (b) the procedure by which it will deal with complaints or allegations against its midwifery officer or supervisors of midwives within its area<sup>15</sup>.

Each year every local supervising authority must submit a written report to the Council by such date and containing such information as the Council may specify<sup>16</sup>.

1 'Local supervising authority' means in England, strategic health authorities, and in Wales, health authorities, both as established under the National Health Service Act 1977 s 8: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 2, Sch 4 (definition amended by SI 2002/2469). 12 As to midwifery officers see PARA 711 post.

13 'Practising midwife' means a registered midwife who notifies his intention to practise to a local supervising authority and who has updated his practice in accordance with the standards published by the Council, and who: (1) is in attendance upon a woman and baby during the antenatal, intranatal or postnatal period; or (2) holds a post for which a midwifery qualification is required: Nursing and Midwifery Council

(Midwives) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1764, r 2. 'Attendance upon' means providing care or advice to a woman or care to a baby whether or not the midwife is physically present; 'woman and baby' means any woman, regardless of her age, and where reference is made to 'baby' in conjunction with 'woman', it is taken as including reference to the woman's unborn baby during the antenatal and intranatal periods; and 'postnatal period' means the period after the end of labour during which the attendance of a midwife upon a woman and baby is required, being not less than ten days and for such longer period as the midwife considers necessary: r 2.

711. Local supervising authority midwifery officers.

Each local supervising authority<sup>1</sup> must appoint a local supervising authority midwifery officer<sup>2</sup> who is responsible for exercising its functions in relation to the supervision of midwives including in relation to the appointment of supervisors of midwives<sup>3</sup>. A local supervising authority must not appoint a person to the post of local supervising authority midwifery officer unless he is a practising midwife<sup>4</sup>, and he meets the standards of experience and education<sup>5</sup> set by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>6</sup> from time to time<sup>7</sup>. Where a local supervising authority, in relation to the exercise of its functions as to the supervision of midwives, has concerns about whether a local supervising authority midwifery officer meets the Council's standards, it must discuss those concerns with the Council<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to local supervising authorities see PARA 710 ante.

2 'Local supervising authority midwifery officer' means the midwifery officer appointed by a local supervising authority in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Midwives) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1764, r 13(1) (see the text and note 3 infra): r 2. Any person appointed pursuant to the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Rules Approval Order 1983, SI 1983/873 (lapsed) is regarded as validly appointed for these purposes until the termination of the appointment: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (Transitional Provisions) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1762, art 14(1). However, from 1 August 2006, art 14(1) does not apply in respect of the appointment of a local supervising authority midwifery officer, if that officer does not meet the criteria for appointment as a local supervising authority midwifery officer set out in the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Midwives) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1764, art 13(2) (see the text and notes 4-7 infra): Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (Transitional Provisions) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1762, art 14(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/ (2) THE PRACTICE OF MIDWIFERY/712. Supervision of midwives.

712. Supervision of midwives.

A local supervising authority<sup>1</sup> must appoint an adequate number of supervisors of midwives<sup>2</sup> to exercise supervision over practising midwives<sup>3</sup> in its area<sup>4</sup>. To be appointed for the first time as a supervisor of midwives, a person must: (1) be a practising midwife<sup>5</sup>; (2) have three years' experience as a practising midwife of which at least one must have been in the two year period immediately preceding the appointment<sup>6</sup>; and (3) have successfully completed a programme within the three year period prior to his first appointment as a supervisor of midwives<sup>7</sup>. For any subsequent appointment as a supervisor of midwives, a person must have practised in such a role for three years within the five year period prior to the new appointment<sup>8</sup>. Following his appointment, a supervisor of midwives must complete such periods of study relating to the supervision of midwives as the Nursing and Midwifery Council may from time to time require<sup>9</sup>. Where a local supervising authority, in relation to the exercise of its functions as to the supervision of midwives, has concerns about whether a supervisor of midwives meets the Council's standards, it must discuss those concerns with the Council<sup>10</sup>.

Each practising midwife must have a named supervisor of midwives from among the supervisors of midwives appointed by the local supervising authority covering his main area of practice<sup>11</sup>. A local supervising authority must ensure that: (a) each practising midwife within its area has a named supervisor of midwives<sup>12</sup>; (b) at least once a year, a supervisor of midwives meets each midwife for whom he is the named supervisor of midwives to review the midwife's practice and to identify his training needs<sup>13</sup>; (c) all supervisors of midwives within its area maintain records of their supervisory activities, including any meeting with a midwife<sup>14</sup>; and (d) all practising midwives within its area have 24-hour access to a supervisor of midwives<sup>15</sup>.

A practising midwife must give to a supervisor of midwives, a local supervising authority and the Council, every reasonable facility to monitor his standards and methods of practice and to inspect his records<sup>16</sup>, his equipment and any premises that he is entitled to permit them to enter, which may include such part of the midwife's residence as may be used for professional purposes<sup>17</sup>. A practising midwife must use his best endeavours to permit inspection from time to time of all places of work in which he practises, other than the private residence of a woman and baby<sup>18</sup> he is attending, by persons nominated by the Council for this purpose, one of whom must be a practising midwife<sup>19</sup>.

1 As to local supervising authorities see PARA 710 ante.

2 'Supervisor of midwives' means a person appointed by a local supervising authority to exercise supervision over midwives practising in its area in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Midwives) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1764, r 11(1) (see the text and note 4 infra): r 2.

713. Notification of intention to practise.

If a midwife intends either to be in attendance upon a woman or baby<sup>1</sup> during the antenatal, intranatal or postnatal period<sup>2</sup> or to hold a post for which a midwifery qualification is required, he must give notice<sup>3</sup> to each local supervising authority<sup>4</sup> in whose area he intends to practise or continue to practise before commencing to practise there<sup>5</sup>, and thereafter in respect of each period of 12 months beginning on a date specified by the Nursing and Midwifery Council from time to time<sup>6</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'postnatal period' see PARA 710 note 13 ante.

3 Nursing and Midwifery Council (Midwives) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1764, r 3(1). A notice must contain such particulars and be in such form as the Nursing and Midwifery Council may from time to time specify: r 3(4). As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

4 A local supervising authority must publish: (1) the name and address of its midwifery officer for the submission of such a notice (ibid r 4(1)(a)); and (2) the date by which a midwife must give such a notice in accordance with r 3(2)(b) (see the text to note 6 infra) (r 4(1)(b)). Each local supervising authority must inform the Council, in such form and at such frequency as requested by the Council, of any notice given to it under r 3: r 4(2). As to local supervising authorities see PARA 710 ante. For the meaning of 'local supervising authority midwifery officer' see PARA 711 note 2 ante.

5 Ibid r 3(2)(a). Notwithstanding r 3(2), the notice may, in an emergency, be given after the time when he commences to practise provided that it is given within 48 hours of that time: r 3(3). 'Emergency' means a sudden, unexpected, event relating to the health or condition of a woman or baby which requires immediate attention: r 2.

6 Ibid r 3(2)(b). See also notes 4, 5 supra. Any notice given pursuant to the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Rules Approval Order 1983, SI 1983/873 (lapsed) is regarded as validly given for these purposes until the expiry of the notice: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (Transitional Provisions) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1762, art 14(1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/ (2) THE PRACTICE OF MIDWIFERY/714. Practice responsibilities.

714. Practice responsibilities.

A practising midwife<sup>1</sup> is responsible for providing midwifery care, in accordance with such standards as the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> may specify from time to time, to a woman and baby<sup>3</sup> during the antenatal, intranatal and postnatal periods<sup>4</sup>. Except in an emergency<sup>5</sup>, a practising midwife must not provide any care, or undertake any treatment, which he has not been trained to give<sup>6</sup>. A practising midwife must only supply and administer those medicines, including analgesics, in respect of which he has received the appropriate training as to use, dosage and methods of administration<sup>7</sup>. A practising midwife may only participate in clinical trials if there is a protocol approved by a relevant ethics committee<sup>8</sup>.

A practising midwife must keep, as contemporaneously as is reasonable, continuous and detailed records of observations made, care given and medicine and any form of pain relief administered by him to a woman or baby<sup>9</sup>. The records must be kept, in the case of a midwife employed by an NHS authority<sup>10</sup>, in accordance with any directions given by his employer<sup>11</sup>, and, in any other case, in a form approved by the local supervising authority<sup>12</sup> covering his main area of practice<sup>13</sup>. A midwife must not destroy or permit the destruction of records which have been made whilst he is in attendance upon a woman or baby<sup>14</sup>. Immediately before ceasing to practise or if he finds it impossible or inconvenient to preserve his records safely, a midwife must transfer them if he is employed by an NHS authority, to that authority<sup>15</sup>; if he is employed by a private sector employer, to that employer<sup>16</sup>; if he is not covered by the preceding categories, to the local supervising authority in whose area the care took place<sup>17</sup>. Any such transfer must be duly recorded by each party to the transfer<sup>18</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/ (2) THE PRACTICE OF MIDWIFERY/715. Suspension from practice by a local supervising authority.

715. Suspension from practice by a local supervising authority.

Subject to the following provisions, a local supervising authority<sup>1</sup> may, following an appropriate investigation (which is to include, where appropriate, seeking the views of the midwife concerned), suspend from practice: (1) a midwife against whom it has reported a case for investigation to the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup>, pending the outcome of the Council's investigation<sup>3</sup>; or (2) a midwife who has been referred to a practice committee of the Council<sup>4</sup>, pending the outcome of that referral<sup>5</sup>. Where it exercises its power to suspend a midwife from practice, a local supervising authority must: (a) immediately notify the midwife concerned in writing<sup>6</sup> of the decision to suspend him and the reason for the suspension, and supply him with a copy of the documentation which it intends to submit to the Council<sup>7</sup>; and thereafter (b) immediately report to the Council in writing any such suspension, the reason for that suspension and details of the investigation carried out by the local supervising authority that led to that suspension<sup>8</sup>.

The practice committee to which the midwife concerned is referred by the Council must consider whether or not to make an interim suspension order or interim conditions of practice order<sup>9</sup> in respect of the midwife concerned<sup>10</sup>. Unless that practice committee makes an interim suspension order, the local supervising authority must revoke the suspension once the committee has determined whether or not to make an interim suspension order<sup>11</sup>. If the practice committee does make an interim suspension order but that order is subsequently revoked, the local supervising authority must revoke its suspension<sup>12</sup>.

(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES

(i) The Register

716. The registrar.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must appoint a registrar<sup>2</sup> who holds office for such period and on such terms as the Council may determine<sup>3</sup>. The registrar has such functions as the Council may direct<sup>4</sup>. The terms on which the registrar holds office may, in addition to providing for his remuneration, include provision for the payment of such pensions, allowances or gratuities to or in respect of him, or such contributions or payments towards provision for such pensions, allowances or gratuities, as may be determined by the Council<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 'Registrar' means the person appointed under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 4 (see the text and notes 3-5 infra): art 2, Sch 4. If the Council appoints a deputy or assistant registrar and that deputy or assistant registrar is authorised by the registrar to act for him in any matter, any reference to the registrar includes a reference to that deputy or assistant registrar: art 4(5).

3 Ibid art 4(1). The Secretary of State had power to appoint the first registrar, but otherwise the registrar is appointed by the Council; and he is appointed on such terms and conditions as the body appointing him sees fit: art 54(1), Sch 2 para 13. If the first registrar ceases to hold office before a registrar is appointed under art 4, the Secretary of State or the Council, as the case may be, may appoint a replacement: Sch 2 para 14. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante.

4 Ibid art 4(2).

5 Ibid art 4(3). Where the terms on which the registrar holds office include provision for the payment to him of any allowances or expenses, the rate at which those allowances or expenses are paid is determined by the Council: art 4(4).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(i) The Register/717. Establishment and maintenance of the register.

717. Establishment and maintenance of the register.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must establish and maintain a register of qualified nurses and midwives<sup>2</sup>. The Council must from time to time: (1) establish the standards of proficiency<sup>3</sup> necessary to be admitted to the different parts of the register, being the standards it considers necessary for safe and effective practice under that part of the register<sup>4</sup>; and (2) prescribe<sup>5</sup> the requirements to be met as to the evidence of good health and good character in order to satisfy the registrar<sup>6</sup> that an applicant is capable of safe and effective practice as a nurse or midwife<sup>7</sup>. Before prescribing such requirements, the Council must consult the conduct and competence committee<sup>8</sup> in addition to other specified persons<sup>9</sup>, and the Council must publish those requirements<sup>10</sup>. The register must show, in relation to each registrant<sup>11</sup>, such address and other details as the Council may prescribe<sup>12</sup>.

The register must be divided into such parts as the Privy Council may by order determine<sup>13</sup>, on a proposal by the Nursing and Midwifery Council or otherwise<sup>14</sup>. Each part must have a designated title indicative of different qualifications and different kinds of education or training and a registrant is entitled to use the title corresponding to the part of the register in which he is registered<sup>15</sup>.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council must make rules in connection with registration and the register, and as to the payment of fees<sup>16</sup>. The rules must, in particular, make provision as to: (a) the form and keeping of the register<sup>17</sup>; (b) the procedure for the making, alteration and deletion of entries in the register<sup>18</sup>; (c) the form and manner in which applications are to be made and the fee to be charged for registration, renewal of registration and readmission to the register<sup>19</sup>, for the making of any additional entry in the register<sup>20</sup>, and for registration to lapse<sup>21</sup>; (d) the documentary and other evidence which is to accompany such applications<sup>22</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 5(1). 'Register' means the register established and maintained under art 5: art 2, Sch 4. In any enactment or instrument (past or future and including the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253 (as amended)), except where the context otherwise provides, 'registered' in relation to nurses and midwives means registered in the register maintained under art 5 by virtue of qualifications in nursing or midwifery, as the case may be: art 5(5). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 4 note 1 ante. As to the transitional provisions relating to the establishment of the register see Sch 2 paras 9-12.

3 'Standards of proficiency' means the standards established by the Council under ibid art 5(2): Sch 4.

As to the rules that have been made see the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules 2004, approved by the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767; and PARA 718 et seq post.

8 As to the conduct and competence committee see PARA 761 post.

9 I.e. the persons referred to in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 3(14) (see PARA 692 ante): art 5(3)(a).

10 Ibid art 5(3)(b).

11 'Registrant' means a member of the profession of nursing or midwifery who has been admitted to the register maintained under ibid art 5: Sch 4.

12 Ibid art 5(4). See note 7 supra.

13 Subject to ibid art 7 (see the text to notes 16-22 infra), the Privy Council may by order, on a proposal by the Nursing and Midwifery Council or otherwise, make such other provision in connection with the register as it considers appropriate and in particular may provide for: (1) the register to include entries indicating the possession of qualifications (whether or not they are approved qualifications) or competence in a particular field or at a particular level of practice, or for the use of a particular category of entry to be discontinued (art 6(3)(a)); (2) persons to be registered in one or more parts of the register by virtue of having been included in the register maintained under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 (Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 6(3)(b)); (3) the recording of additional entries by virtue of their having been in the register maintained under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 (Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 6(3)(c)); (4) a specified part of the register to be closed, as from a date specified in the order, so that on or after that date no further person may become registered in that part (art 6(3)(d)); (5) a specified part of the register to be sub-divided into two or more parts, or for two or more parts to be combined into one (art 6(3)(e)); (6) persons to be registered in one or more parts of the register by virtue of having been registered in a part or parts of the register which have been closed, sub-divided or combined (art 6(3)(f)); (7) the register to include a part or parts for specialists in community and public health (art 6(3)(g)); (8) the recording in Welsh of titles, qualifications and other entries referred to in heads (1)-(7) supra in respect of those members of the professions of nursing and midwifery whose registered address is in Wales (art 6(3)(h)). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(i) The Register/718. The register.

718. The register.

1 As to the registrar see PARA 716 ante.

2 As to the establishment and maintenance of the register see PARA 717 ante.

3 Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 4(1)(a). 'Personal identification number' means the unique number allocated to each applicant on first registration: r 2.

4 Ibid r 4(1)(b). The home address of a registrant must not be included in any published version of the register without his consent: r 4(2). As to publication of the register see PARA 720 post.

5 'Registrable qualification' means a qualification leading to admission to a part of the register: ibid r 2.

6 Ibid r 4(1)(c).

7 Ibid r 4(1)(d). 'Recordable qualification' means a qualification which is not a registrable qualification and which meets the standards set by the Nursing and Midwifery Council, or is obtained outside the United Kingdom and which the Council is satisfied is equivalent to such a qualification: r 2. As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

9 Ibid r 4(4). As to amendments to the register see PARA 730 post.

719. Parts of the register.

The register<sup>1</sup> must be divided into the following parts<sup>2</sup>: (1) nurses<sup>3</sup>; (2) midwives<sup>4</sup>; and (3) specialist community public health nurses<sup>5</sup>. There are designated titles in relation to each part or sub-part of the register<sup>6</sup>. A title, qualification or other entry<sup>7</sup> which is entered on the register in respect of a registered<sup>8</sup> nurse or midwife whose registered address is in Wales may be entered on the register in Welsh as well as in English<sup>9</sup>. The entries in the register are to include such entry as the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>10</sup> considers appropriate to indicate a qualification held by, or field of practice of, a registrant<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the register see PARA 718 ante.

2 Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, art 2. If a person immediately before 1 August 2004, being the day on which the Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, came into force, was registered in the register maintained under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997, that person must be registered with effect from that date in the appropriate part or sub-part of the register: Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, art 4. As to the appropriate parts or sub-parts of the register see Sch 2. Additional entries included in respect of a nurse or midwife in the register maintained under the Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors Act 1997 immediately before 1 August 2004 must be included in the register with effect from that date: Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, art 5.

3 Ibid Sch 1. The part relating to nurses is divided into two sub-parts, sub-part 1 and sub-part 2: Sch 1.

5 Ibid Sch 1.

6 See ibid art 3. The designated title in relation to the part of the register dealing with nurses (sub-part 1) is 'registered nurse: first level'; the designated title in relation to the part of the register dealing with nurses (sub-part 2) is 'registered nurse: second level'; the designated title in relation to the part of the register dealing with midwives is 'midwife'; and the designated title in relation to the part of the register dealing with specialist community public health nurses is 'specialist community public health nurse': Sch 1. 'Specialist community public health nurse' means a registered nurse or midwife who is also registered in the specialist community public health nurses part of the register: art 2.

7 As referred to in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 6(3): see PARA 717 note 13 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante.

9 Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, art 6.

10 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

11 Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, art 7(1). The following entries are provided for:

170 (1) in the case of a nurse registered in the nurses register sub-part 1, a midwife or a specialist community public health nurse, a qualification to order drugs, medicines and appliances from the District Nurse and Health Visitor Formulary, from the Extended Formulary, or as a supplementary prescriber (art 7(2));

171 (2) in the case of a nurse registered in the nurses register sub-part 1, a recordable qualification in adult nursing, mental health nursing, learning disabilities nursing, children's nursing, general practice nursing, community mental health nursing, community learning disabilities nursing, community children's nursing, and district nursing (art 7(3));

- 172 (3) in the case of a nurse registered in the nurses register sub-part 1 or a midwife, a recordable qualification as a lecturer or practice educator (art 7(4));
- 173 (4) in the case of a nurse registered in the nurses register sub-part 1, his field of practice, that is to say adult nursing, mental health nursing, learning disabilities nursing or children's nursing (art 7(5));
- 174 (5) in the case of a nurse registered in the nurses register sub-part 2, his field of practice, that is to say adult nursing, mental health nursing, learning disabilities nursing, general nursing or fever nursing (art 7(6));
- 175 (6) in the case of a specialist community public health nurse, a qualification in health visiting, occupational health nursing, school nursing or family health nursing which meets the standards set by the Council, or is obtained outside the United Kingdom and which the Council is satisfied is equivalent to such a qualification (art 7(7)).

The Council may also include such entry as it considers appropriate to indicate that a registrant possesses any other qualification (whether or not it is an approved qualification) or competence in a particular field or at a particular level of practice: art 7(8).

'District Nurse and Health Visitor Formulary' means the Nurse Prescribers' Formulary for District Nurses and Health Visitors Appendix in the British National Formulary, or the Nurse Prescribers' Formulary for District Nurses and Health Visitors in the Drug Tariff Pt XVII B(i); 'Extended Formulary' means the Nurse Prescribers' Extended Formulary Appendix in the British National Formulary or the Nurse Prescribers' Extended Formulary in the Drug Tariff Pt XVII B(ii); and 'Drug Tariff' means the drug tariff published under the National Health Service (Pharmaceutical Services) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/662, reg 18 (see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 411): Nurses and Midwives (Parts of and Entries in the Register) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1765, art 2. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

720. Access to register; certificates of registration.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must make the register<sup>2</sup> available for inspection by members of the public at all reasonable times<sup>3</sup> and must publish the register maintained by it in such manner, and at such times, as it considers appropriate<sup>4</sup>.

Any copy of, or extract from, the published register is evidence of the matters mentioned in it<sup>5</sup>. A certificate purporting to be signed by the registrar<sup>6</sup>, certifying that a person:

- 874 (1) is registered in a specified category<sup>7</sup>;
- 875 (2) is not registered<sup>8</sup>;
- 876 (3) was registered in a specified category at a specified date or during a specified period<sup>9</sup>;
- 877 (4) was not registered in a specified category, or in any category, at a specified date or during a specified period<sup>10</sup>; or
- 878 (5) has never been registered<sup>11</sup>,

is evidence of the matters certified<sup>12</sup>.

On application by a registrant<sup>13</sup> who wishes to practise in another EEA state<sup>14</sup>, the Council must provide him with such documentary evidence as is required<sup>15</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(ii) Registration/721. Approved qualifications.

(ii) Registration

721. Approved qualifications.

A person is to be regarded as having an approved qualification<sup>1</sup> if:

- 879 (1) he has a qualification awarded in the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> which has been approved by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>3</sup> as attesting to the standard of proficiency<sup>4</sup> it requires for admission to the part of the register<sup>5</sup> in respect of which he is applying<sup>6</sup>;
  - 880 (2) he is an EEA national<sup>7</sup> and has an EEA qualification<sup>8</sup>; or
  - 881 (3) he has, elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, undergone training in nursing or midwifery and either:
- 158
- 220. (a) holds a qualification which the Council is satisfied attests to a standard of proficiency comparable to that attested to by a qualification referred to in head (1) above<sup>9</sup>; or
  - 221. (b) the Council is not so satisfied, but the applicant has undergone in the United Kingdom or elsewhere such additional training or experience as satisfies the Council, following any test of competence as it may require him to take, that he has the requisite standard of proficiency for admission to the part of the register in respect of which he is applying<sup>10</sup>,
- 159
- 882 and in either case, he is not an EEA national or exempt person<sup>11</sup> and he satisfies prescribed<sup>12</sup> requirements as to knowledge of English<sup>13</sup>.

The Council must determine procedures: (i) to assess whether a qualification awarded outside the United Kingdom is of a comparable standard to a qualification awarded in the United Kingdom<sup>14</sup> and it must, where it sees fit, keep a list of qualifications which are of a comparable standard which it must publish and keep under review<sup>15</sup>; and (ii) to assess other training or professional experience acquired outside the United Kingdom and to compare it, together with qualifications mentioned in head (i) above where appropriate, with the standard of proficiency required for admission to any part of the register<sup>16</sup>.

1 'Approved qualification' has the meaning given to it in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, arts 13, 15 (see PARA 741 post): art 2, Sch 4.

2 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

3 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

4 For the meaning of 'standards of proficiency' see PARA 717 note 3 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 717 note 2 ante. As to the parts of the register see PARA 719 ante.

6 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 13(1)(a).

7 'EEA national' means a national of an EEA state; and 'national', in relation to an EEA state, means the same as it does for the purposes of the Community Treaties but does not include a person who by virtue of the Treaty of Accession Protocol No 3 (Channel Islands and Isle of Man) art 2 is not to benefit from Community provisions relating to the free movement of persons and services: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 4. For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 720 note 14 ante. For the meaning of 'the Community Treaties' see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1; and the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2).

8 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 13(1)(b). For these purposes, an EEA qualification is one obtained outside the United Kingdom, to which an EC directive applies and which the Privy Council has by order designated as being an approved qualification for the purposes of registration in the relevant part of the register: art 14(1). Such an order may provide: (1) that a qualification is designated for the purposes of registration in a particular part of the register only if prescribed conditions required by a directive issued by the Council of the European Communities are fulfilled, and different conditions may be prescribed with respect to the same qualification for different circumstances (art 14(2)(a)); and (2) that the Nursing and Midwifery Council may require the applicant to satisfy specified additional conditions before being registered including the undertaking of training or education, working under supervision or the taking and passing of a test of competence (art 14(2)(b)). A person falling within the definition of 'exempt person' (see note 11 infra) is treated for these purposes as if he were an EEA national: art 14(3). As to the designated qualifications see the European Nursing and Midwifery Qualifications Designation Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1766. As to the exercise by the Privy Council of its powers see PARA 706 ante. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

9 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 13(1)(c)(i).

10 Ibid art 13(1)(c)(ii).

11 'Exempt person' means any person who is not an EEA national but is, by virtue of a right conferred by EC Council Regulation 1612/68 (OJ L257, 19.10.1968, p 2) art 11 or any other enforceable Community right, entitled to be treated for the purposes of access to the nursing or midwifery profession no less favourably than a national of such a state: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, Sch 4. As to the meaning of 'enforceable Community right' see the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(1); and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1.

12 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 695 note 8 ante.

13 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 13(1)(c)(iii). The registrar may require an applicant who is not an EEA national exercising an enforceable Community right, or an exempt person, to produce evidence that he has sufficient knowledge of spoken and written English to enable him to practise as a registered nurse or registered midwife safely and competently in the United Kingdom: Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 9. As to the registrar see PARA 716 ante. For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante.

14 Is a qualification mentioned in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 13(1)(a): see the text to notes 1-6 supra.

15 Ibid art 13(2)(a).

16 Ibid art 13(2)(b). As to offences relating to false claims to qualifications see PARA 784 post.

722. Registration.

A person seeking admission to a part of the register<sup>1</sup> must apply to the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> and if he satisfies the following conditions he is entitled<sup>3</sup> to be registered<sup>4</sup> in that part<sup>5</sup>. The conditions are that: (1) the application is made in the prescribed form and manner<sup>6</sup>; (2) the applicant satisfies the registrar<sup>7</sup> that he holds an approved qualification<sup>8</sup>; (3) the applicant satisfies the registrar<sup>9</sup> that he is capable of safe and effective practice as a nurse or midwife<sup>10</sup>; and (4) he has paid the prescribed fee<sup>11</sup>.

The registrar must give his decision on an application as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event within three months from the date by which the application together with full supporting documentation has been received<sup>12</sup> or, in respect of certain applications<sup>13</sup> within the period specified<sup>14</sup>. The registrar must notify the applicant in writing<sup>15</sup> of his decision and, where that decision is unfavourable to the applicant, of his reasons for reaching that decision, and of the applicant's right of appeal<sup>16</sup>.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council, being the designated authority for the profession of nursing<sup>17</sup> in the United Kingdom<sup>18</sup>, may not, on grounds of inadequate qualifications, refuse to authorise a national of a European Union member state<sup>19</sup>, Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Switzerland to practise the profession on the same conditions as apply to a United Kingdom applicant, if that person holds the diploma required to practise in another such state or can satisfy certain other conditions as to experience and qualifications<sup>20</sup>.

7 For the meaning of 'registrar' see PARA 716 note 2 ante.

8 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 9(2)(a). For the meaning of 'approved qualification' see PARA 721 note 1 ante. The qualification must be awarded: (1) within such period, not exceeding five years ending with the date of the application, as may be prescribed (see art 9(2)(a)(i)); or (2) before the prescribed period, if he has met such requirements as to additional education, training and experience as the Council may specify under art 19(3) (see PARA 745 post) and which apply to him (see art 9(2)(a)(ii)). The prescribed period between the award of an approved qualification and application for registration is five years: Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 7.

Where the applicant is already registered in the register and wishes to be registered in an additional part of the register or to have additional entries recorded, the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 9(2)(a) applies only to the qualifications on which his application is based: art 9(3). In respect of additional qualifications which may be recorded on the register, the Council may establish standards of education and training and art 15(3)-(9) (see PARA 741 post) and arts 16-18 (see PARAS 742-744 post) apply in respect of those standards as if they were standards established under art 15(1)(a) (see PARA 741 post): art 19(6).

9 Ie in accordance with the Council's requirements mentioned in ibid art 5(2): see PARA 717 ante.

16 I.e. under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 37 (see PARAS 732, 733 post): art 9(5). Failure to notify the applicant of the registrar's decision within the time specified in art 9(4) (see the text to notes 12-14 supra) is treated as a decision from which the applicant may appeal under art 37: art 9(6). As to offences in relation to registration see PARA 784 post.

17 I.e. for those registered in sub-part 1 of the nurses' part of the register maintained by the Council (see PARA 719 note 3 ante): European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) (First General System) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/18, reg 2(1), Sch 1 Pt 1.

18 Ibid reg 4(1), Sch 1 Pt 1. 'The United Kingdom', as the context requires, includes any of the following: England and Wales, Scotland, and Northern Ireland: reg 2(2).

19 For the meaning of 'member state' see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1; and the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2), Sch 1 Pt II.

20 See the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) (First General System) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/18, reg 5. As to proof of experience and qualifications see further regs 6-9. A national of a European Union member state, Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Switzerland who has been granted authorisation to practise has the right: (1) to use the professional title and designatory letters applicable to the nursing profession in the United Kingdom; and (2) the lawful academic title, and where appropriate its abbreviation, acquired by him in the relevant state in which he formerly qualified and in the language of that state: reg 10(1)(a), (b). Where a person makes use of an academic title, the Council may require that the title be followed by the name and location of the establishment or examining board which awarded it: reg 10(2).

723. Application for admission to a part of the register.

An application for admission to a part of the register<sup>1</sup> must be: (1) made in writing<sup>2</sup> using the personalised documentation provided by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>3</sup> which must include a declaration by the applicant as to his good health and good character and the other specified information<sup>4</sup>; (2) signed by the applicant<sup>5</sup>; (3) sent or delivered to the registrar<sup>6</sup>; (4) supported by payment of the appropriate fee<sup>7</sup>; (5) accompanied by evidence of his qualification<sup>8</sup> and a supporting declaration as to his good health and good character<sup>9</sup>.

Where an application for registration is made on the basis of an overseas qualification<sup>10</sup> which does not satisfy the registrar that the applicant meets the standards of proficiency required for admission to the register, the application will be retained until the time for making an appeal<sup>11</sup> has elapsed<sup>12</sup> and the applicant will not be entitled to any refund of the fee paid in respect of an unsuccessful application<sup>13</sup>. The applicant may make a new application for registration after the period for an appeal has elapsed and any such application must be accompanied by the relevant fee<sup>14</sup>.

A person who first applies for registration more than five years after being awarded an approved qualification must undertake such education and training or gain such experience as the Council specifies in standards<sup>15</sup>.

725 Determinations as to good health and good character

TEXT AND NOTES--SI 2004/1767 r 6 amended: SI 2007/3101.

726. Registration period.

A person's first registration period<sup>1</sup> begins on the day on which he is first registered<sup>2</sup> in the part of the register<sup>3</sup> concerned<sup>4</sup> and ends on the last day of the month of registration in the third calendar year after the year in which he was first registered<sup>5</sup>. Any subsequent registration in another part of the register ends on the same date<sup>6</sup>.

In respect of any registrant, a registration period subsequent to the first registration period begins on the day after the previous registration period ends and ends on the third anniversary of the day the previous registration period ended<sup>7</sup>. However, if a person's registration lapses and he is thereafter readmitted to the register<sup>8</sup>, his registration period begins on the day on which he is readmitted and ends on the last day of the month of registration in the third calendar year after the year in which he was readmitted<sup>9</sup>; and if a person has been struck off the register and he is thereafter eligible to be restored to the register<sup>10</sup>, his registration period begins on the day on which he is restored to the register and ends on the last day of the month of registration in the third calendar year after the year in which he was restored<sup>11</sup>.

1 'Registration period' is to be construed in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 10: r 2.

2 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante.

3 As to the register and parts of the register see PARAS 718-719 ante.

4 Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 10(1), (3)(a). As to applications for registration see PARA 723 ante.

5 Ibid r 10(1), (3)(b). The first registration period of a person who on 1 August 2004 is transferred to the register from the register maintained under the transitional arrangements relating to the establishment of the register (see PARA 717 note 2 ante) ends on the date that his last renewal of registration on that register would have expired: r 10(1), (2).

6 Ibid r 10(1), (4).

7 Ibid r 10(1), (5).

8 As to readmission to the register see PARA 729 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(ii) Registration/727. Renewal of registration.

727. Renewal of registration.

Where a person is registered<sup>1</sup> and wishes to renew his registration at the end of a prescribed<sup>2</sup> period, he must make an application for renewal to the registrar<sup>3</sup> in accordance with rules<sup>4</sup> made by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>5</sup>. Prior to the last day of a registrant's registration period<sup>6</sup>, the Council must send him the following personalised documentation: (1) an application form for the renewal of his registration requiring him to provide specified information<sup>7</sup>; (2) notice of the renewal fee<sup>8</sup>; and (3) a notice warning him that unless the completed application form, accompanied by the prescribed renewal fee, is received by the registrar on or before the date specified in the notice, his registration will lapse<sup>9</sup>. No later than the date specified in the notice to renew his registration, the registrar must have received: (a) an application on the personalised documentation provided by the Council which must include a declaration by the applicant as to his good health and good character<sup>10</sup>; (b) confirmation from the applicant that he has undertaken continuing professional development<sup>11</sup> and has recorded such learning activity in accordance with standards provided by the Council<sup>12</sup>, and he has practised for no fewer than 450 hours in the three years preceding the date of his application for renewal of his registration<sup>13</sup>; (c) the fee for renewal<sup>14</sup>.

The registrar must grant the application for renewal if the applicant satisfies him that he is capable of safe and effective practice as a nurse or midwife, has paid the prescribed fee<sup>15</sup>, has met any prescribed requirements for continuing professional development within the prescribed time<sup>16</sup>, and where he has not practised, or has practised for less than the prescribed period, since his first registration or, as the case may be, his latest renewal, has met such requirements as to additional education, training or experience as the Council may specify<sup>17</sup> and which apply to him<sup>18</sup>. A registrant's registration in a part of the register lapses<sup>19</sup> at the end of the registration period unless it has been renewed in accordance with the provisions described above<sup>20</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 695 note 8 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'registrar' see PARA 716 note 2 ante.

4 As to such rules see the text to notes 6-14, 19-20 infra. As to the making of rules by the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 701 ante. As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

5 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 10(1). The provisions of art 9(4)-(6) (see PARA 722 ante) apply to such applications: art 10(5).

6 For the meaning of 'registration period' see PARA 726 note 1 ante.

7 Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 11(a). The following information must be provided by the registrant: his surname; his initials; his personal identification number; the date upon which his existing period of registration ends; a declaration that he has complied with r 13(1) (see the text to notes 10-14 infra) in respect of the part or parts of the register in relation to which he is seeking to renew his registration; and a declaration by the registrant as to his good health and good character: r 11(a), Sch 4 para 1. For the meaning of 'personal identification number' see PARA 718 note 3 ante. Any registrant who has been convicted of any criminal offence or been issued with a formal caution, since his registration or last renewal of registration, must provide details of the same in a manner which the Council may from time to time determine: Sch 4 para 2.

Any form, warning or notice sent by the Council or the registrar to a registrant may be sent by post to the last known address for correspondence and is presumed to have been sent on the date which appears on the form, warning or notice: r 12.

10 Ibid r 13(1)(a).

12 Ibid r 13(1)(b)(i).

13 Ibid r 13(1)(b)(ii). A person who has practised for less than 450 hours in the three years preceding the date of an application for renewal of registration must undertake such education and training or gain such experience as the Council specifies in standards in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 19(3) (see PARA 745 post): Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 3(4)(c).

14 Ibid r 13(1)(c). A person who satisfies the Council that he has retired on reaching his occupational retirement age, or on the grounds of ill-health, leaving unexpired any complete year of a registration period, must, on written application to the Council, be given a refund of the proportion of the fee paid by him in respect of each such year: r 17.

15 Ie that he meets the conditions set out in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 9(2)(b), (c) (see PARA 722 ante): art 10(2)(a).

16 Ibid art 10(2)(b). Where an applicant does not satisfy the registrar that he has met the requirements mentioned in art 10(2)(b), (c) (see the text to notes 17-18 infra), the registrar may renew the applicant's registration on condition that he satisfy those requirements within a specified time and if the person fails to comply with the condition, subject to art 12(3) and art 37(3) (see PARAS 728 note 5, 732 post), his registration lapses and, in accordance with prescribed procedure, his name will be removed from the register: art 10(3). When a registrant's registration lapses under art 10(3), the registrar must remove the registrant's name from the register, notifying him accordingly and advising him of his right of appeal under art 37 (see PARAS 732, 733 post) except in cases where art 37(2) applies: Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 14(3).

727 Renewal of registration

TEXT AND NOTES 1-5, 15-18--SI 2002/253 art 10 amended: SI 2007/3101.

NOTE 8--SI 2004/1654 r 3(e) amended: SI 2005/3353, SI 2007/1885.

728. Lapse of registration.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> may make rules<sup>2</sup> providing for the procedure by which and the circumstances in which a registrant's<sup>3</sup> name may be removed from the register<sup>4</sup> on his own application or after the expiry of a specified period<sup>5</sup>. Where a person's name is removed in accordance with such rules or following conditional registration<sup>6</sup>, his registration is referred to as lapsed<sup>7</sup>.

Without prejudice to any other power of the registrar to remove a registrant's name from the register because his registration has lapsed, the registrar may remove a registrant's name from the register upon application made by or on behalf of that registrant<sup>8</sup>. Such an application must be made in writing<sup>9</sup> and must be accompanied by a declaration that the registrant concerned is not aware of any matter which could give rise to an allegation against him<sup>10</sup> that his fitness to practise is impaired or that an entry in the register relating to him has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 As to such rules see the text to notes 8-11 infra. As to the making of rules by the Council see PARA 701 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'registrant' see PARA 717 note 11 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 717 note 2 ante.

5 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 12(1). Any such rules must provide that a person's registration does not lapse under art 10(3) (see PARA 727 note 16 ante) or art 12: (1) where the person concerned is the subject of an allegation, or is treated under art 22(6) (see PARA 748 post) as if he were the subject of an allegation, or is the subject of any investigations or proceedings under Pt V (arts 21-36) (fitness to practise), Pt VI (arts 37-38) (appeals), on the grounds only that he has not paid the prescribed fee or has failed to apply for renewal in the prescribed form or within the prescribed time (art 12(3)(a)); or (2) if the person concerned is the subject of a suspension order, a conditions of practice order, an interim suspension order or an interim conditions of practice order (art 12(3)(b)). As to such orders see PARA 771 post. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 695 note 8 ante.

7 Ibid art 12(2).

8 Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 14(1). However, a registrant's registration does not lapse under r 13 (see PARA 727 ante) or r 14: (1) where the person concerned is the subject of an allegation under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 22(1) (see PARA 748 post), or is treated under art 22(6) (see PARA 748 post) as if he were the subject of an allegation, or is the subject of any investigations or proceedings under Pts V, VI, on the grounds only that he has not paid the prescribed fee in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fees) Rules 2004, SI 2004/1654, or has failed to apply for renewal in the prescribed form or within the prescribed time (Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 14(4)(a)); or (2) if the person concerned is the subject of a suspension order, a conditions of practice order, an interim suspension order or an interim conditions of practice order (r 14(4)(b)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(ii) Registration/729. Readmission to the register.

729. Readmission to the register.

Where a person's registration has lapsed<sup>1</sup>, he may apply to the registrar<sup>2</sup> to be readmitted and the registrar must grant the application if the applicant satisfies him that he is capable of safe and effective practice as a nurse or midwife and has paid the prescribed fee<sup>3</sup>, and that he has met such requirements as to additional education, training or experience as the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>4</sup> may specify<sup>5</sup> and which apply to him<sup>6</sup>.

Where a registrant's registration has lapsed he may, subject to compliance with the Council's requirements as to education and training<sup>7</sup>, apply to the registrar to be readmitted to the register<sup>8</sup>. To allow the Council to take up references, the Council may require of the applicant the names and addresses of at least three referees, two of whom must have known him for at least one out of the previous three years<sup>9</sup>, and one of whom must have worked with him during his most recent period of employment or self-employment, if any<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the lapse of registration see PARAS 727 text to notes 19-20, 728 ante. As to registration see PARA 721 et seq ante.

2 The provisions of the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 9(4)-(6) (see PARA 722 ante) apply to such applications: art 10(5). For the meaning of 'registrar' see PARA 716 note 2 ante.

3 He that he meets the conditions set out in ibid art 9(2)(b), (c) (see PARA 722 ante): art 10(4)(a).

4 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

5 He under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 19(3): see PARA 745 post.

6 Ibid art 10(4)(b).

7 A person whose registration has lapsed and who applies for readmission to the register, unless in the five years before the date of his application for readmission to the register he has practised for at least 750 hours, must undertake such education and training or gain such experience as the Council specifies in standards in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 19(3) (see PARA 745 post): Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 3(4) (b).

8 Ibid r 15(1). Rules 5(1), 6(1) (see PARAS 723, 724 ante) apply to an application for readmission as they apply to an application for admission: r 15(2).

9 Ibid r 15(3)(a).

10 Ibid r 15(3)(b). For an applicant mentioned in r 6(1)(a), (c) (see PARA 724 ante), one of the referees will be required to provide a supporting declaration in accordance with r 6(1)(a), (c): r 15(3)(c).

730. Amendments to the register.

A registrant<sup>1</sup> must notify the registrar<sup>2</sup> in writing<sup>3</sup> within one month<sup>4</sup> of any change in his name or address<sup>5</sup>. The registrar must amend the register<sup>6</sup>, so far as may be necessary: (1) in consequence of any such notification<sup>7</sup>; (2) to give effect to any order made by a practice committee<sup>8</sup>; (3) to give effect to any decision made on an appeal<sup>9</sup>; (4) to reflect any other information which comes to his attention and which in his opinion requires an amendment to be made to the register in order to maintain its accuracy<sup>10</sup>. Before making any amendment under head (1) or head (4) above, the registrar may make such further enquiries, or require such further evidence from the registrant concerned, as appears to him to be appropriate<sup>11</sup>.

731. Registration of visiting EEA nurses and midwives.

A visiting EEA nurse<sup>1</sup> may practise as a nurse responsible for general care during the period specified in his relevant documents<sup>2</sup>, and while he is so practising he is deemed to be registered<sup>3</sup> as a nurse responsible for general care<sup>4</sup>. A visiting EEA midwife is deemed to be registered as a midwife during the period specified in his relevant documents<sup>5</sup>.

Before he provides any services as a nurse or midwife in the United Kingdom, a visiting EEA nurse or midwife<sup>6</sup> must provide the Nursing and Midwifery Council with the relevant documents<sup>7</sup>, and where he is not required to provide evidence of good character and good health before being authorised to practise by the EEA state in which he is lawfully practising, he must satisfy the registrar<sup>8</sup> as to his good character and good health<sup>9</sup>. However, in a case of sudden or urgent necessity, a nurse may provide the documents as soon as possible after he has provided his services as a nurse<sup>10</sup>.

1 'Visiting EEA nurse' and 'visiting EEA midwife' mean a person who: (1) is a national of any EEA state (Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 39(1)(a)); (2) is lawfully practising in an EEA state other than the United Kingdom as a nurse responsible for general care or, as the case may be, as a midwife (art 39(1)(b)); (3) holds the appropriate diploma (art 39(1)(c)); (4) is temporarily in the United Kingdom as a visitor (art 39(1)(d)); and (5) provides the Nursing and Midwifery Council with the relevant documents (art 39(1)(e)). Any person who is not a national of an EEA state, but is, by virtue of a right conferred by EC Council Regulation 1612/68 (OJ L257, 19.10.1968, p 2) art 11 or any other enforceable Community right, entitled to be treated, for the purposes of access to the nursing profession, or the profession of midwifery, no less favourably than a national of such a state, is treated for these purposes as if he were such a national: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 39(2). 'The appropriate diploma' means a diploma, certificate or other evidence of formal qualifications which EEA states are required to recognise in the case of a nurse by the Nursing Directive or, in the case of a midwife, by the Midwifery Directive: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 39(4). For the meaning 'national', in relation to an EEA state, see PARA 721 note 7 ante; and for the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 720 note 14 ante. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante. As to the meaning of 'enforceable Community right' see the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(1); and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1. For the meanings of 'Nursing Directive' and 'Midwifery Directive' see PARA 722 note 12 ante. As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 'Relevant documents', in relation to any person, means: (1) a written declaration stating that he is intending to practise in the United Kingdom as a nurse responsible for general care or, as the case may be, as a midwife, and the address of the place where and the period during which he intends so to practise (Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 39(5)(a)(i), (ii)); and (2) a certificate or certificates issued, not more than 12 months before the date on which the Nursing and Midwifery Council is provided with the relevant documents, by the competent authority of the EEA state in which he is practising certifying that he is lawfully practising as a nurse responsible for general care or, as the case may be, as a midwife in that state, and that he holds an appropriate diploma (art 39(5)(b)(i), (ii)).

3 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante.

4 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 11(1). As to the withdrawal of authority to provide services from visiting EEA nurses see PARA 749 post.

5 Ibid art 11(2). As to the withdrawal of authority to provide services from visiting EEA midwives see PARA 749 post.

6 This provision is without prejudice to the provisions relating to the local supervision of midwives under ibid art 43: see PARA 710 ante.

7 Ibid art 39(3)(a).

8 For the meaning of 'registrar' see PARA 716 note 2 ante.

(iii) Registration Appeals

732. Grounds of appeal.

Where the registrar<sup>1</sup>: (1) refuses an application for registration, readmission or renewal or for the inclusion of an additional entry<sup>2</sup>; (2) in determining such an application imposes additional conditions which must be satisfied before the applicant may be admitted to, readmitted to or retained on the register<sup>3</sup>; (3) removes the name of a registrant<sup>4</sup> from the register on the ground that he has breached a condition in respect of continuing professional development or additional education, training or experience<sup>5</sup> subject to which his registration has effect<sup>6</sup>; or (4) fails<sup>7</sup> to issue a decision<sup>8</sup>, the person aggrieved may appeal to the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>9</sup> within the prescribed period<sup>10</sup>. No appeal lies to the Council where the person aggrieved has been refused registration solely because he has failed to pay the prescribed fee for registration or has failed to apply in the prescribed form and manner<sup>11</sup>. No decision removing a registrant from the register against which an appeal to the Council may be made under these provisions has effect before the expiry of the period within which such an appeal may be made<sup>12</sup> or, if an appeal is made, the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise finally disposed of<sup>13</sup>.

733. Appeals rules.

Any appeal<sup>1</sup> is subject to such rules as the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> may make for the purpose of regulating such appeals<sup>3</sup>. The rules must in particular provide:

- 888 (1) for the quorum of the Council considering such an appeal<sup>4</sup>;
  - 889 (2) that the members considering the appeal are to include registrants<sup>5</sup> and lay members<sup>6</sup> and that the number of members who are registrants may exceed the number of lay members but may not exceed them by more than one<sup>7</sup>;
  - 890 (3) for a panel considering an appeal to consist of no fewer than three members who are to be selected with due regard to the matter under consideration and to include:
- 162
- 224. (a) one registrant registered<sup>8</sup> in the same part of the register<sup>9</sup> as the one in which the person concerned is, or is applying to be, registered<sup>10</sup>;
  - 225. (b) one lay member, who must not be a registered medical practitioner<sup>11</sup>; and
  - 226. (c) where the health of the person concerned is in issue, one registered medical practitioner<sup>12</sup>;
- 163
- 891 (4) for the person presiding to be a Council member<sup>13</sup>;
  - 892 (5) that no one who has been involved in any other capacity in the case to be considered is to be a member of the panel<sup>14</sup>;
  - 893 (6) for the decision to be made by a majority vote of the persons present<sup>15</sup>;
  - 894 (7) in the event of a tie, for the chairman to have an additional casting vote which he must exercise in the favour of the person concerned<sup>16</sup>;
  - 895 (8) for the registrar<sup>17</sup> to be made a party to the proceedings<sup>18</sup>.

A hearing provided for by such rules is to be held: (i) in the United Kingdom country<sup>19</sup> in which the registered address of the person concerned is situated<sup>20</sup>; (ii) if he is not registered and resides in the United Kingdom, in the country in which he resides<sup>21</sup>; or (iii) in any other case, in England<sup>22</sup>.

Each stage in the proceedings must be dealt with expeditiously and the committee concerned may give directions as to the conduct of the case and for the consequences of failure to comply with such directions, which may include the making of an order or refusal of an application if the failure to comply was without reasonable excuse<sup>23</sup>.

733 Appeals rules

TEXT AND NOTE 11--Head 3(b) is now a person who (i) is not and never has been a registered nurse or midwife (and SI 2002/253 art 5(5) (see PARA 717) does not apply for these purposes); (ii) is not and never has been a registered medical practitioner; and (iii) does not hold qualifications which would entitle him to apply for registration as a registered nurse, a registered midwife or a registered medical practitioner: SI 2002/253 art 37(5)(c)(ii)(aa)-(cc) (substituted by SI 2009/1182).

TEXT AND NOTE 16--SI 2002/253 art 37(5)(g) amended: SI 2008/1485.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(iii) Registration Appeals/734. Notices of appeal and hearing.

734. Notices of appeal and hearing.

An appeal<sup>1</sup> must be made by giving notice in writing<sup>2</sup> addressed to the registrar<sup>3</sup> at the offices of the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>4</sup>, and must include the specified information<sup>5</sup>, state that the notice is a notice of appeal<sup>6</sup> and be signed by or on behalf of the appellant<sup>7</sup>. The appellant must attach to the notice of appeal a copy of any documents on which he proposes to rely for the purposes of his appeal<sup>8</sup>.

Upon receiving a valid notice of appeal, the Council must send the appellant a notice acknowledging its receipt and informing the appellant that he may request that a hearing be held<sup>9</sup>, that even if he does not request a hearing the Council may hold one if it considers it to be desirable<sup>10</sup>, and that he may be heard and be represented at such a hearing<sup>11</sup>. If the appellant has requested that a hearing be held, or the Council considers that it would be desirable to hold a hearing, the Council must fix a date on which it is to hear the appeal and send notice to the parties of the day, time and venue for the hearing<sup>12</sup>. The Council must give the appellant at least 28 days notice of the date of such a hearing<sup>13</sup>.

1 'Appeal' means an appeal which is made to the Nursing and Midwifery Council in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 37(1) (see PARA 732 ante): Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 18.

2 Ibid r 21(1). For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante. A reference to the sending of a notice or other document to any person is a reference to it being sent: (1) in the case of the Nursing and Midwifery Council, an appeal panel or the registrar, to the offices of the Council (r 19(1)(a)); (2) in the case of the appellant, to the address identified in his notice of appeal (r 19(1)(b)); and (3) in all other cases, to the last known address of that person (r 19(1)(c)). All communications may be sent by post and any such communication is treated as having been sent on the date which appears on the letter or document: r 19(2). For the meaning of 'appeal panel' see PARA 736 note 3 post.

735. Parties and representation.

The registrar<sup>1</sup> is the respondent in any proceedings<sup>2</sup>. The appellant<sup>3</sup> may be represented in any proceedings by any person, whether or not legally qualified, except a member of the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>4</sup> or any of its committees or a person employed by the Council<sup>5</sup>. Before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice of hearing<sup>6</sup> is sent, the parties must inform the Council whether they intend to attend the hearing, whether they will be represented at it and whether they intend to call any witnesses and, if so, they must provide the names and addresses of their witnesses to the Council<sup>7</sup>. An appellant who does not intend to attend or be represented at a hearing may, before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date on which the hearing is to be held, send to the Council additional written<sup>8</sup> representations in support of his appeal<sup>9</sup>. The Council may invite any person<sup>10</sup> who, in its opinion, has an interest in the proceedings to make written representations and any such representations must be sent to the Council within 14 days of the date on which the invitation is sent to that person<sup>11</sup>.

736. Appeal panels.

Except where the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> considers an appeal itself<sup>2</sup>, an appeal must be considered by an appeal panel<sup>3</sup> appointed by the Council for that purpose<sup>4</sup>. An appeal panel must comprise not fewer than three persons selected with due regard to the matter under consideration and must include: (1) a person who is registered<sup>5</sup> in the same part of the register<sup>6</sup> as that in which the appellant<sup>7</sup> is, or is applying to be, registered<sup>8</sup>; (2) a person who has never been admitted to the register and who is not a registered medical practitioner<sup>9</sup>; and (3) where the health of the appellant is in issue, a registered medical practitioner<sup>10</sup>. A person who has been involved in any other capacity in a case which is to be considered by an appeal panel must not be appointed as a member of that panel<sup>11</sup>. A member of the Council must be appointed as chair<sup>12</sup>. Decisions by an appeal panel are made by a majority vote of those present and, in the event of a tie, the chair has an additional casting vote which must be cast in favour of the appellant<sup>13</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 The quorum of the Council when considering an appeal is seven, and must consist of registrant members and lay members; and the number of members who are registrants may exceed the number of lay members but may not exceed them by more than one: Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 25(2). As to the membership of the Council see PARAS 694-695 ante. Where the Council considers an appeal, references in the Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, to an appeal panel, other than in the definition of 'appeal panel' (see note 3 infra), and r 19(1)(a) (see PARA 734 note 2 ante), r 25(1), (3) (see the text to notes 5-10 infra), are to be construed as references to the Council: r 33. ### 736 Appeal panels

TEXT AND NOTE 9--Head (2) is now a person who (a) is not and never has been a registered nurse or midwife (and SI 2002/253 art 5(5) (see PARA 717) does not apply for these purposes); (b) is not and never has been a registered medical practitioner; and (c) does not hold qualifications which would entitle him to apply for registration as a registered nurse, a registered midwife or a registered medical practitioner: SI 2004/1767 art 25(3)(b)(i)-(iii) (substituted by SI 2009/1182).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(iii) Registration Appeals/737. Powers of appeal panels.

737. Powers of appeal panels.

An appeal panel<sup>1</sup> or the chair<sup>2</sup> may hold a preliminary meeting in private with the parties, their representatives<sup>3</sup> and any other person it or he considers appropriate if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the panel to perform its functions<sup>4</sup>.

An appeal panel may determine an appeal<sup>5</sup> without an oral hearing on the basis of any documents provided by the appellant<sup>6</sup> where: (1) the appellant indicates<sup>7</sup> that he does not wish to attend or be represented at the hearing, or the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>8</sup> does not receive a reply, within the specified time<sup>9</sup>, from the appellant whether he intends to attend the hearing and the panel is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to give notice of the hearing<sup>10</sup>; (2) the panel has notified the appellant and the registrar<sup>11</sup> of its intention to do so<sup>12</sup>; and (3) the panel considers it desirable to do so having taken into account any representations received in response to that notice<sup>13</sup>. If the panel decides to determine an appeal without an oral hearing, it must take into account any written representations provided by any person invited to submit them<sup>14</sup> or written representations from the registrar received by the Council before the beginning of the period of seven days ending with the date on which the panel determines the appeal<sup>15</sup>. Where the Council has fixed a date for a hearing<sup>16</sup> and the appellant has informed the Council that he intends to attend or be represented<sup>17</sup> but he does not attend and is not represented<sup>18</sup>, the panel may nevertheless proceed with the hearing if it is satisfied that all reasonable steps have been taken to give notice of the hearing to the appellant<sup>19</sup>.

An appeal panel, either of its motion or at the request of a party to the hearing, may postpone a hearing at any time before it begins and may adjourn the proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>20</sup>. Where a hearing is postponed the registrar must send the appellant notice of the date on which the panel is to hold the postponed hearing<sup>21</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(3) REGISTRATION OF NURSES AND MIDWIVES/(iii) Registration Appeals/738. Conduct of the hearing.

738. Conduct of the hearing.

The hearing must be held in public unless the appeal panel<sup>1</sup> is satisfied that, in the interests of justice or for the protection of the private life of the appellant<sup>2</sup>, any person giving evidence, or any patient or client, the public should be excluded from all or part of the hearing<sup>3</sup>. At the beginning of the hearing the chair<sup>4</sup> must explain to the parties<sup>5</sup> the order of proceedings which the panel proposes to adopt<sup>6</sup>. The panel may conduct the hearing in such manner as it considers most suitable to the clarification of the issues before it and generally to the just handling of the proceedings and the parties may be heard in such order as the panel determines having regard to the following: (1) the appellant may present his case in support of his appeal<sup>7</sup>; (2) the appellant or any person called on his behalf may be cross-examined by the registrar and, in the case of a person called on his behalf, re-examined by the appellant<sup>8</sup>; (3) the registrar may present his case in support of the decision appealed against or his failure to issue a decision<sup>9</sup>; (4) the registrar or any person called on his behalf may be cross-examined by the appellant and, in the case of a person called on the registrar's behalf, re-examined by the registrar<sup>10</sup>; (5) the registrar may address the panel on his case in respect of the decision appealed against or his failure to issue a decision<sup>11</sup>; and (6) the appellant may address the panel on his case in respect of his appeal<sup>12</sup>. The parties are entitled to give evidence, to call witnesses, to question any witnesses and to address the panel both on the evidence and generally on the subject matter of the appeal<sup>13</sup>.

739. Evidence.

The rules on admissibility of evidence that apply in civil proceedings in the county court apply to a hearing before an appeal panel<sup>1</sup>. However, the panel may hear or receive evidence which would not be admissible in such proceedings if it is satisfied that admission of that evidence is necessary in order to protect members of the public<sup>2</sup>. The panel may require any person, other than the appellant<sup>3</sup>, to attend a hearing and give evidence or produce documents<sup>4</sup>. At any hearing, the panel may, if it is satisfied that it is just and reasonable to do so, permit a party to rely on grounds not stated in the notice of appeal<sup>5</sup> or to adduce any evidence not presented to the registrar before he took the disputed decision<sup>6</sup>. The panel may require evidence to be given on oath or affirmation, and for that purpose may administer oaths or affirmations in an appropriate form<sup>7</sup>. Where the appellant has been convicted of a criminal offence, a certified copy of the certificate of conviction is admissible as proof of that conviction and of the findings of fact upon which it was based<sup>8</sup>.

740. Disposal of cases.

Having considered an appeal, the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> may: (1) dismiss the appeal<sup>2</sup>; (2) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against<sup>3</sup>; (3) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision that the registrar<sup>4</sup> could have made<sup>5</sup>; or (4) remit the case to the registrar to be disposed of in accordance with its directions<sup>6</sup>. The Council must publish its decision as soon as reasonably practicable, together with the reasons for it<sup>7</sup>. However, if the decision is favourable to the person concerned, the Council is not required to publish it unless the person concerned so requests but it may do so with the consent of the person concerned<sup>8</sup>. The person concerned may appeal to a county court against an unfavourable decision made under head (1), (3) or (4) above<sup>9</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(4) EDUCATION AND TRAINING/741. Standards of education and training.

(4) EDUCATION AND TRAINING

741. Standards of education and training.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must from time to time establish the standards of education and training necessary to achieve the standards of proficiency<sup>2</sup> it has established<sup>3</sup>, and the requirements to be satisfied for admission to, and continued participation in, such education and training which may include requirements as to good health and good character<sup>4</sup>. So far as is necessary to implement the requirements provided for in the Second Nursing Directive and the Second Midwifery Directive<sup>5</sup>, the standards and requirements must be set out in rules<sup>6</sup> made by the Council<sup>7</sup>.

The Council must ensure that universities and other bodies in the United Kingdom<sup>8</sup> concerned with such education and training are notified of the standards and requirements established by it<sup>9</sup>, and must take appropriate steps to satisfy itself that those standards and requirements are met<sup>10</sup>. The Council must from time to time publish a statement of the criteria which will be taken into account in deciding whether to give approval of a course of education or training, qualifications and other tests or institutions<sup>11</sup>; and must maintain and publish a list of the courses of education or training, qualifications and institutions which are for the time being approved<sup>12</sup>, or which have been approved but which are no longer so approved together with a record of the periods in respect of which they were approved<sup>13</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'standards of proficiency' see PARA 717 note 3 ante.

3 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 15(1)(a). Such standards must include such matters as the outcomes to be achieved by that education and training: art 15(3). A reference to education or training includes any course of education or training or test referred to in art 15(6) (see note 10 infra): art 15(10).

4 Ibid art 15(1)(b). Before establishing such requirements, the Council must consult such of those persons mentioned in art 3(14) (see PARA 692 ante) as it considers appropriate: art 15(4).

5 'Second Nursing Directive' means EC Council Directive 77/453 (OJ L176, 15.7.77, p 8) concerning the co-ordination of provisions laid down by law, regulation or administrative action in respect of the activities of nurses responsible for general care, as adapted, amended or extended by the Accession of Greece Act, EC Council Directive 81/1057 (OJ L385, 31.12.81, p 25), the Accession of Spain and Portugal Act, EC Council Directive 89/595 (OJ L341, 23.11.89, p 30), EC Council Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 13.7.2001, p 1), the EEA Agreement and the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act; and 'Second Midwifery Directive' means EC Council Directive 80/155 (OJ L033, 11.2.80, p 8), concerning the co-ordination of provisions laid down by law, regulation or administrative action relating to the taking up and pursuit of the activities of midwives, as adapted, amended or extended by the Accession of Spain and Portugal Act, EC Council Directive 89/594 (OJ L341, 23.11.89, p 19), EC Council Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 13.7.2001, p 1), the EEA Agreement and the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 2, Sch 4. For the meanings of 'the Accession of Greece Act', 'the Accession of Spain and Portugal Act', and 'the Accession of Austria, Finland and Sweden Act' see PARA 722 note 12 ante. 7 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 15(2). As to the rules that have been made see the Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767; and note 10 infra.

8 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

9 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 15(5)(a).

10 Ibid art 15(5)(b). In performing this function, the Council may in particular, approve, or arrange with others to approve: (1) a course of education or training which the Council is satisfied confers or would confer on persons completing it successfully the established standards of proficiency (art 15(6)(a)); (2) qualifications which are granted following success in an examination, or some other appropriate assessment, taken as part of an approved course of education or training (art 15(6)(b)); (3) institutions which the Council considers to be properly organised and equipped for conducting the whole or part of an approved course of education or training (art 15(6)(c)); (4) such tests of competence or knowledge of English as it may require (art 15(6)(d)). In connection with art 15(6), the Council may approve or arrange with others to approve a course of education or training run outside the United Kingdom by an institution to which head (3) supra applies: art 15(7). 'Approved course of education or training' means a course approved under art 15(6)(a): Sch 4.

Where an approved programme of education leads to the award of a qualification listed in the Annex to the Nursing Directive or the Annex to the Midwifery Directive, it must comply with the training requirements in the Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767: art 3(1). For the requirements see Sch 1 para 1, 2(b), 3, 4, A, B, Sch 2 paras 1, 2, 3, 4, A, B. The requirements for entry to an approved programme of education must include the specified requirements: art 3(2). For the specified requirements see Sch 1 para 2(a), Sch 2 para 2. NOTE 7--SI 2002/253 art 15(2) amended: SI 2007/3101.

742. Visitors.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint visitors<sup>2</sup> to visit any place at which or institution by which or under whose direction<sup>3</sup>: (1) any relevant course of education or training<sup>4</sup> is, or is proposed to be, given<sup>5</sup>; (2) any examination or other assessment is, or is proposed to be, held in connection with any such course<sup>6</sup>; (3) any test of competence<sup>7</sup> is, or is proposed to be, conducted in connection with any such course or for any other purposes<sup>8</sup> connected with the professions of nursing and midwifery<sup>9</sup>. A person is not prevented from being a visitor merely because he is a member of the Council or any of its committees<sup>10</sup> or a screener<sup>11</sup>, but no person may be a visitor if he is employed by the Council<sup>12</sup>. No visitor may exercise his functions as visitor in relation to any place at which he regularly gives instruction in any subject<sup>13</sup>, or any institution with which he has a significant connection<sup>14</sup>. Visitors must be selected with due regard to the profession with which the education and training they are to report on is concerned and at least one of the visitors must be registered<sup>15</sup> in that part of the register<sup>16</sup> which relates to that profession<sup>17</sup>.

Where a visitor visits any place or institution in the exercise of his functions as visitor, he must report to the Council on the nature and quality of the instruction given, or to be given, and the facilities provided or to be provided, at that place or by that institution<sup>18</sup>, and on such other matters, if any, as the Council requires<sup>19</sup>. Where a visitor reports to the Council, the Council must on receipt of the report send a copy of it to the institution concerned<sup>20</sup>, and notify that institution of the period within which it may make observations on the report<sup>21</sup>. The Council must not take any steps in the light of any visitor's report before the end of the specified period<sup>22</sup>. The Council must publish such reports together with, on the request of the institution concerned, the response of that institution to the report<sup>23</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 The Council may make such provision in respect of visitors as it may determine: (1) for the payment of fees and allowances, including the payment of allowances to employers of visitors for the purposes of enabling visitors to perform functions as visitors (Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 16(13)(a)); (2) for the reimbursement of such expenses as visitors may reasonably have incurred in the course of carrying out their visitor's functions (art 16(13)(b)). 'Visitors' means persons appointed under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 16: art 2, Sch 4.

3 Ibid art 16(1).

4 'Relevant course of education or training' means any course of education or training which forms, or is intended to form, part of an approved course of education or training or any course which a registrant may be required to undergo after registration in accordance with rules made by the Council: ibid art 16(3). For the meaning of 'approved course of education or training' see PARA 741 note 10 ante. For the meaning of 'registrant' see PARA 717 note 11 ante. As to registration see PARA 721 et seq ante. As to post registration training see PARA 745 post.

5 Ibid art 16(1)(a).

- 19 Ibid art 16(7)(b). Such requirements may be imposed by the Council generally in relation to all visits made to a specified kind of place or institution or in respect of a specified type of course, or specifically in relation to a particular visit: art 16(8).
- 20 Ibid art 16(9)(a).
- 21 Ibid art 16(9)(b). The period specified by the Council in such a notice must be not less than one month beginning with the date on which a copy of the report is sent to the institution concerned: art 16(10). For the meaning of 'month' see PARA 13 note 14 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(4) EDUCATION AND TRAINING/743. Information to be given by institutions.

743. Information to be given by institutions.

Any institution in the United Kingdom<sup>1</sup> by which, or under whose direction, whether inside or outside the United Kingdom, any relevant course of education or training<sup>2</sup> is, or is proposed to be, given<sup>3</sup>, or any test of competence<sup>4</sup> is, or is proposed to be, conducted in connection with any such course or for any other purpose<sup>5</sup> connected with the professions of nursing or midwifery<sup>6</sup> must, whenever required to do so by the Nursing and Midwifery Council, give to the Council such information and assistance as the Council may reasonably require in connection with the exercise of its functions<sup>7</sup>. Where an institution refuses any such reasonable request for information made by the Council, the Council may<sup>8</sup> refuse to approve, or withdraw approval from, as the case may be, any education, training, qualification or institution to which the information relates<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'relevant course of education or training' see PARA 742 note 4 ante; definition applied by the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 17(2). A reference in art 17 to education or training includes any course of education or training or test referred to in art 15(6) (see PARA 741 note 10 ante): art 17(5).

3 Ibid art 17(1)(a).

4 For the meaning of 'any test of competence' see PARA 742 note 7 ante. Although this definition is stated in ibid art 16(2) to apply to arts 16, 18, it is submitted that it is intended that it apply to arts 16, 17 as there is no reference to 'any test of competence' in art 18.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(4) EDUCATION AND TRAINING/744. Refusal or withdrawal of approval of courses, qualifications and institutions.

744. Refusal or withdrawal of approval of courses, qualifications and institutions.

Where, as a result of any visitor's report<sup>1</sup> or other information acquired by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>2</sup> and taking account of the observations received from the institution<sup>3</sup>, the Council is of the opinion that the standards of education and training established by it<sup>4</sup> are not, or will not be, met by particular education or training or that an institution is not observing the appropriate requirements<sup>5</sup>, it may refuse to approve, or withdraw approval from, as the case may be, any education, training, qualification or institution to which that opinion relates<sup>6</sup>.

In making any decision to refuse or to withdraw approval, the Council must act as follows<sup>7</sup>. The Council must notify the institution concerned, setting out its reasons<sup>8</sup>, and inform the institution of the period within which it may make observations on the matters raised<sup>9</sup>. The Council may take no further steps before such period has expired<sup>10</sup>. If, taking account of the matters which led it to form its initial opinion<sup>11</sup> and any observations submitted by the institution, the Council decides that it is appropriate to refuse or withdraw approval, it must notify the institution accordingly<sup>12</sup>. Such a decision has effect from the date of the decision or from such later date as may be specified in the decision<sup>13</sup>.

Where approval is withdrawn, the Council must use its best endeavours to secure that any person, who is undertaking the education or training concerned or is studying for the qualification concerned or is studying at the institution concerned at the time when recognition is withdrawn, is given the opportunity to follow approved education or training or to study for an approved qualification<sup>14</sup> or to study at an approved institution<sup>15</sup>. The withdrawal of approval from any education or training, qualification or institution does not affect the entitlement of any person to be registered<sup>16</sup> on the basis of an award to him, before the date on which the decision withdrawing approval had effect, of the qualification concerned<sup>17</sup> or any qualification awarded in connection with any education or training<sup>18</sup>, or by an institution<sup>19</sup>, from which approval has been withdrawn<sup>20</sup>.

745. Post-registration training.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> may make rules<sup>2</sup> requiring registrants<sup>3</sup> to undertake such continuing professional development as it may specify in standards<sup>4</sup>. The rules may, in particular, make provision with respect to registrants who fail to comply with any requirements of the rules, including making provision for their registration to cease to have effect<sup>5</sup>. The Council may by rules require persons who have not practised, or who have not practised for or during a prescribed<sup>6</sup> period, to undertake such education or training or to gain such experience as it may specify in standards<sup>7</sup>.

If the Council makes rules under these provisions, it must establish the standards<sup>8</sup> to be met in relation to continuing professional development<sup>9</sup> and the education or training required<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 As to the rules that have been made see the Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767; and notes 4, 7 infra. As to the making of rules by the Council see PARA 701 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'registrant' see PARA 717 note 11 ante.

4 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 19(1). A registrant must undertake such continuing professional development as the Council may specify in standards in accordance with art 19(1): Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 3(3). In respect of additional qualifications which may be recorded on the register, the Council may establish standards of education and training, and the provisions of the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 15(3)-(9) (see PARA 741 ante), arts 16-18 (see PARAS 742-744 ante) apply in respect of those standards as if they were standards established under art 15(1)(a) (see PARA 741 ante): art 19(6). For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 717 note 2 ante. As to registration see PARA 722 ante.

5 Ibid art 19(2).

6 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 695 note 8 ante.

7 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 19(3). A person applying for registration, renewal or readmission:

176 (1) who first applies for registration more than five years after being awarded an approved qualification (Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 3(4)(a));

177 (2) whose registration has lapsed and who applies for readmission to the register, unless in the five years before the date of his application for readmission to the register he has practised for at least 750 hours (r 3(4)(b)); or

178 (3) who has practised for less than 450 hours in the three years preceding the date of an application for renewal of registration (r 3(4)(c)), must undertake such education and training or gain such experience as the Council specifies in standards in accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 19(3): Nursing and Midwifery (Education, Registration and Registration Appeals) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1767, r 3(4). As to renewal of registration and readmission to the register see PARAS 727, 729 ante.

8 The provisions of the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 15(3)-(9) (see PARA 741 ante), arts 16-18 (see PARAS 742-744 ante) apply in respect of those standards as if they were standards established under art 15(1)(a) (see PARA 741 ante) (art 19(4)); and in those provisions, references to 'education and training' are, for these purposes, treated as being references to education, training or experience (art 19(5)).

(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE

(i) In general

747. Standards of conduct, performance and ethics.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must establish and keep under review: (1) the standards of conduct, performance and ethics expected of registrants<sup>2</sup> and prospective registrants and give them such guidance on these matters as it sees fit<sup>3</sup>; and (2) effective arrangements to protect the public from persons whose fitness to practise is impaired<sup>4</sup>. Before establishing any such standards or arrangements, the Council must consult the conduct and competence committee<sup>5</sup> in addition to the specified persons<sup>6</sup>. The Council may also from time to time give guidance to registrants, employers and such other persons as it thinks appropriate in respect of standards for the education and training, supervision and performance of persons who provide services in connection with those provided by registrants<sup>7</sup>.

The Council may disclose to any person any information relating to a person's fitness to practise which it considers it to be in the public interest to disclose<sup>8</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTE 6--The reference to establishing standards of conduct, performance and ethics is omitted and the Council no longer needs to consult the conduct and

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(i) In general/748. Allegations.

748. Allegations.

The following provisions apply where any allegation<sup>1</sup> is made against a registrant<sup>2</sup> to the effect that:

- 896 (1) his fitness to practise is impaired by reason of:
- 164
- 227. (a) misconduct<sup>3</sup>;
  - 228. (b) lack of competence<sup>4</sup>;
  - 229. (c) a conviction or caution in the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup> for a criminal offence, or a conviction elsewhere for an offence which, if committed in England and Wales, would constitute a criminal offence<sup>6</sup>;
  - 230. (d) his physical or mental health<sup>7</sup>; or
  - 231. (e) a determination by a body in the United Kingdom responsible under any enactment<sup>8</sup> for the regulation of a health or social care profession to the effect that his fitness to practise is impaired, or a determination by a licensing body elsewhere to the same effect<sup>9</sup>;
- 165
- 897 (2) an entry in the register<sup>10</sup> relating to him has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>11</sup>.

When an allegation is made to the Nursing and Midwifery Council or any of its committees<sup>12</sup>, as soon as reasonably practicable after receipt of the allegation in the form required by the Council, the Council must refer it, where it is an allegation relating to a fraudulently procured or incorrectly made entry in the register, to the investigating committee<sup>13</sup>. Any other case must be referred to screeners<sup>14</sup> or to a practice committee<sup>15</sup>. If no allegation is made but it appears to the Council that there should be an investigation into the fitness to practise of a registrant or into his entry in the register, it may refer the matter in the same manner<sup>16</sup>.

1 These provisions are not prevented from applying because the allegation is based on a matter alleged to have occurred outside the United Kingdom or at a time when the person against whom the allegation is made was not registered: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 22(3). For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registrant' see PARA 717 note 11 ante. While the registration of a registrant is suspended by virtue of a suspension order or an interim suspension order he is treated as not being registered notwithstanding that his name still appears in the register but this does not prevent action being taken in respect of such a person as appropriate under arts 22-32 (see infra and PARA 751 et seq post): art 22(8). As to suspension orders and interim suspension orders see PARAS 768, 771 post.

3 Ibid art 22(1)(a)(i). As to the procedure for dealing with allegations of misconduct received by the Nursing and Midwifery Council before 1 August 2004 see the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (Transitional Provisions) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1762, arts 2, 4-6. As to what constitutes misconduct see PARAS 143, 456 ante. Misconduct is not confined to matters connected with a person's ability to perform the duties properly as a nurse or midwife and if the committee is satisfied from the facts and circumstances of the case that a person is unfit by his conduct to act as such, it is entitled to remove that person from the register. Each case depends on its own facts, and it is for the committee to judge the fitness of the person concerned: Stock v Central Midwives Board [1915] 3 KB 756, DC. See also Dennis v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting (1993) 13 BMLR 146, [1993] 23 LS Gaz R 43, 137 Sol Jo LB 131 (motoring offences). The question whether the behaviour of a person amounts to conduct unworthy of a nurse or midwife is pre-eminently one for the decision of the committee and notwithstanding that there is no evidence to suggest that a person misconducted himself while at work in the performance of his duties as a nurse especially, the committee is entitled to reach the conclusion that removal from the register is the appropriate penalty: Jhugroo v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting (1991) 8 BMLR 103, DC. Removal from the register should only be imposed in the most serious cases: Dennis v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting supra. See also Singh v United Kingdom Central Council (26 June 1985, unreported), DC.

5 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

6 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 22(1)(a)(iii). For these purposes, references to a conviction include a conviction by a court martial: art 22(2). As to courts-martial see ARMED FORCES. The purpose of giving a disciplinary committee powers over a professional person who has been convicted of crime is not to punish him for a second time for the same offence but to protect the public who may come to him as patients and to maintain the high standards and good reputation of an honourable profession: Ziderman v General Dental Council [1976] 2 All ER 334, [1976] 1 WLR 330, PC. The maxim that a person ought not to be punished twice for the same offence does not apply to proceedings before a disciplinary committee: R v Statutory Committee of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, ex p Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain [1981] 2 All ER 805, [1981] 1 WLR 886, DC. If the disciplinary committee is considering striking off, it must satisfy itself that the criminal offence is of so grave a character as to show that the professional person is unfit to continue to practise: Ziderman v General Dental Council supra; Dennis v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting (1993) 13 BMLR 146, [1993] 23 LS Gaz R 43, 137 Sol Jo LB 131.

NOTES 3, 7--SI 2004/1762 art 4 amended: SI 2006/1441.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(i) In general/749. Fitness to practise of visiting EEA nurses and midwives.

749. Fitness to practise of visiting EEA nurses and midwives.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> may refer for determination to whichever practice committee<sup>2</sup> it thinks fit<sup>3</sup> the question whether the provisions relating to visiting EEA nurses or midwives<sup>4</sup> should cease to apply to a particular visiting nurse or midwife because his fitness to practise is impaired by reason of misconduct or some other matter<sup>5</sup> or because authorisation to practise has been fraudulently procured or granted in error<sup>6</sup>. Where it is determined that such provisions should cease to apply to any person, he ceases to be a visiting EEA nurse or, as the case may be, a visiting EEA midwife<sup>7</sup>, ceases to be deemed to be registered<sup>8</sup>, and is not entitled to be treated as a visiting EEA nurse or midwife before the expiry of such period, if any, as may be specified in the determination, or, if no such period is specified, without the written consent of the Council<sup>9</sup>. A person in respect of whom such a determination is made may appeal to the High Court of Justice<sup>10</sup>.

750. Screeners.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> may by rules provide for the appointment of persons, to be known as 'screeners'<sup>2</sup>, to whom allegations may be referred<sup>3</sup>. Any such rules must provide that<sup>4</sup>:

- 898 (1) any matter referred to the screeners must be considered by a panel of at least two screeners<sup>5</sup>;
- 899 (2) the panel must include at least one lay person<sup>6</sup> and one registrant<sup>7</sup> selected with due regard to the professional field of the person concerned and to the matter under consideration<sup>8</sup>;
- 900 (3) the number of registrants on any panel may not exceed the number of lay persons<sup>9</sup>;
- 901 (4) screeners have the functions of considering the allegation and establishing whether, in their opinion, power is given<sup>10</sup> to deal with it if it proves to be well founded<sup>11</sup>;
- 902 (5) if in their opinion such power is given, they must refer the matter together with a report of the result of their consideration to such practice committee as they see fit<sup>12</sup>;
- 903 (6) if in their opinion such power is not given, they must close the case, provided that if there are two screeners the lay person agrees<sup>13</sup>, or if there are more than two screeners it is the decision of the majority<sup>14</sup>;
- 904 (7) where requested to do so by any practice committee, screeners have the function of mediating in any case with the aim of dealing with the allegation without it being necessary for the case to reach the stage at which the health committee or conduct and competence committee<sup>15</sup>, as the case may be, would arrange a hearing<sup>16</sup>;
- 905 (8) in the event that mediation fails, the screeners must refer the matter back to the practice committee which referred it to them<sup>17</sup>.

The Council may make such provision in respect of screeners as it may determine: (a) for the payment of fees and allowances, including the payment of allowances to their employers, for the purpose of enabling screeners to perform their functions as screeners<sup>18</sup>; and (b) for the reimbursement of such expenses as the screeners may reasonably have incurred in the course of carrying out those functions<sup>19</sup>.

A person is not prevented from being a screener merely because he is a member of the Council or any of its committees, other than a practice committee<sup>20</sup>, or a visitor<sup>21</sup>. However, a person may not be a screener if he is a member of a practice committee<sup>22</sup>, or a legal, medical or registrant assessor<sup>23</sup>, or employed by the Council<sup>24</sup>; and no person may act as a screener in respect of a particular case if he has been involved in that case in any other capacity<sup>25</sup>.

1 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

2 'Screeners' means persons appointed under the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 23: art 2, Sch 4.

- 12 Ibid art 24(3)(b). For the meaning of 'practice committee' see PARA 699 note 3 ante.
- 13 Ibid art 24(3)(c)(i). If this provision is not satisfied, the screeners must refer the matter to such practice committee as they see fit: art 24(3)(c). If the screeners decide that power is not given to deal with the allegation, the registrar must inform the person making the allegation, giving reasons: art 24(5). For the meaning of 'registrar' see PARA 716 note 2 ante.
- 14 Ibid art 24(3)(c)(ii). If this provision is not satisfied, the screeners must refer the matter to such practice committee as they see fit: art 24(3)(c). See also note 13 supra.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(i) In general/751. Council's power to require disclosure of information.

751. Council's power to require disclosure of information.

For the purpose of assisting in carrying out functions in respect of fitness to practise, a person authorised by a practice committee<sup>1</sup> may require any person<sup>2</sup>, other than the person concerned<sup>3</sup>, who in his opinion is able to supply information or produce any document which appears relevant to the discharge of any such function, to supply such information or produce such a document<sup>4</sup>. However, this provision does not apply in relation to the supplying of information or the production of any document which a person could not be compelled to supply or produce in civil proceedings in any court to which an appeal would lie from a decision of the practice committee in respect of the allegation with which it is dealing<sup>5</sup>.

As soon as is reasonably practicable after a decision has been made<sup>6</sup> to refer an allegation or other matter to a practice committee, the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>7</sup> must require from the person concerned details of: (1) any person by whom he is employed to provide services in, or in relation to, nursing or midwifery<sup>8</sup>, or with whom he has an arrangement to provide such services<sup>9</sup>; and (2) any body by which he is authorised to practise, in the United Kingdom<sup>10</sup> or elsewhere, a health or social care profession which is regulated under any enactment<sup>11</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'practice committee' see PARA 699 note 3 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'person' see PARA 7 note 5 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'the person concerned' see PARA 750 note 8 ante.

4 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 25(1). Nothing in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253 (as amended), and particularly nothing in art 25, requires or permits any disclosure of information which is prohibited by or under any other enactment: arts 3(18), 25(3). However, where information is held in a form in which the prohibition operates because the information is capable of identifying an individual, the person authorised by the committee may, in exercising his functions, require that the information be put into a form which is not capable of identifying that individual: art 25(4). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 4 note 1 ante.

A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with any requirement imposed by the Nursing and Midwifery Council or a practice committee under art 25(1), (2) (see the text to notes 6-11 infra) is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: art 44(4), (5). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante.

5 Ibid art 25(5). For the purposes of art 25(5), 'enactment' includes an enactment comprised in, or in an instrument made under, an Act of the Scottish Parliament: art 25(6). ### UPDATE

751 Council's power to require disclosure of information

TEXT AND NOTE 4--The power to require disclosure is now for the purpose of assisting the Nursing and Midwifery Council or any of its practice committees in carrying out functions in respect of fitness to practise, and the person requiring disclosure must now be a person authorised by the Council: SI 2002/253 art 25(1) (amended by SI 2009/1182).

TEXT AND NOTE 5--The exception now relates to disclosure which a person could not be compelled to make in civil proceedings in any court to which an appeal would lie from a decision of a practice committee with regard to the person concerned: SI 2002/253 art 25(5) (amended by SI 2009/1182).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(i) In general/752. Investigation of allegations: procedural rules.

752. Investigation of allegations: procedural rules.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> as to the procedure to be followed by the health committee and the conduct and competence committee<sup>3</sup> in considering any allegation<sup>4</sup> and before making a striking-off order, a suspension order, a conditions of practice order or a caution order<sup>5</sup>. The rules must, in particular, make provision:

- 906 (1) empowering each committee to refer to the other any allegation which it considers would be better dealt with by that other committee<sup>6</sup>;
- 907 (2) empowering each committee, before it holds any hearing to which head (6) below applies, where it considers that it would assist it in performing its functions, to hold a preliminary meeting in private attended by the parties<sup>7</sup> and their representatives and any other person it thinks appropriate<sup>8</sup>;
- 908 (3) requiring the person concerned to be given notice of the allegation without delay<sup>9</sup>;
- 909 (4) giving the person concerned an opportunity to submit written representations within a prescribed period<sup>10</sup>;
- 910 (5) for the committee, where it sees fit, to notify the person making the allegation of those representations and to invite him to deal within a prescribed period with any points raised by the committee in respect of those representations<sup>11</sup>;
- 911 (6) giving the person concerned an opportunity to put his case at a hearing if before the end of the prescribed period he asks for a hearing<sup>12</sup>, or the committee considers that a hearing is desirable<sup>13</sup>;
- 912 (7) entitling the person concerned to be represented, whether by a legally qualified person or otherwise, at any such hearing<sup>14</sup>;
- 913 (8) where an allegation is referred by the Council, screeners<sup>15</sup> or the investigating committee<sup>16</sup> to the health committee or the conduct and competence committee, for the Council to give notice of that referral to specified persons<sup>17</sup> and, where they are known, to any person by whom the person concerned is employed or with whom he has an arrangement to provide services and any body by which he is authorised to practise<sup>18</sup>;
- 914 (9) giving any person, other than the person concerned, who, in the opinion of the relevant committee, taking account of any criteria included in the rules, has an interest in proceedings before it, the opportunity to submit written representations<sup>19</sup>;
- 915 (10) requiring a hearing before a committee to be held in public except in so far as may be provided by the rules<sup>20</sup>;
- 916 (11) requiring the committee to notify the person concerned of its decision, of its reasons for reaching that decision and of his right of appeal<sup>21</sup>;
- 917 (12) requiring the person by whom the allegation was made to be notified by the committee of its decision and of its reasons for reaching that decision<sup>22</sup>;
- 918 (13) empowering the committee to require persons, other than the person concerned, to attend and give evidence or to produce documents<sup>23</sup>;
- 919 (14) about the admissibility of evidence<sup>24</sup>;
- 920 (15) enabling the committee to administer oaths<sup>25</sup>;
- 921 (16) where the person concerned has been convicted of a criminal offence, for the conviction to be proved by the production of a certified copy of the certificate of conviction relating to the offence and for the findings of fact upon which the conviction is based to be admissible as proof of those facts<sup>26</sup>.

Each stage in proceedings relating to fitness to practise must be dealt with expeditiously and the committee concerned may give directions as to the conduct of the case and for the consequences of failure to comply with such directions, which may include the making of an order or refusal of an application if the failure to comply was without reasonable excuse<sup>27</sup>.

752 Investigation of allegations: procedural rules

NOTE 8--SI 2002/253 art 32(4) amended: SI 2008/1485.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(i) In general/753. Appointment and functions of legal assessors.

753. Appointment and functions of legal assessors.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> must appoint legal assessors<sup>2</sup>. Legal assessors have the general function of giving advice to screeners<sup>3</sup>, the practice committees<sup>4</sup>, the registrar<sup>5</sup> or the Council<sup>6</sup>, on questions of law arising in connection with any matter which any of those persons is considering<sup>7</sup>. They have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules made by the Council<sup>8</sup>. The Privy Council<sup>9</sup> may make provision by order with regard to the functions of legal assessors and, in particular, provision may be made: (1) requiring legal assessors when advising the Council or any of its committees to do so in the presence of the parties or their representatives or, where advice is given in private, requiring the parties to be notified of the advice tendered by the legal assessors<sup>10</sup>; (2) requiring the parties to be notified in any case where the legal assessor's advice is not accepted<sup>11</sup>.

To be qualified for appointment as a legal assessor, a person must: (a) have a ten year general qualification<sup>12</sup>; or (b) be an advocate or solicitor in Scotland of at least ten years' standing<sup>13</sup>; or (c) be a member of the Bar of Northern Ireland of at least ten years' standing<sup>14</sup>. No person may be a legal assessor if he is a member of the Council<sup>15</sup>, a member of a practice committee<sup>16</sup>, a screener, a visitor<sup>17</sup>, a medical or registrant assessor<sup>18</sup>, or employed by the Council<sup>19</sup>. The Council may make such provision in respect of legal assessors as it may determine for the payment of fees and allowances, including the payment of allowances to employers of legal assessors for the purposes of enabling legal assessors to perform their functions as legal assessors<sup>20</sup>, and for the reimbursement of such expenses as the legal assessors may reasonably have incurred in the course of carrying out those functions<sup>21</sup>.

754. Tendering of advice by legal assessors.

At a hearing<sup>1</sup> before: (1) the investigating committee<sup>2</sup> which relates to an allegation<sup>3</sup> that an entry in the register<sup>4</sup> has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made or any matter which is treated as such an allegation<sup>5</sup>, or whether to make, revoke, confirm, vary or replace an interim order<sup>6</sup>; (2) the health committee<sup>7</sup>; (3) the conduct and competence committee<sup>8</sup>; or (4) the Nursing and Midwifery Council on an appeal against a decision of the registrar<sup>9</sup>, any advice tendered by a legal assessor<sup>10</sup> to the Council or a committee must be given in the presence of every party, or person representing a party, in attendance at the hearing<sup>11</sup>. However, where the Council or a committee has begun to deliberate on its decision<sup>12</sup> and considers that it would be prejudicial to the discharge of its functions for the advice to be tendered in the presence of the parties or their representatives<sup>13</sup>, the advice may be given in the absence of the parties or their representatives<sup>14</sup>. Where the advice is given in the absence of the parties or their representatives, the legal assessor must, as soon as practicable after completion of the deliberations, inform each of the parties or their representatives in attendance at the hearing of the advice he gave, together with any question which led to that advice<sup>15</sup>, and subsequently record those matters in writing and give a copy to those parties or their representatives<sup>16</sup>. Copies of such written advice must be available, on application, to every party to the proceedings who does not attend, and is not represented at, the hearing before the Council or the committee<sup>17</sup>.

1 'Hearing' does not include any preliminary meeting held by a committee pursuant to the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 18 (see PARA 774 post) or any private meeting of a committee; and 'committee', except in the title of a committee, means the investigating committee, the health committee or the conduct and competence committee: Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (Legal Assessors) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1763, art 1(2).

755. Medical assessors.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>1</sup> may appoint registered medical practitioners<sup>2</sup> to be medical assessors<sup>3</sup>. Medical assessors have the general function of giving advice to screeners<sup>4</sup>, the practice committees<sup>5</sup>, the registrar<sup>6</sup> or the Council<sup>7</sup>, on matters within their professional competence in connection with any matter which any of those persons is considering<sup>8</sup>. Medical assessors also have such other functions as may be conferred on them by rules made by the Council<sup>9</sup>. No person may be a medical assessor if he is a member of the Council<sup>10</sup>, a member of a practice committee<sup>11</sup>, a screener, a visitor<sup>12</sup>, a legal or registrant assessor<sup>13</sup>, or employed by the Council<sup>14</sup>. The Council may make such provision in respect of medical assessors as it may determine for the payment of fees and allowances, including the payment of allowances to employers of medical assessors for the purposes of enabling medical assessors to perform their functions as medical assessors<sup>15</sup>, and for the reimbursement of such expenses as the medical assessors may reasonably have incurred in the course of carrying out those functions<sup>16</sup>.

(ii) The Investigating Committee

757. Functions of the investigating committee.

The investigating committee<sup>1</sup> must investigate any allegation which is referred to it<sup>2</sup>. The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>3</sup> must by rules make provision as to the procedure to be followed by the committee in any such investigation carried out by it<sup>4</sup>.

1 As to the investigating committee as a statutory committee see PARA 691 ante. As to the committee as a practice committee, and as to its membership, see PARAS 699-700 ante.

2 In accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, arts 22, 24 (see PARAS 748, 750 ante): art 26(1).

3 As to the Nursing and Midwifery Council see PARA 691 et seq ante.

4 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 26(3). In the case of an allegation that an entry in the register has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, the rules must, in particular, make similar provision to that made by virtue of art 32(2)(b), (f)-(j), (m)-(p) (see PARA 752 ante) and may provide for the registrar to be made a party to the proceedings: art 26(4). As to the rules that have been made see the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules 2004, approved by the Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761; and PARA 758 et seq post. ## 758. Consideration of allegations.

Where an allegation is referred to the investigating committee<sup>1</sup>, it must: (1) notify<sup>2</sup> without delay the person concerned<sup>3</sup> of the allegation and invite him to submit written<sup>4</sup> representations within a prescribed period<sup>5</sup>; (2) where it sees fit, notify the person making the allegation of those representations and invite him to deal within a specified period with any points raised by the committee in respect of those representations<sup>6</sup>; (3) take such other steps as are reasonably practicable to obtain as much information as possible about the case<sup>7</sup>; (4) consider, in the light of the information which it has been able to obtain and any representations or other observations made to it under head (1) or head (2) above, whether in its opinion there is a case to answer<sup>8</sup> or, as appropriate, whether the entry concerned has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>9</sup>. When the committee reaches its decision, it must notify in writing both the person concerned and the person making the allegation, if any, of the decision, giving its reasons<sup>10</sup>.

1 In accordance with the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, arts 22, 24: see PARAS 748, 750 ante. As to the functions of the investigating committee see PARA 757 ante. As to the investigating committee as a statutory committee see PARA 691 ante. As to the committee as a practice committee, and as to its membership, see PARAS 699-700 ante.

2 The committee must notify the registrant of any allegation referred to it, by serving on him a notice of referral: Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 3(1). The notice must: (1) particularise the allegation (r 3(2)(a)); (2) state that any written representations must be submitted by the registrant to the committee no later than 28 days after service of the notice (r 3(2)(b)); (3) inform the registrant that any representations, or extracts of any representations received from him may be shown to the person making the allegation, for comment (r 3(2)(c)); and (4) inform the registrant that the committee may seek such further information as it considers necessary for the purposes of carrying out its functions in investigating the allegation from the registrant's employer (if any), or any other source (other than the registrant) (r 3(2)(d)). 'Allegation' means any allegation of a kind mentioned in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 22(1)(a), (b) (see PARA 748 ante) or any matter which is treated as an allegation by virtue of art 22(6) (see PARA 748 ante): Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 2. As to the service of notices see PARA 760 note 10 post.

9 In respect of an allegation of the kind mentioned in ibid art 22(1)(b) (see PARA 748 ante): art 26(2)(d)(ii). As to the procedure of the committee in considering such allegations see PARA 760 post.

10 Ibid art 26(5). The notice of the committee's decision must be sent without delay: Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 6(1). Where the committee has decided that there is no case to answer, the notice of decision may inform the registrant that the allegation may be taken into account in the consideration of any further allegation about him received by the Council within three years from the date of service of the notice: r 6(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(ii) The Investigating Committee/759. Procedure where the allegation relates to impairment of fitness to practise.

759. Procedure where the allegation relates to impairment of fitness to practise.

The investigating committee<sup>1</sup> must meet in private to consider an allegation relating to the fitness of a person to practise<sup>2</sup>. Before deciding whether or not there is a case to answer in respect of such an allegation, the committee: (1) must send<sup>3</sup> any information or documents obtained by it<sup>4</sup> to the registrant for comment, and consider any comments subsequently received from him<sup>5</sup>; (2) may, in the case of an allegation of lack of competence, invite the registrant to submit to an assessment<sup>6</sup>; and (3) may, in the case of an allegation that the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired by reason of his physical or mental health, invite him to submit to medical examination by experts appointed by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>7</sup>. The committee may adjourn its consideration of an allegation until such time as any further information has been obtained or, where the registrant has undertaken an assessment or medical examination, a report on him has been prepared<sup>8</sup>.

Where the committee concludes that there is a case to answer in respect of such an allegation<sup>9</sup>, it must undertake mediation<sup>10</sup> or refer the case to screeners for them to undertake mediation<sup>11</sup>; refer the case to the health committee in the case of an allegation relating to a person's physical or mental health<sup>12</sup>; or refer the case to the conduct and competence committee in the case of any other allegation<sup>13</sup>. The committee may make an interim order<sup>14</sup> at any time before referring a case to the health committee or conduct and competence committee<sup>15</sup>.

Where the committee has considered an allegation that the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired and decided that there is no case to answer in respect of that allegation<sup>16</sup>, and at any time within three years from service of the notice of decision the Council receives a fresh allegation about the registrant<sup>17</sup>, the committee may when considering whether or not there is a case to answer in respect of a fresh allegation, take account of the original allegation<sup>18</sup> and may refer both the original allegation and the new allegation to the conduct and competence committee or health committee<sup>19</sup>.

760. Procedure where the allegation relates to a fraudulent or incorrect entry in the register.

The investigating committee<sup>1</sup> must meet in private for the initial consideration of an allegation relating to a fraudulent or incorrect entry in the register<sup>2</sup>. Before deciding whether or not there is a case to answer in respect of such an allegation, the committee must send any information or documents obtained by it<sup>3</sup> to the registrant for comment, and must consider any comments subsequently received from him<sup>4</sup>. The committee may adjourn its consideration of such an allegation at any time<sup>5</sup>.

Where the committee considers that there is a case to answer, it must notify the registrant and require him to inform the committee, no later than 28 days after service of the notification, if he wishes the allegation to be considered at a hearing<sup>6</sup>. Where the registrant asks for a hearing within that period<sup>7</sup>, or the committee considers that a hearing is desirable<sup>8</sup>, the committee must refer<sup>9</sup> the allegation to a differently constituted investigating committee for a hearing<sup>10</sup>. The differently constituted committee may hold a preliminary meeting<sup>11</sup> and must determine<sup>12</sup> and dispose of the matter<sup>13</sup>. Where the registrant has not requested a hearing and the committee considers that no hearing is necessary, it must invite any person who in its opinion has an interest in the proceedings to submit written representations within such time as it may direct<sup>14</sup>; and it must meet in private and, notwithstanding the absence of any such representations, dispose of the matter<sup>15</sup>.

If the committee is satisfied that an entry in the register has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>16</sup>, it may make an order that the registrar<sup>17</sup> remove or amend the entry and must notify the person concerned<sup>18</sup> of his right of appeal<sup>19</sup>. The committee may review such an order if new evidence relevant to the order becomes available after the order has been made and may revoke that order if it considers that it should not have been made<sup>20</sup>. The committee may make an interim order at the same time as making an order as to the removal or amendment of an entry in the register<sup>21</sup>.

If the committee concludes that there is no case to answer or that the relevant entry was not fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, it must, where requested to do so by the person concerned, make a declaration to that effect giving its reasons<sup>22</sup>; and in any other case, and with the consent of the person concerned, it may make such a declaration<sup>23</sup>.

762. Functions of the health committee.

763. Action upon referral of an allegation.

Upon referral of an allegation<sup>1</sup> to the conduct and competence committee or to the health committee<sup>2</sup>, that committee must send a notice of referral to the registrant<sup>3</sup>. In the case of an allegation of lack of competence, the conduct and competence committee may invite the registrant to submit to assessment<sup>4</sup>, and in the case of an allegation that the practitioner's fitness to practise is impaired by reason of physical or mental health, the health committee may invite the registrant to submit to medical examination by a registered medical practitioner<sup>5</sup> nominated by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>6</sup>. Where any written representations are made to the committee concerned by the registrant in response to the notice of referral<sup>7</sup>, that committee may, if it sees fit, send a notice to the maker of the allegation notifying him of such representations<sup>8</sup>, inviting him to deal with any points raised by the committee in respect of those representations<sup>9</sup>, and requiring him to send any response to the committee no later than 28 days after service of the notice upon him<sup>10</sup>; and the committee must take into account all representations received before making its decision in respect of the allegation<sup>11</sup>.

1 The Nursing and Midwifery Council must give notice of the referral: (1) where known, to the employer of the registrant or any other person with whom he has an arrangement to provide professional services (Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 9(3)(a)); (2) where known, to any other body by which the registrant is authorised to practise a health or social care profession (r 9(3)(b)); (3) to the Secretary of State, the Scottish Ministers, the National Assembly for Wales, and the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety in Northern Ireland (r 9(3)(c)); and (4) where the registrant is a practising midwife, to his local supervising authority (r 9(3)(d)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante. As to the Scottish Ministers and the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. 3 Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 9(1). As to the service of notices and documents see PARA 760 note 10 ante. The notice of referral must: (1) particularise the allegation, and where it is alleged that the registrant has committed misconduct or received a criminal conviction, particularise the alleged facts upon which the allegation is based (r 9(2)(a)(i)), or in any other case, set out the grounds or alleged facts in support of the allegation (r 9(2)(a)(ii)); (2) invite the registrant to submit written representations to the conduct and competence committee or the health committee and inform him that any such representations must be sent to the committee no later than 28 days after service of the notice (r 9(2)(b)); (3) inform the registrant that any representations received from him may be shown to the maker of the allegation, for comment (r 9(2)(c)); and (4) require the registrant to inform the committee no later than 28 days after service of the notice, if he would like the allegation to be considered at a hearing (r 9(2)(d)). As to the procedure for dealing with allegations of misconduct and cases relating to impairment by reason of physical or mental condition received by the Nursing and Midwifery Council before 1 August 2004 see the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (Transitional Provisions) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1762, arts 2-6. ### 763 Action upon referral of an allegation

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Conduct and Competence Committee and the Health Committee/764. Meetings and hearings.

764. Meetings and hearings.

Where the conduct and competence committee or health committee<sup>1</sup> is to consider an allegation<sup>2</sup> that a registrant's fitness to practise is impaired<sup>3</sup>, review any order previously made by it<sup>4</sup> or consider an application for restoration to the register<sup>5</sup>, it must decide whether to hold a hearing<sup>6</sup>. The committee concerned must hold a hearing where the registrant asks for one within the specified period<sup>7</sup> or where that committee considers that a hearing would be desirable<sup>8</sup>. Where no hearing is to be held, the committee concerned must consider the allegation<sup>9</sup>, review the order previously made<sup>10</sup>, or consider the application for restoration<sup>11</sup> at a meeting<sup>12</sup>. Where a hearing is to be held the committee concerned must send<sup>13</sup> a notice of hearing to the registrant<sup>14</sup>. The notice of hearing must be sent to the registrant, where a preliminary meeting has been held<sup>15</sup>, as soon as practicable after that meeting and in every case, no later than 28 days before the date fixed for the hearing<sup>16</sup>. When considering any allegation referred to it at a hearing, reviewing an order made by it at a previous hearing or considering an application for restoration to the register, the committee concerned must act in accordance with the specified procedure<sup>17</sup> and dispose of the allegation or matter in accordance with the appropriate provisions<sup>18</sup>.

1 As to the functions of the conduct and competence committee and the health committee see PARAS 761-762 ante. As to the committees as statutory committees see PARA 691 ante. As to the committees as practice committees, and as to their membership, see PARAS 699-700 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Conduct and Competence Committee and the Health Committee/765. Joint hearings.

765. Joint hearings.

Unless of the view that there is a risk of prejudice to the fairness of the proceedings, and upon taking the advice of the legal assessor<sup>1</sup>, the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup> may consider an allegation<sup>3</sup> against two or more registrants at the same hearing where the allegation against each registrant arises out of the same circumstances<sup>4</sup>, or in the view of the committee a joint hearing is necessary<sup>5</sup>.

The conduct and competence committee may consider one or more categories of allegation against a registrant provided always that an allegation relating to a conviction or caution is heard after any allegation of misconduct has been heard and determined<sup>6</sup>. Where an allegation has been referred to the conduct and competence committee<sup>7</sup>, that allegation has not yet been heard<sup>8</sup>, and a new allegation which is of a similar kind or is founded on the same facts is received by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>9</sup>, that committee may consider the new allegation at the same time as the original allegation, notwithstanding that such new allegation has not been included in the notice of hearing<sup>10</sup>.

Where it is proposed that a new allegation should be heard by the committee, it must: (1) inform the registrant of the new allegation, and the alleged facts on which is based (r 29(4)(a)); and (2) afford him the opportunity to make written representations on the new allegation and require any such representations to be received within 28 days of notification of the new allegations or within such period of time as is otherwise agreed by the parties (r 29(4)(b)). #### 766. Referral of allegation by conduct and competence committee to health committee.

Where an allegation<sup>1</sup> is being considered by the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup>, and at a preliminary meeting<sup>3</sup>, at the commencement of the hearing of the allegation by the committee<sup>4</sup>, or during the course of that hearing<sup>5</sup>, it appears that the allegation would be better dealt with by the health committee<sup>6</sup>, then the conduct and competence committee may refer the allegation to the health committee and must suspend its consideration of the allegation<sup>7</sup>. The conduct and competence committee must not transfer an allegation to the health committee unless it is satisfied that if the registrant's fitness to practise were found to be impaired it would not make a striking-off order<sup>8</sup>.

Where an allegation has been referred to the health committee<sup>9</sup> and that committee certifies to the conduct and competence committee that the registrant's fitness to practise is not impaired by reason of his physical or mental health<sup>10</sup>, the conduct and competence committee must resume its consideration of the allegation<sup>11</sup>. However, where an allegation has been referred to the health committee<sup>12</sup> and that committee certifies that the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired by reason of his physical or mental health<sup>13</sup>, the conduct and competence committee has no further function in relation to the allegation<sup>14</sup>.

768. Orders.

If, having considered an allegation<sup>1</sup>, the health committee or the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup>, as the case may be, concludes that it is not well founded, the committee must, where requested to do so by the person concerned<sup>3</sup>, make a declaration to that effect giving its reasons<sup>4</sup>; and, in any other case and with the consent of the person concerned, may make such a declaration<sup>5</sup>.

If, having considered an allegation, the committee concerned concludes that it is well founded, it must proceed as follows<sup>6</sup>. The committee may refer the matter to screeners<sup>7</sup> for mediation or itself undertake mediation<sup>8</sup>, or decide that it is not appropriate to take any further action<sup>9</sup>.

Where the committee does not take such action it must: (1) make an order directing the registrar<sup>10</sup> to strike the person concerned off the register, known as a 'striking-off order'<sup>11</sup>; (2) make an order directing the registrar to suspend the registration of the person concerned for a specified period which must not exceed one year, known as a 'suspension order'<sup>12</sup>; (3) make an order imposing conditions with which the person concerned must comply for a specified period which must not exceed three years, known as a 'conditions of practice order'<sup>13</sup>; or (4) caution the person concerned and make an order directing the registrar to annotate the register accordingly for a specified period which must be not less than one year and not more than five years, known as a 'caution order'<sup>14</sup>. The committee may specify in any such order a period within which an application to vary, replace or revoke the order may not be made<sup>15</sup>. The committee must, when it makes, varies, replaces or revokes an order<sup>16</sup> or when an order it has made ceases to have effect, give the registrar such directions as are appropriate as to annotation of the register to record the decision made or, as the case may be, the expiry of the order<sup>17</sup>.

As soon as practicable after the conclusion of the hearing, the committee concerned must give notice of its decision to the person concerned<sup>18</sup> and the maker of the allegation, if any<sup>19</sup>. The notice of decision must set out the decision of the committee<sup>20</sup> and the reasons for it<sup>21</sup>, and inform the person concerned of his rights of appeal<sup>22</sup>. The person concerned may appeal to the appropriate court against an order<sup>23</sup>. Any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the order or decision appealed against is served on the person concerned<sup>24</sup>. No such order has effect before the expiry of the period within which an appeal against the order may be made<sup>25</sup> or, where an appeal against the order has been made, before the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise finally disposed of<sup>26</sup>.

The committee is concerned primarily, when it comes to questions of penalty, with the protection of the public and the safeguarding of the reputation of the profession, rather than with the punishment of the individual practitioner concerned: Adesina v Nursing and Midwifery Council [2004] EWHC 2410 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 222 (Nov), following Gupta v General Medical Council [2001] UKPC 61, [2002] 1 WLR 1691 (see PARA 144 note 5 ante). The committee did not adopt an incorrect approach in its assessment of penalty when taking into account what it found to be the appellant's lack of insight, lack of remorse, failure to recognise the seriousness of what she had done, and continued denial of her behaviour: Adesina v Nursing and Midwifery Council supra; and see also R (on the application of Clarke) v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting [2004] EWHC 1350 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 418 (May) .

In Jhugroo v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting (1991) 8 BMLR 103, DC (decided under the previous statutory provisions), the court held that the committee should consider whether removal should be for a specified period of time or not.

24 Ibid art 29(10). The court has no power to extend the time for appeal: R (on the application of Blackett) v Nursing and Midwifery Council [2004] EWHC 1494 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 78 (Jun). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iii) The Conduct and Competence Committee and the Health Committee/769. Review of orders.

769. Review of orders.

Before the expiry of a suspension order or a conditions of practice order<sup>1</sup> made by the conduct and competence committee or the health committee<sup>2</sup>, the committee which made the order or, if the matter has been referred to the other committee, that committee<sup>3</sup>, must review the order and may: (1) with effect from the date on which the order would, but for this provision, have expired, extend or further extend the period for which the order has effect<sup>4</sup>; (2) with effect from the expiry of the order, make an order which it could have made at the time it made the order being reviewed<sup>5</sup>; (3) with effect from the expiry of a suspension order, make a conditions of practice order with which the practitioner must comply if he resumes the practice of his registered profession after the end of his period of suspension<sup>6</sup>. However, the committee may not extend a conditions of practice order by more than three years at a time or a suspension order by more than one year at a time<sup>7</sup>.

Subject to such review, on the application of the person concerned<sup>8</sup> or otherwise, at any time a suspension order, a conditions of practice order or a caution order<sup>9</sup> made by the conduct and competence committee or the health committee is in force, the committee which made the order or, if the matter has been referred to the other committee, that committee, may review the order<sup>10</sup>. On such a review, the Committee may: (a) confirm the order<sup>11</sup>; (b) extend, or further extend, the period for which the order has effect<sup>12</sup>; (c) reduce the period for which the order has effect<sup>13</sup>; (d) replace the order with any order which it could have made at the time it made the order being reviewed<sup>14</sup>; (e) revoke the order or revoke any condition imposed by the order<sup>15</sup>; (f) vary any condition imposed by the order<sup>16</sup>.

Where new evidence relevant to a striking-off order<sup>17</sup> becomes available after the making of the order, the committee which made the order or, where appropriate, the relevant committee<sup>18</sup>, may review it<sup>19</sup>. A striking-off order, conditions of practice order, suspension order or caution order which is in force by virtue of a decision made on appeal to the appropriate court<sup>20</sup> may be reviewed in accordance with the provisions described above by the committee which made the order appealed from, and any of the steps mentioned in heads (a) to (f) above may be taken<sup>21</sup>.

Before exercising its powers of review, a practice committee<sup>22</sup> must give the person concerned the opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case in accordance with rules made by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>23</sup>. The person concerned may appeal to the appropriate court against an order or decision made on review<sup>24</sup> and any such appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the order or decision appealed against is served on him<sup>25</sup>.

770. Applications for restoration to the register.

Where a person who has been struck off the register<sup>1</sup> by virtue of an order made by a practice committee<sup>2</sup> or the court<sup>3</sup> wishes to be restored to the register, he must make an application for restoration<sup>4</sup> to the registrar<sup>5</sup>. Any application for restoration must be referred by the registrar for determination to the committee which made the striking-off order<sup>6</sup> or, where any previous applications have been made in connection with the same striking-off order, the committee which last gave a decision on such an application<sup>7</sup>. Before making any decision on the application, the committee must give the applicant an opportunity to appear before it and to argue his case in accordance with rules made by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>8</sup>. The committee must not grant an application for restoration unless it is satisfied, on such evidence as it may require, that the applicant not only satisfies the requirements as to qualification and capability<sup>9</sup> but, having regard in particular to the circumstances which led to the making of the order, is also a fit and proper person to practise the relevant profession<sup>10</sup>. The committee may make the granting of an application subject to the applicant satisfying such requirements as to additional education or training and experience as the Council has established<sup>11</sup> and which apply to him<sup>12</sup>. On granting an application for restoration, the committee must direct the registrar to register the applicant in the relevant part of the register<sup>13</sup> on his satisfying any requirements imposed as to additional education or training and experience and on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>14</sup>, and may make a conditions of practice order with respect to him<sup>15</sup>.

If, while a striking-off order is in force, a second or subsequent application for restoration to the register made by the person who has been struck off is unsuccessful, the committee which determined that application may direct that that person's right to make any further such applications be suspended indefinitely<sup>16</sup>. A person in respect of whom such a direction is made may, after the expiration of three years from the date on which the direction was made, apply to the registrar for that direction to be reviewed and, thereafter, may make further applications for review, but no such application may be made before the expiration of three years from the date of the most recent review decision<sup>17</sup>.

A person whose application for the review of a direction or whose application for restoration is refused or made subject to his satisfying requirements<sup>18</sup> may appeal to the appropriate court<sup>19</sup>. The appeal must be brought before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notice of the decision rejecting the application, or granting it but imposing conditions, is served on the applicant<sup>20</sup>.

4 'Application for restoration' has the meaning given to it in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 33 (see the text and notes 5-20 infra): art 2, Sch 4.

5 Ibid art 33(1). Subject to art 30(7) (see PARA 769 ante), no such application may be made: (1) before the end of the period of five years beginning with the date on which the striking-off order took effect (art 33(2)(a)); or (2) in any period of 12 months in which an application for restoration to the register has already been made by the person who has been struck off (art 33(2)(b)). For the meaning of 'registrar' see PARA 716 note 2 ante. As to the procedure for dealing with applications made on or after 1 August 2004 for restoration to the register following removal under the statutory provisions preceding the current provisions, and unresolved applications made before 1 August 2004, see the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (Transitional Provisions) Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1762, arts 8,9.

UPDATE

770 Applications for restoration to the register

NOTE 14--SI 2004/1654 amended: SI 2005/3353, SI 2007/1885, SI 2007/3101.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iv) Interim Orders/771. Interim Orders.

(iv) Interim Orders

771. Interim Orders.

The following provisions apply where: (1) an allegation<sup>1</sup> against a registered professional has been referred to the investigating committee, to the conduct and competence committee or to the health committee<sup>2</sup> but that committee has not reached a decision on the matter<sup>3</sup>; (2) the investigating committee refers the matter to another practice committee<sup>4</sup>; (3) the investigating committee makes an order where an entry in the register has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made<sup>5</sup>; or (4) the conduct and competence committee or the health committee makes a striking-off order, a conditions of practice order or a suspension order<sup>6</sup>.

If the committee is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of members of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of the person concerned<sup>7</sup>, for the registration of that person to be suspended or to be made subject to conditions, it may make an order directing the registrar<sup>8</sup> to suspend the person's registration<sup>9</sup>, or make an order imposing conditions with which the person must comply<sup>10</sup>, during such period not exceeding 18 months as may be specified in the order<sup>11</sup>. However, the investigating committee must not make an order in any case after it has referred the allegation in question to another practice committee<sup>12</sup>. Such an order ceases to have effect<sup>13</sup>: (a) in a case falling within head (1) or head (2) above, when the committee reaches a decision in respect of the allegation in question<sup>14</sup>; and (b) in a case falling within head (3) or head (4) above, if there is no appeal against the order, when the period for appealing expires<sup>15</sup>, or if there is an appeal against the order, when the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise finally disposed of<sup>16</sup>.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>17</sup> may apply to the court for an order made by a practice committee<sup>18</sup> to be extended, and may apply again for further extensions<sup>19</sup>. On such an application the court may extend, or further extend, for up to 12 months the period for which the order has effect<sup>20</sup>.

The committee must notify the person concerned giving its reasons where it makes an order<sup>21</sup> or any decision<sup>22</sup>, and must notify him of his right to apply to the court<sup>23</sup>. Where an order has effect<sup>24</sup>, the court may, on an application being made by the person concerned: (i) in the case of an interim suspension order, terminate the suspension<sup>25</sup>; (ii) in the case of an interim conditions of practice order, revoke or vary any condition imposed by the order<sup>26</sup>; (iii) in either case, substitute for the period specified in the order, or in the order extending it, some other period which could have been specified in the order when it was made or in the order extending it<sup>27</sup>. The decision of the court under any such application is final<sup>28</sup>.

The committee must when it makes, varies, replaces or revokes an order under these provisions or when an order it has made ceases to have effect, give the registrar such directions as are appropriate as to annotation of the register to record the decision made or, as the case may be, the expiry of the order<sup>29</sup>.

- 14 Ibid art 31(5)(a). The committee which made the order or, if the matter has been referred to another practice committee, that committee, must, in a case falling within head (1) or head (2) in the text, review the order made: (1) within the period of six months beginning on the date on which the order was made, and must thereafter, for so long as the order continues in force, further review it before the end of the period of three months beginning on the date of the decision of the immediately preceding review (art 31(6)(a)); (2) where new evidence relevant to the order has become available after the making of the order (art 31(6)(b)). The first review after the court's extension of an order made by a practice committee (see the text to note 20 infra) or after a replacement order made by a practice committee under art 31(7)(d), (e) (see note 15 infra) must take place: (a) if the order (or the order which has been replaced) had not been reviewed at all under art 31(6), within the period of six months beginning on the date on which the court ordered the extension or on which a replacement order was made (art 31(11)(a)); and (b) if it had been reviewed under art 31(6), within the period of three months beginning on that date (art 31(11)(b)).
- 15 Ibid art 31(5)(b)(i). Where an interim suspension order or an interim conditions of practice order has been made under ibid art 31 (including art 31(7)) the practice committee which made the order or, where the case has been referred to another practice committee, that committee, may: (1) revoke the order or revoke any condition imposed by the order (art 31(7)(a)); (2) confirm the order (art 31(7)(b)); (3) vary any condition imposed by the order (art 31(7)(c)); (4) if satisfied that to do so is necessary for the protection of members of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of the person concerned, replace an interim conditions of practice order with an interim suspension order having effect for the remainder of the term of the former (art 31(7)(d)); (5) if satisfied that the public interest, including the protection of members of the public, or the interests of the person concerned would be adequately served by an interim conditions of practice order, replace an interim suspension order with an interim conditions of practice order having effect for the remainder of the term of the former (art 31(7)(e)). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(iv) Interim Orders/772. Interim orders: hearings.

772. Interim orders: hearings.

No interim order<sup>1</sup> may be made by any practice committee<sup>2</sup> in respect of any person unless he has been afforded an opportunity of appearing before the committee and being heard on the question whether such an order should be made in his case<sup>3</sup>. At any such hearing, the person concerned<sup>4</sup> is entitled to be represented, whether by a legally qualified person or otherwise<sup>5</sup>.

Where a practice committee proposes to consider whether to make, revoke, confirm, vary or replace an interim order<sup>6</sup>, it must serve the person concerned with an interim order notice<sup>7</sup>. The interim order notice must: (1) invite the person concerned to attend a hearing before the committee<sup>8</sup>; (2) invite him, in the event that he does not wish to attend the hearing, to submit written representations to the committee before the date of the hearing<sup>9</sup>; (3) contain other specified matters<sup>10</sup>; and (4) state the reasons why an interim order may be necessary for the protection of members of the public, or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interest of the person concerned<sup>11</sup>. The interim order notice must be served on the person concerned in such time in advance of the hearing as may be reasonable in all the circumstances of the case<sup>12</sup>.

In considering whether to make, revoke, confirm, vary or replace an interim order, a practice committee must follow the specified procedures<sup>13</sup>. Where the committee is satisfied that all reasonable efforts have been made to serve the registrant with the interim order notice or, in a case where an interim order notice is not required, the notice of hearing<sup>14</sup>, or the person concerned has informed the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>15</sup> that he does not wish to attend the hearing<sup>16</sup>, it may make an interim order, notwithstanding his absence at the hearing or the absence of any written representations from him on whether or not an interim order should be made<sup>17</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Practice Committee Hearings/773. In general.

(v) Practice Committee Hearings

773. In general.

Where: (1) the investigating committee<sup>1</sup> is considering: (a) an allegation<sup>2</sup> which relates to a fraudulent or incorrect entry in the register at a hearing<sup>3</sup>; or (b) whether to make, revoke, confirm, vary or replace an interim order<sup>4</sup>; or (2) the conduct and competence committee or the health committee<sup>5</sup> is considering: (a) an allegation that the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired at a hearing<sup>6</sup>; (b) whether to make, revoke, confirm, vary or replace an interim order<sup>7</sup>; (c) an order previously made by it, at a review hearing<sup>8</sup>; or (d) an application for restoration to the register<sup>9</sup>, the committee concerned must follow the prescribed procedure<sup>10</sup>.

Hearings must be conducted in public<sup>11</sup>. However, hearings, other than those before the health committee, may be held wholly or partly in private<sup>12</sup> if the committee<sup>13</sup> is satisfied, having given the parties and any third party from whom the committee considers it appropriate to hear an opportunity to make representations<sup>14</sup>, and having obtained the advice of the legal assessor<sup>15</sup>, that this is justified (and outweighs any prejudice) by the interests of any party or of any third party (including a complainant, witness or patient), or by the public interest<sup>16</sup>. A hearing before the health committee must be conducted in private unless the committee is satisfied, having given the parties and any third party from whom the committee considers it appropriate to hear an opportunity to make representations<sup>17</sup>, and having obtained the advice of the legal assessor<sup>18</sup>, that the public interest or the interests of any third party outweigh the need to protect the privacy or confidentiality of the registrant, and require all or part of the hearing to be held in public<sup>19</sup>.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>20</sup> must arrange for all hearings and preliminary meetings<sup>21</sup> held by a practice committee<sup>22</sup> to be recorded in writing or electronic form<sup>23</sup>. Any party to the proceedings must, on application to the Council, be furnished with a transcript of the record of any part of the hearing or preliminary meeting at which he was entitled to be present<sup>24</sup>.

774. Preliminary meetings.

Before any allegation<sup>1</sup> is considered by a committee<sup>2</sup> at a hearing<sup>3</sup>, that committee or the chair<sup>4</sup> of the committee may hold a preliminary meeting if such a meeting would, in its or his opinion, assist the committee to perform its functions<sup>5</sup>. A preliminary meeting must be chaired by the chair of the committee considering the allegation<sup>6</sup>, held with a legal assessor in attendance<sup>7</sup>, and held in private with the parties, their representatives and any person the chair or committee considers appropriate<sup>8</sup>.

The chair of the preliminary meeting may give directions as to the conduct of the case and for the consequences of failure to comply with such directions<sup>9</sup>. Directions given by the chair of the preliminary meeting may include, but are not limited to: (1) time limits for the service of evidence and disclosure of expert evidence, if any<sup>10</sup>; (2) a requirement that each party provide an estimate as to the length of the hearing and any dates on which he or any witnesses would not be able to attend the hearing<sup>11</sup>; (3) where facts are not in dispute, or the issue of misconduct is admitted, a requirement that the parties produce a statement of agreed facts<sup>12</sup>; (4) save in the case of an allegation that the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired by reason of his physical or mental health, a requirement that the parties state whether or not the health of the practitioner will be raised as an issue in the proceedings, and if so, whether, in their view, medical reports should be obtained and the case considered by the health committee<sup>13</sup>; (5) a requirement that a party call the author of any expert report<sup>14</sup>; (6) where agreed between the parties, a direction that the witness statement of a witness stand as the evidence in chief of that witness<sup>15</sup>; (7) where the committee is considering an allegation that the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired by reason of his physical or mental health<sup>16</sup>, or whether to make, revoke, confirm, vary or replace an interim order<sup>17</sup>, whether the proceedings should be held in public or private<sup>18</sup>; (8) special measures to be put in place at the hearing for vulnerable witnesses<sup>19</sup>; and (9) a direction for an adjournment of the preliminary meeting or that a further preliminary meeting should be held<sup>20</sup>. The chair of the preliminary meeting must keep a record of the directions given and send written<sup>21</sup> confirmation of such directions to the parties promptly<sup>22</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Practice Committee Hearings/775. Representation and entitlement to be heard.

775. Representation and entitlement to be heard.

The presenter<sup>1</sup> and the registrant are entitled to be heard by the committee<sup>2</sup>. The registrant may be represented by solicitor or counsel<sup>3</sup>, a representative from his professional body or trade union<sup>4</sup>, or any other person<sup>5</sup>. Where the registrant is not represented, he may be accompanied and advised by any person, provided that such person is not entitled to address the committee without its permission<sup>6</sup>. A person who represents or accompanies the registrant may not be called as a witness at the hearing<sup>7</sup>. The committee may exclude from the whole or part of the hearing any person whose conduct, in its opinion, has disrupted or is likely to disrupt the proceedings<sup>8</sup>.

Where the registrant fails to attend and is not represented at the hearing<sup>9</sup>, the committee: (1) must require the presenter to adduce evidence that all reasonable efforts have been made to serve the notice of hearing on the registrant<sup>10</sup>; (2) may, where it is satisfied that the notice of hearing has been duly served, direct that the allegation<sup>11</sup> should be heard and determined notwithstanding the absence of the registrant<sup>12</sup>; or (3) may adjourn the hearing and issue directions<sup>13</sup>.

1 'The presenter' means the representative of the Nursing and Midwifery Council presenting the case on its behalf, who may be a solicitor or counsel: Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 2. Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Practice Committee Hearings/776. Evidence.

776. Evidence.

Upon receiving the advice of the legal assessor<sup>1</sup>, and subject only to the requirements of relevance and fairness, a practice committee<sup>2</sup> considering an allegation<sup>3</sup> may admit oral, documentary or other evidence, whether or not such evidence would be admissible in civil proceedings in the appropriate court in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup> in which the hearing takes place<sup>5</sup>. Where facts relating to an allegation are in dispute, the burden of proving such facts rests on the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>6</sup>.

In determining whether a registrant's fitness to practise is impaired by reason of physical or mental health, the health committee<sup>7</sup> may take into account, amongst other matters, a refusal by the registrant to submit to medical examination<sup>8</sup>, the registrant's current physical or mental condition<sup>9</sup>, any continuing or episodic condition suffered by the registrant<sup>10</sup>, and a condition suffered by the registrant which, although currently in remission, may be expected to cause a recurrence of the impairment of his fitness to practise<sup>11</sup>.

In determining whether a registrant's fitness to practise is impaired by reason of lack of competence, the conduct and competence committee<sup>12</sup> may take into account any refusal by the registrant to submit to an assessment<sup>13</sup>. Where the conduct and competence committee finds that a registrant has failed to comply with the standards of conduct, performance and ethics established by the Council<sup>14</sup>, such failure may be taken into account by the committee in determining whether or not that registrant's fitness to practise is impaired<sup>15</sup>, but must not, of itself, be taken to establish that his fitness to practise is impaired<sup>16</sup>.

Where a party has failed to comply with any directions for service of evidence given at a preliminary meeting<sup>17</sup> including service of expert reports<sup>18</sup>, has shown no good cause for failure to comply with the directions given<sup>19</sup>, and seeks to adduce such evidence at the hearing<sup>20</sup>, a practice committee may refuse to admit the evidence in question<sup>21</sup>.

Where a registrant has been convicted of a criminal offence, a copy of the certificate of conviction certified by a competent officer of a court in the United Kingdom (or, in Scotland, an extract conviction), is conclusive proof of the conviction, and the findings of fact upon which the conviction is based are admissible as proof of those facts: r 31(2). The only evidence which may be adduced by the registrant in rebuttal of a conviction certified or extracted in such a way is evidence for the purpose of proving that he is not the person referred to in the certificate or extract: r 31(3). A certificate as to a determination about a registrant's fitness to practise made by a body in the United Kingdom responsible under any enactment for the regulation of a health or social care profession, or a licensing body elsewhere, signed by an officer authorised by the body to sign such certificates, is admissible as prima facie evidence of the facts referred to in the determination: r 31(4). NOTE 6--Where it is alleged that a registrant has been included in a barred list (within the meaning of Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006) by the Independent Barring Board (1) information provided by the Secretary of State under the 2006 Act that attests to the inclusion is conclusive evidence of it, unless the registrant can prove that he is not the person referred to in the information; and (2) a document from the Board, authenticated in whatever way the Council may approve, that provides a statement of the findings of fact made by the Board that led to the inclusion is conclusive evidence of the facts found proved by the Board: SI 2004/1761 r 31(3A) (added by SI 2009/1182) (in force on the coming into force of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 s 44(1) (see CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS vol 5(3) (2008 Reissue) PARA 704)). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Practice Committee Hearings/777. Witnesses.

777. Witnesses.

Witnesses must be required to take an oath<sup>1</sup>, or to affirm, before giving evidence at any hearing<sup>2</sup>. Witnesses<sup>3</sup> must first be examined by the party calling them<sup>4</sup>; may then be cross examined by the opposing party<sup>5</sup>; may then be re-examined by the party calling them<sup>6</sup>; and may then be questioned by the committee<sup>7</sup>. Any further questioning of the witnesses is at the discretion of the committee<sup>8</sup>. The committee may of its own motion require a person to attend the hearing to give evidence, or to produce relevant documents<sup>9</sup>. No witness as to fact may observe the proceedings until he has given evidence or been formally released by the committee<sup>10</sup>.

In proceedings before the conduct and competence committee or the health committee<sup>11</sup>, the following may be treated as vulnerable witnesses: (1) any witness under the age of 18<sup>12</sup>; (2) any witness with a mental disorder<sup>13</sup>; (3) any witness who is significantly impaired in relation to intelligence or social functioning<sup>14</sup>; (4) any witness with physical disabilities who requires assistance to give evidence<sup>15</sup>; (5) any witness where the allegation<sup>16</sup> against the registrant is of a sexual nature and the witness was the alleged victim<sup>17</sup>; or (6) any witness who complains of intimidation<sup>18</sup>. After seeking the advice of the legal assessor<sup>19</sup>, and upon hearing representations from the parties, the committee may adopt such measures as it considers necessary to enable it to receive evidence from a vulnerable witness<sup>20</sup>. Measures adopted by the committee may include, but are not limited to use of video links<sup>21</sup>; use of pre-recorded evidence as the evidence in chief of a witness, provided always that such witness is available at the hearing for cross-examination and questioning<sup>22</sup>; use of interpreters, including signers and translators<sup>23</sup>; and the hearing of evidence by the committee in private<sup>24</sup>. Where the allegation against a registrant is sexual in nature<sup>25</sup>, a witness is the alleged victim<sup>26</sup> and the registrant is not represented<sup>27</sup>, he must not be allowed to cross-examine the witness directly in person<sup>28</sup>. In such circumstances, any questioning of the witness must be undertaken by such person as the committee considers appropriate<sup>29</sup>.

778. Order of proceedings at initial hearings.

Unless the committee<sup>1</sup> determines otherwise, the order of proceedings at the initial hearing<sup>2</sup> of an allegation is as follows:

- 922 (1) the chair<sup>3</sup> requires the registrant to confirm his name and personal identification number<sup>4</sup>;
- 923 (2) the chair causes the charge to be read out<sup>5</sup>;
- 924 (3) the chair inquires whether the registrant wishes to make any objections to the charge on a point of law<sup>6</sup>, and whether he wishes to make any admissions<sup>7</sup>;
- 925 (4) where facts have been admitted by the registrant, the chair announces that such facts have been found proved<sup>8</sup>;
- 926 (5) where in respect of an allegation relating to impairment of fitness to practise<sup>9</sup> the registrant admits that his fitness to practise is impaired, the chair announces that the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired<sup>10</sup>;
- 927 (6) where facts remain in dispute, the presenter<sup>11</sup> adduces evidence in support of the Nursing and Midwifery Council's case<sup>12</sup>;
- 928 (7) except on the hearing of an allegation by the health committee<sup>13</sup> or the hearing of an allegation of lack of competence, upon the close of the Council's case and upon the application of the registrant<sup>14</sup>, or of its own volition<sup>15</sup>, the committee may determine that the allegation is not well founded<sup>16</sup>;
- 929 (8) except where the committee has determined that the allegation is not well founded under head (7) above, the registrant may adduce evidence in support of his case<sup>17</sup>;
- 930 (9) the committee deliberates in private in order to make its findings on the facts and then announces the findings it has made<sup>18</sup>;
- 931 (10) save in exceptional circumstances, the committee is not required to give reasons for its findings of fact<sup>19</sup>;
- 932 (11) where the allegation relates to impairment of fitness to practise, the committee invites representations from the parties as to whether, on the basis of any facts found proved, the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired<sup>20</sup>;
- 933 (12) in such a case, the committee deliberates in private, and then in the presence of the parties, if present, announces its decision as to whether the registrant's fitness to practise is impaired<sup>21</sup>, giving reasons for its decision<sup>22</sup>;
- 934 (13) in all cases the committee:
166
232. (a) may invite any person who, in its opinion, has an interest in the proceedings to submit written<sup>23</sup> representations within such time as the committee may direct<sup>24</sup>; and
233. (b) must invite representations from the registrant as to any mitigating circumstances which may affect the committee's decision on the sanction, if any, to be imposed<sup>25</sup>;
- 167
935 and takes any representations received into account before making its decision on sanction<sup>26</sup>;
- 936 (14) the committee deliberates in private, and then in the presence of the parties, where present, announces its decision on sanction<sup>27</sup> and gives reasons for its decision<sup>28</sup>; and 937 (15) where, after announcing its decision on sanction, the committee considers that it may be appropriate to make an interim order<sup>29</sup> pending the outcome of any appeal<sup>30</sup>, it: (a) invites representations from the parties, where present, on whether or not an interim order should be made<sup>31</sup>; (b) takes any representations received into account before deciding whether or not to make an interim order<sup>32</sup>; (c) deliberates in private<sup>33</sup>; and (d) announces its decision in the presence of the parties, where present, giving reasons for its decision<sup>34</sup>.

Notwithstanding the order of proceedings described above, the committee may allow the parties to make additional submissions<sup>35</sup>.

779. Order of proceedings at review or restoration hearings.

1 For the meaning of 'committee' see PARA 773 note 13 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'review hearing' see PARA 773 note 8 ante.

3 'Restoration hearing' means a hearing to consider an application for restoration to the register: Nursing and Midwifery Council (Fitness to Practise) Rules Order of Council 2004, SI 2004/1761, r 2. As to such applications see PARA 770 ante.

780 Order of proceedings at interim orders hearings

TEXT AND NOTES 1-3--SI 2004/1761 r 26(1) amended: SI 2007/893.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(5) FITNESS TO PRACTISE/(v) Practice Committee Hearings/781. Postponements, adjournments and cancellations.

781. Postponements, adjournments and cancellations.

The chair<sup>1</sup> of the practice committee<sup>2</sup> may, of his own motion, or upon the application of a party, postpone any hearing of which notice has been given before the hearing begins<sup>3</sup>. A practice committee considering an allegation<sup>4</sup> may, of its own motion or upon the application of a party, adjourn the proceedings at any stage, provided that no injustice is caused to the parties<sup>5</sup> and the decision is made after hearing representations from the parties, where present, and taking advice from the legal assessor<sup>6</sup>. In considering whether or not to grant a request for postponement or adjournment, the chair or committee must, amongst other matters, have regard to the public interest in the expeditious disposal of the case<sup>7</sup>, the potential inconvenience caused to a party or any witnesses to be called by that party<sup>8</sup>, and fairness to the registrant<sup>9</sup>. Before adjourning the proceedings, the practice committee must consider whether or not to make an interim order<sup>10</sup> and must: (1) invite representations from the parties, where present, on this issue<sup>11</sup>; (b) deliberate in private<sup>12</sup>; (3) announce its decision in the presence of the parties, where present<sup>13</sup>; (4) give reasons for its decision<sup>14</sup>; and (5) notify the registrant of its decision<sup>15</sup>.

Where an allegation has been referred to a practice committee for consideration at a hearing<sup>16</sup> and the presenter<sup>17</sup> considers that on the evidence available the hearing should not be held<sup>18</sup>, he must inform the committee of his opinion forthwith, and of the reasons for such opinion<sup>19</sup>. Upon receipt of the presenter's reasoned opinion, the committee must convene a preliminary meeting<sup>20</sup> at which the chair of the committee may<sup>21</sup> give a direction that the hearing should not be held and that the matter should be closed<sup>22</sup>. However, the chair of the committee must not give a direction to cancel a hearing without first giving the maker of the allegation, if any, a reasonable opportunity to comment, and taking into account any comments received from him<sup>23</sup>.

(vi) Appeals

782. Appeals to the court.

An appeal<sup>1</sup> from: (1) any order or decision of the health committee or the conduct and competence committee<sup>2</sup>, other than an interim order<sup>3</sup>, lies to the appropriate court<sup>4</sup>; and (2) any decision<sup>5</sup> of the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>6</sup> in respect of an appeal against a decision of the registrar<sup>7</sup> or of the investigating committee<sup>8</sup> lies to a county court<sup>9</sup>. In any such appeal, the Council is the respondent<sup>10</sup>.

The court may<sup>11</sup>: (a) dismiss the appeal<sup>12</sup>; (b) allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against<sup>13</sup>; (c) substitute for the decision appealed against any other decision the practice committee<sup>14</sup> concerned or the Council, as the case may be, could have made<sup>15</sup>; or (d) remit the case to the practice committee concerned or Council, as the case may be, to be disposed of in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>16</sup>. The court may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>17</sup>.

11 An appeal is by way of re-hearing: Practice Direction--Appeals PD52 para 22.3.(1)(cc), (2); and see R (on the application of Clarke) v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting [2004] EWHC 1350 (Admin), 79 BMLR 20, [2003] All ER(D) 390 (Oct). Where there has been an opinion expressed or an assertion of relevant fact made in the course of the hearing, it is competent for the court on appeal to receive in its discretion fresh evidence going to that expression of opinion or that assertion of fact: Hefferon v Committee of the United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting (1988) Independent, 11 March, DC, applying Stock v Central Midwives Board [1915] 3 KB 756, DC. On appeal, the court must determine whether the committee was justified in reaching the conclusion which it did, having regard to the evidence which was before the committee and any fresh evidence; must review the application by the committee of the relevant law; and must consider whether there was any breach of the rules of natural justice in the way in which the hearing was conducted: Hefferon v Committee of the United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting supra. As to the principles of natural justice see JUDICIAL REVIEW vol 61 (2010) PARA 629 et seq. The court will be reluctant to interfere with findings of fact by the committee: see R (on the application of Clarke) v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting supra. See also the cases cited in PARAS 188 note 14, 478 notes 5, 6 ante.

12 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 38(3)(a).

13 Ibid art 38(3)(b). As a general rule, the court will be slow to interfere with decisions of the committee on matters relating to penalty, but the committee is not entitled to arrive at a decision which can reasonably be said to be wrong and unjustified; it is proper to have regard to the nature and gravity of criminal offences committed by the appellant when decisions are being taken as to the appropriate penalty and its consequences; in this respect, there is room for a distinction between cases where the penalty is imposed for conduct which the committee has held is serious professional misconduct and cases where the penalty is imposed upon proof of a conviction: Dad v General Dental Council [2000] 1 WLR 1538, 56 BMLR 130, PC. See also Haygarth v Committee of the United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting (26 October 1988, unreported), DC.

15 Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001, SI 2002/253, art 38(3)(c).

16 Ibid art 38(3)(d). The power to give such directions as the court thinks proper includes a power to direct that a case be re-heard; and, although the court has always been loath to interfere with findings of fact of professional and other domestic disciplinary tribunals, where the court is troubled that an injustice may have been done because the person's case has not been fully considered by the disciplinary tribunal, there is good reason for sending the case back for re-hearing: Slater v United Kingdom Central Council for Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting (1987) Times, 10 June, DC. 234. (a) he falsely represents himself to be registered in the register<sup>1</sup>, or a particular part<sup>2</sup> of it or to be the subject of any entry in the register<sup>3</sup>;
235. (b) he uses a designated title<sup>4</sup> to which he is not entitled<sup>5</sup>;
236. (c) he falsely represents himself to possess qualifications in nursing or midwifery<sup>6</sup>;
- 169
- 939 (2) with intent that any person<sup>7</sup> be deceived, whether expressly or by implication, he causes or permits another person to make any representation about himself which, if made by himself with intent to deceive, would be an offence under head (1) above<sup>8</sup>; or, with intent to deceive, he makes with regard to another person any representation which is false to his own knowledge<sup>9</sup>, and if made by the other person with that intent would be an offence by him under head (1) above<sup>10</sup>;
- 940 (3) he fraudulently procures, or tries to procure, the making, amendment, removal or restoration of an entry in the register<sup>11</sup>;
- 941 (4) without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with any requirement imposed<sup>12</sup> by the Nursing and Midwifery Council<sup>13</sup>, or a practice committee<sup>14</sup>.

A person guilty of any such offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>15</sup>.

(7) NURSES AGENCIES

(i) In general

786. Registration.

Any person<sup>1</sup> who carries on or manages a nurses agency<sup>2</sup> without being registered in respect of it (as an agency of that description) is guilty of an offence<sup>3</sup>. Applications for registration must be made to the registration authority<sup>4</sup>. A certificate of registration issued in respect of an agency must be kept affixed in a conspicuous place at the agency<sup>5</sup>. The registration authority may at any time require a person who carries on or manages an agency to provide it with information relating to it<sup>6</sup>; and a person authorised by the registration authority may at any time enter and inspect premises which are used, or which he has reasonable cause to believe to be used, for the purposes of an agency<sup>7</sup>.

1 References to a person who carries on an agency include references to a person who carries it on otherwise than for profit: Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(5). For the meaning of 'person' see PARA 7 note 5 ante.

2 'Nurses agency' means, with the exception of any description of undertaking or organisation excepted from this definition by regulations, an employment agency or employment business, being (in either case) a business which consists of or includes supplying, or providing services for the purpose of supplying, registered nurses or registered midwives: ibid s 4(5), (9) (s 4(5) amended by the Health Act 1999 (Consequential Amendments) (Nursing and Midwifery) Order 2004, SI 2004/1771, art 3, Sch para 2(a)). For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante. For the meanings of 'employment agency' and 'employment business' see the Employment Agencies Act 1973; and TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARA 881 (definitions applied by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(1)). In England, the following are excepted from being a nurses agency: a special health authority which supplies staff, including nurses, to work for another national health service body; an NHS trust which supplies nurses to work solely for another national health service body; and an NHS foundation trust which supplies nurses to work solely for another national health service body: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 3 (substituted by SI 2004/1269). In Wales, an NHS trust which supplies nurses to work solely for other NHS trusts is excepted from being a nurses agency: Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 3. 'NHS trust' has the same meaning as in the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990 (see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 155 et seq): Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 2(1); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 2(1). 'National health service body' means an NHS trust, an NHS foundation trust, a strategic health authority, a health authority, a special health authority, a primary care trust or a local health board: Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(1) (definition amended by the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 6(2), Sch 5 para 46; the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 (Supplementary, Consequential etc Provisions) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2469, reg 4, Sch 1 para 27; and the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 34, Sch 4 paras 110, 112). As to all such bodies see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 75 et seq.

3 Care Standards Act 2000 s 11(1). Where the activities of an agency are carried on from two or more branches, each of those branches is treated as a separate agency for these purposes: s 11(2). As to the penalty for such an offence see s 11(5), (6); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. Where any offence under the Care Standards Act 2000 Pt II (ss 11-42) or regulations made under it is committed by a body corporate, if the offence is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of any director, manager, or secretary of the body corporate, or any person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he (as well as the body corporate) is guilty of the offence and liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly: s 30(1), (2). The reference to a director, manager or secretary of a body corporate includes a reference to any other similar officer of the body and, where the body is a local authority, to any officer or member of the authority: s 30(3). As to bodies corporate see COMPANIES; CORPORATIONS.

4 See ibid s 12(1). The registration authority in relation to England is the Commission for Social Care Inspection (s 5(1)(a)(ii) (s 5(1) renumbered by virtue of the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 paras 103, 105; and the Care Standards Act 2000 s 5(1)(a)(ii) substituted by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 147, Sch 9 paras 16, 17)); and in relation to Wales is the National Assembly for Wales (Care Standards Act 2000 s 5(1)(b) (as so renumbered)). As to the Commission for Social Care Inspection see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to registration generally see ss 12-21; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to offences relating to registration see ss 24-30; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE.

5 Ibid s 28(1). Failure to display a certificate is an offence: see s 28(2); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE.

6 See ibid s 31(1). As to such requests for information see further SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE.

7 Ibid s 31(2). As to inspections see s 31(3)-(9); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE.

787. Regulations.

Regulations may impose in relation to nurses agencies<sup>1</sup> any requirements which the appropriate minister<sup>2</sup> thinks fit for their regulation<sup>3</sup>. Regulations may also: (1) require the person carrying on a nurses agency to make an annual return to the registration authority<sup>4</sup>; (2) make provision where a receiver or manager of the property of a company registered in respect of a nurses agency, or a liquidator or provisional liquidator of such a company, or a trustee in bankruptcy of a registered individual, is appointed<sup>5</sup>; and (3) make provision where a person who was the only person registered in respect of an agency has died<sup>6</sup>. Regulations may also provide that a contravention of or failure to comply with any specified provision of any such regulations is an offence<sup>7</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'nurses agency' see PARA 786 note 2 ante.

2 'Appropriate minister' means in relation to England, Scotland or Northern Ireland, the Secretary of State; in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales; and in relation to England and Wales means the Secretary of State and the Assembly acting jointly: Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(1). 'Regulations' (except where provision is made for them to be made by the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales) means regulations made by the appropriate minister: s 121(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

3 Ibid s 22(1). As to the matters for which the regulations may make provision see s 22(2)-(11); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to the regulations that have been made see the Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212; the Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527; and PARA 789 et seq post.

789. Statement of purpose and service user's guide.

The registered person<sup>1</sup> must compile in relation to the nurses agency<sup>2</sup> a written statement, known as 'the statement of purpose', consisting of a statement as to the following matters<sup>3</sup>: (1) the aims and objectives of the agency<sup>4</sup>; (2) the nature of the services which the agency provides<sup>5</sup>; (3) the name and address of the registered provider and of any registered manager<sup>6</sup>; (4) the relevant qualifications and experience of the registered provider and any registered manager<sup>7</sup>; (5) the range of qualifications of nurses<sup>8</sup> supplied by the agency, and the types of settings in which they are supplied to work<sup>9</sup>; (6) the complaints procedure established by the registered person<sup>10</sup>. The registered person must supply a copy of the statement of purpose to the Commission for Social Care Inspection<sup>11</sup> and make a copy of it available on request for inspection by every service user and any person acting on behalf of a service user<sup>12</sup>.

The registered person must prepare a service user's guide<sup>13</sup> which must include: (a) a summary of the statement of purpose<sup>14</sup>; (b) the terms and conditions in respect of the services to be provided to service users, including as to the amount and method of payment of fees<sup>15</sup>; (c) a summary of the complaints procedure<sup>16</sup>; and (d) the address and telephone number of the Commission for Social Care Inspection<sup>17</sup>. The registered person must make a copy of the service user's guide available on request for inspection at the agency premises by every service user and any person acting on behalf of a service user<sup>18</sup>.

The registered person must keep under review and, where appropriate, revise the statement of purpose and the service user's guide<sup>19</sup>, and notify the Commission for Social Care Inspection of any material revision within 28 days<sup>20</sup>.

1 'Registered person', in relation to a nurses agency, means any person who is the registered provider or the registered manager of that agency; 'registered provider', in relation to an agency, means a person who is registered under the Care Standards Act 2000 Pt II (ss 11-42) as the person carrying on that agency; and 'registered manager', in relation to an agency, means a person who is registered under Pt II as the manager of that agency: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 2(1); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 2(1). Where there is more than one registered person in respect of an agency, anything which is required to be done by the registered person is, if done by one of the registered persons, not required to be done by any of the other registered persons: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 26; Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 26. As to registration see PARA 786 ante.

3 Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 4(1); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 4(1). 'Statement of purpose' means the written statement compiled in accordance with this provision: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 2(1); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 2(1).

4 Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 4(1), Sch 1 para 1; Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 4(1), Sch 1 para 1. The registered person must not use premises for the purposes of an agency unless the premises are suitable for the purpose of achieving the aims and objectives of the agency set out in the statement of purpose: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 20; Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 20. Nothing in this provision requires or authorises the registered person to contravene, or not to comply with any other provision of the regulations, or the conditions for the time being in force in relation to the registration of the registered person under the Care Standards Act 2000 Pt II: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 4(3); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 4(3).

7 Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, Sch 1 para 4; Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, Sch 1 para 4.

8 'Nurse' means a registered nurse or registered midwife: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 2(1); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 717 note 2 ante. References to the supply of a nurse mean: (1) the supply of a nurse who is employed for the purposes of an agency to act for and under the control of another person; and (2) the introduction of a nurse by an agency to a service user for employment by that service user: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 2(2); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 2(1), (2), (3). 'Service user' means a person to whom an agency:

179 (a) supplies a nurse who is employed by the agency; or

180 (b) provides services for the purpose of supplying the service user with a nurse for employment by that service user, and in this definition the terms 'employed' and 'employment' include employment under a contract for services: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 2(1), (3); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 2(1), (3). As to contracts for services see EMPLOYMENT.

11 As to the Commission for Social Care Inspection see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. In Wales, the copy must be supplied to the appropriate office of the National Assembly for Wales: ibid reg 4(2). 'Appropriate office' means, in relation to a nurses agency, if an office has been specified for the area in which the nurses agency operates, that office; in any other case, any office of the National Assembly: reg 2(1). The National Assembly may specify an office controlled by it as the appropriate office in relation to a nurses agency situated in a particular part of Wales: reg 2(4). As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

13 'Service user's guide' means the written guide produced in accordance with these provisions: Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 2(1); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 2(1).

14 Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 5(1)(a); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 5(1)(a).

798 Review of quality of service provision

TEXT AND NOTES--SI 2002/3212 reg 19 substituted: SI 2006/1493. The registered person must establish and maintain a system, providing for consultation with service users and their representatives, for evaluating the quality of the services provided by the agency: SI 2002/3212 reg 19(1), (5) (reg 19 substituted by SI 2006/1493). At the request of the Commission, the registered person must supply to it a report, based on that system, describing the extent to which, in the reasonable opinion of the registered person, the agency (1) provides good quality services for service users, (2) takes the views of service users and their representatives into account in deciding what services to offer to them, and the manner in which such services are to be provided, and (3) has responded to recommendations made or requirements imposed by the Commission in relation to the agency over the period specified in the request: reg 19(2). The report must be supplied to the Commission within one month of the receipt by the agency of the Commission's request, and in the form and manner required by the Commission: reg 19(3). The report must also contain details of the measures that the registered person considers it necessary to take in order to improve the quality and delivery of the services provided by the agency: reg 19(4).

If requested to do so by the Commission, the registered person must produce an improvement plan setting out the methods by which, and the timetable to which, the registered person intends to improve the services provided by the agency: reg 19A(1)

(reg 19A added by SI 2006/1493). The registered person must provide a written copy of the improvement plan to the Commission within one month of receipt of its request: reg 19A(2). A copy of the plan must be made available to service users and their representatives: reg 19A(3).

799. Financial provisions.

The registered provider<sup>1</sup> must carry on the nurses agency<sup>2</sup> in such manner as is likely to ensure that the agency will be financially viable for the purpose of achieving the aims and objectives set out in the statement of purpose<sup>3</sup>. The registered person<sup>4</sup> must, if the Commission for Social Care Inspection<sup>5</sup> so requests, provide it with such information and documents as it may require in order to consider the financial viability of the agency<sup>6</sup>.

Any person appointed as:

- 945 (1) the receiver or manager of the property of a company or partnership which is a registered provider in respect of an agency<sup>7</sup>;
- 946 (2) the liquidator or provisional liquidator of a company which is the registered provider in respect of an agency<sup>8</sup>;
- 947 (3) the trustee in bankruptcy of a registered provider in respect of an agency<sup>9</sup>, must forthwith notify the Commission for Social Care Inspection<sup>10</sup> of his appointment indicating the reasons for it<sup>11</sup>; appoint a manager to take full-time day to day charge of the agency in any case where there is no registered manager<sup>12</sup>; and, not more than 28 days after his appointment, notify the Commission<sup>13</sup> of his intentions regarding the future operation of the agency<sup>14</sup>.

801. Death of registered person.

If more than one person is registered in respect of a nurses agency<sup>1</sup>, and a registered person<sup>2</sup> dies, the surviving registered person must without delay notify the Commission for Social Care Inspection<sup>3</sup> of the death in writing<sup>4</sup>. If only one person is registered in respect of an agency, and he dies, his personal representatives must without delay notify the Commission<sup>5</sup> in writing of the death<sup>6</sup>, and must within 28 days notify it of their intentions regarding the future running of the agency<sup>7</sup>. The personal representatives of the deceased registered provider<sup>8</sup> may carry on the agency without being registered in respect of it for a period not exceeding 28 days<sup>9</sup>, although this period may be extended<sup>10</sup>. The personal representatives must appoint a person to take full-time day to day charge of the agency during any such period in which they carry on the agency without being registered in respect of it<sup>11</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/6. NURSES, MIDWIVES AND NURSES AGENCIES/(7) NURSES AGENCIES/(iv) Offences/802. Failure to comply with regulations.

(iv) Offences

802. Failure to comply with regulations.

A contravention or failure to comply with any of the provisions relating to nurses agencies<sup>1</sup> is an offence<sup>2</sup>. A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>3</sup>.

In England, the Commission for Social Care Inspection<sup>4</sup> may not bring proceedings against a person in respect of any contravention or failure to comply with those provisions unless: (1) he is a registered person<sup>5</sup>; (2) notice has been given to him<sup>6</sup>; (3) the period specified in the notice, within which the registered person may make representations to the Commission, has expired<sup>7</sup>; and (4) in a case where the notice specifies any action that is to be taken within a specified period, the period has expired and the action has not been taken within that period<sup>8</sup>.

1 In the case of England, the provisions of the Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, regs 4-6 (see PARA 789 ante) and regs 11-23 (see PARAS 793-800 ante) (see reg 27(1)); and in the case of Wales, the provisions of the Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, regs 4-23 (see PARAS 789-800 ante) (see reg 27(1)). For the meaning of 'nurses agency' see PARA 786 note 2 ante.

2 Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 27(1); Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 27(1). As to failure to comply with the provisions relating to the keeping of records see note 5 infra. As to the commission of offences by bodies corporate see PARA 786 note 3 ante.

3 Care Standards Act 2000 s 25(2). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: see s 25(2). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante.

4 As to the Commission for Social Care Inspection see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE.

5 Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 27(2)(a). For the meaning of 'registered person' see PARA 789 note 1 ante. The Commission may, however, bring proceedings against a person who was once, but no longer is, a registered person, in respect of a failure to comply with reg 17 (the keeping of records: see PARA 795 text to notes 14-16 ante); and for this purpose, references in reg 27(2), (3) (see the text and notes 6-8 infra) to a registered person include such a person: reg 27(4).

Similarly, the National Assembly for Wales may bring proceedings against a person who was once, but no longer is, a registered person, in respect of a failure to comply with the Nurses Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2527, reg 17 (keeping of records: see PARA 795 text to notes 14-16 ante): reg 27(2). As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

6 Nurses Agencies Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3212, reg 27(2)(b). Where the Commission considers that the registered person has contravened or failed to comply with any of the provisions of the regulations mentioned in reg 27(1) (see note 1 supra), it may serve a notice on the registered person specifying: (1) in what respect in its opinion the registered person has contravened any of the regulations, or has failed, or is failing, to comply with the requirements of any of those regulations (reg 27(3)(a)); (2) where it is practicable for the registered person to take action for the purpose of complying with any of those regulations, the action which, in the opinion of the Commission, the registered person should take for that purpose (reg 27(3)(b)); (3) the period, not exceeding three months, within which the registered person should take any such action (reg 27(3)(c)); (4) the period, not exceeding one month, within which the registered person may make representations to the Commission about the notice (reg 27(3)(d)). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/803. Introduction.

7. OPTICIANS

(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION

803. Introduction.

The principal purposes of the Opticians Act 1989<sup>1</sup> are to provide for the registration of opticians<sup>2</sup> and the enrolment of bodies corporate carrying on business as opticians<sup>3</sup>, to regulate the practice of opticians and the conduct by bodies corporate of their business as opticians<sup>4</sup>, and to impose restrictions on the testing of sight<sup>5</sup> and the sale and supply of optical appliances<sup>6</sup>, and on the fitting of contact lenses<sup>7</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed, the provisions of the Opticians Act 1989 are to be amended so as to reform the registration and disciplinary regime<sup>8</sup>.

1 The Opticians Act 1989 came into force on 16 February 1990 and consolidated the provisions of the Opticians Act 1958, incorporating a number of amendments which give effect to recommendations made by the Law Commission's report on the consolidation of legislation relating to opticians (Cm 738; Law Com no 183). The Opticians Act 1989 applies to Northern Ireland: s 39(2).

2 For other statutory provisions relevant to the practice of opticians see PARA 10 ante.

3 See PARA 837 et seq post.

4 See PARAS 809-812, 846 et seq post.

5 See PARA 804 post.

6 See the Opticians Act 1989 s 27; and PARA 807 post.

7 See ibid s 25; and PARA 808 post.

8 See the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848. The functions of the General Optical Council are to include the promotion of high standards of professional education, conduct and performance: see art 3. There are to be powers of delegation for the Council, its committees, and the registrar: see art 6. The disciplinary committee is to be abolished, and new committees are to be established, to be known as the Fitness to Practise Committee, the Registration Committee, the Registration Appeals Committee, and the Standards Committee: see art 4. There is to be a Hearings Panel, from which the members of the Fitness to Practise Committee and the Registration Appeals Committee are to be selected: see art 5. Provision is made as to registration (see arts 8-12), and the registers of ophthalmic opticians are to be replaced with a register of optometrists (see art 7). Provision is also made as to educational standards, and training and development: see arts 14, 15. Part 2A is to be added to the Opticians Act 1989, dealing with fitness to practise: see the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, art 16. The Opticians Act 1989 Pt 3A is added, dealing with proceedings and appeals: see the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, art 17. There are various further amendments to the Opticians Act 1989: see the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, Pt 5 (arts 18-29), Sch 1 Pt 1. Amendments are also made to subordinate legislation by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, Sch 1 Pt 3: see eg the Sale of Optical Appliances Order of Council 1984, SI 1984/1778; the Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses 1985, approved by the General Optical Council (Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/856; the Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules 1988, approved by the General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305; the Contact Lens (Specification) Rules 1988, approved by the General Optical Council Contact Lens (Specification) Rules Order of Council 1989, SI 1989/791; the Sight Testing (Examination and Prescription) (No 2) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1230; the Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules 1993, approved by the General Optical Council (Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules) Order of Council 1994, SI 1994/70; the Rules relating to Injury or Disease of the Eye 1999, approved by the General Optical Council (Rules relating to Injury or Disease of the Eye) Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/3267; and the General Optical Council Election Scheme 2001, approved by the General Optical Council (Membership) Order of Council 2001, SI 2001/3057.

The provisions of the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, art 1 (citation, commencement and extent), art 22 (exercise of rule-making powers), art 25 (subordinate legislation), art 29(2)-(4) (transitional provisions) and any provisions conferring powers to make rules, regulations or orders came into force on 22 March 2005 (ie the date on which the order was made): see art 1(2), (3). In so far as they are not brought into force by art 1(2), (3), the provisions of the order are to come into force on such day as the Secretary of State may specify and notify in the London Gazette; and different days may be specified for different purposes: see art 1(4)-(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been specified.

804. Restrictions on the testing of sight.

Any person who is not a registered medical practitioner<sup>1</sup> or a registered ophthalmic optician<sup>2</sup>, must not test the sight<sup>3</sup> of another person<sup>4</sup>, and if he does so he is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>5</sup>. This restriction does not, however, apply to the testing of sight by a person recognised by a medical authority<sup>6</sup> as a medical student, if carried out as part of a course of instruction approved by that authority for medical students or as part of an examination so approved<sup>7</sup>; and the General Optical Council<sup>8</sup> may by rules exempt from the restriction the testing of sight by persons training as ophthalmic opticians, or any prescribed class of them, in such cases and subject to compliance with such conditions as may be prescribed by the rules<sup>9</sup>.

Any testing of sight which is carried out by a person in the course of his training as an ophthalmic optician who falls within any of the prescribed classes<sup>10</sup>, and under the continuous personal supervision of a registered ophthalmic optician or a registered medical practitioner<sup>11</sup>, is exempt from restriction on the testing of sight<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante.

2 'Registered ophthalmic optician' means a person who is registered in either of the registers of ophthalmic opticians: Opticians Act 1989 s 36(1). For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 838 note 2 post. As to the registers see PARA 838 post. 'Ophthalmic optician' means a person engaged or proposing to engage in the testing of sight (otherwise than as a registered medical practitioner or a person recognised by a medical authority (see note 6 infra) as a medical student), whether or not he is also engaged or proposing to engage in the fitting and supply of optical appliances; and 'optical appliance' means an appliance designed to correct, remedy or relieve a defect of sight: s 36(1).

As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

3 References to testing sight are references to testing sight with the object of determining whether there is any and, if so, what defect of sight and of correcting, remedying or relieving any such defect of an anatomical or physiological nature by means of an optical appliance prescribed on the basis of the determination: Opticians Act 1989 s 36(2).

4 Ibid s 24(1).

5 Ibid s 24(4). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: see s 24(4). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante. As to the position where an offence is committed after the death or bankruptcy of an optician see s 29(3), (4); and PARA 811 post.

6 'Medical authority' means one of the universities and other bodies which choose appointed members of the General Medical Council: ibid s 36(1). As to these bodies see PARA 15 ante. As to the General Medical Council see PARA 13 et seq ante.

7 Ibid s 24(2).

8 As to the General Optical Council see PARA 813 et seq post.

9 Opticians Act 1989 s 24(3). As to the making of rules see PARA 825 post. As to the rules that have been made see the Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules 1993, approved by the General Optical Council (Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules) Order of Council 1994, SI 1994/70; and the text to notes 10-12 infra.

10 General Optical Council (Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules) Order of Council 1994, SI 1994/70, r 3(a). The prescribed classes are: (1) persons who are receiving instruction at an approved training institution with a view to obtaining an approved qualification (r 4(a)); (2) persons who are undertaking a period of practical experience in the work of an ophthalmic optician with a view to satisfying the General Optical Council as to the adequacy of their practical experience in such work, for the purposes of the Opticians Act 1989 s 8 (see PARA 840 post) (General Optical Council (Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules) Order of Council 1994, SI 1994/70, r 4(b)); (3) persons who are completing an adaptation period within the meaning, and for the purposes, of the European Communities (Recognition of Professional Qualifications) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/824 reg 6 or who are receiving instruction at an approved training institution, with a view to taking an aptitude test within the meaning, and for the purposes, of that regulation (General Optical Council (Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules) Order of Council 1994, SI 1994/70, r 4(c)); (4) persons who are undergoing examination for an approved qualification (r 4(d)); (5) persons who have qualified as ophthalmic opticians outside the United Kingdom and are receiving instruction at an approved training institution (r 4(e)); (6) persons who are in the course of training as an ophthalmic optician outside the United Kingdom and are receiving instruction at an approved training institution (r 4(f) (amended by SI 1999/2897)). 'Approved qualification' means a qualification approved by the General Optical Council under the Opticians Act 1989 s 12 (see PARA 827 post) as suitable to be granted to ophthalmic opticians; and 'approved training institution' means an institution approved by the General Optical Council under s 12 as suitable for the training of ophthalmic opticians: General Optical Council (Testing of Sight by Persons Training as Ophthalmic Opticians Rules) Order of Council 1994, SI 1994/70, r 2. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/805. Duties to be performed on the testing of sight.

805. Duties to be performed on the testing of sight.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations<sup>2</sup> provide that, subject to any exceptions specified in the regulations, when a registered medical practitioner<sup>3</sup> or registered ophthalmic optician<sup>4</sup> tests the sight<sup>5</sup> of another person, it is his duty: (1) to perform such examinations of the eye for the purpose of detecting injury, disease or abnormality in the eye or elsewhere as the regulations may require<sup>6</sup>; and (2) immediately following the test to give the person whose sight he has tested a written<sup>7</sup> statement that he has carried out the examinations that the regulations require<sup>8</sup>, and that he is or, as the case may be, is not referring him to a registered medical practitioner<sup>9</sup>. He must also give the person, immediately following the test, either a signed written prescription for an optical appliance<sup>10</sup> or a signed statement that the person does not need to wear or use an optical appliance<sup>11</sup>. If he does issue a prescription, it must include the following particulars: (a) details of the specification of each lens to be included in the optical appliance prescribed<sup>12</sup>; (b) the date of the test<sup>13</sup>; (c) the name and address of the patient, and his date of birth if he is under 16<sup>14</sup>; (d) the name and address of the practitioner or optician who carried out the test<sup>15</sup>; (e) the address at which, or the name of the hospital, clinic, nursing home or other institution at which, the test was carried out<sup>16</sup>; (f) where the patient had previously been prescribed an optical appliance, and the specifications of the lenses are the same or are different but not sufficiently so to necessitate a change in the appliance, a statement that no change to the appliance is necessary<sup>17</sup>.

A person may not be required, as a condition of having his sight tested, to undertake to purchase from any specified person any optical appliance which the test shows him to require<sup>18</sup>, or to pay any fee before the testing is carried out<sup>19</sup>. A fee<sup>20</sup> is payable where a duty arises under the above provisions only if the duty has been fulfilled<sup>21</sup>. Any term of an agreement for the testing of sight which is inconsistent with these provisions is unenforceable, and any sum paid in respect of a fee otherwise than under these provisions is recoverable<sup>22</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante.

2 The power of the Secretary of State to make such regulations is exercisable by statutory instrument (Opticians Act 1989 s 34(5)(c)); and a statutory instrument containing those regulations is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 34(6)(b)). Different provision may be made for different classes of case: s 26(8). The Sight Testing (Examination and Prescription) (No 2) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1230, have effect under the Opticians Act 1989 s 26(1) by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b). As to the annulment of statutory instruments see STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1516.

As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'registered ophthalmic optician' see PARA 804 note 2 ante.

5 As to the meaning of 'testing sight' see PARA 804 note 3 ante.

6 Opticians Act 1989 s 26(1)(a). In testing the sight of a person, a practitioner or optician must perform, for the purpose of detecting signs of injury, disease or abnormality in the eye or elsewhere, an examination of the external surface of the eye and its immediate vicinity, an intra-ocular examination, either by means of an ophthalmoscope or by such other means as the optician considers appropriate, and such additional examinations as appear to the optician to be clinically necessary: Sight Testing (Examination and Prescription) (No 2) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1230, reg 3(1)(a)(i)-(iii). However, these provisions do not apply where the testing of sight is carried out by a doctor at a hospital or clinic in the course of diagnosing or treating injury or disease of the eye: reg 3(2).

Regulation 3 is not a comprehensive statement of the professional duty of an optician. An optician performing an examination to which reg 3 applies is not required by it to diagnose injury, disease or abnormality of the eye; the purpose of the examination is to detect signs of injury, disease or abnormality. The examinations referred to in reg 3(1)(i)-(iii) must be reasonable examinations, such as would be performed by a reasonably competent optician in the circumstances; furthermore an optician will fail in his duty if he does not perform such additional examinations as would appear to any reasonably competent optician to be clinically necessary: Threlfall v General Optical Council [2004] EWHC 2683 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 416 (Nov).

10 For the meaning of 'optical appliance' see PARA 804 note 2 ante.

11 Opticians Act 1989 s 26(2). The Secretary of State may by regulations specify particulars to be included in a prescription or statement provided in fulfilment of this duty, and circumstances in which that duty does not arise: s 26(3)(a), (b). The statement must, in addition to stating that the patient does not need to wear or use an optical appliance, include the particulars specified in heads (b)-(e) in the text: Sight Testing (Examination and Prescription) (No 2) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1230, reg 5(2). There is no duty to issue a prescription or a statement after testing a patient's sight where, following the testing of the person's sight, the patient is referred to his doctor for further investigation or treatment, or the sight test was carried out as part of a general medical examination including an examination for insurance purposes within the meaning of the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988 s 2(1) (see PARA 215 note 4 ante) or for employment purposes within the meaning of that provision (see PARA 215 note 3 ante), or the person was resident in a hospital or a clinic for the purposes of treatment when his sight was tested: Sight Testing (Examination and Prescription) (No 2) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1230, reg 4(a)-(c).

803-812 Regulation of the Profession

Notwithstanding anything in any enactment, proceedings for an offence under the Opticians Act 1989 Pt 4 (ss 24-30A) may be begun at any time within the period of six months beginning with the date on which evidence sufficient in the opinion of the General Optical Council to justify a prosecution for the offence comes to its knowledge, or within a period of two years beginning with the date of the commission of the offence, whichever period first expires: s 30A (added by SI 2005/848).

805 Duties to be performed on the testing of sight

TEXT AND NOTE 4--Reference to ophthalmic optician now to optometrist: Opticians Act 1989 s 26(1) (amended by SI 2005/848).

NOTE 6--Reference to SI 1989/1230 reg 3(1)(i)-(iii) should be to reg 3(1)(a)(i)-(iii).

TEXT AND NOTE 9--If a referral is made, reasons for it must be given: 1989 Act s 26(1)(b) (ii) (amended by SI 2005/848).

NOTE 9--The provisions of SI 1989/1230 reg 3(1)(b)(ii) do not apply where the doctor or optometrist refers the patient to an ophthalmic hospital, in accordance with the General Ophthalmic Services Contracts Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1185, reg 13(3): SI 1989/1230 reg 3(3) (added by SI 2005/480; and amended by SI 2005/848, SI 2008/1700).

NOTE 11--1989 Act s 26(2) amended: SI 2005/848. For 'circumstances ...arise' read 'that that duty does not arise where a person is being fitted with contact lenses as part of the medical or clinical treatment provided for an eye condition': 1989 Act s 26(3)(b) (substituted by SI 2005/848). There is no duty to issue a prescription or a statement after testing a patient's sight where, following the testing of his sight, he is being fitted with contact lenses as part of the medical or clinical treatment provided for an eye condition: SI 1989/1230 reg 4(d) (added by SI 2005/1481).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/806. Restrictions on the treatment of eye injury or disease.

806. Restrictions on the treatment of eye injury or disease.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> must make and submit to the Privy Council rules<sup>2</sup> providing that where it appears to a registered optician<sup>3</sup> that a person consulting him is suffering from an injury or disease of the eye, the optician must, except in an emergency<sup>4</sup> or where that person is consulting him for the purpose of being given specified treatment<sup>5</sup> or in such other cases as may be prescribed<sup>6</sup>, take the prescribed steps to refer that person to a registered medical practitioner<sup>7</sup> for advice and treatment<sup>8</sup>.

Where it appears to a registered optician that a person consulting him is suffering from an injury or disease of the eye<sup>9</sup>, the registered optician must<sup>10</sup> refer that person to a registered medical practitioner, unless he is acting on the advice or instructions of a registered medical practitioner, other than a medical recommendation for a sight test, in testing the sight of such a person or in fitting and supplying such a person with an optical appliance<sup>11</sup>; but in such case the optician must forthwith report to that practitioner any findings of injury or disease of the eye of which the practitioner may be unaware<sup>12</sup>. If in the professional judgement of a registered optician there is no justification to refer a person consulting him to a registered medical practitioner, or it would be impracticable or inexpedient to do so, the registered optician may at his discretion decide not to refer that person on that occasion<sup>13</sup>. As an exception to the duty of a registered optician to refer a person to a registered medical practitioner, a dispensing optician<sup>14</sup> may refer the person consulting him to an ophthalmic optician<sup>15</sup>. Nothing in these provisions operates to prevent a registered optician from rendering in an emergency whatever services are, having regard to the circumstances, in the best interests of the person consulting him<sup>16</sup>, or giving specified treatment<sup>17</sup>.

12 General Optical Council (Rules relating to Injury or Disease of the Eye) Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/3267, r 3. In referring a person to a registered medical practitioner, a registered optician must take the following steps: (1) he must advise the person to consult such a practitioner (r 4(a)); (2) he must wherever practicable furnish a registered medical practitioner named by the person with a written report of his findings indicating his grounds for thinking the person may be suffering from injury or disease of the eye (r 4(b)); and (3) where action appears urgent, he must also take such measures as are open to him to inform a registered medical practitioner immediately (r 4(c)). If a person who appears to a registered optician to be suffering from injury or disease of the eye is unwilling, on conscientious or other grounds, to consult a registered medical practitioner, the optician must record that fact and the grounds which the person gives for his unwillingness to consult a registered medical practitioner: r 5.

Rule 3 does not require or envisage that the optician will have identified the injury or disease of the eye from which the patient suffers; it is sufficient that the optician concludes that the patient is suffering from some injury or disease of the eye, the diagnosis of which is for the registered medical practitioner to whom the patient is referred: Threlfall v General Optical Council [2004] EWHC 2683 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 416 (Nov).

13 General Optical Council (Rules relating to Injury or Disease of the Eye) Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/3267, r 6. In such a case the optician must: (1) record in respect of the person consulting him a sufficient description of the injury or disease from which that person appears to be suffering (r 6(a)(i)), his reason for deciding not to refer on that occasion (r 6(a)(ii)), details of advice tendered to the patient (r 6(a)(iii)), and an account of any action taken under the provisions of r 7 (see the text to notes 14-15 infra) (r 6(a)(iv)); and (2) if appropriate, and with the consent of the person consulting him, inform that person's general medical practitioner of those recorded matters (r 6(b)).

14 For the meaning of 'dispensing optician' see PARA 807 note 8 post.

15 General Optical Council (Rules relating to Injury or Disease of the Eye) Order of Council 1999, SI 1999/3267, r 7. In such a case, the optician must record that he has so referred together with details of the injury or disease from which that person appears to be suffering and any advice tendered to that person: r 7. For the meaning of 'ophthalmic optician' see PARA 804 note 2 ante.

UPDATE

803-812 Regulation of the Profession

Notwithstanding anything in any enactment, proceedings for an offence under the Opticians Act 1989 Pt 4 (ss 24-30A) may be begun at any time within the period of six months beginning with the date on which evidence sufficient in the opinion of the General Optical Council to justify a prosecution for the offence comes to its knowledge, or within a period of two years beginning with the date of the commission of the offence, whichever period first expires: s 30A (added by SI 2005/848).

806 Restrictions on the treatment of eye injury or disease

TEXT AND NOTES 9-12--Reference to registered optician now to registered optometrist or registered dispensing optician: SI 1999/3267 r 3 (amended by SI 2005/1476).

NOTE 12--References to registered optician are now to registered optometrist or registered dispensing optician: SI 1999/3267 rr 4, 5 (r 4 amended by SI 2005/848; SI 1999/3267 r 5 amended by SI 2005/848, SI 2005/1476).

NOTE 13--In head (1) reference to advice is now to advice or medical or clinical treatment: SI 1999/3267 r 6(a)(iii) (amended by SI 2005/1476).

TEXT AND NOTES 14, 15--Replaced. As an exception to the duty to refer to a registered medical practitioner, (1) a registered dispensing optician may refer the person consulting him to a registered optometrist; or (2) a registered optometrist or dispensing optician may refer the person consulting him to (a) a person other than a registered medical practitioner who provides and who has the appropriate qualifications or expertise to provide medical or clinical treatment for the injury or disease of the eye from which the person consulting him appears to be suffering, or (b) a person or body one of whose functions is to refer or to organise the referral of persons who having consulted a registered optometrist or dispensing optician appear to that optometrist or dispensing optician to be suffering from an injury or disease of the eye to a registered medical practitioner or a person falling within head (b): SI 1999/3267 r 7 (substituted by SI 2005/1476).

Where a registered optometrist or dispensing optician makes a referral under SI 1999/3267 r 7, he must (i) record in respect of the person consulting him, (A) that he has made the referral and the date of the referral, (B) a sufficient description of the injury or disease from which that person appears to be suffering, and (C) details of any advice or medical or clinical treatment tendered to the patient; and (ii) provide to the person to whom the referral is made a written report of his findings indicating (A) his grounds for thinking that the person may be suffering from injury or disease of the eye, (B) the urgency of the case, and (C) where the referral is made to a person falling within head (2)(b), instructions as to whether the patient should be referred to a registered medical practitioner, or to a person who is not a registered medical practitioner, in which case the instructions must include what qualifications or expertise that person must have: r 7A (added by SI 2005/1476).

The duty to refer under SI 1999/3267 r 3 does not apply to a registered optometrist who has the supplementary prescriber specialty entered on the register against his name under the General Optical Council (Registration Rules) 2005, SI 2005/1478, r 10, and who is acting under and in accordance with the Prescription Only Medicines (Human Use) Order 1997, SI 1997/1830, art 3B: SI 1999/3267 r 7B (added by SI 2005/1476).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/807. Restrictions on the sale and supply of optical appliances.

807. Restrictions on the sale and supply of optical appliances.

However, the prohibition does not apply to: (1) the sale of an optical appliance to: (a) a registered medical practitioner, registered optician or enrolled<sup>11</sup> body corporate for the purpose of his practice or his or its business<sup>12</sup>; (b) a manufacturer of or dealer in optical appliances for the purposes of his business<sup>13</sup>; (c) any authority or person carrying on a hospital, clinic, nursing home or other institution providing medical or surgical treatment<sup>14</sup>; (d) a Minister of the Crown or government department<sup>15</sup>; or (2) the sale of such an appliance for the purpose of export<sup>16</sup>; or (3) the sale for a person not under the age of 16 years of spectacles which have two single vision lenses of the same positive spherical power not exceeding four dioptries where the sale is wholly for the purpose of correcting, remedying or relieving presbyopia<sup>17</sup>; or (4) to the sale of optical appliances, not including contact lenses or any optical appliance for a person under 16 years of age<sup>18</sup>, which are exempted from the prohibition by order made by the Privy Council<sup>19</sup>.

Exemption is granted in respect of spectacles<sup>20</sup> which are not for persons under 16 or persons who are registered blind or partially sighted, except in the latter case where the seller does not know and has no reason to suspect that it is for such a person, or the spectacles are frames or mounts sold or supplied without lenses<sup>21</sup>. This exemption is subject to the conditions that: (i) optical appliances consisting of or including one or more lenses must be in accordance with a written prescription which has been given by a registered medical practitioner or registered<sup>22</sup> ophthalmic optician following a testing of sight<sup>23</sup> by him and bears a date not earlier than two years before the prescription is presented to the proposed seller of the appliance<sup>24</sup>; (ii) neither cellulose nitrate nor celluloid has been used in the manufacture of the appliance or any of part of it<sup>25</sup>; (iii) statutory provisions as to the quality and fitness of the appliance, and the care and skill exercised in the provision of any connected services, are not varied or negatived, by express agreement or otherwise<sup>26</sup>; (iv) in certain circumstances<sup>27</sup>, where the appliance consists of or includes one or more lenses<sup>28</sup>, the seller has verified by means of a focimeter that the appliance is in accordance with the prescription<sup>29</sup>, and has checked that the distance between the customer's cornea and the back vertex of the lens is in accordance with the prescription, if that distance is indicated in relation to the power of the lens, and has made any necessary adjustment<sup>30</sup>, and the optical centre of the lens is aligned with the centre of the pupil unless the prescription otherwise provides<sup>31</sup>; (v) the appliance is sold on terms which include a condition, binding the seller, that head (i) above and, where appropriate, heads (ii) and (iii) above are fulfilled<sup>32</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7.
OPTICIANS/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/808. Fitting of contact lenses.

808. Fitting of contact lenses.

Subject to the exceptions described below, a person may not fit contact lenses unless he is a registered medical practitioner<sup>1</sup> or registered optician<sup>2</sup>, and if he does so he is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>3</sup>. The prohibition does not apply to the fitting of contact lenses by a person recognised by a medical authority<sup>4</sup> as a medical student if carried out as part of either a course of instruction or an examination approved by that authority for medical students<sup>5</sup>. The General Optical Council<sup>6</sup> may by rules exempt from the prohibition the fitting of contact lenses by persons training as opticians, or any prescribed class of them, in such cases and subject to compliance with such conditions as may be prescribed by the rules<sup>7</sup>. The Council may also make rules: (1) prohibiting or regulating the prescription, supply and fitting by registered opticians, enrolled<sup>8</sup> bodies corporate and their employees of contact lenses<sup>9</sup>; and (2) specifying requirements which they must meet if they are to prescribe, fit or supply contact lenses<sup>10</sup>.

A registered optician must not fit<sup>11</sup> a contact lens unless he holds an approved qualification<sup>12</sup>, or certification<sup>13</sup>, or unless the lens is fitted by him under the supervision of a registered optician holding an approved qualification or certification<sup>14</sup>. A registered optician may take or use a name, title, addition or description indicating that he is qualified to fit such lenses only if he is in fact so qualified<sup>15</sup>. A registered optician whose business is concerned with the fitting of contact lenses may employ for the purpose of fitting such lenses only registered medical practitioners or persons otherwise entitled<sup>16</sup> to fit such lenses<sup>17</sup>. An enrolled body corporate with such a business must ensure that the arrangements for carrying on the business are such as to secure that lenses are fitted only by such persons<sup>18</sup>. Unless he prescribes them personally, an optician must not begin to fit contact lenses without specific instructions to supply them, including a recent spectacle prescription and other relevant details, from a registered medical practitioner or registered ophthalmic optician<sup>19</sup>. An optician who fits a person with a contact lens, on completing the fitting, must give to him a written statement of the particulars necessary to enable the lens to be replicated<sup>20</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante.

2 Opticians Act 1989 s 25(1). For the meaning of 'registered optician' see PARA 839 note 4 post.

As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

3 Opticians Act 1989 s 25(4). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: see s 25(4). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante. As to the position where an offence is committed after the death or bankruptcy of an optician see s 29(3), (4); and PARA 811 post.

4 For the meaning of 'medical authority' see PARA 804 note 6 ante.

5 Opticians Act 1989 s 25(2).

6 As to the General Optical Council see PARA 813 et seq post.

7 Opticians Act 1989 s 25(3). As to the making of rules see PARA 825 post. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 806 note 6 ante. By virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses 1985, approved by the General Optical Council (Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/856, have effect as if made under the Opticians Act 1989 s 25(3).

A person who is training as a dispensing optician or an ophthalmic optician and who falls within one of the prescribed classes may fit a contact lens provided he does so in the course of obtaining practical experience and under the continuous personal supervision of a qualified registered optician or registered medical practitioner: General Optical Council (Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/856, r 3. For the meaning of 'ophthalmic optician' see PARA 804 note 2 ante; and for the meaning of 'dispensing optician' see PARA 807 note 8 ante. 'Qualified registered optician' means a registered optician who holds an approved qualification, as defined in the General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305, (see note 12 infra) or who has been granted certification as a person qualified to fit contact lenses in accordance with the provisions of that order (see note 13 infra): General Optical Council (Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/856, r 2(a). The prescribed classes of persons are: (1) persons engaged in an appropriate course of instruction (r 4(1)); (2) persons who either have completed an appropriate course of instruction or are holders of a qualification for the time being recognised under the Opticians Act 1989 s 12(2) (see PARA 827 post), and who are undertaking a period of pre-registration training as a dispensing optician or an ophthalmic optician under the supervision of an examining body (General Optical Council (Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/856, r 4(2)); (3) persons who have been accepted by an examining body to sit, without further part-time or full-time study, the examinations for an approved qualification by virtue of having completed an appropriate course of instruction (r 4(3)); (4) persons engaged in a course of instruction provided by an approved training institution leading to a qualification approved by the General Optical Council for inclusion in the register (r 4(4)). 'Appropriate course of instruction' means a course of instruction as a dispensing optician or an ophthalmic optician provided by an approved training institution; and 'examining body' means a body granting, for the time being, an approved qualification: r 2(a). For the meaning of 'approved training institution' see PARA 827 note 2 post; and for the meaning of 'approved qualification' see PARA 827 note 4 post.

8 For the meaning of 'enrolled' see PARA 842 note 1 post. As to enrolled bodies corporate see PARAS 842-843 post.

9 Opticians Act 1989 s 31(1)(e). Such rules may make different provision for different classes of cases: s 31(6). By virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules 1988, approved by the General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305 (see the text to notes 11-19 infra), and the Contact Lens (Specification) Rules 1988, approved by the General Optical Council Contact Lens (Specification) Rules Order of Council 1989, SI 1989/791 (see the text to note 20 infra), have effect as if made under the Opticians Act 1989 s 31(1)(e).

10 Ibid s 31(3). This power is a power: (1) in relation to registered opticians or employees of registered opticians or of enrolled bodies corporate, to specify qualifications which they must have (s 31(4)(a)); and (2) in relation to enrolled bodies corporate, to specify conditions which they must satisfy (s 31(4)(b)). Such rules may make different provision for different classes of cases: s 31(6). By virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules 1988, approved by the General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305 (see the text to notes 11-19 infra), have effect as if made under the Opticians Act 1989 s 31(3), (4).

11 'Fitting' means the supply and fitting of contact lenses and also the subsequent provision of clinical management and adjustment of the fitting of such lenses for a period of six months from their initial supply to the person fitted; and 'fit' and 'fitted' must be construed accordingly: General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305, r 2(2).

12 Ibid r 3(a). 'Approved qualification' means a qualification listed in the General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305, Appendix A (amended by SI 1989/375): General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305, r 2(2).

13 Ibid r 3(b). As regards opticians who did not before 30 September 1989 hold approved qualifications, provision was made for opticians to obtain certification or provisional registration in order to be entitled to fit contact lenses: see r 5, 6. Applications had to be made before that date: see r 8. Provisional registrations expired no later than 31 December 1990 (see r 7), but no time limit was set in respect of certification which continues to be valid so long as the optician remains a registered optician: see r 9. A registered optician who did not hold an approved qualification might apply for certification if: (1) in the three years immediately prior to the date of his application he had fitted contact lenses to not fewer than 150 persons; or (2) his name was annotated in the register as an optician having experience as a contact lens practitioner or fitter under arrangements operated by the Council prior to 1 January 1972; or (3) he was engaged and had been continuously so engaged for at least three years in teaching contact lens practice to persons training as opticians in an approved training institution; or (4) if head (1) supra did not apply, provided that he had acquired sufficient practical experience and competence to enable him to fit contact lenses: see r 5(2), (3). Certification may be cancelled if the application is subsequently shown to contain false or misleading statements, if an erasure order is made with respect to the optician, or if a suspension order is made with respect to him: see r 10. As to such orders see PARA 846 et seq post.

14 Ibid r 4.

15 Ibid r 14. The Trade Descriptions Act 1968 s 14(1), which prohibits the making of false or misleading statements as to services, may apply to professional men: see R v Breeze [1973] 2 All ER 1141, [1973] 1 WLR 994, CA; and SALE OF GOODS AND SUPPLY OF SERVICES vol 41 (2005 Reissue) PARA 495.

16 le by virtue of the General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305, or the General Optical Council (Rules on the Fitting of Contact Lenses) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/856 (see note 7 supra).

17 General Optical Council (Contact Lens (Qualifications etc) Rules) Order of Council 1988, SI 1988/1305, r 12(1).

19 Ibid r 13. For the meaning of 'registered ophthalmic optician' see PARA 804 note 2 ante. The fitting of contact lenses must be accompanied by the necessary instruction and information on the care, wearing, treatment, cleaning and maintenance of the lenses, and the person fitting them is obliged to provide for clinical management and adjustment for six months from the first fitting: r 15. See also note 11 supra.

Notwithstanding anything in any enactment, proceedings for an offence under the Opticians Act 1989 Pt 4 (ss 24-30A) may be begun at any time within the period of six months beginning with the date on which evidence sufficient in the opinion of the General Optical Council to justify a prosecution for the offence comes to its knowledge, or within a period of two years beginning with the date of the commission of the offence, whichever period first expires: s 30A (added by SI 2005/848).

808 Fitting of contact lenses

TEXT AND NOTE 2--Reference to registered optician now to registered optometrist or registered dispensing optician: Opticians Act 1989 s 25(1) (amended by SI 2005/848). See further 1989 Act s 25(5)-(10) (added by SI 2005/848). As to the particulars that must be given by a registered medical practitioner when issuing a specification to a patient to whom he has fitted a contact lens, see the Contact Lens (Specification) and Miscellaneous Amendments Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1481, reg 2.

NOTE 3--Maximum fine now level 5 on the standard scale: 1989 Act s 25(4) (amended by SI 2005/848).

TEXT AND NOTES 4, 5--A registered medical practitioner, a registered optometrist, a registered dispensing optician or a person to whom, by virtue of the 1989 Act s 25(2) or (3), s 25(1) does not apply, must not fit a contact lens for an individual unless where the duty to give an individual a signed written prescription under s 26(2) arises, he has the particulars of such a prescription given to the individual within the period of two years ending on the date the fitting begins, and the fitting begins before any re-examination date specified in that prescription: s 25(1A) (added by SI 2005/848).

TEXT AND NOTE 7--Reference to opticians now to optometrists or dispensing opticians: 1989 Act s 25(3) (amended by SI 2005/848).

TEXT AND NOTES 12, 13--SI 1988/1305 r 3 amended: SI 2008/1940.

NOTE 19--A person is exempted from the duty to provide aftercare under the 1989 Act s 27 if he is not a person to whom SI 1988/1305 r 15(2) refers: r 15(1) (r 15 substituted by SI 2005/1476). The person to whom SI 1988/1305 r 15(2) refers is if only one person supplied a contact lens to the person, that person; or if more than one person supplied a contact lens to the person, the last person to fit a lens: r 15(2) (r 15 as so substituted).

OPTICIANS/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/809. Restrictions on the false use of titles.

809. Restrictions on the false use of titles.

It is an offence for any individual to take or use, either alone or in combination with any other words<sup>1</sup>, the title 'ophthalmic optician' or the title 'optometrist' when he is not registered in either of the registers of ophthalmic opticians<sup>2</sup>; or the title 'dispensing optician' when he is not registered in the register of dispensing opticians<sup>3</sup>; or the title 'registered optician'<sup>4</sup> or 'enrolled optician' when he is not registered in any of the registers<sup>5</sup>; or to take or use any name, title, addition or description falsely implying, or otherwise to pretend, that he is registered in any of the registers<sup>6</sup>.

It is also an offence for any body corporate<sup>7</sup> to take or use, either alone or in combination with any other words<sup>8</sup>, the title 'ophthalmic optician' or the title 'optometrist' when it is not enrolled in the list<sup>9</sup> of bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians<sup>10</sup>; or the title 'dispensing optician' when it is not enrolled in the list of bodies corporate carrying on business as dispensing opticians<sup>11</sup>; or the title 'registered optician' or 'enrolled optician' when it is not enrolled in either of the lists<sup>12</sup>; or to take or use any name, title, addition or description falsely implying, or otherwise to pretend, that it is enrolled in either of the lists<sup>13</sup>.

Any individual or body corporate committing any of these offences is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>14</sup>.

On any prosecution for an offence of taking or using a name, title or addition falsely implying registration or enrolment, or for otherwise pretending such registration or enrolment<sup>15</sup>, the taking or use of the title of optician by a person or a body corporate<sup>16</sup> is to be taken to imply that he is registered in one of the registers or, as the case may be, it is enrolled in one of the lists; but the implication may be rebutted if the defendant proves that he or it took or, as appropriate, used the title in circumstances where it would have been unreasonable for people to believe, in consequence of his or its taking or use of it, that he was in fact registered in one of the registers or, as the case may be, it was enrolled in either of the lists<sup>17</sup>.

810. Restrictions on advertising.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> may make rules<sup>2</sup> prohibiting or regulating the use by registered opticians<sup>3</sup> and enrolled bodies corporate<sup>4</sup> of any means of giving publicity, whether by advertisements or not, to their practice or business of ophthalmic or dispensing opticians<sup>5</sup>. However, this does not include the power to prohibit the display, for the purposes of the practice or business, of optical appliances<sup>6</sup> or parts of optical appliances on premises where the fitting and supply of optical appliances is being carried on as part of that business or practice, or any building comprising those premises<sup>7</sup>.

A registered optician or an enrolled body corporate must not use in relation to his or its practice or business a means of giving publicity which is not legal, decent, honest or truthful, or which is of a character that could reasonably be regarded as likely to bring the profession of ophthalmic optician or of dispensing optician into disrepute, or which contains any reference to the efficiency of or the facilities given by other registered opticians or enrolled bodies corporate<sup>8</sup>, or, in relation to his or its own practice or business, which makes a claim not capable of substantiation, or which suggests superiority over any other practice or business<sup>9</sup>.

OPTICIANS/(1) REGULATION OF THE PROFESSION/811. Death or bankruptcy of registered optician.

811. Death or bankruptcy of registered optician.

Where a registered optician<sup>1</sup> dies at a time when he is carrying on business or is in practice as an optician, the prohibition on the false use of titles<sup>2</sup> does not, during the three years beginning with his death or such longer period as the General Optical Council<sup>3</sup> in any particular case allows, operate to prevent his executors or administrators<sup>4</sup>, his widow<sup>5</sup>, any of his children<sup>6</sup>, or trustees on behalf of his widow or any of his children<sup>7</sup>, from taking or using in relation to that business or practice, in conjunction with the name in which he carried it on, any title which he was entitled to take or use immediately before his death<sup>8</sup>. Similarly, where a registered optician becomes bankrupt at a time when he is carrying on business or is in practice as an optician, that prohibition does not, during the three years beginning with the bankruptcy, operate to prevent his trustee in bankruptcy from taking or using in relation to that business or practice, in conjunction with the name in which the bankrupt carried it on, any title which he was entitled to take or use immediately before his bankruptcy<sup>9</sup>.

Where a person, by virtue of these dispensations, takes or uses any title in relation to the business or practice of a deceased or bankrupt optician and an offence is committed, in the course of that business or practice, against any of the provisions which place restrictions upon the testing of sight, on the sale and supply of optical appliances and the fitting of contact lenses<sup>10</sup>, the disciplinary committee of the General Optical Council may, if it thinks fit, direct that the relevant dispensation cease to apply in relation to that business or practice<sup>11</sup>.

UPDATE

813-822 Constitution, Members and Officers

The General Optical Council is now to be constituted as provided for by order of the Privy Council, subject to the Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 (which relates to the constitution etc of the Council): s 1(4) (substituted by SI 2008/1774). For general provision as to membership see now the Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 para 1A (Sch 1 paras 1A-1C substituted by SI 2008/1774). As to the matters which an order under the Opticians Act 1989 s 1(4) must include see Sch 1 para 1B; and as to the registration of members' private interests see Sch 1 para 1C. In exercise of the powers conferred by the Opticians Act 1989 s 1(4), Sch 1 para 1B, the Privy Council has made the General Optical Council (Constitution) Order 2009, SI 2009/442.

813 Functions and constitution

TEXT AND NOTES--In exercising its functions, the Council must (1) have proper regard for (a) the interests of persons using or needing the services of registered optometrists, registered dispensing opticians or business registrants in the United Kingdom; and (b) any differing interests of different categories of registrants; (2) co-operate, in so far as is appropriate and reasonably practicable, with public bodies or other persons concerned with (a) the employment (whether or not under a contract of service) of registered optometrists or registered dispensing opticians; (b) the education or training of individual registrants or other health care professionals; (c) the regulation of, or the co-ordination of the regulation of, other health or social care professionals; (d) the regulation of health services; and (e) the provision, supervision or management of health services: Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 para 11A(1) (Sch 1 para 11A added by SI 2008/1774). In carrying out its duty to co-operate under head (2), the Council must have regard to any differing considerations relating to practising as a registered optometrist or a registered dispensing optician, or carrying on a business as a business registrant, which apply in England, Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland: Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 para 11A(2). For these purposes 'other health care professionals' means persons regulated by a body mentioned in the National Health Service Reform and Health Care Professions Act 2002 s 25(3) (see PARA 294), other than the Council: Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 para 11A(3).

TEXT AND NOTE 2--For 'professional education and professional conduct among opticians' read 'professional education, conduct and performance among registrants': Opticians Act 1989 s 1(2) (amended by SI 2005/848).

The General Optical Council must publish an annual report that includes a description of the arrangements that it has in place to ensure that it adheres to good practice in relation to equality and diversity, a statistical report relating to its fitness to practice functions, and a strategic plan: see the Opticians Act 1989 s 32A (added by SI 2008/1774).

As from a day to be appointed the Office of the Health Professions Adjudicator ('the OHPA') is to take over responsibility for the adjudication of fitness to practice cases from the General Optical Council: see the Health and Social Care Act 2008 (ss 98-110) (in force in part). As to the OHPA generally, see further PARA 189A.

823 Administrative powers

TEXT AND NOTES--Rules under the Opticians Act 1989 ss 2-5D may make provision for a body (including a committee of the Council which is not one of the committees to which any of those provisions relate) to assist the Council in connection with the exercise of any function relating to the appointment of members or particular members of any of the committees or the panel to which those sections relate, including any function relating to tenure of office or suspension or removal from office: Sch 1 para 12B (added by SI 2008/1774).

NOTE 6--Words 'with the approval of the Privy Council' omitted: Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 para 11(2)(b) (amended by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848).

TEXT AND NOTE 9--Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 para 11(3) amended: SI 2008/1774.

TEXT AND NOTE 10--Opticians Act 1989 Sch 1 para 12 amended: SI 2005/848, SI 2008/1774.

Standing orders of the Council may make provision with regard to the provisional suspension of a member of the Council from office, pending the taking of a decision about the suspension or removal from office of the member in accordance with the provisions of an order under the 1989 Act s 1(4): Sch 1 para 11(4) (added by SI 2008/1774).

824. Rules for the regulation of the profession.

948 (1) prohibiting or regulating:

181

1. (a) the use by registered opticians<sup>3</sup> and enrolled<sup>4</sup> bodies corporate of any means of giving publicity, whether by advertisements or not, to their practice or business of ophthalmic or dispensing opticians<sup>5</sup>;
2. (b) the carrying on of practice or business by registered opticians and enrolled bodies corporate under names other than those under which they are registered or enrolled<sup>6</sup>;
3. (c) the administration of drugs by registered opticians, enrolled bodies corporate and their employees in the course of their practice or business of ophthalmic or dispensing opticians<sup>7</sup>;
4. (d) the practice of orthoptics by registered opticians, enrolled bodies corporate and their employees<sup>8</sup>;
5. (e) the prescription, supply and fitting by registered opticians, enrolled bodies corporate and their employees of contact lenses<sup>9</sup>;

949 (2) specifying requirements which registered opticians, enrolled bodies corporate or employees of registered opticians or enrolled bodies corporate must meet if they are to prescribe, fit or supply contact lenses<sup>10</sup>.

The Council must make and submit to the Privy Council<sup>11</sup> rules providing that where it appears to a registered optician that a person consulting him is suffering from an injury or disease of the eye, the optician must, except:

950 (i) in an emergency<sup>12</sup>;

951 (ii) where that person is consulting him for the purpose of being given treatment in accordance with rules under head (1)(d) above<sup>13</sup>; or

952 (iii) in such other cases as may be prescribed<sup>14</sup>, take the prescribed steps to refer that person to a registered medical practitioner<sup>15</sup> for advice and treatment<sup>16</sup>.

1 As to the functions and constitution of the General Optical Council see PARA 813 ante.

2 Any such rules may make different provision for different classes of cases: Opticians Act 1989 s 31(6). The rules do not come into force until approved by order of the Privy Council: see s 34(1); and PARA 825 post. As to the making of rules see PARA 825 post.

825. Procedure for making rules and orders.

Rules made by the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> under the Opticians Act 1989, and an electoral scheme submitted by it<sup>2</sup>, do not come into force until approved by order of the Privy Council<sup>3</sup>. The powers under the Opticians Act 1989 of the Privy Council to make orders<sup>4</sup>, of the Lord Chancellor to make rules<sup>5</sup>, and of the Secretary of State to make regulations<sup>6</sup>, are exercisable by statutory instrument<sup>7</sup>. A statutory instrument containing certain orders of the Privy Council<sup>8</sup> or regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup> is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament<sup>10</sup>. Specified orders may not be made unless a draft of the order has been laid before and approved by resolution of each House of Parliament<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the functions and constitution of the General Optical Council see PARA 813 ante.

2 Ie under the Opticians Act 1989 s 1(4), Sch 1 para 3: see PARA 815 ante.

3 Ibid s 34(1). The Privy Council may approve rules under s 31(1)(a) (see PARAS 810, 824 ante) and any such electoral scheme either as submitted to it or subject to such modifications as appear to it requisite: s 34(2). Where the Privy Council proposes to approve any such rules or scheme subject to modifications, it must notify to the General Optical Council the modifications it proposes to make and consider any observations of that Council on them: s 34(3). The Privy Council, after consulting the General Optical Council, may by order vary or revoke any rules made under s 31(1)(a) and previously approved by it (whether the approval was before or after the commencement of s 34): s 34(4). The date for the commencement of s 34 was 16 February 1990: s 38. As to the exercise of powers of the Privy Council under the Opticians Act 1989 see PARA 835 post. ## 827. Approval of training institutions and qualifications.

For the purposes of the Opticians Act 1989, the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> may approve any institution<sup>2</sup> where the instruction given to persons training as opticians appears to the Council to be such as to secure to them adequate knowledge and skill for the practice of their profession<sup>3</sup>. The Council may also approve for the purposes of the Act any qualification<sup>4</sup> which appears to it to be granted to candidates who reach such a standard of proficiency at a qualifying examination as to secure to them adequate knowledge and skill for the practice of their profession<sup>5</sup>. An institution may be approved as suitable for the giving of all, or some part of, the instruction necessary for the training of ophthalmic opticians<sup>6</sup> or of dispensing opticians<sup>7</sup>, or of both, and a qualification may be so approved as suitable to be granted to ophthalmic opticians or to dispensing opticians<sup>8</sup>. The Council must from time to time publish a list of approved training institutions and approved qualifications, indicating the purpose for which the approval was granted<sup>9</sup>.

Where the Council has refused to approve an institution or qualification as suitable for any purpose, the Privy Council, on representations being made to it within one month<sup>10</sup> of the refusal, may, if it thinks fit, after considering the representations and communicating with the General Optical Council, order the Council to approve the institution or qualification for that purpose<sup>11</sup>.

829. Withdrawal of approval of training institutions and qualifications.

Where it appears to the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup>, whether as a result of a report by a visitor<sup>2</sup> or otherwise, that the instruction given by any approved training institution<sup>3</sup> to persons training as opticians<sup>4</sup>, or the examinations taken by such persons<sup>5</sup>, are not such as to secure the possession by them of adequate knowledge and skill for the practice of their profession<sup>6</sup>, and that for that reason the approval of the institution or qualification<sup>7</sup> in question should be withdrawn<sup>8</sup>, the Council must give notice in writing<sup>9</sup> of its opinion to the institution or body, sending with it a copy of any report on which the opinion is based<sup>10</sup>. On receipt of the notice, the institution or body may within such period (not being less than one month<sup>11</sup>) as the Council specifies in the notice, make to the Council observations on or objections to the notice and any report sent with it<sup>12</sup>. As soon as may be after the expiration of the specified period, the Council must determine whether or not to withdraw its approval, taking into account any observations or objections duly made<sup>13</sup>. The Council must give notice in writing of any decision to withdraw approval of an institution or qualification to the institution or body concerned; and the decision does not take effect until the expiration of one month from the date of the giving of the notice or, if during that time the institution or body makes representations with respect to the decision to the Privy Council, until the representations are finally dealt with<sup>14</sup>.

Where the General Optical Council has decided to withdraw approval of a training institution or a qualification, whether entirely or to a limited extent, the Privy Council, on representations being made to it within one month from the giving of notice of the decision, may, if it thinks fit, after considering the representations and communicating with the General Optical Council, order the Council to annul the withdrawal of approval or, in the case of an institution approved as suitable for more than one purpose, to withdraw approval in relation to one or some of the purposes only<sup>15</sup>.

UPDATE

823-829 Powers and Duties of the General Optical Council

The General Optical Council must publish an annual report that includes a description of the arrangements that it has in place to ensure that it adheres to good practice in relation to equality and diversity, a statistical report relating to its fitness to practice functions, and a strategic plan: see the Opticians Act 1989 s 32A (added by SI 2008/1774).

As from a day to be appointed the Office of the Health Professions Adjudicator ('the OHPA') is to take over responsibility for the adjudication of fitness to practice cases from the General Optical Council: see the Health and Social Care Act 2008 (ss 98-110) (in force in part). As to the OHPA generally, see further PARA 189A.

830. General power to appoint committees.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> may set up a committee for any purpose, other than a purpose for which it is required to set up a committee<sup>2</sup>, and may delegate to such a committee, with or without restrictions or conditions as it thinks fit, any functions<sup>3</sup> exercisable by it except the power to make rules under the Opticians Act 1989<sup>4</sup>, any functions expressly conferred by that Act on some other committee<sup>5</sup>, and, subject to any express provision for delegation in the rules, any functions expressly conferred on the Council by rules under the Act<sup>6</sup>. The number of members of such a committee, and their term of office, must be fixed by the Council<sup>7</sup>. A committee may include persons who are not Council members, but at least two-thirds of the members must be Council members<sup>8</sup>. Every member of a committee who at the time of his appointment was a Council member must, upon ceasing to be a Council member, cease also to be a committee member<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the constitution of the General Optical Council see PARA 813 ante.

2 The purposes for which the Council is required to set up a committee are fulfilled by the investigating committee (see PARAS 855-856 post), the disciplinary committee (see PARAS 857-858 post), the education committee (see PARA 831 post) and the companies committee (see PARA 832 post).

831. The education committee.

There is a committee of the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup>, known as the education committee, to which the Council must refer for advice on all matters relating to optical training and examinations<sup>2</sup>. The education committee is constituted in accordance with rules<sup>3</sup> made by the Council, which rules must secure that the committee includes one person appearing to the Council to represent persons training student ophthalmic opticians<sup>4</sup>, one person appearing to the Council to represent persons training student dispensing opticians<sup>5</sup>, and one person nominated by the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup>, being in each case persons who are not members of the Council<sup>7</sup>.

The committee consists of the persons appointed as follows<sup>8</sup>:

- 183 953 (1) the Council must appoint from among its members:
- 6. (a) three members of the Council from among the persons nominated by the Privy Council, one of whom must be the person nominated by the Privy Council as specially qualified to advise the General Optical Council on educational problems generally<sup>9</sup>;
  - 7. (b) two members of the Council from among the persons chosen to represent registered ophthalmic opticians<sup>10</sup>;
  - 8. (c) three members of the Council from among the persons chosen to represent registered dispensing opticians<sup>11</sup>;
  - 9. (d) the members of the Council nominated by the College of Optometrists<sup>12</sup>;
  - 10. (e) the member of the Council engaged in the education or examination of persons training as ophthalmic opticians nominated by specified examining bodies<sup>13</sup>;
  - 11. (f) the member of the Council nominated by the Association of British Dispensing Opticians<sup>14</sup>; and
  - 12. (g) two members of the Council from among the persons nominated by the Royal College of Ophthalmologists<sup>15</sup>;
- 184 954 (2) the Council must appoint from persons who, in each case, are not members of the Council<sup>16</sup>:
- 185
- 13. (a) one person appearing to the Council to represent persons training student ophthalmic opticians<sup>17</sup>;
  - 14. (b) one person appearing to the Council to represent persons training student dispensing opticians<sup>18</sup>; and
  - 15. (c) one person nominated by the Secretary of State<sup>19</sup>.
- 186

Appointments to the committee are for a period not exceeding one year expiring on 31 December following the appointment<sup>20</sup>. A member of the committee may at any time, by notice in writing<sup>21</sup> addressed to the registrar<sup>22</sup>, resign his office<sup>23</sup>.

Where a casual vacancy occurs among the members of the committee, it must be filled by a person appointed by the Council as being a person having qualifications for membership similar to those of the member whose office has become vacant<sup>24</sup>; and a person appointed to fill a casual vacancy holds office until the date upon which the member whose vacancy he has filled would have regularly retired<sup>25</sup>.

832. The companies committee.

There is a committee of the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup>, known as the companies committee, to which the Council must refer for advice on all matters relating to bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic or dispensing opticians<sup>2</sup>, other than matters which are required by the Opticians Act 1989 to be referred to the investigating committee<sup>3</sup> or the disciplinary committee<sup>4</sup>. The companies committee is constituted in accordance with rules<sup>5</sup> made by the Council, which rules must secure that the committee includes at least one person appearing to the Council to represent the interests of bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians<sup>6</sup>, and at least one person appearing to it to represent the interests of bodies corporate carrying on business as dispensing opticians<sup>7</sup>, being in each case persons who are not members of the Council<sup>8</sup>. Before making such rules, the Council must consult organisations appearing to it to represent the interests of a substantial number of the bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians and as dispensing opticians respectively<sup>9</sup>.

The committee consists of the following persons appointed by the Council<sup>10</sup>:

- 955 (1) four members of the Council, including at least one of the members nominated by the Privy Council<sup>11</sup>, at least one of the members chosen to represent the interests of registered ophthalmic opticians<sup>12</sup>, and at least one of the members chosen to represent the interests of registered dispensing opticians<sup>13</sup>;
- 956 (2) four persons, not being members of the Council, who appear to it to represent the interests of bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians<sup>14</sup>;
- 957 (3) three persons, not being members of the Council, who appear to it to represent the interests of bodies corporate carrying on business as dispensing opticians<sup>15</sup>;
- 958 (4) a registered medical practitioner, who may be a member of the Council<sup>16</sup>, and who appears to the Council to represent the interests of registered medical practitioners engaged in the testing of sight<sup>17</sup> in the practices of bodies corporate<sup>18</sup>.

Appointments to the committee are for a period of one year expiring on 31 December<sup>19</sup>. A member of the committee may at any time, by notice in writing<sup>20</sup> addressed to the registrar<sup>21</sup>, resign his office<sup>22</sup>.

Where a casual vacancy occurs among the members of the committee, it must be filled by a person appointed by the Council as being a person having qualifications for membership similar to those of the member whose office is vacant; and the person appointed to fill a casual vacancy holds office until the date upon which the member whose vacancy he has filled would have regularly retired<sup>23</sup>.

(3) REGISTRATION, QUALIFICATION AND ENROLMENT

837. Rules as to registers and lists.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> may make rules<sup>2</sup> with respect to the form and keeping of the registers<sup>3</sup> and lists<sup>4</sup> and the making of entries and alterations in them and, in particular: (1) regulating the making of applications for registration<sup>5</sup> or enrolment<sup>6</sup> or for transfer from one register or list to another, and providing for the evidence to be produced in support of any such application<sup>7</sup>; (2) providing for the notification to the Council of any change in the particulars entitling a person to be registered or a body corporate to be enrolled<sup>8</sup>; (3) prescribing a fee to be charged on the entry of a name in, or the restoration of a name to, the register or list<sup>9</sup>; (4) prescribing a fee to be charged in respect of the retention in the register or list of any name in any year subsequent to the year in which the name was first entered in the register or list<sup>10</sup>; (5) providing for the entry in the register of qualifications, whether or not approved<sup>11</sup>, possessed by persons whose names are registered in it and for the removal of such qualifications from the register, and prescribing a fee to be charged in respect of the entry<sup>12</sup>; (6) authorising the registrar<sup>13</sup> to refuse to enter a name in, or restore it to, the register or list until a fee prescribed for the entry or restoration has been paid<sup>14</sup>, and to erase from the register or list the name of a person who or body corporate which, after the prescribed<sup>15</sup> notices and warnings, fails to pay the fee prescribed in respect of the retention of that name in the register or list<sup>16</sup>; (7) prescribing anything required or authorised to be prescribed by the provisions of the Opticians Act 1989 relating to the registers or lists<sup>17</sup>.

Rules which provide for the erasure of a name from the register or list on failure to pay a fee must provide for its restoration to the register or list on the making of the prescribed application in that behalf and on payment of that fee and any additional fee prescribed in respect of the restoration<sup>18</sup>.

Rules prescribing fees may provide for the charging of different fees in different classes of cases<sup>19</sup>.

OPTICIANS/(3) REGISTRATION, QUALIFICATION AND ENROLMENT/838. Registers of opticians.

838. Registers of opticians.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> must maintain: (1) two registers<sup>2</sup> of ophthalmic opticians<sup>3</sup>, one for the registration of persons engaged or proposing to engage both in the testing of sight<sup>4</sup> and in the fitting and supply of optical appliances<sup>5</sup>, and the other for the registration of persons engaged or proposing to engage in the testing of sight but not in the fitting and supply of optical appliances<sup>6</sup>; and (2) a register of dispensing opticians<sup>7</sup>. Each register must contain the names, addresses, qualifications and other prescribed<sup>8</sup> particulars of all persons who are entitled to be registered in it and who apply in the prescribed manner for registration<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the General Optical Council see PARA 813 et seq ante.

2 'Register' means either of the registers of ophthalmic opticians or the register of dispensing opticians; and, except where used in relation to medical practitioners, 'registered' and 'registration' have corresponding meanings: Opticians Act 1989 s 36(1). For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'ophthalmic optician' see PARA 804 note 2 ante.

7 Opticians Act 1989 s 7(b). For the meaning of 'dispensing optician' see PARA 807 note 8 ante. 'Registered dispensing optician' means a person who is registered in the register of dispensing opticians: s 36(1).

8 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 806 note 6 ante.

9 Opticians Act 1989 s 7. Each register must contain the following particulars of each optician registered in it: full name; permanent address and practice addresses, if any; qualifications held by the optician and recognised by the Council under s 8(2), (4)-(6) (see PARA 840 post) and other optical, academic or professional qualifications approved by the Council for inclusion in the register; registration number; and date of registration or restoration: General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 5(1)(a)-(g) (amended by SI 1979/1638; SI 1985/2024). ### 838 [Register of optometrists]

TEXT AND NOTES--Registers of ophthalmic opticians replaced by a register of optometrists: Opticians Act 1989 s 7 (amended by SI 2005/848).

The Council must also maintain a register of persons undertaking training as optometrists and a register of persons undertaking training as dispensing opticians: 1989 Act s 8A (added by SI 2005/848).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(3) REGISTRATION, QUALIFICATION AND ENROLMENT/839. The address in the register.

839. The address in the register.

The address to be specified in the register<sup>1</sup> is: (1) the optician's permanent address, with an indication as to whether or not he works there as a dispensing<sup>2</sup> or ophthalmic optician<sup>3</sup> and the name under which he practises as a registered optician<sup>4</sup> at that address<sup>5</sup>; and (2) his practice addresses<sup>6</sup>, if any, other than the permanent address, including in each case the name under which he practises at the practice address<sup>7</sup>.

It is, however, sufficient compliance with these requirements if the register entry relating to any optician who practises as an employee<sup>8</sup> of a prescribed category of employer<sup>9</sup> contains a single practice address, whether or not it is also a permanent address, being any address at which his employer provides ophthalmic services or arranges for such services to be provided<sup>10</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 838 note 2 ante. As to the requirement to specify the address in the register see PARA 838 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'dispensing optician' see PARA 807 note 8 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'ophthalmic optician' see PARA 804 note 2 ante.

4 'Registered optician' means a person who is registered in any of the registers: Opticians Act 1989 s 36(1).

5 General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 5(1)(b) (r 5(1)(b) amended, and r 5(1)(c), (2), (3) added, by SI 1979/1638).

As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

6 'Practice address' means an address at which a registered optician provides ophthalmic services including testing sight, or the fitting and supply of optical appliances, or both, except an address at which he provides such services only in an emergency, or in the place of a registered optician who is ill or on holiday, or as a fee-earning visiting practitioner, or on less than 12 days a year: General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 2 (definition added by SI 1979/1638). As to the meaning of 'testing sight' see PARA 804 note 3 ante; and for the meaning of 'optical appliance' see PARA 804 note 2 ante.

7 General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 5(1)(c) (as added: see note 5 supra).

8 'Employee' does not include a registered optician who is employed in a fee-earning capacity, but, in relation to an enrolled body corporate, it includes a director; and 'employer' is to be construed accordingly: ibid r 2 (definition added by SI 1979/1638). For the meaning of 'enrolled' see PARA 842 note 1 post. As to the enrolment of bodies corporate see PARAS 841-843 et seq post.

9 I.e. an optician who practises as an employee of a registered optician, an enrolled body corporate, a registered medical practitioner, an authority or person carrying on a hospital, clinic, nursing home or other institution providing medical or surgical treatment, or a Minister of the Crown or government department: General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 5(3) (as added: see note 5 supra). For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante. As to Ministers of the Crown and government departments see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 354 et seq.

- 959 (1) any person who, on application made on or before 1 June 1961 or between that date and 16 February 1990, satisfied the General Optical Council<sup>3</sup> that he held a qualification recognised for the purpose by the Council, and that he had adequate practical experience in the work of an ophthalmic<sup>4</sup> or dispensing<sup>5</sup> optician, and was of good character<sup>6</sup>;
- 960 (2) any person who at any time satisfies the Council that he holds a qualification as an ophthalmic or dispensing optician for the time being approved by the Council<sup>7</sup>, being a qualification granted to him after receiving instruction from one or more approved institutions, and that he has had adequate practical experience in the work of an ophthalmic or dispensing optician<sup>8</sup>;
- 961 (3) a person who at any time satisfies the Council that he holds a qualification as an ophthalmic optician or dispensing optician for the time being recognised by the Council, being a qualification granted outside the United Kingdom<sup>9</sup>, and that he has had adequate practical experience in the work of an ophthalmic or dispensing optician and is of good character<sup>10</sup>;
- 962 (4) any person who on 1 January 1959<sup>11</sup> was entitled to have his name included on one of the health service ophthalmic lists<sup>12</sup> and whose name had not at that time been removed from one of those lists by direction of a health service tribunal<sup>13</sup>;
- 963 (5) a person who on an application made on or after 16 February 1990 satisfies the Council that he held on 1 June 1961 a qualification as an ophthalmic optician or dispensing optician for the time being recognised by the Council and that he has had adequate practical experience in the work of an ophthalmic or dispensing optician and is of good character<sup>14</sup>.

Where the Council has refused to grant an application under head (1) or head (5) above, the Privy Council may if it thinks fit, on representations made to it and after considering the representations and communicating with the General Optical Council, order the Council to grant the application<sup>15</sup>.

The General Optical Council, being the designated authority for the profession of ophthalmic opticians in the United Kingdom<sup>16</sup>, may not, on grounds of inadequate qualifications, refuse to authorise a national of a member state of the European Union, Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Switzerland to practise the profession on the same conditions as apply to a United Kingdom applicant, if that person holds the diploma required to practise in another such state or can satisfy certain other conditions as to experience and qualifications<sup>17</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> 'The appropriate register' means: (1) in the case of a person whose qualifications, including experience, are appropriate for an ophthalmic optician, both registers of ophthalmic opticians and the register of dispensing opticians; (2) in the case of a person whose qualifications, including experience, are only appropriate for a dispensing optician, the register of dispensing opticians: Opticians Act 1989 s 8(7). However, a person may not at one time be registered in more than one register: s 8(8). As to the registers see PARA 838 ante. As to the entry of qualifications in the register see PARA 838 ante.

3 Opticians Act 1989 s 9(1)(b). For the meaning of 'dispensing optician' see PARA 807 note 8 ante.

4 'List' means the list of bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians or the list of bodies corporate carrying on business as dispensing opticians: ibid s 36(1).

5 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 806 note 6 ante. As to the power of the General Optical Council to make rules in this respect see PARA 837 ante.

6 The list must contain the following particulars of each body corporate: its name; its principal place of business and the name under which the business is carried on there; the addresses of all places at which it carries on business as ophthalmic or dispensing opticians and the name under which that business is carried on at each place; the enrolment number; and the date of enrolment in or restoration to the list: General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 6 (substituted by SI 1979/1638; and amended by SI 1985/2024).

7 As to entitlement to be enrolled see PARA 842 post. For the meaning of 'enrolled' see PARA 842 note 1 post.

8 As to the mode of application see PARA 843 post.

TEXT AND NOTES--References to ophthalmic opticians are now to optometrists or dispensing opticians: Opticians Act 1989 s 9 amended: SI 2005/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(3) REGISTRATION, QUALIFICATION AND ENROLMENT/842. Bodies entitled to be enrolled.

842. Bodies entitled to be enrolled.

A body corporate is entitled to be enrolled<sup>1</sup> in the appropriate list<sup>2</sup>:

- 964 (1) if it satisfies the General Optical Council<sup>3</sup> that a majority of its directors are registered opticians<sup>4</sup> or, in the case of a body corporate having only one director, that he is a registered optician<sup>5</sup>;
- 965 (2) if its name or a name under which it carried on business was on 20 November 1957 included in one of the health service ophthalmic lists<sup>6</sup> or it subsequently came into existence on the reconstruction of a body corporate entitled to be so enrolled<sup>7</sup>;
- 966 (3) if it satisfies the Council that the greater part of its business consists of activities other than the testing of sight<sup>8</sup> and the fitting and supply of optical appliances<sup>9</sup>, and that so much of its business as consists of the testing of sight is carried on under the management of a registered ophthalmic optician<sup>10</sup>, and that so much as consists of the fitting and supply of optical appliances is carried on under the management of a registered optician<sup>11</sup>;
- 967 (4) if it is a society registered under either the Industrial and Provident Societies Act 1965<sup>12</sup> or the Industrial and Provident Societies Act (Northern Ireland) 1969<sup>13</sup>, and satisfies the Council that so much of its business as consists of the testing of sight or of the fitting and supply of optical appliances is carried on under the management of a registered ophthalmic optician or of a registered optician, as the case may be<sup>14</sup>.

1 'Enrolled' means enrolled in one of the lists; and 'enrolment' is to be construed accordingly: Opticians Act 1989 s 36(1). As to bodies corporate see COMPANIES; CORPORATIONS.

2 For the meaning of 'list' see PARA 841 note 4 ante.

3 As to the General Optical Council see PARA 813 et seq ante.

6 For the meaning of 'health service ophthalmic lists' see PARA 840 note 12 ante.

7 Opticians Act 1989 s 9(2)(b). A body corporate is not entitled to be enrolled by virtue of s 9(2)(b) if its name, or the name of any body on the reconstruction of which it came into existence, or a name under which it or any such body carried on business, has at any time been removed from one of the health service ophthalmic lists by direction of a health service tribunal (see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 306 et seq) (s 9(3)(a)), or has been erased from the list in consequence of an erasure order (s 9(3)(b)). ### 837-845 Registration, Qualification and Enrolment

SI 1977/176 replaced: General Optical Council (Registration Rules) Order of Council 2005, SI 2005/1478 (amended by SI 2007/3101, SI 2008/1940).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(3) REGISTRATION, QUALIFICATION AND ENROLMENT/843. Registration and enrolment.

843. Registration and enrolment.

Applications to the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> for the inclusion of a name in the register<sup>2</sup> or list<sup>3</sup>, for the transfer<sup>4</sup> of the name of a registered optician<sup>5</sup> from one register to another or of the name of an enrolled<sup>6</sup> body corporate from one list to the other, or for the retention<sup>7</sup> of those names in the register or list, must be made on the appropriate form<sup>8</sup>. On an application for the inclusion of a name in the register or list, the Council may require such evidence in verification of information given as in its view is necessary to establish whether the applicant is entitled to be registered or enrolled<sup>9</sup>. Fees are payable for the registration, enrolment, transfer, or retention of any name in or to the register or list<sup>10</sup>. The registrar<sup>11</sup> has authority to refuse to enter a name in a register or list, and to refuse to transfer a name to a register or list, until the prescribed fees have been paid<sup>12</sup>.

A registered optician must notify the Council within one month of any change in his name or permanent address and of the loss of any qualification entered on the register<sup>13</sup>; and an enrolled body corporate must notify the Council within one month of any change in its name or the address of its principal place of business<sup>14</sup>, and must notify the Council forthwith if at any time any particulars supplied by it in support of its application for enrolment no longer apply in any material respect<sup>15</sup>. When the registrar receives information that an entry in the register or the list has become incorrect, or application is made by or on behalf of a registered optician or an enrolled body corporate for an entry in the register or list to be altered, and the registrar satisfies himself by means of a statutory declaration or otherwise that the information is true or the ground of the application is sufficient, he must make the required correction or alteration<sup>16</sup>.

The registrar may remove from the register or the list the name of any registered optician or enrolled body corporate, upon receipt of a written application by or on behalf of that optician or body stating the grounds on which the application is made and accompanied by a statutory declaration that the applicant is not aware of any reason for the institution of proceedings which might lead to the making of an erasure order<sup>17</sup>.

1 As to the General Optical Council see PARA 813 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 838 note 2 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'list' see PARA 841 note 4 ante.

4 An application for transfer must be accompanied by such information as the Council may reasonably require for establishing whether the registered optician (see note 5 infra) or enrolled body corporate (see note 6 infra) is entitled to be registered or enrolled in the other register or list: General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 9(1). Where the Council is satisfied that the applicant is so entitled, it must delete the name from one register or list and insert it in the other: r 9(2). As to fees for such transfers see the text and note 10 infra.

5 For the meaning of 'registered optician' see PARA 839 note 4 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'enrolled' see PARA 842 note 1 ante.

7 An application for retention must be accompanied by such information as the Council may reasonably require for establishing whether the registered optician or enrolled body corporate is entitled to have his or its name retained in the register or list: General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 10(1). The appropriate form must be sent by the registrar to the permanent address of every registered optician and to the principal place of business of every enrolled body corporate not later than 14 March each year (r 10(2)), accompanied by a notice of the fees payable and a warning that failure to pay the appropriate fee will entail removal from the register or list (r 10(3)). Failure to receive a form of notice does not constitute a ground for retention in the register or list: r 10(4). As to the fee for retention see the text and note 10 infra.

8 Ibid rr 8(1), 9(1), 10(1). 'Appropriate form' means a form issued by the Council for the type of application in question; and a requirement that an application be made on an appropriate form implies that the Council is entitled to require completion of the form: r 2.

12 General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 7. Where the registrar has not received from a registered optician or enrolled body corporate, by 31 March in any year, a retention fee due on that date, he must send a warning to that registered optician or enrolled body corporate that failure to pay the fee will result in the removal from the register or the list of the name in relation to which the fee was due; and if the fee is not received within 14 days of the issue of the warning he must remove the name from the register or list: r 11.

13 Ibid r 12. As to the entry of qualifications on the register see PARA 838 ante. On registering the death of an ophthalmic or dispensing optician, a registrar of births and deaths must send forthwith by post to the registrar of the General Optical Council a copy certified under his hand of the entry relating to the death in the register of deaths: Opticians Act 1989 s 10(2). The cost of the certificate and of sending it by post is payable by the registrar of the General Optical Council to the registrar of births and deaths from whom it is received: s 10(2). #### 837-845 Registration, Qualification and Enrolment

844-845 [Publication of registers and proof of registration]

Opticians Act 1989 s 11 substituted: Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848.

The General Optical Council must publish from time to time information from each register in such form (including electronic form) as it considers appropriate: 1989 Act s 11(1). Such information must include (1) a list of all persons or bodies whose names are in the registers on a date specified by the Council at the time of publication; (2) the number assigned to the person or body on the appropriate register; and (3) such other particulars (if any) as the Council may direct in relation to registrants or a particular class of registrants: s 11(2) s 11 as so substituted). A copy of the appropriate register purporting to be published by the Council is evidence in all proceedings that the persons or bodies whose names are in the appropriate register are registrants, and the absence of the name of any person or body from such a copy of the appropriate register is evidence, until the contrary is shown, that that person or body is not a registrant: s 11(3).

The registrar may issue a certificate that (a) a person's or body's name is in the appropriate register; (b) a person's or body's name is not in the appropriate register; (c) a person's or body's name was in the appropriate register at a specified date or during a specified period; (d) a person's or body's name was not in the appropriate register at a specified date or during a specified period; or (e) a person's or body's name has never been in the appropriate register: s 11(4). A certificate so issued is evidence of the matters certified: s 11(5). Section 11(3), (4) applies to entries made in accordance with rules made under s 10(1A).

845. Registers and lists as evidence.

A copy of any of the registers<sup>1</sup> or lists<sup>2</sup> purporting to be printed and published by the General Optical Council<sup>3</sup>, as altered by any alterations purporting to be printed and published by the Council<sup>4</sup>, is evidence in all proceedings that the individuals specified in the register are registered<sup>5</sup> in it or, as the case may be, that the bodies corporate specified in the list are enrolled<sup>6</sup> in it; and the absence of the name of any individual or body corporate from any such copy of a register or list is evidence, until the contrary is shown, that he is not so registered or, as the case may be, that it is not so enrolled<sup>7</sup>.

In the case of an individual or body corporate whose name does not appear in any such copy of a register or list as altered, a certified copy under the hand of the registrar<sup>8</sup> of the entry relating to that individual or body corporate in the register or list is evidence of the entry<sup>9</sup>.

UPDATE

837-845 Registration, Qualification and Enrolment

SI 1977/176 replaced: General Optical Council (Registration Rules) Order of Council 2005, SI 2005/1478 (amended by SI 2007/3101, SI 2008/1940).

844-845 [Publication of registers and proof of registration]

Opticians Act 1989 s 11 substituted: Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848.

The General Optical Council must publish from time to time information from each register in such form (including electronic form) as it considers appropriate: 1989 Act s 11(1) (s 11 as so substituted). Such information must include (1) a list of all persons or bodies whose names are in the registers on a date specified by the Council at the time of publication; (2) the number assigned to the person or body on the appropriate register; and (3) such other particulars (if any) as the Council may direct in relation to registrants or a particular class of registrants: s 11(2) (s 11 as so substituted). A copy of the appropriate register purporting to be published by the Council is evidence in all proceedings that the persons or bodies whose names are in the appropriate register are registrants, and the absence of the name of any person or body from such a copy of the appropriate register is evidence, until the contrary is shown, that that person or body is not a registrant: s 11(3) (s 11 as so substituted).

The registrar may issue a certificate that (a) a person's or body's name is in the appropriate register; (b) a person's or body's name is not in the appropriate register; (c) a person's or body's name was in the appropriate register at a specified date or during a specified period; (d) a person's or body's name was not in the appropriate register at a specified date or during a specified period; or (e) a person's or body's name has never been in the appropriate register: s 11(4) (s 11 as so substituted). A certificate so issued is evidence of the matters certified: s 11(5) (s 11 as so substituted). Section 11(3), (4) applies to entries made in accordance with rules made under s 10(1A) (see PARA 837) as it applies to registration in the appropriate register: s 11(6) (s 11 as so substituted).

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(4) DISCIPLINE/(i) Jurisdiction/846. Disciplinary order against registered opticians on conviction or for serious professional misconduct.

(4) DISCIPLINE

(i) Jurisdiction

846. Disciplinary order against registered opticians on conviction or for serious professional misconduct.

If any registered optician<sup>1</sup> is convicted by any court in the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> of any criminal offence<sup>3</sup>, or is judged by the disciplinary committee of the General Optical Council<sup>4</sup> to have been guilty of serious professional misconduct<sup>5</sup>, the committee may make a disciplinary order against him<sup>6</sup>. A 'disciplinary order' is an erasure order, a suspension order or a penalty order<sup>7</sup>. The power to make a disciplinary order is a power to make any of these orders<sup>8</sup>, or an erasure order or a suspension order together with a penalty order<sup>9</sup>.

An 'erasure order' is an order, in relation to a registered optician, that his name be erased from the register<sup>10</sup> and, in relation to an enrolled body corporate, that its name be erased from the list in which it is enrolled<sup>11</sup>. A 'suspension order' is an order, in relation to a registered optician, that his registration be suspended for a specified period not exceeding 12 months<sup>12</sup> and, in relation to an enrolled body corporate, that its enrolment in the list be suspended for a specified period not exceeding 12 months<sup>13</sup>. A 'penalty order' is an order that a registered optician or an enrolled body corporate must pay to the Council a specified sum<sup>14</sup> not exceeding the maximum penalty<sup>15</sup>. The penalty order must specify a period within which the sum specified in it is to be paid<sup>16</sup>, and the General Optical Council may recover the specified sum from the person or body against whom the order was made if the person or body does not pay it within that period<sup>17</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered optician' see PARA 839 note 4 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

3 Opticians Act 1989 s 17(1)(a). The purpose of giving a disciplinary committee powers over a professional man who has been convicted of crime is not to punish him for a second time for the same offence but to protect the public who may come to him as patients and to maintain the high standards and good reputation of an honourable profession: Ziderman v General Dental Council [1976] 2 All ER 334, [1976] 1 WLR 330, PC. Where a professional man has been convicted and punished for a criminal offence which also constitutes professional misconduct and the appropriate disciplinary body imposes what it decides is a proper disciplinary penalty, the court will not interfere on an appeal: Laud v General Medical Council (1980) Times, 8 March, PC. The maxim that a person ought not to be punished twice for the same offence does not apply to proceedings before a disciplinary committee: R v Statutory Committee of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, ex p Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain [1981] 2 All ER 805, [1981] 1 WLR 886, DC. If the disciplinary committee is considering erasure, it must satisfy itself that the criminal offence is of so grave a character as to show that the professional man is unfit to continue to practise: Ziderman v General Dental Council supra.

As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

4 As to the disciplinary committee see PARAS 857-858 post. As to the General Optical Council see PARA 813 et seq ante.

5 Opticians Act 1989 s 17(1)(b). As to what constitutes serious professional misconduct see PARAS 143, 456 ante and the cases cited there. The words 'serious' and 'misconduct' must both be given their full weight; the word 'serious' relates to the misconduct of the optician and not to the reputation of the profession: Threlfall v General Optical Council [2004] EWHC 2683 (Admin) at 59-60, [2004] All ER (D) 416 (Nov) per Stanley Burnton J.

Legal assessors to disciplinary committees should be provided with a standard direction on professional misconduct: Threlfall v General Optical Council supra at 61 per Stanley Burnton J. As to legal assessors see PARA 859 post. Canvassing may in certain circumstances amount to 'infamous conduct': Le Scroog v General Optical Council [1982] 3 All ER 257, [1982] 1 WLR 1238, PC (the Opticians Act 1958 s 11 (repealed) contained the words 'infamous conduct in any professional respect'; these words have now been replaced by the words 'serious professional misconduct').

6 Opticians Act 1989 s 17(1). As to the service of notification of a disciplinary order see PARA 852 post. As to appeals see PARA 866 post. As to the power of the Council for the Regulation of Health Care Professionals to refer to the court a disciplinary order made by the disciplinary committee under s 17, or a decision of the committee not to make such an order, see PARA 306 ante.

7 Ibid ss 14, 36(1).

8 Ibid s 17(12)(a)-(c).

9 Ibid s 17(12)(d).

10 For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 838 note 2 ante.

11 Opticians Act 1989 s 14. For the meaning of 'list' see PARA 841 note 4 ante; and for the meaning of 'enrolled' see PARA 842 note 1 ante.

The registrar must erase from the register or the list the name of any registered optician or enrolled body corporate in respect of which he receives a direction to that effect from the disciplinary committee under s 17 (see PARAS 847-851 post) or s 19 (see PARA 854 post) on the date upon which such direction takes effect in accordance with s 23 (see PARA 866 post): General Optical Council (Registration and Enrolment Rules) Order of Council 1977, SI 1977/176, r 17; and see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(a).

12 Opticians Act 1989 ss 14, 15(1). Whilst the registration of a person in the register is suspended by virtue of a suspension order, he must be treated as not being registered, notwithstanding that his name still appears in the register (s 15(2)); where a suspension order is made against a person, the registrar must make in the register a note of the fact and of the period for which the registration is to be suspended, and he must erase the note at such time as the order for any reason ceases to have effect (s 15(4)). For the meaning of 'registration' see PARA 838 note 2 ante.

13 Ibid ss 14, 15(1). While the enrolment of a body corporate is suspended by virtue of a suspension order, it must be treated as not being enrolled, notwithstanding that its name still appears in the list (s 15(3)); where a suspension order is made against a body corporate, the registrar must make in the list a note of the fact and of the period for which the enrolment is to be suspended, and must erase the note at such time as the order for any reason ceases to have effect (s 15(4)). For the meaning of 'enrolment' see PARA 842 note 1 ante.

14 Ibid s 14.

15 Ibid s 16(1). 'The maximum penalty' means £1,600 or such sum as is for the time being substituted in this definition by an order made by the Privy Council: s 16(2) (amended by the General Optical Council (Maximum Penalty) Order of Council 1994, SI 1994/3327, art 2). If it appears to the Privy Council that there has been a change in the value of money since the last occasion when the maximum penalty was fixed, the Privy Council may by order substitute for the sum specified such other sum as appears to it justified by the change: Opticians Act 1989 s 16(3), (8). An order under s 16(3) does not affect the punishment for an offence committed before the order comes into force: s 16(4). As to the making of orders see PARA 825 ante. As to the exercise of powers of the Privy Council under the Opticians Act 1989 see PARA 835 ante. OPTICIANS/(4) DISCIPLINE/(i) Jurisdiction/846A. Fitness to Practise.

846A. Fitness to Practise.

1. Duty to provide guidance on fitness to practise

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> must

- 968 (1) provide, in such manner as it considers appropriate, guidance for registered optometrists, registered dispensing opticians and student registrants, on matters relating to fitness to practise or, in the case of a student registrant, fitness to undertake training, and in particular on the standards of conduct and performance expected of them<sup>2</sup>; and
- 969 (2) establish and keep under review effective arrangements to protect members of the public from registered optometrists, registered dispensing opticians and student registrants whose fitness to practise or, in the case of a student registrant, fitness to undertake training, is impaired<sup>3</sup>;
- 970 (3) provide, in such manner as it considers appropriate, guidance to business registrants on matters relating to fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both, and in particular on the standards of conduct and performance expected of such registrants in carrying on that business<sup>4</sup>; and
- 971 (4) establish and keep under review effective arrangements to protect the public from business registrants whose fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both is impaired<sup>5</sup>.

Before issuing guidance or varying guidance already issued under these provisions, the Council must consult groups which, in its opinion, are representative of registrants or of persons with an interest in the subject matter of the guidance<sup>6</sup>. The Council must keep under review, and revise as appropriate, such guidance<sup>7</sup>.

2. Power to require disclosure of information

For the purpose of assisting the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> or any of its committees in carrying out any of their functions<sup>2</sup> relating to (1) a registered optometrist's or a registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise; (2) a business registrant's fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both; or (3) a student registrant's fitness to undertake training, the Council may require a registrant or any other person to supply any information<sup>3</sup> or produce any document which appears to the Council relevant to the discharge of those functions<sup>4</sup>. As soon as reasonably practicable after the date on which an allegation has been made to the Council relating to a registered optometrist's or registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise or a student registrant's fitness to undertake training, the Council must require, from the registrant to whom the allegation relates, particulars of any person who employs him<sup>5</sup>.

If a person fails to supply any information or produce any document within 14 days of his being required to do so<sup>6</sup>, the Council may seek an order of the county court requiring the information to be supplied or the document to be produced<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the functions and constitution of the General Optical Council see PARA 813.

2 Ie under the Opticians Act 1989.

3 Nothing in ibid s 13B requires or permits any disclosure of information which is prohibited by or under any other enactment; but if information is held in a form in which the prohibition operates because the information is capable of identifying an individual, the Council may, in exercising its functions under s 13B(1), require that the information be put into a form which is not capable of identifying that individual: s 13B(3) (s 13B added by SI 2005/848). In determining for these purposes whether a disclosure is not prohibited by reason of being a disclosure of personal information which is exempt from the non-disclosure provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998 by virtue of s 35(1) (see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (Reissue) PARA 554), it must be assumed that the disclosure is required by the 1989 Act s 13B: s 13B(4).

4 Ibid s 13B(1). Section 13B(1) does not apply in relation to the supplying of information or the production of a document which a person could not be compelled to supply or produce in civil proceedings before the High Court of Justice in England and Wales, if the person's address in the appropriate register is in England or Wales, or if he is not registered, he is resident in England or Wales: s 13B(5)(c).

7 Ibid s 13B(6).

3. Notification and disclosure

As soon as is reasonably practicable after an allegation is received by the General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> relating to a registered optometrist's or registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise or, in the case of a business registrant, its fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both, or in the case of a student registrant, his fitness to undertake training, it must notify the specified persons<sup>2</sup> of an investigation<sup>3</sup> by the Council or any of its committees of 972 (1) a registered optometrist's or a registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise;

973 (2) a business registrant's fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician, or to carry on both businesses; or

974 (3) a student registrant's fitness to undertake training<sup>4</sup>.

The Council may disclose to any person any information relating to a registered optometrist's or a registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise; a business registrant's fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician, or to carry on both businesses; or a student registrant's fitness to undertake training, which it considers it to be in the public interest to disclose<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the functions and constitution of the General Optical Council see PARA 813.

2 le the Secretary of State and the National Assembly for Wales, and any person in the United Kingdom of whom the Council is aware by whom the registered optometrist, registered dispensing optician or student registrant is employed: Opticians Act 1989 s 13C(2) (s 13C added by SI 2005/848).

4. Allegations

975 (1) a registered optometrist or a registered dispensing optician that his fitness to practise is or may be impaired;

976 (2) a business registrant that its fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician, or both, is or may be impaired; or

977 (3) a student registrant that his fitness to undertake training as an optometrist or a dispensing optician is or may be impaired, the only grounds on which the fitness to practise of 978 (a) a registered optometrist or registered dispensing optician, or the fitness to undertake training of a student registrant, is 'impaired'<sup>3</sup> are

16. (i) misconduct;

17. (ii) except in the case of a student registrant, deficient professional performance;

18. (iii) a conviction<sup>4</sup> or caution in the British Islands for a criminal offence, or a conviction elsewhere for an offence which, if committed in England and Wales, would constitute a criminal offence;

19. (iv) the registrant having agreed to pay a penalty<sup>5</sup>;

20. (v) adverse physical or mental health; or

21. (vi) a determination by a body in the United Kingdom responsible under any enactment<sup>6</sup> for the regulation of a health or social care profession to the effect that his fitness to practise as a member of that profession is impaired, or a determination by a regulatory body<sup>7</sup> elsewhere to the same effect<sup>8</sup>;

188

979 (b) a business registrant's fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician or to carry on both businesses is impaired<sup>9</sup> are

189

22. (i) misconduct by the business registrant or by one of its directors;

23. (ii) practices or patterns of behaviour occurring within the business which 241.

1. (A) the registrant knew or ought reasonably to have known of; and

2. (B) amount to misconduct or deficient professional performance;

242.

24. (iii) the instigation by the business registrant of practices or patterns of behaviour within the business where that practice or behaviour amounts, or would if implemented amount, to misconduct or deficient professional performance;

25. (iv) a conviction or caution in the British Islands of the business registrant or one of its directors for a criminal offence, or a conviction

- elsewhere for an offence which, if committed in England or Wales, would constitute a criminal offence;
26. (v) the registrant or one of its directors having agreed to pay a penalty<sup>10</sup>;
  27. (vi) a determination by a body in the United Kingdom responsible under any enactment for the regulation of a health or social care profession to the effect that
- 243.
3. (A) the business registrant's fitness to carry on business as a member of that profession is impaired; or
  4. (B) the fitness of a director of the business registrant to practise that profession is impaired,
  5. or a determination by a regulatory body elsewhere to the same effect<sup>11</sup>.
- 244.
- 190

The Investigation Committee<sup>12</sup> must investigate the allegation made against the registrant and decide whether it ought to be considered by the Fitness to Practise Committee<sup>13</sup>. If the Investigation Committee decides that the allegation ought to be considered by the Fitness to Practise Committee,

- 980 (aa) it must give a direction to that effect to the registrar;
- 981 (bb) the registrar must refer the allegation to the Fitness to Practise Committee; and
- 982 (cc) the registrar must serve a notification of the Investigation Committee's decision on the registrant who, or which, is the subject of the allegation, and on the person making the allegation<sup>14</sup>.

If the Investigation Committee decides that the allegation ought not to be considered by the Fitness to Practise Committee, it may give a warning to the registrant who, or which, is subject to the allegation regarding his, or its, future conduct or performance<sup>15</sup>. If the Investigation Committee decides that the allegation ought not to be considered by the Fitness to Practise Committee and that no such warning is to be given, it must give a direction to that effect to the registrar; and the registrar must serve a notification of the Committee's decision on the registrant who, or which, is the subject of the allegation, on the person making the allegation and on certain persons<sup>16</sup>.

If the Investigation Committee is of the opinion that the Fitness to Practise Committee should consider making an order for interim suspension or interim conditional registration<sup>17</sup> in relation to the registrant who, or which, is the subject of the allegation, it must give a direction to that effect to the registrar; the registrar must refer the matter to the Fitness to Practise Committee for it to decide whether to make such an order; and the registrar must serve notification of the decision on the registrant who, or which, is the subject of the allegation, and on the person making the allegation<sup>18</sup>.

The provisions above also apply in any case where it comes to the attention of the Council that a registered optometrist's or registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise; a business registrant's fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both; or a student registrant's fitness to undertake training, is, or may be, impaired by one or more of the matters mentioned in head (a) or (b) above but no allegation to that effect has been made to the Council against that registrant<sup>19</sup>.

The Council may make rules providing for the registrar; or any other officer of the Council, to exercise the functions of the Investigation Committee<sup>20</sup>, either generally or in relation to such classes of case as may be specified in the rules<sup>21</sup>.

- 1 The allegation may refer to acts or omissions which occurred outside the United Kingdom or at a time when the registrant was not registered: Opticians Act 1989 s 13D(4)(b) (ss 13D, 13E added by SI 2005/848).
- 2 As to the functions and constitution of the General Optical Council see PARA 813.

- 17 Ie under ibid s 13L: see PARA 846A.10.
- 18 Ibid s 13D(9).
- 19 Ibid s 13E(3). In such cases the 1989 Act and rules made under it apply as if an allegation to that effect has been made to the Council under s 13D against the registered optometrist, registered dispensing optician, student registrant or business registrant, and any reference to the person making an allegation must be disregarded: s 13E(3).
- 20 Ie under ibid s 13D.
- 21 Ibid s 13E(1).

5. Powers of the Fitness to Practise Committee

Where an allegation against a registrant is referred<sup>1</sup> to the Fitness to Practise Committee<sup>2</sup>, the following provisions<sup>3</sup> apply<sup>4</sup>.

If the Fitness to Practise Committee finds that

- 983 (1) a registered optometrist's or registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise is impaired;
- 984 (2) a business registrant's fitness to carry on business as an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both is impaired; or
- 985 (3) a student registrant's fitness to undertake training is impaired, it may if it thinks fit give a direction that

- 986 (a) except in a health case<sup>5</sup>, the name of the registrant be erased from the appropriate register;
- 987 (b) the registrant's registration be suspended (that is to say, is not to have effect) during such period not exceeding 12 months as may be specified in the direction<sup>6</sup>;
- 988 (c) the registrant's registration is to be conditional on his or its compliance, during such period not exceeding three years as may be specified in the direction, with such requirements so specified as the Committee see fit to impose for the protection of members of the public or in his or its interests<sup>7</sup>.

Where the Fitness to Practise Committee finds that a registered optometrist's or registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise is impaired on the ground of deficient professional performance, and the deficiency relates to the performance of a specialty or proficiency particulars of which are entered in the appropriate register in respect of him, the Committee may, instead of any of the directions specified in heads (a) to (c) above or, in addition to any of the directions specified in head (b) or (c) above, direct that (i) the entry relating to that specialty or proficiency be removed from the appropriate register; (ii) the entry relating to that specialty or proficiency be removed from the appropriate register temporarily, that is to say, for such period not exceeding twelve months as may be specified in the direction<sup>8</sup>; or (iii) the entry relating to that specialty or proficiency be conditional on the registered optometrist's or registered dispensing optician's compliance, during such period not exceeding three years as may be specified in the direction<sup>9</sup>, with such requirements so specified as the Committee sees fit to impose for the protection of members of the public or in his interests<sup>10</sup>.

If the Fitness to Practise Committee finds that the registered optometrist's or the registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise is not impaired, the business registrant's fitness to carry on the business of an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both is not impaired, or the student registrant's fitness to undertake training is not impaired, it may nevertheless give the registrant a warning regarding his or its future conduct or performance<sup>11</sup>.

If the Fitness to Practise Committee has directed that the registration of a registrant be suspended<sup>12</sup>, it may, if it thinks fit,

- 989 (A) direct that the current period of suspension be extended for such further period from the time when it would otherwise expire as is specified in the direction;
- 990 (B) except in a specified case<sup>13</sup>, direct that the name of the registrant be erased from the appropriate register;
- 991 (C) direct that the registrant's registration is, as from the expiry of the current period of suspension, to be conditional on his or its compliance, during such period not exceeding three years as may be specified in the direction, with such requirements so specified as the committee thinks fit to impose for the protection of members of the public or in his or its interests, but, except as otherwise provided<sup>14</sup>, the Committee must not extend any period of suspension under these provisions for more than twelve months at a time<sup>15</sup>.

In a case where the Fitness to Practise Committee finds that the registered optometrist's, the registered dispensing optician's or the student registrant's impairment is due to adverse physical or mental health; and that person's name has been suspended from the appropriate register under the provisions above, it may give a direction extending his period of suspension indefinitely if the certain conditions<sup>16</sup> are satisfied<sup>17</sup>. Where the Fitness to Practise Committee has given such a direction extending indefinitely the suspension of a person's name from the appropriate register, it must review the direction if

- 992 (aa) the person requests it to do so;
- 993 (bb) at least two years have elapsed since the date on which the direction took effect; and
- 994 (cc) in a case where the direction has previously been reviewed<sup>18</sup>, at least two years have elapsed since the date of the last such review<sup>19</sup>.

If, under the provisions above, the Fitness to Practise Committee gives a direction that a registrant's name be erased from the appropriate register, for suspension<sup>20</sup>, or for conditional registration<sup>21</sup>, or if the committee varies any of the conditions imposed by a direction for conditional registration, the registrar must forthwith serve on the registrant concerned notification of the direction or variation, and of the registrant's right to appeal against it<sup>22</sup>.

1     Ie under the Opticians Act 1989 s 13D (other than under s 13D(9)): see PARA 846A.4.

2     As to the Fitness to Practise Committee, see PARA 833.

3     Ie ibid s 13F(2)-(5).

4     Ibid s 13F(1) (ss 13F, 13G added by SI 2005/848).

5     'Health case' means any case in which the Fitness to Practise Committee has determined that a registered optometrist's or registered dispensing optician's fitness to practise or a student registrant's fitness to undertake training is impaired by reason of a matter falling within the 1989 Act s 13D(2)(f) (see PARA 846A.4 head (a)(v)), but is not impaired by any matter falling within s 13D(2)(a)-(d), (g) (see PARA 846A.4 heads (a)(i)-(iv), (vi)): s 13G(6).

6     While a registrant's registration in the appropriate register is suspended by virtue of a direction under s 13F, the registrant must be treated, except as provided in s 13G(4), as not being registered in the appropriate register and the registrar must make a note (which he must erase when the direction for suspension ceases to have effect) in the appropriate register of that fact and of the period for which the registration is to be suspended, but ss 13D-13H continue to apply to the individual or body whose registration is suspended: s 13F(3), (5). An individual registrant must be treated for the purposes of compliance with rules made under ss 11A, 11B (see PARA 840) as if his registration in the appropriate register was not suspended: s 13G(4).

7     1989 Act s 13F(2), (3).

Where a direction that the inclusion of a person's name in the appropriate register be subject to conditions has been given under s 13F(3), (7) or (11), s 13F(13) applies: s 13F(12). If s 13F(13) applies, the Fitness to Practise Committee may (whether or not of its own motion), if it thinks fit (1) except in a health case, direct that the name of the registrant be erased from the appropriate register; (2) direct that a registrant's registration in the appropriate register be suspended during such period not exceeding twelve months as may be specified in the direction; (3) direct that the current period of conditional registration be extended for such further period from the time when it would otherwise expire as may be specified in the direction; or (4) revoke the direction, or revoke or vary any of the conditions imposed by the direction, for the remainder of the current period of conditional registration, but the Committee must not extend any period of conditional registration under s 13F for more than three years at a time: s 13F(13).

8     As to the application of ibid s 13F(6)-(13) to the temporary removal of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency under head (ii), see s 13F(14), (15).

9     As to the application of ibid s 13F(6)-(13) to an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency being made conditional under head (iii), see s 13F(14), (15).

10    Ibid s 13F(4).

11    Ibid s 13F(5).

12    Ie under ibid s 13F(3) (see TEXT heads (a)-(c)) or s 13F(13).

13    Ie in a case to which ibid s 13F(8) applies.

14    Ie in ibid s 13F(8).

15 Ibid s 13F(6), (7). See further s 13F(12), (13), NOTE 7.

16 The conditions are (1) the period of suspension will, on the date on which the direction takes effect, have lasted for at least two years; and (2) that direction is made not more than two months before the date on which the period of suspension would otherwise expire: ibid s 13F(9).

17 Ibid s 13F(8).

18 Ie under ibid s 13F(9).

19 Ibid s 13F(9). On a review under s 13F(10), the Fitness to Practise Committee may (1) confirm the direction; (2) direct that the suspension be terminated; or (3) direct that the registrant's registration be conditional on his or its compliance, during such period not exceeding three years as may be specified in the direction, with such requirements so specified as the Committee sees fit to impose for the protection of members of the public or in his or its interests: s 13F(11). See further s 13F(12), (13), NOTE 5.

20 References to a direction for suspension include a reference to a direction extending a period of suspension: ibid s 13G(2)(a).

21 References to a direction for conditional registration include a reference to a direction extending a period of conditional registration: ibid s 13G(2)(b).

22 Ibid s 13G(1). The right of appeal is under s 23G.

6. Financial penalty order

In any case other than a health case<sup>1</sup> in which the Fitness to Practise Committee<sup>2</sup> has the power to impose a direction<sup>3</sup>, it may impose, either in addition to the direction or instead of it, a financial penalty order<sup>4</sup>. Such an order may specify any sum not exceeding the maximum penalty<sup>5</sup> and must specify the period within which the sum specified in it is to be paid<sup>6</sup>.

The General Optical Council may recover the sum specified in a financial penalty order from the person or body against whom the order was made if that person or body does not comply with it within the period specified in the order<sup>7</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'health case' see PARA 846A.5.

2 As to the Fitness to Practise Committee, see PARA 833.

3 Ie under the Opticians Act 1989 s 13F: see PARA 846A.5.

4 Ibid s 13H(1) (s 13H added by SI 2005/848).

5 1989 Act s 13H(2). The 'maximum penalty' means a sum not exceeding £50,000 or such higher sum as may be substituted by an order made under s 13H(4): s 13H(3). For transitional provision see the Opticians Act 1989 (Transitional Provisions) Order 2005, SI 2005/1472.

If it appears to the General Optical Council (see PARA 813 et seq) that there has been a change in the value of money since the last occasion when the financial penalty was fixed, whether by the 1989 Act s 13H or by an order under s 13H, the Council may by order amend s 13H(3) so as to substitute for the sum for the time being therein specified such other sum as appears to the Council justified by the change: s 13H(4). The Council must publish such an order in such form as it considers appropriate: s 13H(5). An amendment made by order under s 13H(4) does not apply where the event which gave rise to the allegation occurred before the order came into force: s 13H(6).

6 Ibid s 13H(7).

7 Ibid s 13H(8). The Council must pay any sum paid under a financial penalty order or recovered under s 13H(8) into the Consolidated Fund: s 13H(9).

7. Power to order immediate suspension etc after a finding of impairment of fitness to practise

On giving a direction<sup>1</sup> for erasure or a direction for suspension, or a direction<sup>2</sup> for removal from the appropriate register of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, the Fitness to Practise Committee<sup>3</sup>, if satisfied that to do so is necessary for the protection of members of the public, or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the best interests of the individual or body corporate, may order that the registration of the registrant be suspended forthwith or, in the case of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, that the removal from the register of the entry relating to the specialty or proficiency take place forthwith in accordance with the following provisions<sup>4</sup>.

On giving a direction<sup>5</sup> for conditional registration, or a direction<sup>6</sup> that an entry in the register relating to a specialty or proficiency be made conditional, the Fitness to Practise Committee, if satisfied that to do so is necessary for the protection of members of the public, otherwise in the public interest, or in the best interests of the individual or body corporate, may order that the registration of the registrant be made conditional forthwith or, in the case of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, that the entry in the register relating to the specialty or proficiency be made conditional forthwith<sup>7</sup>.

Where, on the giving of a direction<sup>8</sup>, an order under the provisions above is made in respect of a registrant, the registration in the appropriate register of that individual or body must be suspended (that is to say, does not have effect) or made conditional, or in the case of an entry in the register relating to a specialty or proficiency, removed or made conditional, from the time when the order is made until the time when the direction takes effect<sup>9</sup>; or an appeal against it<sup>10</sup> is (otherwise than by the dismissal of the appeal) determined<sup>11</sup>.

Where the Fitness to Practise Committee makes an order<sup>12</sup>, the registrar must forthwith serve a notification of the order on the individual to whom, or body corporate to which, it applies<sup>13</sup>. Except as provided<sup>14</sup>, while the registration of an individual or body corporate is suspended<sup>15</sup> from the appropriate register, the individual or body must be treated as not being registered in the appropriate register notwithstanding that his or its name still appears in any published copy of the appropriate register<sup>16</sup>.

The High Court of Justice may revoke any order imposed under the provisions above<sup>17</sup>, and its decision on any application for revocation is final<sup>18</sup>.

8. Removal from a register on grounds of fraud or error

If it is proved to the satisfaction of the Fitness to Practise Committee<sup>1</sup> that the entry of a person's name in a register has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made, or that an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency has been fraudulently procured or incorrectly made in a register, the Committee may, if it thinks fit, direct that the person's name or entry be removed<sup>2</sup>. Where the Committee so directs that a person's name or entry relating to a specialty or proficiency is to be removed from a register, the registrar must serve a notification of the direction on that person and of that person's right of appeal against it<sup>3</sup>.

1 As to the Fitness to Practise Committee, see PARA 833.

2 Opticians Act 1989 s 13J(1) (s 13J added by SI 2005/848).

3 1989 Act s 13J(2). There is a right of appeal under s 23G.

9. Restoration of names to a register

A person whose name has been erased from a register<sup>1</sup> or who has had an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency removed<sup>2</sup> (otherwise than for a specified period) may apply to the registrar for his name, or his entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, to be restored to the appropriate register<sup>3</sup>. No such application may be considered by the Registration Appeals Committee<sup>4</sup> before the expiration of two years from the date of erasure or removal of an entry, or during any period of twelve months after any previous such application<sup>5</sup>. An application is invalid if made earlier than twenty-two months after the date of erasure or removal of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, or if made earlier than ten months after determination of a previous application for restoration<sup>6</sup>.

The Registration Appeals Committee may, if it thinks fit, on an application for restoration, direct the registrar to restore the person's name, or the entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, to the appropriate register<sup>7</sup>. Before determining whether to give a direction, the Registration Appeals Committee must require an applicant for restoration to provide such evidence as it considers appropriate as to his fitness to practise or fitness to undertake training or the fitness of the body corporate to carry on the business of an optometrist or a dispensing optician or both, and it must not give such a direction if that evidence does not satisfy it<sup>8</sup>.

If, during the same period of erasure, a second or subsequent application for the restoration to the appropriate register of a name or an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, made by or on behalf of the individual or body corporate whose name has been erased or whose entry relating to a specialty or proficiency has been removed, is unsuccessful, the Registration Appeals Committee may direct that the individual's or body's right to make any further such applications is to be suspended indefinitely<sup>9</sup>.

1 le under the Opticians Act 1989 s 13F: see PARA 846A.5.

2 le under ibid s 13F: see PARA 846A.5.

3 Ibid s 13K(1) (s 13K added by SI 2005/848). Subject to the 1989 Act s 13J(4), the registrar must refer an application to the Registration Appeals Committee: s 13K(3).

An application for restoration may be for (1) restoration to the register from which the applicant's name was erased, or the entry relating to a specialty or proficiency was removed; or (2) admission to a different register or, in the case of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, inclusion of the entry in a different register, but in the case of an application for restoration of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency, an application may only be made for restoration of the entry to a register in which the applicant's name is or will be included: s 13K(5).

4 As to the Registration Appeals Committee, see PARA 833B.

5 1989 Act s 13K(2).

6 Ibid s 13K(4).

7 Ibid s 13K(6).

8 Ibid s 13K(7).

9 Ibid s 13K(8). Where the Registration Appeals Committee gives a direction under s 13K(8), the registrar must forthwith serve on the person in respect of whom it has been made a notification of the direction and of the person's right to appeal against it in accordance with s 23G (see PARA 846A.5): s 13K(9).

Any person in respect of whom a direction has been given under s 13K(8) may, after the expiration of two years from the date on which the direction was given, apply to the registrar for that direction to be reviewed by the Registration Appeals Committee and, thereafter, may make further applications for review; but no such application may be entertained before the expiration of three years from the date of the most recent review decision: s 13K(10).

10. Interim orders

Where the Fitness to Practise Committee<sup>1</sup> is satisfied that it is necessary for the protection of members of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of a registrant, for his registration to be suspended or to be made subject to conditions, or for an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency to be removed temporarily or made subject to conditions, the Committee may make an order specifying that

- 995 (1) the registrant's registration in the appropriate register is to be suspended (that is to say, does not have effect), or that an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency of his is to be removed, during such period not exceeding eighteen months as may be specified in the order (an 'interim suspension order')<sup>2</sup>; or
- 996 (2) his registration or entry relating to a specialty or proficiency is to be conditional on his compliance, during such period not exceeding eighteen months as may be specified in the order, with such requirements so specified as the Committee thinks fit to impose (an 'order for interim conditional registration')<sup>3</sup>.

If the Fitness to Practise Committee makes an interim suspension order or an order for interim conditional registration,

- 997 (a) it must review that order within the period of six months beginning on the date on which the order was made, and must also, for so long as the order remains in force, further review it (i) before the end of the period of six months beginning on the date of the immediately preceding decision, or (ii) if after the end of the period of three months beginning on the date of the decision of the immediately

- preceding review, the person concerned requests an earlier review, as soon as practicable after that request; and
- 998 (b) it may review it if new evidence relevant to the order becomes available after the order is made<sup>4</sup>.

Where an interim suspension order or an order for interim conditional registration has been made in relation to a person under these provisions, the Fitness to Practise Committee may

- 999 (A) revoke the order or revoke the condition imposed by the order,
- 1000 (B) vary any condition imposed by the order, or
- 1001 (C) if satisfied that to do so is necessary for the protection of members of the public or is otherwise in the public interest, or is in the interests of that person, replace an order for interim conditional registration with an interim suspension order having effect for the remainder of the term of the former, or replace an interim suspension order with an order for interim conditional registration having effect for the remainder of the term of the former<sup>5</sup>.

If an order is made under any of the provisions above, the registrar must forthwith serve a notification of the order on the person<sup>6</sup>. The Council may apply to the relevant court for an order made<sup>7</sup> by the Fitness to Practise Committee to be extended, and may apply again for further extensions<sup>8</sup>. On such an application the relevant court may extend (or further extend) for up to twelve months the period for which the order has effect<sup>9</sup>.

Where an order has effect under any of these provisions, the relevant court may

- 1002 (aa) in the case of an interim suspension order, terminate the suspension, or temporary period of removal in the case of an entry relating to a specialty or proficiency;
- 1003 (bb) in the case of an order for interim conditional registration, revoke or vary any condition imposed by the order; or
- 1004 (cc) in either case, substitute for the period specified in the order (or in the order extending it) some other period which could have been specified in the order when the order was made, and the decision of the relevant court under any application under this provision is final<sup>10</sup>.

If an order is made in relation to any person under any of these provisions, the Fitness to Practise Committee must revoke that order (if it remains in effect at the time of the hearing of the allegation against the person before the Committee) immediately after it has determined the allegation<sup>11</sup>.

While a registrant's registration in the appropriate register is suspended by virtue of an interim suspension order<sup>12</sup> the registrant must be treated, except as otherwise provided<sup>13</sup>, as not being registered in the appropriate register, and the registrar must make a note<sup>14</sup> in the appropriate register of that fact and of the period for which the registration is to be suspended, but certain provisions<sup>15</sup> continue to apply to the individual or body whose registration is suspended<sup>16</sup>.

4 Ibid s 13L(3). Section s 13L(3) is subject to s 13L(9): s 13L(3).

For the purposes of s 13L(3) the first review after the relevant court's extension of an order made by the Fitness to Practise Committee, or after the Fitness to Practise Committee makes a replacement order under s 13L(4)(c), must take place (1) if the order (or the order which has been replaced) had not been reviewed at all under s 13L(3), within the period of six months beginning on the date on which the relevant court ordered the extension or on which a replacement order under s 13L(4)(c) was made; and (2) if it had been reviewed under s 13L(3), within the period of three months beginning on that date: s 13L(9).

852. Notification of disciplinary order or direction.

When the disciplinary committee<sup>1</sup> makes a disciplinary order<sup>2</sup> against an individual or body corporate<sup>3</sup>, or a direction that a body corporate must not use certain titles in respect of certain premises<sup>4</sup>, the registrar<sup>5</sup> must serve on that individual or body a notification of the order or direction<sup>6</sup>.

3 Opticians Act 1989 s 17(11)(a). As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

4 Opticians Act 1989 s 17(11)(b). As to such directions see PARA 851 ante.

5 As to the registrar see PARA 822 ante.

6 Opticians Act 1989 s 17(11). Such a notification (or a notification under s 19: see PARA 854 post) which is required to be served on a person may be served by being delivered personally, or by being sent by post in a registered letter or by the recorded delivery service (s 20(1)); and a notification which is required to be served on a body corporate is duly served if it is served on the secretary or clerk of that body (s 20(3)). For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 7 (which defines 'service by post': see STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1388) in its application to this provision, a letter to a person other than a body corporate containing such a notification is deemed to be properly addressed if it is addressed to him at his address in the register or at his last known address if that address differs from his address in the register and it appears to the registrar that the notification is more likely to reach him at his last known address (s 20(2)); and the proper address of a person, in the case of a body corporate or the secretary or clerk of a body corporate, is its address in the list or the address of its registered or principal office if that address differs from its address in the list and it appears to the registrar that the notification is more likely to reach the body corporate or its secretary or clerk there (s 20(4)).

For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 838 note 2 ante; for the meaning of 'registered optician' see PARA 839 note 4 ante; for the meaning of 'enrolled' see PARA 842 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'list' see PARA 841 note 4 ante.

856. Constitution of the committee.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> as to the constitution of the investigating committee<sup>3</sup>.

The investigating committee consists of members appointed<sup>4</sup> by the General Optical Council from among its members<sup>5</sup>, being two members from among those nominated to be members of the General Optical Council by the Privy Council<sup>6</sup>; one from among the registered medical practitioners on the General Optical Council<sup>7</sup>; two from among those chosen to represent registered ophthalmic opticians<sup>8</sup> and those nominated by the College of Optometrists<sup>9</sup>; one from among those chosen to represent registered dispensing opticians<sup>10</sup> or the members nominated by the Association of British Dispensing Opticians<sup>11</sup>; and a further member<sup>12</sup>.

After consulting organisations appearing to it to represent the interests of a substantial number of bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians<sup>13</sup>, the General Optical Council must appoint a panel of persons capable of representing the interests of such bodies corporate<sup>14</sup>; and when a disciplinary case<sup>15</sup> arises involving an allegation against a body corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians, or against a director or employee of such a body corporate, the committee must co-opt, as a member of the committee, a member of that panel<sup>16</sup>. Similarly, after consulting organisations appearing to it to represent a substantial number of bodies corporate carrying on business as dispensing opticians<sup>17</sup>, the Council must appoint a panel of persons capable of representing the interests of such bodies corporate<sup>18</sup>; and when a disciplinary case arises involving an allegation against a body corporate carrying on business as dispensing opticians, or against a director or an employee of such a body corporate, the committee must co-opt, as a member of the committee, a member of that panel<sup>19</sup>.

1 As to the General Optical Council see PARA 813 et seq ante.

2 As to the making of rules see PARA 825 ante.

3 Opticians Act 1989 s 4(4). Any such rules must include provision requiring the committee, on the occasion of a disciplinary case involving an allegation against a body corporate or against a director or employee of a body corporate, to co-opt as a member of the committee for that occasion a person selected by it from whichever of the following panels is appropriate:

14 (1) a panel of persons appointed by the Council as capable of representing the interests of bodies corporate carrying on business as ophthalmic opticians (s 4(4)(a)); and

15 (2) a panel of persons appointed by the Council as capable of representing the interests of bodies corporate carrying on business as dispensing opticians (s 4(4)(b)), being, in either case, persons appointed after consultation with organisations appearing to the Council to represent the interests of a substantial number of the bodies concerned (s 4(4)). By virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the General Optical Council (Investigating Committee Rules) Order of Council 1960, SI 1960/1935, take effect as if made under the Opticians Act 1989 s 4(4).

As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

4 Appointments to the committee are for a period of one year expiring on 31 December: General Optical Council (Investigating Committee Rules) Order of Council 1960, SI 1960/1935, r 6 (substituted by SI 1971/1528). A member of the committee, may at any time, by notice in writing addressed to the registrar of the Council, resign his office: General Optical Council (Investigating Committee Rules) Order of Council 1960, SI 1960/1935, r 7. Where a casual vacancy occurs among the members of the committee, it must be filled by a person appointed by the Council as being a person having qualifications for membership of the committee similar to those of the member whose seat is vacant: r 8. A person appointed to fill a casual vacancy in the committee holds office until the date upon which the person whose vacancy he has filled would have regularly retired from membership of the committee: r 9.

5 Ibid r 3. Where a committee member ceases to be a Council member, he ceases to be a member of the committee: r 6 (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

6 Ibid r 3(a). However, the chairman of the Council may not be appointed to the committee: r 3(a). As to the nomination of members of the General Optical Council by the Privy Council see PARA 814 ante. As to the chairman of the General Optical Council see PARA 820 ante.

9 General Optical Council (Investigating Committee Rules) Order of Council 1960, SI 1960/1935, r 3(c) (as substituted: see note 8 supra). Rule 3(c) (as substituted) refers to members nominated by the British College of Ophthalmic Opticians (Optometrists). The College became the College of Optometrists and the Opticians Act 1989 now refers to the College of Optometrists: see s 1, Sch 1 para 1(d) (as substituted), Sch 1 para 4(a) (as amended); and PARA 816 ante.

10 General Optical Council (Investigating Committee Rules) Order of Council 1960, SI 1960/1935, r 3(d) (as substituted: see note 8 supra). As to such members of the General Optical Council see PARA 815 ante. For the meaning of 'registered dispensing optician' see PARA 838 note 7 ante.

11 Ibid r 3(d) (as substituted: see note 8 supra). Rule 3(d) (as substituted) refers to the members nominated by the Association of Dispensing Opticians and the Faculty of Dispensing Opticians. These organisations merged to form the Association of British Dispensing Opticians and the Opticians Act 1989 now refers to the Association of British Dispensing Opticians: see Sch 1 paras 1(d), 4(d) (both as substituted); and PARA 816 ante.

12 General Optical Council (Investigating Committee Rules) Order of Council 1960, SI 1960/1935, r 3(e) (as substituted: see note 8 supra). This member must be a member chosen under r 3(c) (as substituted) (see the text to notes 8-9 supra), or nominated by the Association of British Dispensing Opticians to serve as a member of the committee only on occasions when the member of the committee appointed under r 3(d) (as substituted) (see the text to notes 10-11 supra) has given notice to the registrar that he is of opinion that it would be improper for him to join the proceedings of the committee because he has a special acquaintance or connection with the disciplinary case coming before the committee: r 3(e) (as substituted). Rule 3(e) (as substituted) refers to the member nominated by the Association of Dispensing Opticians or the Faculty of Dispensing Opticians, but see note 11 supra. As to the registrar see PARA 822 ante.

858. Constitution of the committee.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> as to the constitution of the disciplinary committee<sup>3</sup>, the times and places of the meetings of the committee<sup>4</sup>, the committee's quorum and the mode of summoning members of the committee<sup>5</sup>. The rules must secure that a person, other than the chairman of the Council<sup>6</sup>, who has acted in relation to any disciplinary case<sup>7</sup> as a member of the investigating committee<sup>8</sup> does not act in relation to that case as a member of the disciplinary committee<sup>9</sup>.

The disciplinary committee consists of 20 members of the Council appointed by the Council<sup>10</sup>. Two members of the committee, additional to the chairman, must be appointed from among the members of the Council nominated by the Privy Council<sup>11</sup>; two members must be appointed from among the registered medical practitioner members of the Council<sup>12</sup>; four members must be appointed from among the members of the Council chosen to represent registered ophthalmic opticians<sup>13</sup> and the members nominated by the College of Optometrists<sup>14</sup>; three members must be appointed from among the members of the Council chosen to represent registered dispensing opticians<sup>15</sup> and the members nominated by the Association of British Dispensing Opticians<sup>16</sup>; and eight further members<sup>17</sup>. The quorum of the committee is three<sup>18</sup>, but a member who has not been present throughout the committee's deliberations preceding a decision may not take part in the determination and does not count towards the quorum<sup>19</sup>.

The committee must meet at least once in every year, on days and at times to be fixed by the chairman of the committee<sup>20</sup>. Before the date fixed for a meeting of the committee, the registrar<sup>21</sup> must inform every member of the committee of the date, time and place of the meeting, and send to every such member a programme of business for that meeting which must include particulars of the allegation against registered opticians<sup>22</sup> or enrolled<sup>23</sup> bodies corporate in every disciplinary case to be considered at the meeting<sup>24</sup>.

Appointments to the committee are for a period of one year expiring on 31 December, provided that where a member ceases to be a member of the Council he ceases also to be a member of the committee: General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee (Constitution) Rules) Order of Council 1998, SI 1998/1338, r 10. A member of the committee may at any time, by notice in writing addressed to the registrar of the Council, resign his office: r 11. For the meaning of 'writing' see PARA 20 note 22 ante. Where a casual vacancy occurs among the members of the committee, it must be filled by a person appointed to the Council as being a person having the same qualifications for membership of the committee as those under which the person who formerly filled the vacancy was appointed: r 12. A person appointed to fill a casual vacancy holds office until the date upon which the member whose vacancy he has filled would have regularly retired: r 13.

11 Ibid r 5. The chairman of the committee must be appointed from among the members of the Council nominated by the Privy Council: r 4. As to such members see PARA 814 ante. If the chairman of the committee is absent when a disciplinary case is due for hearing by the committee, the committee must elect one of the members present to preside as acting chairman over the hearing of the case: r 16. As to the Privy Council generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

12 Ibid r 6. As to such members see PARA 817 ante. For the meaning of 'registered medical practitioner' see PARA 4 ante.

17 Ibid r 9 (as amended: see note 10 supra). These members must be appointed from among any members of the Council eligible for appointment under rr 5-8 (see the text to notes 11-16 supra): r 9 (as so amended).

18 Ibid r 15(1) (as substituted: see note 10 supra). The quorum must include a member nominated by the Privy Council (r 15(1)(a) (as so substituted)); and in a disciplinary case: (1) involving a registered ophthalmic optician or an enrolled body corporate carrying on business as an ophthalmic optician, the quorum must include a registered ophthalmic optician (r 15(1)(b)(i) (as so substituted)); or (2) involving a registered dispensing optician or an enrolled body corporate carrying on business as a dispensing optician, the quorum must include a registered dispensing optician (r 15(1)(b)(ii) (as so substituted)).

19 Ibid r 15(2) (as substituted: see note 10 supra). No person, other than the chairman of the Council, who has acted in relation to any disciplinary case as a member of the investigating committee may act in relation to that case as a member of the disciplinary committee; and no person may act as a member of the disciplinary committee in a disciplinary case if he considers that his judgement may be impaired by his personal acquaintance with the respondent, or for some other special reason, but this does not exclude from acting any person who had acted as a member of the committee on the occasion of a previous disciplinary case against the respondent: r 14.

20 Ibid r 17. The committee meets at the offices of the Council unless the chairman of the committee directs that a meeting be held elsewhere in the United Kingdom, on the ground that this would be for the convenience of the committee or of parties and witnesses in disciplinary cases to be heard at the meeting, or would be desirable in the special circumstances of such cases: r 18. ### 859. Legal assessor.

In all proceedings before the disciplinary committee<sup>1</sup> there must be an assessor to the committee for the purpose of advising it on questions of law arising in the proceedings<sup>2</sup>. The assessor must be a person who has a ten year general qualification<sup>3</sup>, or an advocate or solicitor in Scotland of at least ten years' standing<sup>4</sup>, or a member of the Bar of Northern Ireland or a solicitor of the Supreme Court of Northern Ireland of at least ten years' standing<sup>5</sup>. The power of appointing assessors is exercisable by the General Optical Council<sup>6</sup>, but if no assessor so appointed is available to act at any particular proceedings the disciplinary committee may appoint an assessor to act at those proceedings<sup>7</sup>. The Lord Chancellor may make rules as to the functions of assessors<sup>8</sup>.

It is the duty of the assessor to be present at all proceedings before the committee and to advise the committee on any questions of law and the admission of evidence arising in the proceedings which may be referred to him by the committee<sup>9</sup>. The assessor must inform the committee forthwith of any irregularity in the conduct of proceedings before the committee which may come to his knowledge and advise the committee of his own motion where it appears to him that, but for such advice, there is a possibility of a mistake of law being made<sup>10</sup>. The assessor's advice must be tendered to the committee in the presence of every party, or person representing a party, to the proceedings who appears<sup>11</sup> at the proceedings<sup>12</sup>. If on any occasion the committee does not accept the advice of the assessor, a record must be made of the question referred to him, of the advice given and of the refusal to accept it, together with the reasons for such refusal, and a copy of the record must be given to every party, or person representing a party, to the proceedings who appears thereat<sup>13</sup>.

7 Opticians Act 1989 s 22(2). Subject to the provisions of s 22 (as amended), an assessor may be appointed either generally or for any particular proceedings or class of proceedings, and holds and vacates office in accordance with the terms of the instrument under which he is appointed: s 22(4). Any remuneration paid by the Council to persons appointed to act as assessors must be at rates approved by the Privy Council: s 22(5). As to the exercise of powers of the Privy Council under the Opticians Act 1989 see PARA 835 ante. As to the Privy Council generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

8 Ibid s 22(3). In particular, such rules may contain, as appear to the Lord Chancellor expedient:

16 (1) provisions for securing that:

1. (a) where an assessor advises the committee on any question of law as to evidence, procedure or any other matters specified in the rules, he must do so in the presence of every party, or person representing a party, to the proceedings who appears at the proceedings or, if the advice is tendered after the committee has begun to deliberate as to its findings, that every such party or person must be informed what advice the assessor has tendered (s 22(3)(a)(i));

2. (b) every such party or person must be informed if in any case the committee do not accept the advice of the assessor on any such question (s 22(3)(a)(ii)); and

17 (2) incidental and supplementary provisions (s 22(3)(b)).

The powers of the Lord Chancellor to make such rules are exercisable by statutory instrument: s 34(5)(b). By virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the General Optical Council Disciplinary Committee (Legal Assessor) Rules 1961, SI 1961/1239, take effect as if made under the Opticians Act 1989 s 22(3). ### 860. Rules as to procedure.

The General Optical Council<sup>1</sup> must make rules<sup>2</sup> as to the procedure to be followed and the rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before the disciplinary committee<sup>3</sup>, and in particular:

- 1005 (1) for securing that notice that the proceedings are to be brought is given, at such time and in such manner as may be specified in the rules, to the individual or body corporate alleged to be liable to have a disciplinary order<sup>4</sup> or a direction<sup>5</sup> made against him or it<sup>6</sup>;
- 1006 (2) for securing that any party to the proceedings is, if he so requires, entitled to be heard by the committee<sup>7</sup>;
- 1007 (3) for enabling any party to the proceedings to be represented by counsel or solicitor or, if the rules so provide and the party so elects, by a person of such other description as may be specified in the rules<sup>8</sup>;
- 1008 (4) for requiring proceedings before the committee to be held in public except in so far as may be provided by the rules<sup>9</sup>;
- 1009 (5) for requiring, in cases where it is alleged that a registered optician<sup>10</sup> has been guilty of serious professional misconduct<sup>11</sup>, that where the committee judges that the allegation has not been proved it must record a finding that the optician is not guilty of such conduct in respect of the matters to which the allegation relates<sup>12</sup>;
- 1010 (6) for requiring, in cases where it is alleged that a registered optician or enrolled<sup>13</sup> body corporate is liable to have a disciplinary order made against him or it<sup>14</sup>, that where the committee judges that the allegation has not been proved it must record a finding that the optician or body corporate is not guilty of the matters alleged<sup>15</sup>.

Before making such rules, the Council must consult those organisations representing the interests of opticians and bodies corporate carrying on business as opticians as appear to the Council requisite to be consulted<sup>16</sup>.

862. Procedure: general provisions.

All proceedings before the disciplinary committee<sup>1</sup> must take place in the presence of all parties who appear in them, and must be held in public<sup>2</sup>, except that, where in the interests of justice it appears to the committee that the public should be excluded from any proceedings or part of them, the committee may direct that the public be so excluded; but such a direction does not apply to the announcement of any determination of the committee<sup>3</sup>. The committee may adjourn its proceedings from time to time as it thinks fit<sup>4</sup>. A shorthand writer must be appointed by the committee to take shorthand notes of its proceedings<sup>5</sup>.

Facts relevant to an inquiry<sup>6</sup> must be proved in accordance with the rules of criminal evidence<sup>7</sup>.

Where on any question the votes of the members of the committee are equal, the question is deemed to have been resolved in favour of the respondent or of the applicant<sup>8</sup>, as the case may be<sup>9</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/7. OPTICIANS/(4) DISCIPLINE/(iii) The Disciplinary Committee/863. Procedure in disciplinary cases.

863. Procedure in disciplinary cases.

As soon as may be after a disciplinary case<sup>1</sup> has been referred to the disciplinary committee<sup>2</sup>, the solicitor<sup>3</sup> must serve a notice of inquiry<sup>4</sup> in the prescribed form<sup>5</sup> upon the respondent<sup>6</sup>. The committee must not hold an inquiry unless a notice of inquiry has been served upon the respondent<sup>7</sup>. The chairman<sup>8</sup>, upon the application of a party to the inquiry, may postpone the inquiry<sup>9</sup>.

A respondent or complainant may appear either in person or be represented<sup>10</sup>. The charge or charges must be read in the presence of the respondent, and of the complainant if one appears<sup>11</sup>. If the respondent has appeared at the inquiry, the chairman must ask if all or any of the convictions or other facts alleged in the charge or charges are admitted<sup>12</sup>. The solicitor opens the case and may call witnesses and adduce evidence of any such convictions or other facts not admitted by the respondent and of any matter connected with the facts alleged which may be relevant<sup>13</sup>. The respondent may cross-examine any such witness and the witness may thereafter be re-examined<sup>14</sup>. The respondent may then submit that the evidence called by the solicitor does not establish the charge alleged<sup>15</sup>. If no such submission is made, or if any such submission is not upheld, the respondent may then adduce evidence and call witnesses with or without notice<sup>16</sup>, and the respondent may address the committee either before or after such evidence but not more than once save with the leave of the committee<sup>17</sup> so, however, that the respondent has the right to make a final speech to the committee whether or not he called witnesses<sup>18</sup>. The solicitor or the complainant may address the committee on any point of law raised by the respondent<sup>19</sup>; and, where the respondent adduces evidence, the solicitor or the complainant may address the committee on it and may adduce evidence in rebuttal; and any witnesses called by the respondent may be cross-examined and re-examined<sup>20</sup>. At any stage in any proceedings before it, the committee may cause any person to be called as a witness whether or not the parties consent; and if any such witness gives evidence against the respondent, the witness may be cross-examined and the respondent may adduce evidence in rebuttal<sup>21</sup>. Questions may be put to any witness by the committee through the chairman or by the legal assessor with the leave of the chairman<sup>22</sup>.

The committee then deliberates, and decides in relation to each charge which remains outstanding whether the facts alleged in such charge have been proved and in relation to any facts found by the committee to have been proved whether they are such as to substantiate such charge, and the chairman announces its findings<sup>23</sup>.

4 For the meaning of 'inquiry' see PARA 862 note 6 ante.

5 The notice of inquiry must be as nearly as may be in the form set out in the General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, Appendix: art 2(1). The notice must state the charge or charges and specify in a case under the Opticians Act 1989 s 17 (see PARAS 846-852 ante) the alleged convictions or other facts relied on in relation to each charge and the provision under which any charge is brought; or in a case under s 19 (see PARA 854 ante), the nature of the fraud or mistake alleged: General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, art 2(1)(i), (ii). 'Conviction' means a conviction by any court in the United Kingdom of any criminal offence; and 'charge' includes an allegation that an entry in the register or list has been fraudulently or incorrectly made: art 1(2). For the meaning of 'register' see PARA 838 note 2 ante; and for the meaning of 'list' see PARA 841 note 4 ante. The notice must also state the day, time and place at which the committee will hold an inquiry into these matters, and a copy of the General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Rules 1985 must be enclosed; and a copy of the notice must be sent to the complainant: General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, art 2(1). 'The complainant' means a person or body by whom a complaint has been made to the General Optical Council in a case to which these provisions apply: r 1(2).

Where, before the inquiry opens, it appears to the chairman, or at any stage of the proceedings it appears to the committee, that a notice of inquiry is defective, he or it must cause the notice to be amended, unless it appears to him or it that the required amendment cannot be made without injustice, or, if he or it considers that the circumstances in which an amendment is made require it, he or it may direct that the amended notice be served on the respondent and that the inquiry be postponed: art 3(3). The solicitor must, as soon as may be, give to all parties notification of any decision to postpone or not to hold an inquiry, and inform them of any date fixed for the hearing of a postponed inquiry: art 3(4). 'Party' means the solicitor or the respondent: art 1(2).

As to the prospective amendments made by the Opticians Act 1989 (Amendment) Order 2005, SI 2005/848, see PARA 803 note 8 ante.

6 General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, art 2(1). The notice and copy of the rules must be sent by post in a registered letter or by the recorded delivery service addressed to the respondent in accordance with the provisions of the Opticians Act 1989 s 20 (see PARA 852 note 6 ante) as though it were a notification to which s 20 applies: General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, art 2(2). Nothing prevents one inquiry being held into charges against two or more respondents, and where such an inquiry is held the General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, applies with the necessary adaptations and subject to any directions given by the committee as to the order in which proceedings are to be taken by or in relation to the several respondents, so however that any of the rights of a respondent thereunder must be exercised separately by each of the respondents who desire to invoke that right: art 16. 'The respondent' means any person or body corporate whose name has been entered in a register or list and in respect of whom a case has been referred to the disciplinary committee for inquiry: art 1(2).

7 Ibid art 2(3). Except with the agreement of the respondent, the inquiry must not be held within 28 days after the date of posting of the notice of inquiry: art 2(4). Not less than 14 days before the date of the inquiry by the committee as stated in the notice of inquiry, any party to the inquiry may serve on any other the following information: his estimate of the likely length of the hearing; a statement of what, in his view, are the issues in the case; how many witnesses he is to call; whether, in his view, there are matters which can be agreed without the need to call evidence (and, if so, which matters those are); any points of law which he expects will arise at the hearing: art 2A(a)-(e) (art 2A added by SI 1998/1337). Subject to the General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, art 10(iii) (see PARA 865 note 11 post), upon application by the respondent, the solicitor must send him a copy of any statutory declaration, complaint, answer, admission, explanation or other similar document which the Council has received in connection with his case: art 4.

8 'The chairman' means the chairman or the acting chairman of the committee: ibid art 1(2). As to the appointment of the chairman and acting chairman see PARA 858 note 11 ante.

9 Ibid art 3(1). The chairman may refer a disciplinary case back to the investigating committee for further consideration either upon the application of a party to the inquiry or upon the emergence of fresh evidence justifying such a reference: art 3(2). As to the investigating committee see PARAS 855-856 ante. As to the duty of the solicitor to give notice of any decision to postpone or not to hold an inquiry see art 3(4); and note 5 supra.

10 Ibid art 5(1), (2). A respondent or complainant, if an individual, may appear either in person or be represented by counsel, by a solicitor, by any officer or member of an organisation of which he is a member, or by a member of his family: art 5(1). A respondent or complainant who is a body corporate or an unincorporated body of persons may be represented by its secretary (or other officer duly appointed for the purpose) or by counsel or by a solicitor: art 5(2). As to corporations and unincorporated associations see CORPORATIONS vol 9(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1101.

11 Ibid art 6(1). If the respondent does not appear at the inquiry but the committee nevertheless decides that the inquiry should proceed, the charge or charges must be read in his absence: art 6(1). As soon as the charge or charges have been read, the respondent may, if he so desires, object to the charge or charges, or to any part, in point of law, and the solicitor or the complainant may reply to any such objection; and, if any such objection is upheld, no further proceedings may be taken on a charge or on a part of a charge to which the objection relates: art 6(2). As to general provisions in relation to the committee's procedure see PARA 862 ante.

12 Ibid art 7(1).

13 Ibid art 7(2). As to the standard of proof see PARA 862 ante; and as to the committee's power to administer oaths, and witness summonses, see PARA 861 ante.

14 Ibid art 7(3).

15 Ibid art 7(4). The committee must consider and determine any such submission, and the chairman must thereupon announce its determination: art 7(4). See also the text to note 23 infra.

16 Ibid art 7(5). Any such witnesses may be cross-examined and re-examined: art 7(5)(i).

17 Ibid art 7(5)(ii).

18 Ibid art 7(5).

19 Ibid art 7(6).

20 Ibid art 7(7). The respondent has the right to address the committee upon such evidence in rebuttal: art 7(8).

21 Ibid art 7(9).

22 Ibid art 7(10). For the meaning of 'the legal assessor' see PARA 862 note 2 ante.

23 Ibid art 7(11). If the committee finds that any charge under the Opticians Act 1989 s 17 (see PARAS 846-852 ante) is not proved, a finding that the respondent is not guilty of the matters alleged must be recorded: General Optical Council (Disciplinary Committee) (Procedure) Order of Council 1985, SI 1985/1580, art 7(11). As to the disposal of cases see PARA 864 post. As to the position where the votes on the committee are equal on any decision see PARA 862 ante. The disciplinary committee must give adequate reasons for its decisions: Threlfall v General Optical Council [2004] EWHC 2683 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 416 (Nov).

864. Disposal of disciplinary cases.

Where the disciplinary committee<sup>1</sup> finds that a disciplinary charge<sup>2</sup> is proved, the chairman<sup>3</sup> invites the solicitor<sup>4</sup> to adduce evidence of the circumstances leading up to the facts found proved and as to the character and antecedents of the respondent<sup>5</sup>. The respondent may then address the committee in mitigation and adduce any relevant evidence<sup>6</sup>. The committee must then deliberate and decide either to take no further action<sup>7</sup>, or to make a disciplinary order<sup>8</sup> or a direction<sup>9</sup> against the respondent<sup>10</sup>. Any such decision of the committee must be announced by the chairman in such terms as the committee may approve<sup>11</sup>.

If, in a case relating to a fraudulent or incorrect entry in a register or list<sup>12</sup>, the committee determines that an entry has been proved to its satisfaction to have been fraudulently or incorrectly made, it must make an order in writing<sup>13</sup>, signed by the chairman, that the entry having been proved to the satisfaction of the committee to have been fraudulently or incorrectly made, as the case may be, be erased from the register or list<sup>14</sup>. Where, in such a case, an inquiry<sup>15</sup> relates to two or more entries, the committee may consider the allegations in respect of those entries either separately or taken together, as the committee may think fit; and where an inquiry relates to an entry specifying two or more particulars, the committee may proceed in respect of so much of the entry as specifies each of those particulars as if it were a separate entry<sup>16</sup>.

7 Ibid art 8(3)(a). This provision is subject to the provisions of art 8(6) (see the text to note 11 infra): art 8(3)(a).

8 If the committee decides to make a disciplinary order, it must then decide to make any of the following: (1) an erasure order (ibid art 8(4)(a)); (2) a suspension order (art 8(4)(b)); (3) a penalty order (art 8(4)(c)); or (4) an erasure order or a suspension order together with a penalty order (art 8(4)(d)). If the committee decides: (a) to make a suspension order (whether or not it is to be made together with a penalty order), it must specify the period, not exceeding 12 months, during which the respondents registration or enrolment is suspended (art 8(5)(a)); (b) to make a penalty order (whether or not it is to be made together with an erasure order or a suspension order), it must specify the sum (not exceeding the maximum penalty) which the respondent must pay to General Optical Council (art 8(5)(b)(i)), and the period within which the sum specified is to be paid (art 8(5)(b)(ii)). An individual or body corporate who is notified<sup>1</sup> that a disciplinary order<sup>2</sup> has been made against him<sup>3</sup> or that a direction has been given in respect of him<sup>4</sup> may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification was served<sup>5</sup>, appeal against that order or direction to the relevant court<sup>6</sup>. An individual or body corporate who is notified<sup>7</sup> that a direction has been given in respect of him<sup>8</sup> in relation to a fraudulent or incorrect entry in a register or list<sup>9</sup> may, before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification was served, appeal against that direction to a county court<sup>10</sup>.

On any such appeal<sup>11</sup>, the court may:

- 1014 (1) dismiss the appeal<sup>12</sup>;
- 1015 (2) allow the appeal and quash the order or direction appealed against<sup>13</sup>;
- 1016 (3) substitute for the order or direction appealed against any other order or direction which could have been made by the disciplinary committee<sup>14</sup>; or
- 1017 (4) remit the case to the disciplinary committee to dispose of the case in accordance with the directions of the court<sup>15</sup>, and may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit<sup>16</sup>.

The General Optical Council<sup>17</sup> may appear as respondent on any such appeal, and for the purpose of any order as to costs in relation to any appeal the Council is deemed to be a party to the appeal, whether it appears on the hearing of the appeal or not<sup>18</sup>.

11 As to appeals generally see CPR Pt 52. An appeal is by way of re-hearing: Practice Direction--Appeals PD52 para 22.3(1)(f), (2). An appeal is not limited to questions of law but also includes questions of fact. The court does not normally hear evidence afresh, but considers the appeal on the basis of the record of the evidence given to the committee. The court appreciates that the committee is better qualified to assess the reliability of the evidence of live witnesses where it was in issue, and evidence relating to professional practice and the gravity of any shortcomings, and therefore accords the decision of the committee an appropriate measure of respect, but no more. It remains, however, the position that an appellant must establish an error, of law or fact or of judgment, on the part of the committee: Threlfall v General Optical Council [2004] EWHC 2683 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 416 (Nov) at 21 per Stanley Burnton J. ### (1) INTRODUCTION

867. In general.

The principal purpose of the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968<sup>1</sup> is to provide for the establishment of a Hearing Aid Council<sup>2</sup> to register persons engaged in the supply of hearing aids<sup>3</sup>, to advise on the training of persons engaged in such business<sup>4</sup>, and to regulate trade practices<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the short title see the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 15(1). This Act applies to Northern Ireland: see the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 15(2) (amended by the Hearing Aid Council (Extension) Act 1975 s 2(3)); and the Hearing Aid Council (Extension) Act 1975 s 1. See also the Hearing Aid Council (Extension) Act 1975 s 2(4); and the Hearing Aid Council (Amendment) Act 1989 s 6(3).

2 As to the Council see PARA 868 et seq post.

3 As to registration see PARA 872 post. 'Hearing aid' means an instrument intended for use by a person suffering from impaired hearing to assist that person to hear better, but does not include any instrument or device designed for use by connecting conductors of electricity to equipment or apparatus provided for the purpose of affording means of telephonic communication: s 14. 'Supply' means supply by way of retail sale or by way of hire, but does not include a sale to a person acquiring for the purposes of trade: s 14.

4 As to such advice see PARA 869 post.

5 See the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968, long title. As to codes of practice see PARA 869 post. ## (2) THE HEARING AID COUNCIL

868. Constitution, members and officers.

The Hearing Aid Council is a body corporate with perpetual succession and a common seal<sup>1</sup>, and consists of a chairman and 12 other members appointed by the Board of Trade<sup>2</sup>. When appointing persons as members of the Council, the Board must ensure that the members include: (1) four persons who are capable of representing the interests of persons registered under the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968<sup>3</sup> and who are either so registered themselves or are directors of, or participate in the management of, a body corporate which is so registered<sup>4</sup>; (2) four persons who are not eligible for appointment under head (1) above and who have specialised medical knowledge of deafness or audiological technical knowledge<sup>5</sup>; and (3) four persons who are not eligible for appointment under head (1) or head (2) above and who are capable of representing the interests of persons with impaired hearing<sup>6</sup>.

Members of the Council hold office for such period, not exceeding four years, as the Board of Trade may specify at the time of their appointment<sup>7</sup>. In determining the periods of office of members of the Council, other than the chairman,<sup>8</sup> the Board of Trade must seek to secure that one-third of the members of the Council cease to hold office each year<sup>9</sup>, and that, so far as is consistent with this consideration, all members of the Council are appointed for similar periods<sup>10</sup>. This does not preclude a member from being appointed for a second or subsequent term<sup>11</sup>. A member may resign by giving written notice to the registrar<sup>12</sup>. The powers of the Council and of any of its committees may be exercised notwithstanding any vacancy or any defect in the appointment of a member<sup>13</sup>. The Council may pay members of the Council or its committees such fees for attendance at meetings of the Council or its committees and such travelling and subsistence allowances while attending such meetings or while away on any other business of the Council as the Council, with the approval of the Board of Trade, may determine<sup>14</sup>. The quorum at meetings of the Council is seven<sup>15</sup>. The chairman has no vote except in the event of an equality of votes, when he has a single casting vote<sup>16</sup>.

The Council must appoint a registrar<sup>17</sup> and may appoint such other officers and servants as it determines<sup>18</sup>. It may pay its officers and servants such remuneration as it determines<sup>19</sup>, and may make provision for pensions and gratuities or superannuation for them<sup>20</sup>.

869. Functions of the Council.

The Hearing Aid Council<sup>1</sup> has the general function of securing adequate standards of competence and conduct among persons engaged in dispensing hearing aids<sup>2</sup> together with the additional functions assigned to it by or under the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968<sup>3</sup>. In furtherance of its general function, the Council must study the facilities available for training persons to act as dispensers of hearing aids<sup>4</sup>, keep those facilities under review, advise on methods for improving those facilities and publicise details of training and courses available<sup>5</sup>. It must also draw up standards of competence for dispensers of hearing aids and codes of trade practice for adoption by such dispensers and persons employing them<sup>6</sup>, and must review and, as appropriate, vary standards and codes from time to time<sup>7</sup>. It must publish, in such manner as it considers appropriate, any such code or standard and any variation of it<sup>8</sup>. The Council may receive and investigate complaints from members of the public<sup>9</sup>. It may also do anything which in its opinion is calculated to facilitate the proper discharge of its functions<sup>10</sup>. Its procedures in the discharge of its functions are such as it may from time to time determine<sup>11</sup>.

It has power to make rules with respect to the form and keeping of the registers<sup>12</sup>, the constitution of the investigating committee<sup>13</sup> and the disciplinary committee<sup>14</sup> and the procedure to be followed and rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before the disciplinary committee<sup>15</sup>.

871. Offences by unregistered persons.

It is unlawful: (1) for any person to act as a dispenser of hearing aids<sup>1</sup> unless he is registered<sup>2</sup> as a dispenser of hearing aids<sup>3</sup> or is a person whose name has been notified to the registrar of the Hearing Aid Council<sup>4</sup> and who is undergoing full-time training with a view to being registered as a dispenser of hearing aids and who is acting under the supervision of a registered dispenser<sup>5</sup>; (2) for any person whose name is not for the time being entered in the register<sup>6</sup> to employ any person to act as a dispenser of hearing aids<sup>7</sup>; or (3) for any person whose name is entered in the register to employ a person to act as a dispenser of hearing aids unless that person is a person so registered<sup>8</sup> or is a person whose name has been notified to the registrar of the Council and who is undergoing full-time training with a view to being registered as a dispenser of hearing aids and who is acting under the supervision of a registered dispenser<sup>9</sup>.

A person who contravenes these provisions is guilty of an offence<sup>10</sup>.

1 'Dispenser of hearing aids' means an individual who conducts or seeks to conduct oral negotiations with a view to effecting the supply of a hearing aid, whether by him or another, to or for the use of a person with impaired hearing; and references to the dispensing of hearing aids or to acting as a dispenser of such aids are to be construed accordingly: Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 14. Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/8. DISPENSERS OF HEARING AIDS/(3) REGISTRATION/872. Registration of dispensers of hearing aids and persons employing them.

872. Registration of dispensers of hearing aids and persons employing them.

The registrar appointed by the Hearing Aid Council<sup>1</sup> must establish and maintain a register of dispensers of hearing aids<sup>2</sup> and a register of persons employing such dispensers<sup>3</sup>. He must cause to be entered in the appropriate register the name and prescribed<sup>4</sup> particulars of every person qualified for registration who has applied in the prescribed manner and paid the appropriate fee<sup>5</sup>. The registers must be kept at the offices of the Council and be made available for public inspection at all reasonable times without charge<sup>6</sup>. Any individual other than a disqualified person<sup>7</sup> is qualified to be registered as a dispenser if during the period of two years immediately preceding 29 December 1969<sup>8</sup> he had acted as a dispenser of hearing aids for a period of, or periods totalling, at least six months<sup>9</sup>, or if he satisfies the standards of competence for the time being published<sup>10</sup> by the Council<sup>11</sup>. Any person other than: (1) a disqualified person or a person carrying on business in partnership with a disqualified person<sup>12</sup>; or (2) a body corporate which has among its directors one or more disqualified persons or in which a disqualified person has a controlling interest or in the management of which a disqualified person participates<sup>13</sup>, is qualified to be registered as an employer of dispensers of hearing aids if he employs or proposes to employ any person to dispense hearing aids<sup>14</sup>. Where an application for registration is refused or the registrar fails to enter the name of the applicant on the appropriate register, the applicant may appeal to the disciplinary committee<sup>15</sup> which has the power to direct that the applicant be registered and may, in the case of an application by a body corporate for registration on the register of persons employing dispensers of hearing aids<sup>16</sup>, direct that head (2) above is not to apply<sup>17</sup>.

The Council may make rules as to the form and keeping of the registers, and as to the making of entries, alterations and corrections in them, and as to the issue by the registrar of certificates of registration<sup>18</sup>. In particular, it may make rules as to the making of applications for registration and the evidence required in support of such applications<sup>19</sup>; the notification to the Council of any change in the particulars of any person registered<sup>20</sup>; the payment by persons whose names are entered in the registers of an annual retention fee<sup>21</sup>; the removal from the register of any person who, after prescribed notices and warnings, fails to supply information required to ensure that the registered particulars are correct or to show that he is not in contravention of any statutory provision, or who fails to pay the annual retention fee<sup>22</sup>; and the restoration to the register of the name of any person on the direction of the disciplinary committee<sup>23</sup>.

873. Removal from the register.

If any person registered under the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968<sup>1</sup> is convicted by any court in the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> of any criminal offence (not being an offence which, owing to its trivial nature or the circumstances under which it was committed, does not render him unfit to have his name on the register)<sup>3</sup>, or is judged by the disciplinary committee of the Hearing Aid Council<sup>4</sup> to have been guilty of serious misconduct in connection with the dispensing of hearing aids or the training of persons to act as dispensers of hearing aids<sup>5</sup>, or is judged by the committee to have contravened any code of trade practice published by the Council under the Act<sup>6</sup>, the committee may, if it thinks fit, impose one or more of the following penalties: (1) it may issue an admonition; (2) it may impose a monetary penalty; (3) it may direct that the registration of a person's name be suspended for such period as the committee thinks fit; or (4) it may direct that the name of that person be erased from the register<sup>7</sup>. If it appears to the committee that the arrangements made by any person registered as a person employing dispensers of hearing aids<sup>8</sup> for carrying on of business under the Act are not such as to secure that the dispensing of hearing aids is carried out by or under the supervision of a registered dispenser<sup>9</sup>, the committee may, if it thinks fit, impose on that person any one or more of the penalties listed above<sup>10</sup>.

Where a director of any body corporate registered as an employer of dispensers<sup>11</sup> is convicted of an offence under the Act<sup>12</sup>, or the committee is satisfied that a person whose name has been erased from and not yet restored to one or both of the registers<sup>13</sup> or a person on whom any other penalty mentioned above has been imposed<sup>14</sup> is a director of or is taking part in the management of or has a controlling interest in such a body corporate<sup>15</sup>, the committee may, if it thinks fit, impose on the body corporate any one or more of the penalties listed above<sup>16</sup>.

The committee may, if it thinks fit, direct that the name of any person entered in either of the registers be erased from the register if it is satisfied that he is carrying on business as a dispenser of hearing aids or employing a dispenser in partnership with a person whose name has been erased from and not yet restored to one of the registers<sup>17</sup>.

Where no appeal<sup>18</sup> is brought against a penalty, or where an appeal is brought but is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, the penalty takes effect on the expiration of the time for appealing or, as the case may be, on the withdrawal or striking out<sup>19</sup>. Where an appeal is brought and proceeds to a conclusion, the penalty takes effect if and when the appeal is dismissed, and not otherwise<sup>20</sup>.

874. The investigating committee.

The investigating committee is established by the Hearing Aid Council<sup>1</sup> from among its members for the purpose of undertaking the preliminary investigation of disciplinary cases<sup>2</sup> and to decide whether a disciplinary case ought to be referred to the disciplinary committee<sup>3</sup> to be dealt with<sup>4</sup>. The investigating committee consists of three members of the Council nominated by the chairman of the Council and approved by the Council<sup>5</sup>. On vacating office as a member of the Council a person ceases to be a member of the investigating committee<sup>6</sup>. The quorum of the investigating committee is two<sup>7</sup>. At any meeting of the investigating committee such member as the investigating committee may choose is to be chairman<sup>8</sup>, and in the case of equality of votes in the investigating committee the chairman has a second and casting vote<sup>9</sup>. The validity of proceedings is not affected by a vacancy or by a defect in the appointment of a member<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the Council see PARA 868 et seq ante. The Council has the power to make rules as to the constitution of the investigating committee, subject to the approval of the Lord Chancellor by statutory instrument: see the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 ss 5(3), 13. The rules that have been made and approved are the Hearing Aid Council (Investigating and Disciplinary Committees) Rules 1991 which are set out in the Schedule to the Hearing Aid Council Investigating and Disciplinary Committee Rules Approval Instrument 1991, SI 1991/2770. As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

2 'Disciplinary case' means a case in which it is alleged that a person is liable to be dealt with under the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 7 (as amended) on any of the grounds specified in that provision (see PARA 873 ante): see s 5(1) (amended by the Hearing Aid Council (Amendment) Act 1989 s 3(1)).

3 As to the disciplinary committee see PARA 875 post.

875. The disciplinary committee.

The disciplinary committee is established by the Hearing Aid Council<sup>1</sup> from among its members to consider and determine disciplinary cases<sup>2</sup> referred to it by the investigating committee<sup>3</sup> and any other cases of which it has cognisance<sup>4</sup>. It consists of the person who is for the time being the chairman of the Council and nine other Council members<sup>5</sup>. On vacating office as a member of the Council a person ceases to be a disciplinary committee member<sup>6</sup>. A person (other than the chairman of the Council) who has acted in relation to any disciplinary case as a member of the investigating committee may not be nominated to act in relation to that case on the disciplinary committee<sup>7</sup>. The quorum of the disciplinary committee is five unless the respondent agrees to a smaller number, but in any event must not be less than three<sup>8</sup>. At any meeting of the disciplinary committee, the chairman of the Council, or, in his absence, a committee member chosen by the disciplinary committee, is to act as chairman<sup>9</sup>. The disciplinary committee meets at such intervals, times and places as the chairman of the Council determines<sup>10</sup>. The validity of proceedings is not affected by a vacancy or defect in the appointment of a member<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the Council see PARA 868 et seq ante. The Council is to make rules as to the constitution of the Committee, the times and places of the meetings of the Committee (see the text and note 10 infra), the quorum (see the text and note 8 infra) and the mode of summoning its members (see note 10 infra): Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 6(2). Rules made under s 6 must be approved by the Lord Chancellor by statutory instrument: ss 6(4), 13. The rules that have been made and approved are the Hearing Aid Council (Investigating and Disciplinary Committees) Rules 1991 which are set out in the Schedule to the Hearing Aid Council Investigating and Disciplinary Committee Rules Approval Instrument 1991, SI 1991/2770. As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

2 For the meaning of 'disciplinary case' see PARA 874 note 2 ante.

3 As to the investigating committee see PARA 874 ante.

4 See the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 6(1); and the Hearing Aid Council Investigating and Disciplinary Committee Rules Approval Instrument 1991, SI 1991/2770, Schedule, Hearing Aid Council (Investigating and Disciplinary Committees) Rules 1991 r 4(1). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/8. DISPENSERS OF HEARING AIDS/(4) DISCIPLINE/876. Legal assessor.

876. Legal assessor.

For the purpose of advising the disciplinary committee<sup>1</sup> on questions of law arising in proceedings before it, there must be in all such proceedings an assessor to the disciplinary committee<sup>2</sup>. The power of appointing an assessor is exercisable by the Hearing Aid Council<sup>3</sup>; but, if no assessor appointed by it is available to act at any particular proceedings, the disciplinary committee may appoint an assessor to act at those proceedings<sup>4</sup>.

The Lord Chancellor has the power to make rules as to the functions of assessors<sup>5</sup>. It is the assessor's duty: (1) to be present at all proceedings before the committee relating to the imposition of a penalty upon a person, the refusal or failure to register a person or the removal or restoration of a name from or to the register, and to advise on any questions of law and the admission of evidence arising in the proceedings referred to him by the committee<sup>6</sup>; (2) to inform the committee forthwith of any irregularity in the conduct of proceedings before the committee which may come to his knowledge and to advise it of his own motion where it appears to him that there is a possibility that a mistake of law will be made<sup>7</sup>. His advice must be tendered to the committee in the presence of every party, or person representing a party, who appears at the proceedings<sup>8</sup>. Advice to the committee whilst it is deliberating in private may, however, be tendered in private in a proper case, although the question posed to the assessor, and his advice on it, must be communicated to the parties as soon as may be<sup>9</sup>. If the committee does not accept his advice a record must be made of the question, the advice and the reasons for the refusal, and a copy must be given to each party appearing or his representative<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the disciplinary committee see PARA 875 ante.

2 Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 11(1). The assessor must be a person who has a ten year general qualification within the meaning of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990 s 71, an advocate or solicitor in Scotland of at least ten years' standing, or a member of the Bar of Northern Ireland or solicitor of the Supreme Court of Northern Ireland of at least ten years' standing: Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 11(1) (amended by the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990 s 71(2), Sch 10 para 29). See generally LEGAL PROFESSIONS vol 65 (2008) PARA 742 et seq. See also COURTS.

3 As to the Council see PARA 868 et seq ante.

4 Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 11(2). Subject to the provisions of s 11 (as amended), the assessor may be appointed either generally or for any particular proceedings or class of proceedings, and holds and vacates office according to the terms of the instrument of appointment: s 11(4).

Any remuneration paid to the assessor by the Council is to be at such rates as the Lord Chancellor approves: s 11(5). As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

5 Ibid s 11(3). Such rules may, in particular, contain provisions for securing:

18 (1) that where an assessor advises the disciplinary committee on any question of law as to evidence, procedure or any other matters specified in the rules, he is to do so in the presence of every party, or person representing a party, to the proceedings who appears thereat or, if the advice is tendered after the disciplinary committee has begun to deliberate as to its findings, that every such party or person as aforesaid is informed what advice the assessor has tendered;

19 (2) that every such party or person as aforesaid is informed if in any case the committee does not accept the advice of the assessor on any such question as aforesaid, and such incidental and supplementary provisions, as appear to the Lord Chancellor expedient: s 11(3). The power to make rules conferred on the Lord Chancellor by s 11 is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 13. As to the rules that have been made see the Hearing Aid Council (Disciplinary Proceedings) Legal Assessor Rules 1971, SI 1971/755.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/8. DISPENSERS OF HEARING AIDS/(4) DISCIPLINE/877. Procedure of the disciplinary committee.

877. Procedure of the disciplinary committee.

The Hearing Aid Council<sup>1</sup> has the power to make rules, subject to the approval of the Lord Chancellor, which regulate the procedure to be followed and the rules of evidence to be observed in proceedings before the disciplinary committee<sup>2</sup>. In exercise of this power, the Hearing Aid Council Disciplinary Committee Rules 1991 have been made<sup>3</sup>.

Proceedings before the disciplinary committee are initiated by a notice of inquiry<sup>4</sup>. In a disciplinary case<sup>5</sup> the charge is read and put to the respondent<sup>6</sup>, the case against him is opened and oral or documentary evidence is adduced<sup>7</sup>. The respondent may submit that there is no case to answer<sup>8</sup> or may adduce evidence<sup>9</sup>, and addresses may be made to the committee<sup>10</sup>. The committee decides whether the charge is made out<sup>11</sup> and, after hearing, where appropriate, evidence of character and antecedents and any mitigation<sup>12</sup>, decides and announces what it is to do and sends notice to the respondent and other persons affected<sup>13</sup>. It may postpone judgment<sup>14</sup>.

1 As to the Council see PARA 868 et seq ante.

2 See the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 10(4), (6) (s 10(4) amended by the Hearing Aid Council (Amendment) Act 1989 ss 2(2), 3(7)(a), (b)). As to the disciplinary committee see PARA 875 ante. The power to make or approve rules conferred on the Lord Chancellor under the Hearing Aid Council Act 1968 s 10 (as amended) must be exercised by statutory instrument: s 13. If the Lord Chancellor proposes to approve rules subject to modifications he must seek and consider the Council's observations: s 10(6) proviso. As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

Before making rules, the Council must consult organisations appearing to it to be representative of the interests of dispensers of hearing aids or of persons employing such dispensers, and such organisations as appear to the Council to be representative of the interests of persons with impaired hearing: see s 10(5) (amended by the Hearing Aid Council (Amendment) Act 1989 s 3(7)(c)). For the meaning of 'dispensers of hearing aids' see PARA 871 note 1 ante. As to the meaning of 'employing such dispensers' see PARA 871 note 7 ante.

The main statutory provisions relating to pharmaceutical chemists are to be found in the Pharmacy Act 1954 and Part IV of the Medicines Act 1968<sup>1</sup> and those relating to pharmacies<sup>2</sup> in Part IV of the Medicines Act 1968. The terms 'registered pharmaceutical chemist'<sup>3</sup> in the Pharmacy Act 1954 and 'pharmacist'<sup>4</sup> in the Medicines Act 1968 both refer to a person registered<sup>5</sup> in the register<sup>6</sup> of pharmaceutical chemists maintained by the Royal Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain<sup>7</sup>. The organisation, membership and disciplinary powers of the Society are governed by the Pharmacy Act 1954.

There are special provisions as to pharmaceutical services under the national health service<sup>8</sup>.

1     I.e. the Medicines Act 1968 Pt IV (ss 69-84) (as amended). Her Majesty may by Order in Council make provision with respect to the regulation of pharmaceutical chemists: see the Health Act 1999 s 60, Sch 3; and PARA 887 post.

2     As to pharmacies see PARA 902 et seq post.

3     For the meaning of 'registered pharmaceutical chemist' see PARA 889 note 1 post.

4     For the meaning of 'pharmacist' see PARA 907 note 8 post.

5     For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 888 note 6 post.

6     For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 888 note 4 post.

7     As to the Society see PARA 881 et seq post.

8     See the National Health Service Act 1977 ss 41-43ZA (as amended); the Health and Social Care Act 2001 Pt 2 Chs 1, 2 (ss 28-44) (as amended); the National Health Service (Local Pharmaceutical Services and Pharmaceutical Services) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/888 (as amended); and HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 339 et seq. For other statutory provisions relevant to the practice of pharmacy see PARA 10 ante.

(2) THE ROYAL PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY OF GREAT BRITAIN

(i) Constitution, Members and Officers

881. Origin and objects of the Society.

The Royal Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain was incorporated by Royal Charter of 18 February 1843, subsequently confirmed by statute<sup>1</sup>. In May 1988, the Queen agreed that the title 'Royal' should be granted to the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain. The only provisions of the 1843 charter which are still in force are those which incorporate the Society, and authorise it to have a common seal and to sue and be sued. With the foregoing exceptions, the charter of 1843 and all supplemental charters have now been replaced by the supplemental charter of 7 December 2004. The objects of the Society, as defined by the supplemental charter of 2004 are: (1) to advance knowledge of, and education in, pharmacy and its application thereby fostering good science and practice; (2) to safeguard, maintain the honour, and promote the interests of pharmacists in their exercise of the profession of pharmacy; (3) to promote and protect the wellbeing of the public through the regulation and professional leadership and development of the pharmacy profession and the regulation of other persons engaged in related activities; and (4) to maintain and develop the science and practice of pharmacy in its contribution to the health and wellbeing of the public<sup>2</sup>. The Society may also provide financial assistance for certain classes of persons, including members and former members of the Society, the dependants of such persons who have died, and students of the Society<sup>3</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> These objects do not give the Society power, and it is not entitled: (1) to engage in the regulation of the hours of business of members, the wages and conditions of employment between masters and employee members of the Society, or the prices at which members may sell their goods; (2) to expend its funds in the formation of an industrial council committee for, among others, the above-named purposes; or (3) to insure its members generally against insurable risks: Jenkin v Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain [1921] 1 Ch 392. Restrictions in restraint of trade unless reasonable in relation to the objects of the Society cannot be imposed by the Society on its members: Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain v Dickson [1970] AC 403, [1968] 2 All ER 686, HL. Rules adopted by the Society in its code of ethics could constitute 'measures' within the meaning of the Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179) art 30, which prohibits quantitative restrictions on import between member states. Nevertheless, a rule adopted by the Society in its code of ethics which required that pharmacists should prescribe only those drugs specified by the prescribing doctor and not their therapeutic equivalents could be justified in the interests of public health: Joined Cases 266, 267/87: R v Royal Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain and Secretary of State for Social Services, ex p Association of Pharmaceutical Importers [1990] 1 QB 534, [1989] 2 All ER 758, ECJ.

<sup>3</sup> The council of the Society may, out of the Society's property and any property for the time being comprised in the benevolent fund established under the charter, provide for such purposes as, subject to byelaws, the council determines relating to the relief of distressed persons of the classes mentioned: see the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 17 (prospectively amended by the Civil Partnership Act 2004 s 261(1), Sch 27 para 20). At the date at which this volume states the law no day had been appointed for the amendment of this provision to come into force. As to the council see PARA 882 post.

He must cause to be prepared in the form prescribed for the time being, and to be printed, published and put on sale every year, a list, known as 'The Annual Register of Pharmaceutical Chemists', of all names which were on the register on the last day of the preceding year<sup>7</sup>.

1 'The registrar' means the registrar of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain appointed under the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 1 (see PARA 884 ante): s 24(1). As to the Society see PARA 881 et seq ante.

2 Ie the provisions of the Pharmacy Act 1954.

3 'Byelaws' means byelaws made by the council of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society: ibid s 24(1). As to byelaws see PARA 885 ante. As to the council see PARA 882 ante.

4 'The register' means the Register of Pharmaceutical Chemists established under the Pharmacy Act 1852 (repealed) and maintained under the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 2(1): ss 2(1), 24(1) (definition amended by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 1993 s 1(1), Sch 1 Pt XII).

5 'Prescribed' means prescribed by byelaws (see note 3 supra): Pharmacy Act 1954 s 24(1).

6 Ibid s 2(1)(a). 'Registered' means registered in the register; and 'to register' and 'registration' must be construed accordingly: s 24(1).

7 Ibid s 2(1)(b).

B. QUALIFICATION AND REGISTRATION OF PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS

892. Right to registration.

Subject to the power of the statutory committee of the council of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society to direct otherwise in particular circumstances<sup>1</sup>, a person is entitled to have his name registered<sup>2</sup> if he satisfies the registrar<sup>3</sup>, or on appeal the council of the Society<sup>4</sup>, that he is qualified to have his name registered as having been granted, after examination, a certificate of competence to practise<sup>5</sup>, or as satisfying the statutory provisions relating to qualification by appropriate European diploma<sup>6</sup> or as satisfying the provisions of any byelaw relating to qualification<sup>7</sup>, and if he pays the prescribed fee<sup>8</sup> to the Society in respect of the registration<sup>9</sup>.

If a person who applies to have his name registered is a national of an EEA state<sup>10</sup> exercising an enforceable Community right or holding an appropriate European diploma<sup>11</sup>, the registrar, within the specified period<sup>12</sup>, must give the applicant notice of his decision on the application and, if he is not satisfied that the applicant is qualified to have his name registered<sup>13</sup>, of the reasons for his decision and of the applicant's right to appeal to the council against the decision<sup>14</sup>. If the appeal is dismissed by the council, the applicant has a right to appeal to a county court<sup>15</sup>.

1 See PARAS 920-921 post. As to the Society see PARA 881 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 888 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 888 note 1 ante.

4 As to the council see PARA 882 ante.

5 Ie in accordance with the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 3. As to qualification by examination and the grant of such certificates see PARA 893 post.

6 Ie in accordance with ibid s 4A (as added and amended). As to qualifying by appropriate European diploma see PARA 896 post.

7 Ibid s 2(2)(a) (amended by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (EEC Recognition) Order 1987, SI 1987/2202, art 2(1), (2)). As to qualification by virtue of a byelaw see PARA 894 post. For the meaning of 'byelaws' see PARA 888 note 3 ante.

8 Different fees may be prescribed in relation to registrations in pursuance of the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 3 (see PARA 893 post), or s 4A (as added and amended) (see PARA 896 post) or byelaws under s 4 (as amended) (see PARA 894 post): s 2(2) (as amended: see note 7 supra). For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 888 note 5 ante.

9 Ibid s 2(2)(b).

10 'National', in relation to an EEA state, means the same as in the Community Treaties, but does not include a person who by virtue of the Treaty of Accession Protocol No 3 (Channel Islands and Isle of Man) art 2 is not to benefit from Community provisions relating to the free movement of persons and services: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 24(1) (definition added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). For the meaning of 'the Community Treaties' see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1; and the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2). 'EEA state' means a member state, Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland or Switzerland: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 24(1) (definition added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8; and substituted by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 13).

11 le a person of the description mentioned in the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(1A) (as added and amended): see PARA 896 note 3 post.

12 'The specified period' means: (1) the period of three months beginning with the date on which the registrar receives the application with full supporting documentation; or (2) such longer period as is permitted by the Pharmacists Recognition Directive art 12: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 2(2C) (s 2(2A)-(2C) added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8).

'The Pharmacists Recognition Directive' means EC Council Directive 85/433 (OJ L253, 24.9.85, p 37) concerning the mutual recognition of diplomas, certificates and other evidence of formal qualifications in pharmacy, including measures to facilitate the effective exercise of the right of establishment relating to certain activities in the field of pharmacy as amended by: (1) EC Council Directive 85/584 (OJ L372, 31.12.85, p 42) and EC Council Directive 90/658 (OJ L353, 17.12.90, p 73); (2) the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the accession of the Kingdom of Norway, the Republic of Austria, the Republic of Finland and the Kingdom of Sweden to the European Union signed at Corfu on 24 June 1994 (OJ C241, 29.8.94, p 21), as adjusted by the Decision of the Council of the European Union of 1 January 1995 adjusting the instruments concerning the accession of new member states to the European Union (OJ L1, 1.1.95, p 1); (3) EC Council Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 31.7.2001, p 1); (4) the Swiss Agreement; and (5) the Act annexed to the Treaty relating to the conditions of accession of the Czech Republic, the Republic of Estonia, the Republic of Cyprus, the Republic of Latvia, the Republic of Lithuania, the Republic of Hungary, the Republic of Malta, the Republic of Poland, the Republic of Slovenia and the Slovak Republic and the Adjustments to the Treaties on which the European Union is founded signed at Athens on 16 April 2003 (OJ L236, 23.9.2003, p 33): Pharmacy Act 1954 s 24(1) (definition added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8; and amended by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 13).

'The Swiss Agreement' means the Agreement between the European Community and its member states, of the one part, and the Swiss Confederation, of the other, on the free movement of persons, signed at Luxembourg on 21 June 1999: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 24(1) (definition added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8).

13 le as mentioned in the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 2(2)(a) (as amended): see the text to notes 5-7 supra.

14 Ibid s 2(2A) (as added: see note 12 supra). Failure to give the required notice within the specified period (see note 12 supra) is to be treated as a decision against which an applicant may appeal to the council: s 2(2B) (as so added).

15 A national of an EEA state who is exercising an enforceable Community right, or a person of the description mentioned in ibid s 4A(1A) (as added and amended) (see PARA 896 note 3 post), whose appeal under s 2(2) (as amended) or s 2(2B) (as added) is dismissed by the council may appeal to the relevant court: s 4B(1), (2) (s 4B added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). On an appeal, the court may dismiss the appeal, allow the appeal and quash the decision appealed against, or remit the case to the council to dispose of the case in accordance with the court's directions; and it may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4B(3) (as so added).

893. Qualification by examination.

The council of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society<sup>1</sup> must appoint examiners to hold examinations of candidates wishing to qualify as pharmaceutical chemists<sup>2</sup>. The Society must permit any person appointed for the purpose by the Privy Council to be present throughout any such examination<sup>3</sup>.

The subjects at the examinations include, inter alia, pharmaceutical chemistry and such other subjects, excluding the theory and practice of medicine, surgery and midwifery, as are prescribed<sup>4</sup>. Byelaws<sup>5</sup> may provide: (1) for periods of time and courses of study in connection with the examinations and for dividing the examinations into two or more parts<sup>6</sup>; (2) that no person may be a candidate unless he satisfies the council that he has received such a general education as the council considers adequate for a registered pharmaceutical chemist<sup>7</sup>; and (3) that no certificate of competence to practise may be granted to any person in consequence of the examination unless he satisfies the council that he has received such practical training in the subjects of the examination as the council considers adequate<sup>8</sup>.

Subject to these provisions, the examiners may grant a certificate of competence to practise as a pharmaceutical chemist to any person who satisfies them at the examination that he is competent so to practise; and a person to whom such a certificate is granted is qualified to have his name registered<sup>9</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/9. PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS AND PHARMACIES/ (3) REGISTRATION/(i) Registration of Pharmaceutical Chemists/B. QUALIFICATION AND REGISTRATION OF PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS/895. Appropriate European diplomas.

895. Appropriate European diplomas.

The following diplomas are appropriate European diplomas, namely<sup>1</sup>:

- 1018 (1) any diploma specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954<sup>2</sup>;
- 1019 (2) any other diploma in pharmacy granted in an EEA state either before the implementation date or to a person who commenced the training of which the diploma is evidence before that date<sup>3</sup>;
- 1020 (3) any other diploma in pharmacy which was awarded by or which is evidence of training started in the former Czechoslovakia, the former Soviet Union, Yugoslavia<sup>4</sup>, or the former German Democratic Republic<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1021 (4) any diploma in pharmacy granted in an EEA state which does not fall within heads (1) to (3) above<sup>6</sup>.

Where it falls to the registrar<sup>7</sup> or the council<sup>8</sup> to determine in relation to any diploma whether any of the required conditions<sup>9</sup> is satisfied, satisfaction may be determined by production of the relevant certificate<sup>10</sup>.

1 Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2) (s 4A added by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (EEC Recognition) Order 1987, SI 1987/2202, art 2(4); and the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2) amended by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1405, reg 2(3)).

2 Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). The diplomas are specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 Sch 1A (added by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (EEC Recognition) Order 1987, SI 1987/2202, art 2(1), (4), (7); substituted by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8, Sch 3; and amended by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 13) in relation to the following states: Austria, Belgium, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland.

A diploma granted in an EEA state before the implementation date or granted to a person who began the training of which the diploma is evidence before that date is not an appropriate European diploma for these purposes unless, in the case of a diploma specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 Sch 1A (as added, substituted and amended) (except one falling within s 4A(3C) (as added) (see infra)), either: (1) the diploma is evidence of training that would have satisfied the requirements laid down by the Pharmacists Training Directive; or (2) the competent authorities of any EEA state have certified that the holder of the diploma has lawfully practised pharmacy for at least three consecutive years during the five years preceding the date of the certificate: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(3)(a) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1405, reg 2(4); and the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 892 note 10 ante. 'The implementation date', in relation to an EEA state, means the date on which that state implemented the Pharmacists Training Directive: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(6) (as added: see note 1 supra); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). An EEA state is to be regarded as having implemented the Pharmacists Training Directive on the date notified to the Commission of the European Communities as that on which it did so: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(7) (as added: see note 1 supra); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). 'The Pharmacists Training Directive' means EC Council Directive 85/432 (OJ L253, 24.9.85, p 34) concerning the co-ordination of provisions laid down by law, regulation or administrative action in respect of certain activities in the field of pharmacy (as amended by EC Council Directive 2001/19 (OJ L206, 31.7.2001, p 1)); Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(6) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). 'Competent authorities', in relation to an EEA state, means any authority or body designated by that EEA state in accordance with the Pharmacists Recognition Directive: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(6) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). For the meaning of 'Pharmacists Recognition Directive' see PARA 892 note 12 ante.

A diploma specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 Sch 1A (as added, substituted and amended) in respect of Italy which is not evidence of training which satisfies the requirements of the Pharmacists Training Directive and which was awarded in respect of training which began before 1 November 1993 (but not before 1 October 1987) and finished before 1 November 2003 is not an appropriate European diploma for these purposes unless the competent authorities of Italy have certified: (a) that the holder of the diploma has been effectively and lawfully engaged in Italy in one of the activities referred to in the Pharmacists Training Directive art 1(2); (b) that he was so engaged for at least three consecutive years during the five years preceding the date of the certificate; and (c) that the activity in question was at all relevant times regulated in Italy: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(3C) (added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8).

3 Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8). A diploma granted in an EEA state before the implementation date or granted to a person who began the training of which the diploma is evidence before that date is not an appropriate European diploma for these purposes unless in the case of any diploma falling within the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(b) (as added and amended): (1) the diploma is evidence of training which would satisfy the requirements of the Pharmacists Training Directive art 2 and is treated by the competent authorities of the EEA state in which it was awarded as equivalent to a diploma specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 Sch 1A (as added, substituted and amended); or (2) the competent authorities of any EEA state have certified that the holder of the diploma has lawfully practised pharmacy for at least three consecutive years during the five years preceding the date of the certificate: s 4A(3)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra); substituted by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1405, reg 2(4); and amended by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8).

4 Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(ba) (s 4A as added: see note 1 supra); and s 4A(2)(ba) added by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 13). Training must have started before the dates specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(ba), Table (as so added). A diploma such as is mentioned in s 4A(2)(ba) (as added) is not an appropriate European diploma for these purposes unless it is accompanied by: (1) a certificate from the competent authorities of the EEA state specified in the appropriate row of s 4A(2)(ba), Table col (c) (as added) that that diploma has, on its territory, the same legal validity as regards access to and the practice of pharmacy as the diploma specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 Sch 1A (as added and amended) in respect of that EEA state; and (2) a certificate from those competent authorities stating that the holder of that diploma has effectively and lawfully been engaged in the practice of pharmacy in its territory for at least three consecutive years during the five years preceding the date of that certificate: s 4A(3ZA) (s 4A as so added; and s 4A(3ZA) added by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 13).

5 See the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(c) (s 4A as added: see note 1 supra); and s 4A(2)(c) added by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1405, reg 2(3)). A diploma such as is mentioned in the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(c) (as added) is not an appropriate European diploma for these purposes unless: (1) it entitles its holder to practise pharmacy throughout the territory of Germany on the same conditions as those applying to the holder of a diploma specified in Sch 1A para 4(1) (as added); and (2) the competent authorities in Germany have certified that the holder of the diploma has lawfully practised pharmacy in Germany for at least three consecutive years during the five years preceding the date of the certificate: s 4A(3A) (added by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1405, reg 2(5)). Note that the Pharmacy Act 1954 Sch 1A para 4(1) (as added) (see head (1) supra) no longer exists, following the substitution of Sch 1A (as added) by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8, Sch 3.

6 Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(d) (added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8; and amended by the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 13). A diploma such as is mentioned in the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(2)(d) (as added and amended) is not an appropriate European diploma for these purposes unless the competent authorities of the EEA state in which it was awarded have certified: (1) that the diploma is evidence of training which satisfies the requirements of the Pharmacists Training Directive art 2; and (2) that it is treated by the competent authorities of the EEA state in which it was awarded as equivalent to a diploma specified in respect of that state in the Pharmacy Act 1954 Sch 1A (as added, substituted and amended): s 4A(3B) (added by the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8).

7 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 888 note 1 ante.

8 As to the council see PARA 882 ante.

9 le any of the conditions specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(3), (3ZA), (3A), (3B) or (3C) (as added and amended): see notes 1-6 supra.

10 See ibid s 4A(4) (as added: see note 1 supra); and amended by the Pharmaceutical Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1405, reg 2(6); the European Qualifications (Health Care Professions) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3148, reg 8; and the European Qualifications (Health and Social Care Professions and Accession of New Member States) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1947, reg 13). The satisfaction of the condition specified in the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 4A(3)(a)(i) (as added and amended) (see note 2 head (1) supra) may be established by the production of a certificate of the competent authorities of the EEA state in relation to which the diploma is specified in Sch 1A (as added, substituted and amended), or otherwise; the satisfaction of the condition specified in s 4A(3)(b)(i) (as added, substituted and amended) (see note 3 head (1) supra), or s 4A(3A)(a) (as added) (see note 5 head (1) supra), may be established by the production of a certificate of the competent authorities of the EEA state in which the diploma was awarded, or otherwise; and the satisfaction of the condition specified in s 4A(3)(a)(ii) (as added and amended) (see note 2 head (2) supra), s 4A(3)(b)(ii) (as added, substituted and amended) (see note 3 head (2) supra), s 4A(3ZA)(a), (b) (as added) (see note 4 heads (1), (2) supra), s 4A(3A)(b) (as added) (see note 5 head (2) supra), s 4A(3B)(a), (b) (as added) (see note 6 heads (1), (2) supra), s 4A(3C)(a), (b), (c) (as added) (see note 2 heads (a)-(c) supra), must be established by the production of the relevant certificate, and not otherwise: s 4A(4) (as so added and amended).

898. Offences relating to certificates.

Any person who fraudulently exhibits any certificate purporting to be a certificate of membership<sup>1</sup> of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society is guilty of an offence<sup>2</sup>.

Any person who, with intent to deceive, either: (1) uses, or lends to or allows to be used by any other person, any certificate issued under the Pharmacy Acts<sup>3</sup>; or (2) makes or has in his possession any document so closely resembling such a certificate as to be calculated to deceive<sup>4</sup>, is liable on summary conviction, in respect of each offence, to a fine<sup>5</sup>.

If any person to whom a certificate of registration has been issued<sup>6</sup> ceases to be a registered pharmaceutical chemist<sup>7</sup>, he must, within 14 days of so ceasing, transmit the certificate to the registrar for cancellation, and, if he fails to do so, he is liable on summary conviction, in respect of each offence, to a fine<sup>8</sup>.

Proceedings in respect of these summary offences may be commenced at any time within 12 months after the date of the commission of the offence<sup>9</sup>.

1 It would appear that a certificate of membership is the same as a certificate of registration issued under the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 5 (as amended) (see PARA 897 ante), since it is provided by s 14 (see PARA 883 ante) that every person whose name is registered is, by virtue of the registration, a member of the Society. As to the Society see PARA 881 et seq ante.

 Removal from the register for not paying retention fee.

D. REMOVAL OF NAME AND CORRECTION OF THE REGISTER

899. Removal from the register for not paying retention fee.

If any registered pharmaceutical chemist<sup>1</sup> on whom a demand has been made in the prescribed<sup>2</sup> manner for the payment of any fee payable by him<sup>3</sup> for the retention of his name on the register<sup>4</sup> fails to pay the fee within two months from the date of the demand, the council of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society<sup>5</sup> may direct the registrar<sup>6</sup> to remove the chemist's name from the register<sup>7</sup>.

The name of any person so removed must be restored to the register if, within the year<sup>8</sup> in which the fee is payable or within such longer period as the council allows, that person pays the fee to the Society together with any penalty which may be prescribed<sup>9</sup>. This provision is, however, subject to any current direction of the statutory committee<sup>10</sup> that by reason of crime or misconduct<sup>11</sup> the name is not to be restored to the register, or is not to be restored until the committee otherwise directs<sup>12</sup>. The restoration of a name under these provisions when the prescribed fees and penalties are paid, if the council so directs, has effect from the date of the removal of the name from the register<sup>13</sup>.

900. Correction of the register.

It is the duty of the registrar<sup>1</sup>:

- 1022 (1) to remove from the register<sup>2</sup> the name of any registered pharmaceutical chemist who has died<sup>3</sup>;
- 1023 (2) to remove from the register any entry which the council of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society<sup>4</sup>, by an order in writing, directs him to remove as being in its opinion an entry procured by fraud<sup>5</sup>;
- 1024 (3) to correct in accordance with the council's directions any entry in the register which the council, by an order in writing, directs him to correct as being in its opinion an entry incorrectly made<sup>6</sup>;
- 1025 (4) to make from time to time any necessary alterations in the registered particulars of registered pharmaceutical chemists<sup>7</sup>;
- 1026 (5) to make such alterations in the register as are necessary to give effect to any directions of the statutory committee<sup>8</sup> which have come into force, and which require that a name is to be removed from, or is or is not to be restored to, the register<sup>9</sup>;
- 1027 (6) to make such alterations in the register as are necessary to give effect to any order of the High Court<sup>10</sup> which has been made on appeal either from a direction of the statutory committee or from its refusal of an application<sup>11</sup> for restoration of a name to the register<sup>12</sup>.

Furthermore, if the registrar sends by registered post or by the recorded delivery service to any registered pharmaceutical chemist a letter addressed to him at his address on the register enquiring whether he has ceased to practise as a pharmaceutical chemist or has changed his address and receives no reply within six months from the date of posting the letter<sup>13</sup>, and upon the expiration of that period sends in the same manner a similar letter and receives no reply within three months from the date of posting the second letter<sup>14</sup>, the registrar may remove the name of that person from the register; but the council of the Society may direct the registrar to restore to the register any name thus removed<sup>15</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 888 note 1 ante. The registrar has a further duty to enter a note on the register of any conditions or suspension orders made by the health committee in relation to registered pharmaceutical chemists whose ability to practise is seriously impaired as a result of their physical or mental conditions (see PARA 901 post): Pharmacy Act 1954 s 13H (prospectively added by the Pharmacists (Fitness to Practise) Act 1997 s 1, Schedule para 2).  Imposition of practising conditions and suspension from the register.

901. Imposition of practising conditions and suspension from the register.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect.

A committee of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society is to be appointed, to be known as the health committee<sup>1</sup>. Where an allegation<sup>2</sup> is made or referred to the council<sup>3</sup> of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society it must: (1) notify the pharmaceutical chemist of the allegation and invite him to give it his observations before the end of the permitted period<sup>4</sup>; (2) take such steps as are reasonably practicable to obtain as much information as possible about the case; and (3) consider, in the light of the information which it has been able to obtain and any observations duly made to it by the pharmaceutical chemist, whether in its opinion there is a case to answer<sup>5</sup>. Where the council concludes that there is a case to answer, it must notify the pharmaceutical chemist of its conclusion, and refer the allegation, as formulated by it, to the health committee<sup>6</sup>. Where the council concludes that there is no case to answer, it must notify the pharmaceutical chemist of its conclusion<sup>7</sup>. The council may make regulations with respect to the procedure to be followed on an investigation under the provisions described above<sup>8</sup>.

The health committee must consider an allegation against a pharmaceutical chemist referred to it and if, having considered the allegation, the committee is satisfied that it is well founded, it must: (a) make an order imposing conditions with which the pharmaceutical chemist must comply while practising as a pharmaceutical chemist (a 'conditions of practice order'); or (b) make an order directing the registrar<sup>9</sup> to suspend the pharmaceutical chemist's registration for the period specified in the order (a 'suspension order')<sup>10</sup>.

The health committee may review a conditions of practice order or a suspension order made with respect to a pharmaceutical chemist at any time while the order has effect<sup>11</sup>. On a review, the committee may confirm, revoke or vary the order or replace the order with a suspension order or conditions of practice order as appropriate, or may vary the period or conditions of the order<sup>12</sup>.

In exercising any power to make, confirm, vary or revoke a conditions of practice order or a suspension order, the health committee must ensure that any conditions imposed on the pharmaceutical chemist are, or any period of suspension imposed on him is, the minimum which it considers necessary for the protection of members of the public<sup>13</sup>. Where the health committee makes a suspension order with respect to a pharmaceutical chemist, it may make an order directing the registrar to suspend the pharmaceutical chemist's registration with immediate effect (an 'interim suspension order')<sup>14</sup>. The council must make regulations as to the procedure to be followed on the consideration of an allegation against a pharmaceutical chemist<sup>15</sup> and on a review<sup>16</sup> of an order made with respect to a pharmaceutical chemist<sup>17</sup>.

Where a conditions of practice order is made, the registrar must enter in the register a note of the conditions imposed, and the period for which each condition is to have effect<sup>18</sup>. Where a suspension order is made, the registrar must enter in the register a note of the suspension, and the period of the suspension<sup>19</sup>. Where a conditions of practice order or a suspension order is revoked or varied on a review<sup>20</sup> or an appeal<sup>21</sup>, the registrar must delete, or make the necessary alterations to, any note entered in the register<sup>22</sup>. Where an interim suspension order is made, the registrar must enter in the register a note of the suspension<sup>23</sup>. A pharmaceutical chemist who is subject to a suspension order or an interim suspension order will be treated as if his name was not registered for certain purposes<sup>24</sup>.

A pharmaceutical chemist with respect to whom an appealable decision<sup>25</sup> is made by the health committee may appeal against the decision<sup>26</sup>.

1 Pharmacy Act 1954 s 13A(1) (ss 13A-13M, Schs 1B, 1C prospectively added by the Pharmacists (Fitness to Practise) Act 1997 s 1, Schedule paras 2, 4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed for the commencement of these provisions. As to the constitution and procedure of the health committee, the term of office, resignation and expenses of its members, and the appointment of legal assessors, see the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 13A(2), Sch 1B (as so added). As to the Society see PARA 881 et seq ante.

2 Ie an allegation to the effect that the ability of a registered pharmaceutical chemist to practise as a pharmaceutical chemist is seriously impaired because of his physical or mental condition: ibid s 13B(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). For the meaning of 'registered pharmaceutical chemist' see PARA 889 note 1 ante.

3 As to the council see PARA 882 ante.

4 'The permitted period' means the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which notice of the allegation is sent to the pharmaceutical chemist, or where the council considers that, were the allegation to be well founded, it would be necessary for members of the public to be protected without delay, such shorter period as may be specified by the council in regulations: Pharmacy Act 1954 s 13B(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

5 Ibid s 13B(2) (as added: see note 1 supra).

6 Ibid s 13B(4) (as added: see note 1 supra).

7 Ibid s 13B(5) (as added: see note 1 supra).

8 Ibid s 13B(6) (as added: see note 1 supra). No regulations made under s 13B (as added), s 13G (as added) or s 13K (as added) are to come into operation until they are approved by the Privy Council by order made by statutory instrument; and any such statutory instrument is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 13M (as added: see note 1 supra). As to the exercise of the powers of the Privy Council see PARA 886 ante. As to the Privy Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 521-526.

9 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 888 note 1 ante.

10 Pharmacy Act 1954 s 13C(1), (2) (as added: see note 1 supra). Any condition in a conditions of practice order has effect for the period specified in the order: s 13C(3) (as so added). The period specified in a conditions of practice order or a suspension order must not exceed three years: s 13C(4) (as so added). An order under s 13C (as added) has effect: (1) if there is no appeal against it under s 13J (as added) (see the text and notes 25-26 infra), when the period for making such an appeal expires; or (2) if there is an appeal against it under s 13J (as added), when the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of: s 13C(5) (as so added).

11 Ibid s 13D(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). The committee must review an order on the written application of the pharmaceutical chemist: s 13D(2) (as so added). The committee is not required to consider an application under s 13D(2) (as added) for a review of an order if: (1) the pharmaceutical chemist has made an earlier application under s 13D(2) (as added) for a review of the order; (2) the earlier application was made within the period of 12 months ending with the date on which the committee received the application; and (3) the order was not varied on the earlier review: s 13D(3) (as so added). On a review under s 13D(2) (as added), the committee may confirm, vary or revoke the order but may only vary the order by reducing the period specified or removing or altering any of the conditions: s 13D(7), (8) (as so added).

12 Ibid s 13D(4), (5), (6) (as added: see note 1 supra). The period specified in the order may not be extended by more than three years: s 13D(6) (as so added). If an order is revoked on a review without being replaced by another order, the revocation has immediate effect: s 13D(9) (as so added). Any other decision on a review under s 13D (as added) has effect: (1) if there is no appeal against it under s 13J (as added) (see the text and notes 25-26 infra), when the period for making such an appeal expires; or (2) if there is an appeal against it under s 13J (as added), when the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of: s 13D(10) (as so added).

13 Ibid s 13E (as added: see note 1 supra).

14 Ibid s 13F(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). The committee may only make an interim suspension order if it is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to protect members of the public: s 13F(2) (as so added). If there is no appeal against the suspension order under s 13J (as added) (see the text and notes 25-26 infra), an interim suspension order ceases to have effect when the period for making such an appeal expires: s 13F(3) (as so added). If there is an appeal against the suspension order under s 13J (as added), an interim suspension order ceases to have effect: (1) when the appeal is withdrawn or otherwise disposed of; or (2) if sooner, at the end of the period of 12 weeks beginning with the day on which the interim suspension order is made: s 13F(4) (as so added).

15 le under ibid s 13C (as added): see the text and note 10 supra.

16 le under ibid s 13D (as added): see the text and notes 11-12 supra.

17 Ibid s 13G(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). The regulations, in particular, must include provision: (1) requiring the pharmaceutical chemist to be given notice of the allegation or review; (2) giving the pharmaceutical chemist an opportunity to put his case at a hearing; (3) entitling the pharmaceutical chemist to be legally represented at any hearing in respect of the allegation or review; (4) enabling such a hearing to be held in the absence of the pharmaceutical chemist if the requirements of regulations made by virtue of heads (1)-(3) supra have been met; (5) securing that such a hearing is held in private unless the pharmaceutical chemist requires the hearing or any part of it to be held in public, or the health committee considers that it is appropriate to hold the hearing or any part of it in public; (6) requiring the pharmaceutical chemist to be notified by the committee of its decision, its reasons for reaching that decision and of his right of appeal; (7) giving the committee power to require persons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents; (7) about the admissibility of evidence; and (8) enabling the committee to administer oaths: s 13G(2) (as so added). No person may be required by any regulations made under s 13G (as added) to give any evidence or produce any document or other material at a hearing in respect of the allegation or review which he could not be compelled to give or produce in civil proceedings in any court in the part of Great Britain in which the hearing takes place: s 13G(3) (as so added). As to the approval of regulations see note 8 supra. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 1 note 3 ante. As to evidence see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 749 et seq.

18 Ibid s 13H(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). See also PARA 900 ante.

19 Ibid s 13H(2) (as added: see note 1 supra).

20 le under ibid s 13D (as added): see the text and notes 11-12 supra.

21 le under ibid s 13J (as added): see the text and notes 25-26 infra.

22 Ibid s 13H(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

23 Ibid s 13H(4) (as added: see note 1 supra). When an interim suspension order ceases to have effect, the registrar must delete the note entered in the register under s 13H(4) (as added): s 13H(5) (as so added).

24 Ibid s 13I(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). The pharmaceutical chemist will be treated as if his name is not registered for the purposes of: (1) ss 2, 5, 14, Sch 1B para 2(3), Sch 1C para 3(2) (ss 2, 5 as amended; Schs 1B, 1C prospectively added) (see notes 1 supra, 26 infra, and PARAS 888 et seq, 897 ante); (2) the Medicines Act 1968 ss 10, 23, 33, 52 (ss 10, 23 as amended) (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS); (3) the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971 s 7 (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 259); and (4) the Poisons Act 1972 (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS): Pharmacy Act 1954 s 13I(1) (as so added). For the purposes of s 13I (as added), a pharmaceutical chemist is subject to an order during the period for which the order has effect: s 13I(2) (as so added).

25 'Appealable decision' means: (1) a conditions of practice order; (2) a suspension order; (3) variation of an order on a review under ibid s 13D (as added) (see the text and notes 11-12 supra); or (4) replacement of an order with another order on such a review: s 13J(2) (as added: see note 1 supra).

26 Ibid s 13J(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). An appeal may not be made after the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which notification of the decision is sent to the pharmaceutical chemist: s 13J(3) (as so added). An appeal under s 13J (as added) lies to an appeal tribunal established for the purpose of the appeal by the Privy Council: s 13J(4) (as so added). As to the constitution of the appeal tribunals, the panel of eligible members, term of office and registration of members, the appointment of clerks and expenses see s 13J(5), Sch 1C (as so added). As to the procedure on appeals see s 13K (as so added). Where an appeal is made under s 13J (as added) to an appeal tribunal, the tribunal may: (1) confirm a conditions of practice order or suspension order; (2) revoke such an order; (3) vary such an order; (4) replace a conditions of practice order with a suspension order; (5) replace a suspension order with a conditions of practice order; or (6) make a conditions of practice order with which the pharmaceutical chemist must comply if he resumes practice as a pharmaceutical chemist after the end of his period of suspension: s 13L(1), (2) (as so added). An order may be varied by: (a) extending or reducing the period specified in the order; or (b) in the case of a conditions of practice order, imposing additional conditions or removing or altering any of the existing conditions, but the period specified in the order may not be extended by more than three years: s 13L(3) (as so added). Section 13E (as added) (see the text to note 13 supra) applies to an appeal tribunal as it applies to the health committee: s 13L(4) (as so added). The appeal tribunal may award costs or expenses: s 13L(5) (as so added). Any decision of the appeal tribunal may be made by a majority of its members: s 13L(6) (as so added). A decision of the tribunal on an appeal has effect when notification of it is sent to the pharmaceutical chemist: s 13L(7) (as so added).

902. The register.

It is the duty of the registrar<sup>1</sup> to keep a register<sup>2</sup> in which, subject to the registration provisions<sup>3</sup> and on payment of the prescribed<sup>4</sup> fee<sup>5</sup>, he must make entry of any premises in respect of which an application for registration is made<sup>6</sup>. He must not, however, enter any premises in the register unless it is shown to his reasonable satisfaction either: (1) that at the time of the application the applicant is a person lawfully conducting a retail pharmacy business<sup>7</sup>; or (2) that, if the premises are so entered and the applicant begins to carry on such a business there, then as from the time when he begins to do so he will be a person lawfully carrying on such a business<sup>8</sup>.

A document purporting to be a certificate signed by the registrar and stating that on a specified date specified premises were, or were not, entered in the register is admissible in any proceedings as evidence of that fact<sup>9</sup>.

1 'The registrar' in relation to Great Britain means the person appointed under the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 1 as registrar for the purposes of that Act (see PARA 884 ante), and in relation to Northern Ireland means the person appointed as registrar under the Pharmacy (Northern Ireland) Order 1976, SI 1976/1213, art 9(1); Medicines Act 1968 s 69(3) (amended by the Pharmacy (Northern Ireland) Order 1976, SI 1976/1213, art 26(b), Sch 5 para 4). ## 902 The register

NOTE 1--Definition of 'registrar' amended: SI 2007/289.

NOTE 4--1968 Act s 76(6) repealed: SI 2006/2407.

NOTE 5--SI 1973/1822 reg 3(1) further amended: SI 2009/3071.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/9.
 PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS AND PHARMACIES/ (3) REGISTRATION/ (ii) Registration of Premises/903. Meanings of 'retail pharmacy business' and 'retail sale'.

903. Meanings of 'retail pharmacy business' and 'retail sale'.

'Retail pharmacy business' means a business<sup>1</sup> (not being a professional practice carried on by a practitioner<sup>2</sup>) which consists of or includes the retail sale of medicinal products<sup>3</sup> other than medicinal products on a general sale list<sup>4</sup> (whether medicinal products on such a list are sold in the course of that business or not)<sup>5</sup>.

References to selling by retail or to retail sale are references to selling a substance<sup>6</sup> or article to a person as being a person who buys it otherwise than for the following purposes<sup>7</sup>, namely, the purposes of selling it or supplying it<sup>8</sup>, or administering<sup>9</sup> it or causing it to be administered to one or more human beings<sup>10</sup>, in the course of a business carried on by that person<sup>11</sup>.

1 For the purposes of the Medicines Act 1968 generally, although not in this particular context, 'business' includes a professional practice, and includes any activity carried on by a body of persons, whether corporate or unincorporate: s 132(1). The ministers may by order direct that specified provisions of that Act, in so far as they relate to things done by a person in the course of a business carried on by him, are to have effect, subject to exceptions and modifications specified in the order, as if in those provisions any reference to a business included a reference to an activity (other than a business) of a description so specified: s 106(1). Without prejudice to this, they may also direct that specified provisions of the Act, in so far as they relate to such things, are to have effect, subject to specified exceptions and modifications, as if, in specified circumstances, a business carried on by a person's employer were a business carried on by that person: s 106(2). At the date at which this volume states the law, no orders had been made under s 106.

'The ministers' means the Minister of Health and Social Services for Northern Ireland, the Minister of Agriculture for Northern Ireland, and the Secretary of State (see PARA 5 ante), and, in the case of anything falling to be done by the ministers, means all those ministers acting jointly: s 1(1) (amended by the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food (Dissolution) Order 2002, SI 2002/794, art 5, Sch 1 para 15, Sch 2).

2 'Practitioner' means a doctor, dentist, veterinary surgeon or veterinary practitioner: Medicines Act 1968 s 132(1). 'Doctor' means a registered medical practitioner within the meaning of the Interpretation Act 1978 Sch 1 (see PARA 4 ante); Medicines Act 1968 s 132(1) (definition substituted by the Medical Act 1983 s 56(1), Sch 5 para 5). See also PARA 3 ante. 'Dentist' means a person registered in the dentists register under the Dentists Act 1984 (see PARA 417 ante) or entered in the list of visiting EEA practitioners under Sch 4 (see PARA 431 ante); Medicines Act 1968 s 132(1) (definition amended by the Dentists Act 1984 s 54(1), Sch 5 para 2; and the Dental Qualifications (Recognition) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1496, reg 7(a)). 'Veterinary surgeon' means a person registered in the register of veterinary surgeons (see ANIMALS vol 2 (2008) PARA 1133); and 'veterinary practitioner' means a person registered in the supplementary veterinary register (see ANIMALS vol 2 (2008) PARA 1134); Medicines Act 1968 s 132(1).

3 For the meaning of 'medicinal product' see ibid s 130 (amended by the Animal Health and Welfare Act 1984 ss 13(2), 16, Sch 1 para 3, Sch 2; the Medical Devices (Consequential Amendments--Medicines) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/3119, reg 2(a), (b); the Blood Safety and Quality Regulations 2005, SI 2005/50, reg 25(1)(c), (d)); and MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 7.

4 Any reference to a medicinal product on a general sale list is a reference to a medicinal product of a description, or falling within a class, specified in an order under the Medicines Act 1968 s 51 (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 133), which is for the time being in force: s 51(2).

5 Ibid s 132(1).

6 'Substance' means any natural or artificial substance, whether in solid or liquid form or in the form of a gas or vapour: ibid s 132(1).

7 Ibid s 131(3).

8 Ibid s 131(2)(a).

9 'Administer' means administer to a human being or (but not in this context) an animal, whether orally, by injection or by introduction into the body in any other way, or by external application, whether by direct contact with the body or not; and any reference to administering or feeding a substance or article is a reference to administering or feeding it either in its existing state or after it has been dissolved or dispersed in, or diluted or mixed with, some other substance used as a vehicle: ibid s 130(9) (amended by the Animal Health and Welfare Act 1984 Sch 1 para 3).

10 Medicines Act 1968 s 131(2)(b).

11 Ibid s 131(2).

903 Meanings of 'retail pharmacy business' and 'retail sale'

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

NOTE 1--'The ministers' means the Secretary of State and the Minister of Health and Social Services for Northern Ireland, and, in the case of anything falling to be done by the ministers, means those ministers acting jointly: 1968 Act s 1(1) (amended by SI 2006/2407).

NOTE 9--Definition of 'administer' amended: SI 2006/2407.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/9.
PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS AND PHARMACIES/ (3) REGISTRATION/ (ii) Registration of Premises/904. Application for registration of premises.

904. Application for registration of premises.

An application for the registration of premises must be made in writing<sup>1</sup>, signed by or on behalf of the person carrying on or intending to carry on a retail pharmacy business in the premises<sup>2</sup> and containing specified particulars<sup>3</sup>, and must be given or sent to the registrar<sup>4</sup>.

On the making of any application, the registrar must notify the appropriate minister<sup>5</sup> and must not enter the premises in the register before the end of the period of two months from the date on which the application was made unless that minister consents<sup>6</sup>. If it appears to that minister that in a material respect the premises do not comply with the requirements of regulations<sup>7</sup> for the time being in force and accordingly he proposes to certify that the premises are unsuitable for registration, he must before the end of the period of two months from the date of the application serve<sup>8</sup> notice on the applicant, stating his proposals and reasons, and a copy of the notice on the registrar, who must not enter the premises in the register<sup>9</sup> except where he is required<sup>10</sup> to do so<sup>11</sup>. Before the appropriate minister decides whether to issue a certificate, the applicant has the right to be heard or make written representations if he gives notice to the appropriate minister within the time allowed<sup>12</sup> after the service of the minister's notice on him<sup>13</sup>.

Where the appropriate minister has served notice, and determines not to issue a certificate certifying that the premises are unsuitable for registration, he must notify the applicant and the registrar of his decision and the registrar must forthwith enter the premises in the register<sup>14</sup>. Where the minister has served notice and issues a certificate, he must transmit the certificate to the registrar and notify the applicant, and, if required by the applicant, inform him of the reasons for his decision<sup>15</sup>. The validity of any decision of the minister or anything done in pursuance of such a decision may not be questioned in any legal proceedings, except in certain circumstances<sup>16</sup>.

2 Ibid reg 2(2). For the meaning of 'retail pharmacy business' see PARA 903 ante.

3 Ibid reg 2(3). These include the name and private residential address of the applicant or, in the case of a partnership application, of the partners; any business name; the name of the pharmacist or pharmacists under whose personal control the business is to be carried on; the address of the premises; particulars of former owners of the business, if any; the date of commencement of business; and a brief description with a plan of the premises showing the areas where medicinal products are to be sold, supplied, prepared, dispensed or stored: see Schedule.

4 Medicines Act 1968 s 75(2); Medicines (Pharmacies) (Applications for Registration and Fees) Regulations 1973, SI 1973/1822, reg 2(1). A separate application must be made in respect of each of the premises to be registered: reg 2(4). For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 902 note 1 ante.

5 'The appropriate minister', in relation to premises in England or Wales, means the Secretary of State: Medicines Act 1968 s 75(8)(a) (amended by virtue of the Secretary of State for Social Services Order 1968, SI 1968/1699, arts 2, 5(4)(a)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 5 ante.

6 Medicines Act 1968 s 75(3).

7 I.e regulations made under ibid s 66: see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 6.

8 Any notice or other document required or authorised by any provision of Medicines Act 1968 to be served on any person, or to be given or sent to any person, may be served, given or sent: (1) by delivering it to him (s 127(a)); or (2) by sending it by post to him at his usual or last known residence or place of business in the United Kingdom (s 127(b)); or (3) in the case of a body corporate, by delivering it to the secretary or clerk of the body corporate at its registered or principal office or sending it by post to the secretary or clerk of that body corporate at that office (s 127(c)). As to references to service by post see PARA 20 note 22 ante. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante. As to the registered office of a company see COMPANIES vol 14 (2009) PARA 129.

9 For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 902 note 2 ante.

10 In accordance with the Medicines Act 1968 s 75(6): see the text to notes 14-15 infra.

11 Ibid s 75(4).

12 'The time allowed' means the period of 28 days or such extended period as the appropriate minister allows: ibid s 75(8).

13 Ibid s 75(5). The hearing will be before a person appointed by the minister: s 75(5)(a). The procedure to be followed in connection with hearings by such persons is set out in the Medicines Act 1968 (Hearings by Persons Appointed) Rules 1986, SI 1986/1761. The minister must consider any written representations made: Medicines Act 1968 s 75(5)(b).

14 Ibid s 75(6)(a). This is subject to s 75(7) (see PARA 902 ante): s 75(6)(a).

15 Ibid s 75(6)(b).

16 Ibid s 107(1). If the applicant desires to question the validity of the decision on specified grounds he may, within three months of the service on him of notice of the decision, apply to the High Court: s 107(2). The grounds are: (1) that the decision is not within the powers of the Medicines Act 1968 (s 107(2)(a)); or (2) that any of the applicable requirements of the Act or of regulations made under it have not been complied with (s 107(2)(b)). On any application the High Court may: (a) by interim order suspend the operation of the decision to which the application relates until the final determination of the proceedings (s 107(3)(a)); (b) if satisfied that the decision is not within the powers of the Act, or that the interests of the person making the application have been substantially prejudiced by a failure to comply with any of the requirements mentioned in s 107(2)(b), quash the decision (s 107(3)(b)). Where a decision to grant a licence or certificate is quashed, any licence or certificate granted in pursuance of that decision is void, and any proceedings on the application for the grant of the licence or certificate may be continued as if no such decision had been made: s 107(4). As to the High Court of Justice in England and Wales see COURTS vol 10 (Reissue) PARA 602 et seq.

905. Retention fees.

Where premises have been entered in the register<sup>1</sup>, a further fee, called a 'retention fee'<sup>2</sup>, of the prescribed<sup>3</sup> amount is payable by the person carrying on a retail pharmacy business<sup>4</sup> at those premises in respect of each year<sup>5</sup> subsequent to that in which the premises were so entered<sup>6</sup>. If, on demand being made to him<sup>7</sup>, that person fails within two months to pay a retention fee, the council of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society may direct the registrar to remove the premises from the register<sup>8</sup>. However, if before the end of the year covered by the retention fee, or such longer period as the council allows, that person pays the fee, with any prescribed penalty<sup>9</sup>, the registrar must restore the premises to the register<sup>10</sup>, and, if the council so directs, the restoration is deemed to have had effect as from the date of removal<sup>11</sup>.

907. Annual return of premises.

Every person who carries on a retail pharmacy business<sup>1</sup> must, each January, send to the registrar<sup>2</sup> a list of all premises at which his business, so far as it consists of the retail sale<sup>3</sup> of medicinal products<sup>4</sup>, is carried on<sup>5</sup>, and, in the case of any premises where medicinal products, other than medicinal products on a general sale list<sup>6</sup>, are sold by retail, or are supplied in circumstances corresponding to retail sale<sup>7</sup>, the name of the pharmacist<sup>8</sup> under whose personal control the business, so far as concerns the retail sale or supply of medicinal products at those premises, is carried on<sup>9</sup>. Any person who contravenes this provision is guilty of an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>10</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'retail pharmacy business' see PARA 903 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 902 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'retail sale' see PARA 903 ante.

5 Medicines Act 1968 s 77(a).

6 As to references to medicinal products on a general sale list see PARA 903 note 4 ante.

7 Any reference to supplying anything in circumstances corresponding to retail sale is a reference to supplying it, otherwise than by way of sale, to a person as being a person who receives it for a purpose other than that of: (1) selling it or supplying it; or (2) administering it (see PARA 903 note 9 ante) or causing it to be administered to one or more human beings in the course of a business carried on by that person: Medicines Act 1968 s 131(4). For the meaning of 'business' see PARA 903 note 1 ante.

8 For the purposes of the Medicines Act 1968, 'pharmacist', in relation to Great Britain, means a person registered in the register of pharmaceutical chemists established under the Pharmacy Act 1852 (repealed) and maintained under the Pharmacy Act 1954 s 2(1) (see PARA 888 ante); Medicines Act 1968 s 132(1). It thus has the same meaning as 'registered pharmaceutical chemist' in the Pharmacy Act 1954 (see PARA 889 note 1 ante). For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

9 Medicines Act 1968 s 77(b).

10 Ibid s 84(1) (amended by virtue of the Criminal Justice Act 1982 ss 38, 46). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: see the Medicines Act 1968 s 84(1) (as so amended). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante. As to enforcement see PARA 916 post.

(4) LAWFUL CONDUCT OF BUSINESS; USE OF TITLES

909. Lawful conduct of business.

Subject to any exceptions or modifications made by order<sup>1</sup>, a person carrying on a retail pharmacy business<sup>2</sup> is taken to be a person lawfully conducting such a business if, not being disqualified<sup>3</sup> for doing so: (1) he (or, if the business is carried on by a partnership, each of the partners) is a pharmacist<sup>4</sup> and certain conditions<sup>5</sup> are fulfilled in relation to the business<sup>6</sup>; (2) that person is a body corporate and certain other conditions<sup>7</sup> are so fulfilled<sup>8</sup>; or (3) he is a representative<sup>9</sup> of a pharmacist and certain other conditions<sup>10</sup> are fulfilled in relation to him and to the business and a specified period<sup>11</sup> has not expired<sup>12</sup>.

The health ministers<sup>13</sup> by order<sup>14</sup> may add to, revoke or vary any of the appropriate statutory provisions<sup>15</sup> so as either: (a) to modify, or provide new conditions in substitution for, the conditions referred to in heads (1) to (3) above<sup>16</sup>; or (b) for the purposes of any of those heads, to provide alternative conditions, compliance with which is to have the like effect as compliance with the conditions referred to in that head<sup>17</sup>. Any provision made by such an order may be made either generally or in relation to any particular circumstances specified in it<sup>18</sup>.

1 See the Medicines Act 1968 s 73(3); and note 16 infra.

12 Ibid s 69(1)(c). As from a day to be appointed, a person carrying on a retail pharmacy business is not to be taken to be a person lawfully conducting such a business if: (1) in any case, the business is under the personal control of a pharmacist who is subject to a suspension order or an interim suspension order; or (2) in the case of a body corporate, the business is under the management of a superintendent who is subject to such an order: s 69(1A) (s 69(1A), (1B) prospectively added by the Pharmacists (Fitness to Practise) Act 1997 s 1, Schedule para 5). For the purposes of the Medicines Act 1968 s 69(1A) (as added), a person is subject to an order during the period for which the order has effect; and 'suspension order' and 'interim suspension order' have the same meanings as in the Pharmacy Act 1954 (see PARA 901 ante): Medicines Act 1968 s 69(1B) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law no day had been appointed for the commencement of these provisions.

13 For the meaning of 'the health ministers' see PARA 902 note 4 ante.

14 No such order may be made unless a draft has been laid before Parliament and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: Medicines Act 1968 s 73(5).

910 Business carried on by individual pharmacist

TEXT AND NOTES--As from 1 October 2009, Medicines Act 1968 s 70 substituted by Health Act 2006 s 27(1); SI 2008/2714.

The conditions referred to in the 1968 Act s 69(1)(a) are that s 70(2) and (3) are both satisfied as respects each of the premises where the retail pharmacy business is carried on and medicinal products, other than medicinal products on a general sale list, are sold by retail: s 70(1). The 1968 Act s 70(2) is satisfied if a responsible pharmacist who satisfies the requirements of s 70(4) and (5) is in charge of the business at those premises, so far as concerns (1) the retail sale at those premises of medicinal products (whether they are on a general sale list or not), and (2) the supply at those premises of such products in circumstances corresponding to retail sale: s 70(2). Section 70(3) is satisfied if a notice is conspicuously displayed at those premises stating (a) the name of the responsible pharmacist for the time being, (b) the number of his registration under the Pharmacists and Pharmacy Technicians Order 2007, SI 2007/289, and (c) the fact that he is for the time being in charge of the business at those premises: 1968 Act s 70(3) (amended by SI 2007/289). The responsible pharmacist must be (i) the person carrying on the business, or (ii) if the business is carried on by a partnership, one of the partners, or (iii) another pharmacist: 1968 Act s 70(4)). In relation to premises in Great Britain that have been registered pharmacies for less than three years, the responsible pharmacist may not be a person who is a pharmacist by virtue of SI 2007/289: 1968 Act s 70(5) (amended by SI 2007/289). As to the responsible pharmacist see PARA 910A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/9. PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS AND PHARMACIES/(4) LAWFUL CONDUCT OF BUSINESS; USE OF TITLES/910A. The responsible pharmacist.

910A. The responsible pharmacist.

The following provisions come into force on 1 October 2009: SI 2008/2714.

It is the duty of the responsible pharmacist<sup>1</sup> to secure the safe and effective running of the pharmacy business at the premises in question so far as concerns (1) the retail sale at those premises of medicinal products (whether they are on a general sale list or not), and (2) the supply at those premises of such products in circumstances corresponding to retail sale<sup>2</sup>. A person may not be the responsible pharmacist in respect of more than one set of premises at the same time, except in circumstances specified by the health ministers in regulations, and then only if such conditions as may be so specified are complied with<sup>3</sup>. The responsible pharmacist must establish (if they are not already established), maintain and keep under review procedures designed to secure the safe and effective running of the business as mentioned above<sup>4</sup>. The responsible pharmacist must make a record (which must be available at the premises) of (a) who the responsible pharmacist is in relation to the premises on any day and at any time, and (b) such other matters as the health ministers specify in regulations<sup>5</sup>. It is the duty of the person carrying on the business to secure that (i) the record is properly maintained, and (ii) it is preserved for at least as long as is specified in regulations made by the health ministers<sup>6</sup>. The health ministers may make further provision in regulations in relation to the responsible pharmacist<sup>7</sup>.

Supplementary provision is made<sup>8</sup>.

1     Ie the responsible pharmacist mentioned in the Medicines Act 1968 ss 70, 71 and 72 (see PARA 910, PARAS 912, 913).

2     Ibid s 72A(1) (added by Health Act 2006 s 30(1)).

3     1968 Act s 72A(2) .

4     Ie as mentioned in ibid s 72A(1): s 72A(3).

5     Ibid s 72A(4). See further NOTE 6. See the Medicines (Pharmacies) (Responsible Pharmacist) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/2789, which provide (1) that the maximum period for which the responsible pharmacist may be absent from the premises is two hours during the pharmacy's business hours (see reg 3); 'premises' means the premises from which the pharmacy business is carried on; 'pharmacy business' means the business in respect of which the responsible pharmacist has a duty under the Medicines Act 1968 s 72A(1) (SI 2008/2789 reg 2); (2) the matters which must be covered by pharmacy procedures (see reg 4); 'pharmacy procedures' means the procedures referred to in the Medicines Act 1968 s 72A(3) (SI 2008/2789 reg 4(5)); and (3) the particulars which must be included in the pharmacy record (see reg 5); 'pharmacy record' means the record referred to in the Medicines Act 1968 s 72A(4) (SI 2008/2789 reg 5(5)).

6     1968 Act s 72A(5).

A person who fails to comply with either of the following will be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale (1) s 72A(4), (2) s 72A(5): s 84(A1) (added by Health Act 2006 s 30(3)). As to the standard scale see PARA 185.

7     1968 Act s 72A(6). The regulations may, in particular, make further provision about the matters mentioned in s 72A(1)-(4), and make provision about (1) the qualifications and experience which a person must have if he is to be a responsible pharmacist, (2) the responsible pharmacist's absence from the premises, (3) the supervision by the responsible pharmacist, when he is not present on the premises, of relevant activities there, (4) circumstances in which the responsible pharmacist may supervise relevant activities at a pharmacy of which he is not the responsible pharmacist, (5) the form in which the procedures referred to in s 72A(3) are to be recorded and matters which must be covered by them, (6) the form in which the record referred to in s 72A(4) is to be kept and particulars which must be included in it: s 72A(7). In heads (3) and (4), 'relevant activities' means things mentioned in s 10 and transactions mentioned in s 52(1)(c): s 72A(8).

8 See ibid s 72B (added by Health Act 2006 s 30(1); and amended by SI 2007/289). See also 1968 Act s 108(6A)-(6D) (enforcement); and PARA 916.

912 Business carried on by body corporate

TEXT AND NOTES--As from 1 October 2009 (see SI 2008/2714) 1968 Act s 71 substituted.

The conditions referred to in the Medicines Act 1968 s 69(1)(b) are (1) that the retail pharmacy business, so far as concerns the keeping, preparing and dispensing of medicinal products other than medicinal products on a general sale list, is under the management of a superintendent in respect of whom the requirements specified in s 71(6) are fulfilled, and (2) that s 71(2) and (3) are both satisfied as respects each of the premises where the business is carried on and medicinal products, other than medicinal products on a general sale list, are sold by retail: s 71(1) (substituted by Health Act 2006 s 28(1)). The Medicines Act 1968 s 71(2) is satisfied if a responsible pharmacist who satisfies the requirements of s 71(4) and (5) is in charge of the business at the premises mentioned in head (2), so far as concerns (a) the retail sale at those premises of medicinal products (whether they are on a general sale list or not), and (b) the supply at those premises of such products in circumstances corresponding to retail sale: s 71(2) (as substituted). Section 71(3) is satisfied if a notice is conspicuously displayed at those premises stating (i) the name of the responsible pharmacist for the time being, (ii) the number of his registration under the Pharmacists and Pharmacy Technicians Order 2007, SI 2007/289, and (iii) the fact that he is for the time being in charge of the business at those premises: 1968 Act s 71(3) (as substituted; and amended by SI 2007/289). The responsible pharmacist must be (A) the superintendent mentioned in head (1), or (B) a manager or assistant subject to the directions of the superintendent and who is a pharmacist: 1968 Act s 71(4) (as substituted). In relation to premises in Great Britain that have been registered pharmacies for less than three years, the responsible pharmacist may not be a person who is a pharmacist by virtue of SI 2007/289: 1968 Act s 71(5) (as substituted; and amended by SI 2007/289). The requirements referred to in head (1) in relation to a superintendent are that (aa) he is a pharmacist, (bb) a statement in writing signed by him, and signed on behalf of the body corporate, specifying his name and stating whether he is a member of the board of that body or not, has been sent to the registrar, and (cc) he does not act in a similar capacity for any other body corporate: s 71(6) (as substituted). As to the responsible pharmacist see PARA 910A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/9. PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS AND PHARMACIES/(4) LAWFUL CONDUCT OF BUSINESS; USE OF TITLES/913. Business carried on by pharmacist's representative.

913. Business carried on by pharmacist's representative.

Special provisions apply where a representative<sup>1</sup> of a pharmacist<sup>2</sup> who carries on a retail pharmacy business<sup>3</sup> carries on the pharmacist's business after: (1) the pharmacist dies<sup>4</sup>; (2) the pharmacist is adjudged bankrupt or enters into a composition or scheme or deed of arrangement with his creditors<sup>5</sup>; or (3) a receiver is appointed<sup>6</sup> for the pharmacist under the mental health legislation<sup>7</sup>.

In these circumstances, the conditions to be fulfilled<sup>8</sup> in order that the representative may lawfully conduct the business are that: (a) the names and addresses of the representative and of the pharmacist have been notified to the registrar<sup>9</sup>; and (b) at all premises at which the business is carried on and medicinal products<sup>10</sup>, other than medicinal products on a general sale list<sup>11</sup>, are sold by retail<sup>12</sup>, the business, so far as concerns the retail sale there of medicinal products (whether on a general sale list or not) or the supply there of such products in circumstances corresponding to retail sale<sup>13</sup>, is under the personal control of a pharmacist<sup>14</sup> whose name and certificate of registration<sup>15</sup> are conspicuously exhibited<sup>16</sup>.

Further, the following period<sup>17</sup> must not have expired<sup>18</sup>: (i) where the pharmacist has died, the period of five years from the date of his death<sup>19</sup>; (ii) where he has been adjudged bankrupt, the period of three years from the adjudication<sup>20</sup>; (iii) where he has entered into a composition, scheme or deed of arrangement, the period of three years from the date on which the trustee appointed under it becomes entitled to carry on the business<sup>21</sup>; and (iv) where a receiver has been appointed for him, the period of three years from the date of the appointment<sup>22</sup>. On the application of the pharmacist's representative, the statutory committee<sup>23</sup> may, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, extend the period<sup>24</sup>.

1 'Representative' means: (1) in relation to a pharmacist (see note 2 infra) who has died, his executor or administrator and, in respect of a three month period from his death, if he has died leaving no executor entitled and willing to carry on the business, includes any person beneficially interested in his estate; (2) in a case falling within head (2) in the text, the trustee in bankruptcy or any trustee appointed under the composition, scheme or deed; and (3) in a case falling within head (3) in the text, the receiver: Medicines Act 1968 s 72(4). In head (2) supra, the reference to a trustee appointed under a composition, scheme or deed of arrangement includes a reference to the supervisor of a voluntary arrangement proposed for the purposes of, and approved under, the Insolvency Act 1986 Pt VIII (ss 252-263G) (as amended) (see BANKRUPTCY AND INDIVIDUAL INSOLVENCY vol 3(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 81 et seq) or the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989, SI 1989/2402, Pt VIII Ch II: Medicines Act 1968 s 72(4) (amended by the Insolvency Act 1985 s 235, Sch 8 para 15; and the Insolvency Act 1986 s 439(2), Sch 14).

913 Business carried on by pharmacist's representative

TEXT AND NOTES--1968 Act s 72 further amended: Mental Capacity Act 2005 Sch 6 para 14; SI 2007/289.

TEXT AND NOTES 8-16--As from 1 October 2009 (see SI 2008/2714) 1968 Act s 72(2) substituted.

The conditions referred to in the 1968 Act s 69(1)(c) are (1) that the name and address of the representative, and the name of the pharmacist whose representative he is,

have been notified to the registrar, and (2) that s 72(2A) and (2B) are both satisfied as respects each of the premises at which the business is carried on and medicinal products, other than medicinal products on a general sale list, are sold by retail: s 72(2) (substituted by Health Act 2006 s 29). The 1968 Act s 72(2A) is satisfied if a responsible pharmacist is in charge of the business at the premises mentioned in head (2), so far as concerns (a) the retail sale at those premises of medicinal products (whether they are on a general sale list or not), and (b) the supply at those premises of such products in circumstances corresponding to retail sale: s 72(2A) (as added by Health Act 2006 s 29). The 1968 Act s 72(2B) is satisfied if a notice is conspicuously displayed at those premises stating (i) the name of the responsible pharmacist for the time being, (ii) the number of his registration under the Pharmacy Act 1954, and (iii) the fact that he is for the time being in charge of the business at those premises: 1968 Act s 72(2B) (as so added). Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/9. PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS AND PHARMACIES/(4) LAWFUL CONDUCT OF BUSINESS; USE OF TITLES/915. Restrictions on the use of titles etc.

915. Restrictions on the use of titles etc.

No person may take or use any of the titles 'chemist and druggist', 'druggist', 'dispensing chemist' and 'dispensing druggist'<sup>1</sup> or take or use the title 'chemist' in connection with the sale of any goods by retail<sup>2</sup> or the supply of any goods in circumstances corresponding to retail sale<sup>3</sup> unless the following conditions are fulfilled<sup>4</sup>: (1) in the case of an individual, that he is a person lawfully conducting a retail pharmacy business<sup>5</sup>, either alone or as a member of a partnership<sup>6</sup>, and that he does not take or use the title in question in connection with any premises at which any goods are sold by retail, or are supplied in circumstances corresponding to retail sale, unless those premises are a registered pharmacy<sup>7</sup>; (2) in the case of a body corporate, that the body is a person lawfully conducting such a business<sup>8</sup>, that the title in question is not taken or used by that body in connection with any premises at which any goods are sold by retail, or are supplied in circumstances corresponding to retail sale, unless those premises are a registered pharmacy, and that the pharmacist<sup>9</sup> who, in relation to that business, is the superintendent is a member of the board of the body corporate<sup>10</sup>.

No person may, in connection with a business<sup>11</sup> carried on by him which consists of or includes the retail sale of any goods, or the supply of any goods in circumstances corresponding to retail sale, use the description 'pharmacy' except in respect of a registered pharmacy or in respect of the pharmaceutical department of a hospital<sup>12</sup> or a health centre<sup>13</sup>.

No person who is not a pharmacist may take or use the titles 'pharmaceutical chemist', 'pharmaceutist', 'pharmacist', 'member of the Pharmaceutical Society' or 'Fellow of the Pharmaceutical Society'<sup>14</sup>, and no person may take or use any of those titles in connection with a business carried on, whether by him or by some other person, at any premises which consists of or includes the retail sale of any goods, or the supply of any goods in circumstances corresponding to retail sale, unless those premises are a registered pharmacy or a hospital or a health centre<sup>15</sup>.

No person may, in connection with any business<sup>16</sup>, use any title<sup>17</sup>, description or emblem likely to suggest that he possesses any qualification with respect to the sale, manufacture or assembly of medicinal products<sup>18</sup> which he does not in fact possess<sup>19</sup>, or that any person employed in the business possesses any such qualification which that person does not in fact possess<sup>20</sup>.

Any person who contravenes any of these provisions is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>21</sup>.

1 Medicines Act 1968 s 78(2)(a). The term 'druggist' is not defined in the Medicines Act 1968.

2 As to references to sale by retail see PARA 903 ante.

3 Medicines Act 1968 s 78(2)(b). As to references to supplying goods in circumstances corresponding to retail sale see PARA 907 note 7 ante.

4 Ibid s 78(2) (s 78(2), (4), (5), (6) amended by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 1993). This is subject to the Medicines Act 1968 s 79: s 78(1). The health ministers may by order provide that any of the restrictions imposed by s 78 (as amended) are to cease to have effect or are to have effect subject to such exceptions as may be specified in the order: s 79(1). For the meaning of 'the health ministers' see PARA 902 note 4 ante. Without prejudice to s 79(1), regulations made by those ministers may impose further restrictions or requirements as to the use of titles, descriptions and emblems: s 79(2). Before making any such order or regulations, the ministers must consult the council of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society: s 79(3). As to the council see PARA 882 ante. As to the Society see PARA 881 et seq ante. Regulations made under s 79 have no effect unless a draft has been laid before Parliament and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: s 79(4). A person who contravenes any such regulations is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: s 84(2) (amended by virtue of the Criminal Justice Act 1982 ss 38, 46). As to the standard scale see PARA 185 note 11 ante.

10 Medicines Act 1968 s 78(3)(b).

11 For the meaning of 'business' see PARA 903 note 1 ante.

12 'Hospital' includes a clinic, nursing home or similar institution: Medicines Act 1968 s 132(1).

13 Ibid s 78(4) (as amended: see note 4 supra). 'Health centre' means a health centre maintained under the National Health Service Act 1977 s 2 or s 3: Medicines Act 1968 s 132(1) (amended by the National Health Service Act 1977 s 129 (a), Sch 15 para 50).

14 Medicines Act 1968 s 78(5)(a). Where a person is lawfully conducting a retail pharmacy business as a representative of a pharmacist (see PARA 913 ante) in the circumstances specified in s 69(1)(c) (see PARA 909 head 3 ante), the provisions of s 78(5)-(7) (as amended) do not have effect so as to prevent the representative from using titles, descriptions and emblems which the pharmacist could have used: s 78(8).

15 Ibid s 78(5)(b). See also note 14 supra.

16 For the purposes of ibid s 78(6) (as amended), the use of the description 'pharmacy' in connection with a business carried on at any premises is to be taken to be likely to suggest that the person (where not a body corporate) carrying on the business is a pharmacist and that any other person under whose personal control the business (so far as concerns the retail sale of medicinal products or their supply in circumstances corresponding to retail sale) is carried on there is also a pharmacist: s 78(7).

17 As to the use of the title 'chemist' see Denerley v Spink [1947] KB 768, [1947] 1 All ER 835.

18 For the meaning of 'medicinal product' see PARA 903 note 3 ante.

19 Medicines Act 1968 s 78(6)(a). See also notes 14, 16 supra.

20 Ibid s 78(6)(b). See also notes 14, 16 supra.

21 Ibid s 84(2) (as amended: see note 4 supra). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: see s 84(2) (as so amended). As to enforcement see PARA 916 post.

916 Enforcement

TEXT AND NOTES--The following provisions come into force on 1 October 2009: SI 2008/2714. The Pharmaceutical Society is under a duty, concurrently with the appropriate minister, to enforce the provisions of the 1968 Act s 72A(4) and (5) (see PARA 910A) in their application to England and Wales: s 108(6A) (added by Health Act 2006 s 31(1)(b)). The Pharmaceutical Society is under a duty to enforce the other provisions of the 1968 Act s 72A, and any regulations made under them, in their application to England and Wales: s 108(6B). The appropriate minister is under no duty to enforce those other provisions, or any regulations made under them, in their application to England and Wales: s 108(6C). Notwithstanding s 108(6C) the appropriate minister is to be treated for the purposes of ss 111-114 (1) as empowered by s 108 to enforce those other provisions, or any regulations made under them, in their application to England and Wales, and (2) to that extent as an enforcement authority in relation to those other provisions or those regulations in their application to England and Wales: s 108(6D).

NOTES 1, 6--1968 Act s 108(9), (10), (11)(b) amended: SI 2006/2407.

TEXT AND NOTES 2, 6--1968 Act s 108(1) amended, s 108(9), (10) further amended: Health Act 2006 s 31(1)(a), (c), (d) (in force 1 October 2009: SI 2008/2714).

(i) The Statutory Committee

917. Constitution of the statutory committee.

Disciplinary powers are entrusted to a committee of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society known as 'the statutory committee'<sup>1</sup>. It consists of five members appointed by the council of the Society<sup>2</sup> and a sixth member, the chairman, who is appointed by the Privy Council<sup>3</sup>, and who must have practical legal experience<sup>4</sup>. If, owing to illness or other infirmity, the chairman becomes temporarily incapable of performing his duties, the Privy Council may appoint another person to be a member of the committee and to act in his place<sup>5</sup>.

A person appointed to the statutory committee by the council of the Society need not be a member of either the council or the Society<sup>6</sup>, but vacancies must be filled so as to ensure that at least one member of the statutory committee is a pharmaceutical chemist resident in Scotland<sup>7</sup>. Members of the statutory committee hold office for five years, except in the case of a temporary chairman appointed under the provisions described above<sup>8</sup>, who holds office only for the period, not exceeding six months, for which he is appointed<sup>9</sup>. All members are eligible for reappointment at the expiration of their period of office<sup>10</sup>.

Any member of the statutory committee may at any time resign by giving written notice of his resignation, either to the registrar<sup>11</sup>, if he was appointed by the council<sup>12</sup>, or, in any other case, to the clerk of the Privy Council<sup>13</sup>.

A member of the committee may be removed by the body which appointed him either for misbehaviour or for inability to perform his duties<sup>14</sup>.

918. Proceedings of the statutory committee.

The quorum of the statutory committee is three, of whom the chairman must be one<sup>1</sup>. The committee may act by a majority of the members present, and in the case of an equality of votes the chairman has a casting vote<sup>2</sup>. The committee may make regulations<sup>3</sup> as to the procedure which it is to follow in exercising its jurisdiction under the Pharmacy Act 1954<sup>4</sup> and the Medicines Act 1968<sup>5</sup>, but such regulations do not come into force until they have been approved by the Privy Council<sup>6</sup>. The Privy Council may approve such regulations either with or without modifications, but where it proposes modifications it must give the committee a reasonable opportunity of making observations on them and must take those observations into consideration before approving the regulations<sup>7</sup>. This power of the Privy Council to approve regulations is exercisable by statutory instrument, and any statutory instrument made is subject to annulment pursuant to a resolution of either House of Parliament<sup>8</sup>.

920. Control of registrations.

Where a person applying to have his name registered<sup>1</sup> has been convicted of any criminal offence or has been guilty of any misconduct<sup>2</sup> which in the opinion of the statutory committee<sup>3</sup> renders him unfit to have his name on the register<sup>4</sup>, the committee, after inquiring into the matter, may direct that the applicant's name is not to be registered, or is not to be registered until the committee otherwise directs<sup>5</sup>.

Where a registered pharmaceutical chemist<sup>6</sup> or any person employed by him in the carrying on of his business<sup>7</sup> has been similarly convicted or has been guilty of such misconduct, the committee, after inquiring into the matter, may direct the registrar<sup>8</sup> to remove the chemist's name from the register<sup>9</sup>. The committee may, either of its own motion or on the application of the person concerned, direct the registrar to restore to the register a name which has been removed under this provision<sup>10</sup>, either without fee, or on the payment to the Royal Pharmaceutical Society of a fee not exceeding that prescribed for the registration of those who have passed the Society's examination<sup>11</sup>.

Where the name of a registered pharmaceutical chemist has been removed from the register for non-payment of the annual retention fee<sup>12</sup>, and that person, or anyone employed by him in the carrying on of his business, has, either before or after the removal of the name, been convicted of crime or been guilty of misconduct, the committee, after inquiring into the matter, may direct that the chemist's name is not to be restored to the register, or is not to be restored until the committee otherwise directs<sup>13</sup>.

In all the above cases, the committee may direct that no application to register a name or to restore it to the register, as the case may be, is to be entertained until the expiration of such period or the fulfilment of such conditions as the committee specifies<sup>14</sup>.

Further, where the committee is satisfied that any person is subject to a disqualifying decision<sup>15</sup>, the committee is entitled to exercise in relation to that person its above-mentioned powers of giving directions<sup>16</sup> on the assumption that the grounds on which the decision was expressed to be made constitute such misconduct rendering him unfit to have his name on the register as would, apart from this provision, justify the exercise of those powers<sup>17</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered' see PARA 888 note 6 ante.

2 A single serious act or error can be misconduct for the purpose of disciplinary proceedings, and the word 'misconduct' does not necessarily connote moral censure: R v Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, ex p Sokoh (1986) Times, 4 December. As to professional misconduct see the cases cited in the notes to paras 143, 456 ante.

3 As to the constitution of the statutory committee see PARA 917 ante. The maxim that a person ought not to be punished twice for the same offence does not apply to proceedings before a disciplinary committee; and it has been held that the prohibition in the Powers of Criminal Courts Act 1973 s 13(3) (repealed) against relying on a conviction as evidence of professional misconduct has no application where the allegation relied not on a previous conviction, but on circumstances leading to a conviction: R v Statutory Committee of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, ex p Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain [1981] 2 All ER 805, [1981] 1 WLR 886, DC.

Where the act or omission of an employee could be made the ground of a direction by the statutory committee<sup>1</sup> involving the cesser or restriction of the right of the employer to have his name registered<sup>2</sup>, the committee must not give the direction unless proof is given to its satisfaction of one or more of the facts specified below and the committee is of the opinion, having regard to the facts so proved, that the employer ought to be regarded as responsible for the act or omission<sup>3</sup>.

For this purpose, the facts as to one or more of which the committee must be satisfied are:

922. Disqualification and removal from the register of premises.

The statutory committee has disciplinary powers where a body corporate carries on a retail pharmacy business<sup>1</sup> and: (1) that body is convicted of an offence under any of the relevant Acts<sup>2</sup>; or (2) any member of the board or any officer of or person employed by that body is convicted of an offence, or has been guilty of misconduct<sup>3</sup>, and the offence or misconduct is such as in the committee's opinion renders him, or would if he were a pharmacist<sup>4</sup> render him, unfit to be a pharmacist<sup>5</sup>. In these circumstances, the committee, after inquiring into the case, may direct<sup>6</sup> that the body corporate be disqualified for the purposes of the provisions of the Medicines Act 1968<sup>7</sup> relating to pharmacies<sup>8</sup>. If the committee gives such a direction, it must direct the registrar<sup>9</sup> to remove from the register<sup>10</sup> all premises entered in it as being premises at which the body corporate carries on a retail pharmacy business<sup>11</sup>. If the committee does not give such a direction, it may, if it thinks fit, direct the registrar to remove from the register all the premises or such of them as may be specified in the direction<sup>12</sup>. Directions given by the committee may if it thinks fit be given so as to have effect for a limited period<sup>13</sup>.

Where a representative<sup>14</sup> of a pharmacist carries on his business and the representative or a person employed by a representative is convicted of an offence, or has been guilty of misconduct, and the offence or misconduct is such as in the committee's opinion renders him, or would if he were a pharmacist render him, unfit to be a pharmacist, the committee, after inquiring into the case, may direct that the representative be disqualified for the purposes of the pharmacy provisions of the Medicines Act 1968<sup>15</sup>.

However, the committee must not give a direction in a case under head (2) above<sup>16</sup> or in respect of a representative<sup>17</sup> unless one or more of certain facts<sup>18</sup> are proved to the committee's satisfaction<sup>19</sup>, and it is of the opinion, having regard to those facts, that the board of the body corporate or, as the case may be, the representative is to be regarded as responsible for the offence or misconduct in question<sup>20</sup>.

The committee may revoke at any time any direction which is in force either on the application of the person to whom it relates or without any such application<sup>21</sup>.

 Directions of the Statutory Committee/923. Notice of directions.

923. Notice of directions.

Where the statutory committee<sup>1</sup> gives a direction which affects the right of a person who has been convicted of a criminal offence or is guilty of misconduct to have his name on the register<sup>2</sup>, it must give notice of its direction to the person to whom the direction relates<sup>3</sup>; and, where it refuses an application to have his name restored to the register made by a person whose name has been removed from the register in pursuance of such a direction<sup>4</sup>, it must give notice of its refusal to the applicant<sup>5</sup>. Notice of such direction or refusal must be given by being sent to the person concerned in a registered letter or by recorded delivery and, in the case of a registered pharmaceutical chemist<sup>6</sup>, the letter must be addressed to his address on the register<sup>7</sup>.

925. Action by chairman.

The chairman of the statutory committee<sup>1</sup> may require any allegation of fact in a complaint charging misconduct to be substantiated by a written statement signed by a responsible person, or, if he thinks fit, by a statutory declaration<sup>2</sup>. The chairman may in any case direct the secretary to invite the person affected<sup>3</sup> to submit in writing any answer or explanation which he may wish to offer<sup>4</sup>.

After considering the information, the supporting evidence available, and any answer or explanation submitted by the person affected, the chairman must deal with the matter as follows: (1) if he is of opinion that the case is outside the committee's jurisdiction or that the complaint is frivolous or that it may properly be disregarded owing to lapse of time or other circumstances, he must decide that the case is not to proceed further<sup>5</sup>; (2) if he is of opinion that the conviction or misconduct alleged is not of a serious nature or is for any other reason of such a character that the matter can be disposed of without an inquiry, he may, after consultation orally or by letter with the other members of the committee, decide that the case is not to proceed further, but may direct the secretary to send a reprimand to the person affected and caution him as to his future conduct<sup>6</sup>; (3) in any other case, the chairman must direct the secretary to take the necessary steps for the holding of an inquiry by the committee<sup>7</sup>. The chairman must report to the committee any case in which he has not directed an inquiry to be held<sup>8</sup>.

1 As to the constitution of the statutory committee see PARA 917 ante.

2 Pharmaceutical Society (Statutory Committee) Order of Council 1978, SI 1978/20, Appendix reg 4. As to misconduct see PARA 920 note 2 ante. Any such statement or statutory declaration must specify, as respects any fact not within the declarant's personal knowledge, the source of his information and the grounds for his belief in its truth: Appendix reg 4. As to statutory declarations see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 1024.

3 'The person affected' means the registered pharmaceutical chemist, body corporate, representative or other person affected by any information received by the committee: ibid Appendix reg 1(a). ## 926. Action where an inquiry is directed.

Where the chairman of the statutory committee has directed an inquiry to be held, the secretary must instruct a solicitor to investigate the facts of the case and to present, or brief counsel to present, the case to the committee at the inquiry<sup>1</sup>. If the solicitor reports that, as a result of his investigations, he is of the opinion that the evidence available is insufficient to prove the alleged conviction or misconduct<sup>2</sup>, the committee must consider his report, decide whether to hold an inquiry and give such directions as it thinks fit<sup>3</sup>. In the interval, all proceedings must be stayed; and the secretary must give any necessary notices to persons concerned, including the complainant<sup>4</sup>.

If, at any time after an inquiry has been directed and before it has been held, information is received by the secretary or by the solicitor which might have justified the chairman in not directing an inquiry in the first instance, that information must be referred to him and he may direct that the inquiry is not to proceed further, and he must then report his direction to the committee<sup>5</sup>.

1 Pharmaceutical Society (Statutory Committee) Order of Council 1978, SI 1978/20, Appendix reg 8. The secretary must also give the requisite notices and take the other steps required: see further PARA 927 et seq post. He need not instruct a solicitor where the complainant undertakes to present his case to the committee: Appendix reg 8 proviso. As to the constitution of the statutory committee see PARA 917 ante.

B. INQUIRIES

927. Notice of inquiry.

Not less than 28 days<sup>1</sup> before the day appointed for holding an inquiry<sup>2</sup>, the secretary of the statutory committee<sup>3</sup> must send by registered letter or recorded delivery letter to the person affected a notice in the proper form<sup>4</sup> accompanied by a copy of the regulations<sup>5</sup>; and where a complainant has undertaken to present his case to the committee, the secretary must send to him by registered letter or recorded delivery letter copies of the notice and of the regulations<sup>6</sup>. Notices so sent to any person may be amended with the consent of the committee or chairman<sup>7</sup>.

Both the person affected and the complainant are entitled to inspect or to be supplied with copies of relevant documentary evidence<sup>8</sup>.

1 This period of notice may be reduced by agreement with the person affected and the complainant: Pharmaceutical Society (Statutory Committee) Order of Council 1978, SI 1978/20, Appendix reg 11(a) proviso. For the meaning of 'the person affected' see PARA 925 note 3 ante.

2 The chairman may at any time postpone the opening of the inquiry and direct the secretary to give any necessary notices to persons concerned, including the complainant: ibid Appendix reg 15.

3 As to the constitution of the statutory committee see PARA 917 ante.

4 As to the form of the notice see the Pharmaceutical Society (Statutory Committee) Order of Council 1978, SI 1978/20, Appendix reg 11(b), Schedule. The notice must specify generally the matters into which the inquiry will be held, and must state the day, hour and place appointed for holding the inquiry: Appendix reg 11(a). It must direct the attention of the person affected to his rights under Appendix reg 14: Appendix reg 14.

5 Ie the regulations set out in the Pharmaceutical Society (Statutory Committee) Order of Council 1978, SI 1978/20, Appendix: see Appendix reg 11(b).

6 Ibid Appendix regs 11(b), 12. Notices required under Appendix reg 11 must be addressed: (1) in the case of a registered pharmaceutical chemist, to him at his address in the register; (2) in the case of a representative, to him at his address as last notified to the registrar; (3) in the case of a body corporate, to it at its registered office; and (4) in the case of any other person, to him at his last known place of abode: Appendix reg 12. For the meaning of 'the registrar' see PARA 888 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 888 note 4 ante (definitions applied by Appendix reg 1(a)).

7 Ibid Appendix reg 13. Written notice of the amendment must be sent to such person in the manner provided by Appendix reg 12, or otherwise brought to his notice by the secretary before or in the course of the inquiry: Appendix reg 13. In appropriate circumstances, the person affected may demand an adjournment: see Appendix reg 13 proviso.

8 Ibid Appendix reg 14. After giving reasonable notice to the secretary, the person affected is entitled free of charge to inspect, and to be supplied with a copy of, any information or summary alleging misconduct or a conviction sent to the chairman in pursuance of Appendix reg 3 (see PARA 924 ante), and any written statement or statutory declaration sent to the committee in pursuance of Appendix reg 4 (see PARA 925 ante); and a complainant who has undertaken to present his case to the committee is similarly entitled free of charge, after giving reasonable notice to the secretary, to inspect and to be supplied with a copy of any answer or explanation submitted by the person affected in pursuance of Appendix reg 5 (see PARA 925 ante): Appendix reg 14.

928. Procedure at the hearing.

An inquiry held by the statutory committee must be held in public, except that the committee may at any time direct that the public be excluded from an inquiry or any part of it if it appears to the committee that in the interests of justice or for some other compelling reason the public should be so excluded<sup>1</sup>. The person affected<sup>2</sup> and a complainant presenting his case to the committee may each be represented by a solicitor or counsel<sup>3</sup>.

If the person affected does not appear and the committee is satisfied that notice of the inquiry was duly sent to him<sup>4</sup>, it may either adjourn the inquiry<sup>5</sup> or proceed with it in his absence<sup>6</sup>. Similarly, where a complainant who has undertaken to present his case to the committee does not appear, or where he fails, in its opinion, to present his case properly, the committee may nevertheless proceed with the inquiry or may adjourn the inquiry; if the committee adjourns the inquiry it may instruct a solicitor in connection with the case<sup>7</sup>.

At a hearing, where the parties appear, the statement of case and evidence against the person affected is presented first<sup>8</sup>, followed by the statement of case and evidence for that person<sup>9</sup>. In certain circumstances, a reply to the case for the person affected will be allowed<sup>10</sup>.

The committee may receive evidence by oral statement<sup>11</sup>, written and signed statement or statutory declaration<sup>12</sup>. It may, in its discretion, decline to admit the written statement or declaration of a person not present, and is bound to disregard the oral or other evidence of a person who is present but refuses to submit to cross-examination<sup>13</sup>.

The committee may at any stage of the proceedings adjourn the inquiry<sup>14</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'the person affected' see PARA 925 note 3 ante.

3 Pharmaceutical Society (Statutory Committee) Order of Council 1978, SI 1978/20, Appendix reg 17. Alternatively a body corporate may be represented by one of its directors or officers: Appendix reg 17.

4 At the opening of the inquiry, the secretary must read the notice of inquiry and, if the person affected is not present or represented, must satisfy the committee that the notice was duly sent to him: ibid Appendix reg 18. The person affected or the person representing him may waive the right for the notice of inquiry to be read: Appendix reg 18. As to the notice of inquiry see PARA 927 ante.

5 Where an inquiry is adjourned from one meeting to another, the validity of the proceedings at the later meeting cannot be questioned merely because the members of the committee present at the earlier and the later meeting were not all the same: ibid Appendix reg 29.

6 Ibid Appendix reg 19.

7 Ibid Appendix reg 19. Such a solicitor is to be instructed in accordance with Appendix reg 8 (see PARA 926 ante); and the provisions of Appendix regs 9-10 (see PARA 926 ante) apply during the adjournment: Appendix reg 19.

8 Ibid Appendix reg 20(a).

9 Ibid Appendix reg 20(b).

10 Ibid Appendix reg 20(c). Where the person affected has produced no evidence other than his own, no reply will be allowed without leave of the committee: Appendix reg 20(c).

11 A witness is first examined by the person producing him, then cross-examined, and then re-examined: ibid Appendix reg 21. Members of the committee may put through the chairman, or on his invitation, such questions as they think desirable: Appendix reg 22.

929. Decision of the statutory committee.

On the conclusion of the hearing, the statutory committee must deliberate in private<sup>1</sup> and must decide:

- 1038 (1) whether the conviction or misconduct<sup>2</sup> is proved<sup>3</sup>;
- 1039 (2) if so, whether such conviction or misconduct is such as to render the person with regard to whom it is proved unfit to be on the register, or is such as would, if he were a registered pharmaceutical chemist<sup>4</sup>, to render him unfit to be on the register<sup>5</sup>;
- 1040 (3) if so, whether one of the statutory directions<sup>6</sup> should be made<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1041 (4) whether any reprimand or admonition should be addressed to the person affected<sup>8</sup>.

The committee may postpone<sup>9</sup> its decision or any part of it, either generally or on such terms as it may approve<sup>10</sup>. The chairman must announce in public the committee's decision, including any postponement, and the terms, if any, on which it is made<sup>11</sup>. The secretary must communicate the decision to the person affected and to the complainant, and must communicate to the registrar<sup>12</sup> any direction to be acted upon by him<sup>13</sup>.

Where the name of an applicant for restoration was removed<sup>1</sup> on a complaint made by a person who himself appeared to present the facts of his complaint to the statutory committee, the secretary must, if he knows that person's address, give notice to him of the application and inform him that he may submit in writing to the committee any objection to restoration<sup>2</sup>. The secretary must communicate the substance of any such objection to the applicant, who may reply to it in writing<sup>3</sup>.

In considering any application for relief from the consequences of a previous decision<sup>4</sup>, the committee may take account of any information in its possession concerning the applicant's conduct since the date of the original direction<sup>5</sup>. The chairman may direct that the substance of any adverse report be sent to the applicant who must be given an opportunity of submitting a reply to it in writing, and the application must not be considered until after a reply from the applicant is received or a reasonable time for submitting a reply has, in the committee's opinion, elapsed<sup>6</sup>. A person aggrieved by a direction<sup>1</sup> of the statutory committee<sup>2</sup> that a name be removed from the register<sup>3</sup>, or be not registered or restored to the register or be not registered or restored until the committee otherwise directs, or a person aggrieved by the refusal of an application<sup>4</sup> to restore a name to the register after removal for conviction or misconduct, may, at any time within three months from the date on which he has been given notice of the direction or refusal, appeal against it to the High Court<sup>5</sup>. On any such appeal, the Royal Pharmaceutical Society is to be made respondent<sup>6</sup>.

The High Court may, on any such appeal, make such order as it thinks fit, including an order as to the costs of the appeal and in particular as to the payment of any such costs by the Society, whether or not the Society appears on the hearing of the appeal; and the court's order on the appeal is final<sup>7</sup>. Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/10. APOTHECARIES/(1) INTRODUCTION/935. Former meaning of 'apothecary'.

10. APOTHECARIES

(1) INTRODUCTION

935. Former meaning of 'apothecary'.

An apothecary was formerly a person who carried on the business which is now and has been since about the end of the eighteenth century carried on by pharmacists, that is to say, the preparation and sale of drugs for medicinal purposes and the compounding and dispensing of medicines. Gradually the apothecary assumed the functions of the physician, and the right of apothecaries to attend patients and to diagnose and treat their diseases was recognised by the law<sup>1</sup>, although the dispensing and compounding of medicines according to the prescriptions of others was and continued to be regarded as a most important branch of the duty of an apothecary<sup>2</sup>.

1 The preamble to the statute 6 & 7 Will & Mar c 4 (Exemptions of Apothecaries) (1694) (repealed) suggests that it was at that time part of the duty of an apothecary to attend and advise the sick as well as to make up and sell medicines. See also Rose v College of Physicians (1703) 5 Bro Parl Cas 553. In Apothecaries' Co v Lotinga (1843) 2 Mood & R 495 at 499, Cresswell J defined an apothecary as 'one who professes to judge of an internal disease by its symptoms and applies himself to cure that disease by medicine'. It appears from the Apothecaries Act 1815 that an apothecary was originally required to be able to prepare with exactness and dispense medicines from the prescriptions of physicians (see s 5 (repealed)), and that he should have skill and ability in the science and practice of medicine (s 14 (repealed)). Formerly, a surgeon could not recover his charges for medical treatment unless he was also an apothecary: Allison v Haydon (1828) 4 Bing 619, in which the judgments define what were then thought to be the respective provinces of physician, surgeon, apothecary and chemist. As to the recovery of fees by surgeons see PARA 222 et seq ante.

2 Apothecaries' Co v Warburton (1819) 3 B & Ald 40 at 43, where a farrier occasionally supplying and administering medicines not made up from the prescriptions of others was held not to be practising as an apothecary. See, however, Re Palmer, ex p Crabb (1856) 8 De GM & G 277, where the supply of medicines, not made up on the prescriptions of others, by a surgeon to patients was held to be evidence of practice as an apothecary.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/10. APOTHECARIES/(1) INTRODUCTION/936. Change in functions of apothecaries.

936. Change in functions of apothecaries.

At the time when the Apothecaries Act 1815 was passed, the apothecary occupied an intermediate position between the doctor and the chemist. In modern times it may be said with accuracy that apothecaries, as a class of practitioner to be distinguished from registered medical practitioners<sup>1</sup> on the one hand and from pharmacists<sup>2</sup> on the other, have ceased to exist. In practice, apothecaries do not seek to perform the functions of pharmacists, and qualification as an apothecary is one of the methods of becoming a registered medical practitioner<sup>3</sup>. The profession of apothecary has become merged with that of medical practitioner and nowadays an apothecary is a registered medical practitioner to whom the general law applies as it does to other medical practitioners. As a result of this change in the status and functions of the apothecary many of the provisions of the law relating to apothecaries became obsolete<sup>4</sup>.

3 As to the right of apothecaries to be registered as medical practitioners see PARAS 93, 99 ante, 940 post.

937. Repeal of legislation.

In 1989, following a detailed examination in conjunction with the Society of Apothecaries of London<sup>1</sup>, of the Apothecaries Acts 1815 to 1907<sup>2</sup>, the Law Commission, recognising that the distinctive functions of an apothecary had long been obsolete, concluded that the legislation had been superseded or was obsolete or unnecessary. The Commission therefore recommended the repeal of those Acts and allied statutory provisions, and its proposals<sup>3</sup> were implemented by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 1989<sup>4</sup> which, however, expressly provides that the repeal of the Apothecaries Acts 1815 to 1907 does not affect the powers of the Society<sup>5</sup> to make provision in connection with the grant and holding of licentiates in medicine and surgery and of other qualifications<sup>6</sup>.

(2) THE SOCIETY OF APOTHECARIES

938. Constitution of the Society.

The Society of Apothecaries is a livery company of the City of London<sup>1</sup>. It was incorporated by royal charter in the reign of James I as the Master, Wardens and Society of the Art and Mystery of Apothecaries of the City of London<sup>2</sup>. The charter was subsequently confirmed, for the main part, and the powers and duties of the Society were enlarged by statute<sup>3</sup>. Now that this legislation has been repealed<sup>4</sup>, the charter, so far as unrepealed, remains the basic instrument of government of the Society.

939. Functions of the Society.

The modern functions of the Society of Apothecaries in relation to medical education are provided for by the Medical Act 1983, which constitutes the Society as one of the bodies entitled to grant primary United Kingdom qualifications conferring upon the holders the right to registration under that Act<sup>1</sup>. The other functions of the Society are provided for by the byelaws and regulations of the Society which are made by virtue of its charter of incorporation<sup>2</sup>.

1 See PARAS 93 ante, 941 post. The right is subject to passing a qualifying examination (see PARAS 38, 94 ante) and satisfying the requirements as to experience (see PARA 95 et seq ante). As to the conduct of examinations see PARA 940 post. As to registration see PARA 99 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 3 ante.

2 As to this charter see PARA 938 ante. Copies of the byelaws and regulations may be seen on application to the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries of London, Apothecaries' Hall, Black Friars Lane, London EC4V 6EJ.

APOTHECARIES/(3) EXAMINATIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS/940. Conduct of examinations.

(3) EXAMINATIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS

940. Conduct of examinations.

In order for the examinations held by the Society of Apothecaries to be qualifying examinations for the purposes of registration under the Medical Act 1983<sup>1</sup>, the standard of proficiency required from candidates must conform to the standard of proficiency prescribed by the education committee of the General Medical Council<sup>2</sup>. The Society, with the approval and under the directions of the education committee, may unite or co-operate in conducting examinations with other bodies entitled to grant qualifications registrable under that Act<sup>3</sup>.

Since the repeal of the Apothecaries Acts 1815 to 1907<sup>4</sup>, the conduct of the qualifying examinations held by the Society and related matters are governed by the byelaws and regulations of the Society<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to qualifying examinations see PARA 94 ante. As to registration see PARA 99 ante.

2 See the Medical Act 1983 s 5(2)(b); and PARA 57 ante. For the meaning of 'the prescribed standard of proficiency' see PARA 57 note 6 ante. As to the General Medical Council see PARA 13 et seq ante.

3 See ibid s 4(3), (4) (s 4(3) as amended); and PARA 93 ante. As to the control exercised by the education committee over qualifying examinations such as those held by the Society of Apothecaries see PARA 57 et seq ante.

4 As to the repeal of the Apothecaries Acts 1815 to 1907 see PARA 937 ante.

5 As to these byelaws and regulations see PARA 939 text and note 2 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/10. APOTHECARIES/(3) EXAMINATIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS/941. Qualifications.

941. Qualifications.

The medical qualification granted by the Society of Apothecaries in accordance with its byelaws and regulations<sup>1</sup> is the 'Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery of the Society of Apothecaries, London'. This qualification is one of the primary United Kingdom qualifications which entitles the holder, provided he has passed a qualifying examination and has the necessary experience, to be registered under the Medical Act 1983<sup>2</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/MEDICAL PROFESSIONS (VOLUME 30(1) (REISSUE))/10. APOTHECARIES/(4) USE OF TITLES; PRIVILEGES OF APOTHECARIES/942. Use of titles; privileges of apothecaries.

(4) USE OF TITLES; PRIVILEGES OF APOTHECARIES

942. Use of titles; privileges of apothecaries.

The Medical Act 1983 protects the use of the title of apothecary<sup>1</sup>. A licentiate in medicine and surgery of the Society of Apothecaries is entitled to such privileges as are common to all registered medical practitioners, including a right to describe himself as a qualified or registered medical practitioner<sup>2</sup>. However, he may not use the letters MD after his name unless he holds a degree entitling him to do so; nor may he so describe himself as reasonably to induce the belief in others that he has any medical qualification which in fact he has not<sup>3</sup>.

1 See the Medical Act 1983 s 49 (as amended); and PARA 190 ante.

2 See PARAS 190-192 ante. See also note 3 infra.

3 R v Baker etc Justices and Clarke (1891) 66 LT 416. In Hunter v Clare [1899] 1 QB 635, DC, it was held that a licentiate of the Society was not entitled to use the description 'physician and surgeon'; but it is not clear whether the principle of this decision is affected by the Medical Act 1983 ss 3, 4(3), 16(1), 17, 49, 49A (ss 3, 17 as substituted and amended; ss 4(3), 16(1), 49 as amended; and s 49A as added) (see PARA 99 et seq ante). The Apothecaries Act 1907 provided for the award by the Society of Apothecaries of London of a licentiate in medicine and surgery instead of the plain licentiate previously awarded by it, and the licentiate consequently became obsolete. As to the qualification now granted by the Society see PARA 941 ante. As to the repeal of the Apothecaries Act 1907 see PARA 937 ante.
